BARTHOU WILL MAKE A SHORT STAY IN PARIS

Leaves Genoa To-Day For Conference With President Poincare of France.

WILL RETURN.

GENOA, May 2. — (Canadian M. Barthou, head of the French delegation, will leave Genoa this morning for Paris, where he will confer with Premier Poincare on the non-aggression pact and the proposal to hold a meeting of the signatories of the Versailles Treaty for a general discussion of the German Reparations question. He will also explain to the Premier the details of the memorandum to be presented to the Soviet delegates, which was completed yesterday, and will point out that France's legitimate interests are protected.

Mr. Barthou expects to return to Genoa on Saturday or Sunday. As the plenary session of the Conference on Wednesday is not one of vital importance and the Russians probably will require some time to digest the memorandum of the Powers before answering, M. Barthou considers he can be spared from the Conference.

BUILDINGS SEIZED WITHOUT OBJECT.

DUBLIN, May 2 (Canadian Press.)—Irish Republican Army irregulars to-night seized the well-known Kildare Street Club and the large building in Westmoreland Street occupied by the port authority.

The later building commands the O'Connell Bridge and Sackville Street. The raiders smashed the windows, which were then barricaded with furniture and sandbags.

Rory O'Connor, head of the irregular forces, in an interview, said the buildings had not been seized with any specific object, but merely because he needed accommodations.

DOMINIONS ARE PROTECTED IN EXPORT TRADE

LABOR DEMANDS.

LONDON, May 2. — (Canadian Press). — The Economic Commission at the Genoa Conference today adopted a resolution which fully safeguards the various Dominions in their position with references to the export of raw materials. Italy formed part of a group mostly interested in production which fought hard for absolute freedom from all restrictions on the export of raw materials, and the delegates from the Dominions strongly opposed this.

Italy, as a manufacturing country, without raw materials, contended that this was vital to her existence, and pressed hard for the removal of all export duties, even for revenue purposes, and the absolute prohibition of export embargoes. The Italian Government's attitude was strengthened by Italian Labor demands, and other countries shared her views in varying degree.

Australia, Canada and South Africa were upheld by Great Britain and the little Entente in their opposition to Italy's demands, which they firmly refused to accept.

DAYLIGHT SAVING UP IN THE HOUSE.

OTTAWA, May 2.—(Canadian Press.)—Laughter, cheers, shouts of 'lost,' and cries of 'We have it now,' greeted the re-appearance in the House last night of the resolution proposed by Frederick Kay, (Liberal, Mississaugui), "that in the opinion of this House, it is desirable that legislation be introduced during the present session to prohibit the adoption of daylight saving time in any part of Canada."

The motion was debated a few days ago and was down for further consideration.

Last night it was declared 'lost.' A highly amused House was working on its daylight saving during this session.

There are about 2,000 blind people in Norway.

SIR R. S. HORNE BRINGS IN THE BRITISH BUDGET

Reduction in Taxes on Incomes, Tea and Coffee. External National Debt Is Reduced. Interest Will Be Met.

LONDON, May 2. Canadian Press —Sir Robert Stevenson Horne, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, introduced in the House of Commons yesterday, the budget for the fiscal year 1922-23, embodying estimates for 910,775,000 pounds revenue, and 910,069,000 expenditures. The expenditures include 25,000,000 pounds for contingencies.

This much discussed budget contained only one surprise.

Reductions in taxation for which there had been strong agitation, came as expected. One shilling in the pound is taken off the income tax, four pence off the duty on tea, which reduces the duty from one shilling to eight pence per pound, and a corresponding reduction of one third off the duties on coffee, cocoa and chicory. The reduction in the income tax is a concession to the Upper and Middle strata of the community, while the other reductions are particularly for the large section of the population whose incomes are below the income tax paying level.

Referring to the agitation, the Chancellor said that his mind had not been made up in the past few days, because for a long time it had been decided which direction the reductions should take. The important surprise which the Chancellor gave the House was the announcement of a temporary change of policy regarding the payment of debts.

After showing that the external debt now standing at nearly 11,000,000,000 pounds had been reduced by 274,000,000 since March, 1919, he gave it as his opinion that the turning point had come and the taxpayer should not be asked to redeem any debt this year.

"It involves, firstly, suspension of the sinking fund, and, secondly, that we should meet our obligations towards the holders of securities by re-borrowing for the purpose. But this will not add to the general burden of debt."

The Chancelor explained that the external debt consists almost entirely of debts to the United States and Canada, and certain allies who owe Great Britain much more than she owes them. The debt to the United States was equivalent to 1,301,375,000 pounds 2 years ago, when the exchange was 330, but he pointed out it was now reduced to 946,820,000, with the exchange at 404, and when the exchange was restored to to par, as he hoped, the debt would be 856,030,000.

Incidentally, Sir Robert remarked "We are saddled in the present year with a new burden in the shape of interest we have to pay on our debt to the United States. That we shall meet without question."

The House cheered this statement. He also called attention to fact that the budget had not taken notice of any possible payments from Germany, because the Government would regard them as windfalls.

TAFT WILL NAME THE CHAIRMAN OF ARBITRAL COURT

Two Other Members Will Represent Bondholders and the Russian Govt.

ITS POWERS.

GENOA, May 2. — (Canadian Press.)—Chief Justice Taft of the United States Supreme Court will be asked to name the chairman of the mixed arbitral to be established for controlling the debts owed by the Russian Government to foreign bondholders, according to the plan arranged yesterday. Two other members of this commission will represent all the bondholders and Russian Government respectively.

The commission will have power to remit interest and decide all questions affecting foreign bondholders and Russia's ability to meet her obligations; a time-limit will be fixed in which bondholders may make their own arrangements with the Russian Government if they desire.

Mixed arbitral tribunals, one for every interested nation, will be set up to deal with the question of the property of foreigners which has been nationalized; the chairman of each will be named by the chairman of the mixed arbitral commission. In the plan adopted practically everything which savored of capitulations or infringement on Rusisa's sovereignty was waived. The French suggestion that a provisional administration, pending Russia's establishment of courts on the basis desired by western Europe was not approved.

Labor Day was a real labor day for the Genoa Conference. The Suo Commission on Russian Affairs rushed its consideration of the Russian reconstruction plans and came through last night with approval of the draft of the proposa's These will be considered again to-day for the purpose of final editing and will probably be sent immediately to the Russian delegation.

BRANTFORD POLICE CHIEF HAS QUIT.

Regular Procession Out the "Plank" of Police Officers.

BRANTFORD, May 2. — Chief Constable Slemin resigned and was given two months' pay. Sergt. Donnelly was appointed Acting Chief. Inspector Chapman, Detective Schuler and Constable Stewart were dismissed by the commissioners.

BISHOP ON TRIAL.

LONDON, May 2. — (Canadian Press.) — Reuter's Auckland, New Zealand correspondent cables that Monsignor Liston, Roman Catholic bishop of Auckland, was committed for trial on a charge of seditious utterance in a recent speech in which he referred to the British forces in Ireland as foreign troops.

SOVIET TROOPS TAKE RED OATH

Big May Day Parade at Moscow With An Address By Leon Trotzky.

MOSCOW, May 2.— (Canadian Press.)—Leon Trotzky, Soviet War Minister, addressing the Moscow garrison at the May Day review in Red Square, at which the Red oath was taken by all the soldiers, declared that the Allies at Genoa desired conditions to which Russia would never yield; therefore he asked the troops to be prepared.

"We offered to disarm," he said, "but the Allies did not want that. We offered to bargain, we offered to pay the pre-war debts, but they agreed that they would recognize us if we abolished Soviet Russai and restored capitalism. We answered no, and will always answer no."

One hundred thousand troops marched in review, followed by hundreds of thousands of workmen and workwomen. The oath taken by the soldiers, pledegd them to defend Soviet Russia with their full strength to the death.

VICTORY BOND DIVIDENDS ARE CAUSING BOOM

FOUR ISSUES.

WINNIPEG, May 2.—(Canadian Press.)—Winnipeg banks and financial houses experienced a decided boom in business yesterday in the cashing of dividend coupons on four issues of Dominion of Canada Victory bonds — 1923, 1924, 1933 and 1934. Several millions of dollars in interest coupons were added to the gross business of the banks, all of which were called upon to detail special clerks to handle the rush of business.

The value of these four issues held in Winnipeg and Manitoba is problematical, but it is variously estimated to be in the vicinity of $100,000,000.

Brokers report a steady demand for all classes of victory bonds and war loans, the investors being particularly desirous of obtaining non-taxable issues.

SMITH STORY IS SILLY, SAYS BECK.

Hydro Radial Expenditure Never Contemplated at 200 Millions.

TORONTO, May 2. — Sir Adam Beck characterized as "startling and ridiculous" yesterday, the reference of Provincial Treasurer Smith to contemplated expenditure of Hydro rails of two hundred million dollars which he intimated that the Sutherland Commission had saved the province. Nothing approaching that amount was ever in the minds of radial proponents, he said.

COURT HEARING ON FAILURE OF MERCHANTS BANK

Evidence Taken Regarding the Monthly Statements Signed By D. C. Macarow

THE FINDING.

MONTREAL, May 2. Canadian Press. — The results of a test of the October, 1921, monthly statement to the Department of Finance, of the Merchants Bank of Canada, recently absorbed by the Bank of Montreal after losing virtually all its reserve through unprofitable loans, were detailed yesterday afternoon in the police court, before Judge Cusson by George Edwards, chartered accountant, employed to do this work by the Finance Minister

The evidence of Mr. Edwards was submitted on behalf of the Finance Minister in the enquiry going on into charge against D. C. Macarow, General Manager of the defunct bank, that he signed false statements in the government return. Only the examination in chief by Mr. Edwards, by C. A. Wilson, K.C., counsel for the government, took place yesterday, and after it the court adjourned until Thursday.

Mr. Edwards, guided by Mr. Wilson, outlined what he had found out about the debts of the institution, its relations with realty subsidiaries and its standing generally. Three other witnesses were heard during the course of the day, H. B. Loucks, of the chief accountant's office, William Meldrub, Western Supervisor, and William John Finucan, Manager of the Montreal Branch from November, 1920,

The Crown addressed a number of questions to each relative to what information Mr. Macarow may have hand on the condition of the Bank in September, 1921, before the period the returns for which are the basis of the charge.

Counsel engaged in the case in addition to Mr. Wilson were: N. K. Laflamme, K.C., and G. Montgomery, K. C., for Mr. Macarow, and F. E. Meredith, K.C., for the Bank of Montreal.

TORONTO BONDS SOLD.

NEW YORK, May 2.—(Canadian Press.)—The City of Toronto yesterday sold an issue of $6,286,000 of 5, 5 1-2, and 6 per cent. bonds, maturing from 1922 to 1952 to the Dominion Securties Coropration for $100.68. They are payable only in Canada.

REDS PARADE IN MONTREAL

Police Capture Red Flag. Speeches in Russian and Ukrainian.

MONTREAL, May 2.—(Canadian Press.)—Apart from the capture of a red flag by the police at the corner of St. Denis and Ontario streets, yesterday afternoon, the May Day demonstration here followed conventional Socialistic lines and was attended by no unusual incident. About 2,000 took part in the procession, which was headed by a band. Placards were carried bearing the usual inscriptions, many of them being in Russian. The parade marched to the Champ De Mars in front of the City Hall, where speeches were made in French, Russian and Ukrainian.

With the exception of a small body of men who were plainly of the unemployed class, the majority of the marchers were well-dressed and looked prosperous.

QUIET MAY DAY IS SPENT IN LONDON

Disturbance in Germany. Parade and Festival Held in London.

LONDON, May 2. — (Canadian Press.)—All reports received in London indicate that May Day passed on quietly throughout the continent. The only untoward incident reported was at Mayence, where a United States Army sergeant's chauffeur in trying to avoid a procession of demonstrators drove his machine into it. In a struggle the sergeant received a gunshot wound in the elbow. The driver and two German policemen who were in the car, were also badly hurt.

London's mammoth demonstration assumed the character of a festival. The procession stretched from the Black Friars' Bridge to Charing Cross. All the unions were represented in it and there was an unusual number of women and children, including Boy Scouts and girls dressed in Red Cross uniforms marching. Children packed vans and cheered, sang and waved red flags. Persons taking up collections on behalf of the Russian famine stricken worked among the spectators of the parade.

The large force of police on duty, who were aided by the stewards of the demonstration, maintained perfect order.

RANEY IS ASKED ABOUT THE TIMBER REPORT

EARL BALFOUR

LONDON, May 2 (Canadian Press). — The Earl of Balfour is the official title by which Sir Arthur J. Balfour will be known by virtue of the Earldom conferred upon him recently by King George, it was announced yesterday.

(The annoucemet corrects the general usage of the term "Earl Balfour" that was adopted by the press and public after his elevation to the peerage.)

MOTHER ONLY WITNESS IN HER SON'S DEFENCE

AT THE TRIAL.

TORONTO, May 2. — The jury return a verdict of guilty with a strong recommendation for mercy.

When the trial of William Mulhall on a charge of manslaughter, arising out of the death of Henry Cecil in an elevator accident at the King Edwards Hotel on March 13, was resumed in the assizes yesterday afternoon, Sergeant of Detectives Bart Cronin produced a written statement made by prisoner after being cautioned.

In this statement, Mulhall said that after one passenger had alighted at the fifth floor he had restarted the elevator, and the door was partly closed when deceased attempted to leave the car.

The mother of prisoner was the only witness called for the defence. Her son, she said, had been operating the elevator for five or six weeks before the accident.

"He is my main support, as my husband has been out of work a great deal," she said.

J. A. McIntosh, K.C., addressing the jury on behalf of accused, submitted that without giving any signal Cecil had deliberately rushed across the car from the rear when he saw the doors rapidly closing.

"Was it not absolute madness on Cecil's part to take the chance of precipitating himself through that small opening?" he asked.

Counsel emphasized the evidence of a Crown witness that deceased had appeared absentminded, and suggested that if he had not been "wool-gathering" he would have left the car when it reached his floor.

OTHER MATTERS.

TORONTO, May 2—A clash between Attorney-General Raney and Hon. Howard Ferguson growing out of a question as to when the timber commission's report would be ready and lecture by Premier Drury that members were unnecessarily delaying the house by bringing up questions before the orders of the day ,were the most interesting fatures in yesterday afternoon's sitting of the legislature. In spite of the usual small attendance on Monday afternoon, a large number of private bills and considerable business was taken up. Bills respecting the following municipalities passed through the house in committee. Wiarton, St. Catharines, Niagara Falls, Collingwood, Fort William, Iroquois. Second reading was given the city of Windsor bill, the bill respecting the Victoria Hospital of Renfrew and the town of Cobourg bill.

The bill by which Provincial Treasurer Smith sought to gather in any pool rooms, billiard rooms and bowling alleys, which do not at present pay taxes to the province owing to the fact that they are not licensed in the municipality in which they operate was held up for redrafting because it was feared the act would encourage such places of amusement where they do not at present exist.. The bill of Minister of Public Works Biggs to amend the Pirovincial Highways act went through committee and will provide that damage actions against the province in connection with accidents on the highway shall come under the ordinary civil courts instead of an arbitration board. It limits the time in which claims can be laid

"This Typewriting Gets on My Nerves"

"I WONDER if I am getting nervous. There must certainly be something wrong with me, for I am so tired in the mornings and do not seem to have the energy to transcribe the bunch of letters which I get every day.

"Of course, I have been working harder than usual to make up for those who have been away sick. Then I have been helping more at home while mother was sick. I suppose it all helps to tire one out and exhaust the nerves.

"But what was that I was reading about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food building up the nerves? Perhaps that is what I need. There was something about worry and anxiety breaking down the nervous system, and I have surely had my share of worry.

"That may account for my headaches and sleeplessness, as well as for the tired feelings which I have all the time. Well, I am going to get some of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food today and give it a try-out."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is so gentle in action and yet so potent as a restorative that it is a great favorite with women of all ages. It seems to be admirably suited to the needs of their delicate nervous systems, and on this account it has come to be universally used as a means of restoring vigor and energy to a run-down, nervous system.

The healthful color and appearance of people who have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food — the elasticity and vivacity of their movements —is the best evidence of the benefits they have attained.

MR. IRVINE'S FAME.

Peterborough is to have an opportunity tonight of hearing a speaker who, by reason of an address recently given at Montreal was lifted into somewhat undesirable prominence. The reference is to Mr. Wm. Irvine, M.P., the Labour member for Calgary, who is to address a meeting tonight under the auspices of the Farmers' Club. Mr. Irvine, it will be remembered, was reported to have declared that people over forty-five years of age were of little value to the country, and that if Canada had five hundred thousand funerals tomorrow of the men and women above that mark it would be an excellent thing for the Dominion. Mr. Irvine, as quickly as the published report came to his attention, denied that he had said anything of the kind. But it is always difficult to catch up to a story of that nature and doubtless there are still people in Canada who have read the original story about the Calgary man and have yet to learn that Mr. Irvine has repudiated the whole report and has given a reasonable explanation of what he really did say. The incident was not a pleasant one, but at least it has given the member for Calgary more publicity than he could hope to have earned in the ordinary course of events.

THE SELF-DENIAL FUND CAMPAIGN.

Although the special canvassing committee in connection with the Salvation Army Self-Denial Fund campaign finished their work some time ago, it should be understood that the citizens' committee dealt principally with the manufacturing and business sections and the house-to-house drive was left to the members of the Salvation Army. They are undertaking their campaign this week, commencing on Wednesday, and the citizens who have not yet contributed to the splendid work of the Salvation Army are asked to do what they can to bring the fund up to the objective aimed at in this city. In this connection any extended praise of the Army's activities would seem to be redundant. Their work is an open book to the people of Peterborough—although there are some chapters that the general public have not seen—and they know that the Army stands for community service of the most useful type. It represents a helping hand always extended to those in need, and no one is turned away, no matter what his creed may be, so long as the Salvationists are able to do anything for them. That is the record upon which the Army appeals to people of this city for support; it is that record that should be remembered later on in the week when the canvassers make their house-to-house calls.

DECADENCE OF ENGLISHMEN?

In the annual university boat race between Oxford and Cambridge which came off a couple of weeks ago, the eight oarsmen in the Cambridge boat averaged six feet one and three-quarter inches in height and one hundred and seventy-eight and a half pounds in weight as they stepped into the shell—which, out of training and in street attire, would mean an average of close on 200 pounds, says The Ottawa Journal. Only one man in the crew was under six feet; two of them were respectively six feet five and six feet four and a half in height. The Oxford eight averaged six feet half an inch in height and 172 pounds rowing weight. The gigantic Cambridge crew were as good in the boat as they were big; they won in very fast time—almost the fastest of the records of the university boat race, which go back now nearly a hundred years.

It was the fashion before the war to talk of the physical decadence of Englishmen, the text being afforded by the underfed and undersized inhabitants of the slums of the great industrial centres. But the war saw six millions of vigorous men in the British army and navy, and several millions of effective men in the coal mines, engineering works, ship yards and other home work in the British Isles, and the idea that any large proportion of the adult male population of Britain was effete was dispelled. And judging by the statistics of the latest university boat race, showing two exceptionally powerful crews physically, one of them probably the finest which ever competed, the well-to-do classes in England are still at the height of stamina.

ASSISTING THE PRESS.

There are some things in connection with the American system of government of which we are not enamoured, but in its relationship to the press the United States Government adopts an attitude that might be advantageously copied by Canada's administration. Before us as this is written is a complete copy of a very important report, which is to be given a week hence in the House of Representatives. This document is sent to the newspapers of the United States in confidence. They are asked not to publish or give out any portion, synopsis or intimation concerning it until it is transmitted by the President. It is safe to say that not a journal on the Continent will violate the faith imposed in it by the United States Government. Nothing will be published until the report is officially released for publication. In the meantime, however, the editors will have an opportunity to dissect the lengthy report, select the portions that are considered of value to their readers, condense such sections as they may decide upon to publish and prepare at leisure editorial references to the contents of the pamphlet. The supplying of the press with such reports well in advance of their being brought down is an act of courtesy that is appreciated by every editor, and there seems no reason why in Canada the newspapers could not be similiarly taken into the confidence of the Government in order that their task of commenting upon such important reports might be facilitated. The newspapers of Canada are as dependable in this respect as their United States contemporaries, and the same privilege might well be accorded them. As the situation stands now, the Canadian newspapers are lucky to get the complete reports six months after they are delivered.

IRELAND'S NEED.

(New York Evening Post.)

What Ireland needs is a coalition party.

A SPLENDID MOVEMENT.

The boy's camp at Clear Lake, under the auspices of the Peterborough Rotary Club, has been referred to at various times by The Examiner as an institution that promises to be of the greatest possible benefit to the underprivileged boys of Peterborough. It will open a new vista of hope before the eyes of youngsters who have not hitherto had a fair chance to enjoy the things that should be the lot of every boy. They will have two weeks in the outdoors on the shores of beautiful Clear Lake, and there will be facilities for the recreation so dear to the heart of every lad. At the same time the camp will be a character-builder. It will not all be play, for the boys will have their share of work to do—enough work to inculcate in them an appreciation of the fact that in order to have a chance to play humanity must also be ready to work. And they will be addressed by men of various occupations in life, who will discuss with them, around the camp-fire it may be, the opportunities offered to ambitious boys, so that out of the camp the youngsters will not only derive health and brawn but perhaps also an inspiration that may make their two weeks' sojourn as the guests of Rotary the turning point in their lives.

That is a work that is well worth the support and encouragement of the community, and just now the Rotary Club is appealing to citizens, who can help make the splendid project a success, to co-operate in any way possible. Cash donations will be appreciated, gifts of foodstuffs with which to feed the hungry young Canadians who will always have an ear wide open for the dinner horn, building material, camp equipment—all these will be welcomed by the committee. Particularly would they be glad to have the services of carpenters and other workers for a few days, and in this connection it might be well to suggest to the heads of the various manufacturing concerns that they have on their payroll workmen who could be loaned to the Rotary Club for a day or two in order to help in the preliminary construction work. The co-operation of the citizens who may be called upon by Rotary members to assist in this fine movement is urged by The Examiner.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT

Horticultural Week.

You can put a lot into the Horticultural Society as well as to take a lot out of it.

Latest news from the Chinese war is that there may be an eclipse so far as General Sun is concerned.

The report that seeding is being rushed in Manitoba under favourable conditions is as cheery a bit of news as the papers have carried in many a day.

The Genoa Conference seems to be a case of Lloyd George against the field. And you have to take a short price on the Welsh wizard at that.

Port Hope is to have a celebration on Dominion Day. The only other big day in the year for the lakeshore town is when "Jake" Solomon's team plays there.

Kitchener, with a big electrical show, is stealing Peterborough's thunder. This centre has always been known as the Electric City.

A "Mind-Your-Own-Business" Week will shortly be in order. We have had very nearly every other kind.

With the Toronto ball club at home tomorrow, the mortality among grandmothers may be expected to be heavy.

Cobourg has been devising slogans to advertise the town. The only defect Cobourg has, according to its citizens, is that it is too close to Port Hope.

Western members of Parliament have been spending the week-end imbibing the sporot of Quebec. Note to compositor: Be very careful not to print a "s" at the end of "spirit."

British newspapers are discussing the question of ladies' skirts. Probably the paragraphs are being published in the "Brevity" column.

The big cities of the continent retain daylight saving this year in spite of the opposition of the rural sections. There must be something in the system when over five hundred urban communities retain it after several years' trial.

The Scots Guards Band, which will play here on Saturday will not only bring with them a reputation for high-class music, but in addition a wealth of glorious military history.

The controversy between Premier Drury and Mayor Maguire of Toronto may be interesting, but it is difficult to see how it is doing either of them any good—although the Telegram enjoys it.

J. W. Curry, M.P.P., seems to be the greatest Farmer of them all—judging by the way he rallies to the support of the Attorney-General on every possible occasion.

Another theory why the Peterborough district has not been bothered by motor bandits is that the bad roads have kept them away.

LITERARY GEMS

BETWEEN THE LINES

All kinds of women make me think of books:
Those richly bound are often found in sets.
When all their value lies in outward looks,
The man who's fooled deserves just what he gets
The lure of titles counts with dames and tomes,
And gaudy jackets give the wise a hint.
Good books and women both belong in homes—
Old fashoined girls are nearly out of print.
The bold face type and those who set their caps
Are made that way so he who reads may run.
Though girls speak volumes as in book of chaps.
Still that is not the last comparison.
Some wives and books, as mummies in a case,
Fulfil their purpose just by filling space.

OH YES, BUTT—

(Missouri Ledger.)

We found a new world in a little magazine a few days ago that appealed to us. The word is "yesbutters"—you know, the people who agree to a proposition, are in favor of it—"Oh, yes, but—" Don't you know them and isn't their name legion. Speak of wet blankets, dashes of cold water! What has a more cooling effect when you are thoroughly in sympathy with a project than a yesbuttee? And you meet them hourly and probably have one of them in the bosom of your family and the chances are that you may even belong to the big fraternity yourself.

Trevor Maguire Arrested on Charge of Using Seditious Language.

TORONTO, May 2 (Canadian Press). — The only noteworthy incident of the May Day celebration in Toronto yesterday was the arrest of Trevor Maguire, business manager of "The Worker," charged with having used seditious language at the meeting of Radicals in Queen's Park in the afternoon, when the police say he referred to the British Empire as the "British Vampire."

BACKUS INCENSED AT LEWIS CHARGE.

Willing to Appear Before Commission and Tell What He Knows of the Huston Death.

TORONTO, May 2.—(Canadian Press.) — Attorney General Raney has been notified by I. F. Helmuth, K.C., that E. W. Backus of International Falls, named by A. C. Lewis in the Legislature in connection with the Huston case, was ready to appear before the commission and tell all he knows about the death of Capt. Huston. He writes that Mr. Backus is "naturally incensed at serious charges made."

CAMPBELLFORD FAIR RECEIVES LARGER GRANT

COUNCIL'S BUSINESS.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 2.—Seymour Agricultural Society's request for a grant of $250.00, an increase of $50.00 over last year's donation, was passed by the Council last night on Councillor Moore's motion, seconded by Councillor Wiggins.

The deputation from Campbellford's Fair Board was composed of Alex. Hume, T. J. Horkins, and J. C. Anderson.

"This is the cheapest way of maintaining playgrounds free to all," said Mr. Hume, after outlining the progress of the Fair and the aims of its promotors.

"We've been second fiddle to little Warkworth for a long time," commented Mr. Horkins. "It's time we shook ourselves up. We need buildings for farmers' cattle and also for the accommodation of merchants and manufacturers."

Mr. Moore suggested that the requested increase of $50.00 might be subscribed outside the Council, but Mr. Hume said the Fair Board hoped to obtain both a larger grant from the town and donations from local merchants and manufacturers.

Councillor Jas. Dorie moved that the grant be the same as last year, but failed to get a seconder.

School Grants Withheld.

W. Stevens secretary of the Board of Education, forwarded a letter from Inspector J. A. Houston to the effect that the customary High School grants to the Board would be withheld until the construction of a new building was undertaken. The Government grant is $1,100.00 and the Counties' grant $4,800.

This item was deferred for discussion in general business, and was then laid over for a special meeting to be called by the Mayor.

Petition Vetined.

Only 8 of the 24 property owners affected by the proposed sewer and water main on Rear Street, for which a petition had been received, were opposed to these improvements. The total assessment of the property on that part of the street is $32,200, of which $21,950 is owned by those in favour of the work proceeding, according to the statement of J. F. McGregor, the town clerk.

The petition was, therefore, sufficiently supported, but was left in abevance until the engineer's report has been submitted.

Thomas Campbell started to lay a drain out of his cellar to the street and in front of a neighbour's lot, but ran out of tile pipe before he finished it. He asked the Council for assistance, and although his request was at first booked for further consideration, Mayor Meyers told him he had better get the requisite tiles and fill up the trench.

In connection with this matter, Councillor S. Moore, chairman of the Roads and Bridges Committee, remarked that citizens took upon themselves too much latitude in such work.

"Those who want water connections should see the Water Commission," said Mr. Moore, "and those who wish to have drains put in should notify the chairman of the Roads Committee. I have seen things this spring that shouldn't be allowed at all."

Two connections had been recently dug up because of the inferior work put in. The tappings of water mains and other such work, he said, should be properly supervised.

Open Simpson Street?

W. G. Fraser's petition for the opening of Simpson Street was regarded by Councillor Moore as likely to entail too heavy a cost for the advantages that would be derived from the work. It would require a bridge which Mr. Moore believed would cost around $2,500.

Deputy-Reeve Stone said this estimate seemed excessive.

Messrs. McCook, McKelvie, and Major Bygott endorsed Mr. Fraser's petition, emphasising the need of a road on Simpson Street for traffic to the station from West Seymour and the benefits it would provide to Messrs. McCook & McKelvie's mill.

Mr. Moore offered to obtain, free of charge, an estimate of the cost of a bridge on Simpson Street as soon as the levels are prepared by Manager Scott of the Light and Water Commission. His motion embodying this proposal was seconded by Councillor Meiklejohn.

No Bandstand.

The Council adopted Mr. Wiggins' report recommending that the salary of R. T. Cowell, bandmaster, be continued at $50.00 a month until the end of the year, and also recommending no action on the petition that a new bandstand be erected for this summer's concerts.

Plans and cost estimates will be obtained on the proposed sewer and water main on Front Street North.

Mr. Meiklejohn suggested that both services might be more cheaply laid in a single trench, which could be dug wider than usual and at the side of the road instead of down the centre. This would avoid breaking up the roadway, and allow a saving by reason of less excavating.

Deputy-Reeve Stone said that the plans would have to be submitted to the Provincial Board of Health. The two pipe lines would have to be laid side by side. If one was laid on a loose fill above the other, the joints of the upper main might be disconnected or broken.

Clean Up Playground.

Mr. M. Mulhearn called the Council's attention to the condition of the old Market Square. Vehicles and conglomerous material had been left on the lot, preventing its full use by the children who played there.

Mr. Cole moved, seconded by Mr. Meiklejohn, that the clerk notify the owners of these articles to remove them at once.

WATER AT TRENT RIVER NOW NEAR SUMMER LEVELS.

Ladies' Aid Will Elect Officers at Next Meeting — Social and Personal Activities.

TRENT RIVER, May 2.— The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society will be held at the church, Wednesday afternoon at 2.30. A full report of the year's work will be given and an election of officers for the coming year will take place. All the ladies of the congregation are invited to be present.

A meeting of the Sunday school officers and teachers will be held on Thursday evening at 7.30.

The usual mid-week prayer and praise service will be held Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

Rev. E. O. Seymour took the services Sunday last. A large congregation was present.

Mr. Jas. Moir, general merchant, has purchased an up-to-date delivery truck from Mr. Charles Davidson, Campbellford, and intends delivering parcels for the ebnefit of his customers.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Rylott and family, of Victoria, were Sunday visitors with Mrs. J. Garnuea.

The river has lowered a great deal to-day, and in all probability will be down to summer level by the end of the week.

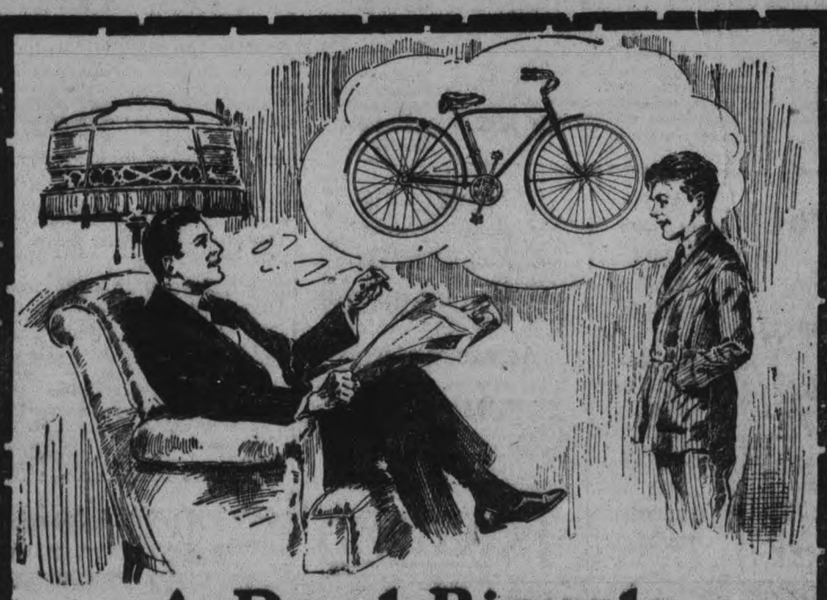
SPORTING GOODS OF SUPERIOR QUALITY



A Real Bicycle For a Real Boy

"WHY don't you ride your bicycle to school any more, Bill?"

"Well, Dad, everybody laughs at it. The other boys ride rings round me, and call it the old boneshaker."

"Hmm! How long have you had it?"

"Why, it's three years, now. You got it second-hand, Dad—remember?"

"That's right! What kind of bicycles have the other boys?"

"They're nearly all C.C.M.'s. The best ones are, anyway."

"I see. What make would you like best?"

"Why, of course, a C. C. M., Dad, every time!"

Dad Offers Him One for Passing

"Well, now, look here, Bill. If you'll pitch in at school and pass your exams., I'll get you one of those C. C. M. Bicycles. How does that strike you?"

"Dad, I'd do almost anything for a C. C. M. You just watch me!"

"That's the stuff! I've heard C. C. M. Bicycles well spoken of, and one should be a prize worth winning."

"It sure is. C. C. M.'s look so snappy and ride so easy. Pewee Bowman has one of the new models and it has the C. C. M. Triplex Crank Hanger. He loaned it to me yesterday for five minutes. Gee, it was just like riding on air!"

"Why, what difference does the Triplex Hanger make?"

"Well, there's never any looseness or tightness when you're pedalling. You feel that every single bit of weight you put on the pedals counts for speed.

"And the C. C. M. doesn't tire a fellow out, either, Dad. Why young Mac Reynolds—he's only half as big as me—rides around all day on his C. C. M. It never tires him out.

"And there's a special bike that I won't outgrow, Dad. It's equally good for a lad of nine or a youth of twenty. It's called the C. C. M. 18-inch Curved Bar Model."

"That's a fine idea, Bill. Dig in, now, pass your exams., and that C. C. M. bike is yours."

(Bill Passed All Right.)

EARLY START IN OILING STREETS AT LAKEFIELD

Oil Container For Corporation Now Being Erected. Watering Carts Already Out. Plans For Summer Fair.

LAKEFIELD, May 2.—The watering cart has begun to sprinkle the streets, for the dust has been very bad. As a tank is being erected near the railway tracks on Albert street for the purpose of storing oil for the streets, it is more than probable that the streets again will be oiled his year. It was the beginning of July when the work was done in 1921, but no doubt it will be undertaken earlier this season. It was proved beyond doubt that oiling the streets is a forward movement in dealing with the dust nuisance.

Summer Fair in June.

St. John the Baptist Church will hold an English summer fair on the grounds of Mr. A. E. Dawson, on June 1st.

Post-Sports Program

As the season for summer sports draws nearer it seems that a good move for the L.A.A.A. would be to erect a notice board in a public and conspicious place where sporting announcements would be found. Those interested in sports would much appreciate a fixed place where they could find the schedule of games.

Nominate Councillor.

A special meeting of the village council was held on Thursday afternoon to consider the resignation of Councillor Marling. It was moved by Councillor Spence, seconded by Councillor Moore the resignation of Councillor Marling be accepted and that the Reeve issue a proclamation calling for a meeting to nominate his successor. Carried.

The council then adjourned.

BOARD BILL FOR $650 ALLOWED BY JUDGE IN ACTION AT CAMPBELLFORD

John Catton, of Hoard's Station, Let His Account Run 80 Weeks When He Was Almost Instantly Killed—Claim Against His Estate—Dr. Richardson Gets Judgment For $122.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 2.—Mrs. Minnie Walker's claim of a $650 board bill against the estate of the late John Catton was allowed in full by His Honor Judge Huycke of Peterborough in a Surrogate court action here on Monday. Evidence that was corroborated by several witnesses showed that Mr. Carton had promised to pay Mrs. Walker $8 for the rest of his life, and up to the time of his sudden death from the the effects of a kick from a horse last November his account for board extended over a period of 80 weeks, and there was an additional charge of $10 for taking care of threshers.

Dr. Haig, an administrator for the estate contested Mrs. Walker's claim, but the testimony of independent witnesses supported her appeal. Judge Huycke remarked that Dr. Haig had taken a proper course in applying to the court for a ruling because of the rather large sum involved. Mrs. Walker lives at Hoard's Station. Mr. G. A. Payne appeared for her, and Mr. I. A. Humphries represented the defendant.

In a Division Court case Dr. Richardson of town was given judgment for $122 against Wallace McMullen for medical services rendered. Defendant disputed the account on the ground that it was not itemized. The question of garnishee was adjourned for a month.

Want to Feel Just Right?

Take an NR Tonight

JUST TRY IT AND SEE how much better you feel in the morning. That "tearful" headachy, tired, don't-know-what's-the-matter feeling will be gone—you'll feel fine.

TROUBLE IS, your system is clogged with a lot of impurities that your over-worked digestive and eliminative organs can't get rid of. Pills, oil, salts calomel and ordinary laxatives, cathartics and purges only force the bowels and prod the liver.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and even kidneys, not forcing, but toning and strengthening these organs. The result is prompt relief and real, lasting benefit. Make the test. Nature's Remedy will act promptly, thoroughly, yet so mildly, so gently, that you will think nature herself has come to the rescue and is doing the work.

And oh, what a relief! You'll be surprised to find how much better you feel—brighter, better every way. If Lab'ra'ry or stubborn constipated, take one NR Tablet each night or 2 week. Then you'll not have to take med'cine every day. Just an occasional NR tablet after that will be sufficient to keep your system in good condition—keep you feeling your best.

Science Proves the Danger of Bleeding Gums

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause serious ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced in many cases to the Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

"Our First Year"

(By a Bride.)

START THIS SERIES HERE

When Jack and his bride agreed to maintain their individual freedom after marriage they foresaw no difficulties. Peggy is trying to get her platonic friend Bart Elliott, to save Bonny Tearle, a flapper, from George Bradshaw, a sport.

CHAPTER XXVI

MATCH-MAKING

"Take me home tonight, Bart!".

demanded, before the rehearsal. Jack' gone to Mrs. Herrod's—he intends to call for me, but I'll phone him not to, if you'll walk with me. I must talk with you, Bart!"

And so under a white moon we strolled slowly homeward. And although I am a married woman, violently in love with my husband, I own that Bart seemed to enjoy our walk.

"You've got to help me Bart," I explained. "Bonny mustn't be allowed to run around with Bradshaw any more Of course she has no end of admirers, boys of her own age and college men, but she only tolerates them . She isn't in love with George, but just daffy about him, he's fascinated her—like—like—a serpent!"

"Do I gather that you expect me to cut in?"

"You do. And maybe she'll fall in love with you, Bart!" I gasped, for I had come close to telling him that Bonny was in love with him.

"Great Eros! You know I loath flappers!"

"Also I know her father is worth two millions!"

Bart's sigh was prolonged and despairing.

"You girls! Money—money! You, Peggins! Like the rest! I never supposed you'd join the money-mad crowd!"

"Of course I expect Jack to be rich some day," I asserted calmly. 'I'm not ashamed of the idea, not a bit. But that has nothing to do with Bonny. You never look at her. It's time you did. Mr. Tearle is exactly George Bradshaw's idea of a father-in-law. But he knows the Tearles. never will let him have Bonny. And so he'll just coax the child along, feed her on highbrow radicalism about love, develop her ideas of individual liberty, and the rights of lovers—and then some day they'll elope! Isn't that an awful prospect?"

"I should say that any girl who'd elope with that sport ought to get what's coming to her."

"No—not Bonny! Underneath her affections, she's pure gold. And the only daughter. I owe it to Mr. Tearle to keep Bonny out of mischief if I can."

"But you can't, Peg. That's the trouble with all the flappers, they will not listen to older girls who know."

"I agree. They keep their ears open only to the bunk you men fill them with!'

A whistle from Bart, then:

"You score, Peggins!"

"Bonny will listen to you, Bart!"

"Rescuing fair maidens in distress is my amusement—on the stage only!" he protested. Nevertheless, he agreed to consider my proposition solely as a favor to me.

My husband was letting himself into our apartment when I reached the door. The men greeted and parted with their customary friendliness.

But Jack did not refer to the play, nor the rehearsal, nor to Bart after we entered our suite. Perhaps because I chattered so.

I explained why I had wanted to talk with Bart, what I had planned about Bonny, and then I tried to make him talk about his evening with Mrs. Herrod. But talk he would not about her.

For the first time I imagined that Jack didn't like to have me walk with a handsome man in the moonlight. I began to suspect that there was a flaw somewhere in the working of our fine theory.

CUTICURA HEALS LARGE ERUPTIONS

On Face. Sore and Disfiguring, In Blotches and Burned.

"Small pimple-like eruptions came first on my face. They were sore and disfiguring, and were also large and red. They festered and came to a head, and they were in blotches and burned.

"I had these on my face for about a month before I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I could feel the pimples getting better after a few days' treatment, and I used one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment when I was healed." (Signed) Miss Florence Thayer, Wright, Quebec.

ENGINE OIL BEST FLUSH CRANK CASE.

Kerosene Used to Be a Good Standby For the Motorist.

Kerosene used to be a good standby on which motorists depended for cleaning their engines.

Now come oil engineers with the declaration that kerosene causes a loss of 18 per cent of that total lubricating capacity of an automobile.

So, instead of using kerosene to flush out the crank case, those who have studied this phase of motoring say the drained case should be cleaned with fresh engine oil.

More Economical

That costs more money and arouses a bit of suspicion, when it is known that this advice comes from the oil companies. But their engineers have the figures to prove that, in the long run, the new method is the more economical.

Engines that have any form of splash lubrication have oil troughs and pockets in which part of the kerosene used for flushing is sure to remain. In some cars, say the oil engineers, the kerosene retained in this way represents 18 per cent of the total lubricating capacity of the car.

It is safer, therefore, to use the regular kind of engine oil. The crank case should be drained about every 1000 miles in summer, and every 500 miles in winter. Every time the change is made, the case should be flushed with engine oil instead of kerosene.

No Waste

The oil used for this purpose can be put to other lubricating uses.

Regular cleaning of the crank case means longer life for the engine. The carbon that accumulates there in a season's run is enough to wear down the bearings, pistons, and cylinder walls in a short time.

OUR GREAT EXAMPLE

It is told of the famous French artist, Gustave Dore, that, whilst he was painting the face of Christ in one of his pictures, a lady came into his studio. Her gaze fell on the face and she stood transfixed, so wonderful was it The artist watched her anxiously meanwhile.

"Why do you look at me like that, M. Dore?" she asked.

"I wanted to see what you thought of that face," was the reply. "You do like it—don't you?"

"Yes, I do," said the lady. "And I'll tell you what I think. I think that you couldn't paint such a face of Christ unless you loved him!"

"Unless I loved him!" exclaimed Dore. "Ah! Madame, I trust I do, and that most sincerely—but as I love Him more I shall paint him better."

(The artist knew the secret of service He knew that the more we love the better we serve). —Selected

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 2.—Johnny Wilson, middleweight pugilistic champion, will meet Mike Gibbons of St. Paul in a 10-round decision contest here May 26, it was announced yesterday.

ANOTHER RUSSIAN NOTE TO POLAND.

GENOA, May 2 (Canadian Press). — George Tchitcherin, head of the Russian Soviet delegation here, yesterday sent Foreign Minister Skirmunt, chief of the Polish delegation ,another note reiterating the Soviet protest against Poland's action in joining the Great Powers in questioning the right of Russia and Germany to sign the Easter Treaty at Rapallo.

The note announced that Poland's recent reply to the Soviet delegation did not explain away the Russian charge that Poland had violated both its peace treaty with Russia and the recent agreement entered into at Riga with Russia and the Baltic States.

CREAM CLEARS A STUFFED-UP HEAD

Instantly Opens Every Air Passage —Clears Throat.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed because of nasty catarrh or a cold, apply a little pure, antiseptic cream into your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage, soothing and healing swollen, inflamed membranes and you get instant relief.

Try this. Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Your clogged nostrils open right up; your head is clear; no more hawking or snuffling. Count fifty. All the stuffiness, dryness, struggling for breath is gone. You feel fine.

Why Be "Skinny"

When It's so EASY to Build Flesh this New Way

Do you need more flesh? Are you pale, lacking in energy—or is your complexion blemished by humiliating pimples, blackheads, or boils? If so, simply go to your druggist's and get a package of IRONIZED YEAST tablets. Take these remarkably effective tablets—two with each meal. Then watch the results! Very likely you will be actually astonished at the improvement shown in you even after the first 48 hours. For IRONIZED YEAST embodies a remarkable new scientific process—a process which enables yeast to bring its splendid results often in just half the usual time.

The New Process

While yeast alone is good, tests show that it needs some other agent in order to quickly convert its wonderful health-building elements into firm tissue, rosy cheeks and sparkling vitality.

Everyone knows that iron is of great value in converting our food into living cells and tissue. So working on this problem, our scientists finally discovered the wonderful process of ironization—the process through which the combination of yeast and iron becomes 100% efficient.

Do not think, however, that any combination of yeast and iron will do. Yeast brings its best and quickest results only when it is treated through the scientific process of ironization. And this process is embodied only in IRONIZED YEAST, the one scientifically correct yeast treatment.

Money Back Guarantee

CHICAGO WHEAT.

CHICAGO, May 2.— (Canadian Press.) — Settlement of May contracts for the delivery of wheat here began yesterday without any of the spectacular accompaniments which had been talked about of late as likely to be seen.

For at least the time being, no shortage of wheat supplies was apparent. Deliveries were on a liberal scale, totalling 1,250,000 bushels, very near the amount which had been generally expected, and were readily taken by strong interests. Big export sales helped to lift value. The market closed unsettled, 1 1-4 to 2 1-8c. net higher, with May $1.41 1-2 and July $1.28 to $1.28 1-4. Corn finished 7-8 to 1c. higher; oats unchanged to 3-8c. up, and provisions varying from unchanged figures to a rise of 20c.

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

CASH GRAIN.

MONTREAL, May 2.—Domestic trading in cash grain was dull, there being an absence of demand. A larger volume of business obtained in the flour market. Demand for millfeed continues good, but trade in rolled oats was quiet. The market for baled hay was fairly active. Prices for eggs are steady and a moderate trade is passing in potatoes. Weakness developed both in the butter and cheese market with considerable marking down of prices.

WINNIPEG CATTLE.

WINNIPEG, May 2.—(Canadian Press.) — Receipts 660 cattle and calves and 615 hogs. Trading was not particularly heavy on the cattle market this morning, although with liberal offerings a steady tone was maintained. Heavy butchers sold from 7.00 to 7.25; handyweight killing steers, fair to good 6.25 to 7.00, and desirable kinds 7.25 to 7.50; butcher heifers good 6.50 to 7.00; feeder steers 5.50 to 6.00.

The hog market was unchanged at 12.00 for selects.

There ws no trading on the sheep and lamb market due to lack of receipts.

EGG MARKETS.

OTTAWA, May 2. — (Canadian Press.)—The car lot movement subject to Government inspection principally in Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Western Ontario is very active and has caused keen competition among the buyers because of the satisfactory nature of the shipments coming forward. Jobbing prices in the principal centres are well maintained and the anticipated lower prices on account of increased receipts has not been materialized.

Toronto firm, specials jobbing 35, extras 34, firsts 30 to 31. Ontario track shippers are reported firm in their offerings and making sales of current receipts 27 1-2 to 28 cases returned and on a graded basis extras 33, firsts 32 f.o.b. cases free.

Montreal receipts increasing, quality fine, demand about normal. Specials 34, straight candled current receipts 31.

Winnipeg market easy under increased supplies. Jobbers quoting country shippers 25 to 25 1-2 loss off, jobbing extra 32 to 35, firsts 29 to 30, seconds 26 to 27, retail extras 40, firsts 32 to 35, seconds 28.

SIR HANSEN'S ESTATE.

LONDON, May 2.— (Canadian Press.)—Sir Charles Hansen, formerly a prominent financier in Montreal, and in 1917-18 Lord Mayor of London who died recently left an estate probated at £157,000. His will stated that it had long been his intention to bequeath legacies to his household staff, but the war exactions were so severe he regretted not being in a position to do so. He left a few minor legacies.

RANEY IS ASKED

to ten days and in other ways seek to protect the province from paying unfair claims.

When the House opened, Mr. Ferguson asked what information the attorney-general had from the timber commission as to when its report would be ready. Mr. Ferguson claimed there were persistent rumors of plans on foot to so delay this report that it would not be submitted this session but would be available for the government shortly after the session had concluded, just too late for its discussion in the legislature. He said it was now four months since the evidence was concluded, surely that was sufficient time for the commissioners to prepare the findings particularly as considerable of it had been disposed of in interim reports. He insisted that he was extremely anxious, and that many other members were extremely anxious to have the report before the session closed.

Attorney-General Raney said there was no justifcation for any statements that the report was being delayed unnecessarily by the commissioners, or that there would be any delay on the part of the government presenting it as soon as it was ready. He had received word from Mr. Justice Latchford that the commissioners were working on the report but they were pressed by judicial work which prevented them giving as much time to it as they would otherwise be able to. He thought they were not rumors Mr. Ferguson was hearing but dreams on his part regarding any plans to delay the report.

Mr. Ferguson claimed they were no dreams on his part. He knew already pretty nearly what the reports would contain.. He claimed the rumors were that the government intended to exploit the report with the public without the house having an opportunity of discussing it. He said one of the commissioners spent sometime at Atlantic City, it was hardly likely he was studying the report then.

Mr. Raney replied that the government was just as anxious as Mr. Ferguson, perhaps more anxious, to have the report presented to the house. He also asked if reports published in the papers about the roads of the province were paid for or just news matter. The premier suggested that the question be asked when Hon. Mr. Biggs was in the house, and Mr. Ferguson retorted that it was so seldom some of the ministers were in the house that he wished the question considered now.

Premier Drury here stated that the house was being robbed of real valuable time by members getting up before the orders of the day were called and raising all sorts of questions. He pointed out that Mr. Ferguson had already been on his feet five or six times yesterday He understood that this parliament was only one in the empire where there were no provisions to prevent the abuse of the privilege of raising questions before the orders of the day are called. If this parliament is to remain free in this regard, there must be cooperation to not unduly take up the time of the house.

Mr. Ferguson said he did not propose to be lectured by a neophyte like the premier on procedure but that both parties be advised — of important public interest.

The premier later ascertained that the notices with regard to roads were not paid for..

The chief objection to the bill of the provincial treasurer for licensing pool, and billiard rooms and bowling alleys was that under it a man in a municipality where no such place of amusement already existed, could write the provincial treasurer and get a license without the people of the village knowing anything about it until the pool room started operation. It was decide to change it so that in future every person must get a license from the municipality before it can operate such an amusement place, and must have this before he can get a provincial license. With this provision, it was sent back to be redrafted.

Tommy's Tired "Tummy"

is easily restored to normal action by the right kind of food—but men in the evening of life don't find it so easy. They must coddle and coax their digestive organs back to normal strength. Nothing you can eat is so easily digested as and nothing is so strengthening and satisfying. It makes healthy tissue and rich, red blood, supplying the greatest amount of strength with the least tax upon the digestive organs. Children like its tasty crispness and the delicious aroma of the baked wheat.

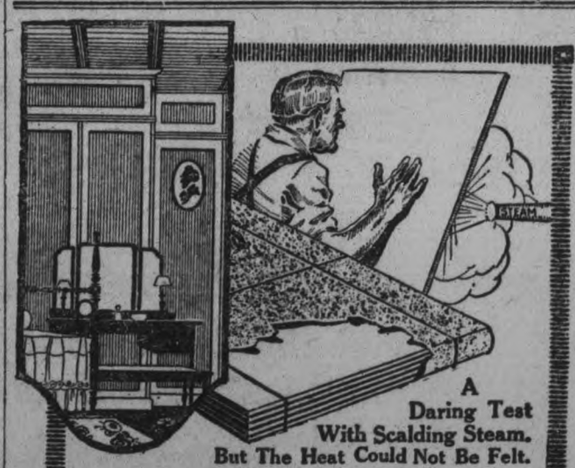
Shredded Wheat Biscuit is delicious with hot or cold milk, sliced bananas, prunes or canned fruits. Triscuit is the Shredded Wheat wafer and is eaten with butter, cheese or marmalade.



A Daring Test With Scalding Steam. But The Heat Could Not Be Felt.

Live steam was discharged against a sheet of Ten Test Solid Fibre Board, and this intense heat could not be felt on opposite side for four and one-half minutes. This was one of ten tests made to prove its superior qualities.

TEN-TEST

used with Stucco, Brick or Brick Veneer provides ½ inch of the best insulation against heat, cold and moisture.

Ten Test Solid Fibre Board is literally two boards in one. An ideal exterior wall-base for stucco, it makes a lasting bond that will not allow stucco to crack, chip nor fall off. As an interior wall, enduring and beautiful, it permits fullest expression of personal taste in decoration with wallpaper, panelling or paints.

The first cost of building with Ten Test Solid Fibre Board is practically the same as a frame building. But homes built with this superior material are even more economical than frame construction. Ten Test Solid Fibre Board does not require constant painting and repairing. It is fire-resistive and carries a lower insurance rate.

A SPECIAL DAY AT MARK STREET

Large Congregations and Choir of Twenty-Six Voices.

"Voices heard in Field and Woodland" was the subject of the morning sermon, and was based on the Song of Solomon ii. 12,. "The flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in the land." The following is an outline of the sermon.

It has been said that the month of May is the month of flowers, but this is not exactly true. It is rather the season in which living Nature, having finally gained the victory over struggling Winter, holds her festival of rejoicing and thanksgiving. It is the season when Nature floods half a world with a deluge of bloom; and yet it is the mighty surge and rush of life's revival, that really characterizes the month of May. How often have we heard, from both pulpit and platform, that all the works of nature are praising God in their own way, let us rather say that the starry heavens, the flower decked earth, and the rolling river or tossing sea, inspire in us a desire to worship their Creator and ours. It requires intelligence, reason, personality, and benevolence to inspire worship, and these qualities are not found in the objects of nature.

Lessons from Flowers

The flowers appear on the earth. We did not bring them, they came. We find them first in the woodland, but no human hand planted them there. We may seek them, pluck them, or leave them. They are for us if we desire them; only intelligence can enjoy their beauty; so they do not bloom for the beast. I may feast my eyes and my soul on their beauty, or I may refuse to look at their bloom. We may inhale their fragrance, or let it float away on the breeze. It is at our own will whether we treasure them or trample them into the dust. And yet, all the science of all the centuries could not bring one flower to life, once it has bowed its head in death. You can transfer their beauty, glory, and fragrance to the house of God or to the home of suffering, or to the hospital ward, at your pleasure. But millions of flowers are born to blush unseen, and waste their perfume on the desert air. A thousand pities for the man or woman, who sees no beauty in the blushing rose.

The Rose and Lily

My bible tells me Christ is like the flowers. We did not bring Him to the world, Jesus came. We find Him in the woodland of our loneliness. He lives and blooms for all mankind. We may take him as our friend, or leave him to wander in the wilds of the wilderness. It is our's to accept Him as our Saviours or bid Him go His way. We may "put on Christ" and wear Him as we would wear a rose; bring Him to our home, to the couch of suffering, to the House of God, to the hovel or the palace; and He brightens and gladdens and beautifies all He touches. He flings His beauty o'er the open plain for prince and peasant alike. His fragrance floats away on the wings of the breeze, and neither individual nor organization can monopolize the "Rose of Sharan and the Lily of the Valley."

Singing of Birds

Life's magic thrill, I believe, is the force that tunes the voice of the birds. They sing for joy, but they do not know why they rejoice. Life fills them with gladness, and yet they know not that they live. Every creature that God has made seems to cling to life, from the insect to the mighty mammal. Every creature shrinks from death, and yet death is a power unknown. No thoughtful man will say that Death is beautiful for Christ Himself taught otherwise. "My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death," were the words of the Son of God. None can ever come from the world beyond to tell us of the nature of death. There is a great gulf fixed, so Jesus tells us; and He certainly knew Now, the birds came among us with neither house, nor food, nor prom se of sunshine; for they winged their way right into a snow storm, but they did not whine and die, they sang and flitted about, and sang again. Have we not cause for gladness?

God Maketh Rich

The richest man in the world is the man who yearns after God, and has that craving satisfied. The thought of being alive is transporting. Nature is bubbling over with joy and the gladness is contagious. The sun, the blue of the heavens the opening leaves, the rippling stream and the silver slumber of the quiet lake, the waves of melody mingling with the deep breathing of Nature, and God standing back in the shadow, glad to see you happy. Yes, "the winter is past, the rain is over, and gone." Brighter days will come tomorrow. Health and vigor will come with returning summer. Remember, lonely, aged, decrepit, or suffering child of Christ; God's eye is on the sparrow and He's watching over you.

The Dove of Peace

Thank God for peace in the heart, in the home, in the church, in the community, and in the State. It is our duty to work for this. Peace is contagious and so is the spirit of strife. We never dream how much we can do to spread peace until we try. Why send a child away weeping when it is so easy to make him laugh and sing? Is any one we ought to love afraid of our approval? Nothing helps so much to lift life's burdens as peace. No man is so mighty to-day in the church of God, as the man who looks on the bright side, and tries to promote peace. Money cannot pay for peace. There is no discord in nature, that is why we have that "going away" feeling when the spring comes. Now, the flowers are here and the birds have come and the turtle dove is calling, calling. Let us rise up, fling from us grumbling and doubt, clasp the hand of a living Christ, and be happy. This is His command.

SUCCESSFUL "AT HOME" BY CHRISTIAN MOTHERS.

Over 200 people attended the very successful "At Home" given at St. Alphonsus' Lyceum last evening, by the Christian Mothers' Society of St. Peter's Cathedral. The ladies in charge provided excellent refreshments and looked after every detail of the enjoyment of the card-players on the third floor, and the dancers in the ground-floor dancing hall, which was especially attractive last evening with its splendid floor and artistic decorations. Long, vari-colored streamers pendant from the ceiling alternated with strings of red, green and yellow balloons, making bright color notes above the gay throng. Collis' four-piece orchestra provided music on the palm-banked stage.

Prizes for cards, a half-dozen silver tea-spoons, donated by Miss J. McCarthy, and leather-cased deck of cards, were won by Mrs. James Bogue and Mrs. Jos. Lonergan.

WHY QUEBEC MAN PRAISES DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Honore Gervais who suffered from Kidney Disease and Rheumatism tells of the Relief he got from Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Casimir, Que., May 1.—(Special)—The value of Dodd's Kidney Pills as a household remedy is splendidly shown by the statement of Mr. Honore Gervais, a well-known resident here.

"I suffered from Kidney disease and rheumatism," Mr. Gervais states. "I used Dodd's Kidney Pills for my trouble and with such benefit that I recommend them to all others who suffer as I did.

"My wife and my little girl have also used Dodd's Kidney Pills and found them good. My wife has also been much benefitted by the use of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets."

Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the Kidneys, strengthening them so that they do their full work of straining all the impurities, all the seeds of disease, out of the blood. Ask your neighbors about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

GEORGE GRANGE

would sweep away a whole block irresistibly so.

Ald. Crowe did not put much faith in petitions and he re-iterated his opinion previously expressed many times. The main trouble, he said lies in the fact that Chief Grange had lost the confidence of Council, and it would have been better had he resigned and then applied for reinstatement. Inefficiency in the hall, Ald. Crowe continued, had been due not so much to Grange as to some of the men, and he, of course, has to shoulder the onus. Ald. Crowe left the matter with Council; "I can get along, he said, and will do the best possible in the city's interests, who ever is chief The chairman of the department emphasized Fire Marshal Heaton's endorsation of Grange as the best chief Peterborough could get, and Chief Russell's advice to engage an up-to-date qualified chief, clean out the whole brigade, and make new appointments after applicants are medically examined.

A New Sympathizer.

Ald. Turner last night switched sides in practical sympathy with Fire Chief Grange. He explained his position this way: "Thirty-six applicants have been scrutinized by Fire Chief Russell of Toronto, who declares our present chief as good as Peterborough can get in the circumstances. And opinion like that has weight with me (none of us aldermen are fire-fighters), although it may be hard to backwater." Ald. Turner here considered Grange to be commended for the stand he has taken after all the abuse thrown at him by Council; and the fact that he is in charge of the department today, when Council have no one to replace him, speaks in his favour. "I have visited the hall several times since the discussion originated, and I find a vast improvement in the efficiency of the brigade to-day from that of two months ago."

Ald. Morrison pointed out that there having been no fires here of any serious size since Grange's chieftanship during five years indicates that there must have been some prevention." "He's doing his duty," he asserted. "Citizens are in favour of his retention in office, and that should have more weight than Ald. Crowes contention that he had lost the confidence of Council. Has Grange had a fair trial? No; and now we find men who know fire-fighting declaring that the Chief should be complimented for the work he has done.

Ald. Crowe incidentally remarked that were Council to adopt the views of the minority, he would be satisfied, being confident that "we can still raise the efficiency at the hall to a higher standard."

Ald. McIntyre and Jones here moved that Fire Chief Grange be retained and given free control to elevate the bridgade's efficiency.

This was lost on the same division as that which followed in Council ratifying the action of the Committee of the Whole, and authorizing inviting the attendance here of the three acplicants for Grange's position at the city's expense.

What Can Council Do?

Subsequently, in Council Ald. Hamilton expressed sentimental sympathy for Fire Chief Grange, he did not feel like dismissing him summarily, and so he asked suggestions of his colleagues.

Ald. Phelan—"I don't know what Council can do. We have asked Grange to resign, and given him hints of our position, but he won't resign."

Ald. Crowe — "Let us ask him again to resign and apply for the vacant job."

Ald. Stocker—No! Take the line of least resistance. Let him stay where he is in the meantime. We have the matter in our own hands."

At this juncture cries of adjourn were insistent, and so Council complied, leaving Grange to still carry on or not ad libitum, while the City Fathers await the results of their interview with applicants Gimblett, Dey and Brady.

The whole Council Board were present.

LECTURES BY DR. BARKER WILL BE REAL TREAT

In connection with the free lecture to be given by Dr. Chas. E. Barker, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, in the Grand Opera House to-morrow afternoon, when he will address the women of the city on the subject of "A Mother's Relationship and Responsibility to her Daughter," Mrs. A. Mowat, president of the Local Council of Women, was in receipt this morning of the following telegram from the secretary of the Ottawa Local Council:

"The Ottawa Local Council of Women thought so highly of Dr. Barker, who spoke to them to-day, that they felt they would like to ask you to urge the members of your Council to attend his lecture. Ottawa thought it most valuable."

WEAK HEART NERVES BADLY SHATTERED

Many a woman who should be strong and healthy, full of life and energy is bound by the shackles of ill-health.

Some disease or constitutional disturbance has left its mark in the form of a weak heart, shattered nerves, impoverished blood and an exhausted system.

In

they will find a remedy that will supply food for the exhausted nerv.., one that will strengthen and regulat.. the weak heart and invigorate the whol.. ystem.

Mrs. W. W.. arse, 14 Seaton St., Toronto, Ont., writes:—"I was left with a weak heart and in a run down condition from the 'flu.' My nerves were badly shattered, and I had such pains around my heart I could not sleep much at night. I took several doctors' medicines without getting any better. My husband got me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve P ls, and after I took one box I got relie.., and after taking six boxes I have been well and not bothered since."

Grape-Nuts

is a scientific food which nourishes the body without burdening the stomach. It contains the perfected nutriment of nature's best grains. It is partially pre-digested.

It gives energy without taking energy. There's a big difference in the day's work, with a helper like that. Many have found it so.

Grape-Nuts, served with cream or milk, is a joy to the taste. But that's only the beginning. It's a first aid to body and brain. That's the delightful finish.

CALOMEL IS GREATEST MEDICINE IN WORLD FOR PEOPLE WHO ARE NOT WELL

The Only Medicine That Acts Upon the Liver

People who suffer from Indigestion, Rheumatism, Headaches, Biliousness, Constipation and Kidney Pains will find almost instant relief by taking one Tanated Calomel Tablet before meals or two at bedtime. The secret of the success of this medicine is due to the fact that it is the only medicine that acts upon the liver. No salts, seidlitz or castor oil are necessary after taking Tanated Calomel, for it is self-eliminating. When the liver fails to excrete bile into the intestines they become filled with waste and the whole system becomes poisoned, causes all kinds of sickness. If you do not feel well get a small box of Tanated Calomel from the druggist and you will feel fine in a day or so. It is sold by F. C. Webber, Charlotte street.

ANNIVERSARY DINNER VERY MUCH ENJOYED

The dinner, commemorating the fifth anniversary of the erection of St. James' Methodist Church, which was held last evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church, was very successful in every way, with a good attendance and excellent programme.

A sumptuous supper was followed by an evening of addresses and music, the chairman, Rev. J. F. Chapman, giving the opening address, followed by a glee by the choir. Rev. B. Greatrix, first pastor of the church, who is always a welcome figure on anniversary occasions, also gave a brief talk. Vocal solos were much enjoyed, rendered by Mrs. E. Kitney, Messrs. Albert Lee and F. Pratt, and duet by Mrs. Kitney and Mrs. D. Doig. Mrs. F. McNeeley captivated her audience with the excellence of her readings, "The First Settler's Story" receiving repeated applause; Mrs. M. B. Hoyland gave a violin solo, and the orchestra rendered several fine selections.

TOURING CAR
FIVE PASSENGER

—Noted for low upkeep long mileage ruggedness and silent running.

—This 5-Passenger Car has been considered the standard American type of Touring Car.

—All Automobiles are good—in spots.

—But no other Automobile can be as good as a REO unless it is built as good as a REO in every part and every detail of every part.

—Attention to "the little things"—incorporation of the best materials and the most careful workmanship in what some call "the unimportant places"—these are the reasons for REO reliability and the satisfaction REO owners derive from possession of their Cars.

—REO engineers still adhere to the more expensive "sub-frame" construction which most others have discarded in favour of the cheaper form.

—One feature that will delight the heart of the seasoned motorist, is the new Reo-designed top and especially the side curtain arrangement. This REO top is made to stand up through long usage.

SUPPLIES FOR VICTORIA PARK

Voted by Committee Last Night—Eight Trees Will Be Removed if County Agrees.

TEACH SWIMMING

At a meeting of the Railways and Parks Committee preceding the Council last night steps were taken to improve Victoria Park in several ways. Frank Wise, caretaker of parks, suggested that eight trees be taken out of the north-west corner, and, on motion of Ald. Hamilton, seconded by Ald. Walter Stocker, the suggestion will be carried out providing the county authorities consent. The following supplies will be procured for the park: 50 lbs. of grass seed ,one large vase, oil barrels for flower tubs, paint for the benches, five waste paper receptacles and earth to fill in the two paths running north and south on each side of the fountain. Mr. Wise advised the seeding of these paths, and said he would do the work if the city procured the earth.

James Ellis was granted permission to use the premises on Hunter Street East owned by the city, where he has his mattress factory, for a further period. Rental was fixed by the committee at $25 a month and taxes.

Although the Hydro reply to a letter regarding a shelter at the street railway wharf, and transfers to East City on a 'bus line, was not hopeful, the committee decided to introduce again the matter of a reduction of fares on the street railway, asking that at least four tickets be given for 25 cents.

On motion of Ald. Phelan and Ald. Stocker, the chairman was authorized to advertise for caretakers for the bathing beaches, the caretakers to also act as instructors. By this action the committee felt they were doing away with the necessity of playgrounds instructors, part of whose duties have been to instruct boys and girls in the art of swimming.

COMBINE IN DIAMONDS EFFECTED IN LONDON

Diamonds are probably due for another advance very shortly, according to a well-known dealer, in touch with the London market. This is on account of the fact of an arrangement being reached recently between the two great syndicates that control the entire diamond output of the world. There is now no possibility of an uncut stone reaching the lapidary without passing through one of the two great buildings in London, one on either side of Holborn Viaduct.

The only diamond field that was outside the trust of late years was that in the Belgian Congo. This has now been taken over by the Anglo-American syndicate which also bought all the diamond interests in German South-West Africa. It has concluded an arrangement with the De Beers Syndicate controlling the South African fields and the diamond is effectually cornered. "There are more multi-millionaires in this great diamond trust," says the dealer, 'than in any other organization in commercial history. The output is now entirely in their hands."

Much unrest has been created of late by articles telling of slumps in the diamond market and great reductions of prices, but, as a matter of fact, the syndicates have never departed from their policy of steadily maintaining prices. The recent flurries have been caused by the financial difficulties of brokers who were loaded up with diamonds during the boom years and who were compelled to unload when the depression arrived. There have also been large quantities of jewels coming out of Europe as a result of post-war conditions, but these goods are now practically all absorbed, and the market is much steadier.

The diamond mines of South Africa have been producing very little of late, and the labour difficulties, coupled with the immense depth at which the mines are now working, will further restrict the output. Reports are current from time to time of the mines becoming exhausted, but whether true or not, the same result will follow with the output closely held by multi-millionaires who may be expected to hold prices up to the last notch.

USE "TIZ" FOR SORE TIRED, ACHING FEET

Good-bye, sore feet, burning feet, swoollen feet, sweaty feet, smelling feet, tired feet.

Good-bye, corns, callouses, bunions and raw spots. No more shoe tightness, no more limping with pain or drawing up your face in agony. "TIZ" is magical, acts right off. "TIZ" draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. Use "TIZ" and forget your foot misery. Ah, how comfortable your feet feel. A few cents buys a box of "TIZ" now at any druggist or department store. Don't suffer. Have good feet, glad feet, feet that never swell, never hurt, never get tired. A year's foot comfort guaranteed or money refunded.

Do not put the Rinso direct from the package into the tub. Make the Rinso liquid first.

Mix half a package of Rinso in a little cool water until it is like cream. Then add two quarts of boiling water and when the froth subsides you will have a clear, amber coloured liquid; put it in a tub of cool or lukewarm water and you will have enough for a batch of clothes. If the clothes are extra soiled, use more Rinso.

Transportation Cost

The recommendation by the Property Committee that Plumbing Inspector Metheral be allowed $75 for the use of his car this year, the same as last year brought protest from Ald. Turner. He said there had been a misunderstanding. Metheral's $75 in 1921 was only for a part of the year, and he would want twice that sum for using his car on the city's business the whole year.

Ald. Turner moved that Metheral be allowed $150, but he found no seconder, and the clause, allowing him half that amount carried.

Ald. Turner—"He'll not use his car for $75."

Ald. Gainey—"Then he can use street cars, walk or ride in a wheelbarrow."

What Dog Catcher Expects

James Gates, 101 Auburn street asked for salary of $15 per week or $10 and 50 cents for each dog taken. He proposed charging $2 for a dog being at large and would work 9 hours out of 24. He would expect a roving commission. — Property Committee.

DYE STOCKINGS OR SWEATER IN DIAMOND DYES

"Diamond Dyes" add years of wear to worn, faded skirts, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, hangings, draperies, everything. Every package contains direction so simple any woman can put new, rich fadeless colors into her worn garments or draperies even if she has never dyed before. Just buy Diamond Dyes—no other kind—then your material will come out right, because Diamond Dyes are guaranteed not to streak, spot, fade, or run. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods.

Voice of the People

Port Hope, April 29th, 1922
To the Editor, Examiner—

I would be glad if you would find space in the Examiner for the following letter in an early date.—W. T. R. Preston.

WHY REV. DR. WILLIAMS IS NOT A ROMAN CATHOLIC

Sir: I am far from being the only Methodist who dissociates himself entirely from Rev. Dr. Williams' tirade against the Roman Catholic Church. Until recent years one could drop into a Methodist church anywhere and depend upon hearing a heartsearching sermon The injunction, "Preach the Gospel, was religiously observed. The occasion in question, when the reverend gentleman hurled forth his denunciation of Roman Catholics from the pulpit of the Eaton Memorial Church last Sunday, shows that things have changed.

But why this continual effort to create sectarian bitterness between the great Christian denominations? Is the Roman Catholic Church less Christian than we are? Let us be honest. Where did we get our faith and belief in the foundation of which Jesus Christ is the chief corner stone? What we believe in doctrine and faith was part and parcel of the Roman Catholic church through all the centuries from the time of the apostles. Would Dr. Williams obliterate from the world's history the beneficial influences of the Roman Catholic church for twenty centuries? When he talks about the "bane and blight" of the Roman Catholic Church in the world's history he cannot be excused. The suggestion is monstrously insane. And every reasonable person must admit this.

The Roman Catholic church is Christian. Its adherents are numbered with the Christian population of the world. It believes in God, in Jesus Christ and in the Holy Spirit. It believes in the love of God and in the sacrifice and atonement of Jesus Christ for the sins of the world, the mediation of the Son with the Father, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the dead, the immortality of the soul, everlasting reward and punishment, the Lord's Prayer and the Apostles Creed.

Supposing I believe all this and even more, do I become less a Christian? If I have faith as a grain of mustard seed, am I a loser or gainer in the great eternal of things? Our prayer for consecration of the elements says: 'Grant us, therefore, precious Lord, so to eat of the flesh of Thy dear Son, Jesus Christ, and to drink His blood." And again, "May we be partakers of His most blessed body and blood." And the clergyman says, "For this is My blood of the New Testament which is shed for you and for many for the remission of sins." We are willing to admit, according to Dr. Williams that these are to be as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal. He balks, and we all do, at the Roman church using similar prayers and believing!

I will yield to no man in loyalty to the doctrines and beliefs of my own church. Fifty years' membership establishes this. But I am prepared to judge the Roman Catholic Church and its people by personal knowledge gained in contact with them throughout the world Are the Roman Catholics in my own town less honest, less sober, less industrious, less moral, less religious or less devout than my own people? Not a whit. The answer is the same respecting the Roman Catholics of the province. And it is equally so in respect to the Roman Catholics throughout the dominion and the continent.

In Canada, in Europe and in Asia I have had occasion to make the personal acquaintance of priests, bishops and archbishops. Some amid fashionable surroundings, others on the outskirts of civilization; others as missionaries of the Cross in distant heathen lands. Did I find their religious aspirations lower, or their evangelistic efforts less earnest than those of my own people? Not a whit, but frequently much more self-sacrificing.

Will the reverend gentleman study our own hymnal and see how much richer it is in religious thought and belief by the number of hymns taken from Roman Catholic anthems. Could they ever have been composed and preserved unless they represented a spirit in the Roman church in the varied centuries of history where their matchless lines first saw the light?

I think it is high time that our Protestant pulpits reverted to the practice of earlier years and were used entirely as centres for the spread of the gospel. There never will be long looked for revival of spiritual life from such utterances as Rev. Dr. Williams indulged in last Sunday.

If Dr. Williams wants to denounce questionable utterances he can find subjects nearer home than the Roman Catholic church.

These and other motes in our own eyes will furnish our sectarian pulpit agitators ample channels for the expenditure of their denunciatory energy without looking for beams in the eyes of the Roman church. What the people want to-day is a pulpit preaching love, and not hatred. "Less of self and more of Thee."—W. T. R. PRESTON.

DANFORTH MUST LIVE DOWN BAD REP. OF 'CHEATER'

Dandy Dave Explains Use Of His Thumb On The Ball. Has Great Record.

Once a player gets the reputation of being a "cheater" it is a difficult matter for him to live it down.

Dave Danforth of the St. Louis Browns is an example of such a reputation. In his early days as a minor league pitcher Danforth doctored the balls.

At least that was the charge that was always held against him as a minor leaguer. In the American Association it was not unusual for Danforth to strike out 10 men in a game.

His great work in the league caused the Chicago White Sox to give him a chance. He fared just so-so with Chicago and was again sent back to the minors.

Once more it was the American Association, this time with the Columbus club. Immediately Danforth began to burn up the league He had so good a year in 1921 that the St. Louis Browns gave 11 players for him.

Danforth has always been accused of roughing the ball with his thumb nail, thereby making it possible for him to sail his fast ball.

American League umpires seem to think that Danforth is not resorting to trickery. Opposing teams, however, insist on having the umpire examine the ball every time Danforth gets a good hop on his fast one.

Danforth does rub the ball slightly with his thumb before delivering it. He says it is merely habit. Opposing players are positive it is then that he roughens the ball.

Danforth says his effectiveness is increased when the opposing players start fussing about his delivery, and that is the real reason why he always rubs his thumb on the ball as if nicking the leather in order to get a rough spot.

Past reputation is going to make the traveling rather rough for Dandy Dave this year.

Among the teams who have been getting in their spring practice are; C.G.E., Adanacs, Holy Name, Lakeviews and Ra... Some of the boys are showing up pretty well and some good games are in prospect.

Toronto opens the season at home on Wednesday. Fans of the Queen City willl see more new faces on the team this season than there has been for years.

The corner lot teams have already started playing and several teams have clashed in the past week.

The local City and Junior Leagues will open on May 24 with a game in the morning d a double header in the afternoon.

The Raybestos will have a team in the City League this year and will hake a hard fight for honors.

The Petes will be away from home on the twenty fourth of May. They play the Cobourg nine in the lake-shore town.

St. Louis now takes the lead in the American League.

Three defeats for the Yanks at the hands of Boston upset a lot of dope. Most of he "experts" had the games figured the other way about.

Port Hope's Junior City League opens today with three games scheduled.

A work out for the Classics at Central Park this evening. This will be the first one of the season for this bunch. The say they have room for a couple of fast players so step right up boys, but quit crowding.

PETERBORO FOOTBALL LEAGUE STANDING

	Played	Won	Lost	Drawn	Goals For	Goals Against	Points
C. G. E.	3	3	0	0	13	1	3
Owls	3	2	1	0	7	3	4
Quaker Oats	3	1	1	1	6	6	3
Canadian Woollens	3	1	1	1	3	4	3
C. P. C.	4	0	1	3	5	9	3
Comrades	1	0	0	1	2	2	1
Lakefield	3	0	3	0	1	12	0

The above table will show how strong the race for championship is. With only two teams as yet unbeaten, four have only been beaten once, and the remaining one, Lakefield, losing three. Even they need not be discouraged, for there are still three clubs, including themselves, that have to register their first win. C.P.C. evidently believe in the 50-50 idea, having drawn 3 out of 4 games.

NEW USE FOR TENNIS BALLS

Detroit Pitchers Have a Novel Stunt to Aid Control. Ty Cobb Borrowed Idea.

Tennis has become a contributor to baseball.

Detroit's pitchers are going about this spring armed with tennis balls. Every pitcher is supplied with at least one.

When the pitchers are at leisure they spend their time squeezing the tennis balls.

The idea is to strengthen their hands and wrists.

Ty Cobb borrowed the idea from boxing. Several prominent boxers use this method to develop hand and wrist power.

Detroit's pitching staff is "all shot" this spring, and Cobb decided upon the tennis ball idea to bring his hurlers into form.

WILLIS AFTER DEMPSEY

NEW YORK, May 2. Canadian Press. — Harry Willis, the negro heavyweight pugilist, and his manager, Paddy Mullins, announced yesterday that they had engaged passage to England and would sail next week.

Sport promoters interested in a title contest in London between Willis and Jack Dempsey were said to have arranged Willis' trip of Great Britain.

BOOSTING SPORT.

Mr. Frank Fitzpatrick, a true booster for real sport, has led off this year in Belleville with a prize for athletic prowess. Mr. Fitzpatrick will donate goods to the value of $5 to the player on the Grand Trunk team who makes the most safe hits at the opening game there.

That game will be on May 20th. and Saturday, and Cobourg, that it to say Friend Tyson, and his merry men, Derry and all the Americans they can induce to help them, will be here. —Belleville Ontario

COMRADES - C.G.E.

An exhibition game will be played between the Comrades and the C. G. E. football teams this evening at King Edward Park. Kick off at 6 o'clock sharp. The following players for the Comrades have been asked to be on hand and bring their uniforms: Hill, Mallinson, Sayer, Brown, Anderson, Shaw, McDougall, Hansen, Abraham and Conway.

The C.G.E. line-up will be Griffin, Gamble, Peel, William, McMillan, Hurle, Sherman, Monk, Dyer, Mander, Parkins, House, O'Donnell and Service.

H. Andrews will be the referee, and it is expected that as much interest will be taken in this as in the regular league games.

TONY BAKOGEORGE WILL MANAGE LINDSAY GREYBIRDS

LINDSAY, May 2.—Tony Bakogeorge wil manage the Greybirds this season. But in his absence on business at Barrie for the first part of the schedule "Tubby" Williamson will take his place.

The uniforms this year will be gray with dark blue or black border.

There will be no Lindsay team at the celebration in Norwood. Manager Bakogeorge is signing up players.

PHILLIES BOAST UNIQUE HONOUR

Two Players On This Club Are Wealthy Bank Presidents.

Most of the experts have figured the Philadelphia Nationals as certain to finish in last place.

Possibly the Phillies will fall to that lowly position and make the experts look good. Even if such is the case the Phillies have a claim to distinction.

On the club this year are two small-town bank presidents, Fred "Cy" Williams and Arthur P. Fletcher. Fletcher has been out of the game for a year looking after his business interests. This season he was prevailed upon to return and help out the Phillies.

Cy Williams is a Notre Dame graduate and a mighty fine ball player. He is certain to be equally successful in business.

Williams is president of a bank at Tree Lakes, Wis., and also is heavily interested in Florida real estate.

Playing ball this summer is more or less of a vacation for both.

ENGLISH TEAM ARE DEFEATED AT LACROSSE

U. of M. Victorious Over Oxford - Cambridge in Last Game of Schedule.

AT MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, May 2. Canadian Press. — Four thousand spectators gathered here yesterday afternoon to see the Oxford-Cambridge twelve in their seventeenth and final lacrosse game on this continent. The dark and light blues were pitted against the University of Montreal team and though they lost an exciting and closely contested struggle by five goals to four, the visiting collegians made a most favorable impression by their fast, stubborn play against more finished stick-handlers.

His Honor Mayor Martin faced off the first ball and within five minutes, U. of M. players netted 3 goals. Then the Old Country team fathomed the Frenchmen's style of play and during the latter half of the first period and throughout the second period they had the better of the play.

Mee scored two goals before the first 15 minutes were up and six minutes after the opening of the second half Gallop equalized for the visitors. Amyot put the French team once more in the lead, and Gallop again equalized.

In the final period lack of substitutes told on the Old Country team, while U. of M. injected fresh players and succeeded in scoring the winning tally through McAvoy.

NO BOUT FOR LEONARD

SEW YORK, May 2.—The proposed bout between Benny Leonard, light weight champion and Charlie White which was to have been held in Michigan City July 4, has been definitely called off. It is said that White declined to discuss such a bout.

COYNE-NEWTON BOUT IS DECLARED A DRAW

Ted Williams Gets K.O. From Bill Madox and Irish Jordan Lost Decision to Roy Pollard.

SOME FAST BOUTS.

Fight fans of the city had nothing to complain of last night for one of the best boxing cards put on in some time was staged in the Brock Street Rink. Only one of the eleven bouts ended in a knock-out, but the others were with but few exceptions fast and furious from start to finish. The bouts were staged under the auspices of the Wm. Hamilton Athletic Association.

The main bout between Tommy Coyne of the Classic Club and city champion of Toronto, and Walter Newton of St. Helen's Club, Toronto, went three fast rounds to a draw. These two treated the local fans to some of the best boxing seen here in years and the decision of a draw was received with acclaim. The scrappers were as evenly matched as could be wished for in three rounds of the bout and both were apparently masters of the art of infighting. The mixed it up well and at no time could either one be said to have obtained an advantage.

Irish Jordon of Peterboro, lost the decision to Roy Pollard of the Classic Athletic Club of Toronto in the 125 pund class. Pollard showed some fast foot work and had a good left which he used to great advantage. Jordon put up an exceptionally good battle but Pollard had a little the better of him.

In the 158 pound class Ted Williams of Peterboro was knocked out in the first round by Bill Maddeaux of the Classic A.C. The bout started off with some lively exchanges and Williams took the count of five within the first few seconds. He came right back and took the aggressive but Maddeaux succeeded in landing a right and left to the jaw which put him to sleep. The bout lasted about half a minute.

Joe Jordon got an unpopular decision over Tony Pret in the 100 pound class. The two youngsters opened the bout with three rounds of fast milling and in the opinion of the spectators Prett had the best of it. However, the decision went to Jordon who had certainly put up a good scrap.

Minnecolo and McAuliffe, also in the 125 pound class, put up one of the best fights of the night in the decision going to Minnecola. In the second round of this scrap it looked as if McAuliffe had captured the honors but Minnecola staged a surprising come back and in the third and carried everything before him.

Smith won from Pethick after three fast rounds in the 118 pound class. Both boys put up a good battle but Smith stood the pace better and was able to show a decided spperiority in the last round.

Simmons and Murphy were matched in the 145 pound class, the bout going to Simmons after Murphy was seized with a cramp in the first round which forced him to withdraw.

Stevens and Sturgeon at 115 pounds staged one round of a comic opera bout. They were warned by the referee in the round for stalling and the decision went to Sturgeons when Stevens annouced that he was uable to finish.

Armstrong won from Millard at 108 pounds. Millard put up a game but unsuccessful battle.

Combe and Houghton were matched in the 135 pound class. The bout was called by the referee in the second round when each of the boys sustained a severe cut over the eye.

J. Rowan and W. Barlow were the judges while Sid Simmons was the referee.

ED. WALSH GREAT SPIT-BALL ARTIST

Has Wonderful Control of Difficult Delivery. Some Great Games.

BY BILLY EVANS.

Ed. Walsh as a pitcher was one of the greatest the game ever produced.

Walsh was a specialist, a spitball pitcher. Unquestionably he had the greatest control of the spitball of any twirler who has ever used the moist delivery.

The spitball is difficult to control, yet I never heard anyone say they ever saw Walsh have a streak of wildness. It was uncanny the way he could make the spitter behave.

With the count three balls and two strikes few pitchers who have ever used the spit ball would resort to that style in the pinch. It was on such occasions Walsh insisted on using it. "No cripples to pick on in a pinch" was his slogan, and he religiously adhered to it.

While Walsh has twirled scores of remarkable games, two contests stand out from his point of view.

One of the games was a 1 to 0 affair he lost to Cleveland back in 1908. The late Addie Joss pitched against him. Walsh struck out 15 men, but Joss was even better. He didn't allow a run or hit, and not a Chicago player reached first base. It was a perfect exhibition of pitching on the part of Joss.

The other game was staged back in 1911 against the Boston club. Walsh won the game 5 to 0. He didn't allow a run or hit and struck out eight men.

Only one man reached first base to mar a perfect exhibition of pitching. I umpired balls and strikes in that game and recall the situation as well as if it was happening today.

Clyde Engle was the only man to reach first base.

Outside of that one man Walsh pitched perfectly and was equally well supported. The fourth ball on Engle was so wide of the plate there wasn't even the slightest protest.

Walsh was in great form that day. His spit ball was unhittable and his control perfect. Engle was really the only batter he was in trouble on.

The Red Sox were a hard hitting club, which made the feat all the more noteworthy. For a pitcher to so handle a lineup including Speaker, Lewis, Carrigan, Wagner, Yerkes Gardner, Engle and Henricksen was certainly going some.

RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is produced by the accumulation of Uric Acid in the blood, and this poisonous substance attacks and inflames the membrane covering the joints and separating the muscles, thus producing severe pains. If the waste products of the human system are not properly carried off, Uric Acid forms and is deposited in the joints and between the different layers of muscles. DR. HENDERSON'S HERB TABLETS will correct this by its action on the kidneys and removing the Uric Acid from the blood. Try them and watch the results. If they fail your money will be refunded.

LEAGUE POSITIONS IN ENGLISH SOCCER

Bradford Passes From 1st To 3rd Division In Two Seasons.

LONDON, May 2.—(Canadian Press)—Considerable interest is still being maintained in the league tourney. Arsenal have now made their position secure by defeating Bradford City away from home and the latter team are now condemmend to the second division, next season. The other Bradford club is at the obttom of the second division so will pass into the third division, thus establishing a new record of descent from the first to the third division within two seasons. Tottenham Hotspur are favorites for the position of runnners-up in the first league.

Nottingham Foresters now the certain champions of the second leage and are therefore due to be promoted to the first league. Stoke must beat Bradford City next week to retain a chance of promotion otherwise Barnsley will accompany Notts Forrest upwards.

An interesting situation obtains at the foot of second division where Coventry, Blackpool and Bristol City are all fighting to escape relegation. Of these teams Bristol City appear to be doomed to accompany Bradford to the third league.

In the Southern League, Plymouth and Southampton are still battling for the championship, with the advantage to the former.

WHEN YOU SCORE A BALL GAME.

Remember—

No earned run can be scored when the bastman reaches first base on a fielding error or a passed ball; nor can any run be earned after the fielding side has failed to accept chances offered to retire the side.

STUDY TOUR FOR BOYS

About the best thing a father can do for his boys is to encourage them to travel and see something of the world before they become too keenly engrossed in commercial life. Travel is a great educator—it enriches the mind and fits the youth to better fill his place in life. A normal boy is observant—he assimilates and retains knowledge. Travel gives him his opportunity—it fits him for every phase in life.

A tour of Europe is at present being organised under the personal supervision of Mr. T. H. Matthews, U.A., (Oxon), Assistant Professor of Mathematics, McGill University, and late Instructor-Lieutenant, Royal Navy. In addition, local guides will be secured to conduct excursions and give lectures on the artistic, historic, literary, and economic significance of the sights seen and the places visited.

A most carefully planned and interesting itinerary has been arranged, including visits to Montreal, Liverpool, Chester, Stratford-on-Avon, Oxford, London, Paris, Versailles, Fontainbleau, Rheims, Lyons, Marseilles, Cannes, Nice Monaco, Mentone, Genoa, Pisa, Rome, Naples, Sorrento, Capri, Pompeii, Vesuvius, Florence, Venice, Trent, Innsbruck, Munich, the Passion Play at Oberammergau, Nuremburg, Mayence, the Rhine, Cologne, Brussels, Louvain, and Ostend, returning through London and Liverpool.

This exceptional tour starts from Montreal on Saturday, 24th June, calling at Quebec, by the splendid White Star line steamship Canopic (12,100 tons). A period of approximately two months will be occupied by the tour, as by the itinerary the return trip is made from Liverpool by the fine steamship Regina (16,500 tons), arriving at Montreal on 26th August.

The arrangements for this tour are most complete, and the charge, which is a minimum one, covers everything in the way of transportation, hotel accommodation, with three meals a day, transfers, sightseeing fees, in brief, all necessary travelling expenses for the entire tour.

Apply to any agent of the Canadian National Railways for further particulars. 4d-24-27-2-6

SPORT GOSSIP

Sport comment

The Peterborough A.A.A. said it with flowers last night. P.A.A.A. boxers gave a willing hand to the boxing programme and helped to make the show a success. A little of the same spirit from other camps in town would be a wonderful help to sport in general, and would give a few telling wallops where they are badly needed, and long overdue. Coming on top of the disappointing experiences with the city championships last week, the part played by the P. A. A. A. boxers last night brings credit to themselves and to the Association.

President Frank Convery has called a meeting of the city intermediate and junor ball league clubs at the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock. A draw will be made for the opening games at Riverside Park on May 24th. It is proposed to play one game in the morning and two games in the afternoon. Intermediate and junior clubs will take part in the opening games.

Roscoe "Bab" Kendrey, who a few years ago was a smart shortfielder with local ball clubs, is in town again. The former Strathcona player worked out with the Central Leaguers at Exhibition Park last evening.

The Public school boys are having a big time in their games in the junior and senior series of the school baseball league. Prince of Wales juniors handed King Edward seconds a bad trouncing yesterday afternoon, in return for the defeat of the Prince of Wales' first team by King Edward seniors.

The Executive of the P.A.A.A. will hold a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

BASEBALL.

The Indoor Ball League will hold a meeting at 5.30 p.m. this evening at the Empress Hotel. All representatives will please be on hand.

EAST PETERBOROUGH BALL LEAGUERS MEET TO-NIGHT.

Fourth Class—John Morrison 344, Jack Marchand 343, Sam. Hunter 238.

AH! BACKACHE GONE RUB LUMBAGO AWAY

Rub this soothing, penetrating oil right on your painful back, and relief comes. St. Jacobs Oil is a harmless backache, lumbago and sciatica liniment which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin.

Straighten up! Quit complaining! Stop those torturous stitches. In a moment you will forget that you ever had a weak back, because it won't hurt or be stiff or lame. Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest St. Jacobs Oil from your druggist now and get this lasting relief.

Maybe mother, when washing dishes, tires her back because she has to reach over so far. You can make it easier by making a small wooden sink rack on which the dish pan can rest.

AT THE GRAND.

SCHOOL DAYS ARE HAPPY DAYS.

The youth of today may never feel the thrill of discovering the secret in the hollow tree stump, but Wesley Barry, the freckle-faced idol of the screen, in his latest starring vehicle, Gus Edwards' "School Days," sponsored by Warner Brothers, which will be the feature attraction at the Grand Theatre, next Thursday admits that he hasn't as yet unearthed the secret.

Despite the fact that Wesley is said to be tutored by a private teacher, after studio hours, his latest portrayal embodies all the pranks, the disappointments and the glolry of the untamable, irresponsible heart of boyhood. The appeal of the picture is attributed to the fact that every human being has at some time or other gone through the primary stages of school.

As Speck Brown, the carefree smalll town youngster, Wes' meets a wealthy juvenile set, but finds the to acquire an education under the tutorship of a private teacher in the East. Speck mingles with the wealthy jvenile set, but finds the life devoid of thrills, although he tries his darndest to create a rumpus amongst the younger elite. The many trials that beset him in his desire to interest several financiers in a clothes pin invention, perfected by his old friend, Leff, an eccentric small town man, and to be a social light in his new surroundings, bring the realization that the old swimming hole and his dog and little sweetheart are the only thing for him worth while.

Speck, therefore deserts his palatial surroundings an goes back home via the freight train route. Aiding and abetting the star are a number of talented youngsters, and a cast which includes Margaret Seddon, Arline Blackburn, George Lessey, Jerome Patrick, J. H. Gilmore. John Galsworthy, Francis X. Conlan, Eveline Sherman, Arnold Lucy, J. H. Gilmore and Nellie P. Spaulding.

"School Days" was produced by Harry Rapf, and directed by William Nigh, who also collaborated in the writing of the scenario with Walter De Leon.

Capitol Entertainment

A striking effect has been achieved at the Capitol Theatre to accompany the singing of "The Rosary," by Cameron Geddes, the bass singer, whose work has been attracting so much attention from Peterboro's theatre-goers. A large, electrically-lit cross is displayed on the stage, with the entire house darkened, gradually dimming as the singer's magnificent voice finishes the lovely favorite song. Mr. Geddes also sings two other numbers, including Mendelssohn's "I am a Roamer Bold."

The feature is one of the Fox super-specials, "Perjury," with the popular star, William Farnum, in a role wherein he surpasses his record as a master in the portrayal of emotion. Intense human interest is the keynote of this gripping drama, which plumbs the depths of passion and rises to heights of self-sacrifice.

The contrasts of life are reflected with fidelity in a production which opens with a presentation of the happy home of Bob Moore, his pretty wife and two babies, and finishes with the same characters, twenty years later. As a powerful psychological analysis of the wearing away of passion beneath the friction of suering, the triumph of natural good qualities over the evil forces alive in a man's soul, "Perjury" can hardly be surpassed. Bob Moore is a red-blooded, living, loving, vital creature whose attributes of pride, jealousy and, above all, whose red-eyed temper sway his actions. Evil insinuations arouse his awful rage against Gibson, his employer, and he rushes to take his life. Discovered standing over the dead man, he is condemned, through a chain of circumstances, to twenty years' imprisonment in penitentiary. His dramatic genius is paramount in the trial scene, where his face and pose run the gamut of human emotion as his life-long friend perjures himself in evidence against him, and Bob is railroaded to prison for another's crime.

Perhaps one of the strongest bits in the whole production is the scene between the actual murderer, who has walked freely through the twenty long years that his one-time friend spent behind prison bars, and his victim, the man whose character has become sweeter, instead of more bitter, through his long period of unjust imprisonment.

The love story of Bob's young daughter makes a bright contrast to the vital, gripping emotion of the drama.

There is a comedy in Snub Pollard's best vein, where the moustached comedian searches for elusive gold beneath a banking establishment; another episode in the Ruth Roland serial, and the giddy, animated cartoon cats in Æsop's Fables.

AT THE ROYAL.

One of the most powerfully dramatic stories ever shown on the screen is the Vitagraph special feature called "No Defence," with William Duncan and Edith Johnston in leading roles. Mrs. Austin, a society woman, needs money to keep up her social status. She wants her daughter Ethel to marry Fred Apthorpe, the District Attorney, who is very wealthy. Ethel loves John Manning, a mining engineer, who has brains but little money. Manning is persuaded by Hulst, a lawyer, to accompany him on a prospecting tour in the northland. Manning and Ethel secretly marry and part the day the partners leave for the north. Hulst commits a murder, which he blames on Manning, steals the gold dust they have secured, and returns home. Manning is arrested, but escapes from the mounted police. Ethel learns from a mistaken report in a newspaper that Manning has died and marries the District Attorney for her mother's sake. Manning comes back and is arrested for murder of Hulst, who is accidentally shot by Ethel. The District Attorney, who is a candidate for State Governor, prosecutes Manning, and gets a conviction for first degree murder. He breaks a promise he has made his wife to pardon the condemned man when made Governor. As Manning is being led from the condemned cell to the scaffold, the Governor is compelled by his wife, on threat of suicide, to stop the execution and pardon the innocent victim of circumstances. The whole plot bristles with excitement, and ends most happily. Then Pauline Starke, "the best-dressed actress in America," is starred in the First National feature called "Wife Against Wife," a story of the best Moliere type. Ben Turpin is chief fun-maker in "Love and Doughnuts," a two-reel play of laughter, pep and new stunts in comedy.

AT THE REGENT.

The Regent presents to-day two very fine pictures The first, the inimitable Will Rogers in 'Honest Hutch.' 'Honest Hutch' was the laziest man in the place; he let his poor wife slave at the wash tub to keep the family pot going. The most Hutch would do was to go fishing. On such an expedition he stumbled on the hiding place of some loot, which bank robbers had hidden. This consisted of $50,000 in $1,000 bills. Hutch takes the prize and hides it on an abandoned farm. Then as his reputation is very bad as to his financial position, he resolves to go to work so he can improve his local standing to the handling of a $1,000 bill. His efforts produce many comical situations, which go to make this feature one of the best we have shown in a long time. Dorothy Dalton in "Behind Masks," is a mystery drama, dealing with English country life near the sea coast. Smugglers, etc., enter into its action, making it a very interesting subject.

ECZEMA
ON FACE AND HEAD FOR FIVE YEARS

Eczema or salt rheum, as it is so often called, manifests itself in little round pimples which contain an extremely irritating fluid. These break and subsequently a crust or scale is formed and the intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when the part is exposed to a strong heat, is almost unbearable and relief is gladly welcomed.

There is only one way to get relief and no remedy like

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Take it internally and it gets at the seat of the disease in the blood and drives it out of the system.

Apply it externally and it takes out the itching, stinging and burning and promotes healthly healing.

Mrs. J. Sage, 215 Princess Ave., Vancouver, B. C., writes: "Having suffered with eczema on the face and head, for the last five years, I consulted several doctors, and tried various kinds of salves and lotions, but I derived no benefit from any of them. I did not know what to do until a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after I had used two bottles I began to get better and now after taking eight bottles I have not even a blotch on me. I feel that I cannot praise B. B. B. too highly I hope you will make full use of this recommendation for the benefit of those who are suffering from this terrible complaint, eczema."

OBITUARY

JOHN LACHEUR.

After an illness extending over seven weeks, John Lacheur, an old and respected resident of this city, passed peacefully away at his home, 309 Rubidge street, at the age of seventy-eight. Mr. Lacheur has resided in this city for the past fifty years.

There are left to mourn his loss five sons and four daughters: Harry, George, Charles, Mary and Elizabeth, of this city; John, of Craik, Sask.; Robert, of Chicago; Mrs. J. A. Catchpole, and Mrs. J. B. Lancaster, of Toronto.

Mr. Lacheur, was a member of All Saints' Church.

The funeral will take place at 3 o'clock on Thursday afternoon. Service at 2:30.

MRS. JOSEPHINE LANE

The following reference to the death of Mrs. Josephine Lane a former resident of Peterborough in the Pasadena Star-News will be of interest to Peterborough people. Mrs. Lane was well-known here where she resided for many years. On June 30th, 1862, she was married in St. Andrew's Church here. The item was printed under the date of April 15th.

Funeral servicess were held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Paterson & McQuilkin chapel, Long Beach, for Mrs. Josephine Lane, a former resident of Pasadena who passed away Tuesday, April 11, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. L. Alcombrack, 514 West Eighth street, Long Beach.

Both Mrs. Lane and her daughter lived in this city for eight years prior to their departure for the beach city two years ago and the many local friends of the couple will be grieved to hear of the sudden demise, following so soon after Mrs. Lane's eighty-first birthday, which was celebrated last Sunday.

Surviving Mrs. Lane besides Mrs. Alcombrack are three sons; Alfred F. Lane, of Peterborough, Canada; Elwood and John T. Lane of San Francisco and another daughter Mrs. V. H. Kester, of Pasadena; also a brother, T. W. Huffman, of Seattle, Wash., who is the last of a family of thirteen children.

The body has been placed in a vault to await shipment to Brighton, Canada, where burial will take place beside the body of her husband, who passed away in Pittsburg in 1906.

Youngsters Learn to Swim

Eighteen boys from Central School, between the ages of seven and thirteen years, are enrolled in this week's swimming class at the Y.M.C.A. To see these fellows make the plunge now would almost imagine it was July at the old swimming hole, and it is safe to estimate that when the bathing beaches open they will have additional recruits this year from the public schools.

Each school in the city has been allotted a period covering one week, during which every boy who is unable to swim will be gladly enrolled and given instruction under competent supervision. The dates will be announced one week in advance at each school, and lessons will be of half-hour duration. Central School will continue for the balance of this week each afternoon at 4.15 o'clock. Queen Mary School is scheduled for next week.

LOCOMOTIVE EXPLODED.

MYERSDALE, Pa., May 2. —(Canadian Press).—Timothy Conway, O. P. Newcomer and J. Parker, trainmen, were killed and a fast freight on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad was wrecked at Fairhope, just east of here to-day, when the locomotive exploded. Ten cars were thrown from the track and were destroyed by fire.

RELIEF OFFICER MILLER RESIGNS

When Council Refused His Request for an Increase in Salary.

Finch W. Miller, the City's Relief Officer, resigned this morning as a result of the Council's action last night in adopting the Finance Committee's report refusing him an increase in salary. When he handed the keys of his office to Mayor Taylor this morning, His Worship's greeting was, "There'll be lots glad to get that job for $1,000."

Mr. Miller wrote to the Council a month ago asking for an increase in salary. He did not mention any amount, but the inference was that a small addition would have been acceptable. The Finance Committee considered the request on Friday night, and the Council endorsed their decision. Promptly this morning Mr. Miller announced that he was through. His salary up to 1919 was $850, but the Council raised it to $1,000 last year. He had also been appointed Adolescent Absentee Officer by the Board of Education, but found that he could not attend properly to the dual duties, and, at the request of the Council, remained in its service as Relief Officer.

During the last two winters he has had charge of the distribution of the relief doles. During the past winter about $35,000 passed through his hands. Had he dispensed the public's money to all and sundry he would at least have been more popular with the applicants, and probably not less so with the Council. It was on his advice and largely by his efforts that the doles in Peterborough were cut off two weeks earlier than in some other places with a saving of more than $500 in that time alone. The reward to Mr. Miller's thoroughly satisfactory fulfilment of the responsible position of trust which he has occupied was Mayor Taylor's greeting this morning.

THE MARKETS

TORONTO STOCK MARKET.

TORONTO, May 22.—(Canadian Press.)— This morning's session on the local stock exchange was fairly active and trade was well distributed over the entire list. Steamship Common closed with a net gain of 1 1-4 points at 23 and Preferred closed two points higher at 53 1-2. Brazilian lost a fraction at 44 1-2, as did Toronto Rails at 66. Canada Bread was off 3-4 at 32. Fair demand for 1934 Victorys made itself felt and the close was 2? cents higher at 101.20.

STERLING IRREGULAR.

NEW YORK, May 2.—(Canadian Press.)—Sterling exchange irregular, Demand rates Great Britain 4.43. Canadian Dollar 1 1-2 per cent. discount.

CHICAGO WHEAT MARKET.

CHICAGO, May 2.— (Canadian Press.) — Opening wheat prices, which varied from 5-8 decline to 1-4c. advance with May 1.41 3-4 and July 1.28 1-8 to 128 1-4, was followed by upturns to well above yesterday's finish all around. Corn and Oats were firmer with Wheat. After opening 1-8 off to 1-4 up, July 65 5-8 to 65 3-4, the Corn market scored a slight general gains. Oats started unchanged to 1-4 cents higher, July 40 to 40 1-8 and later hardened a little more.

WALL STREET, NOON.

NEW YORK, May 2.—(Canadian Press.) — Trading slackened and prices developed irregularity after early buying movement had run its course. Re actions of one to 1 1-2 points in Barnsdalla, Pierce Arrow Preferred and Standard Oil of New Jersey together with similar reversals in Republic and Gulf States Steels balanced gains elsewhere. Leading Equipments were firm and Shippings made further gains under lead of Mercantile Marine Preferred. Strongre food specialties were represented by American Sugar and Jewel Tea, the later rising 4 3-8 points. Rails were ignored.

MONTREAL PAPERS.

MONTREAL, May 2. —(Canadian Press.) — (Stock Exchange 10.30.—Trading was only moderately brisk during the first half hour this morning on the local stock exchange, but bullish tendency still prominent. Abitibi was the strongest issue, rising three-quarters from its close at 54 1-4 to 55. Brompton was strong, selling a quarter point higher at 30, as did also Bell Telephone at 1.09; Asbestos Corporation, however, registered a decline of half a point to 57 1-2. Canaad Cement was stronger by half at 62 1-2.

OIL SHARES UP.

NEW YORK, May 2.—(Canadian Press.) Dutch Oil shares were especially active and strong at the opening of to-day's stock market on cables announcing that they were to receive concessions in Russia's oil fields. Shell Transport roses 1 1-4 points and Royal Dutch gained one point. Domestic group also displayed firmness. Dependent Steels derived further strength from another advance of pig iron prices, Lackawanna and Crucible being in especial demand. Studebaker added one point to yesterday's spirited rally and Shippings rose on buying of Mercantile Marine Preferred and Atlantic Gulf.

TORONTO CATTLE MARKET.

TORONTO, May 2.—(Canadian Press.)—Cattle market receipts 1,535, trade active. Quotations: Heavy beef steers $8 to $9. Butchers' steers, choice, $7.75 to $8.50. Butchers' cows, medium, $4 to $5. Calves $9 to $10. Lambs $12 to $15. Hogs, selects, $13.75.

NEW STOCK GROUPS.

NEW YORK, May 2.—(Canadian Press.)—New groups of stock were bid up. Speculative sentiment ignoring indications of realizing and distribution in special issues. Buying embraced a wide variety of shares, with demand for popular issues, like Shippings, Studebaker, Chandler and Baldwin giving tone to the entire market. Numerous specialties registered advances of from two to four points, while many of the recognized leaders fared eually as well.

Before Prohibition came into force in the United States, Anheuser Busch's Brewery at St. Louis, Mo. (the largest brewery in the world) manufactured the leading lager beer, "Budweiser," which tested 2 3-4 per cent.

CAPITAL

Lager Beer tests 2 1-2 per cent., only 1-4 per cent. less, is brewed in the same manner, and just as prime an article.

CRAP KING DEAD.

Lew Friedman Shot Himself With Hand that Won a Million.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., May 2 (Canadian Press). — Lew Friedman, the celebrated dice expert, is dead by his own hand—the hand that rolled "seven" and "eleven" for nearly a million dollars in the last twenty years. Suffering from tuberculosis, he shot himself yesterday. Years ago he returned from Cuba with twenty thousand dollars which he won in a few weeks, but he gave it away to children on the streets from New York to San Francisco.

SHARP FIGHTING WITH MACHINE GUNS RATTLING

Situation in Ireland Developing Into State of Civil War—Banks May Close Branches.

RAIDS CONTINUE

KILKARNEY, Ireland, May 3. — (Canadian Press).—Sharp fighting with machine guns rattling in all directions was in progress here today. Free State troops are trying to capture Ormond Castle, still held by the mutineers.

ATTACKED BARRACKS.

BELFAST, May 3. — (Canadian Press).—Armed men rushed into the Royal Irish Constbulary Barracks at Bellagaha, County Derry, last night, and killed one constable and wounded a sergeant. The police captured two of the attackers.

CLOSE BANK BRANCHES.

Press).—Banks are considering the Press).—Banks are considering the advisability of closing their branches in the areas where raids have occurred.

NO CATHOLICS EMPLOYED.

BELFAST, May 3. — (Canadian Press). — The Catholic Protection Committee, in a statement combatting the recent reply of Protestant Bishops to the charges of Catholic Bishops, reiterates that Catholics are not allowed to work, and declares that "before the pogrom of 1920 more than four thousand five hundred Catholic workmen were employed. Now not one is employed!

THREATEN LARGER RIOT.

MONTREAL, May 3.—(Canadian Press). — The aid of Federal authorities will be asked by the Harbor Commissioners if the renewal of rioting is threatened by the striking longshoremen. Rumors were current to-day that an uncontrolled section of union strikers were contemplating an even larger raid than that of last night.

EMERGENCY TARIFF RE-ACTS.

NEW YORK, May 3.—(Canadian Press).—Reviewing the effect of the United States emergency tariff on trade between Canada and the United States, the Herald to-day says it is strikingly clear that under the emergency tariff we have been going to the bad in our sales to Canada faster than Canada has been going to the bad in her sales to us.

CHANG'S ARMY HAS WITHSTOOD BIG DRIVE

PEKIN, May 3, (Canadian Press) —Chang's army successfully withstood a drive on Chang's position and stopped Wu's movement toward Peking. The cost, however, has been heavy and Chang's camp is filled with wounded, many of whom are dying for lack of medical attention. There has been no apparent advantage of consequence for either side in general fighting along a hundred mile front from here to Tientsin and both commanders are preparing for a decisive attack.

Advices state that Wu's main army is engaged in a drive on Tientsin, which is designed to isolate Chang's forces by cutting their line between Tientsin and Taku on the sea. Heavy fighting has occurred along Hun river.

Several Thousand Dollars Damage To a Factory in South End City

Yesterday afternoon fire caused by combustion, according to A. Barbeau, 85 Gladstone avenue, a nearby resident, damaged the buildings and equipment of A. Steyart, 189 Dalhousie street, to the extent of several thousand dollars. Mr. Stewart stated today that he had very little insurance. H. did not know the cause of the fire, but Mr. Barbeau declared that he heard the explosion, and the alarm was sent in from his home.

Several buildings were destroyed, the most valuable being a galvanized iron shed. One other large wooden structure went up in smoke as well as large quantities of wool and shoddy. The greatest loss would be in damage to machinery, Mr. Steyart said no one was in the plant when the fire occurred, or by turning on the water system the fire could shortly have been under control.

When the department arrived the buildings, crammed full of shoddy and wool, were blazing fiercely. A line of hose was laid from Lock street, a distance of 1200 feet. Mr. Barbeau said. As there was only 1500 feet of hose on the reel, which is ordinarily sufficient, another trip to the hall had to be made. When the other 1200 feet was brought up another line was laid and the men had the tyo streams playing on the roaring flames. After a long battle the fire was subdued, but not before extensive damage had been done. People on Gladstone avenue feared for their homes on account of the flying sparks and had the wind been blowing in the right direction it is said that a new house nearby would have been in serious danger. Mr. Barbeau declared the people on the street were opposed to having a factory of this type in a residential section as it was a continual menace. Many other fires had occurred there he said,

Ottawa Lectures Were Successful

This morning the following telegram was received by the Peterborough Rotary Club:

"Dr. Charles Barker has just finished a wonderful series of lectures in Ottawa. Rotary feels they have done a great service to the community. Best wishes for Peterborough.

ANARCHY NOW SOUTH IRELAND

Severest Fighting Since Rebellion of 1916 is Reported.

TORONTO, May 3.—(Canadian Press.)—The Globe to-day carries a special cable from Dublin which states that events at Kilkenny yesterday culminated in the most severe fighting in Ireland since the rebellion of 1916. Free State troops adopted the offensive and drove the mutineers from many positions. Fighting for possession of the barracks, Ormonde castle and Imperial hotel continues, and Provisional Government troops are gaining the upper hand.

The cable adds that the whole of Southern Ireland is in a state of anarchy, and that the flight of the people is being prevented by revolutionaries.

Col. Prout, commanding the Government troops, is confident that the strongholds of the irregulars will soon fall. He has captured more than a hundred mutineers and a large quantity of ammunition.

YOUTHFUL DRIVER GOT BIG SURPRISE

A youth employed by a local butcher shop got a surprise yesterday morning while driving up George street at 10.10. Just as the street car was passing, for no apparent reason he began to pull up the horse until it was nearly on its haunches. It was a wanton display of cruelty according to the chief of police, who happened to be on the car. He jumped off at the next corner and took the boy into custody. In police court today he was fined $5 and costs. If other cases of cruelty to horses occur the employes will be charged similarly to the driver the chief said. The merchants of the city employ a poor type of drivers, according to the chief and there are altogether too many boys employed, who think it smart to lash and maltreat Old Dobbin.

BRYAN ASKS 5 QUESTIONS.

Would Have Professor Sign Statement He is Descendant of an Ape.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., May 3 —Five new questions propounded by Willian Jennings Bryan are playing a part in the decision of Dr. R. C. Spangler, Professor of Botany at West Virginia University, as to whether he will accept a cheque for $100.00 from Mr. Bryan which the Professor claimed as his reward for answering certain questions on evolution put by the former Secretary of State in a recent address here. Dr. Spangler said he would refuse to answer the five questions which follow:

"Are you willing to put in writing and sign a statement declaring that you believe that you are the descendant of an ape?

'Do you believe in the miracles as reported in the Old and New Testaments?

"Do you believe in the supernatural as recorded in the Old and New Testaments?

"Do you believe in the Virgin birth of Christ as reported in the Gospel?

"Do you believe that Christ appeared to His disciples after His resurrection as recorded in the concluding verses of the last chapter of Matthew, and made His claim to power—all power in Heaven and in earth; sent His followers out to make disciples of all nations, and promised to be with them always, even unto the end of the world?"

5 DEAD IN CALCUTTA MUTINY.

35 Persons and Few Warders Injured in Revolt in Jail.

LONDON, May 3.—An India Office announcement confirms the reports received from Calclutta of a mutiny in the Calcutta jail. It is stated that five of the prisoners were killed and thirty-five wounded and that a few warders received slight injuries.

The civil authorities now have resumed full charge of the jail, all the troops being withdrawn. Damage amounting to £20,000 was done to prison property.

STUDENTS GAVE DR. BARKER AN OVATION TODAY

A "SNAPPY STYLE"

Dr. Charles Barker, the noted American lecturer on right living, who spoke here to-day under the auspices of the Rotary Club, commenced his activities at nine o'clock this morning with an address to the students of the Collegiate Institute. When Dr. Barker concluded a 40-minute talk he received a tremendous ovation from the students, and the Doctor seemed to have struck the right chord. Prominent Rotarians who were on the platform were: A. A. Fowler (chairman of the Board of Education, Fred. Roy, W. H. Bradburn, C. E. Smith, G. A. Gillespie, W. D. Widdess, E. B. Fowler, P. P. Westbye, T. Barrie, J. M. McHardy, Leon Fraser, W. R. Morris, Rev. Harold W. Young, J. M. Greene, James Hamilton and C. H. Rogers.

Principal H. R. H. Kenner introduced Dr. Barker, pointing out his prominence in the work he has undertaken, as evidenced by his being for four years personal adviser on health matters to ex-President Taft. Dr. Barker, he said, had spoken to nearly 1,000,000 High School students in the course of his work.

Youth Knows All.

In a clear cut, humorous manner that showed an especial acquaintance with the make-up of a high school student, Dr. Barker hammered his points home, and his bright, "snappy" style soon had the boys and girls intent on every word. Dr. Barker whimsically remarked at the start that he knew the difficulties he was up against in talking to High School students, for they inevitably knew more than anybody else in the world. They knew more than their fathers, and certainly knew more than their principal. (Laughter). Their teachers know less than anybody else, in their candid opinion.

James A. Garfield, president of the United States, and a successful man in every way, always told young men and women that three things were necessary for success, and Dr. Barker passed them on as the most concise in existence. They are, first, a strong arm; secondly, a clear head, and, thirdly, a brave heart. Dr. Barker developed his address upon these points and made clear that their meaning had to be unravelled as they were only figures of speech.

Garfield intended his first axiom to mean not a strong arm but a strong virile body. "All other things being equal, a man bubbling over with energy and good health can do a great deal more than one with ill-health or disease in this world," Dr. Barker declared. "You don't have to be sick, not one of you. You can prevent headaches, stomach trouble, etc., if you will pay the price." That price, he said, was 15 minutes' vigorous exercise every day. He cited the outstanding case of Theodore Roosevelt, who was ushered into the world with a sickly body, but through physical development, was, at the age of 19, able to pass the finest medical examination at Harvard of any student.

When Dr. Barker announced he had good news for dull students, a tidal wave of young bodies swept forward in the seats. His dramatic impersonation of the average student at his studies brought down the house, and a large number admitted they studied in just the lackadaisical way he illustrated. Impressing upon them the need for concentration, he said, "If your going to do big things later on you must learn to think clearly. It isn't smartness in getting lessons that makes success. Just getting a diploma from a High School, Collegiate Institute or University isn't getting an education. It ought to be, but it isn't."

Purpose of Education.

According to the speaker, in the words of Thomas Huxley, which he repeated for memorization by the students, "The Chief purpose of an education is to train the mind and the will to do the work you have to do when it ought to be done, whether you like to do it or not." He urged the students to get down to business for the last six weeks of school and the first six of the fall term." Say to your mind when it starts wandering off, "You can't go; you can't go," said the Doctor. "But don't think is isn't all right to dream sometimes. I wouldn't give a snap of my finger for a girl who doesn't dream about the kind of a home she is going to have, or the boy that doesn't dream about a hockey game."

Most important of all was Garfield's last point. He did not mean physical braveness but moral braveness, the power to say "No" when temptation comes. The speaker told the students that he once found a soldier wearing the Victorious Cross and Croix de Guerre (the only V.C. he had ever seen), and it was pathetic to him to find out the man was a coward. He couldn't say "No." "You're a coward if you can't say 'No,'" was the thought he drove home to boys and girls alike, and he talked frankly to the boys and to the girls on this matter, concluding his address.

On behalf of the Collegiate Institute, Mr. Kenner extended to the Rotary Club, and particularly to Dr. Barker, a vote of thanks, and the students expressed their feelings in a hearty manner.

Chief Thompson's Son in Accident

WINDSOR, May 3.—(Canadian Press.) —Stephen Collins, 25, Mrs. Edna Brockland, and Mrs. John Hart were injured here last night when an automobile driven by Gordon Thompson, son of the Chief of Police, struck them while they were waiting for a street car at Crawford street and London avenue. Thompson was not held.

TO CO-ORDINATE GOLD DEMAND

Second Plenary Session of Genoa Conference Opens —Important to World.

BRIEFS FROM WIRES

GENOA, May 3. — (Canadian Press).—The second plenary session of the conference opened this morning, and Sir Laming Worthington Evans presented the Financial Commission's report, which was adopted, and which he termed as important to the world as the Justinian C.O.D.

Among many resolutions in the report is a recommendation that the Bank of England call a meeting of the central banks of issue to regulate the credit policy and study currency reforms. Resolutions urge an international convention to centralize and co-ordinate the demand for gold.

Disarmament Question.

The disarmament was brought up by M. Tchilcherin, of the Russian delegation, who declared that "only by a policy of peace can the nations balance their budgets."

He added that Russia must insist upon reservations to the financial report as it carried provisions relating to the League of Nations, which Russia did recognize.

LONDON, May 3. — (Canadian Press). — The King will receive Hon. P. C. Larkin to-morrow. Lord Shaughnessy and Sir Robert Borden sailed for Canada to-day.

INDIAN LABORERS STARVE.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—(Canadian Press). — According to members of the British mission, thousands of Indian laborers on Fiji estates are starving, and the total loss of sugar and cocoanut crops is threatened as a result of the strike of sixty thousand workers, protesting against a twenty cents a day cut in wages.

WHITE HOUSE THREATENED.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(Canadian Press).—Firemen battled to-day at the roof of the Treasury Building, which for the time cast a threatening glow on the White House. The fire was checked after thirty minutes' work. The damage was estimated at seventy-five thousand dollars.

DISPLAY OF OPTIONS ATTRACTS THE PUBLIC

The Horticultural Society's display of options in Grafton's window has not only attracted the attention of most passersby, but it is bringing new members into the flower fold. The objective demonstration of the choice of shrubs and bulbs and flowers, forty-one options altogether, with the distribution of bulbs in the fall as an extra inducement, is convincing evidence of the benefits of membership in this Society. Visions of a Government grant when the membership reaches a certain figure actuate the directors to special efforts, and this week's publicity campaign should be exceptionally fruitful.

CRIME NOT TO GIVE CHILDREN PLAYGROUND

CARRY ON WORK

At the meeting of the Board of Education last evening in the Board rooms the recent action of the City Council in refusing a grant to carry on the playgrounds was criticized in no uncertain terms.

Roland Denne who brought the matter before the board said that betwen three and four thousand dollars had been spent on the grounds and equipment and that the action of the council meant that this money was to be allowed to go to waste. Mrs. Morris also took a strong stand on the question and said that "it was a downright crime not to give playgrounds to the children."

Though no definite action was taken the Board exhibited a determination to carry on the work in spite of the action of the city fathers. Several plans were suggested. Mrs. Morris said that volunteer workers could be obtained to do some of the work and thought that if about four experienced and three volunteer workers could be put to work under the supervision of Walter Smaill the work could be carried on for between $900 and $1,000.

It was pointed out that the Board did not have this amount to spend and the suggestion was advanced by Mr. Denne that a list of one hundred public spirited citizens might be prepared and that they be asked to donate $10 each to the work among the children. Mr. Worth offered to head the list and then and there Joseph Wearing suggested that each member of the board approach ten persons at the same time volunteering to look after ten himself, but no definite action was taken.

In the discussion as to the children who were using the playgrounds Mr. Worth mantained that at least 52 percent were attendants of the Separate schools and felt that the Board should not vote money to be used by the children of the Roman Catholic Schools. Mrs. Morris reduced these figures to 30 per cent. Mr. Worth said that he was on the board to look after the interests of the public schools in Peterboro. He felt that as the ground were open to all the children the Council should have sustained the grants and that it was unfair to ask the public school supporters to maintain the grounds.

Mr. Wearing said that he did not think the members of the City Council were as much interested in the welfare of the children of the city as the members of the board were and held that all the children of the city should be given play ground opportunities regardless of their religious affiliations.

Mr. McKone moved that Mrs. Morris be appointed to look after the mater and although no vote was taken on the subject that is where the affair apparently stands now.

Adolescent Act.

The question of enforcing the Adolescence act was brought up and it was announced that a census of those who came under the provision of the act would be necessary before any definite action could be taken. Mrs. Morris sugested means whereby this information could be obtained and the matter was referred to the attendance officer and Mr. Mowat with power to act.

Question of Fees.

The matter of the fees being paid by the various Women's School Associations for the extra work necessitated by the meetings of thes organizations which are held each month in the schools also raised quite a discussion. Mrs. Morris said that the men were receiving different amounts and some of those who were getting the most were giving but grumbling and indifferent service. It was apparent concensus of opinion that a maximum fee should be set though there was great divergence of opinion as to how much this fee should be. Various sums were sugested ranging from $1 up and a suggestion was made by Mr. Worth that the men be paid a certain amount per hour for any extra work. The question was not put to vote, however, the chairman announcing that the matter would be given consideration later.

Pay Accounts.

On recommendation of the Financial Committee the payment of the following bills was authorized:

Hydro-Electric Power Combision, Gas Account, $10.26; Miller, Powell & Watson, repairs, $10.25; R. Fair & Co., supplies, $1.00; W. Scott Co, Ltd., coal, $38.46; Peterboro Hardware Co., hardware, $31.82; Archibald & Richmond, repairs, $37.15; Wm. Hamilton Co. WILL IRVINE M.P.

William Irvine, Calgary's Labor member in the Dominion House, gave an address here last evening on "The New Social Order."

FEW FRILLS TO LABOR MEMBER

The Clerk at a Local Hotel Thought William Irvine Was a Minister.

Mr. Will Irvine, M.P. for Calagary who is one of the two Labour members in the House of Commons, although he looks somewhat like a Frenchman, is a true Scot. The clerk at the hotel where he stayed during his few hours in Peterborough, thought that he was a minister, and his apparel gave somewhat the effect of a preacher of the Word.

"Wm. Irvine, Ottawa," was inscribed on the register, with no frills of any sort, but his quiet, unassuming personality underwent a change on the platform, when dry Scotch humour alternated with bursts of rapid rhetoric that would make a Hansard reporter sit up and take notice. A thin-faced, dark-haired, dark-eyed man, with hooked nose and fine-lipped, intelligent mouth, he is a "canny" gentleman, who refused to commit himself on any point with regard to his opinion on important matters. Parliament is interesting to him, particularly because of the new elements in its personnel, and he hopes for the Parliament of the future a co-operative, rather than competitive atmosphere. He regrets that the physical construction of the Chamber forbids the convenience of a neutral zone, where independently-thinking members might sit. In England, this is possible. In Ottawa their geographical position on either side of the House is apt to leave an inference in onlookers' minds as to their political preferences, when is often quite unwarranted. In the recent attempted vote of censure to the Government in the House, the Labor members, sitting tight, voted not at all.

When asked if he "admired" Mr. King's administration, Mr. Irvine remarked that "these are words for ladies," which was true in a sense, but relaxed sufficiently to record his belief in the purposeful sincerity and broad education of the Premier, with a hope that he would have the "vision and power" necessary at the present time. Mr. Irvine was sure that the Progressives and Labor members would do nothing to hinder Mr. King's progress. Of Mr. Meighen, inquiries as to his opinion elicited no response.

Explained Remark.

Mr. Irvine explained at length the remark which was accredited to him some time ago, with reference to doing away with people over forty-five years of age. In speaking to a group of students, he roused the ire and the heckling abilities of several who were angered at his declared "anti-revolutionary" sympathies, and who misreported later some of his utterances. In speaking of the war and its effects, Mr. Irvine remarked that the great conflict had wiped out to a certain extent the group which might be regarded as a revolutionary element, the younger men whose mental activities might lead them in this direction, leaving in the country more of the reactionary type, whose minds are settled by reason of increasing years. The inference was drawn from his speech that he would favor the doing away with this group also, which was not meant. Many letters received since the publication of this conception of his remarks have been most amusing, said the member from Calgary, several of them recommending the adoption of the system said to be advocated by him.

Mr. Irvine is the author of an interesting looking volume, which takes up the new social order in perspective, and gives in detail the origin and development of the Farmers' Movement. Described by its author as "not an official pronouncement by, or on behalf of, the Farmers' Movement," it is an elucidation of present questions of economics and politics in Canada, and opens with a verse by Walt Whitman.

LABOR MEMBER TALKS ON NEW SOCIAL ORDER

Will Irvine of Calgary Gives Clever Exposition of Changes in Everyday Conditions.

INDIVIDUALISM

Will Irvine, Calgary's Labour member in the House of Commons, addressed a small but representative gathering of country folk and townspeople in the W.O.W. Hall last evening, on the subject of "The New Social Order." Mr. Irvine's address was a brilliantly clever exposition of changes taking place in the social and industrial order, enlivened with humorous interpolations which captured the fancy of his audience. The speaker's Scotch ancestry is apparent in his occasional "burr."

"It often happens," said Mr. Irvine, "that the greatest truths come to us by way of paradox. That there is nothing new under the sun may be regarded as true, while at the same time all things are constantly changing and becoming new. There is no standing still."

The Farmers' Movement.

The Farmers' Movement, which had its inception some fifteen years ago, and has been learning, like a child beginning to walk, by way of its mistakes and failures, has progressed so far that it has succeeded, not only in walking, but in running occasionally, so that "to-day it is one of the greatest hopes of a new civilization in Canada, and its voice is heard in the Parliament of the land. The only reasonable interpretation of the Farmers' Movement is that it was born out of the needs of the times in which we live, and no institution will continue to exist after it fails to satisfy the needs for which it came into existence. Society is not something which can be put together with a hammer and a sword, but it must be developed like a living organism. All of the past that it is of value must be retained in the present. We have not come to destroy governmentse and social instittions, but to fulfill them in their very highest aspects."

An illustration of a man desiring to hatch out a chicken from an egg was used as a symbol of the three types of mental activity. The radical or revolutionary type, the so-called "Red," knocks the top off the egg to get at the chicken, and finds nothing on his hands but protoplasm; the reactionary, or 'Tory' type wraps the egg carefully in a cloth and puts it away in a cupboard. "All he gets is the odor of the chicken." The synthetic type of mind, realizing the need of caution and the need also of progress, waits for a normal development not too fast nor too slow. "I believe," said the speaker, "in a development of society according to the laws of life and of society. Understand yourselves and the spirit of the age in which you are living. The conclusion that farmers and labour men have come to from study of conditions is that, if any of the burden is to be lifted from the shoulders of the farmer or the laboring man, it must be lifted by themselves. There is no one else who knows how, and there is no one else who is interested enough to try."

Individualism.

The spirit of individualism, permeating from the highest to the lowest strata of society and human endeavor, is gradually but slowly being supplanted by the newer ideals of service and co-ope ration. "But if you farmers are building up a new organization which is to establish itself in this siprit of co-operation, you must have new vessels for your new wine. The new wine of co-operation will never fit into the old, dried-up sack of cut-throat competiion in business; the new wine of political democracy will burst the old sack of party politics. You must build new repositories for the spirit of the new age."

Taking as the four pillars of modern civilization the industrial, educational, religious and political influences of the age, Mr. Irvine referred first to the collapse of individualism in industry in Great Britain during the war. The new idea of Government ownership supplanted it for the time, at least. In Canada, although the Great War developed 800 new millionaires, and piled up a war debt on the shoulders of the nation, "taht we willl never be able to pay unless we bring in enough immigrants to offset the per capita tax," there is a tendency to-day towards co-operation in industry, and a democratising influence; a dawning consciousness which is manifesting itself in labour fields.

New Ideas in Education.

Educational institutions, which have been criticised by the Farmers' Movement for their mis-education, their system which teaches nothing of the facts of life and bars the large majority of the rural population and the working classes from their higher facilities, are changing in essence. There is a hope that the education of the future may be able to do two desirable things—first, to teach the boy and girl how to make a living in Canada, second, to teach them how to enjoy that living when made, to bring educational institutions into

TWO CONSTABLES SHOT.

MONTREAL, May 3.—(Canadian Press).—The last rites of the Church were administered to Constables F. Bedard and James Murray last night after they had been shot in a clash between striking longshoremen and the police around Shed No. 8, on the wharf here. A number of other casualties are reported. They are not expected to live.

MEET DAIL TO-DAY.

DUBLIN, May 3. — (Canadian Press).—A conference representing both sides of the Republican army yesterday arranged to make representations at the session of the Dail to-day, relative to obtaining unity and peace settlement.

BANKS'

Overland Country Club, a Bargain

NOT A FAULT TO FIND

Mr. Struan G. Robertson, of Seabank, Pictou, N. S., writing in April as to his Overland purchased in the previous May, says: "I have pleasure in stating that I have not a fault to find with it. I did 3,560 miles with the car during the summer and fall without trouble of any kind except the breaking of an ignition wire. I did not have a puncture.

"Today the car seems as good as when I got her.

"On a 210 mile run round Cape George, Antigonish, Guysboro, Melrose, Glenelg and home by East River St. Mary's with four passengers, I used but ten gallons of gas, being an average of 22 miles to the gallon.

"I am thoroughly well satisfied with it and have not seen anything in its class that I would exchange it for."

"Our First Year"

(BY A BRIDE)

CHAPTER XXVII

MY SOCIAL SPLASH

START THIS SERIES HERE

Marriage was not to be permitted to interfere with the individual liberties of Jack and his bride. Perhaps they forgot about bills, social demands and other matrimonial responsibilities!

Three months have I been trying to create a social splash. At least, that's what Jack calls my social success when he teases me.

Jack hasn't been very helpful. I've had to manage it myself. Indeed, Jack has complained, more than once.

"Must we go out to-night?" he has asked at breakfast when I've reminded him of an engagement for the evening. Really nothing except chess can be relied upon to dig him out of his deep chair in his own living room.

Jeanne said when I complained to her: "You're husband's mighty complimentary to you, my dear. What's the matter with you brides now-a-days? You run about so. Now if I had a real man like yours in a real home like this —I'd be glad to stay put! Flattered if he wanted to!"

"But a wife must help a man along," I replied. "And this is the best way I know."

"Be a sport, Peg! Own up that you love to go, and dress, and be seen everywhere, and make men laugh at your smart speeches! You don't do it all for Jack, you know!"

"Well—why shouldn't I like it? Every girl's entitled to a good time some time. I've never had any until now. If it happens to coincide with what's best for Jack, so much the better! I'm really succeeding nicely. People are lovely to me."

And indeed I was succeeding remarkably, considering how little money we have.

There had been morning bridge at several of the nicest houses; philanthropies to which I contributed oodles of time instead of checks; I had managed a paving rummage sale, and nearly died of the 'flue I'd taken from the old clothes; we ran up our first doctor's bill. It was in my desk with other bills.

But that rummage sale fixed my popularity with some of the most exclusive matrons of the city. We were getting more invitations than we could afford to accept.

It simply broke my heart when we were invited to join a golf club, and Jack turned it down. We couldn't afford that, he explained. Sometimes I fancy Jack is barely reconciled to giving his time to social affairs.

And I'm sure that the dear boy hasn't discovered how expensive it is to go about as we've been doing. It's so necessary however, as a kind of investment for future profit

Once Jack asked me quizzically if I didn't think him competent to manage the business end of matrimony in his own way! He wasn't finding fault, he was only teasing me He went on to say that we hadn't had a quiet week at home after our first month.

Now the fact is that if I didn't get Jack out with moneyed people, he'd settle down contentedly to his books and his chess and all my hope of living on the boulevard would go a-glimmering!

I will not stand for that. Poverty has played too big a part in my life.

My big trouble is not going to be with our future, it's now—while I'm making my social investment.

Everytime I chance to open that drawer in my desk, those bills remind me of what it costs to keep going at our present pace.

(To Be Continued).

GIRLS! LEMONS BLEACH SKIN WHITE

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whitness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion ,also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFIES AND DARKENS HAIR

Don't Stay Gray! It Darkens So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

SULPHUR CLEARS UP ROUGH OR RED SKIN

Face, Neck and Arms Can Be Made Smooth, Says Specialist.

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur, preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

TENDERS FOR GRADING

Tenders will be received by the undersigned until May 18th, for the position of operating the Grader of the Township of Smith for the Season of 1922. Applicant to furnish one team and two men and to state the rate per hour required.

A. W. NEIL TALKS AGAINST TIME IN DOMINION HOUSE

After Moving Three Amendments Which Were Lost He Talks For Rest of the Hour.

RAILWAY BILL.

OTTAWA, May 3.— (Canadian Press.)—An amused house watched last night while A. W. Neill, Independent member for Comox Alberni talked against the clock—and won. Again and again Mr. Neill has fought against the Esquimault and Nanaimo railway bill and again and again he has lost. Last night, in the sixty minutes for private bills, he renewed his fight. He moved that the railway should be commenced within one year instead of two years, as in the bill. The House—which was in committee of the whole at the time—divided on the even break of seventy on either side. The division, as when the bill was last before the House, struck across party lineh, the Progressives, who supported the amendment, alone voting together. Deputy Speaker Gordon gave his casting vote against the amendment and it was lost.

Mr. Neill returned to the charges with a second amendment. He wished to have the bill so amended as that the company would be required to finish the proposed line within three years instead of five, as provided in the bill. This amendment, the chairman declared, "lost."

Now Mr. Neill moved that the chairman should leave the chair. This would have had the effect of killing the bill. This time, Mr. Neill was defeated by 84 to 65.

Mr. Neill, undaunted, had a third amendment. This was to strike out the provisions that, if the line is not begun and completed within the time-limits specified, powers of constructions will be null. On this amendment, Mr. Neill proceeded to talk for the remainder of the hour.

"The House may very profitably discuss the amendment until nine o'clock,' Mr. Neill drily remarked as the House roared. "I have been accused from time to time of talking too fast,' he added, "I have determined to cure myself of that fault."

A few minutes later A. H. McMaster, (Liberal, Brome) who had voted for Mr. Neill's amendment to the bill, asked him to speak louder.

"In my early days," replied Mr. Neill, "I used to drive oxen, and anyone who has had anything to do with driving oxen will agree with me that it can only be done by a man with a loud voice and an absolute command of profanity. I much fear that the force of habit is so strong on me that if I do raise my voice to the pitch required to make my-

Letter Tells of German Spy System in Kingston

Adolph Jansen Confesses to Being a Spy. Worked in Locomotive Works and Later Fought Against the Canadians.

KINGSTON, May 3.—(Canadian Press.)—The Standard in yesterday's issue says a letter has been received in the city from a German named Adolf Jansen now living in Potsdam in which the writer tells of how he took part in the German spy system in Kingston. It was in 1913 late in the fall that Jansen came to the city and he secured work in the Canadian Locomotive Company, being a skilled mechanic. Numerous trips he took around old Fort Henry and to Cedar Island while he was no stranger to the parts about Lemoines Point. No particular attention was paid to his movements, but the recipient of the letter recalls that he was rather struck by the rough maps that Jansen was continuallly making.

Up till July 1914 Jansen remained in the city and he then hurriedly disappeared, leaving word at his boarding house that a friend of his, Burst by name, was coming to the city and would take his room. Burst came and carried on the work Jansen had been doing until late in 1915, when he too mysteriously disappeared. According to the letter Jansen has written he secured all information about Kingston, including the harbor, places of vantage, approaches to the city, defence, etc. He had memoranda telling the population of the city, the strength of the troops here, the strength of the police force and strange to say the number of churches here. Durst from time to time after the war broke out was able to send certain information through an indirect way to Germany though it was never used.

The German states in his letter that he returned to Germany a week before the war was declared and fought against the Canadians for over a year. He said that in a sector of No Man's Land he came across the body of a soldier with whom he had worked in the Canadian Locomoitve Company though who the man was he did not say. Jansen stated that Durst entered the air forces in 1915 and was never heard of again.

U. S. SHIPS WILL BE SOLD OR SUNK

Capital Ships to Be Scrapped According to Provisions of Naval Treaty.

AIRPLANE SHIPS.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(Canadian Press.) — Recommendations that United States capital ships to be scrapped under the Naval Limitation Treaty be disposed of by sale on the stocks in the case of those under construction, and by sale for junk or sinking by gunfire in the case of completed ships, are contained in the report of the Board of Naval Officers appointed to consider ways and means of carrying out treaty provisions. A preliminary estimate of $70,000,000 as to the cost of operation is included in the report.

The Board recommends that the battle cruisers Lexington, under construction at Fore River, Mass., and Saratoga, building by the New York Shipbuilding Company at Camden, N.J., be converted into airplane carriers under the treaty terms, the other four battle cruisers to be sold on the stock to the highest bidder.

DISTRESSED SHIP IS TAKEN IN TOW.

MAKING FLAGS.

PEKING, May 3. — (Canadian Press.)—The Chinese Foreign Office yesterday notified the foreign legations here that the following precautions had been taken in view of the hostilities between Generals Wu Pei-Fu and Chang Tso-Lin:

First— Foreigners must not visit the battlefield. The Government will not be responsible for injuries to spectators.

Second—Additional neutral troops are to be brought to Peking if necessary.

Third —Generals Chang Tao-Lin and Wu Pei-Fu have been notified to keep the fighting ten miles away from Peking.

Fourth—Defeated soldiers will not be permitted to enter the city.

Fifth—Airplanes will not be permitted to fly over the city.

Chinese doctors went to the front yesterday to bury the bodies of soldiers, horses and camels.

Owing to the exhaustion of supplies of American flags for use in American homes and on vehicles, a group of American women have been making home-made substitutes.

E. J. GARLAND, M.P., INJURED BY AUTO.

OTTAWA, May 3. — (Canadian Press.)—E. J. Garland, Progressive member for Bow River, Alta., is in hospital suffering from a strained back, sustained when struck by an auto on Bank street a few days ago. Along with several other members, Mr. Garland was attempting to cross the street when the auto backed up suddenly to avoid collision with a street car. He expects to be back in the House in about a week.

MRS. STILLMAN COULDN'T ENTER AN INDIAN TRIBE

Indian Testified That She and Beauvais Wished to Do So.

BLACK BEAR.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y., May 3. —(Canadian Press.) — Counsel for James A. Stillman, New York banker, last night finally rested his case to divorce Mrs. Anne U. Stillman and disown Baby Guy Stillman. The fight against Mrs. Stillman and her baby, alleged by the banker to be the son of Fred Beauvais, Indian guide, was closed after two more love letters alleged to have been penned by Mrs. Stillman to the guide had been accepted in evidence.

Testimony that Mrs. Anne U. Stillman and Fred Beauvais made application for admittance to an Indian tribe on the Canawagua Reservation, near Montreal, and were refused, was understood to have been given here yesterday at hearings in the divorce suit instituted by James A. Stilllman, New York banker.

This testimony was attributed to Pete Delills, an Indian living on the reservation. He said no one with Caucasian blood could be admitted to the tribe, it was reported, which barred both Mrs. Stillman and Fred Beauvais, the part Indian guide alleged by the banker to be the father of Baby Guy Stillman.

Beauvais' father, Delille claimed, belonged to the Bear Clan, divided into "Black Bears" and "White Bears."

In this connection the plaintin's lawyers were reported to have referred to previous testimony that when Guy Stillman was born, in November, 1918, Mrs. Stillman had a telegram sent to Beauvais regarding "little Black Bear has arrived."

LIVELY TIME IN HOUSE OVER THE CENSUS RETURNS

SOME DELAY.

OTTAWA, May 3.— (Canadian Press.)— From the dull routine of supply, the House sprang to life last night with lively passages at arms over redistribution. When would the census be completed? When would a redistribution bill be brought down? Again and again, in one form or another, the queries came from the left of the speaker.

"An easy and efficient way to delay redistribution this session would be to delay production of the final census statement," ejaculated Sir Henry Drayton. "There is no such intention," warmly replied Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Trade and Commerce.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen declared there should be a redistribution bill this session. Finally, Mr. Robb promised to secure definite information when the census returns would be available and the incident dropped.

FORGETS WHERE HE LEFT HIS WIFE.

Polish Visitor to Windsor Knows Family is at 'No. 321,' But Does Not Recall the Street.

WINDSOR, May 3.—(Canadian Press)—Separated from his wife and four children who are somewhere in Windsor residing in a house bearing number "321" a Polish visitor sought the aid of the police today to locate his family.

The visitor reached Windsor with his family Tuesday night. Unable to secure information in a hotel, he was directed by a pedestrian to a house on an unidentified street. He and his family lodged there for a night. Yesterday morning, the husband left the house in search of a grocery store to secure food for his wife and children. He noted the number on the verandah before leaving the house, but being unacquainted to street names and unable to read or write English he did not take heed to the name of the street.

After walking several blocks for the groceries he became lost and was unable to find his way back to the house. He then asked aid from a policeman. Patrolman John Petrowski was assigned to the case, and believes that he will have no difficulty in locating the man's wife and family. The man's name was not secured by police.

MALCOM MAY BE MANITOBA LEADER.

WINNIPEG, May 3—(Canadian Press). — The Winnipeg Tribune stated yesterday: "Should the farmers of Manitoba emerge from the Provincial election with a clear majority in the next Legislature, Hon. George Malcolm, present Minister of Agriculture, will be the next Premier of Manitoba, according to a report around Parliament Buildings to-day.

DRURY POLICY IS ATTACKED BY BOTH THE OLD PARTIES

Wellington Hay Strongly Criticised Government Action in Financial Matters.

HYDRO MONEY.

Wellington Hay, leader of the Liberal group, took exception to the claims frequently made that there is too much time taken up by the Legislature in dealing with matters which come before it. He pointed out that the same speed was not possible with four different groups in the legislature as in the old days under the two party system. He thought also that even persons sent to parliament as members of either of the old parties were inclined to exercise greater freedom as to their actions on various questions than in years gone by and this caused longer discusions. He there fore thought there was nothing to apologize for in regard to the length of the session.

FOR HYDRO

The Liberal leader emphasized that his party was for hydro-radials and looked forward to the day when all the feeders and suburban railways in the province would be ran by electricity. They might not all be operated by the province, but they would be all nationally owned. Hydro-radials are coming, he said, and he did not think the government had needed to spend $400,000 on a commission to find out whether they were feasible or not. He denied that the government had saved anything for the communities behind radials, when it tied up their projects as it had done. He urged the government to deal generously with those communities.

Frequent claims had ben made, Mr. Hay said, that persons who criticized the expenditures of the province were injuring the credit of the province., that was nonsense. The credit of this province was too big a thing to be affected by what any member of the house should say.. When he found fault with any expenditure it was with no intention of affecting the financial status of Ontario.

GOVERNMENT CRITICIZED

The Liberal leader's most pointed criticism of the government was in regard to the practice of borrowing money under the Hydro-Electric act without a vote of parliament and using it for other purposes. He said that the Liberal principle, the one on which it had always stood and stands now is that any money spent by any department of the government must be voted by the house. He pointed to large expenditurs on highways which had not been voted by the assembly. "Never again" he said, "will this province come to its own until it returns a Liberal administration to insist on such system of responsible government."

He questioned the advisibility of a government , so bent on moralizing the people by legislation, sharing in the profits of race track gambling."

ECONOMY NEEDED

The people of the province, Mr. Hay argued, wanted the government to live within its means each year and put some aside for a rainy day. He warned the government that he thought the limits of taxation had been reached and estimated that next five or ten years would be the most difficult for the province in the matter of taxation, so that the ministry should use great care.

He thought the provincial treasurer had used poor judgment in issuing such long term loans as 20 and 22 years at 6 per cent. He argued they should have been short term loans while rates of interest were so high, claiming Mr. Smith had not been as well advised in this matter as had previous provincial treasurers.

The great increase in the public expenditures since the Liberal government was in power in 1904 was stressed by Mr. Hay. He questioned many items placed in capital or extraordinary account, which he thought ought to have been ordinary with this change instead of having a surplus, the provincial treasurer would have had to report a deficit of about $5,000,000. He asked if the auditor had passed this.

"The auditor had submitted his statement," the provincial treasurer replied.

NOT PASSED BY AUDITOR

Mr. Ferguson asked if the auditor passed on whether certain items should be placed in the capital or ordinary expenditure.

"No" replied Mr. Smith.

"He does what he is told?" retorted Mr. Ferguson.

"Yes, like a good hired man", said Mr. Smith.

Mr. Hay concluded by urging that the province did not want the policy of a government seeking to avoid responsibility.. It wants the

THE CHAMPION.

Jack Dempsey has arrived in Berlin and has received an ovation from his enthusiastic admirers.

Exactly four years ago today tens of thousands of his fellow-countrymen, young like himself and in full enjoyment of the zest of life, were also bound for the German capital. They were stopped in their journey at the Village of Villers-Bretonneux, and some of these boys, the very flower of the American nation, got no further than this quiet Picardy village. Their forward progress was barred by the same Germans who are now shouting "Hoch Dempsey" and welcoming him so rapturously. The same hands that are now thrust forward so eagerly to clasp the hand of Dempsey, were pulling the triggers of the rifles that killed the boys at Villers-Bretonneux, four years ago.

Jack Dempsey was not one of the party that fought so gallantly along an extended front four years ago. When the Armistice came he was not numbered among the enlisted men. The fact that he did not volunteer was his own concern, but the Germans are wrong when they proclaim him the world's champion fighting man. The champion fighting men were the fellows who were greeted with bullets in place of cheers, who did not have long reports of their individual journeys cabled to the newspapers, who fought for honor and love of country, and not for dollars.

AN ERROR IN JUDGMENT.

The resignation of Mr. F. W. Miller from the position of Relief Officer as a result of the Council's refusal to grant him an increase in salary, will be regretted by everybody, except the professional "deadbeats" who are doubtless hoping to find his successor more gullible than was Mr. Miller. The Examiner believes that the Council has made a serious mistake in judgment in this matter. Mr. Miller has held the position for many years and has an unique knowledge of the conditions that makes him an invaluable official. There is no department of municipal business in which more money can be squandered than in connection with the administration of charity, and it is safe to say that Mr. Miller's experience and careful handling of charity matters have saved Peterborough hundreds of dollars each year. One shudders to think what the unemployment relief fund would have cost during the past couple of winters had not its administration been in the hands of a man who knew Peterborough and its conditions, knew every worthless impostor, and who was able to distinguish between cases of genuine necessity and fraudulent applications from those who regard the city's finances as fair game for anybody who is clever enough to deceive the officials. The official attitude towards Mr. Miller's resignation, as indicated by the reported statement of the Mayor that "there are plenty of men in Peterborough who will be glad to take the job at $1,000," shows very little appreciation of the situation. The Mayor, of course, was quite correct in his statement, but what about the qualifications of such men for the position? What have they to offer as a substitute for the experience and record of efficiency of the late incumbent of the office? While one of them is learning the ropes the impostors will be reaping a fat harvest, and the education of a new Relief Officer will cost the city more than would have provided an increase for Mr. Miller for five or six years. As a matter of fact, the late Relief Officer, after nearly thirty years in the city's service, was the poorest paid official on the civic list. Although he was responsible for the expenditure of thousands of dollars, he received at the end of his long service less than the new recruit on the police force or the "green" fireman is paid. The Miller case should be reopened and the mistake corrected before it is too late.

A POINTED REBUKE.

Canadians should not make the mistake of believing that the Hearst papers are true mirrors of the feeling of the people of the United States towards Great Britain and all things British. A few days ago we had much pleasure in republishing an eloquent tribute from a Cleveland newspaper to the valour of Canada's army, and today The Examiner reproduces for the benefit of its readers an article from The Wall Street Journal, which, under the heading "A Gratuitous Slander," delivers the following pointed rebuke to Mr. Hearst:

"Lady Astor made a good-tempered protest against slurs upon Great Britain and specifically mentioned the Hearst newspapers in this connection. The basis of her criticism was that those who read the charges had no means of testing their truth, or of hearing any reply. Hearst's American considers that a reiteration of the charges is a sufficient justification. Here is one of them:

"'England borrowed billions upon billions of dollars from us and she has never paid a cent, not even the interest on a cent.'

"To November 15, 1921, Great Britain paid us a total of $247,844,685 in interest on the debt she incurred here, so that this charge is a manifest falsehood on the facts of record. It is needless to say that the further payment of interest is provided in the British budget. England borrowed from us to prosecute the war and lent to her allies and our own, twice what she borrowed from us. For her own needs she would not otherwise have borrowed a single American cent.

"Here is another statement, equally untrue:

"'England is using our money with which to pay her soldiers a bonus and consequently we cannot have our own money with which to pay our own soldiers a bonus.'

"This, on the facts of record, is another falsehood. England did not pay her soldiers a bonus. Every man, for the past century or more, enlisted in the British service has been entitled to a pension, and this practice was continued when she adopted conscription. Because of that right to a pension her soldiers were paid less than one-third of what the American soldier received. These pension rights were, for the most part, commuted for a gratuity, which, of course, amounted to deferred pay. It was not a bonus.

"Not a cent of it came out of the money borrowed from America, which was all spent here. Mr. Hearst and those in his employment describe this sort of thing as 'American.' That has been a frequent excuse for bad manners. Does it palliate lying?"

SUPERVISED PLAYGROUNDS.

It seems a pity that having had supervised playgrounds successfully operated in Peterborough for number of years, and having amassed a splendid lot of playground equipment, the project should have to be dropped this summer because of the refusal of the Council to provide for financing the scheme. The whole secret of the success of the undertaking, of course, lies in the supervision. Unless the recreation of the children is directed and controlled so as to make it of value not only in developing health, but in building up character, the whole scheme falls to the ground. Splendid results have been secured in the past few years, and the children who made use of the supervised playgrounds and their parents who know what a boon the grounds have been will regret that it is impossible to provide the supervisors this summer. Particularly valuable was the service rendered by the supervisors in taking charge of the bathing of the youngsters, who were escorted to the beaches several times a week and carefully looked after. It speaks well for the interest shown by those in charge that not only was there not a single accident to report, but also that a number of children learned to take care of themselves in the water. If the action of the Council in turning down the Playgrounds Association results in the death of a child playing on the street or in a drowning accident, the $1,500 saved will be a poor item with which to attempt to balance the ledger.

A HINT THAT WAS NEEDED.

Members on all sides of the Legislature read Hon. Peter Smith a much needed lesson the other day when they jumped on his bill which proposed to invest in the Provincial Treasurer's Department authority to grant pool-room licenses irrespective of the desire of municipalities, except where prohibition is expressed by bylaw. The House refused to pass the measure in that form, the majority of members regarding it as an interference with municipal rights, and the legislation will be amended, requiring the consent of the municipality before a Provincial license can be granted. It was high time that some check was put on the ever-greater encroachment of the Provincial Government upon the rights of the municipalities. Each year there has been fresh legislation imposing new obligations upon the villages, towns and cities of the Province, legislation about which they were not consulted, that was indeed often passed before they had a chance to consider it or oppose it. The municipalities were called upon to pay their share of the cost, but further than that, they had nothing to do with the measures in question. The opposition encountered by Hon. Peter Smith's bill may perhaps cause the Government to realize that there must be a limit to everything, and that the administration cannot expect to go on loading obligations upon the municipalities without eventually causing trouble for the powers that be.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT

Horticultural Week.

You cannot get better value for a dollar than by investing it in the Horticultural Society.

The men of Peterborough should hear Dr. Barker at the Opera House tonight. There is no admission charge.

Why couldn't Raney and Ferguson call off their daily debate and stage it at the Farmers' picnics during the summer? It would make a great drawing card.

Sir Robert Horne declares that Great Britain will pay the interest on its debt to the United States this year without question. Mr. Hearst's publications will doubtless fail to call attention to that important statement.

The carrying of Red flags in Socialistic parades will never solve Canada's industrial problems.

Ex-Relief Officer Miller's long record of service on behalf of the city surely entitles him to more consideration than he has received from the Council.

The members of the Playgrounds Association deserve credit for the fight they have made on behalf of recreation grounds for the youngsters. The dropping of supervised playgrounds this year is a backward step for Peterborough.

After reading Dr. McCullough's report about the Isolation Hospital there is a certain sense of relief in finding that the site at least is "first class."

Peterborough should extend a warm welcome to the Scots Guard Band. It represents the "contemptible little army" which won immortal fame at Mons.

Probably the warmth of the reception tendered Dempsey at Berlin was caused to some extent by the knowledge that the champion did nothing during the war to hurt Germany.

Carpentier is reported to be coming back to the United States. He surely hasn't spent all that purse he gathered in last year.

LITERARY GEMS

CATHAY TODAY.

Over the dying Dragon drifts ancestral dust,
Stifling the ghosts that haunt the Sons of Han.
Our ancient swords are brittle now with rust,
The swords that once opposed great Kublai Khan.

The West that came into the dream-bound East
Returns to us the unknown gifts we gave,
And now, of languorous lethargy relieved,
An infant rises from the giant's grave.

Even as "China's Sorrow" eats away
The yellow soil of our denuded hills,
In a fierce torrent naught can dam or stay:
The flood is rising of our combined wills.

Look to your problems, nations of the West,
Our own were marshalled lately at Nankin.
Where once the Manchu brooded and oppressed
There did our real awakening begin.

Perhaps again will fierce Taipings arise,
Beware to interfere with our own strife.
On Flanders Field your unsolved problem lies,
The East is slowly stirring with new life.

We take your gifts and mould them to our need,
We ask but peace for our Celestial land:
And our Great Sage gave us the same command
Your Christ preached peace and banishment of greed.

Stops Pain Instantly

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. A touch stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in two forms—a colorless, clear liquid (one drop does it!) and in extra thin plasters. Use whichever form you prefer, plasters or the liquid—the action is the same. Safe, gentle. Made in a world-famed laboratory. Sold by all druggists.

EMBARGO DISCUSSED.

LONDON, May 3. —(Canadian Press.) —In an interview in the Times, Sir Robert Borden stated that the embargo against Canadian cattle was discussed at the Imperial War Conference in April, 1917, and that he then strongly objected to the policy of throwing an undeserved stigma at the country's cattle industry. He added that he still held that view.

DEBATE CONCLUDED.

Six Weeks of Discussion Wound Up Late Last Evening.

TORONTO, May 3.— (Canadian Press.)—After six weeks of intermittent discussion the budget debate in the Legislature wound up late last night in Legislature. Commencing shortly before four o'clock in the afternoon three leaders held forth until a few minutes after ten at night, when the Premier concluded. An amendment of H. S. Dewart condemning government's expenditure for sundry purposes borrowing under Hydro Act, was then defeated by a vote of 42 to 29.

PLANT AND EQUIPMENT—The Dominion Alloy Steel Corporation, Limited, will erect at Sarnia, Ont., a modern Alloy Steel plant with open hearth and electric furnaces, rolling mills, machine shops, laboratories, etc., to produce Alloy and High Grade Carbon steels, particularly for the automotive and allied industries, and sheet steel specialties which are being imported in large tonnage annually. The plant will be constructed under the supervision of men who have been associated with the growth of the Alloy Steel industry and who are recognized as the leaders in the United States in developing Vanadium and other Alloy steels. The Canadian plant will have an initial output of sufficient tonnage to supply plants in Canada with requirements that are now imported from the United States.

EARNINGS—The proceeds of the present financing will permit the Company to erect a modern plant that will show handsome profits. Construction will commence as soon as engineering plans are completed, and the furnaces and rolling mill equipment will be available for production in about twelve months.

No period of experimental work will be encountered, as the Canadian plant will duplicate the modern equipment now used by the most successful Alloy Steel plants in the United States. No Preferred Stock is being allotted to anyone for services, patents or goodwill, and the Directors are subscribing in cash for all Preferred Stock being issued to them. The profits on Alloy Steel per ton are, of course, much greater than upon ordinary steel and the patents under which the Company will operate in producing certain steels will be valuable. Practically all Alloy steel used in the production of Motor Cars is imported and as the manufacturer has to pay a duty, plus high freight rates and exchange, and with a low rate for electric power, the new Company will be in a particularly favorable position.

MANAGEMENT—The Company has associated with it men who in different branches of the steel industry have gained pre-eminence and under whose guidance the policies of the Company will be carried out.

Mr. Harry Ross Jones joined the United Alloy Steel Corporation, Canton, in 1904, and under his management and Presidency it has shown remarkable profits and growth. This growth is almost entirely due to the success of the Company in specializing in the development of Alloy Steel. Associated with Mr. C. Harold Wills, Mr. Jones has been largely responsible for the commercial success of Vanadium Steel.

Mr. William B. Boyd, M.I.E.E., is one of Canada's chief consulting engineers and has been associated with the Steel Industry in Canada and the United States, and has been Consulting Engineer with some of Canada's largest electrical developments. His early association with the Illinois Steel Company in the United States and later with Dominion Iron and Steel Corporation together with his intimate knowledge of modern electrical equipment has given him a wide experience that will be of great value in the construction and layout of the Plant.

Mr. George A. Simpson was formerly associated in the Steel Industry in the United States, and for the past eight years has been Sales Manager and Special Representative of the Steel Company of Canada, Limited, at Hamilton. His association and experience in the Steel Industry, both in the United States and Canada, brings to the Company knowledge of inestimable value.

Mr. C. Harold Wills was associated with Mr. Henry Ford during the great development of that Company, and is now building the "Wills Sainte Claire," known throughout the world as the "Molybdenum Steel" car, which introduces a new era into motor car construction. The Company will have the use of Mr. Wills' Molybdenum Steel patents in Canada.

Mr. J. J. Mahon, for many years Chief Engineer of the Crucible Steel Company, Newark, has designed and built many large plants throughout the United States and is a consulting engineer of international reputation. He was brought to Canada during the war by the Imperial Munitions Board and supervised the production of shell steel throughout Canada.

The Canadian Directors are men of highest standing in their different spheres and have an intimate knowledge of Canadian conditions and requirements.

SITE—The Company will build its plant on the River Ste. Claire, at Sarnia, Ontario, on a site, ideally situated as regards receiving ore, coal and scrap material and where they can ship by water the finished product at low freight cost to the consumer. A very large tonnage of Alloy Steel is at present consumed within a radius of sixty miles of Sarnia.

The property provides ideal foundations for heavy construction and the combined rate on ore and coal is very favorable. The coal rate to Sarnia is one of the lowest on the Great Lakes, owing to the large number of boats going up the Lakes and passing this site.

SALE OF PRODUCT—The Company, unlike most new industries, does not have to create a new market for its product in Canada. Practically all the steel used in motor cars in Canada is imported, the Ford Motor Company alone importing a large tonnage yearly of Alloy and High Grade Carbon Steel, which, the Company states, is not procurable in Canada. Automotive manufacturers have readily seen the great advantages of this material and their advertising abounds with reference to parts made lighter and stronger by the use of Alloy steel. General Motors Corporation is now shipping from Oshawa practically their entire export demands for their many makes of cars, and the Alloy steel for practically all the various parts is imported. The Dominion Alloy Steel Corporation, Limited, will produce sufficient to supply the tonnage at present consumed in Canada with particular attention to standard requirements of the automotive industry. Steel can be produced at Sarnia at a low cost of production owing to the extremely favorable rates on ore, coal and electricity.

FUTURE—Alloy steel should not be confused with ordinary steel used in bridge and building construction, rails, plates, etc., at present manufactured in Canada.

It has been found that Alloy steels attain their best qualities through treatment by the electric furnace and the growing use of "electric furnace steel" has been widespread.

Particularly has the automotive manufacturer been more and more drawn to this steel. The regularity, ease and economy with which the physical properties of Alloy steel may be developed and maintained during manufacture has convinced everyone of its absolute necessity in successful quantity production. The total cost of the finished product of the quality required is the measure of the "commercial" value of a steel. The use of Alloy steel is, therefore, growing with startling rapidity.

RED PEPPER FOR COLDS IN CHEST

Ease your tight, aching chest. Stop the pain. Break up the congestion. Feel a bad cold loosen up in just a short time.

"Red Pepper Rub" is the old remedy that brings quickest relief. It cannot hurt you and it certainly seems to end the tightness and drive the congestion and soreness right out.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers, and when heat penetrates right down into colds, congestion, aching muscles and sore, stiff joints relief comes at once.

The moment you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes the congested spot is warmed through and through. When you are suffering from a cold, rheumatism, backache, stiff neck or sore muscles, just get a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, at any drug store. You will have the quickest relief known.

HERRINGTON-MYLES NUPTIALS, HASTINGS

HASTINGS, May 3.— A very interesting event occured at the Church of Mt. Carmel on Monday morning, when two of Hastings' most popular young people, Miss Delina Myles, daughter of Mr. Joseph Myles, and Mr. Gilbert Herrington, son of the late Charles Herrington, were united in marriage by Rev. Father Bretherton.

The bride was atended by the groom's mother and Mr. Leo. Rivard was the best man.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride, only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom being present.

WILL LICENSE TRENT BRIDGE JAZZ RESORTS

Largely Signed Petition to the Seymour Township Council Urges Inspection of Dance Halls.

BY-LAW PREPARING.

CAMPBELLFORD, May2. — A largely signed petition urging that the dance halls at Trent Bridge be licensed was received by the Seymour township Council at their meeting here on Monday afternoon. On motion of Councillors Nelson and Milne it was decided to have a by-law prepared complying with the request to which 208 names were attached. Under a license, it was stated, the pavilions at the popular summer resort will be open to inspection, and will lose the semi-private aspect to which some objection has been raised. Persons have complained, it is said, that the sounds of music at the resort on Sunday's last summer, ostensibly orchestra practices, were in reality private jazz parties, and to remove any doubt about the orchestral activities on the Sabbath it is contended that under a license any dance hall would be open to inspection.

Another petition for the improving of the road on the fifth concession was presented to the Council together with a voluntary subscription of $275 to help defray the cost of the work.

GOLDEN WEDDING MR. AND MRS. WATTS OF WARSAW VILLAGE.

Celebrated Fiftieth Anniversary, Surrounded By Relatives and Congratulating Friends.

WARSAW, May 3.—On Wednesday, April 26, Mr. and Mrs. Watts of this village celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day.

The two sons were present, William, druggist of Port McNicol, and Mrs. Watts with their children, Misses Edith, Marguerite, Gerald, and Mary; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Watts of the homestead, Warsaw, and their children, Trevor, Orville, Ivan, Alvin and Joseph. A few other relatives and friends were in attendance including, Mrs. Benjamin White, a brother of Mrs. Watts, her sister Mrs. Lazarus Payne and Miss E. Payne, and Mrs. Jacob White, at whose home the marriage ceremony took place fifty years ago. Also Rev. G. Weir and Mrs. Weir and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Edwards of Warsaw.

A dainty supper was served. Mrs. Watts, though 75 years of age made the cake for the occasion.

Mr. Watts is still an energetic business man. Both have been active church workers, have been successful in building a very comfortable home, and their many friends hope they may long continue to enjoy their reward of integrity and industry.

The sons presented their father with a gold fountain pen, and their mother with a set of gold-band china.

Cut flowers, congragulations and good wishes were also received from friends and neighbors.

A pleasant evening was spent in relating reminiscences of the past and in enjoying singing and instrumental music by Rev. and Mrs. Weir. The grandchildren and Mr. B. White sang "Silver Threads Among the Gold" and "Lead Kindly Light."

LAKEFIELD LADIES GO IN FOR SPORT.

Ladies' Branch of the L. A. A. A. Has Been Formed—Baseball Game.

LAKEFIELD, May 3. — A meeting was held on Monday evening to form a ladies' branch of the L.A.A.A. The meeting was attended fairly well, and a considerable amount of enthusiasm was shown. The girls scatter so often in the holiday months that many feel the summer girls' sports are hardly worth while. With May and June and September and October for a cason, it would be worth an organisation. Tennis, indoor baseball, and possibly basketball were discussed, the question of suitable ground being also talked of at considerable length.

The following officers were elected:

President—Miss Rhoda Alford.

1st Vice-pres.—Miss Mary MacKenzie.

2nd Vice-pres. — Mrs. Braden Blewett.

Secy.—Mrs. R. A. Hirsch.

Treas.—Miss Edna Braden.

Committee—Mrs. E. Bogue, Mrs. F. Brown, Misses Elsie Kidd, Angela Osborne, and Lelia Burgess.

Five teams will begin at once on a membership campaign to boost the L.A.A.A. to success for this season, and lay a foundation for future seasons.

A Baseball Game.

A friendly game of baseball was played on the Town Hall grounds on Monday night between the Veterans' team and Mr. R. L. Mason's Boosters.

The score, which wa kept by Mr. F. Moon, was 18-15 in favour of Mr. Jack McFadden' team of Veterans. Mr. Joe Hill acted as umpire, to the satisfaction of all. A small crowd witnessed the game. The crowd would have been much larger if the game had been advertised. Another proof of the need of a sports notice board.

The followins is the line-up:

Veterans—Messrs. R. Dick, L. Charlton, J. McFadden, M. P. Kennedy, H. Blewett, E. Robertshaw, L. McManus, T. Allan, T. Elliott.

Boosters — Messrs. Geo. Spence, S. Sutton, J. Hull, B. Hull, L. Sabatino, V. McManus, B. Sommers, L. Mason, H. Kidd.

MYSTERY MAN HAS DISAPPEARED AGAIN.

OTTAWA, May 3.— (Canadian Pess)—Sergeant William Ball, of Port Hope, the mystery man of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, has again disappeared. From the morning of Thursday, April 20, when he left here after a talk with T. C. Lapp, editor of the Veteran, no one has laid eyes on him and his wife is nearly frantic with anxiety.

Ball turned up in Canada last January. His story was that he was beaten up by thugs in Bordeaux discharged from a French hospital with a blank memory, enlisted as a mercantile sailor and left his ship at Hamburg and took part unwillingly in the German revolution. He then enlisted in the Spanish Foreign Legion, having shipped to New Orleans to do so and was brutally treated and condemned to die. His memory then revived. He was rescued by British intervention and worked his way back to Canada.

PROSPERITY HAS TURNED CORNER APSLEY VILLAGE

Regular Motor Freight and Passenger Service to Peterborough, in Addition to Stage, Inaugurated.

APSLEY NEWS.

APSLEY, May 3.—The prosperity that, according to the Examiner, has been "just around the corner" for so long, has travelled as far as Apsley apparently, no less than three new cars having been purchased just recently by Messrs. Will Lean, Jim Downing and Dan Whitmore respectively. Two of these were bought through Roy Brown, the local agent. In addition to these George Stevens has disposed of his old car and replaced it with a new truck, capable of carrying fifteen passengers. His first trip to Peterborough was made yesterday morning with eight passengers. Apsley will now have a regular freight and passenger service in addition to the stage.

Nomination Meeting.

A nomination meeting will be held in the town hall on Monday afternoon to fill the vacancy on the municipal council caused by the retirement of Mr. Matthews. Very little interest was evinced, the only person nomianted being Mr. Joe Northey, of South Burleigh, who therefore becomes councillor by acclamation for the remainder of 1922.

Ambulance Class.

The ambulance class which was postponed last fall will be organized at once and the preliminary lecture will be given by Rev. W. Hall in St. George's room on Friday evening next.

Lots of Suckers.

Suckers (of the finny variety) are plentiful in Apsley just now, the boys securing great numbers every night at Jack's Lake and other favorite haunts.

Apsley Weather.

The monthly report of the Apsley meteorological service shows April to have been a cold wet month. The rainfall for the month was 5.375 inches, snow 2.75 inches, while only on seven nights out of the thirty did the thermometer fail to register below freezing point, the coldest being the 21st with 15 degrees of frost.

Born—On Thursday, the 27th inst., to Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cannings, Chandos, a daughter.

Personal Mention.

Dr. Fraser, Lakefield, passed through the village on Thursday on his way to visit a patient in Chandos.

Mr. Russell Simpson, secretary of the G.W.V.A. Coe Hill, visited the Rev. C. Spence on Wednesday in the interests of Apsley branch. Arrangements were made to put the local organization on a sound basis in the near future.

Mrs. W. Hall returned home on Saturday after a week's visit with friends at Toronto and Pontypool.

The Rev. W. Hall received a cablegram on Saturday from England announcing the birth of a son to his daughter, Mrs. Scamell in London. Her many friends will be glad to know both mother and babe are progressing finely.

KING ALEXANDER IN PARIS

Visit Incognito is in Connection with Plans for His Marriage.

PARIS, May 3.—King Alexander of Jugoslavia has arrived incognito from Belgrade to pass two weeks here. His marriage to Princess Marie, second daughter of King Ferdinand and Queen Marie of Rumania, has already been definitely fixed for June 1, and his visit here is in connection with plans for the ceremony.

TEN YEARS TO CLOTHE FRENCH TROOPS IN KHAKI

PARIS, May 3.— (Associated Press)—It will require ten years to clothe all the French troops in khaki despite the efforts of the Higher Council to equip all branches of the French army with uniforms of that color as quickly as possible.

The delay is due to the fact that the Ministry of War has enough horizon blue and steel gray cloth on hand to equip some branches of the service for ten years and those stocks must be used up before khaki cloth can be adopted. Therefore the home troops must continue to wear horizon blue and the unmounted chasseurs steel gray while colonial and African troops will at once receive khaki uniforms.

LAKEFIELD AND THE DISTRICT

Social Events in Village. Personal Mention.

LAKEFIELD, May 3. — The A.Y.P.A. held a very enjoyable progressive euchre party on Monday evening. Each lady provided a box with enough supper for two, which she shared with her last partner.

Mrs. Garfield Dunford and Mr. C. C. Stenner were prize-winners, and Miss E. Watson and Mr. A. A. Simpson won the consolation prizes.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon from St. John's Church of Marjorie Phyllis, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stanley Hall, of Peterborough. Rev. Frank Vipond held the funeral services. Interment took place at the Lakefield Cemetery.

Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Lennox and Miss Lennox are spending a week at Belvidere, Crowe's Landing.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Madill, of Ottawa, are visiting friends in the village. Mr. Madill leaves shortly for a trip to the Far North in the interests of the Department. He expects to be away about five months. Mrs. Madill will remain in the village with relatives.

HOW THE FARM IS A BENEFIT TO CITY.

Debate Brings Out Interesting Points in Favor of Agricultural Pursuits.

One of the point that was brought out, in a recent debate on the subject, "Resolved that the city depends on the country to a greater degree than the country depends on the city," was a speech made by the Hon. T. A. Crerar, in which he asked his audience what benefit idle lands were to a community.

A hundred acres of untilled land near a town was no benefit to the merchants of that town, to its manufacturers, to the raliroad companies, or to anyone else.

On the other hand, it was a bill of expense, for it cost money to keep up the roads, etc, past the vacant farm, while there was no production from it to offset the expenditures.

If that hundred acres were settled, the farmer and his family, living thereon would buy goods from the merchants in town, they would have their requirements met by the manufactures of te nation, and the ailways would transport the products of that farm to towns and cities, and bring back to them manufactured goods.

[illegible] cultivation of our farm lands means increased business for merchants, and railway companies, and consequently it is in the best interest of the country to frame laws which will encourage people to go on the land.

DAUGHTER WAS WEAK AND NERVOUS

Mother Gave Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with Happy Results

Cobourg, Ontario. — "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me for my daughter. She had trouble every month which left her in a weak and nervous condition with weak back and pain in her right side. She had these troubles for three years and frequently was unable to attend school. She has become regular and feels much better since she began taking the Vegetable compound and attends school regularly."—Mrs. John Toms, Ball St., Cobourg, Ontario.

Every mother who has a daughter suffering from such symptoms should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It is prepared from roots and herbs, and can be taken in safety by young and old. It has been used nearly fifty years, and many women owe their good health today to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Another Bargain Festival in the Rummage Department

ON THE THIRD FLOOR, SATURDAY

This department was a success from the minute it opened its doors. We have had so many inquiries this week as to when we would have another Rummage Sale that we decided to open this department again on Saturday, May 6th, and keep it open from 8.30 in the morning until 9.30 at night for the one day only.

A Rummage Sale as a rule consists of a lot of old goods. Not so with our Rummage Department. Some of the best goods this store contains have been sent up to this department and marked at such a low price you cannot resist buying.

To our many customers of a week ago, we say, come again Saturday. The bargains are better than last Saturday.

To those who have not visited this department, we say, don't miss this Great Bargain Festival Saturday from 8.30 a.m. to 9.30 p.m.

Nothing in this department will be shown in the windows or advertised. The Bargains are here. Come, you'll be more than pleased and satisfied as were the hundreds that visited our Rummage Sale last week.

NEWS PARAGRAPHS FROM GREAT WEST

HEART ON RIGHT SIDE.

FORT WILLIAM, May 3.—(Canadian Press).—A rare instance of anatomical misplacement was disclosed by an X-ray photograph here recently which showed the heart of Mrs. D. R. Latreille, of this city, on the opposite side to that where normal people keep the seat of their affections. While this is a rare thing, local physicians state that occasionally the heart is displaced by some affection of the lungs and cases have been known in which the heart was situated on the right side and the appendix on the left in persons who seemed otherwise quite normal.

Mrs. Latreille states she has never felt the slightest inconvenience from her abnormal condition, and, though she has a family of children she does not think that any of them have inherited the peculiarity. Mrs. Latreille brought a strong protest from one of her school-age children not long ago when she placed her hand upon her right side when complaining of a heart-pain. "Why, mother," exclaimed the child, "you ought to be old enough to know where your heart is." Later, however, the X-ray in a local hospital revealed that mother was quite correct.

NEW PRESS CLUB.

WINNIPEG, Man., May 3.—(Canadian Press).—Editorial men on Winnipeg's daily and weekly newspapers and trade journals, to the number of about seventy, for social purposes have organized as the Winnipeg Press Club, with Hay Stead as first President and Cecil Lamont as Secretary. A series of dinners is being held.

TRIBUTE TO OLIVER.

EDMONTON, Alta., May 3.—(Canadian Press).—A tribute to the position held by him in journalism in the West was accorded to the Hon. Frank Oliver at the annual meeting of the Edmonton Press Club when he was elected life-long Honorary President of the club.

The resolution embodying the proposal was moved by J. M. Imrie, who said that in the Hon. Frank Oliver they had one who held a unique position in the city and one deserving of all the honor they could give him. He had taken part in the early development days of the city, had watched over and worked for its welfare. The resolution was seconded by C. R. Morrison and called by acclamation by the remainder of the members.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS.

FORT WILLIAM, May 3.—(Canadian Press).—Over half a million dollars will be spent by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company this summer upon improvements to their big coal docks on Island Number One, at the mouth of the McKellar River. The improvement will consist of a huge storing or distribution crane, and general enlargement of the coal handling and storage facilities of the docks.

INFLUX OF PROSPECTORS.

THE PAS, Man., May 3.—(Canadian Press).—A great influx of prospectors into Northern Manitoba is looked for during the coming summer and a big advance in the number of mineral claims registered for the present fiscal year is expected. A total of 1,710 claims were recorded at the mines office here during the three years ending March 31, 1922. Of this number 813 were entered during the last fiscal year and 240 during the month of March. The mines office revenue is estimated at about $50,000 for the three-year period.

MISSING 20 YEARS.

WINNIPEG, May 3.—(Canadian Press).—Missing for more than 20 years, the Salvation Army has been asked to help in the hunt for Will Purvis, son of Mrs. M. J. Purvis of this city. According to Mrs. Purvis, her son was tried and convicted for the murder of a farmer near Columbia, Mississippi, but the gallows refused to work when his execution was to take place. Later a farmer on his death-bed confessed to the crime, entirely exonerating Purvis, who afterward was awarded $5,000 compensation by the Mississippi Legislature for his wrongful conviction and imprisonment.

SURVEY SASKATCHEWAN.

SASKATOON, Sask., May 3.—(Canadian Press).—During the coming summer Federal geological parties will conduct surveys in the northern part of Saskatchewan. The schists in the Lac la Ronge district and the iron deposits in the region of Lake Athabasca, which is also the objective of an Alberta survey, will be investigated, T. M. Molloy, Commissioner of Labor and Industries for Saskatchewan, has requested the Federal Government to send geologists to make a general survey of the watershed of the Reindeer River north of the Churchill River to cover the district between Churchill and Reindeer Lake. 'We don't know what minerals are in this section," said Mr. Molloy, "and we think it is possible that a survey might bring some interesting results.

ESKIMO CENSUS.

EDMONTON, Alta., May 3.—(Canadian Press).—The first batch of mail received from the Far North at Royal Canadian Police headquarters here brings a report of the Eskimo census completed last August by members of the R.C.M.P. The report shows that the Eskimo inhabitants of the Arctic, from Coronation Gulf to the Alaska boundary, number 1,364 souls.

To the east of Coronation Gulf and including the Kent Peninsula there are probably as many more as the total given here, Major G. L. Jennings, commanding the R. C. M. P. here, states. Major Jennings says these natives have not yet been enumerated, and there is no connection between the tribes and the Eskimos from Hudson's Bay territory.

In addition, there are a number of Eskimos living in the mountains south of Herschel Island who trade at Rampart House and the post of the Old Crow River in respect to whom no information has been received so far.

GOLD AND PLATINUM.

LETHBRIGE, Alta., May 3.—(Canadian Press).—Gold and platinum bearing ore, showing a high percentage, have been taken from the West Butte Sweet Grass Hills, southeast of this city, and following closely on the assay reports from Montreal, negotiations were opened with Old Country capital to interest them in developing the property. Three lots of samples sent to Montreal show: Class 1, gold, $493 per ton; class 2, gold, $250 per ton; class 3, gold, $83 per ton. Platinum averaged one and one-half per cent.

DECLARES SHE LIVED IN FEAR ALL THE TIME

Stomach Malady That Made Her Unable to Even Sweep Was Completely Relieved By Tanlac, Says Montreal Woman.

"I was so weak I could not even sweep the floor but since taking Tanlac I can do all my housework without the least trouble," said Mme. Camille Archambault, 1398 Erables street, Montreal, Quebec.

"For four years I have suffered so much from indigestion, nervousness, insomnia and constipation I almost became a nervous wreck and lived in fear and misery all the time. Even soup disagreed with me and I had such awful heartburn I had to have poultices put over me to get relief..

"My husband had been reading such good things about Tanlac he advised me to take it and it was a lucky day for me when I did. My appetite is good, my nerves steady, and I have had the most complete relief from my troubles. I feel just fine and I owe it all to Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

STREET OILING BEGUN EARLIER

Lighter Oil Enables City Engineer to Start Three Weeks Sooner.

Using a lighter oil that flows more freely and spreads smoothly, City Engineer Parsons began the oiling of the streets on Monday nearly three weeks earlier than ever Aylmer street was treated first, and the other main traffic routes will be oiled as soon as possible. Water Hunter, McDonnell, George and Water streets and others in that category. The city Engineer has anticipated the annual spring complaints of those whom the dust seemed particularly to annoy, and who expressed their objections in letters to the press while the weather was still to cool to turn out the oil spreaders.

FINED FOR NOT CARRYING FLAG

Three Men Fined in Hamilton For Carrying Red Flag in Parade But Not Union Jack.

HAMILTON, May 3.—(Canadian Press)—In police court yesterday morning George Finkerton, Irish, 305 Emerald street north; Joe Sevelock Russian, 189 Hess street north, and Aruthur Tincon, English, 22 Frances street, were fined fifty dollars each and costs on charges of taking part in a procession carrying the red flag without displaying at the fore front a Union Jack or the flag of the Dominion of Canada. Algava Osbone, 46 Wilson street, was unable to apear in court owing to illness precipitated by Monday's excitement and her case was laid over.

CARRIED HIS HOOCH IN A WOODEN LEG.

SPARTANBURG, S. C., May 3.—(Canadian Press)—The storied "uses of adversity" proved anything but sweet for Alex Ballenger, a one-legged Spartanburg negro. When a faint and muffled "splash, splash" was heard to accompany him recently as he hobbled down Main Street, a policeman took him in. At the station a cache in his wooden leg was found to contain a pint of liquor. He was fined $100 for transporting intoxicants.

PLUMBING INSPECTOR METHERAL'S REPORT

NO APPEAL.

LONDON, May 3. —(Canadian Press).—The Privy Council has refused leave to appeal in the case of Belanger vs the King from the judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada. The action was with reference to a question of compensation for lands expropriated by the Crown for the improvement of the Quebec harbor.

CARE FOR WOUNDED.

PEKING, May 3. — (Canadian Press). — A group of British and American doctors have volunteered to treat men wounded in battle outside of Peking. The assertion is made that the contending armies are without base hospitals, stations, bandages or means of transportation.

THE MUSKOKA LAKES

The Muskoka region of the "High lands of Ontario" was for centuries the chosen hunting ground of the Hurons. It was the red man who gave the musical name Muskoka (Signifying "clear sky") to this land which held supremacy over all others in his affections, and he christened the islands, promontories, massive rocks, lakes and rivers in a manner that showed his appreciation of the beauties of his forest home. No happier appellation than "clear sky" could have been adopted, as the altitude of the region—one thousand feet above sea level—gives splendid atmospheric conditions. Muskoka spreads its manifold charms to blue skies flecked with soft, white clouds. It is a delectable land, brilliant with rich coloring, its air pungent with the fragrance of the pines, its waters cool and clear; morever, a land of many pleasures, offering a wide variety of health-giving, open-air sports and pastimes suited to all ages. There are about 100 hotels in the district that cater to those of modest taste as well as to those who are more fastidious. The Canadian National-Grand Trunk Railways have issued a handsomely illustrated booklet with list of hotels and which can be had free on application to any Grand Trunk Ticket Agent, or C. E. Horning, D.P.A., Toronto, Ont.

Fifteen "Barnet" Refrigerators—Time Payments

The First Time Barnet Refrigerators Have Ever Been Offered on Installment Terms

The "Barnet" Has No Rivals—It's Supreme!

The "Barnet" Reduces the Ice Bill

See to It That You Are One of the Fortunate Fifteen

There's just a hint of warm weather now. There will be bleaching hot days before the month is out—if the month of May runs true to form.

The intense heat will penetrate to every nook and corner of the house — every pantry, every cupboard. To prevent a great waste of food a refrigerator is necessary, and the Barnet is the one that will serve you most economically and satisfactorily.

The Barnet is superior in construction—having no less than eleven walls, and there is a scientific reason for every one.

It is a Canadian product, out and out, but successfully meets American competition in the United States.

Barnet Refrigerators were never before placed within the reach of housewives under such remarkable terms. And remember that every Barnet, no matter what its size or price, represents the most scientifically constructed refrigerator in the world. No matter what you put in it, cheese, matches, butter, meat or onions, every article will keep deliciously dry without the slightest impairment of any kind.

The Barnet is the only refrigerator that can be cleaned by simply pouring hot water into the tray in the inside bottom.

It is the refrigerator that you should have and there is no reason why you should not have one. Be one of the fifteen to enjoy the privilege of the Time Payments.

CHICAGO WHEAT.

CHICAGO, May 3. — (Canadian Press.)—Wheat averaged higher in price yesterday owing chiefly to persistent buying of May delivery, although such buying was confined almost altogether to a single house. The market closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish, to 2 1-4c. higher, with May $1.43 5-8 to $1.43 3-4 and July $1.28 3-8 to $1.28 1-2. Corn closed 1-8c. off to a shade advance. Oats up 1-4 and 3-8. to 1-2cc., and provisions varying from 5c. decline to 7c. advance.

CASH GRAIN.

MONTREAL, May 3.—(Canadian Press.)—The market for cash grain was quiet yesterday with no price changes. A fair business continues in flour. Trade in all lines of millfeed was fairly active and the market for rolled oats was steady. There is no change in the baled hay situation. A steady trade prevails in eggs and the market for potatoes was a little more active. Prices show a further decline of half a cent per pound for butter. The cheese market is very quiet.

CHICAGO CATTLE.

CHICAGO, May 3.— (Canadian Press.)—Cattle, receipts 11,000; beef steers and she stock steady to 10c. higher; veal calves closing 25 to 50c. higher; top matured steers and yearlings 9.35; bulk beef steers 7.75 and 8.75; bulk butcher stock 5.75 and 7.25; canners and cutters largely 3.75 and 4.65; bologna bulls mostly 4.75 and 5.00; veal calves to packers largely 7.7. and 8.50.

Hogs, receipts 26,000; opened 10 to 15c. lower, closed 15 to 25c. lower. Early 10.60 for two loads; practical top 10.50; bulk 9.90 and 10.45; shippers bought about 5,000; holdover fairly liberal.

WINNIPEG CATTLE.

WINNIPEG, May 3.—(Canadian Press.) — Receipts 270 cattle and calves and 130 hogs. Owing to the small nature of the offerings for disposal on the cattle market trading this morning was generally of a light order but with a fairly strong demand in evidence bidding was brisk and prices maintaining a firm tone over the close of yesterday with some sales of medium butchers looking a trifle stronger. On the hog market packers were bidding 12.00 for selects with a few at 12.25.

No trading took place on the sheep and lamb market due to lack of receipts.

EGG MARKETS.

OTTAWA, May 3. — (Canadian Press.)— Heavy receipts and keen demand are the most notable features in eastern markets. Competition among buyers is very keen. One track shipper in western Ontario reports sales at 29c. f.o.b. shipping point cases returned. Dealers are offering 27 f.o.b., country freely, while 27 1-2 and 28 are reported from a number of points in Ontario.

Drury Policy

old time party system where the minister was held responsible to the house and to the public for the conduct of his department. That was true responsible government.

FERGUSON SPEAKS

Hon. Howard Ferguson, Conservative leader said Mr. Hay had come out four-square for Liberal principles of responsible government and had ceased to flirt with the party across the aisle. His speech to-day would be received with happiness by the Liberals of province and in fact by the Conservatives as well.

Referring to Hon. Peter Smith's statement that the "deficit" as figured out by W. F. Nickle (Kingston), and that figured by Charles McCrea (Sudbury), did not agree, the Conservative leader said that Mr. McCrea's figures were after a hurried perusal of the public accounts while Mr. Nickle went thoroughly into it and found more instances where items which should have been charged to current expenditure were charged to capital expenditure which accounted for Mr. Nickle showing a greater "deficit" than had Mr. McCrea.

WRONG ACCOUNT

The Conservative leader said that the provincial treasurer had admitted to the house that moneys received by him from current revenue up to December 8, totalling over $2,000,000 had been put into the accounts of last year although the books should close on October 31. On the ther hand some $4,000,000 worth of accounts paid out within the next two weeks after October 31, were put over into the next years accounts. "You ceased to pay the debts of the province sharply on October 31, but you seek all the money that came in from current revenue up to December 8 in order to get a surplus."

Mr. Smith said that this had always been the practice and Mr. Ferguson denied this, asking specifically if Hon. Mr. McGarry when provincial treasurer had put into a year's receipts, money received after the date for closing the books.

"Yes", Mr. Smith answered.

"I took precaution to ask Mr. McGarry about that to-day and he said it was never done while he was treasurer," Mr. Ferguson replied. The incident ended by both agreeing to thresh it out in the public account committee..

$3,000,000 ERROR

Mr. Ferguson went on that the provincial secretary had admitted a $3,000,000 error in the public accounts which would never have been known about had Mr. Nickle not discovered it. This he argued was a reflection on the efficiency of the staff of the provincial treasurer Among the items which he claimed were charged to capital expenditure was $800,000 interest, $350,000 for the commission investigating the hydro-radials, mothers' allowance expenditures, aid to unemployment.

In moving adjournment for dinner, he said it was a serious thing when the provincial treasurer would refer to the provicial auditor as a "hired man". "Certainly the province will view with alarm such an attitude. I will just leave it at that."

self heard, I shall inevitably slip back to my old habit." (Laughter.)

The hour had still five minutes to run, when Thomas Vein, (Liberal Lothiniere) claimed that Mr. Neill was out of order. Mr. Neill had clearly indicated, said Mr. Vein that he was talking merely to gain time.

Mr. Neill promptly took advantage of the occasion and began a speech on the point of order. He had exhausted three of the remaining minutes when the chairman ruled that the point of order was not well taken and Mr. Neill was permitted to resume his speech on the amendment. As the clock marked nine, he was given a laughing cheer and the committee rose to report progress. The bill will be up again later.

Army Base on Suez a Wilderness of Sand.

CAIRO, May 3.— (Associated Press)—What was once considered the greatest military dump in the world El Kantara, the British Army base on the east side of the Suez Canal, has now almost entirely reverted on the wilderness of sand and silence whence it rose. Its passing marks the demise of one of the most important "war baby" soldier cities.

In 1914 El Kantara was merely the name of a "place" on the Suez Canal, 45 minutes by train from Port Said. With the beginning of the Palestine campaign, the transformation began. Pioneers, engineers and army service corps detachments mapped out a town.

There was erected enclosures for cattle, horses, mules, donkeys, fodder, for great guns and small limber carts. Later there appeared enclosures for prisoners and the misdellany of canteens, contractors' huts, quarters and barracks that made up a great war centre.

When the armistce was signed, El Kantara's stores including quantities of every purtenance of war. Its dismantling began in 1920. Contractors rushed in and secured great bargains. Gradually the vast accumulatiion dwindled until, a few days ago, the Disposals Board finished its work, and the site was handed over to the Egyptian Labor Corps, a delapidated, empty hunk.

DEPUTATION URGES EMBARGO BE KEPT.

LONDON, May 3. — (Canadian Press.)—A number of more or less familiar objections against the removal of the embargo on the importation of Canadian store cattle were urged yesterday by a representative deputation from the leading English agricultural organizations who met Austen Chamberlain, leader of the house of commons and the minister of agriculture, Sir A. Griffith-Boscawen.

TRADE IN THE OLD COUNTRY IMPROVES.

Industrial Conditions on the Whole Reassuring.

LONDON, May 3.—(Associated Press).—Trade and industrial conditions in this country on the whole are, in the opinion of experts, steadily improving though somewhat slowly.

No big revival has materialized, but there has been a continuous betterment of conditions, a seemingly healthy growth, that has satisfied traders more than any sudden "revival" which might have been built on shifting sands and would have collapsed, leaving matters worse than before.

One outstanding indication of the trend of affairs is that money is easier and more is being loaned, which indicates confidence in the trade situation generally.

Encouraging reports come from various trades, notably coal, textile and pig-iron. General living conditions have improved, commodities having dropped in price, and there has been a decrease in unemployment, although it is still large.

In seeking for an unbiased statement regarding conditions from an authority, the Associated Press turned to Robert Skinner, the American Consul-General in London. In response, Mr. Skinner gave the following statement:

"While Governments undoubtedly continue to have their very serious difficulties of a political nature, there are signs of improvement in business, which is much less dependent upon the activities of Governments than might appear to be the case. The recovery of trade is taking place very slowly and uneventfully, but to realize that it is recovering it is only necessary to recall, for example, the state of this country just one year ago.

"At that moment there was much political and industrial unrest, troops in large numbers were on active service, the coal industry had closed down and dependent lines were necessarily affected. Prices were high, unemployment was much greater than at present and the psychological factors disturbed.

"It seemed a year ago as though Great Britain had lost her foreign coal market, but today it is obvious that this has been recovered to a great extent.

"The Manchester Chamber of Commerce tells us that hopes of a moderate revival of trade with India have been realized and that inquiries from India and China have been numerous. Egypt also has placed a fair number of orders. South America continues quiet.

"India, for many years the great market for British cotton goods, has become herself a manufacturer of such goods.

"China has become more or less a manufacturing country, absorbing, say 100,000 bales of American cotton last year. South America, notably Argentina and Brazil, have begun to manufacture textiles, and generally all countries give signs of interest in domestic manufacture. While this shifting of production from one place to another creates certain difficulties, on the other hand, far from indicating depression, it suggests the reverse condition.

"As for trade between Great Britain and the United States, exports from the city of London are suggestive. For the three months ended March 31, 1922, declared exports from London to the United States aggregated £7,870,399, plus merchandise valued at $1,272,589, which was invoiced in American currency only, as against exports for the same period in 1921, amounting to £7,201,675.

"If we remember how prices have dropped since a year ago we shall at once see that not only has there been an increase in values, but a still greater increase in quantities. The large single items of these exports which show increase are: Leather, precious metals, gums, linens, scrap metal, aluminum, linseed oil and copper concentrates.

"One hesitates to pick out these cheerful symptoms for purposes of optimistic discussion because it is always very dangerous to prophecy, and yet he would have to be a very pessimistic individual indeed who would fail to recognize the prevailing indications as most encouraging."

SENATORS AGAINST A SHINGLE TARIFF.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(Canadian Press.) — Senators from the Middle West, prominent in the agricultural bloc, have served notice that they wil not stand for the 50 cent duty on shingles which the Senate Finance Committee struck out of the House tariff bill, but which the Northwestern Senators and Northwestern lumber interests are trying to revive.

£46,000 SEIZED BY ANTI-TREATY IRISH.

DUBLIN, May 3. — (Canadian Press.)—A revised estimate yesterday placed the amount seized from eight brauches of the Bank of Ireland Monday at only £46,000, instead of £100,000, as was first reported. The definite amount, however, was difficult to ascertain.

Yes Madame, these are the soaps that give you Premiums —Buy them and save the wrappers

COMFORT SOAP is an extra large bar of the best laundry soap. For 30 years it has been the favorite for real value, quantity and quality. Save the wrappers.

PEARL WHITE NAPTHA SOAP—is equally good in warm or cold water. It contains naptha, the quick dirt loosener —cleans by soaking. Save the wrappers.

Comfort Premiums—like our Soaps have been famous for over 30 years

Thirty years ago we decided to adopt Premiums as our method of advertising, believing that our customers would appreciate getting high class Premium goods, at no cost to themselves, as well as standard quality soap products. Our success has been remarkable, and Comfort Soap has had the largest sale of any laundry soap in Canada.

During the war we had to give up handling Premiums as they could not be secured, but now we have them in greater variety and even better quality than ever before. Our premiums are given for wrappers from Comfort Soap, Pearl White Naptha Soap and our other products which are sold by all dealers.

REMEMBER OUR LATEST OFFER:—

DOUBLE VALUE FOR WRAPPERS TILL JUNE 30TH

We want you to use our soaps, because we know their real merits will please you. Buy a good supply and save the wrappers. Each wrapper will count as two for Premiums if sent in to us by June 30th, 1922.

OUR PREMIUM CATALOGUE illustrating hundreds of Premiums, such as kitchen ware, dishes, glass ware, cutlery, curtains, toilet articles, watches, rings, bracelets, stick pins, books, games, footballs, boxing gloves, fishing rods, hand bags, fountain pens, etc., etc., will be mailed gladly if you will send your address to

Is The Policy In Force?

JUST a phrase from a letter recently received at the Head Office of the North American Life Assurance Co., but what the answer—Yes! or No! —meant to the sorrowing widow.

Mrs. Jordan's husband had years ago taken out a policy for $5,000. He paid three annual premiums and then circumstances arose which prevented his making the fourth payment.

After a lapse of more than five years, Henry Jordan was drowned. His sorrowing widow came across the policy among his papers—thought it too old—of no value—but at the advice of friends wrote the North American Life, asking if the Policy, by chance, had still some value.

And the answer rushed back was, "Yes!"

Unknown to his wife, Mr. Jordan had ceased his payments and selected the option extending his insurance for a further period of five and a half years. Although not one cent in premiums had been paid during that time, Mrs. Jordan received a North American Life Cheque for $5,000.

The liberality of North American Life policies is unexcelled. Consult our representative when you select a policy. Act now.

THE HEALTHY WOMAN IS ALWAYS BEAUTIFUL IN THE EYES OF MAN

Stratford, Ont. —"I do think Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is one of the best medicines I have ever known for the ailments of women. I had for quite a long time been having inward trouble which caused me to become all run-down, weak and nervous. I doctored, but nothing seemed to give me relief until I began taking the 'Favorite Prescription' and this medicine gave me such wonderful relief that I am glad to recommend it to others."—Mrs. A. Godwin, 60 Brant St. All druggists.

KIDNEY TROUBLE?

Take Mr. Brown's Advice

Montreal, Que.—"For three months I was under the doctor's care and got no better. I was always complaining of my kidneys. Finally, I took Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets and don't complain any more. I have gained in weight and am still gaining, my appetite is great and sleep has come to me. That is what Dr. Pierce's Anuric (kidney and backache) Tablets have done for me. I do truly recommend them to those who are suffering the way I did. The tablets are mighty good, though not expensive; easy to buy, but hard to beat."—T. A. Brown, 415 Dorchester St. W.

Don't wait for serious kidney ailment to set in. Help your weakened kidneys with Dr. Pierce's Anuric. At all drug stores or send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Bridgeburg, Ont., for trial pkg.

FRANCE TO FOLLOW ENGLISH FOOTSTEPS.

LONDON, May 3. — (Canadian Press.)—The weighty Paris newspaper, Journal des Debats, in an article on the British budget, urges France to appoint a committee similar to the Geddes Economy Commission which recommended drastic cuts in administration expenditure. The Paris paper speaks with envy and admiration of the work of the British commission.

LADY ASTOR IN SHOE STORE SPENDS $188, GETS 9 PAIRS.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 3.—Before Lady Astor left Baltimore for Washington she did some shopping. She was hurrying up Charles street when she passed a shop window. A pair of brown sued pumps—the new kind with the box heel and elastic side—caught her eye. She entered and here is what her ladyship bought for $188.

One pair of brown suede pumps, box heels, elastic sides, $10; one pair of black suede pumps, box heels, elastic sides, $10; two pairs of patent leather pumps, baby French heels, $26; two pairs of cut steel pump buckles, $56; one pair of beige suede pumps, cut-out side, $17; one pair of patent leather pumps, high French heels, $20; one pair of black velvet sandals, high heels, $13; one pair of patent leather and gray cloth dress pumps, $13; two pairs of silk hose to match the beige pumps, 8; total $188.

She tried them all on and then slipped a slender foot into her 4½ C's and hurried out.

DIED AFTER LOSING HAND

Child Fell in Front of Staten Island Train.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Frank Klock, 18 months old, of Elm Park, S. I., wandered upon the tracks of the Staten Island Rapid Transit Railroad last Friday. In toddling away from an approaching train, he fell, and his right hand was cut off by the engine wheels.

A tourniquet was made on the injured arm and the child was hurried to St. Vincent's Hospital, Staten Island, but died there yesterday afternoon.

ZITA TO LEAVE MADERIA

Plans to Depart Within Ten Days With Allies' Permission.

LISBON, May 3.— Dispatches from Funchal say that the former royal Austrian family will leave Madeira for Switzerland within ten days. It is stated that this step has been taken because the Governments of the Allies have granted the request of former Empress Zita, who does not want to live in a land where her husband died.

The Motorists of Canada made Dominion Tires

the standard by which all tires are judged

When Caruso died, the director of the Metropolitan Opera was asked if he would make a certain tenor Caruso's successor. He replied, "I cannot make anyone his successor. The public only can do that."

The car owners of Canada made DOMINION TIRES the tires by which all tires are judged.

When automobiles were a novelty, motorists had no standards. Tires, as well as cars, were taken on trust.

But to-day, values are based on performance. Tires have been tried out; mileage records have been kept; tire troubles have been checked; and motorists know—ABSOLUTELY KNOW — that DOMINION TIRES set the standard of mileage, service, comfort and economy.

Dominion Tires to-day are better than ever and prices average one-third less than pre-war prices.

BEAUTIFUL GIRL OF SCREEN IS SUPPLANTED BY FRECKLE-FACED ACTOR

Not so very long ago the beautiful girl was the chief aspirant to film fame. No motion picture was complete without a feminine beauty, who completely dominated a screen story.

But Wesley Barry, the inimitable freckle-faced movie star, has caused to spring up an impression that beauty is no longer a requisite for screen honors. Most every youngster who can boast of three or more freckles, be he homely or handsome, believes that he has the inherent ability to romp home a winner as a cinema artist.

Now Wes' Barry is said to prove beyond the shadow of a doubt in the forthcoming Warner Brothers' production, "School Days," which will be the feature attraction at the Grand Theatre, tomorrow for three days, that it takes more than freckles to be a first-class A1 screen celebrity.

"Gee, I'm strong for the kids," said Wesley, "but there is a lot of them what think just because they got a handful of freckles they kin become movie stars. I don't want to discourage any of them, and in fact any kid what's got a good hunch an' a strong one at that, that he kin act before the camera, let him go to it. But he'll have a hard climb. Yes, siree! I done everything from office boy to play the part of the little kid of a wealthy grandma and it was no pipe cinch.

"Even after you get into the movies you never know what's gonner happen. For instance, if I try to put on faces against the director's orders right away I get bawled out and they tell me to act natural. And if I were to get sassy, even if they do say that I am the most talked about kid in the movies, I'd get fired pretty quick."

Obstacle Golf the Latest in Sport

Just seems as if the golf enthusiasts never get enough of the game.

At Passadena, Cal., is a novel and tricky course that affords plenty of amusement for golfers.

It is a compact nine-hole course that covers only 100 square yards. However, in that short stretch of turf may be found an assortment of obstacles that would make the most hardened golfer cuss.

In the upper left the golfer is seen trying to lift the ball from a brick tee through the barrel bunker.

In the upper right the golfer must drive off a brick tee and get through the wire hoop with the small spheroid.

In the center it is necessary to direct the ball over the miniature trestle and on the next obstacle.

The new game is known as obstacle golf, and is to perfect the golfer in his short game, a weak feature of most golfer's play.

KANSAS-LEONARD BOUT IS CERTAIN

Lightweights Will Meet For 10 Rounds in Michigan City on July 4.

CHICAGO, May 3 (Canadian Press). — Rocky Kansas, the Buffalo (N.Y.) lightweight, probably will be Benny Leonard's opponent in the lightweight championship 10-round contest to be staged at Michigan City, Ind., on 4th July, Floyd Fitzsimmons, the matchmaker, announced yesterday.

Failing to come to terms with Charlie White, the Chicago lightweight, Fitzsimmons left for Buffalo at noon yesterday to sign Kansas for the match.

Kansas has fought the title-holder twice, and Leonard failed to stop him on both occasions.

Fitzsimmons announced that he could not come to terms with Pinky Mitchell, the Milwaukee lightweight.

JOHNSON SAYS BALL WAS O.K.

The Accusations Against Robertson, Who Pitched No-Hit, No-Run Game, Are Dismissed.

CHICAGO, May 3.— (Canadian Press.)—President Ban Johnson of the American League, yesterday absolved Charles Robertson, Chicago White Sox pitcher, from any suspicion of having used a foreign substance on the ball in pitching his no-hit, no-run game against Detroit at Detroit last Sunday.

There had been intimations that Robertson had tampered with the ball, it being intimated that oil was used to make the ball han freakish. Ty Cobb, managed of the Detroit team, wrote a letter to President Johnson regarding the matter.

ARE YOU FOND OF HIKING.

We are told that there is an old Greek legend that Eoclides, several centuries before the time of Christ, in Attica, established a pedestrian record that has never since been beaten. Eoclides was a messenger who, being sent from Athens to bring some holy fire from Delphos, made the journey there and back, — 125 in all—on the same day.

ENGLISH TEAM SAILS FOR HOME

The Oxford - Cambridge Lacrosse Team Won Majority of Games. May Return Next Year.

NEW YORK, May 3.—The Oxford-Cambridge lacrosse team which won a majority of its game against eastern colleges in this country, sailed for home yesterday on the Aquitania. Captain Hopkins said he had found the game on a higher plane here than he had been led to expect.

"It's true we won the majority of our games", said Captain Hopkins "but we should have done better. We want to tell American college men, however, that they have given us a great time, that we have enjoyed every minute of our stay and that we will come back next year, if possible, to try for a clean sweep of all our games."

PETES ARE OUT

Among the old timers who were out practicing for the Central League team Monday evening were: Swanston, Ecobinshon, Holyman, McElroy, and Ray Rose. Shaughnessey who was here two years ago also put in an appearance and Collins Soden and Dugan were also on the field. Jake put them all through a good stiff work out and the bunch is showing up well. The Adanacs worked out with them.

TENNIS CLUB ELECTS.

The organization meeting of the Tennis Club of the George street Methodist church was held on Monday evening in the church parlors. The following officers were elected: Homer Borland, president; Mary Elliott, first vice-president; Bobby Miller, second vice-president; Miss J. Frederick, secretary and treasurer; managing committee, Mrs. E. McKay, Miss Eva Outram, Miss E. Fussie, Miss E. Ingall, C. McKee and T. Miller. A meeting will be held this week at which plans for the coming season will be drawn up.

ELMKE CHANGING STYLE OF DELIVERY

Detroit Slab Artist Made a Success of the Round Arm Style But is Now Changing.

It is a wise move for a pitcher, who has won success as a big leaguer with a certain style of pitching to shift to another delivery?

That in a sentence tells the story of the career of Pitcher Howard Ehmke of the Detroit club.

Ehmke came to the American League a side-arm pitcher, much after the style of Grover Alexander or Walter Johnson.

His fast ball, delivered with a sweeping side-arm motion, had a break on it that made it almost unhittable. Inside of a year Ehmke was one of the most talked about pitchers in the American League, particularly from the players' stand point.

Nine out of every ten players in the American League disliked to hit against Ehmke when he was using the side-arm delivery. Certainly there could be no better testimonial to the effectivenss of such a style.

Before the start of a game Ehmke had the edge because the players disliked, yes, even feared, to hit against his fast ball.

Under Cobb last year Ehmke's sucess was just so-so. Any number of reasons could be offered for his failure to win consistently. Perhaps the best reason was that he had an erratic club back of him.

This season Ehmke is using an entirely different style. He has gotten away from the side-arm delivery almost entirely. He is delivering the ball from a point about on the level with his knees, much after the manner of Carl Mays.

The new delivery is rather puzzling because Ehmke is such a tall pitcher. The underhand delivery, however, seems to have robbed Ehmke's fast ball of much of its "zip".

It will be a rather interesting experiment to watch, that of a star pitcher changing his entire style after becoming an established big leaguer.

Diamond Dust

With a schedule of 28 games there should be plenty of good contests in the Central League this season.

Lornie Rose and Micky Murray may play for Swifts or some Toronto League team this season.

If Gallagher dishes up the same brand of ball as he did last year for Kingston, Oshawa should have no trouble in duplicating last year's performance in the Central League.

Everett Graham, star second sacker for the Cressman's last year, and hooked to play second this season for the Classics, has left the city, Rutherford will look after the keystone position for the Classics this year.

The local Central League team had a good workout at the Exhibition Grounds on Monday evening. About twenty players were on hand. Adanac Juniors worked out with them.

Belleville is warming up for the season. They are trying out two moundsmen, and both are showing up well.

The local Public School League has got away to a flying start. The King Edward and the Queen Mary nines have won their first games.

Toronto ended her trip around the circuit yesterday and starts on her home grounds today. With every game played on foreign fields she now holds second place in the International League with a percentage of .600. The Maple Leafs ought to do even better on their home grounds. Here's hoping.

JOE KIRKWOOD IS AFTER U.S. TITLE

TOURING STATES.

CHICAGO, May 2.—There are tricks in all trades and it is the general belief that the people on this side of the bo dary are familiar with them all, but when it comes to golf tricks Joe Kirkwood, the Australian open champion, can show United States golfers something. The Australian star is touring the United States with the intention of trying for the United States open title at Chicago this summer. His unique feats have aroused not little interest among the golfers he has already met.

Kirkwood can perform seemingly impossible tricks with a golf ball and a putter, mashie or driver. He can drop a half dozen balls in a straight line with a mashie pitch the farthest one into the hole precisely and thus continue down the line until all disappear within the 4 1-4 inch can. He can also putt his ball against and from the lip of the cup, driving the near ball away and holing his own. However he can use neither of these stunts in competition. He performs them at calculated distances, so that long practise and a delicate touch make the work exact, while in a regular round, the ball must be played from all sorts of positions on the 120 foot square green. If he could have a stymie of 3 or 4 feet laid for him at every hole, he would bless the recent restoration of that play and hole without difficulty.

The Australian champion can curve his ball around another by putting English on it with a straight faced putter, but his truly native trick is the boomerang ball. In this piece of legerdemain he cuts, or gives the ball so much back spin that the pellet is hurled high in the air only to fall at his feet This is an exaggeration of the put pitch played by all experts.

Kirkwood is good at that, but the same reasons prevent him being more successful than other players when it comes to competition. He can discover the cut necessary to bring the ball back to him, but when it comes to estimating the back spin necessary to drop it dead to the pin from varying distances that must be measured by the eye, he is up against a different proposition.

Another stunt that theoretically calls for perfect play is to drive a ball of a watch face or from beneath the foot of a person, but that merely requires exactness in the trajectory of the club, and a slice or hook might result if the club head followed or preceded the hands respectively.

Kirkwood also can put an extended slice or hook ball, a play that is also used by Jock Hutchinson, British open champi , James Barnes, United States open title holder, and many other members of the professional golfing circle, as well as prominent amateurs.

MILLER HUGGINS HAS HARD TEAM TO HANDLE

New York American Line-Up Proves to Be a Very Temperamental Aggregation.

(By Henry L. Farrell, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, May 3.— After he gets too old and feeble for baseball, Miller Huggins ought to retire to some restful pastime of peace like nursing panthers from a milk bottle.

The theories of the little trainer of wild ones are well known by his attitude in the case of Walter Hoyt, the boy pitcher who took a sock at him after Saturday's game.

"The incident is closed as far as I am concerned," Huggins said. "Hoyt is young and hotheaded and he had just lost a tough game. Similar things have happened to me in the past."

Huggins didn't even report the occurrence to his bosses, so it is likely that Hoyt will escape the $200 fine that Carl Mays got for showing his displeasure with his boss by throwing a ball over the grandstand.

Perhaps Huggins thinks that was a greater insult than being socked.

The Yanks are a peaceful family, Ruth and Mays don't speak to each other, Ruth will condescend to pass the time of day with Huggins just because Mays will not. Two of the "five-star" pitching staff are out-and-out enemies of the manager and so on.

Problems are all that Huggins has experienced since he assembled the greatest collection of temperamental prima donnas in the history of opera and baseball and they are still coming.

One Robert Meusel has to be dealt with around May 20. Robert went barnstorming with Babe Ruth against orders last fall and drew five weeks from Commissioner Landis.

Whitey Witt was brought out of confinement with the Athletics to fill in until Meusel's return. Witt is playing such a game that Huggins can't take him out even for the well known Bob.

He has so many star pitchers that he's like the old woman in the shoe. He can't work them in order and he has been forced to the extremity of pitching one of them a full game in the bull pen to keep them in condition.

THEY ALL GO THE SAME WAY HOME.

According to press reports it is going to be a case of let-her-go-to-Gallagher in the Central League this year. A lot of this advance information however, should be taken with a grain of salt. Since the Central League has been in existence we have seen just as good pitchers as Gallagher waved into the bench. Take Canon Ball Scott of Lindsay, Goyer of Belleville, Dainty of Oshawa and many others all hammered to the four corners of the lot during the season. And it is pretty safe to say that Mr. Gallagher will have a similar experience before he makes the circuit of the Central League.

WILL MAKE ROWING HISTORY IN WISCONSIN

WINNIPEG, Man., May 3.—(Canadian Press).—Rowing history will be made at Madison, Wis., May 27, when for the first time in the history of Western Canada, and possibly in the whole of the Dominion, a Canadian university rowing crew will compete against United States university oarsmen. The University of Manitoba has entered an eight-oared shell against the University of Wisconsin in the annual interstate regatta to be held on Lake Mendota.

The personnel of the Manitoba crew has ot been definitely decided upon, but men likely to be given seats have been in training for some time now. Laurie Phinney will stroke the crew.

Wisconsin wishes to make the race an annual event, alternating between Madison and Winnipeg. Plans for making the race an annual inter-Varsity affair will be discussed by the executives of the two clubs at Madison. If satisfactory arrangements can be made, Wisconsin will send a crew to race on the Red River, early in May next year.

THE ZION CLUB HOLDS PRESIDENCY OF EAST PETERBORO

Strong Clubs Lined Up for Third Season and J. J. Howden is President

The East Peterborough Baseball League is well away for its third season in the great summer pastime. At the annual meeting held last night at the Chamber of Commerce, the Zion Club captured the presidency and J. J. Howden's nomination for the chair won the unanimous assent of the meeting. D. A. Hirsch, secretary of the Lakefield A. A. A., was elected vice-president, and C. E. Curtis was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Messrs. Barnes, Keene, Hill, Lakefield, and Lancashire, Zion, were named as official delegates for the three clubs.

Meet Again 13th May.

Another meeting will be held here on Saturday evening, 13th May, to receive further applications for membership in the League. After this date the schedule will be drafted, and the championship season will open on 24th May.

There's a big season ahead for the E. P. B. L. Lakefield Club supported by the Athletic Association, will be in capable hands. Keene, always strong on the field, will be back again with some new players. And Zion, with last season's experience as an asset, must be considered very seriously in the race for the Ed. Wright Cup.

Last night's meeting was conducted by F. S. Pollard, of Keene, the retiring president, who this season assumes the office of past-president, and continues as a member of the executive.

Mr. Pollard has been a staunch friend of the East Peterborough League since its inception.

LADIES' OPEN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP TO BE HELD IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, May 3. — (Canadian Press).—Entrants for the ladies' open golf championship of Great Britain, the matches of which will commence at Sandwich, Kent, on May 15, include Mollie McBride, Canadian of Beaconsfield, and Rosa mond Shirwood from the United States. Miss Shirwood will meet Mrs. Fletcher of Wembley, England, in the first round. Miss McBride is drawn against Mrs. A. C. Johnston, Weybridge, England. The holder of the championship, Cecil Leitch, drew a bye in the first round.

Entrants number 103, ten fewer than those of last year.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble, Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid" indigestion.

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

It was moved by J. A. McKone and seconded by R. Denne that the supervision committee be authorized to advertise for tenders for text books and supplies required for the coming year, with power to act. The motion was carried.

The application of G. H. Roper, on behalf of the P.A.A.A. for the use of the school grounds after 6 o'clock, met with some opposition. It was moved by Mr. Worth and seconded by Mr. Greene that no action be taken, it being felt that the school grounds should be for the children first.

A letter was received from H. A. Yenney tendering his resignation, to be effective at the close of the present school year. Mr. Yenney has been teaching for 47 years and almost thirty years of that time has been in Peterboro. The members of the board, while accepting the resignation, were unanimous in their appreciation of the services rendered by Mr. Yenney in the past twenty-nine and a half years. The chairman and the secretary were appointed to devise some means of expressing the appreciation of the board for the long and faithful service rendered by this teacher.

The attendance report showed that the public school registration had reached the high mark of 3,000 with an average attendance of 2,725, or 91 per cent. The registration at the Collegiate Institute was 452, with an attendance of 434, or 96 per cent. The low percentage of attendance for the public schools was explained by the fact that many new pupils had been registered at about the middle of the month. The report also showed that fire drill had been held in all the schools and that the children had in every case left the building in from 40 to 60 seconds.

Members of the board who were present were: A. A. Fowler, chairman; R. Denne, B. Fowler, J. M. Greene, Mrs. Morris, J. W. Worth, J. A. McKone and Joseph Wearing.

MUST HEAR FROM PARIS.

GENOA, May 3. — (Canadian Press).—A draft of the Allied proposals for the reconstruction of Russia was sent to the Russian delegates last night, with a French reservation that the French delegation withhold approval until receipt of instructions from Paris.

WAS TROUBLED WITH HER LIVER FOR OVER 4 MONTHS

When the liver becomes slow, sluggish and torpid it is not working properly and does not supply sufficient bile to thoroughly act on the bowels and carry off the waste products of the system, hence the bowels become clogged up, the bile gets into the blood, constipation sets in and liver troubles follow among which are, sick or billious headaches, heartburn, water brash, jaundice, floating specks before the eyes, pain under the right shoulder, coated tongue, bad breath, yellow eyes, etc.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

quickly remove the secretions, clear away the effete and waste matter by acting directly on the liver, and making the bile pass through the bowels instead of allowing it to get into the blood.

Mrs. Alice Merritt Napanee, Ont. writes:—"I was very badly run down for over four months. I tried several remedies, but got no relief. One day my husband brought me home a vial of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and before I had used half of it I was much better. I only used two vials and I am a different person today.

I can safely recommend Laxa-Liver Pills to any one troubled with liver trouble."

AT THE THEATRES

CAPITOL — William Farnum in "Perjury," by Ruth Mitchell, a photo of tremendous human interest. Added attraction, Cameron Geddes, basso par excellence.

ROYAL—Bill, double Bill. "No Defence," featuring William Duncan and Edith Johnston. Also Mack Sennet special, "Love and Doughnuts."

REGENT—Dorothy Dalton in "Behind Masks," Also Will Rogers in "Old Hutch," a fine comedy drama.

AT THE GRAND.

KIDS MAKE FISTS FLY.

Good fist fights wherein the villian is knocked cold by the hero are to be seen in many photoplays, but Wesley Barry in his latest screen play, Gus Edwards' "School Days", which comes to the Grand Theatre next Thursday, furnishes a thriller when he encounters a expensively dressed little boy of wealthy parents who calls him a rube.

The fight happened when Wesley upon arriving at the palatial residence of a Long Island family, tries to become chummy with his new found friends. On the lawn he saw across a low hedge a little girl and boy about his own age quietly playing under the care of a maid and a man-servant. In one bound Wesley cleared the hedge intent on making new acquaintances.

"Bet I can lick you," he calmly informed the other boy.

In big city amusement the well dressed chap looked Wesley over. "How's crops, Rube?" And then the fight was on. The butler finally pulled the boys apart and deposited Wesley uncermoniously on the other side of the hedge. For the freckle-faced youngster had mauled the wealthy boy into pulp.

Indignantly Wesley hurried in to his new guardians.

"Who's them kids next door" he asked

That's little Dorothy Lee, her servants and her cousin," he was informed.

Her servants! That was a new Wesley.

"I can have anything I want, can I" he asked.

"Yes."

"Then get me twice as many servants—but no cousins"

Capitol Entertainment

The week end programme at the Capitol, starting to-morrow night, presents the very newest Wallace Reid picture, a story of the prize ring, entitled 'The Worlds Champion, from the widely read Saturday Evening Post story, The Champion. Usual prices.

Commencing to-morrow night the Capitol offers the newest Wallace Reid picture, 'The World's Champion.' A two-reel detective story of the popular Nick Carter brand. A very funny two-reel Cristie comedy, entitled, 'Nothing Like It.' Also the ever popular Topics of the Day and Esops Fables. The popular basso, Mr. Cameron Geddes, who has made such a wonderful hit in this city the past two weeks with his remarkable voice. Mr. Geddes has proved himself to be the most popular singer that has ever appeared over the Paramount circuit and returns to Vancouver soon to fill another long engagement. His first appearance in the western city extended over a period covering 16 weeks in one theatre.

Philip E. Rosen, who directed Wallace Reid in "The World's Champion," which comes to the Capitol theatre to-morrow, matinee and evening, besides being a skilled director, is an expert with the camera. His career has been a highly successful one and this feature is his first directorial effort for Paramount.

One of the finest casts that could be assembled was provided for the picture. Lois Wilson, popular Paramount leading woman, who was seen in "Miss Lulu Bett," has the feminine lead. Lionel Belmore, an English actor of reputation, Henry Miller, Jr., son of the stage star; W. J. Ferguson, a venerable actor, Helen Dunbar, Guy Oliver, Leslie Casey and others complete a roster of players that could hardly be excelled.

The locale of "The Champion" is England and the story concerns William Burroughs, a young man who prefers fishing to the study of theology for which he is destined. He runs away from the parental home and becomes a prize fight champion, but in the end his fistic prowess enables him finally to achieve the desire of his life. There is said to be a wonderfully captivating love story and much humor throughout the picture.

FAN FAN.

AT THE ROYAL.

Pauline Starke, who plays the part of Gabrielle Gantier in "Wife Against Wife," the First National feature to-night at the Royal, is reputed to be the best-dressed actress of the Hollywood colony. She cannot fail to convince the most critical of her exceptional ability as an actress. Her portrayal of the role of the artist's model, Gabrielle, who leaves Paris for America in quest of love and a home, and who meets the hatred and jealousy of another woman, is convincing evidence of Miss Starke's just claims to the pinnacle of histrionic ability. The production is one of the most popular of the season and the work of Miss Starke has created much favorable comment. The part of Mrs. Dole, her rival, is admirably taken by Emily Fitzroy, a massively built woman of undertain temper, who married her husband when he was young, and who has ever since regretted the prize (?) he drew in the lottery of marriage. William Duncan and Edith Johnston take the leading roles in "No Defence," a Vitagraph special feature. This is the story of a society matron's daughter who married the man of her choice instead of a rich politician whom her mother had picked as a future son-in-law. The story deals with mining in the Canadian mountains, where the hero is falsely charged with murder of a partner in the mine. He escapes from the mounted police and returns to the bride he had left on their wedding day. He is arrested, tried and found guilty of murder in the first degree. A virile and dramatic plot that grips attention and ends happily. "Love and Doughnuts" is a comedy that presents several new stunts in laughter, and is a fun-maker from start to finish.

AT THE REGENT.

"THE GREAT GAY ROAD" A BRITISH PICTURE

Some years ago there might have been some risk in producing "The Great Gay Road," because it has not a conventional, happy ending; but nowadays most moving picture theatre patrons know and appreciate originality when the original story is a good one and well told even if it inclines toward tragedy.

It is true that this picture of tramp life is, in the dramatic sense, an incident rather than a story, the position of the hero at the conclusion being just what it was at the start; but it is made very interesting by reasonably realistic characterizations, convincing scenes of the "under-world," a vigorous "scrap," quite enough of the pathetic love element, and excellent production in every respect. It has the artificial attractiveness of being founded on a successful play and novel by Tom Gallon.

The story goes: Finding a lamp in the window, and the door unlatched, the gentleman tramp, with his pal, enters. The householder thinks he is his prodigal son returned, and the tramp accepts the position. The niece has a secret lover whom her uncle will not countenance, and the tramp befriends them, though he falls in love with the girl himself. He returns to a slum dosshouse, but is, later, seen by the girl, and persuaded to return. The uncle tries to arrange a marriage between his supposed son and his niece, but the imposture is discovered, and the tramp again returns to the slums, advising the girl and her sweetheart to elope, which they do. On the girl's birthday she comes with her husband to see the uncle, who forgives them, and she receives a present of spring flowers by post from the tramp. He, continues his journey down the great gay road.

SAYS VENUS DE MILO WAS NOT A FLAPPER.

Osteopath Says She Was Neurasthenic, as Her Stomach Was Not in Proper Place.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., May 3.—"Venus de Milo was not a flapper. That lady of renowned beauty must have been a neurasthenic, for her stomach was not in the proper position. With her posture, it would not be possible for a person to have a normally placed stomach," asserted Dr. Thomas R. Thorburn, of New York, speaking before the Eastern Osteopathic Association.

"The much criticised flapper possesses a more nearly scientifically correct walk and posture than any other type which has been in vogue for ages," contended the speaker. "She has discarded the back-breaking and spine-deforming high heels, replacing them with a common sense shoe. She assumes a fairly correct posture when standing. No 'debutante slouch' appeals to her and her body is not forced into abnormal shapes by society form corsets.

"The flapper is a happier girl because she fills her lungs with plenty of fresh air, and unlike the girl with the 'slouch' her digestion is normal."

NEW NAVAL FITNESS RULE.

British Officers May Be Retired For "Peculiarity of Temper."

LONDON, May 3.—A novel order in council is published in the official London Gazette. It authorizes the Admiralty to place on the retired list, irrespective of age or service, "such officers of the naval and marine forces as may be judged unfit for further service by reason of incapacity or peculiarity of temper or other defect not amounting to misconduct and not caused by intemperate or irregular habits of life."

BRAIN MESSAGES

When you want your arm, hand, foot or any part of your body to do something, your mind sends a message to that part over the nerves. If the nerve over which that message travels is pinched, the message cannot get to the tissues to which it was sent—the tissues do not obey the mind and they are said to be diseased. CHIROPRACTIC teaches that is simply an abnormal expression of function, due to impingement of nerves by a subluxated vertebrae at the point where the nerves leave the spine. Just as pressure on the nerves of the arm causes the arm to become painful, limp and useless, so also will pressure upon the nerves to the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, or any organ or part of the body, cause that organ or part to express its function abnormally.
TO RESTORE
normal function to weakened or diseased tissues it is necessary to release pressure from the impinged nerves and allow the tissues to receive the proper impulses or messages from the brain.
CHIROPRACTIC SPINAL ADJUSTMENTS DO RELIEVE NERVE PRESSURE. IF YOU DON'T THINK SO, GIVE US A CHANCE TO CONVINCE YOU.

Social Calendar

Miss Louise Coughlin, accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Rosenfield, of New York, who have been visiting here for some time, left for New York yesterday on a two months' vacation.

The many friends of William McIlroy, general agent of the C.P.R. at Detroit, for some years agent here, will be interested in his promotion to the Los Angeles office of the railway. About ten years ago Mr. McIlroy was succeeded by James Skinner here. He has been in several posts since then. In May 1915 he was appointed city passenger agent at Toronto and a year later chief clerk there. He has been in Detroit for several years. M. McIlroy started in as telegraph operator and has been with the C.P.R. 21 years.

Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Collins and family of Biggar, Sask., are spending a few days with friends in the city.

Miss Stevens, Home Teacher and Field Worker for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, is visiting in Sarnia and Detroit.

THIS IS BICYCLE WEEK

The problem of transportation in urban areas is easily solved by many people through the use of the simple and economical bicycle.

A prominent bicycle dealer recently made the significant offer that he would accept "unused" street car tickets in part payment for a new bicycle. There was considerably more than a mere jest behind this proposal, because it has been frequently pointed out that the carfare which the average person will spend in a year will pay for a new wheel. Most people spend at least $1 per week in trolley fares. In fact, fares have gone so high in many cities, that the trolley transportation expense now mounts to a high total in a comparatively short time. This money can be saved by riding a bicycle, and the bicyclist can always count on having a seat for his ride to and from the office, factory or school.

The bicycle dealer in question did not say what he would do with the street car tickets that he would accept in payment for a wheel, but it is a safe bet that he would not use them himself because he never rides on a street car.

"MANY A SLIP" ORIGIN.

An ancient king named Ancaeus, who reigned over an island in the Grecian Archipelago, once planted a vineyard for whose cultivation he oppressed his slaves in a shameful manner. His exactions became so great that one of them finally uttered a prophecy, as the ancients had a way of doing, to the effect that Ancaeus would never live to taste the wines pressed from the grapes grown there.

When the wine was made the king sent for the prophetic slave and, showing him the brimming goblet, asked what he thought of his prophecy. The slave replied, "There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip." At this moment word was brought in that a wild boar had entered the vineyard and was laying waste to it. Anaeus set the goblet down untasted and hastened to attack the boar, but he was killed in the encounter. This legend is the origin of the famous expression.

MARCONIS MESSAGES.

Sending messages by telegraph and telephone without wires thousands of miles over the oceans is a far cry from sending a wireless impulse the length of a kitchen table. But before Marconi did that, others had discovered certain principles which made it possible. Not, however, until Hertz discovered the progressive propagation of electro-magnetic action through space was the period of speculation and experiment near its end.

Marconi, then a young man just out of his teens, read of the experiments of Hertz, and conceived the first apparatus for demonstrating the idea. At the end of several months he had his idea of such an apparatus complete and a message in the Morse code was sent the length of an ordinary kitchen table on which the apparatsu was set up. Out of this initial success the wonderful system of wireless telegraph and telephone communication of today has developed.

HOUNDED EXPERT TO DEATH.

Four Moscow Communists Jailed for Driving Engineer to Suicide.

MOSCOW, May 3. — Four prominent Communists have been sentenced to prison terms by the Supreme Revolutionary Tribunal on the charge of having driven a technical expert to suicide because he was not of their political belief.

Their conviction is looked upon as notice to a certain type of Communist that Premier Lenin's policy of encouraging technical men, regardless of party affiliations, must be carried out.

V. Klylenko, President of the Tribunal, himself conducted the prosecution.

The trial revealed that V. Oldenberger, engineer and director of the Moscow Waterworks, had been harassed to the point of self-destruction by the four members of the Board of Control, who preferred false charges against him because they did not want a non-party man in such a responsible post.

THE MILLBROOK COUNCIL MEET

Monthly Report of the Fire Company. Inspect Dairy Cows.

MILLBROOK, May 3. — The regular meeting of the Millbrook Council was held in the Council Chamber on Monday evening, 1st May, at 8 o'clock.

Reeve Wood occupied the chair, and Councillors Eakins, Lang, Sayles, and Stinson were present.

The usual accounts were received and ordered paid.

Upon recommendation from the Board of Health that dairy cows be inspected, Councillor Stinson gave notice that he would introduce a by-law providing that all dairy cows belonging to parties within the corporation who are selling milk, should be inspected by the Provincial Inspector.

Councillor Eakins also gave notice of by-law to prohibit disturbances, fights, etc., upon the streets of the municipality.

Moved by Coun. Sayles and Lang, that the Clerk be instructed to write Mr. D. B. Nugent, M.A., of Ottawa, acknowledging, and thanking him for, the donation of a handsome oak case of hand-made horse shoes, the work of his father, the late Mr. W. D. Nugent.

Moved by Coun. Eakins and Lang, that H. E. Ryley be given a bonus of 25 cents per rod for erection of wire fence along the road on his property at the west-end.

Chief Clarke submitted the monthly report of the Fire Company, which was approved and filed.

Reeve Wood reported that he expected Road Superintendent Greer, of Cobourg, and Mr. McVicar, head engineer, of Toronto, would be in town in the near future to give an estimate on the cost of work for Allen's Hill.

Council adjourned at 10 p.m., to meet again at the call of the Reeve.

Stock Reports

Following is a summary of reports made by the Agriculture Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

Summary reports are herewith given of the fall wheat outlook as reported at the end of the week from those counties carrying the largest acreages of that crop. The young wheat came through the winter in generally promising condition, but cool days and frosty nights for the last week or so have checked the growth and in some case browned up the fields to some extent. Warm rains and a week of active growth will be necessary before the actual prospects of the crop can be fairly estimated.

Kent with the largest acreage reports in detail: "During the past week or ten days the weather has been very unfavorable for fall wheat and clover. The cold rains at the beginning of this period followed by frost and continuous cold, has done considerable to check the excellent start made by fall wheat and clover. This is particularly noticeable on the late sown wheat, which does not look good at present, but with favorable weather will revive. The early sown wheat is in fair condition but has received a considerable set back. The prevailing weather will likely have a tendency to check the Hessian fly, and from present indications early sown wheat should be the better crop this year.

Middlesex: It looks on the whole promising, but not as well as it did a week or two ago. Some fields look patchy where the crop was too long under water.

Lambton: Owing to the cold drying winds prevailing this week, the fal wheat is showing the effect, viz: there being no appreciable growth this week, and the wheat taking on a burned appearance. The same may also be said in regard to clover.

North Simcoe: Looks nice and green on shore, but there has been very little growth lately, owing to cold weather.

South Simcoe: During the past week of frosty nights wheat has suffered a shock where there was not a good top or where the fields had no protection.

Huron: Owing to the wet weather and hard frost fall wheat generally speaking has gone back materially in the last couple of weeks—fully 30 percent. A few good fields are showing.

Oxford: The appearance of the crop is not as good as it was a week of two ago, owing to the severe frosts. Some may sow barley with the wheat to thicken the crop.

Elgin: Not looking so well as two weeks ago, having been set back by cold weather.

Bruce: Fall wheat does not look promising—not over 50 per cent on present appearance.

Perth: Not looking as well as it did a week or two ago owing to cold weather.

Bruce: Looks nice, but it has not done so well in the last two weeks.

Waterloo: Frosts of the last week or two have been hard on fall wheat. Only about a two-thirds crop is expected.

Elgin: Came through the winter in excellent form except on low land, but the fields have gone back during the last week or two.

Haldimand: Fall wheat has suffered a setback by recent cold weather. A little has been reseeded.

Reports concerning clover are practically the same as those describing fall wheat. The fields, however, did not winter quite so well as those in wheat, and there were some complaints of early spring heaving, but the crop picked up wonderfully until checked by recent frosts.

Notwithstanding the uninviting weather some seeding of grain has been done, and also some planting of early potatoes.

Reports regarding the fruit prospects are on the whole most encouraging. Fruit buds were not sufficiently advanced and the frost was not heavy enough to do damage worth noticing. Orchardists have already done an unusually large extent of spraying.

Dundas says: Bees have wintered well, but pollen and nectar are yet scarce.

LABOR MEMBER

harmony with life. The old Chinese custom of binding female infants' feet was compared to the modern method of binding children's heads with false educational ideas in history and political economy.

With regard to religion, the speaker compared the religion of some to a small, glittering trinket carefully hid away in a trunk, taken out and "shined up a bit" on Sunday, and replaced once more, for fear of loss. If your religion is of that variety," said the speaker, "you won't lose it, and it won't matter to anyone if you do." The new idea in our day is the social application of the Gospel to the problems of life, indicative of the changing sentiment and spirit of religious institutions. The homely simile of a boil on the neck, for which every Tom, Dick, and Harry will prescribe unasked-for remedies, was compared to the "big, festering sore on the face of Canada's civilisation to-day, but we still have the hope for the churches if they will tackle this great problem of civilisation, and, by their moral appeal, will give us a cleaner, wholesomer system, to raise our eyes from the gutter of life."

Spirtual Gymnastics.

The old tradition that a man's soul was strengthened by temptation, "the spiritual gymnastics which recommended that you should hit the devil while he was winking at you," was likened to the idea of a man who would plant a potato and surround it with all manner of foul weeds, enjoining it thereafter to "Now, old spud, go to it, and grow up to be a great big potato." The religion of our times is a deeper thing than seeking for opportunities of fighting temptation; it is a spirit which goes out with a hoe to remove the cause that is sapping the strength of Canada, the spirt that will clean up the puddle at once, instead of rescuing a man from it and then sending him out again to fall into the same old gutter.

The corresponding change in the political institutions of the day was manifesting itself in Parliament, where the two old parties were ceasing to function.

Mr. Irvine described the origin of the two-party system in England 250 years ago, when the rival factions of landlords and working men were represented by the Tories and Whigs, the former name a synonym for "bog trotter" in that day, "or, as we would say, a bootlegger in these days," and the latter a corruption of an old Scottish term which meant "sour milk." The Government of Canada to-day, composed of Tories, Liberals Farmers Laborites and Independents, was trying to wabble along with the same old two-party system. "Did you ever hear the like?"

The difference between a Grit and a Tory, which Mr. Irvine said he had often been asked to define, was, in his mind, simply that one was in and the other was out, and the one that was out was trying to get in, and while there was no fundamental difference in political principle or practice or philosophical outlook, "yet they have always managed to divide us." The system that elected an Opposition in Parliament simply to set up a contradictory movement towards anything proposed by the other side, was regarded as useless and stupid, and had resulted in nothing but a situation which gave a group of great money kings control of the arterial system of Canada. "But we must not blame the wolf for the sheepiness of the sheep. If the sheep was not quite so sheepy, the wolf would not be so wolfy."

Appeal for Unity.

Mr. Irvine concluded with a strong appeal for unity and co-operation amongst all classes, the spirit which would destroy the barriers which "separate the miner and the bank clerk, the farmer and the manufacturer,' 'and which would bring from all, their contribution to a democracy and a "natural development which means life that is more abundant."

Mr. R. B. Rogers moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Irvine for his eloquent address.

Commenting on the small attendance on the meeting of last night, Mr. Howard Quinn, chairman, and president of the East Peterborough U.F.O. Club, remarked that the townspeople's absence might be due to a feeling of hostility towards the Farmer movement.

Mr. A. Mowat, public school inspector, in a few brief remarks, that voiced his appreciation of Mr. Irvine's eloquence, took exception to this view of the matter, saying that most of the city people were unaware of the address scheduled for last evening, and expressing his opinion of their disappointment at missing the opportunity of hearing Mr. Irvine.

MOTHER-IN-LAW STRANGER.

It is an inviolable convenant within the Navajo Indian nation that after the marriage a son-in-law must never set eyes on his mother-in-law, and vice versa, a mother-in-law must never see her son-in-law. The daughters-in-law are not mentioned.

According to Navajo traditions, a Navajo girl is considered the property of her parents until she marries. Prior to her marriage a contract is made between the father of the girl and the destined bridegroom. When a Navajo woman marries she becomes free and may leave her husband for sufficient cause. A warrior of one clan must marry a maiden of one of the 51 others, and vice versa. The descent of the clans is passed along by the female line.

DECLARE TRUCE OVER SOUTHERN PARTS IRELAND

Cease Hostilities Until Monday Afternoon Next -Representatives Confer

IRISH SITUATION

DUBLIN, May 4. — (United Press). — A military conference of Free State and mutineer army officers this afternoon declared a truce over all Southern Ireland, to last until four p.m. Monday, May 8.

The truce provides that all operations, except training and army routine, cease; the cessation of penetrative operations and both to co-operate in maintaining order and preventing acts of aggression against persons and property.

OPERATES FROM 4 O'CLOCK.

DUBLIN, May 4. — (Canadian Press).—Bulletin—A truce between the rival Irish army forces has been declared, it was announced this afternoon. It operates from 4 o'clock this afternoon until 4 p.m. Monday, to give the factions an opportunity to discuss the basis for army unification.

REPRESENTATIVES MEET.

DUBLIN, May 4. — (Canadian Press).—A meeting of representatives of the differing factions of the army has been arranged for at the Mansion House to-day, with the object of agreeing to the truce, General McKeewen, of the regular army, announced this morning.

MUTINEERS COURTEOUS.

DUBLIN, May 4. — (Canadian Press).—The Independent says that during the occupation of Ormonde Castle by the irregular troops, and its seige and canture by regulars, the Marquis and Marchioness remained in the residence. They declare that the mutineers treated them with the utmost courtesy.

HORSE OBJECTED TO AN UMBRELLA

One Hundred and Thirty Quarts of Milk Lost in Transit.

A chain of circumstances with a Genesis undoubtedly in this morning's rain resulted in a considerable loss to Ernest Milburn, Chemong Road farmer, at 8 o'clock this morning. John Milburn, a son, loaded up the milk wagon as usual, hitched the horse, and in final preparation, raised a large colored umbrella over the wagon. While he went in the house to get his coat, the horse espied the gorgeous affair at the rear. It had evidently not seen such a spectacle in some time, and endeavored to make a hasty escape. In so doing, the wagon was smashed against the gate, 130 quarts of milk were poured on the ground, and leaving in its wake everything but the large umbrella that clung to the lines, the horse made its accustomed journey into town. It was not stopped until near the Peterborough Milk Products Company, where it is wont to end its daily trip.

A Woman Expert

KITTYE STEELE WALKER

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 4.—Miss Kitye Steele Walker, probably the only feminine transportation expert employed by a railway, will have charge of the routing of trains for delegates to the fourth annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, which will be held here July 10-16.

Miss Walker is passenger representative of the Ocean Steamship line and during the war was with the Railroad Administration in Atlanta, Ga.

THE SWIMMING POOL WEDDING

Parson Will Have to Stand Trial Before Church Commission.

LAWTON, Okla., May 4.— The Rev. Thomas J. Irwin, founder and for 20 years pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here, who recently performed a marriage ceremony at a public swimming pool—in which the principals wore bathing suits, must stand trial before a church commission on charges of "conduct unbecoming a minister". Trial was decided on at a session of the El Reno Presbytery.

Mr. Irwin has been the storm center of opposing factions for months. He was a supporter of the late Jake J. Hamon, Republican national committeeman from Oklahoma. He preached the sermon at Hamon's funeral in November, 1920 at Ardmore, where Hamon was shot by Clara Smith Hamon. The charges on which the minister will be tried are:

That the Rev. Thomas J. Irwin has outlived his usefulness as a pastor, as evidenced by disorder and deplorable conditions in his church.

That he was responsible for the distribution of a pamphlet containing substance "unbecoming a minister of the Presbyterian Church."

That members of the Lawton church have been suspended without due cause and trial.

That said minister has brought disrepute on the church by performing a marriage ceremony in which the principals were clad in bathing suits in a public swimming pool.

"I'll stick until the bitter end," Mr. Irwin said to-day. "The whole situation has been caused by intense bitter political feeling and by enemies of the church".

The El Reno Presbytery exceeded its authority, he asserted, declaring he would carry the case before the Oklahoma Synod, which meets in October.

A PRESENTATION TO MR. JNO. BUTCHER OF CHAIR

Recognition of 40 Years Faithful Service to St. John's.

Several members of St. John's Church, including the vicar, Rev. Dr. Blagrave, paid a surprise visit to the home of Mr. John Butcher, 301 Burnham street, on Tuesday evening of this week, for the purpose of presenting Mr. Butcher with a handsome chair, as a token from the members of the church, to commemorate his forty years' connection with St. John's as sexton.

Mr. H. Rush, in making the presentation, spoke very highly of Mr. Butcher's services to St. John's Church during many long years, sentiments which were heartily endorsed by Rev. Mr. Blagrave. Mr. Stuart, director of the Brotherhood St. Andrew, also spoke briefly. Mr. Butcher replied in suitable terms, recording pleasant memories of his long connection with the church, and hoping that his health would permit him to continue to help on special occasions in the future.

RUSSIA WANTS BETTER TERMS BY THE ALLIES

Soviet Premier Expected to Apply for Complete Recognition — Progress of Conference.

FRENCH DECISION

GENOA, May 4. — (Canadian Press)—Russia's delegates are expected to accept in general the reconstruction programme by the powers. It is said however objection will be taken to failure to include recognition of Soviet government and the article regarding the restoration of private property owned by foreigners in Russia. Other points likely to be raised concern suppression of revolutionary propaganda by Bolshevik.

Soviet delegation announced that terms of Allied note to Russia had been telegraphed to Lnine. It is said that Soviet Premier will probably accept demanding simultaneously full recognition.

France's decision to support opposition of Belgum to private property clause of memorandum sent Russians was announced today by French delegates here on receipt of information from Paris. This is taken to mean that France will not sign Russian memorandum until property clause is further mended in favor of Belgium.

Hurt in Collision.

Mrs. Lloyd George and her daughter Megan, were slightly injured in an automobile accident four miles from Genoa when a motor car in which they were riding collided with one driven by son of Premier Bratiano, Rumania.

PARIS, May 4. — (Canadian Press)—French cabinet approved text of proposed non-aggression pact under consideration at Genoa with reservation that it must not be interpreted as with drawing from France any rights she has under treaties.

HIS INJURIES PROVED FATAL

Harry Rew Died This Morning From the Effects of Accident Last Saturday.

Harry Rew died this morning at 3.20 from the effects of injuries which he suffered in an accident while cycling on the Gravel Road last Saturday afternoon. The front wheel of his bicycle broke down while he and his companions were coasting on a hill, and he was thrown forward on his head. Only slight hopes for his recovery were held out after the first examination of his injuries.

Henry George Rew was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Rew, 65 Crescent Street. He was married last September, on Labor Day, and is survived by his wife, his parents, one sister, Mrs. E. Mitchell, of Peterboro, and by two brothers, Arthur H. Rew, of Toronto, and William H. Rew, of Thompsonville, Conn.

The funeral will take place from his late residence, 65 Crescent Street, on Saturday afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock, to St George's Church, of whose choir he had been a member, and thence to the Little Lake Cemetery. Rev. W. R. Courage will officiate.

INDIANAPOLIS WAS HEARD IN PETERBOROUGH.

The radio receiving outfit recently installed in the home of Mr. Edgar Worth, Weller Street, is affording its owners no small amount of interest. Mr. J. W. Worth, experimenting with the apparatus last evening, smashed previous records for Peterborough in the matter of long-distance receiving, as he was able to get into connection with Indianapolis, almost twice as far away as the Pittsburg connections formerly secured. Mr. Worth also broke into a concert at Toronto, and got the correct time from Arlington, U.S., at ten o'clock.

A DEADLY KICK

TORONTO, May 4.— A compound known as "Rubbing Alcohol" new on the market, is said to have a deadly kick, and the Ontario License Board has issued a friendly warning to boozers generally". The warning contains the following: Boozers generally should give this rubbing alcohol wide berth, together with details of the death of a man at Brantford who used this "stuff".

A GIRL PARALYZES HERSELF AND WINS BACK HER HEALTH

NEW YORK, May 4. — A remarkable case of "mind cure" came to light with the announcement of St. Mark's Hospital that Hannah Morton, 18, whose legs had been completely paralyzed for eight months, was on her way to her home in a town upstate with the free use of her limbs restored. The crutches on which she entered the hospital were left by her "for someone who really needs them."

According to the record of the case as made public, Hannah, in February, 1921, went skating against the wishes of her parents, fell on the ice where the surface was flooded with water, and returned home soaking wet.

Really unhurt at the time, she endeavoured to ease the situation by saying that she had injured her spine. Her mother put her to bed and gave her tender care. Up in two days, Hannah continued to complain of a pain in her legs, and the mental effect of her exaggerated pain brought on real physical suffering, although with no disease basis.

Months later she was brought to St. Mark's a helpless paralytic. Examination revealed no injury or unusual physical condition which might have caused paralysis. It was decided to make her forget herself and think of others.

First a fellow-patient was permitted to cry for water. No nurse responded. Finally Hannah reached for her crutches, which had been placed near her cot, and got the water. This occurred several times Next the crutches were "accidentally" mislaid, and Hannah managed to reach her fellow-sufferer by supporting herself against the wall. Finally it was arranged that Hannah would have to carry a tray to her friend, having no supporting aid. She accomplished the feat. In three weeks by this gradual process the girl was entirely cured. She had suffered a real affliction but it arose from a mental cause.

SPEARING FISH PERHAPS LUNGE

Man With Trident Seen Beside Creek in City's Limits.

Along one of the creeks that crosses the road running north from Downer's Corners to the canal, a man armed with a three-tined spear was seen peering into the water as he walked slowly down the course. The circumstances were decidedly suspicious, and if that pikeman wasn't looking for spawning lunge to spear he would be hard put to explain his presence to a fish inspector. He was in full view of the roadway, and several youths were watching him from the little bridge. Further down the road several groups of men were trailing another creek. They may have been fishing for suckers, but the most natural inference is that they were after bigger fish. The sucker contingent was out in full force at the Peterborough lock, above and below the dam, armed with nets and other tackle. These fish are reported to be plentiful, and many large catches have been made.

PEKIN ISOLATED.

Railroad Traffic Cut off By Belligrent Armes.

PEKING, China, May 4.—(Canadian Press)—The troops of General Wu Fei Fu the Central Chinese Commander, have surrounded Peking. General Chang Tse—Lin's army in the vicinity of Peking has been scatered, and all railroad traffic out of Peking has been suspended

Would End War.

PEKING, May 4. —(Canadian Press)—President Ssu Shih Chang made another effort today to end hostilities between the armies of Generals and Wu and Chang, fighting for the control of Pekin, by forwarding telegrams appealing to the Generals to consider the welfare of China and end war.

Most of the newspapers decree the fighting, which they declare harmful to the country which ever side wins, and assert that China will never prosper until freed of rival military leaders.

SEARCHING FOR IDEAS

GUELPH, May 4. — (Canadian Press). — A special commission from California reached Guelph yesterday in search of ideas relating to Agriculture and are inspecting the Agricultural College.

A Big Demand For Cars in Peterboro

Mr. A. A. Tawnley, who is in the government employ in connection with the inspection of issuers of motor vehicles licenses, was in the city yesterday looking over the local office. He was highly gratified at the manner in which the licenses had been issued by the Auto Association, and he emphasized upon the issuers the importance of service to the motoring public. The biggest part of the year's work is now over. In the local office 2,000 licenses have been issued, and at the most it is expected there will not be more than another 1,000 issued. There are still a number of cars to make their debut, but the fine weather has been irresistible to most drivers. Business is quite brisk according to the dealers. The decrease in the cost of living has made it possible for many salaried workers to own cars and the lower prices in all makes have resulted in a fine list to choose from. The finish, improvement and costs in every case has resulted in a situation as described by one man, "you hardly know what to buy."

RURAL DEANERY MEETINGS OVER

Rev. Clark of Campbellford Presided — Among Those Preseut.

The rural-decanal meeting of the deanery of Northumberland and Peterborough was held on Tuesday and Wednesday on this week in St. Luke's Parish hall, with the Rev. Rural Dean Clark of Campbellford, presiding.

Meetings were held on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon, with Evensong at 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening, Rev. Mr. Belford preaching, and celebration of Holy Communion on Wednesday morning. The ladies of St. Luke's Parish Guild provided refreshments for their guests at these meetings.

Several messages of regret at non-attendance were received from clergy of the parish. Those present were: Rev. Rural Dean C. .... Clark, Campbellford; Rev. Canon Sawyers of Cobourg; Rev. W. E. Pickford, Brighton; Rev. H. Smith, Gore's Landing; Rev. J. O'Connor-Fenton, Norwood; Rev. F. B. J. Belford, M.A., Cordington; Rev. R. B. Grobb, All Saints' Church; Rev. Dr. Blagrave, St. Johns'; Rev. W. R. Courage, St. Georges'; Rev. G. J. Bousfield, St. Luke's.

CONFUSED LIST BRITISH PEERS

Added to By Elevation of Sir Arthur Balfour

LONDON, May 4.—(Associated Press)—Sir Arthur Balfour's acceptance of elevation to the House of Lords as Earl Balfour of Whittingeame adds to an already confused list of British peers.

There was already a Lord Balfour of Burleigh, two Lords Morley —the Viscount and the Earl—two two Lords Cobham, two Lords Ashton, a Lord Curzon in both houses, (the Commoner having courtesy title of Viscount) Lord Midleton and Lord Middleton, Lord Lindsay and Lord Lindsey, Lord Longford and Lord Langford, Lord Terrington and Lord Torrington.

Comemnting on Sir Arthur's admission to the House of Lords, the Observer said:

"Having entered on the slippery slope of accepting titles, Sir Arthur Balfour now finds himself doomed to the Huose of Lords, the desting equally of success and failure in politics. It is a pity we cannot find a way of disainguishing between those who are made peers because of the eminent services and those who have been made peers because their services were not eminent. If there any other institution in the Empire thus curiously recruited from the top and from the bottom?"

TORONTO MAN MAKES SURE OF ENDING LIFE

Blows Out Brains, Train Cuts Body to Pieces

TORONTO, May 4.—(Canadian Press)—Said to have been suffering from a nervous breakdown, Albert Prosser, aged 29 years, a cutter in a ladies' tailoring establishment, residing at 65 Eaton avenue, Toronto, ended his life in most determined manner shortly before nine o'clock this morning. Kneeling on the railway tracks in the Don Valley, Prosser placed a revolver to his forehead and fired a shot through his brain. His body fell across the rails and was cut to pieces by the Canadian Pacific Railway Flyer. He leaves a widow and a four months old baby.

MAJOR BELFORD GAVE TALK ON WAR INCIDENTS

ON BATTLE LINE.

Major Belford gave a lecture replete with interest and humour in the Sunday School Rooms of St. Luke's Church last evening. The lecture was given under the auspices of the branch of the Anglican Young People's Association of the church, on the subject of "The Humorous Side of the War."

By means of a large and varied assortment of lantern slides of Captain Bruce Bairnsfather's cartoons, he was able to bring home to his audience many of the little incidents which, by their humour and pathos, tended to lighten the days and break the eternal monotony of the front line trenches. He was also able to draw on a fund of incidents from his own experience with the artillery on the battle line, a fact which gave a distinct touch of realism which might otherwise have been lacking.

A Great Cartoonist.

In introducing his subject, he told briefly of the manner in which this cartoonist, probably the best known in the world, found through his war service that he had been endowed with this great gift. Bairnsfather, he said, knew nothing of drawing before he went to France, and his early efforts along this line consisted of sketches on the walls of the shell-torn and battle-scarred houses in which he was billeted.

Bairnsfather, although actively engaged from almost the start of the war, probably made a greater contribution toward the ultimate victory with his pen than with his sword. He had the faculty of picking the humorous bits from the everyday life of danger and chaos with which the soldier was surrounded and treating them in such a manner that they were of incalculable value in keeping up the morale of both the people at home and the troops in the line and giving courage and strength to all.

Famous "Old Bill."

"Old Bill" whom the cartoonist made famous the world over, was described as a typical Tommy of Kitchener's Volunteer Army, one of those men who stepped into the breach and took up the fight at the point where Sir John French's "contemptible little army" were forced by annihilation to lay it down.

Among the cartoons shown and explained, with that touch of humour of which the Major is a master, were the famous "Better 'Ole" and "The first seven years are the worst," two which were by-words among the Canadian soldiers in France and Belgium.

Though devoted chiefly to the British forces, cartoons were also shown in which the Italian, French, and American troops figured prominently.

The Returned Soldier.

He closed his address with an appeal for his hearers to bear with some of the peculiarities of the returned soldier pointing out that in some cases it would be years and in other cases never, before the ex-soldier could completely recover from the effects of his service. These effects might take various forms, as, lack of initiative, a confirmed sense of being unfairly treated, inability or disinclination to work, even perhaps petty crimes, all of which might be traced either directly or indirectly to war service.

The lecture was given in three parts, and during the intermissions, solos were given by Miss Florence Harrison and Mrs. LeDew.

STREET RAILWAY SERVICE SUNDAY

Twenty Minute Service From 9 a.m. to 11 p.m.

The street car service, beginning next Sunday for the summer months, will be the same as last year. The first trips will be started at 9 a.m., and the cars will turn back to the barn at 11 p.m. This will be a twenty-minute service, with two cars operating on George Street, one on Charlotte, one on the C.G.E., and another on the Jackson Park line. On this latter run the trips will be made right around the Park loop for the benefit of those citizens who wish to spend any part of the day in the [illegible] Sunday cars were fairly well patronized last [illegible] that the [illegible] even more generally utilized this year.

Former Peterborough Man Died Wounds

TORONTO, May 4.—Captain Arthur H. Andrews, 15th Battalion, 48th Highlanders, died at his home, 58 Binscarth road, yesterday. For the past six months he had been suffering from the effects of gassing and an attack of influenza Born in Toronto, a son of the late Mrs. Edward Gissing, nee Rackman, he was on the staff of the Peterboro Examiner, and Toronto Star before the war. Joining the colors in 1916 he enlishted with the Mississauga Horse, going overseas with them in September, 1916. He was transferred to the 15th Battalion in France, where he was gassed. He served till the end of the war. Since his return he had been with the Dominion Securities Corporation. He was an Anglican and a member of the Summit Golf Survivng are two sisters.

Residents of the west end of the city that pass St. Peter's Cathedral four times a day have been thrilled and perhaps chilled by the conduct of a man at the top of the steeple. This intrepid figure swinging about 180 feet off the ground, painting the steeple is blamed for many stiff necks. Nine-tenths of the people doubtless wondered how it felt up there. T. A. Deforge, who happens to be the man, and who has the contract for painting the tower, said this morning when down on good old terra firma that he was not bothered by the height, but was amused at the way folks were gazing up at him. He had never been the centre of so much interest before. There was generallly a steady breeze blowing up there no matter how calm it might be below, and the wind had given him some trouble in arranging his ladder, he said.

Since the steeple was galvanized by James Murty in August, 1885, it has never been repainted, but was in good condition, according to Mr. Deforge. No one had been up the tower since that year. This morning Mr. Murty showed the Examiner a lightning rod taken off the steeple when it was galvanized. The rod bears the scars of many a blow. In 1858 the old steeple, which was there at that time, and which was 22 feet lower than the present one, was tinned, and one of Mr. Murty's earliest recollections is of the men working on the steeple. At that time O. G. Kendall, one of the men of rather daring nature performed a stunt that was witnessed by some local characters, among them Jack Dickson, formerly foreman with Adam Hall. Kendall turned a somersault from the cross to the hall below, but, according to inside information, he had hold of a rope. When the old tin was pulled off by Mr. Murty years later, this man's name was found engraved on the ball.

The cross, which is made of 9 inch octagon lumber, galvanized, stands 17 feet high, and the arm is 8 feet across, Mr. Deforge stated. The ball is about 3 feet, 8 inches in diameter. Last week the scaffolding was erected and the painting started bright and early Monday. To reach the cross a 30 foot ladder had to be used. The work has moved down until to-day the painters had reached the scaffolding and will work down to the base on swings. Mr. Deforge said he thought the job would be finished next week. General repairs being made to the Cathedral include a new galvanized roof, it is stated, and work is expected to follow on this as soon as the painting of the steeple is complete.

Valuable Gift By Japanese to Wales

OSKA, Japan, May 4.—(Associated Press.)—A gorgeously decorated lacquer cabinet, representing 10 years' work by master carvers, will be represented to the Prince of Wales during his visit to this city.

The cabinet contains 54 panels depicting Japanese scenes and customs as represented by the Fujiwara or fifteenth century period. The doors are decorated on both sides, plum blossoms on the exterior and dances of the period on the interior.

A set of four silk embroidered hangings also will be given the royal visitor as a token of the city's esteem. These hangings are nine feet by seven, and reproduce floral works of a celebrated master, in favor during the Fifteenth and three following centuries.

JOINT STAND BY CANADA AND U.S. SOCIAL ADVANCE

Dr. Charles Barker Urges That the Two Countries Take United Action For Clean Living.

A FATHER'S DUTY.

In the Grand Opera House last night, Dr. Charles Barker of Grand Rapids, Michigan, noted American lecturer on the subject of right living, addressed a large audience of boys and men, his subject being "A Father's Dnuty to His Son." Dr. Barker spoke straight from the shoulder and when he decided a blackboard would be of use to him in his address he used it. He impressed upon fathers that they owe a great duty to their sons in enlightenment and counsel on vital matters, and the sons in turn owe a duty to their parents, and as genitors of future citizens, a duty to the nation, in clean living.

Canada and the United States, he said, must stand shoulder to shoulder on all matters of social betterment. He believed Canadian civilization a trifle above the American on account of the great urban population across the line. Social conditions in both countries were serious, however, and no agency for improvement equalled that of home influence he felt. A father's duty, and an important duty for the future of the country that should not be shirked, he said, was to tell his son the truth of the vital matters of life and not allow his son to garner his knowledge on the streets. Canada's greatest asset is its boys and girls, and in the light of to-morrow it is of surpassing importance to-day that they should make no mistakes that bring in an inevitable toll of unhappiness, self-reproach and perhaps disease.

Dr. Barker deplored the lack of parental authority noticeable in all parts of the country. The present-day tendencies for fathers to leave it to the mothers to exercise authority on the children, and of mothers to leave it to the school teachers, is a condition of affairs making for lawlessness in the future unless parents pull up sharply and ask "Whither are we drifting?" he said. President Warren Harding three weeks ago in Washington, in a talk with Dr. Barker, lamented the laxity of home discipline, and the President was deeply moved when he made the statement that it was the weakest point in American life. Dr. Barker advised parents that obedience was a better heritage to leave their sons than money.

DRURY REFUSES TO TIE PEOPLE UP TO SIX-YEAR-OLD PACTS

Take Another Vote Before Going Ahead With Construction of To-Toronto-to-Niagara Radial Line.

PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS, Toronto, May 4.—(Canadian Press.)—Premier Drury sharply disagreed to-day with the viewpoint of Sir Adam Beck, Mayor MacGuire and advocates of radials, that the Government give permission for going ahead with the construction of the Toronto to Niagara line without another vote of municipalities concerned.

"I refuse," said the Premier, "to tie the people up to agreements six years old, when conditions have so changed since then." Sir Adam Beck said it would be impossible to get all municipalities to vote favorably, not that the majority in each were not favorable to going ahead with it, but some municipalities were sure to have a small vote and would cause an adverse majority which would tie up the whole scheme.

BANKS'

Overland Country Club, a Bargain

NOT A FAULT TO FIND

Mr. Struan G. Robertson, of Seabank, Pictou, N. S., writing in April as to his Overland purchased in the previous May, says: "I have pleasure in stating that I have not a fault to find with it. I did 3,560 miles with the car during the summer and fall without trouble of any kind except the breaking of an ignition wire. I did not have a puncture.

"Today the car seems as good as when I got her.

"On a 210 mile run round Cape George, Antigonish, Guysboro, Melrose, Glenelg and home by East River, St. Mary's with four passengers, I used but ten gallons of gas, being an average of 22 miles to the gallon.

"I am thoroughly well satisfied with it and have not seen anything in its class that I would exchange it for."

RADIO TALKS

By R. L. DUNCAN,
Director, Radio Institute of America.

Here is a way of increasing the power of a crystal detector set without using a vacuum tube.

Substitute a variometer in the aerial circuit for the loose coupler.

Many amateurs have done this and have received telephone and spark signals from a distance twice as great as before.

The variometer represented by No. 1 in the diagram, may be constructed as previously explained or may be purchased for about $4.50.

Variometer in Crystal Set Hook Up.

A variable condenser may be connected in the aerial circuit. This condenser should be of 23 plates or .0005 microfarads capacity.

No. 2 in the drawing is the crystal detector of galena. Always bear in mind that you will probably have to try several pieces of the mineral before obtaining one that is suitable for radio wave detection.

No. 3 is the head phones shunted by a small fixed condenser. These phones should be of 2000 to 3000 ohms resistance.

Using an aerial 100 feet long, and purchasing all the equipment needed for a set of this kind, the expense should not be more than $22.

Since all these parts can be used in making other sets, it would be good experience for the amateur who wants to get as much fun out of radio as possible to construct or assemble a receiving set along these lines.

SENATE SENDS COLD STORAGE TO COMMITTEE

Bill Restricting Cold Storage Meets With Some Opposition and Will Be Settled in Committee.

HELP FARMERS.

OTTAWA May 4. — (Canadian Press.—Senator Bradbury)'s bill to amend the Cold Storage Act was yesterday sent to a special committee of the Senate after a motion by Hon. G. G. Foster to give it a six months hoist had been withdrawn.

Senator Foster opposed the bill on the ground that it would intensify the unrest in commercial and agricultural circles. He believed in President Harding's statement that what business needed was for politicans to let business alone.

Senator Webster (Brockville), claimed cold storage gave the farmer better prices. The bill before the Senate would restrict trade and increase cost.

Senator Laird thought that what was needed was to enforce existing Legislation, not to enact new. He opposed the labelling of goods as provided in the proposed bill.

Senator Turrif and Senator Daniels favored the bill, as did also Senator Belcourt.. Senator Belcourt said that the balance of the argument was that the Dominion had the authority to legislate as Senator Bradbury proposed.

Senator MacLean said that cold storage had extended the fish trade of the maritime Provcince.

"Why such bad fish in Ottawa", asked Senator Belcourt.

"You don't know how to cook them", retorted Senator MacLean.

Senator D[illegible]and urged that the bill be sent to a special committee and this course was accepted by Senator Bradbury, who named a committee.

The Senate the adjourned until 3 o'clock to-day.

WEDDING BELLS

HENDRON-PETERS

In St. Paul's Presbyterian Manse, at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, May 3, by Rev. Robert Pogue, the marriage was solemnized of Mrs. Eva Mowry Peters and Victor John Hendren, both of Dummer township. The couple were unattended. They will reside in Dummer.

Going to Shoot a Dog; Young Farmer Killed.

LINDSAY, Ont., May 4.—Clarence Quibell, 22-year-old son of Mr. Thos. Quibell ,of Silver Lake, was accidentally killed Tuesday afternoon. The family were about to move to Burnt River, and not wishing to take their old dog along, Quibell took him to the woods to shoot him. The rifle was accidentally discharged, the contents entering Quibell's neck.

QUIET AFTERNOON IN PROVINCIAL HOUSE

Ferguson and Hay Have a Slight Tilt But Otherwise All is Quiet.

MINOR BILLS.

TORONTO, May 4. — Qualifications of registered nurses, liability of property for the debenture debts of a School Board, and the advisability of municipalities advancing the dates of their elections to the first Monday in December, furnished the most interesting discussions in a rather draggy afternoon in the Ontario Legislature.

A number of minor Bills were disposed of.

Hon. Howard Ferguson called to the attention of the House a statement in Wellington Hay's speech of Tuesday which was interpreted by the Conservative leader as suggesting that civil servants were running to him with information. Mr. Ferguson said he wished to contradict this that as far as he knew the civil service was absolutely loyal to the Ministry as they should be. He took particular care not to discuss matters with civil servants without first asking permission of the head of the Department.

Mr. Hay replied that his suggestions were based on the questions which Mr. Ferguson put on the order paper which seemed to indicate an unusually close knowledge of what was going on in the various departments.

Separate Schools.

Z. Mageau Sturgeon Falls agreed to allow this Bill amending the Separate school to be held over until the law regarding the liability of property to school debenture debt can be ascertained. He explained that the question had been raised in Sturgeon Falls and a letter had been received from a prominent law firm of Toronto stating that when a property was assessed as that of a public school supporter, all debentures issued while it was so assessed were a charge against the property until these debentures were paid off. It meant that even if the property was shortly afterwards purchased by a Separate School supporter, the latter would have to go on paying on the public school debenture debt in addition to his Separte School taxes.

Mr. Mageau's Bill was to make it work the same as regards property on Separate school rolls by holding it liable for debenture debt of these schools if bought by public school supporters.

The Department of Education gave Mr. Mageau a statemnt that such was not the working of the law. The Department interpreted the law as meaning that a property was only liable for the debenture rates of the system (public or separate) to which it is assessed at the time.

In order to get the opinion of the legal department, the second reading was not pressed yesterday.

Earlier Election Dates.

The question of the advisability of municipalities moving forward their election dates to the first Monday in December was brought in when the Special Bill for the city of St. Catharines to make this change came up. The clause was held over in view of a Bill now before the Legislature, introduced by D. McAlpine, Brockville, giving any municipality the right to change from the holiday season to an earlier date, by the Council passing a by-law. Earlier election dates mean earlier financial statements if the electors are to know the situation of their municipalities before casting their votes. This in turn leads to a checkerboard situation as regard to the financial years of various municipalities and where they are linked up in a general financial scheme such as Hydro. It was thought there was a danger of electors not receiving comprehensive annual statements. It was pointed out that many Western Ontario cities have already changed the dates of their annual elections. The question will likely be fully discussed later.

The Bill of J. A. Pinard (East Ottawa) to amend the Separate School Act to make it correspond with the Public School Act in regard to reducing the number of trustees passed second reading.

Nurses' Act.

The Government's Registration of Nurses Act passed through Committee of the House after a long discussion on the test a nurse should undergo to qualify for the right to place "R.N." after her name.

The Act is designed to enable the nurses from small hospitals to qualify as well as those of larger institutions, and brought out an interesting discussion as to whether the small or the large hospitals turned out the best nurses, with the supporters about equally divided numerically.

Provincial Secretary Nixon agreed to alterations so that eventually a standard form of training will be necessary for qualification as registered nurse.

FREE STATE TROOI S CAPTURE KILKENNY.

KILKENNY, May 4 (Canadian Press). — The battle in Kilkenny ended last evening. At nine o'clock, Ormonde Castle, the last stronghold held by the Irregulars, was stormed and captured by the Free State troops.

The Irregular garrison surrendered, and was marched, with its arms and ammunition to the military barracks.

MENNONITES BACK, NO PLACE LIKE HOME

Manitoba to Give Them Local Control of 200 Schools—Trek a Fizzle.

WINNIPEG, May 4.— The Norris government has now in hand the bringing back to Manitoba of stranded Mennonites in the Chihuahua district, the bandit-infested tableland in the north of Mexico. Delegations have waited on the government during the last few days to see what can be done. The state of the people who left southern Manitoba and Swift Current, Sask., is very distressing and pitiable. According to Mennonites who remained in Manitoba, but who have been in communication with the settlers in Mexico, only the most stubborn of the Mennonites now want to remain.

As a concession to the returning Mennonites the Norris government has decided to hand over to the Mennonites for local administration 200 schools in their district which have been administered by School Commissioner J. F. Greenway, a son of the former premier.

MAN DISAPPEARS FROM HIS HOME.

ST. JOHN, N.B., May 4.—(Canadian Press.)— Robert Neil Mackay disappeared from his home here on Saturday evening last, and has not as yet returned. Mackay belongs to Paterson, N.J. He was married in September, 1920. There was no reason for him to worry over financial matters and the family think that he must have suffered a lapse of memory. At the time of his disappearance he had at least $500 on his person.

RUSSIA IS NOT PLEASED WITH MEMORANDUM

Soviet Representatives Do Not Like the Suggestions Made By European Statesmen.

FINANCIAL CODE.

GENOA, May 4. — (Canadian Press)—The Soviet plenipotentiaries are "not delighted" with the project of the Powers for the reconstruction of Russia. Such is the brief summary emanating from Soviet sources of the Bolshevik views on the memorandum on which Europe's statemen have worked so laboriously.

The fact that the document does not mention recognition of the Soviet Government and ignores the sugestion of governmental loans is said to displease the Communist leaders, who are now conferring with Moscow. The memorandum was delivered to them only at four o'clock yesterday morning, after a corps of secretaries had worked all night long putting it into official shape. It was then rushed to Santa Margherita by automobile and delivered to M. Rakovsky, who received it dressed in his pyjamas.

Belgium had not signed the memorandum, and word was received here this evening that France has determined to stand by Belgium, but as yet there is no official announcement in Genoa of France's action. It is believed that the conversations between Premier Poincare and M. Barthou, however, will have an important general effect upon the conference.

All the leaders voiced satisfaction at yesterday's plenary session believing that it embodied the inauguaration of far-reaching efforts to improve the finances of Europe. The financial code at Genoa has been written, declared Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, Chairman of the Financial Commission, and he believed it would prove as important as the historic Justinian Civil Code, the basis of world jurisprudence.

The essential points are limitation of the issue of paper money, fixing parity with gold, economizing in the use of gold and co-ordination of gold. The United States said the chairman ,with almost half the world's gold could join the future study of the problems without involving itself in political difficulties, and could help Europe as well as herself.

CANADA IS NOT A FREE NATION

Justice Martin of British Columbia Says It Has Very Limited Powers Under Act.

VICTORIA, B.C., May 4 (Canadian Press). — Speaking of Canada's national status at a banquet here of the Native Sons of Canada, Mr. Justice Martin, of the British Columbia Court of Appeal, declared that Canada's "powers fell short of what people generally expect as those of a full-fledged nation." So far as Canada's claim to being an independent nation was concerned His Lordship said that "any one of the States across the border can do anything which the whole of Canada cannot do without resort to an amendment to the British North America Act," and he explained that both in jurisprudence and in Parliament, Canada is limited by the terms of that Act.

Partner nations of equal status, is the constitutional principle that should be made to apply in regard to the Dominions of the Empire, Mr. Justice Martin said.

Bad Floods in the West

BRANDON, Man., May 4 (Canadian Press.)— Flood conditions in this city and at points further West along the Assiniboine River, which overflowed its banks on Monday, assumed alarming proportions early yesterday afternoon.

The river was rising steadily, and since Tuesday night a total rise of seventeen and one-half inches was recorded here.

No loss of life has been reported yet, but heavy loss to seeded fields and to live stock is likely to result.

FIELD MARSHAL HAIG RECEIVES AN HONOR.

GLASGOW, May 4 (Canadian Press). — Field-Marshal Haig and Sir James M. Barrie were yesterday formally installed respectively as Chancellor and Rector of St. Andrew's University, with the ceremony and incidents customary to such functions. These included the bestowal of honorary degrees on Ellen Terry, Squire Bancroft, Thomas Hardy, John Galsworthy, and others.

GOVERNMENT WILL BROADCAST RADIO.

WINNIPEG, May 4.—(Canadian Press.)—The Manitoba Government telephone system will enter the radio broadcasting business on a commercial basis shortly, John Lowry, Telephone Commissioner, announced to-day. Legislative control of amateur wireless and radio machines will be sought at the next sitting of the Legislature, Mr. Lowry said.

BUILDINGS BLOWN UP

LONDON, May 4 (Canadian Press). — A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Dublin says the police barracks at Mullingar, occupied by Irregular forces, was blown up last night, and that several buildings were burned or wrecked.

No casualties are reported.

The despatch adds that the occupants of the barracks left in lorries for Castle Pollard, chased by Regular troops.

CHINESE TROOPS HAVE FOUGHT A SEVERE BATTLE

Troops of Chang Tao-Lin Have Captured Kuan After Intense Fighting.

ANOTHER BATTLE.

PEKING, May 4.— (Canadian Press)—General Fu Pei-Fu, commander of the Chili forces, was reported last evening to have arrived near Machang, on the railroad south of Tein-Tain, to take personal charge of the operations against the troops of Chang Tso-Lin on that section of the battle-front.

Late reports are to the effect that Chang Tso-Lin is heavily reinforcing his troops in that region with men of all arms, and the indications are that Machang soon will be the centre of intense fighting. Artillery duels already have commenced over a wide front. General Wu, if he actually takes command there, will have facing him the 25 year old son of Chang Tso-Lin.

Foreign military observers with the Chinese forces report that Wu Pei-Fu recently had been directing the operations at Changsintien in an endeavor to get good results out of General Taso Kun's poor troops, pending the arrival of General Fen Yut Siang's forces, which began to reach Pactingfu, on the railway south of Peking, Tuesday. The reports are to the effect that Wu Pei-Fu's own troops have not participated in the fighting at Changsintion.

The heavy bombardment that has been in progress at various points has depleted the stores of big gun ammuntion, and the fighting iis now mainly with machine guns and rifles. At some places there has been a lull in the battle.

On the middle of the front the troops of Chank Tso-Lin have recaptured Kuan. Wounded men from that region say the fighting was heavy duting the past few day, ofen at close quarters. Teh tide of battle was continually changing until the arrival of Chang's reinforcements turned the scales.

ITALY DENIES ANY SECRET TREATIES

No Agreement of Any Kind Between Angora and Italian Governments.

GENOA, May 4. — (Canadian Press)—Regarding the alleged secret pact between Italy and the Angora Government, the Italian spokesman said last night that no pact, treaty or agreement of any kind exists betwen Italy and Angora. About two months ago, when Signor Schanzer, the Italian Foreign Minister, was in Paris for the meeting of the Allied Premiers, he received proposals form the Turkish Government Constantinople, suggesting that an agreement on economic concessions to be granted Italian firms in Asia Minor.

Having nothing to conceal the Minister showed the proposals to Premier Poincare and Lord Curzon, who made objection to them.

Signor Schanzer replied favorably the proposal, and, according to the spokesman, is awaiting a letter pledging the Turkish Government to grant the concessions agreed upon. When the letter arrives it will be immediately communicated to France and Great Britain.

REPORT WAS WRONG.

GENOA, May 4 (Canadian Press) —The Belgian delegation to the Economic Conference yesterday officially declared that the report circulated on Tuesday to the effect that Foreign Minister Jaspar had sent a telegram to Bussels, sugesting the recall of the Belgian delegation was without foundation.

SMALL TAX FOR ENGLISH FARMER.

LONDON, May 4 (Canadian Press). — Agriculturists' satisfaction with the Budget proposals is more than confirmed by a farther study of the provisions thereof. The concessions to the farmers mean that nearly every farmer with rent not exceeding three hundred pounds yearly will either be exempt entirely from paying income tax, or he will have to pay only a small sum when personal allowances for himself, his wife and children are considered.

NEWS IN BRIEF IN DUMMER DISTRICT.

Frost Damaged Wheat on Low Land.

WARSAW, May 4.—There was a meeting of teachers and trustees interested in the School Fair held in Warsaw School on Friday evening.

The Dummer Sunday School Annual Conventiion will be held in Bethel Church likely about the second week in June.

Wheat Damaged.

In low lying places, the frosts of last week did a good deal of damage to fall wheat and clover.

Some people have not had a team on their land . A few have some seeding, especially of spring wheat, done. The soil is to cold and damp for much rush.

Some odd cattle are out on their summer pastures, but most farmers are keeping their cattle in yet.

CIVIL SERVANTS ARE AVERSE TO OLD SYSTEM

Convention Voices Objection to a Return of the Old Patronage System.

A RESOLUTION.

OTTAWA, May 4. — (Canadian Press).—Some fifty delegates representing every province from one end of Canada to the other are now in attendance at the three day convention which opened here yesterday of the Dominion Custom and Excise Association.

The afternoon proceedings were devoted to a discussion of the Civil Service and how it might be affected if there were a return to the old days of patronage. Man after man expressed himself as unalterably opposed to any return of the patron age evil and after the discussion the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"That this convention of the Dominion Customs and Excise Officers' Association assembled, representing as it does members of the Customs and Excise Service from coast to coast, very strongly resent any attempt to revert to the patronage system which we feel to be detrimental both as regards the efficiency and economical administration of the public service, and further that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Premier, the Hon. MacKenzie King and the Press, urging upon the Government in the strongest terms possible the wisdom of giving such matters very careful consideration before allowing the introduction of any Legislation which would deprive efficient civil servants the benefits of a merit system as now provided for under the Civil Service Act."

FIRST SHIP IN IS OLD VESSEL OF HARBORMASTER.

QUEBEC, May 4. — (Canadian Press.)—The Grenmairs, a steamer coming from the Great Lakes, docked yesterday morning at the Louise Basin, where her cargo of 135,000 bushels of wheat from the west was transferred to the elevators. The Grenmairs, the first ship of this kind coming into the harbor since Captain Landry, the new harbor master, has been appointed, is the one he commanded in the English Channel during the war. Out of a fleet of seven ships of the same model used for the transfer of troops from England to France, she was the only one to escape the German submarine torpedoes and mines.

DR. BARKER'S LECTURES.

In bringing Dr. Barker, noted lecturer, to Peterborough, the Rotary Club were actuated by the desire to be of service to the community. That they succeeded in their object is a simple statement of fact. It is safe to say that the people of Peterborough have never had the opportunity of hearing vital truths discussed in such a frank, forcible, straight-from-the-shoulder manner as Dr. Barker used in his lectures yesterday afternoon and evening. Over eleven hundred women heard his message in the afternoon and nearly one thousand men were present at night, and the results cannot fail to be beneficial in their effect upon the community.

Dr. Barker left thoughts with his audiences that will live long in their memory, and it is certain that every father, every mother, and every prospective parent left the Grand Opera House with a new conception of their duty and responsibility, and with a fresh resolve that their children will, if anything they can do to achieve that result will have that effect, escape some of the pitfalls that they themselves may not have succeeded in evading.

Dr. Barker made the duty of parents stand out so clear that there was no dodging it. It was a message that Peterborough, like every other community, needed, and this city owes a debt of gratitude to the members of the Rotary Club, who met all the expenses of Dr. Barker's visit in order that the people of Peterborough should have the opportunity of hearing his impressive addresses.

SHOULD BE RETAINED.

The consensus of opinion even among those citizens who believe that the Council should have inaugurated a wage-cutting campaign among the civic officials this year, seems to agree with The Examiner that the request of the former relief officer for a more adequate salary should have received more favourable consideration. Mr. Miller, after long years of service, was at the bottom of the civic list; his duties had nevertheless increased to such an extent that it was necessary for him to give up the position of truant officer, the remuneration for which had been used to supplement his saalry as relief officer. That he was efficient is admitted by every one. Members of the Charity Board who have been associated with him for many years, are unanimous in the opinion that the city has lost a most valuable public servant, whose work has ever been reliable and in the best interest of the municipality. Men of his calibre, with a record for good service, should not be driven out of the public employ by a parsimonious policy on the part of the Council, and The Examiner is sure that it is interpreting the wishes of the majority of the citizens correctly when it repeats its suggestion that the case should be re-opened at the earliest possible opportunity, and that an effort should be made to keep Mr. Miller in the city's service.

A STIMULUS TO BUILDING.

Mr. Tooms, M.P.P., sends The Examiner an interesting suggestion in regard to an exemption of taxes on new dwellings as a stimulus to building. Here is his letter:

Toronto, 2nd May, 1922.

Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—While in conversation with a gentleman from New York, U.S.A., I learned that the city of New York, in order to help out the present economic stress, had exempted all new buildings for residences, from taxation for a period of 10 years, with the consequent result that the building trade is booming. No wage disputes, but satisfactory wages are being paid. In a membership of 25,000 of the Carpenters' Union of New York, everyone is working, and things are flourishing generally. This seems of interest, and I send it for what it is worth.

While a spurt is on in the building trade, I hope it will continue and that property will be sold etc. Is such an act worth considering for a period of five years for the city of Peterborough?

Yours truly, T. Tooms.

The New York plan as a remedy for abnormal conditions seems to possess considerable merit. A bonus in the form of tax exemption for ten years would be an attractive proposition to many people, especially in thes days of high taxation, and no doubt the encouragement thus offered would result in a building boom that would provide a large amount of employment. On the other side of the ledger, of course, would be the loss of revenue the municipality would sustain and the difficulty that would arise as to how long such a system should be maintained in force. If new dwellings were to be exempted this year, people who built next year would expect the same concessions, and there would be a difficult task in drawing the line. Nevertheless, Mr. Tooms' leter touches upon a subject that is of much interest.

UPHOLDING THE LAW.

Hamilton had a May Day procession yesterday which degenerated into a riot. Who was responsible? Obviously the demonstrators, says the Hamilton Spectator. The Union Jack was missing, and, against the orders of the police ,the red flag of rebellion was carried, a scuffle taking place when its surrender was demanded. In such a case there could be no capitulation on the part of the police; if persuasion would not suffice, force was the only alternative. The law must be respected and administrative authority obeyed. The fact that the reds subsequently held their meeting, and indulged in the freest expression of their sentiments, is sufficient to show that the right of free speech was fully respected; it was the action of flaunting the flag of revolution, calculated to lead to a breach of the peace, to which resentment was taken. The prompt intervention of the police will serve to impress upon the disaffected that they cannot openly flout the laws of Canada in this loyal city of Hamilton, without inviting trouble for themselves.

The charge against the accused was that they failed to display the British ensign in the procession. The bylaw in this regard should always be honoured. When for the national flag is substituted the emblem of anarchy, it is certainly time for the law to put its foot down firmly. Bolshevists are just as much amenable to law, outside of Russia—where they are held to even stricter account to the Soviet ordinances—as any other people. They may regard themselves as a law unto themselves, but, if so, it is necessary to undeceive them. They are at liberty to hold whatever views they like, but, so long as they choose to live in a law-abiding community, they must submit to the laws of that community. No individual or faction is above the law in this democratic country; majority rules—and the majority are in favour of constitutional government, maintenance of law and order, parliamentary representation, support of authority, progressive reforms, as against the annihilating regime which has stretched a great nation prostrate in the dust.

THE ART OF SWIMMING.

In providing an opportunity for the school boys of Peterborough to learn the useful art of swimming, the Y.M.C.A. is doing a work upon which it deserves general thanks. Undoubtedly good results will be obtained from the special classes arranged by the association, for under competent instruction it is surprising how quickly the elementary principles of the pastime are grasped by mere youngsters. The Y.M.C.A. plan is a much more promising one than that which the City Council will endeavour to inaugurate in connection with the municipal swimming beaches this summer. It has been decided to advertise for caretakers qualified to give instruction in the art of swimming. That is rather a large order, so far as Inverlea Park is concerned, for it is a rather perplexing problem to imagine how a man is to maintain order around the dressing rooms and the park generally and at the same time be available for swimming lessons. Two men are really required at Inverlea Park to provide the service that is evidently expected this year. An expert swimmer who could give lessons to beginners and at the same time act as a life-guard for the protection of swimmers who get into trouble, is a necessity at Inverlea, which, although possessing many advantages for good swimmers, is not without its element of danger for novices. There is at times a treacherous current that is liable to sweep a weak swimmer down the river, and although there are life-buoys at the park, they would be of little use in an emergency of this kind. If the Council wishes to provide adequate protection and at the same time to make swimming instruction possible for those who need it, they will have to keep an expert swimmer on duty during the bathing hours. Taking care of the park and bathing houses is a duty that is difficult to combine with the life-guard's work.

THE GROUP SYSTEM IN ONTARIO.

The Legislature of Ontario affords an instructive illustration of the group system. For three years the Farmer-Labor Coalition has governed with a bare majority or with no majority at all. The Liberal group will not endanger the Government when to do so would give an advantage to the Conservatives. A majority of the Conservatives hesitate to support any proposal from the Liberal branches. Thus a minority may control the Legislature and only such measures can be enacted as the Farmers and Labor can agree to support.

This, however, is not the most serious weakness which has developed in Ontario. It is found that the Government cannot make headway with its legislation. There is always the possibility that the two old parties may unite. No measure can be submitted or advanced until it is certain that a majority can be secured. Ministers cannot act with assurance or confidence. Measures are delayed if the outlook is uncertain; they are abandoned if the two old parties are opposed, or if there is less than absolute unity among the supporters of the Coalition. Time is wasted in interminable debate and in the laborious manoeuvring necessary to discover whether or not a division will give the Government a majority.

It may be said that a like situation would arise under the two-party system if the Government could not command a reasonable working majority. But in the Legislature of Ontario there are two Opposition parties, neither of which is willing to have the Government beaten except upon an issue of its own choosing. Under the two-party system a minority government would be summarily turned out of office. Under the group system a hesitating and impotent Cabinet may live through division among its opponents. There is also the danger of trading in offices and appropriations, and delay or denial of legislation which is imperatively required in the public interest. No Government can be efficient and vigorous which is insecure and no Opposition can be useful or effective if it is willing to wound but afraid to kill. There is, therefore, all-round loss of parliamentary efficiency and sacrifice in great degree of the independence which the group system is supposed to develop and strengthen.

The Legislature of Ontario goes on from week to week in comparative impotency and sterility. With a less skillful leader than Mr. Drury the Coalition would have gone to pieces long ago. There is no doubt that much that he desired to do has been left undone, but he has done very little that he would rather not have done in order to remain in office. Over and over again Mr. Drury has declared for a people's party as against a class party. He realizes that no one class of the community can legislate wisely and effectively for all classes. It is as necessary that the commercial and professional interests should be represented in Governments as that farmers and labor should be represented. Moreover, every minister is weaker and less free to consider the general public interest if he is responsible to a class or group rather than to the great body of the electorate. He find it more difficult to get the support of other elements for his legislation, and in many cases is actually less influential in protecting the interests of the class to which he belongs.

Under all the circumstances the Coalition Government of Ontario has not done badly, but Mr. Drury himself knows that he could have done better with a cohesive party representing all classes and with ministers taken from all elements of the people. What has happened in Ontario and in Manitoba may happen at Ottawa. A Government which lacks a parliamentary majority must be embarrassed by many perplexities and difficulties and no set of ministers depending upon separate groups and interests can govern with such efficiency and authority as a Cabinet supported by a national party and reasonably independent of class and sectional interests.—Montreal Star.

LINKS "ALIMONY" WITH "OBEY"

Divorce Courts Will Refuse Former Without Latter, Asserts Bishop.

CHICAGO, May 3.—If the word "obey" is left out of the marriage ceremony by the bride the word "alimony" will be left out of decisions by the courts if the marriage goes on the rocks, in the opinion of the Right Rev. Irving F. Johnson, Bishop of the Episcopal Church of Colorado, who has expressed himself editorially in The Witness, a church weekly, of which he is the editor in chief.

"I notice that the woman who wishes to eliminate the word "obey" still desires to be supported after her divorce by the man from whom she is getting the divorce," Bishop Johnson says.

"If we scrap 'obey' must we not scrap 'alimony' also, and if the two are, as we are told, identically equal, then why cannot the man sue for alimony as well as the woman," he continued. "Of course, if we cut out 'obey' mere man can come in and ask to have the endowment with worldly goods eliminated also, as the two are identically equal. Or perhaps if the woman has the money and the man has not, she might do the endowing.

"In marriage I take obedience to mean that if the man is responsible for making a living, then he must have the privilege of making it where he can, and the woman must obey his reasonable demand that she does not run up bills beyond the capacity of his income. When the wife has succeeded in discarding all obedience the man either obeys her or they get divorce.

"America has ridiculed the word 'obey' out of court in family life and the divorce court is providing that the theorists are having their way. Let us go on eliminating existing authority because it is not perfect and we will have anarchy. Let us go on advising everybody that they can have privileges without assuming the responsibility that goes with the privilege and we will have bedlam."

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN COULDN'T SLEEP NIGHT

To those on the verge of a nervous breakdown the following symptoms present themselves: nervous headaches, a feeling of depression, fitful, disturbed, restless and unrefreshing sleep, often troubled with frightful dreams, avoidance of crowded places, dread of being alone, horror of society, etc.

When the nerves become affected in this way the heart generally becomes affected too, and on the first signs of any weakness of the heart or nerves, flagging energy or physical breakdown do not wait until your case becomes hopeless, but get a remedy that will at once quieten the nerves, strengthen the heart and build up the entire system.

This you will find in

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS.

Mrs. M. Damgand, Young's Cove Road, N.B., writes: "I was bothered very much with my heart and nerves; had nervous headaches and dizziness, could not sleep at nights, and my appetite was all gone. I was on a nervous breakdown when a neighbor told me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. This I did, and before I had the second box used I was better and would advise anyone who has nerve trouble to take them."

FEAR RETALIATION BY CANADIANS.

Senator Smoot Stresses Phases of Trade With Canada.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(By Canadian Press)—Senator Smoot in a recent speech on the flexible features of the tariff bill, discussed some phases of trade with Canada. He dwelt much on the fact the finance committee of the Senate, in reporting the bill knocked out section 302 of the measure as it passed the House. This is the section which authorizes the President to impose 'penalty duties' on specific products of a country which imposes unreasonable duties or exactions on like United States products. Senator Smoot declared this an unwise policy and that the finance committee intended to apply one tariff to all alike—except Cuba—and force all countries to give the United States products treatment equal to that which they give to other countries generally.

Speaking of all objection of applying section 302 to Canada Senator Smoot said:

"Even where this section is applicable there is no reason to suppose that it will effect its purpose of reducing the foreign tariff rate. Take for instance the case of duties upon automobiles, in regard to which the House bill made the application of this principle mandatory—though I shall call it rather a method or device than a principle. The manufacturers have asked for a rate of only 25 per cent ad valorem; they do not fear extensive competition in the American market. On the other hand, in 1920 they surmounted a barrier of 35 per cent and sold $44,000,000 worth in Canada alone. Canada is a small country and this amount represents very serious competition. Do you think that the Canadians are going to lower their protective barrier and expose a market which it may well be argued is already insufficiently protected merely for the sake of trying to invade the market of the country which makes more automobiles than the rest of the world put together? Similarly in other cases the application of section 302 would not be likely to result in a reduction of foreign duties on articles which we export in large quantities.

"The more we export of the given article, the more likely it is that our duty thereon will be low and that section 302 might be applicable; but if a foreign country finds a high duty necessary to protect that industry, the more we export of the article the more certain is that country to maintain that protection against us. Needing protection in the home market they surely cannot compete in ours. Then why should they expose their own industry merely to obtain a reduction of our tariff rate? It follows that the only cause in which it could be reasonably expected that section 302 would be succesful in reducing foreign rates is in respect to products of which we import larger quantities than we export. Therefore the very condition upon which the successful application of the device rests shows its futility—it is a device for promoting export trade in those products with which we can not supply our own demand.

"Another reason for striking out section 302 of the House bill and the similar provisions relating to automobiles and motorcycles is that in so far as they could be applied they would discriminate first of all against Canada. Great Britain and France. These countries are most friendly toward us. Germany, on the other hand, would not be affected—except as she would obtain a competitive advantage through the higher duties on other automobiles.

"The danger of retaliation is a fourth reason for striking out the measures under discussion. In the defense of the United States standard of living we have proposed in this bill many substantial rates of duty, higher than those found in Canada, Great Britain, Japan, and the countries of continental Europe whose standard of living do not call for—such high production. It would, therefore, not be wise for us to enact this formula for measuring our tariff rates by those of foreign countries without a serious examination of the scope and effect of the retaliation to which we might be exposed should foreign countries adopt the same device."

THE STONE AGE IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Existed Up to as Late as a Century Ago.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 3.—(Canadian Press).—The stone age, which, after making the cave man famous, came to an end in Western Europe about 1700 B. C., was carried on for more than three thousand years later, and in its most characteristic form existed in British Columbia up until as late as a century ago in some districts, according to findings of archaeologists who have been exploring some of the old community sites, mounds and aboriginal graves along the coast and in the interior of the Province.

The stone age in British Columbia has for years been the study of scientists of note, who have been working the field in an effort to build up the story of the evolution of the prehistoric civilization as exemplified in the tribes of human beings who worked out their existence between the Rockies and the coast. Valuable collections have been obtained. It is only recently that British Columbia has, in an effective way, turned its attention to the past. Under Premier Oliver the Provincial Museum has been partially rebuild and the collections put on exhibition.

The aboriginal occupants of this country belonged to the neolithic, or new stone age, according to the specimens. The specimens came from old village sites and burying places. Stone and bone tools were in common use when the first white explorers reached the North Pacific, although iron and copper in small quantities were also found nearly of art. One of the feature objects in the exhibit is a copy of a human figure seated holding a bowl. It was chipped out of a solid block of stone and then polished off smoothly. There are two of these specimens everywhere. In some instances the native races had developed a degree very much alike. One was discovered near Departure Bay, Nanaimo, and the other in North Saanich, on Vancouver Island.

Perhaps most characteristic of the stone age are the stone axes and hammers discovered in many places. They are almost identical with the tools of the neolithic man found in Europe. The stone weapons include daggers and war clubs. There are many examples of stone dishes, hewn out of small boulders. Of what appear to be rolling pins of a somewhat angular design the prehistoric woman of this coast seems to have been well supplied. These instruments, made of solid stone, have been found in many places.

Primitive man in British Columbia apparently did a little smoking once in a while. Old shell mounds on the Thompson and Fraser Rivers have yielded what appear to be stone pipes. The early explorers found that the native races were using a true tobacco, nicotina attenuata, which grows wild in the Thompson River country, and was smoked along with grease and kinnikinick.

The Price Label in the Coat Pocket

Inside the inside breast pocket of the Semi-ready garment is the trade name and the exact value of each garment.

Without the name "Semi-ready" no garment can be warranted genuine Semi-ready tailored by the Semi-ready Company.

For a quarter of a century this fair price policy has protected the Buyer from spurious imitation.

The price is based on the cost of the cloth in the garment. The higher the cost per yard the higher the cost of the gaerment. And expert judges of wool and fabric value know what the cloth is worth as well as what it costs.

EPWORTH LEAGUE MILLBROOK HELD ANNUAL MEETING

Officers Elected—Miss E. Hetherington Again Heads Organization — Budget of Village News.

MILLBROOK, May 4.—The annual meeting of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church was held on Monday evening, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Tucker, occupying the chair. The officers for the past year, all of whom were present, gave very encouraging reports of the work done during the ten months, from September to June, when the league holds its meetings. The President, Miss Estelle Hetherington, who has held that office for a number of years, and was re-elected on Monday night, stated that she had never had an executive who were so faithful in discharging the duties of their respective offices. Though the number of members and the average attendance were both below that of previous years, yet that fact was accounted for by the organization and activity of the 'teen age boys' and girls' societies, which were now carrying on on a prosperous basis.

The pastor also emphasized the point that the league had trained and provided the leaders necessary for these other organizations, and to their efficiency the success of the later organized work was, in a large measure, due.

The 5th Vice-President, Miss Burnham, reported that the Junior League was no longer in existence as in had been merged, in February, in a C.G.I.T. group, which now numbered 16 girls.

The Treasurer of the Forward Movement, Miss Lila Pethick, reported that a total of $110.05 had been raised during the year, and the required $100 was forwarded to Toronto, being the league's share of Rev. Mr. Hibbart's salary; the latter being our missionary in China

WARDEN OF COUNTY

J. C. STRICKLAND.

Reeve of Lakefield and Warden of Peterborough County; prominent in the councils of the Conservative Association in East Peterborough, and a popular curler who is well known throughout this district wherever the great winter game is played. Warden Strickland not only brought the honour of the wardenship to his town, but the also took a leading part in the effort that secured for Lakefield its commodious curling and skating rink. The fact that he is highly esteemed by the members of the County Council carries a special testimony of character.

for the Peterborough district.

The following officers were elected:

President—Miss Estelle Hetherington.

1st Vice-President—Mr. Irwin Hatherly.

2nd Vice-President—Mrs. G. W. Sayles.

3rd Vice-President—Mrs. P. Stinson.

4th Vice-President—Mr. Arnold Raper.

Forward Movement Secretary—Miss Marian Spence.

Recording Secretary—Miss Alice Stewart.

Corresponding Secretary—Miss Phyllis Richards.

Organist—Miss Lila Pethick.

Assistant Organist—Miss May Byam.

On motion, it was decided to ask the Tuxis Boys to be responsible, under Mr. A. Raper's leadership, for the fourth meeting of each month, which is in connection with the Citizenship Department, and the C.G.I.T. group for the fifth Monday, whenever there is one, during the year, thus linking up these organizations with the league work. It was also decided, on motion of the President, that the mentors of the 'teen age societies, Messrs. J. L. Byam, Frank Alcorn and C. Garside, Mrs. (Rev.) Tucker and Miss Pearl Burnham should be ex-officio members of the league executive.

The President announced that Mr. W. S. Given, who spent the winter in the South with his daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Ellis, will give a talk on some of the events of his trip, and especially of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, next Monday, May 8th, at 7.45 p.m., and urged a large attendance to hear what would undoubtedly be a most interesting and instructive address.

The slides on Muskoka views, which were to have concluded the evening, having failed to arrive, the meeting was dismissed with the benediction.

News Paragraphs.

Mrs. A. G. E. Westmacott left on Tuesday at noon for an extended visit with her sisters in Winnipeg and Vancouver, expecting to be away until September. Miss Jean Macnamara, of Toronto, will accompany Mrs. Westmacott as far as Fort William, where she will visit her married sister. Miss Rose Macnamara also went as far as Toronto, and after a visit there with her brother, intends spending the summer at her home in Orillia.

Next Sunday, May 7th, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed in the Methodist Church, and there will also be a reception service for new members, when quite a number intend uniting with the church, doubtless as a result of the union "Mission" evangelistic meetings recently conducted here by Rev. T. A. Woods, of Iroquois, and also as the outcome of "Decision Day," which was observed in the Sunday School under the pastor's direction soon after the special services closed.

The new books, recently purchased for the Methodist Sunday School library, arrived last week, and have been placed on the shelves. As soon as the catalogues are printed the books will be available for use. About $50 worth were bought from a Toronto firm, and these with the large number exchanged with the Colborne S. S., constitute a fine selection for readers to choose from.

The roads in all directions out from the village being in comparatively good condition for the past week, the number of cars, both used and new ones, seen upon the streets is increasing daily.

Ministers Meet.

The Ministerial Association held their May meeting on Monday in the Anglican S. S. Hall, at 9.30 a.m., the President, Rev. S. T. Tucker, being in the chair. There was a good attendance of members, and Rev. Andrew McLaughlin, of Pontypool, gave an excellent paper on "Expository Preaching." An interesting discussion followed, and the meeting was dismissed in the usual manner, to meet again the first Monday in June.

EMILY RESIDENT TRAMPED UNDER FOOT BY HORSE

Thomas McQuade Suffers Serious Accident Which Might Have Proved Fatal —Omemee and District News.

OMEMEE, May 4.—A very serious accident, which might have proved fatal, occurred to Mr. Thomas McQuade on Saturday evening. When arriving home from town he drove into the barn as was his usual custom and while his son was getting the lantern he began unhitching the horse. Whether he unfastened all the harness is not known but the horse became frightened and knocked Mr. McQuade down, tramping on him and breaking four ribs and also his nose. The buggy was also wrecked, having the spokes all out of one wheel and the dashboard broken off.

Sudden Death.

The many friends in Omemee of Mr. Walter Elliot, Inspector of Toronto Public schools, learned with regret of his sudden death in Toronto, on Sunday. Mr. Elliott was a son of the late Mr. William and Mrs. Elliot of Omemee, and received his early education at the Omemee school, after at Queen's University receiving his B. A. and later the degree of Ph. B. at the Illinois State University. He then entered the teaching profession and has filled important positions in Hamilton and Toronto Normal schools. He was made Inspector of the Toronto public schools 12 years ago, which office he filled until his death. His frequent visits to Omemee were always looked forward to, and the older citizens of town enjoyed to hear of his continued progress. Much sympathy is extended to his bereaved widow and three children, Misses Wilhelmina and Mary and James, also three sisters, Mrs. Stillman of Omemee, Mrs. George Hart and Miss Blanche Elliot of Toronto, also one brother, Ben, of Western Canada.

RADIO CLUB HAS BEEN ORGANIZED IN CAMPBELLFORD

Mrs. G. A. Kingston Elected President of Methodist W. M. S.—Play at Burnbrae.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 4.—The regular meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church was held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Ashton, with a large attendance present, and the election of officers taking place as follows:

President—Mrs. G. A. Kingston.

1st Vice-President—Miss L. Boyce.

2nd Vice-President—Mrs. W. J. Stanbury.

3rd Vice-President—Mrs. W. E. Carnahan.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. T. L. Diamond.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. L. A. Denike.

Treasurer—Mrs. C. W. Turner.

Superintendents of Mite Boxes—Mrs. Joseph Hore and Mrs. Duncan Clark.

Strangers' Secretary—Mrs. L. F. Gould.

Superintendent of Christian Stewardship—Mrs. Robt. Moore.

Watch-tower—Mrs. G. W. Hammond, Mrs. A. Winters, Mrs. S. Johnston and Mrs. W. Phillips.

A very pleasing duet was sweetly rendered by Mrs. R. J. Smith and Mrs. I. T. Frederick.

The past year has been a most successful one in the W.M.S. and the executive and members feel very gratified over the year's work.

Campbellford Radio Club.

Early last week a meeting was held for the purpose of organizing a Campbellford Radio Club. A large number of those interested were in attendance, and the following officers were elected:

President—Rev. C. J. Phelan.

Secretary—Mr. I. A. Humphries.

Treasurer—Mr. J. A. Stewart.

Committees were also formed, and at a meeting of the committees on Monday night it was decided to secure members and arrange for apparatus, etc.

Radio clubs have been formed in other towns with much success, and there is no doubt but that the club will be ably supported by Campbellford citizens.

"Old-Fashioned Mother."

The play, "The Old-Fashioned Mother," presented by the young people of St. Andrew's Church, Burnbrae, was an unqualified success. The cast, which was a strong one, was composed as follows: Old-fashioned mother (Mrs. Underhill), taken by Miss Gladys Meiklejohn; Widow Perkins, Miss Nellie Jeffs; Widow Perkins, daughter, Miss Helen Oddie; Mr. Quackenbush (bachelor), Mr. Murray Meiklejohn; a spinster, Miss Helen Haig; Widow Underhill's son (tramp), Lindsay Anderson, and his wife, Miss Marjorie Rannie; Mrs. Underhill's hired girl, Miss Lottie Thain; Sheriff, Jack Rannie; clown, Mr. Thomas Chaplin; prodigal son, Mr. Max Oddie.

Each of the actors took his or her part with the greatest of credit and each seemed particularly adapted for the role filled. Between acts Mrs. Charles Milne rendered a solo very sweetly and Miss Hazel McKenzie's reading was thoroughly appreciated by the large audience present.

The proceeds of the evening amounted to $113, which will be used to help defray the expense of installing the electric lights in the church. The congregation and young people are to be congratulated upon the success of their entertainment.

Personal Mention.

Friends of Mrs. Cairns will regret to learn that she is in a Peterborough hospital, but all wish her a most speedy recovery.

Major Clifton of the Electrical Inspection Department was in town on Tuesday.

Mrs. Russell Maynard of Cornwall is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Maynard.

PROGRAM FOR ARBOR DAY AT HASTINGS TOWN

Will Plant "Memorial Avenue" to Keep For Ever Green Memory of Soldier Heroes.

HASTINGS, May 4.—All preparations are completed for the celebration here of Arbor Day, Friday, May 5, by planting with trees a memorial avenue to keep forever green the memory of soldiers from this district who made the supreme sacrifice in the great World War.

The order of proceedings is as follows:

The band, the veterans, the school children with their flags, the local company of 40th Northumberland Regiment and others will form in a procession at the Town Hall, march along Albert street, down Victoria street, along Front street and up Bridge street to where the planting takes place.

Opening address by the President, Rev. C. S. Bretherton.

Ode To Trees.

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.

A tree whose hungry mouth is prest
Against the Earth's sweet flowing breast;

A tree that looks at God all day,
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;

A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;

Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.

Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.
—Joyce Kilmer, afterwards killed in the Great War.

BRYAN ASKS 5 QUESTIONS.

Would Have Professor Sign Statement He is Descendant of an Ape.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., May 3—Five new questions propounded by Willian Jennings Bryan are playing a part in the decision of Dr. R. C. Spangler, Professor of Botany at West Virginia University, as to whether he will accept a cheque for $100.00 from Mr. Bryan which the Professor claimed as his reward for answering certain questions on evolution put by the former Secretary of State in a recent address here. Dr. Spangler said he would refuse to answer the five questions which follow:

"Are you willing to put in writing and sign a statement declaring that you believe that you are the descendant of an ape?

'Do you believe in the miracles as reported in the Old and New Testaments?

"Do you believe in the supernatural as recorded in the Old and New Testaments?

"Do you believe in the Virgin birth of Christ as reported in the Gospel?

"Do you believe that Christ appeared to His disciples after His resurrection as recorded in the concluding verses of the last chapter of Matthew, and made His claim to power—all power in Heaven and in earth; sent His followers out to make disciples of all nations, and promised to be with them always, even unto the end of the world?"

Soak coloured things half an hour (white things one hour, two hours, over night or whatever time is convenient) in Rinso suds.

Soak the Dirt out.

THERE is such a simple easy way of washing rompers, school ginghams, play clothes etc., that you won't mind how many there are—thanks to Rinso.

First, make the wonderful Rinso liquid. Take half a packet of Rinso, thoroughly dissolve it in cool water, and add two quarts of boiling water. Then lay your clothes to soak in the tub of cool or lukewarm water. After one, two or three hours or in the morning give them a thorough rinsing and the dirt just runs away. No need to rub on the wash board so that holes come and colour goes.

Rinso is a wonderful product, scientifically made to wash clothes by soaking — different from soaps, chips and washing powders, and used differently.

Do not put Rinso into the tub from the package, but make the Rinso liquid first.

IF YOU USE A WASHING MACHINE

Follow directions as above. After soaking the clothes wring them into machine, add enough fresh Rinso liquid, operate and rinse, and you will have the sweetest, cleanest clothes you ever saw.

Your Convalescing Child needs "Ovaltine"

The mother's difficulty after a child's illness is to induce the little invalid to take sufficient nourishment to restore strength, and at the same time supply the needs of the growing tissues. Much food is revolting to a delicate appetite and creates digestive disorder.

OVALTINE
TONIC FOOD BEVERAGE

Physicians recommend "Ovaltine" as a tonic food beverage for convalescing or weakly children. It is made from ripe barley malt, creamy milk and fresh eggs, flavored with cocoa. One cup of the beverage contains more nourishment than 3 eggs, 7 cups of cocoa or 12 cups of beef tea. It is delicious; the children love it.

Bilious Headache

WITH many people bilious headache returns so regularly that it may be described as a habit.

By eating too much or of foods which do not agree and by taking too little exercise the liver becomes torpid and sluggish and the bowels constipated.

Then comes the bilious spell, when the liver can no longer control the bile and the whole system is poisoned and upset.

But this bilious habit can be broken up, and you can get away from these periodical headaches if you will use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in order to keep the liver and bowels in condition.

This treatment affords relief promptly. But, better than that, it prevents biliousness and headaches if taken at the first indication of trouble. By correcting your eating habits and using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills occasionally you can get away from this annoying ailment entirely.

TERRIBLE HEADACHES

Mrs. A. F. Letts, South Fork, Sask., writes: "I suffered from terrible headaches, so severe I thought sometimes I would go crazy from them. No remedy I ever tried helped me until I used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Since using them I can say I am never troubled with headaches now, and feel much better generally."

Experts Prepare to Study Static During Summer

Radio fans may expect to hear of radical progress in the development of the science this summer.

That is the time when a lull will come in the use of receiving and broadcasting. The heat will keep the amateurs and novices outside, while atmospheric interference will make it hard for transmission and reception.

But it is just this time for which radio engineers are waiting.

"Static" Problem.

One of their greatest problems is the elimination of static. That will be at its peak during the warm days. For this reason Government and other radio experts are preparing to make all sorts of experiments with radio apparatus in order to reduce as far as possible this form of interference. Tests have been made in tropical countries, but the engineers say the conclusions formed at these tests may not apply in the temperate zones in summer.

Dr. Louis Cohen, consulting engineer of the U. S. Signal Corps and chief of the Army Radio Research, has been making a special study of radio disturbances. He has made several experiments at army stations in Texas, where he found much static interference on which to base his studies.

Studies Continued.

During the warm days in the northern part of the country, Dr. Cohen will continue his studies and expects to perfect a plan by which atmospheric interference can be eliminated. He is said already to have invented an instrument which will eliminate "strays," or foreign disturbances.

Engineers for private radio manufacturing and broadcasting firms also report activity in the study of static elimination. They are only awaiting the dog days, when static will be so troublesome as to make it almost impossible to receive signals.

Then will be the ideal time for their experiments.

The inventor of the friction match is unknown.

A.Y.P.A. MINSTREL SHOW WAS VERY ENTERTAINING

Quaint Costumes and Excellent Talent Commended.

The Parish Hall of St. John's Church was filled last evening for the presentation of the minstrel show held under the auspices of the A. Y. P. A. of St. John's, arranged under the direction of its President, Miss Jean Horsfield.

An entertaining programme was rendered by the minstrels, a bright, good-looking group of young men and women, the latter in quaint, old-fashioned costumes, with pannier'd skirts and powdered hair, against a cheerful background, with pendant strings of vari-colored artificial flowers making an effective decoration. Specialties in the second part were introduced by dancing and conjuring exhibitions.

Bright Opening Chorus.

The minstrels were introduced by a brief prologue pronounced by their interlocutor, J. Yarnold, and a bright opening chorus, "Pick Me Up and Lay Me Down in Dear Old Dixieland," the choristers in excellent, tuneful voice, and the four "black face" end men, Messrs. Geo. Wesley, Elmer Brown, H. H. Lush and George Benton, disporting themselves in kinky wigs, white trousers and red and green coats, with prominent wing-tip collars outlining their dusky countenances. They had a rapid-fire line of new jokes, with some telling hits for local celebrities. The musical numbers, well received and loudly applauded in every instance, included several melodious numbers, with ensemble chorus; a pretty number, "Never Mind," by Miss Ruby Quartermaine, a dainty selection by Miss K. Cuffe, "April Showers," and songs that ranged from sentimental to humorous, by Messrs. Bob Moore, "When the Tide Comes In," Elmer Brown, "Kate," H. H. Lush, "Do I, Yes I Do," F. Tomlinson, "Swanee River Moon," George Benton, "Sweet Hortense," Chas. Perry, "Swing Me in the Moonlight," George Wesley, "Dapper Dan," concluding with a duet by the Misses R. Quartermaine and O. Hesselgrave, "Down Texas Way."

Graceful Dances.

Part Two opened with a pretty, graceful interpretative dance, illustrating the hopes of a poor gypsy. Repeated encores greeted this well-executed number, by the Misses M. Kirn and E. Conpor, in costumes of red and yellow.

"A Few Minutes in Laughland," introduced George Wesley, in funeral black suit, with white socks and infinitesimal straw hat, whose ideas on municipal affairs and local allusions made a decided hit.

Dave Quinlan was obliged to repeat his exhibition of nimble soft shoe dancing, and joined with George Wesley in an exhilarating waltz clog; the Misses S. Hood and N. Horn gave a dainty little dance, "Molly-O," in boy and girl outfits of emerald green and white, and H. H. Lush proved a very popular entertainer in his role of conjuror, his feats including an exhibition of modern spirit writing on sealed slates, Lee Hang Chang's famous canister mystery, in which cans of colored paper and bran, by a wave of the magician's wand, are transmuted into colored silk handkerchiefs, and a magic cornucopia of pretty flowers. Mr. Lush also gave a lightning exhibition of cartoon work, transforming, among other things, the parrot into the lady and the baby into the dangerous vamp, with a few strokes of his swift crayon.

A Lovely Minuet.

The programme concluded with a lovely minuet, beautifully done by sixteen young ladies, eight as pretty ladies in gowns with pointed bodices and fichus, and eight as youths with powdered hair, ruffled bosoms and suits of satin and silk. The Misses A. Shelton, D. Tyre, M. Shelton, L. McClelland, L. Farthing, G. Hood, O. Hesselgrave, H. Crowe, M. Evans, G. Watson, A. Horn, N. Austin, M. Lawrence, F. Hutchinson, K. Cuffe, and G. Nichols took part in this number, with the entire company joining in the final chorus, "When Shall We Meet Again?"

The Vicar's Appreciation.

Rev. Dr. Blagrave expressed the appreciation of the church and its members to the A.Y.P.A. and its President, Miss Jean Horsfield, for the steadiness and enthusiasm manifested in their practices for the excellent minstrel show, and also thanked those contributing artists who were not members of the association or of the church.

Mr. George Wesley acted as director of the performance, Mr. H. H. Lush as manager, and Mrs. G. G. Evans as musical director. The music rendered by the orchestra added considerably to the success of the affair, with Mrs. Evans at the piano, J. Nazimok, violin, K. Brown, drums, and E. Roberts, saxaphone.

MAILING CHARTS OF TRENT WATERWAY.

American Summer Tourists Looking This Way.

The mailing of the charts of the Trent Waterway to prominent Canadian and American yacht and motor boat clubs is proceeding, and the first batch will soon be on the way. As the number of these maps is limited, they have first been sent to the eighty-five American clubs with annual dues of over $50.00 a year. In this list will, of course, be found the ultra-smart and smart. As soon as these are covered, the field of the smaller clubs will be covered. There are only 14 clubs in Canada and a number of these have already received the map.

One hundred pamphlets describing the route are being sent with the maps, and the clubs are being urged to write the secretary here if further information is desired. It has not been convenient for the association to frame so many maps. Had they been able to do this, it would perhaps have made the maps even more acceptable, but the cost would have been high.

Through various channels the Waterways are being advertised, and this fact is brought clearly home by the almost daily inquiries from the States. News seems to reach these motor boat enthusiasts that there is a fine playground up here, and they hasten to make sure.

Only yesterday Mr. Frazer received a letter from Albert Coons, Lebanon, Pa., in which he stated that a party of four men are contemplating a fishing trip in this district, and inquiring the possibilities of renting a motor boat and securing a guide. They wish to start from Peterborough.

Mr. Frazer has been able to refer him to a prospective guide, but if all persons commercially interested in the tourist trade in some manner as this would write Mr. Frazer, he would appreciate it, and undoubtedly be able to send considerable business their way.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK, May 4.—(Canadian Press)—Profit taking in some of oils which featured yesterday's rise caused moderate unsettlement of prices at opening of todays stock market. Standard Oil of California eased 11-4 points and New Jersey issue rected fractionally. On other hand, Mexican oils which did not participate in yesterdays movement were firm as were also Cosden, Houston and producers and refiners Secondary motors extended their recent gains, Mack trucks rising two points. Mercantile Marine preferred, American Woolen and Brooklyn Rapid Transit were higher by fractions to one point. Rails reflected moderate pressure especially Chicago and Eastern Illinois common and preferred.

Realizing sales among yesterdays strongest features became more general during first hour, leading domestic and foreign Oils extended early losses and popular motors and independent steels lost one to 1 1-2 points. Before noon Oils became outstanding features, especially Standard Oil of New Jersey and Pacific Oil both making new high records. Call money opened at 4 1-2 percent.

Repurchase of stocks sold for short account in General list became large following excited buying of investment oil shares. Low priced members of Group were also in favor and entire market took on tone of greater confidence. General Asphalt common and preferred, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Houston Oil and Pacific Oil were marked up 2 to 3 points. American Woolen, Lacede Gas, Canadian Pac., and Rock Island were also conspicious in afternoon advance.

The Daintiest, Loveliest

Summer Frocks

You Have Set Your Eyes On!

THESE bright colored summer things have come to cheer us. Like the butterfly, they have broken their chrysallis and descended on a world tired of bleak winds and lowering clouds. They're made for the sunshine, made to keep one cool and made to make one look their prettiest. They're, truly, gay, glad affairs, and we want you to see them and know just how lovely they are.

PICTURE a Sea Green or a Maize Organdy Frock with a skirt formed of a plain panel and then another adorned with a row of pleating at equal intervals, then a plain one, then a fancy, and so on. A very wide girdle bows at the back, a wide bib front is edged with a frill and so are the short sleeves. The price is $19.75.

THIS Alice Blue Gown (Frock) is just as lovely as the one whose praises are sung so much. The material is organdie and the skirt is one frill after another from the hem to the waist, and every frill is edged with anarrow lace and so are the Bromley collar and cuffs of the sleeves. Priced at $19.50.

ORGANDY and dotted Swiss have compromised, and the result is most pleasing. A fluffy, filmy creation in a soft toned orchid shade of organdie, with a Fischu collar of white Swiss muslin with an orchid dot. This Swiss also makes the cuffs and again appears on the skirt as diamond-shaped insets. The wide bow girdle is of the organdy. Priced at $18.50.

ANOTHER number of orchid voile shows seven loose panels. They are closely frilled and de cend from beneath a very wide girdle piped with white. Three rows of frilling finish the round neck and one the sleeves. Its girlishness is so marked and its beauty so unquestionable that it will be a difficult number to resist. Priced at $21.

HOW wondrously fine this voile is, how delicate and refined the orchid tint, and what a novel and pleasing design! The skirt and overskirt are of the plain material and the overskirt has eight deep, decided points. The bodice is long and patterned with white embroidered all-over motifs. Hemstitching trims the sleeves and a single row of it joins the bodice to the skirt. Price, $17.50.

THE blushing rose never look more handsome or demure than this little Frock of rose voile with its all-over pattern of white embroidered sprays. You'll be captivated with the loose side panels that are a mass of frills, you'll adore the cute little flare sleeves with their rows of frilling that commence with a point and gradually widen out, and you'll approve of the wide tie girdle with its bow at the left side. "It sounds interesting, you say?" Well, it is infinitely more interesting than it sounds. Priced at $19.75.

"Barnet" Refrigerators on Installment Terms for the First Time!

We have never made such a proposition before and may never make it again.

It Is Your Chance to Own a Refrigerator

Make up your mind that you are not going to be one to let this offer pass. Decide at once that you are going to own a Barnet, and rid yourself for all time of the annoyance and the trouble of "trying" to keep house without a refrigerator. Now, this is your opportunity to own the finest refrigerator ever produced, on terms that have never been offered before. You must act at once for there are only a limited number to be had on the time payment plan.

The Barnet Is Unrivalled

A drain pipe in a refrigerator possesses all the evils and dangers of a sewer pipe.

The Barnet has no drain pipe. Nothing but a trap at the bottom of the ice chamber. The water from the ice drips from the trap right into the drip pan, or whatever you use to catch the drip.

The Barnet is ventilated by a system exclusively its own. All gases and food odors pass out to the open. No air stagnation. No slime on the ice. No taints.

Fresh, dry air circulates constantly through the Barnet, due to the syphon system of air circulation.

The Barnet is ideal in every respect. You owe it to yourself to see it. Inspect it thoroughly and then pass judgment.

SPIRITED DEBATE AT STIRLING ON WOMEN FARMERS.

Decide That They Are Not Likely to Prove a Greater Success Than Bachelors.

Stirling News.

STIRLING, May 4.—On Monday, in the basement of St. Andrews Church, an interesting debate was held on — 'Resolved that single women are more likely to succeed as farmers than bachelors".

The affirmative was taken by Mrs Rollins and Mr. Rogers Micklejohn the opposing side being Miss Brandon and Mr., Geo. Lundy. The debate was spirited and amusing, many were the weird and wonderful arguments dragged forth, even our misguided ancestors poor Adam and Eve came in for a share of the limelight insomuch as Eve's appalling curiosity led her to pluck the forbidden apple so would the present day women with her not-a-whitless-diminished curiosity lead her into sundry byways when her efforts should be utilized in more important ways.

Prior to the debate commencing also during the interval elapsing between the final argument and the finding of the judges a delightful programme of music was presented.

Mr. J. Forbes commenced with a tenor solo "Drink to me only with thine eyes" and later with 'Mother Machree" two old-time favorites which evoked well deserved applause.

Mr. C. Napier a new artist to Stirling audiences, sang splendidly "Go to Sea"and "Shipmates o' mine', both efforts suited his sonorous bass voice splendidly and encores were insisted on. Mr. Napier obliged with "The Company Sergeant Major" and "Love's Old Sweet Song" which were much enjoyed.

A quartette of well chosen voices sang "Moonlight will come again" later "Goodnight Gentlefolks".

Meanwhile the judges, who were Mrs.. Anderson, Dr. Walt and Mr. Thresher had arrived at their decision regarding the debate and announced that in their opinion the 'negatives" had won the day.

The Rev. R. Simpson, who had acter as chairman in his usual cheery and efficient manner then rose and thanked all who had helped to make the evening the success it had been.

The large audience then stood and sang "God Save the King".

Mr. E. Cohu, the church organist acted as accompanist throughout.

Personal Mention

Mr. T. B. Yeats, manager of the Bank of Montreal, left here on Friday last to take up a new appointment as manager of the Bank of Montreal, Port Hope.

Mr. Yeats has been here for many years and during that time has formed numerous friends who on Thursday last gathered together at Mr. Morden Birds, presented Mr Yeats with a handsome set of silver cutlery as a token of their friendship ,also wishing him success and happiness in his new appointment.

Mr. R. A. Elliott has purchased the Brown Block and expects to open shortly as a general store.

Mr. Elliott recently sold his general store carried on under the name of Elliott and Son.

Mr. George Richards has sold his livery business to Mr. Wanamaker who took possession on May first.

FIFTEEN BOILS ON NECK AT ONE TIME

Any one who has suffered from boils can sympathize with poor old Job.

There was no Burdock Blood Bitters in those days, so Job had to suffer in silence. Nowadays no one need endure the misery of boils.

Boils are simply evidences of the bad blood within coming to the surface and just when you get rid of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery.

All the poulticing and lancing you may do will not stop more coming. What you have to do is take and the blood will be cleansed of all its impurities, and then every boil will disappear.

Mr. Roy McSwain, High Bank, P. E. I., writes: "I was troubled with boils for some time, and had as many as fifteen on my neck at once. After taking one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters they commenced to get better, and after I had taken two bottles I was relieved of them and felt much better. I think B. B. B. is a grand blood medicine, and can recommend it highly."

For the past 45 years B. B. B. has been manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

When a woman of the Wakamba tribe in Central Africa throws a lump of earth at her husband the act is taken to mean that she despises him and he invariably is granted a divorce.

The ancient prejudice against a great extent, and many of the colleges and universities are now open to women.

FRANCE REMAINS FIRM ON DECISION TOWARDS RUSSIA

French Cabinet Decides to Back Up Barthou and Stick With Belgium.

MODIFY NOTE.

PARIS, May 4. — (Canadian Press.)—France sticks with Belgium on the policy toward the Soviet Government and M. Barthou will return to Genoa to-morrow having the full approval of the Government. This announcement was made yesterday afternoon at the conclusion of the Cabinet meeting.

M. Barthou made a complete statemet of the actions of the French delegation at the Genoa Economic Conference, and the ministers went over the text of the memorandum to the Soviet delegates. When the discussion was ended it was discovered that the seeming divergence between Premier Poincare and M. Barthou had disappeared. This difference of opinion arose more from a misunderstanding of the method of procedure than from the principle involved.

M. Barthou has behind him the full Cabinet in resisting any encroachment upon private property in Russia and has instructions to remain solidly in harmony with the Belgian delegation. The decision of the Cabinet Council is interpreted in official circles as meaning that the provisional signature of the French delegation to the memorandum to the Soviets is null and void and that it will be necessary for the French and Belgian delegations to agree on some modification concerning the article in question which would be acceptable to the British and Italian delegations before the French sign.

All differences disappeared, according to the Havas Agency, when the Premier acquainted M. Barthou with the fact that certain information reaching Paris, of which M. Barthou knew nothing, reported that negotiations were in progress at Genoa with the object of transferring to British and other companies, concessions exploited before the revolution by the French and Belgians. The representatives of these interests become alarmed at the facilities given by the article in the memorandum for the transfer of the concessions, to the detriment or the original owners.

The Belgian Cabinet, under these conditions, yesterday fullly endorsed M. Jasper's attitude and maintained the previous instructions to him not to sign the memorandum.

In view of these new facts, the French Cabinet was unanimous in deciding to conform to the attitude taken by the Belgians, believing that the questions of economics and social organizations must be placed in unison with Belgium.

The Cabinet will meet again this morning at ten o'clock to consider the non-aggression pact and the guarantees to be included in this pact. Other economic questions raised at Genoa will be examined at a second meeting in the afternoon. It is now considered certain that Premier Poincare will not agree to a meeting of the Supreme Council before May 31, for Karl Bergmann, the German Under-Secretary of the Treasury, has just returned to Paris and is excected to submit in the name of the German Government new proposals to the Reparations Commission.

The French believe that no useful purpose would be served by simultaneous discussion of the same subject by the Supreme Council and the Reparations Commission, so long as the latter is competent to deal with it. It would appear that for the same reason a discussion of anf plan for an international loan or cancellation of the inter-allied debts would be regarded as premature.

HEADACHES COME FROM GAS ON STOMACH

If you are bothered with gas, your system is poisoned, often causing headache, nervousness and weakness. Simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adlerika, expels poisons and gas and stops headaches almost INSTANTLY in many cases. Acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel. Adlerika removes matter you never thought was in your system, which poisoned stomach and caused gas. EXCELLENT to guard against appendicitis. McDermid & Jury and E. L. Payne, druggists.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED

You will precede your escort in going either to a restaurant table or a theatre seat if there is an usher or waiter to direct you. Otherwise your escort should find the seats or table. Under either circumstance, however, you should be only a step or two behind or in front of your host.

You will, if you are the first woman to reach the table, take the chair which the waiter pulls out first.

You will take your wrap into the dining room with you, though your escort checks his.

FRIGHTENED!

"Every morning I woke up, I felt that something terrible was going to happen."

Writes Mrs. M. and she goes on to say, "I wonder if any other woman ever had such fits of depression as I had for over a year. I was so utterly despondent that if it had not been for my children, I believe I would have put an end to my life. Every day and every night was a nightmare. I dreaded going to bed because I lay awake most of the night. When I did sleep, I had the most dreadful dreams. I couldn't eat. I was completely run down—nothing interested me, nothing appealed to me. I consulted several doctors. They prescribed different remedies to build me up but these preparations didn't do me any good. Doctors told me I had a nervous breakdown. I was tired all the time. I felt every day that my strength was gradually leaving me. The least little exertion left me thoroughly tired out. I knew I was gradually wasting away, I felt I was going to die and I was so thoroughly miserable that I did not care whether I lived or not. And then I heard about Carnol and what a fine tonic it was. At first I refused to take it as I was sure it wouldn't do me any good. Finally I did try it with the most wonderful results. I am well and happy every minute of the day now. I eat heartily and sleep soundly. My friends won't believe that Carnol alone has done this for me. I am never despondent now and every day is a day of joy. What Carnol has done for me it will do for you."

Carnol is sold by your druggist and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle and he will refund your money. 2-122

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasoinally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken ,then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, the tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment. the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

CAMPBELLFORD, May 4. — Mr. Robert W. Scott, manager of the Utilities Commission, spent a few days over the week end at his former home at Knowlton, Quebec. Mrs. Scott and children returned with Mr. Scott to town, where they will reside.

Mrs. A. W. Free has disposed of her fine property on Napier street to Mr. Allan Watson who will take possession in the near future.

The Northumberland Regiment Band, with their most efficient conductor Mr. R. T. Cowell rendered an excellent programme at the musical festival held in Warkworth on Monday night under the auspices of the G.W.V.A.

Much Property Changes Hands

Mr. Walter G. Fraser has disposed of his new residence on Balaclava street to Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Morgan of Grafton, (nee Miss Gladys Oilver of town) who have already taken up residence in town.

Mr. Herbert Smith has purchased Mr. S. A.. Maguire's residence on Sebastapol occupied by Mr. M. A. Reynolds.

Big Celebration on May 24

With the 24th but three weeks distant the Agricultural Society of Campbellford and Seymour, has arranged for a huge celebration in which all roads will lead to town. Something will be doing every minute of the day. Fast horse races, ball games etc., and in the evening an operetta 'The Princess of Poppy land' under the most efficient direction of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Cowell in which over one hundred will take part. This will be a rare treat and will undoubtedly draw packed houses.

YOUTHFUL DRIVER GOT BIG SURPRISE

A youth employed by a local butcher shop got a surprise yesterday morning while driving up George street at 10.10. Just as the street car was passing, for no apparent reason he began to pull up the horse until it was nearly on its haunches. It was a wanton display of cruelty according to the chief of police, who happened to be on the car. He jumped off at the next corner and took the boy into custody. In police court today he was fined $5 and costs. If other cases of cruelty to horses occur the employes willl be charged similarly to the driver the chief said. The merchants of the city employ a poor type of drivers, according to the chief and there are altogether too many boys employed, who think it smart to lash and maltreat Old Dobbin.

CHAPTER XXVIII

MY POPULAR MAN

Jack is a popular man and I am awfully proud of him. He's handsome—he has manner—and more than that, he has charm. All the girls feel it. And he doesn't seem to know!

It's impossible to ignore the fact that being married doesn't keep people from flirting nowadays. But my Jack moves among women as smoothly, as elegantly as coldly, as a king on a chess board. The married girls can spend hours with him without making their men jealous.

This has made us very popular for week-end motor trips. I've welcomed these trips because we can't possibly afford a vacation so soon after our honeymoon.

Jack has tried to show me that these week-end excursions cost as much as a vacation all by ourselves, for he stands his share by taking the checks at restaurants and hotels.

After Jack had figured a little, I hadn't the courage to tell him how much my motor togs have cost. I bought the best things and had them charged. The suit case to fit a car was $50. We couldn't be seen at smart places with smart people unless we had spiffy clothes and mine are just as good as Mary Smith's, although she spent twice as much as I. My hat cost me only $18 and Mary's cost $37.50. I always try to be economical. One has to on our salary of $2500 a year.

We could get along very nicely on our budget if it were not for our bills. When the bill for my motor hat came I hated to show it to Jack. He looked woefully tired and so I added the bill to the pile in my writing desk. I remember I put it on top of the milk bill. And life has moved so fast that I forgot all about those envelopes until they came in again again the next month! It was annoying for then I had two milk bills which I ought to have paid out of my housekeeping money.

Business isn't going very well with Jack. Commissions simply don't exist. And so we are compelled to live on his salary somehow. That's why I haven't let him know what I've had charged. I intend to as soon as my adorable davenport is paid for.

I know Jack will be perfectly lovely, as always, when I show him what has been necessary for me to buy.

Jack always understands, never glooms nor grouches, and so it's his feelings worry most about. I think every bride should study her husband's feelings and not hurt them carelessly. Men are a lot more sensitive than some girls think, and Jack is far more sensitive than most men.

He likes to stick to his principles. Since he resolved not to break into his savings, the $3000 he put away before we were married, which he calls his wife's safety fund, I know he will manage somehow to get all my accounts balanced without disturbing his savings.

Now is the time when New Year's resolutions are usually on the wane. It seems rather a shame that people take them so lightly and that children are taught to consider them so. Most of us make such trivial resolutions and break them almost as soon as they are made. Then when we find that there is some real fault that we must overcome and we resolve to do so we find our will power weakened because we gave in to temptation so many times before. It would be better never to make a resolution than to make so many and break them all. It can scarcely be said to be a case of "the spirit being willing but the flesh is weak." It's more a case of the mind being weak.

Happy indeed would be the man who strike a medium in his relationship with money. Some people are never happy until they have money and once they get it, they are not happy until it is spent.

Others are not happy until they have amassed a vast fortune and then every penny they have to spend makes them miserable.

The only way to treat money is as your servant. Never allow the desire for it to gain such a grip on you that it becomes your master.

Material Wealth May Be A Handicap, Says Author

BY MARIAN HALE.

The riches or poverty of childhood are not determined by dollars, but by the intelligence or lack of intelligence of the parents, Eleanor Gates maintains.

She has made a study of children in practically all lands and under different social conditions. Some years ago she wrote "The Poor Little Rich Girl," which was later dramatized. Her latest book is "The Rich Little Poor Boy," which is now being dramatized for next season.

"The richest child is the one who has the greatest opportunity for self-development," she said. "Often the child of very poor parents is really rich because the lack of beauty of his environment makes him seek beauty through his imagination.

Need Imagination.

"Within himself he creates a retreat to which he may send his thoughts to escape the sordidness and disappointments he finds about him. The imaginative power he builds up in this way, in turn, often points out to him the way of really creating the thing he pictures in his dreams, and supplies the incentive necessary to develop along the lines that seem to lead to his desires.

"No child is so poor as the one so completely supplied with material things that his incentive to create is not developed. When he has only a few toys a child can invest anything he picks up with interest. Some wheels and a few boards make an automobile. A rag doll gives the little girl the same outlet for her maternal instinct as the beautiful bisque one, for her love supplies the loveliness that is lacking.

"Another source of poverty of the rich child," says Miss Gates, "lies in his never being crossed, and having things made too easy for him. He has no opposition to overcome, and he misses an important development of character.

Stronger Children.

"I believe the Boy Scout movement is the most important one since the Crusades, and that it opens up a world of riches to all boys, supplying a ruggedness and on contact with primitive life which civilization and cities have a tendency to withhold. Girl Scouts, too, have splendid ideals.

"In my observations of children I am surprised to notice how greatly the children of this generation have improved over those of the last, physically. The athletics and out-of-door life which their mothers enjoy is reflected in them.

"When I read all this frenzied discussion about the flapper, treating the young girl of today as if she were some new biological specimen, I remember a number of years ago, when I was in the bread-and-butter stage, what a fuss was made when girls began to develop a fondness for athletics.

"'What was the world coming to!' moaned the conservatives, when a girl would put on a divided skirt and ride a bicycle on a main thoroughfare.

"The girls who first dared to oppose the conventions and appear with their clothes following the natural lines of the body instead of the artificial ones imposed by fashion were ridiculed and misunderstood.

"And yet it was the courage of these young women that made athletics a part of a girl's school and college training and paved the way for her present comfort in dress."

Fruits

Fresh from the Fields and Orchards

During the summer months huge crates of freshly-picked fruits arrive at Moir's factory, and thus at fragrant maturity are pressed and preserved for use in Moir's candies.

Thus it is that the fresh flavor of the sun-ripened fruit is retained in Moir's Raspberry Fondants, Strawberry Creams and Velvas.

These and other luscious fruit juices together with pure cream, butter, sugar, mellow honey, full-meated nuts and rich smooth chocolate are moulded together into the most delightful confections you ever tasted.

Moir's is a candy you'll be proud to bring to wife, sweetheart or friend.

EUROPE'S MOTOR RACING SEASON.

No Pessimism Despite the Pinch of Poverty.

While drawing attention to the pinch of post-war poverty in Europe, and the shrinking of the automobile industry to almost invisible proportions, the writer of editor's page of "Motor" lists the number of automobile sports staged for the coming summer. Despite adverse conditions in Europe, pessimism, he says, has not entered into the calculations of those people who are interested in sport, and it is certain, from plans already made, that htis year's automobile racing season in Europe will be the most comprehensive in the number and variety of contests in many years.

There will be five major operations in the racing world. These will consist of two French Grand Prix races, two English Tourist Trophy events in the Isle of Man and the Junior Car Club's big long distance race on the Brooklands track for 1 litre cars.

The French races will consist of the two litre race and the fuel consumption event. In the latter there is no restriction except that all cars entered must average not less than 16.6 miles to the gallon of fuel. Both of these races have been scheduled for July 15th and 16th over the Strasbourg course.

So far there are 18 entries for the two-litre Grand Prix. Several more are expected before the closing date. Everybody in European racing circles is hoping for some American entries in view of the splendid victory of the two Duesenbergs last year. The contestants to date are three Rolland-Pilians, three Sunbeams, two Delages, two Aston-Martins, one Pilain, three Fiats, three Bugattis, and one Mathis. The quality of these cars assures a fast and closely contested race.

Sixteen entries have come in for the "Fuel Consumption" Grand Prix. They are three Voisins, three Peugeots, two Bugattis, three Delages, one Aston-Martin, three Bignans, and one Pilian.

Not so many contestants have appeared for the two English Tourist Trophy races scheduled for next June in the Isle of Man, under the auspices of the Royal Automobile Club. American cars are entirely absent, while the only Continental machines entered are three Talbot-Darracqs which are partly English in their manufacture. There are only nine entries for the three-litre event, including three Sunbeams, three Vauxhalls and three Bentleys. Fifteen cars have been entered for the 1-litre race, consisting of three Sunbeams, three Aston-Martins, three Bugattis (built in England at the Crossley factory), three Talbot-Darracqs, one A.C. one Hillman and one Alvis. Entries for these Tourist Trophy races closed on March 31st.

WHAT DR. C. BARKER TOLD 1,200 PETERBORO WOMEN

Dr. Barker Says He Will Be Alive and Kicking While Some Women Are Putting on More Weight and Others Are Occupying Secluded Spots in Cemetery

"When some of you women, twenty-five or thirty years hence, are in the cemeteries, I will still be doing this," said Dr. Chas. E. Barker, demonstrating a stationary run exercise to the women, to the number of between eleven and twelve hundred, who packed the Grand Opera House yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Barker, with a dynamic, forceful delivery, and an earnestness that made his utterances most effective, held the attention of the women for nearly two hours with a discourse on health and morality. The responsibility of the women of this age to unborn generations, and their responsibility to their own children were described. The popular notion that punishment of children, "and I don't mean the stick, for I think that is not the wisest method of punishment with the majority of children," destroys their personality and individuality, was regarded as the biggest danger ahead of the Canadian and American nations today.

It was the paramount duty of mothers to explain to their daughters the meaning of life in its most important relations, and the speaker directed the attention of his audience to the "spooning" evil of the age. Four reasons for the looseness in moral principles of the young people of this age were given:

(1) The permission of parents of "joy riding," unchaperoned.

(2) The popularity of "sex movie films," where women in an "undressed" condition were depicted making love to other women's husbands, drinking and smoking, 'and no woman who smokes cigarettes is a finewoman, Margot Asquith to the contrary notwithstanding."

(3) Jazz body dacing.

(4) The indecent and immodest dress of the women of this generation.

Dr. Barker concluded his discourse with a tribute to his "wonderful audience," and a demonstration of physical exercises recommended for women.

Mrs. A. Mowat, in the chair, introduced the speaker in a short, effective speech, and a pleasing vocal solo was rendered by Miss Ina Allen, "Dream o'Nights," with piano accompaniment by Miss C. Layton/

Exercises Recommended For Busy Men and Women.

(By Dr. Charles E. Barker.)

Breathing Exercises.

Bend body at hips, fists at knees—throw arms out and backward as far as possible, while inhaling, and exhale while returning to position.

Rotate shoulders—inhale, raising shouders and vice versa.

Clasp hands behind back—throw chest out and upward, shoulders back and inhale, and vice versa.

Breathing run.

For Kidneys.

Keeping knees stiff—lower hands to floor and return to chest.

For Spine.

Swing the arms in a circle in front of the body, keeping the knees stiff and stretching upwards as far as possible while raising arms.

For Liver.

Feet apart as far as possible—keeping knees stiff, bend body from side to side, raising arms alternately over the head.

Gladstonian Exercise.

Lying Down Exercises For Stomach and Intestines.

Arms at side—raise chin to chest and push hands along the limbs; vice versa.

Throw body to sitting postion, keeping hips, knees and feet on floor.

Draw both knees back to chest and return to floor.

Raise both legs from the floor at the same time, keeping knees stiff.

Important Suggestions.

Drink plenty of water in between meals. Eight to ten glasses per day.

Get into the habit of following the exercises with cool or cold bath. If one has plenty of blood a cold bath is best, otherwise only take a cool bath after exercises.

The best time to take these exercises is upon arising in the morning. However, they can be taken the last thing before going to bed at night, or during the day, but not immediately following any meal.

If you have any suspicion that your heart is not in good condition, before taking these exercises you should be examined by your family physician and follow his advice as to the way in which these exercises should be taken.

Remember that the only way to test the value of these exercises is to follow them regularly every day for about two months. By that time you will see the great value in performing them daily.

Illustrated Talk to Women's Club.

The final meeting of the Women's Canadian Club for the season will be held in the Public Library this evening. The lecture afforded members and friends of the Women's Canadian Club this season have been exceptionally good. Noted speakers, including several of the University Extension series, have addressed well-attended meetings on subjects of interest to Canadian men and women alike, bringing the result of their varied experience and cultivated viewpoint to Peterboro audiences.

The lecture this evening will be given by Mrs. McMurray of Natal, South Africa, who illustrates her talk with lantern slides. The South African fields of social endeavor is one seldom touched by visiting speakers, who seem to specialize more on India and China. Mrs. McMurray has a splendid series of views to illustrate her address. At present, she is taking a course in Social Service work at the University of Toronto, and will return to Natal later to resume her activities there.

A Barrage of Dust Raised By Flivvers.

There may be people who believe in dust baths. We don't know. We are aware that people believe in Turkish baths, and vapor baths, and mud baths, and we heard the other day of a new remedy for rheumatism in the way of an Epsom salts baths, which a sufferer complicated on one occasion by mistaking the alum box for for Ejsom salts, and emerging from the following ablutions in a sodifed state which required a whole jar of cold cream to alleviate. But, at any rate, if there rapen to be citizens of Peterboro who hanker and yearn after dust baths, they haven't far to seek. Al they need to do is walk over the new bridge, preferably on a Sunday afternoon, because then most of the automobiles in the town are either going or coming from east city.

A certain poetical-minded young person lef her home the other afternoon and started to remark on the lovely haze in the landscape. She said it reminded her so much of Indian summer, and she had been out for some little time before she discovered that the haze was really a dust-cloud. It is just this sort of "Indian summer haze" that hangs perpetually over Hunter street bridge on a warm, dusty afternoon. Coming west, a car passes, and one sees in approach the middle of the bridge. After that, it isn't visible at all. There is only a dense dust screen between the observer and the sun, with the car lost somewhere in the middle distance.

To the young person of the feminine gender who doesn't' like to have any costume remain with her for over a certain length of time, we would recommend a daily walk over to East City and back again, in this dry spring weather. We think after two wek's constant attention to this programme, any costume could be guaranteed as fit for the rag-bag, boots, hat and ll.

As a variation, in muddy weather, it is the cars that suffer. The pedestrians have a little respite, between splashes.

PIMPLES AND ERUPTIONS

Due to Bad Blood Which Must be Purified.

Many people, both men and women, suffer from skin troubles, such as eczema, blotches, pimples and irritations. It is a great mistake for those suffering from troubles of this kind to smear the selves with greasy oinments. Often they could not do anything worse, for the grease clogs the pores of the troubled skin and the condition becomes actually worse.

When there are pimples or eruptions or an irritating or itching rash a soothing boracic solution may help to allay the irritation, but of course that does not remove the trouble. Skin complaints come from an impure condition of the blood and will continue until the blood is thoroughly purifed. It is well known that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have has splendid results in many forms of skin disorders and blemishes. This is due to the fact that these pills enrich the blood and this new blood attacks the impurities that give rise to skin troubles and disperses them. Among those who have found relief through the use of this medicine is Mr. Charles Hedge, South Woodslee, Ont., who says: "I was a great sufferer from boils for almost a year. I tried several remedies but they did not help me, and I was becoming thin and looked worn out. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after takink five boxes the boils disapeared, and I have not been troubled with them since. In other ways too, I felt better."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co. Brockville, Ont.

Speeding Affects Sadie's Eyesight.

Sadie wears motor glasses. Many ladies do, it will be remarked, but, as Sadie's last name happens to be Airedale, she is just a little out of the ordinary. Sadie is a fat, shaggy doggie who rides on the running board of the laundry motor delivery rig, and just lately, she has acquired glasses. It seems that she suffered greatly from the dust of the roadway, but couldn't be induced to give up her constant attendance at her master's daily round. So she is equipped with a firmly-fitting, neat-looking pair of motor goggles, amber arrangements with side-pieces that completely protect her eyes, and she looks quite comfortable and satisfied with these accessories which comprise her entire motor costume. Since the first time that they were fastened on, and she was told that she would have to wear them, she has never objected to the glasses, and, when they aren't forthcoming at once, she will stand in the roadway and shake her head.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED.

You will not leave part of the fod which you have lifted to your mouth on the fork or spoon and return it to your mouth a second time.

You will not let a spoon remain in a cup or container while not in use. It should be removed to the saucer or plate under the cup or container.

Beware of the Poke, or It Will Betray You

THREE FACES FRAMED IN THE SAME POKE BONNET. OF THE THREE HOPE HAMPTON ALONE (CENTRE) HAS THE FACE THAT FITS WELL INTO THE FRAME.

A hat may make or mar the beauty of the most beautiful.

And there is much chance that it will do the latter in this season's plethora of designs unless Madame Fashionable takes care.

The poke is, of all hats, the most dangerous.

Only the face which is roundly lovely and has something of childhood about its beauty can wear such a hat.

Herewith is a study of faces framed in the same poke bonnet.

Faces at the right and left are quite unsuited to this frame, but in the centre the round face, piquant nose and general childishness of the wearer, Hope Hampton, wears it admirably.

Think twice, madam, before you tell the milliner to deliver that poke to you.

RECIPES

Use vegetables regularly and daily. The vegetable bill should equal or even exceed the meat bill during the spring.

New carrots are a healthful vegetable. Next to spinach carrots are richest in iron of any of the vegetables.

Carrot soup is an excellent luncheon dish.

Carrot Soup.

Three cups white stock, 1½ cups milk, 8 small carrots, 1 small onion, celery leaves, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons cream, 2 tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons cooked rice, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon sugar, few gratings nutmeg, paprika.

Dice carrots, crush celery leaves and mince onion. Melt butter and add prepared vegetables. Cover and cook 15 minutes without browning. Add stock and simmer three-quarters of an hour. Rub through a sieve.

Return to the fire with milk, salt, pepper, sugar and nutmeg. Bring to the boiling point. Stir flour to a smooth paste with a little cold milk and stir into soup. Boil five minutes. Add cream and rice and let boil up once. Sprinkle with paprika.

Carrots in Cream.

One bunch new carrots, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup cream, ½ teaspoon sugar, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, salt.

Pour boiling water over carrots and let stand five minutes. Rub off the skins with a clean rough cloth and cut in thin slices. Put carrots in a smooth stew pan and pour over just enough boiling water to half cover.

Cook until the water is evaporated. Add butter, cream, sugar, salt and pepper and cook 15 minutes. Add parsley.

Piquant Carrots.

One bunch new carrots, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup milk, 2 egg yolks, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, salt and pepper, ½ teaspoon sugar.

Wash and scrape carrots and cut in quarters lengthwise. Cook in boiling salted water till tender. Drain. Melt butter, add milk. Beat yolks of eggs with lemon juice. Stir into hot milk. Cook over hot water till the sauce thickens. Do not let boil. Add parsley, salt and pepper and sugar. Pour over carrots and serve at once.

Carrot Pudding.

One bunch young carrots, 2 cups bread crumbs from soft part of loaf, 1/3 cup butter, ½ cup sugar, ¼ lb. candied cherries or ¾ cup sunshine preserved cherries, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon salt.

Wash and scrub carrots. Cook in slightly salted boiling water till tender and rub through a fine sieve. Cream butter and sugar. Add yolks of eggs and beat well. Add bread crubs, cinnamon, cherries cut in quarters, salt and carrot pulp. Beat whites of eggs till stiff and dry and fold into first mixture. Pour into a well buttered mold and steam two and one-half hours. Serve with lemon sauce.

Local Secretary of "Y" Resigned.

Her many friends in the city will learn with regret of the resignation of Miss Charlotte Layton from the position of general secretary of the local Young Women's Christian Association. Miss Layton, who hails from the "bluenose" section of the country, from Truro, Nova Scotia, came to Peterborough about two and one-half years ago from the Montreal Y.W.C.A. and has, during her residence in the city and her occupation of the secretaryship of the local association, made a host of friends. She has been extremely popular with the Board of Directors and girl members of the 'Y,' her bright outlook and cheerful disposition making her a general favorite. Her musical abilities, combined with efficient managing qualities and steadfast devotion to duty, have helped the work of the Association immeasurably during the last two and a half years, and she leaves a record behind her of progress in every direction.

Miss Layton, whose resignation takes effect on May 15th, will take an extended vacation at her home in Nova Scotia, during the summer months.

Household Suggestions

SPILLED FOOD.

Sprinkle salt on anything which has boiled over on the stove. This smothers the blaze and prevents smoke and odour.

PREVENTS TARNISH.

Put a little camphor in the drawer where the silver is kept and the silver will not tarnish.

LENGTHENS LIFE.

Before the new linoleum is used rub linseed oil into it and then wipe dry. This doubles the life of the floor covering.

BAKED POTATOES.

Run the tine of a fork into the potatoes before baking them, and they will not burst open while in the oven.

COFFEE HINT.

Put a piece of paper over the top of the coffee can under the lid and the coffee will hold its strength much longer.

TIME SAVER.

Always put the egg beater into cold water immediately after using it. It is much easier to clean then, thus time is saved.

CLEANING BRONZE.

Hot soap suds are the best medium for cleaning genuine bronze. Sweet oil, applied with a brush, is also cleansing. The oil should be removed with a soft cloth.

Adopt Plan for Safe Transport

Unaccompanied Women and Girls Coming to Canada Will Be Labelled

The Department of Immigration and Colonization of Canada, has adopted a plan to assist unaccompanied women and girls coming to Canada from England and to facilitate their arrival at their final destination without delay or inconvenience after landing at a Canadian port.

The matron on board ship provides each unaccompanied woman with a ribbon. A blue ribbon identifies those proceeding to Ontario; a red one for points west of Ontario; passengers proceeding to other points will wear white ribbons. In special Government parties, a yellow one in addition to the red will designate a party for Saskatchewan, sky blue in addition to red for Manitoba, and brown in addition to red for Alberta. Any woman requiring hostel accommodation will wear, in addition to the color showing her destination, a green ribbon.

Important and valuable co-operation by the Women's Division of the Department of Immigration and Colonization is accomplished in providing trained social workers, known as conductresses, who give advice and information to the unaccompanied traveller, devoting special attention to their needs upon arrival and accompanying them to their destination in Canada. Special cars are alloted to unaccompanied women and girls, who are placed in charge of a conductress. The special attention shown to British women coming to Canada has created a very favorable response abroad.

In London, Miss J. Crowdy, general secretary of the Society for the Overseas Settlement of British Women, has also actively carried on a campaign to attract the best type of women to Canada. Last year she accompanied a party of girls destined for various points in Canada, and studied conditions during the trip from Quebec to the Pacific Coast, personally travelling in the same circumstances and accommodation provided the immigrants. Before her return to England, she expressed her cordial admiration of the accommodation and the treatment afforded women and girls from the time they leave the other side until their arrival at their final destination in Canada.

Famous Beauty Regains Health and Strength through Ironized Yeast

"A Wonderful Help in Keeping My Figure Perfect" Says Beautiful Elsie La Bergere

"IT was by purest accident that I picked up a package of Ironized Yeast just as I was about to give up the stage for a long needed rest. The results that it brought in me proved that it was just what I needed. For today I actually feel like a new born woman!"

Such is the amazing statement of Elsie La Bergere, known to vaudeville lovers all over the continent for the beauty of her figure.

"My stage work," continued Miss La Bergere, "put such a severe strain on my nervous system that every performance became a hardship. I lost my appetite, and always felt tired and worn-out. Then I discovered Ironized Yeast—and I really cannot give enough praise to it. I find it keeps me absolutely fit in every way, and that it is a great help in keeping the shape of my body in wonderful condition. Ironized Yeast has a permanent place of honor in my traveling bag.

How New Process Makes Yeast Doubly Effective

The reason IRONIZED YEAST brings such remarkable results is because it embodies a new scientific process which enables yeast to bring its great benefits often in just half the usual time. Yeast alone is good, but tests show that it needs some other agent in order to quickly convert its wonderful health-building elements into firm tissue, rosy cheeks and sparkling vitality.

Everyone knows that iron is of great value in converting our food into living cells and tissue. So working on this problem, our scientists finally discovered the wonderful process of ironization—the process through which the combination of yeast and iron becomes 100 per cent efficient.

Do not think, however, that any combination of yeast and iron will do. Yeast brings its best and quickest results only when it is treated through the scientific process of ironization. And this process is embodied only in IRONIZED YEAST, the one scientifically correct yeast treatment.

Money Back Guarantee

If you need more flesh—if you are pale, lacking in energy—or if your complexion is blemished by humiliating skin eruptions—try IRONIZED YEAST at once. Very likely you will be actually astonished at the improvement shown in you even after the first 48 hours. Go to your dealer's today. Toronto Defeated On Home Grounds

Reading Piles Up a Big Score Against Maple Leafs. Baltimore Also Beaten.

INTERNATIONAL.

TORONTO, May 4.— (Canadian Press.)—Twelve thousand fans braved the raw east wind at the Island yesterday to get a close-up view of the 1922 edition of the Toronto ball team in the first game of the local International season. Unfortunately their impression of Eddie Onslow's reconstructed Leafs was not a good one.

Chief Bender's Reading tribe scooted in rather easily on the long end of a 12 to 2 score. Fifteen hits, including a home run, a triple and two doubles for the enemy will not permit of saying anything else but that the victory was no fluke. The tribe outhit and outfielded the Toronto team after the fourth innings and that is good reason why they won. Manager Onslow used four pitchers, starting with the veteran, Johnny Ensmann and finishing with Tommy Thompson. "Lefty" Weinert, recently of Pittsburg, did the flinging for Bender, and outside of the third innings when Leafs scored both of their runs, had things pretty much his own way. He tightened up with men on the bases and was given fine support.

There was nothing fussy about the opening ceremonies. The players of both teams lined up behind the 48th Highlanders Band and marched to the flag pole in left field, where Managers Onslow and Bender raised the Union Jack. Manager Onslow was presented with a floral horseshoe, and His Worship Mayor Alfred MacGuire pitched the fist ball.

QUICK THINKING PROVES COSTLY

Wambsganns Injured When Tris Speaker Made Attempt For Double Play.

In a recent game at Detroit Manager Speaker of the Cleveland club pulled a bit of outfield strategy that probably few other big league out fielders would have been attempted.

From Speaker's standpoint his strategic move worked perfectly. Some of the other Cleveland players however, failed to think as rapidly as their manager and a play that would have snuffed out a rally, had it been properly completed, resulted in a serious injury to Second Baseman Wambsganns.

Here is a detailed account of the unusual happening. In the first inning of this game Cleveland made three runs and Detroit came back with two runs and had Veach on second, Blue on first and one out, with Fothergill at bat.

This was the setting when Fothergill hit a ball to short center field. Speaker got under the ball, while Blue and Veach held close to their bases. Then, instead of catching the ball, Speaker deitly trapped it.

With the same motion that he trapped the ball he threw it to Wambsganns at second. The base runners were at sea as to what to do. When Wamby received the ball Veach was standing on second, Blue on first, also Fothergill, who had hit the ball.

All Wamby needed to do to complete a double play was to run over and touch Veach, who was forced to advance, and then touch second which would have forced Blue.

Instead Wamby, standing a few feet from second, hesitated a moment and then tossed the ball to Gardner, who was also some distance off third. Veach then made a break for that bag, and instead of a double play being completed no one had as yet been actually retired.

Finally, in the runup on Veach, the ball was tossed to Wamby base, which forced Blue at that base The run up on Veach continued. In the meantime Blue, who had been retired, dashed for second..

Wambly, noticing a runner coming into second, and possibly thinking it was Fothergill, who had hit the ball, jumped in front of the bag to touch the runner, who happened to be Blue, who had been retired perhaps 15 seconds before when Wamby accidentally hit the bag with his foot.

Blue slid into second very high, cutting two deep gashes into Wamby's leg. He will be fortunate if he isn't cut for some time as a result of the mixup.

It was a most unusual play, in which the manager thought a bit too quickly for his teammates. It was a bit of strategy that instead of stopping rally resulted in the loss of a valuable player.

NEW UNIFORMS.

Lindsay are purchasing new uniforms, and they are undecided whether to have a blue or black border on the shirts. A black border should be preferable, and would relieve them of the extra expense of buying crepe later in the season. — Port Hope Guide.

JAPANESE ARE NOW PLAYING BASEBALL

English Language Is Used in Coaching — Forming Professional Leagues.

ST. LOUIS, May 4.—(Canadian Press).—Japan is rapidly adopting the American sport of baseball, according to Herbert H. Hunter, former St. Louis National player, who has returned from his second year of baseball "missionary" work in Japan where he coached the teams of Waseda and Koe Universities at Tokio. Hunter says that the Nipponese are eager to establish baseball as their national sport, and are making efforts to form a professional baseball league. In Japan, he continued, baseball coaching is done in the English language. "It is very amusing," he said, "to hear the catcher encouraging his pitcher to 'knock this bird off,' or advising one of his fellow-players to 'crown that old apple.' "

LACROSSE

The Lacrosse Club's meeting tonight is called for 8 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce room.

Riversides have secured the Nicholls Oval for Monday and Wednesday. Practices begin as soon as possible after six o'clock. The Ashburnham team have ordered black and white sweaters similar to Havelock's colour scheme and should look pretty natty. Johnnie Sutherland offers a guarantee that they will have more than looks.

The Lacrosse Club should seriously consider tonight some arrangement not only for getting out the junior O.A.L.A. candidates, but also for getting the juveniles out on a lot of their own. True, some of the juniors are eligible in the younger series, but there is a crop of youngsters even down to the midgets that should be given the fullest encouragement.

Riversides had two complete teams working out against each other last night. Some of the novices are coming on steadily under the tuition of Vic Hamilton, Lou McCoy, Ed. Dillon and others. Johnnie Sutherland was the last to get started in rounding up a team, but he has come through in good shape materially assisted by the veterans who are connected with the East City outfit.

There are several dozen boys' sticks still unsold at Lebarr's. With another little drive these should be disposed of without much difficulty and delay. There must be many of the younger chaps watching the practices who are not yet supplied with sticks.

Campbellford's club realized about $50 from the dance and dramatic performance given for their benefit last week. That's a nice nest egg to start with.

ORGANIZE BOWLING CLUB IN OMEMEE.

Athletic Association Is Beautifying the Sports Grounds.

OMEMEE, May 4.—The Omemee Athletic Association are out to make the park a scene of beauty. On Monday evening numerous maple trees were planted by the committee in charge. A bowling club has been organized in town with Rev. Mr. Stillman as president and Mr. A. Weaver as secretary. A permanent bowling green is about to be built on the park, but for the present, they will use Mrs. Macrea's.

COMMITTEE FOR WALKER CUP HAS BEEN ANNOUNCED

Robert Gardner of Chicago is Chairman of the International Golf Championship Committee.

THE SCHEDULE.

NEW YORK, May 4.—The personnel of the committee which will name the team to compete for the Walker Cup, emblematic of the world's international team golf championship next September, was announced Tuesday as follows:

Robert Gardner, Chicago, chairman; W. C. Fownes, Pittsburgh, Captain; James D. Standish, Detroit; W. D. Vanderpool, Morristown, N. J., and Francis Ouimet, Boston.

Under the rules of the deed of gif. the trophy fills the same place in the golf world that the Davis Cup does in tennis. A team is to consist of four players and two substitutes and the competition is open to all nations of the world with a governing golf body. Play will cover a period of six days, the first day being given over to foursomes: the second day to four ball matches and the third to sixth days to single matches in which the members of each team shall play all the members of the other team or teams in turn.

No intimation was given as to what foreign team might be expected to play for the Walker Cup this season, although the possibility of competitors from England and Canada has been discussed. The matches, if held, are expected to be staged at the National Links Long Island, just before or just after the National Amateur Golf Championship set for Brookline, Mass., September 4.

WONDER HORSE IN EXHIBITION.

NEW YORK, May 4.—(Canadian Press)—The unbeaten Morvich, a favorite for the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs, was worked under colors, before a capacity throng at the Jamaica track yesterday, running three quarters of a mile in 1.12, in an exhibition trial.

Jockey McAtee broke him at the six and one half furlong pole and at no stage was Morvich fully urged, flashing under the wire after being pulled up for the last furlong.

BUT LITTLE CHANCE FOR A DEMPSEY-CARPENTIER BOUT

Indications are that there will be another Dempsey-Carpentier bout, this one to be fought abroad. Certainly it would not be permitted in the United States, or rather it should not be permitted there. The man who would ask for another Dempsey-Carpentier bout, having seen the first one, is the sort who would call for an encore on a hanging, says a New York writer.

Carpentier may want the money badly enough to be willing to take another beating and the loser's end. But Carpentier, a national idol, has been very well treated by his people. He owes them something, at least enough not to make himself a party to such a sordid transaction.

The heavyweight situation threatens to keep Dempsey from working at his trade for some time. There is one match that seems "logical" to a certain extent. That is the match between Dempsey and the negro, Harry Wills. There are many who think that Wills might have a chance with the champion. Some think that Dempsey can beat Wills at any time, but there are many who will not be convinced until he does it.

The trouble with this bout is the prejudice against "mixed fights," that is, bouts between negroes and whites. It is this prejudice that has kept the big American boxing promoters from bidding for the fight. That seems a bit unfair too, the deprivation of the colored man of his natural right to be hit on the chin.

Speaking of champions, it seems that the elusive featherweight champion, Mr. Johnny Kilbane, will fail to make good on his promise to box the winner of the Herman-Martin fight—if he ever made the promise. Mr. Kilbane selects his own antagonists and with great care picks victims rather than contenders. There never was a champion so firmly attached to a title as Kilbane is to his. Ah, well, there is no law against ducking the tough spots.

QUEEN'S PARK MAY LEAVE THE LEAGUE.

LONDON, May 4.—(Canadian Press Cable) — Queen's Park, the famous Scottish amateur soccer team which was one of this year's relegated clubs is expected to resign from the league sooner than submit to humiliation of playing in the Scottish second league.

BERT BLUE DRAWS THE FIRST PENALTY.

Bert Blue, first baseman of the Detroit club of the American League, is the first major league player to be suspended.

In the second series of the season, Blue became involved in an argument with Umpire Moriarty over a called strike. It is needless to add that the umpire won the argument. Blue was sent to the club house.

Before taking his departure, Blue elected to say a lot of choice things to Umpire Moriarity. When these remarks were repeated to President Johnson, Blue was sent down for three days.

SPITBALL UNDER BAN IN MAJOR LEAGUES.

The spitball is under the ban in most of the professional baseball leagues.

There are some minor leagues that still permit the use of that style delivery.

Such action is really a mistake on the part of the minors permitting it, and a greater mistake for a pitcher to use it, even if having the right.

The minor leagues hope to sell their stars to the majors. The majors are the goal of every minor league player. A pitcher who uses the spitball in the minors is killing his chances to show in the majors, since that delivery is barred by both big leagues.

When the majors adopted the rule it was decided that all pitchers then in the league that used the spitball should be permitted to continue its use, but no new pitchers could adopt it.

The use of the spitball by a pitcher who has no such right calls for a 10-day suspension in the majors.

There are about 15 pitchers in all who have the right to use the spitball in the two major leagues.

FOUR GAMES ON VICTORIA DAY

All Teams in Intermediate and Junior Ball Ranks Play on Holiday.

City baseball moguls are preparing a big bill of baseball for Victoria Day, and four games will be played at Riverside Park, on the holiday morning and afternoon. All four contests will be league fixtures.

At a meeting of the City Baseball League last night, the teams in the intermediate and junior divisions were drawn for the opening games as follows:

Morning Games.
Adanacs vs. Lock Works.
Classics vs. Raybestos.
Afternoon Game.
Lakeviews vs. Holy Name Society.
C.G.E. vs. Y.M.C.A.

The first morning game will start at 9.30 o'clock, and the first afternoon contest at 2 o'clock.

Reports from the training grounds of the clubs, are to the effect that well-balanced teams will enter the championship races on the holiday. Pre-season boosting is usually sumject to a discount, but this season, the baseball situation shows a big improvement over past years. All the clubs have strong organizations supporting them, and efforts to round out reliable teams have met with considerable success.

Adanacs, Lakeviews, Holy Name Society, and Lock Works are in the junior ranks, and in this series, the pick of the players in the juvenile league of last season will be seen in action again. Classics, Raybestos, C. G.E. and Y.M.C.A. make up the intermediate loop.

This season's juvenile series will bring out many young players, who will make their first bow in organized baseball. This league will open on Saturday, May 13th, with a double header at Riverside Park. "Bill" Prindible, who was elected assistant secretary-treasurer of the City League last night, will give his attention to the juvenile series.

ADANACS WILL PRACTICE

The Adanac Juniors will practice with the Central Ontario League tomorrow, (Friday) at 6 o'clock at the Exhibition Park. All players are asked to be out to this practice.

ENTERTAINING NIGHT AT THE KING GEORGE SCHOOL

The Home and School Association of the King George school, Ashburnham, had a very successful evening recently when a large number of people attended. Mrs. Miller gave a very instructive and detailed account of her visit to the third annual convention of the H. and S., Toronto, after which the following talent gave a very fine programme: Piano solo, Mrs. Holden; solo, Mr. A. Clark, accompanied by Mrs. Hyde; piano solo, Isobel Couper.

Solo, Miss Doyle. Address on Happiness by Mr. Johns, and what a pleasure to make the tea this time, thanks to Mr. Fowler, who was the means of presenting the Association

A GOOD THOUGHT.

How many of us have said in our hearts: "It is not true that the hungry are always fed; the hunger of a heart was put into my prayer but it was never answered." There is a mystery of things withheld but we are wrong if we se. to hear mocking tones behind the refusal. When Jesus prayed in the garden that His cup of bitterness might pass the answer did not come, the cup did not pass. He asked it with a hunger of spirit which brought sweat to His brow, but still the answer did not come. Yet would you say that He was sent empty away? Might He not have turned in bitterness of heart as we are so often tempted to do? But we know that the hunger of His spirit was satisfied though by another path, after the Resurrection His face shone with happiness. Just so every frustrated prayer will receive an answer The latter of the petition may be shattered and broken in seeming failure but you will find the spirit of the petition answered in surprising ways. The hungry are filled with good things.

Capitol Entertainment

Today the Capitol Offers a Splendid Show, Wallace Reid in "The World's Champion" and Mr. Cameron Geddes in New Solos. Balance of the Program, Capitol Class and Quality.

Today, matinee and evening the Capitol offers a splendid program. Wallace Reid in his newest fast-moving sensational prize ring story, "The World's Champion", taken from the widely read Saturday Evening Post story. The champion in the picture drama it has been renamed "The World's Champion". Mr. Cameron Geddes the poular basso will remain this week only, in new selecton. Mr. Geddes hs proven to be the most popular singer that has ever appeared at the Capitol and will be a welcome visitor at any time he wishes to make a return engagement at the Capitol. The entire balance of the program as arranged for this week-end will be found to be very excellent entertainment all the way though.

When Wallace Reid, Paramount star, agreed to do the title role of "The World's Champion" from the successful play by Thomas Louden and A. E. Thomas, as his new starring vehicle, which will be shown at the Capitol today, he drew a large order, for to portray a prizefight champion and to show the pugilistic in action in the Lout in which he grabs the prize belt, is a stunt that cannot be "faked" before the camera.

Although Reid was no novice with the gloves, having been for a long time a boxing enthusiast there were nevertheless many tricks for him to master, and to perfect his role he went through a daily course of rigid training for several weeks prior to the filming of the fight scenes.

Under the clever direction of Philip E. Rosen, the scenes of "The World's Champion" are most realistic and the picture is declared to be highly diverting. J. E. Nash adapted the play to the screen and Mr. Reid is supported by Lois Wilson, Lionel Belmore, Henry Miller, Jr., Helen Dunbar and other players.

Excellent musical selection and just the usual prices.

AT THE GRAND.

"SCHOOL DAYS" HAS LARGE NUMBER OF WELL KNOWN SCREEN PLAYERS

The cast in support of Wesley Barry in his latest starring vehicle Gus Edwards' "School Days" which will be shown at the Grand Theatre commencing tonight contains a number of well known screen players.

Margaret Seddon, who plays the part of the kindly midle-aged school teacher, has served a long apprenticeship on both stage and screen. She has had unusual success in motion pictures, and some of her most recent appearances have been in "Headin' Home," "The Inside of the Cup," "The Highest Law" and "Wings of Pride."

George Lessey a character actor who has practically spenth is entire career on the legitimate stage and who has played opposite some of the foremost footlight celebrities, was very modest in revealing his experiences in motion pictures. But it is known that his characterization of the stern parent in "Why Girls Leave Home," was commented upon very favorably by critics throughout the breadth and scope of America. In "School Days" he plays the part of the stern guardian, who exacts obedience by means of the rod.

J. H. Gilmore also a character actor who has had a long and varied experience on both stage and screen. Prior to the advent of the motion picture in its more intelligible form, Mr. Gilmore spent many years on the stage in stock companies, and in road shows. Probably few character actors have enjoyed the success that has been Mr. Gilmore's during his professional stage careeer. Li' scores of other well known stage "For the Defense", "The Kentuckians", "The Impossible Catherine", "Democracy," "The Wakefield Case", "The Magic Cup" and other screen plays.

The history of the other members figures he realized the tremendous possibilities of the silver sheet, and thereupon made his appearance in of the cast in "School Days" would fill a good sized book. Suffice it to say that Francis X. Conlan, in the role of the eccentric small town inventor, Nellie P. Spalding, as his slave wife, Arline Blackburn, playing the part of Wesley Barry's little country sweetheart, Jerome Patrick the clever attorney who tangles and then unravels a dec. mystery. Arnold Lucy, John Galsworthy, do more than justice to their respective chaacterizations.

"School Days" is calculated to appeal to every mother who has boys, every man who remembers his boyhood, every human being who can thrill to the joys, the disappointments, the pranks and the glory of boyhood.

"HULLO, CANADA."

Many new and pleasing features will be found in the new edition of "Hullo, Canada," which Harry Tate will present at the Grand Theatre for an engagement of one night, commencing Thursday, May 11, being their farewell engagement here on their way back to England.

All the larger cities of the Western States in America have been included in the company's itinerary since they left here, and in every respect their appearance in these cities have evinced the most laudable criticism from press and public alike.

Harry Tate's motoring and "fishing" skits will be retained in the new edition, owing to the numerous requests received from his admirers on their hearing that he will return to visit them on his way back to the other side. In addition to these two inimitable characterizations, he will present his newest and most humorous satires as rendered at the London Hip., "The Critic," "Arrest Me," and "There's Another One Born Every Minute."

One of the most sensational and daring numbers will be the famous "Roulette", which caused such a furore in Paris and London last season, as well as "Grandma's Days," another surprise guaranteed as a sure cure for the T. B. M. Ably directed by Max Olney, producer of some of the most successful numbers staged at the New York and London Hips., the entrancing chorus of English beauties will be seen in these elaborately staged musical numbers as well as a dozen others. Connie Browning, an English prima donna, who has joined the new organization, and Miss Isobel Dorothy, a dainty ingenue who took the States by storm, will both help in the presentation of this new revue.

YOUNG-ADAMS COMPANY.

Starting next Monday and continuing for two days H. Wilmot Young will present the Young-Adams Company, headed by the talented Marjie Adams. Both Mr. Young and Miss Adams have a host of friends and admirers in Peterborough who will give them a right royal welcome after an absence of several years. Mr. Young has selected his repertoire for the present engagement with care and thoughtfulness to those of his many friends. The opening play will be, "Man, Woman and Wealth." In this play both Mr. Young and Miss Adams have excellent parts. Many will be there the opening night. Tuesday evening, an unusual play, "The Broken Road," will be given. The offering Wednesday afternoon, a real treat for the ladies and children, "A Secret Marriage." The Wednesday night attraction will be "St. Elmo," said to be Mr. Young's masterpiece. A complete line of high-class vaudeville between acts. Remember the dates, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next week. Seats now on sale.

AT THE ROYAL.

That universal favorite of the screen, Shirley Mason, appears to-night in "Jackie," the romance of a waif's rise to fortune. Jackie, full name Jaqueline, is a little Russian girl who was picked up by Madame Lemine, a dancing teacher. Carter, a rich young American, living in London, sees Jackie dance to the music of a street hurdy-gurdy, and offers to have the child trained by a noted dancing master. Madame Lemine, however, has apprenticed her to Bowman, manager of a troupe of third-rate strolling players. Bowman soon insults the girl, who runs away. She gets to London with a crippled boy, whom she had taken care of in the country. The young American finds her again, and, against the wishes of his aristocratic friends, has her educated as an expert dancer. When she makes a successful debut on the stage Bowman demands that she fill her apprenticeship with him and blackmails the girl into paying heavily for surrender of his contract with her. He gets his money and a thorough hiding by the girl's benefactor. The play ends with the peal of wedding bells. William Russell, in "The Roof Tree," presents a charming story of Southern life with its feuds and quick time passionate love-making. This drama of the Kentucky mountains is one that stirs the most sluggish pulse and strikes a responsive chord on the heart strings of human emotion. A pretty tale of life amongst a more primitive people who are not enchained by the artificial conventionalities too prevalent in urban life. The Fox comedy, called "The Toreador," is one through which flows a stream of fun which is incessantly broken by rapids of hearty laughter. Larry Semon, the world renowned comedian, appears in a whirlwind of fun, entitled "The Head Waiter."

AT THE REGENT.

LOCAL THEATRE TO OFFER WALTON FILM

Universals Popular "Flapper" Star Coming to Town.

Empires may come and empire may go, but the flapper flaps on forever.

That may be an inexcusable adaptation of some wise and honored bromide, but it serves the purpose. It explains the growing popularity of Gladys Walton as the flapper impersonator of the screen.

The world loves the flapper and couldn't get along without the dear creature. She may be a pest but she is a welcome one. And to the star who successfully portrays her on the screen is bound to come rich reward in the love and admiration of playgoers.

Gladys Walton's latest "flapperization" comes to the Regent theatre to-day. It is called "The Wise Kid." Needless to say, "The Wise Kid" wasnt wise at the start. But she was clever enough to pretend it. And it is said the story offers some situations that scintillate with wit and humor, depicting her mental growth from flapper to full grown woman.

Universal signed a star to play opposite her in the male lead. He is David Butler and his role is one of those human characterizations for which he has become famous.

LEGAL BATTERY IN LOCAL CASE

Continental Guarantee Corporation, plaintiff, vs. A. J. Hendricks, Robert Mahood and W G. Havery, Lorne Mahood and Wilfrid Havery, defendants.

D. I. Grant, Toronto, for plaintiff, E. Gus Porter, Belleville, for Hendricks; A. M. Fulton, Lindsay, for Robert Mahood; R. R. Hall, Peterborough, for W. G. Havery; C. R. Widdifield, Peterborough, for Lorne Mahood and Wilfrid Havery.

Action by plaintiff against defendant Hendricks as indorser on certain drafts accepted by Lorne Mahood and Wilfrid Havery, and against R. Mahood and W. G. Havery as guarantors on their individual bonds for the same indebtedness.

The action, while not very interesting from a spectators' point of view, has very many important legal complications and is very much involved through the fact that while each of the different defendants dispute the plaintiff's claim, each also in turn claim a remedy against their co-defendants.

The action is proceeding before the Hon. Mr. Justice Mowat and has been before the court since Monday last.

OBITUARY

INFANT CHILD.

Everett Carey, three months old son of Mr. William Carey, 175 Adelaide avenue, died last night. Mrs. Carey passed away three months ago. The funeral took place this afternoon from the family residence to St. Peter's church and cemetery.

LATE THOMAS KENNEY.

On Sunday morning, 16th April, the death occurred at his residence of one of the best known and highly esteemed residents of Jones' Falls, in the person of Mr. Thomas B. Kenney, who for the past 47 years had been prominent in the mercantile and hotel life of that centre. He was a charter member of Branch 170, C.M.B.A., and is survived by his wife, three sons and three daughters, namely, Messrs. J. A. and Thomas V. Kenney, Elgin; W. D. Kenney, Brockville; Mrs. E. Dwyer and Mrs. J. J. Murray, Elgin; and Mrs. Charles Mahoney, Kingston.

The funeral was held on Tuesday morning to St. Columbanus church, Elgin, where solemn requiem mass was celebrated for the repose of his soul by Rev. M. O'Hanlon, assisted by the full choir of the church.

Among those from a distance present at the funeral, which was one of the largest seen in that vicinity in years and contained over 100 carriages, were the following: D. E. Donohue, Buffalo, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Keuney, Toronto; Mrs. James Kenney and Mrs. A. McIntosh, Peterborough; Capt. J. D. Mahoney, Kingston; Miss M. F. Mangan, Belleville; Mrs. M. Mangan, Kingston.

Mrs. James Kenney, Peterborough, and Mrs. A. McIntosh, Grafton, are sisters of deceased.

WESTCLOX GRADING NEARLY FINISHED.

This Part of Work May Be Completed This Week.

The grading operations on the Western Clock Company's factory site at the top of Hunter Street East are well on their way to completion.

Mr. Angus Richardson, who has the contract for this part of the work, expects to have most of it finished by the end of this week, with only the grading of an entrance on the west side remaining. The teamsters under his direction have scalped the south side of Armour's Hill within the estimated time, and are now down to hard pan and gravel.

"The men I have working with me are keen to see the job get along on schedule," said Mr. Richardson.

In the meantime the city has begun the grading of Hunter Street, east of Armour Road, and drawing the top five feet down to the corner of Hunter and Burnham Streets, and are filling part of the excavation from which the Hunter Street Bridge approach and filling material was obtained.

This part of Ashburnham is undergoing very material changes, and with dwellings springing up here and there, the community across the river is taking on a new lease of life and prosperity.

KING AND QUEEN ARE TAKING COMPLETE REST

WINDSOR, May 4.—(Associated Press.) — King George and Queen Mary both are said to have needed the rest they are expecting to get while here. Not only did the wedding of Princess Mary mean a great deal of work for them, but they hape been under a considerable strain while the Prince of Wales was in India. Affairs nearer home have also caused them concern.

Queen Maay, always solicitous for the health of her family, is additionally anxious that the King should secure as complete a rest as possible now, because the coming summer is full of engagements which will tax his strength pretty considerably.

IN MEMORIAN

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE.

Somewhere in France, as daylight fades
The gleaming sun shall steal across
And tender beams in soft caress
Shall linger on a wooden cross.
So far from home a mother's tears
May never on the light sods fall,
And far from her who hoped to be
In days to care his all in all
O! Lonely grave yet not alone
For God is mindful of his own.
Somewhere in France at twilight hour
The reverend peasants passing near
Shall linger by the hero's grave
And breathe to heaven a breath of prayer,
While childish hands(with love) entwine
A wreath of fragile lilies fair.
An emblem fragrant and divine.
Though British soil enfoldeth not,
He sleepeth in a kindly spot.

P.S.—Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for a friend.

In loving memory of Corpl. J.H. Miller, 93rd Batt., killed in the Battle of Fresnoy, 3rd of May, 1917.

A LOVE-CRAZED BROKER SHOOTS WOMAN TWICE

INTENDED SUICIDE

NEW YORK, May 5.—The corridors of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Building, at Madison Avenue and Twenty-third street, were jammed with hundreds of men and women going to and from luncheon when Waltiman Michailow, 51 years old, a broker, of 3,405 Broadway, crazed by jealousy, fired two pistol shot at Mrs. Anna Carr, 32 years old, a seamstress, of 64 St. Marks Place. At Bellevue Hospital it was said Mrs. Carr probably would recover.

The firing started a panic among the crowds in the arcades, and they fell back and elbowed each other to get out of the way of Michailow and his revolver. The throng consisted mostly of girl employes of the Metropolitan, whose screams threw the place into an uproar.

Michailow fled from the building by the Madison Avenue entrance, flourishing his revolver toward a group of men on the sidewalk. He ran across the street and into Madison Square Park, pursued by Special Officers Thomas F. Wade and an electrician named McDonald. The park was crowded with the usual noonday gathering of office workers, and the appearance of Michailow, brandishing the weapon, caused an other panic. There was a mad scramble to get out of the way.

Overpowered on the Path.

The special officers and the electrician caught up with Michailow on the south path and overpowered him before he could offer any resistance or turn his weapons on them. "I don't care what happens to me now," he told the officers. "They can give me the electric chair right now."

In the meantime Mrs. Carr was taken to the medical department of the Metropolitan Life on the third floor of the building, where she was treated for two flesh wounds in the back and arm by Dr. Nute of New York Hospital, after which she was taken to Bellevue Hospital. The crowd in the corridors was so large when Mrs. Carr was being removed to the ambulance that policemen had to force a way for her.

Michailow was taken to the East Twenty-second Street station, where he was questioned. He signed a written confession and said he had intended to kill himself in the young woman's presence after swallowing poison, but that her attempt to wheedle the revolver from him caused him to shoot her on the impulse of the moment.

According to the story he told the police, Michailow had known the young woman for six years. Her husband is said to be living near Elizabeth, N. J. After she left her husband Michailow supported her for several years, he said, but recently learned that she was receiving attentions of another man.

Intended to Take Poison.

'I' have been out of my mind since then because I love this woman," he said in his signed confession. 'About four weeks ago I bought a revolver for the purpose of killing myself. I also carried poison and intended to take this poison and then shoot myself.

"I met Mrs. Carr by appointment at Twenty-fourth Street and Fourth Avenue about noon and we went to lunch. She han been fooling me right along. She discovered that I had a gun in my pocket and she asked me to give it to her. I was going to give it to her when she started to scream and on the impulse of the moment I fired two shots."

Witnesses of the shooting saw the couple enter the building from the Twenty-fourth Street side. They were talking loudly and Michailow seemed to be angry. They had walked about twenty paces to a short passageway connecting the Metropolitan Tower and the main building when Michailow jerked the revolver from his pocket and began shooting.

At the police station a vial of cyanide of potassium was found in Michailow's pocket. A charge of felonious assault was made against him. He was taken to the prison ward at Bellevue Hospital.

LOCAL CHINESE WATCHING FIGHT

The local Chinese, although they all come from the south of China, are keenly watching the attempt of Wu Pei-Fu to overthrow the Peking Government in the north, and a large majority of the colony here are cheering for Wu. The quiet chaps who wait on tables or do up laundry and take the world with a resigned air, are the same fellows who in spare moments struggle with English accounts of the battles in the north and follow the moves of the army as eagerly as Canadians watched the battle zone in the late war.

The Chinese here are not missing a move of either army, and so far they are giving even odds. General Chang has plenty of money behind him, but Wu, whom they call 'the best fellow,' has the support of the Christian section of the population. Local Chinese say they stand for the best government, and are inclined to think Wu would be more popular with the people. The government in South China is quite stable and no trouble is looked for in their part of China. Nearly all the Peterborough celestials come from Canton.

BENEFIT LITTLE BY FREE TRADE

Air of Depression Invests Volga Provincial Towns of Soviet Russia.

SUIZRAN, on the Volga, May 5.—(Associated Press).—Five hundred miles from Moscow and at the border of the famine belt, it becomes evident that the first year of Soviet Russia's new economic policy has made far less changes in the province than in Moscow, Petrograd and the other big cities.

Far removed from the seaports, connected with the manufacturing districts by a broken transport system overloaded with the shipments of food and seed grain to the worst stricken hunger regions, large provincial towns such as Suizran have, naturally, benefitted very little by the present freedom of trade.

They are not starving, as the provinces farther down the Volga, but, at this time of the year, with the next harvest some months off, they are living day to do from hand to mouth.

Markets are open, but display scanty stocks and at prices as high or higher than in Moscow, while the peasants and town dwellers have not the abundance of paper money which seems common to all in the cities. Besides, they are slower to think and spend in millions and seem reluctantly to part with the printed bits of paper which Muscovites spend freely to-day in the belief that they will buy less to-morrow.

In the principal street of Suizran, which has more than 40,000 inhabitants, the correspondent counted less than 10 open stores in a mile's ride. There were three or four bakeries, displaying meagre stocks of pastries and black and white bread, a meat shop or two, and some others had in their grimy windows a few pitiful bits of feminine finery, doubtless of a pre-war vintage.

Most of the buildings were empty, their boarded or broken windows speaking the desolation of seven years of war and revolution that shows much more plainly in the provinces than in newly resurrected Moscow.

When the Volga opens in the spring, some of Suizran's shop-windows may be filled again, and if the coming harvest is normal, the town may lose its air of depression, but, as it stands to-day, it seems an example of the desolate provincial towns of the better class that dot Russia from Vladivostok to Petrograd and from Archangel to Odessa.

A GIRL SLAIN OVER YEAR AGO NOW IDENTIFIED

Murdered Girl's Bones. Filled Out With Plaster Features, Identified by Relatives.

A UNIQUE FEAT

NEW YORK, May 5.—One of the most unusual pieces of police work ever attempted in New York came to an apparently successful conclusion Wednesday night when the identity of a murdered girl found in the Haverstraw Mountains after she had been dead a year was identified through the reconstruction of a life-like body and features from the bare skeleton.

The victim was identified positively as Lillian White, 24 years old, of 206 Sunnyside Avenue, Brooklyn, who had been an inmate of a home for mental defectives at Letchworth village, near Thiells, N.Y., for some time before her death.

With all the plastic art of a skilled modeler, Grant Williams, a former Police Lieutenant, after days of painstaking labor, "fleshed" the stark bones, turned the skull into the semblance of a face and head, clothed the body in a middy blouse and skirt and exhibited his completed work to relatives and friends of a number of persons who had been reported missing from the vicinity of the grewsome find of April 13 last.

Set up on a pedestal in the home of Mrs. Mary Hamilton, a policewoman, at 330 West Fifteenth Street, the reconstructed skeleton was examined by two sisters of the dead girl and several other persons. The sisters, who were quite sure they could not be mistaken, were Mrs. Pasquale Capertino, of 1,408 Bergen Street, Brooklyn, and Mrs. Rose Doran, of 51 Throop Avenue, Brooklyn.

Mrs. E. J. Sheahan, who is connected with a home for women at Bedford, N. Y., where it was said, the White girl formerly was an inmate, identified the reconstructed skeleton before the young woman's sisters viewed it.

The exhibit looked quite life-like, plaster of paris having been used and the contours, especially of the skull, having been closed, studied and followed by Williams in reshaping the figure.

Mrs. Hamilton, the policewoman who has worked on the case for some months, said that the White girl undoubtedly had been murdered and that she had received three distinct and heavy blows on the head—one on the forehead, another on the top of the head and a third on the left temple. One or more of these blows caused her death. The cause of the murder and the identity of the murderers have not been learned.

Eight persons were reported missing last year from the Letchford village section and a number of persons were called to view the reconstructed figure before its identity finally was established.

Lieutenant Williams, soon after he started the work, became convinced that the features would have to be those of an Irish girl. It was later learned that Lillian White's mother was of Irish descent, although her father was Polish.

When boys found the skeleton in the Haverstraw Mountains they thought it was that of a big dog. Most of the bones were covered with newspaper. The boys did not stop to unwrap their strange find, but went home and told their parents.

The father of one of the boys examined the bones, and, finding them to be those of a human being, notified the Sheriff of the county. The skeleton was taken to Thiells and inquiry was made throughout that section, but nothing then was learned of the identity of the victim, and it was not established at the time that a murder had been committed.

A number of New Yorkers have country homes in that section, and several of them, it is said, notified Captain John Ayres of the Missing Persons Bureau at Police Headquarters here of the circumstances surrounding the finding of the skeleton.

Annual Meeting of Social Service Council Took Place Last Evening

A Large Programme Has Been Planned for the Insuing Year—Officers Elected—Resolution Against Gambling.

The anual meeting of the Social Service Council of Peterboro took place last evening in the Y.M.C.A., with an enthusiastic and well-attended gathering, Rev. Mallott, presiding, occupying the chair. Reports from committees were received, and election of officers poceeded with. Rev. F. J. Chapman was appointed president, with the remaining officials re-elected; 1st vice president, Mrs. W. R. Morris; 2nd vice president, A. Mowat; Secretary, Jno. Edgar Treasurer, F. Adams. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the retiring president, Rev. F. E. Mallot, for his faithful attention throughout the year.

A big programme has been planned for the ensuing year. It was decided to memorialize the local Exhibition Board with regard to the character of some of the performances put on in the Midway; to memorialize the Premier of Ontario and the local member, Mr. G. N. Gordon, commending the proposed legislation which has for its object the curtailment of- race track gambling; and to procure information from other cities which have banned the punch board. Evil arising out of the use of this machine were reported, one instance cited being the case of a family spending a considerable amount in this way, while carried on the relief list of the city.

Mr. Malott reported on the dates set for the annual convention of the Social Service Council of Ontario, which will be held in Brantford on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, when it is expected that the programme presented will surpass that of last year's meeting here, and urged an attendance of the members thereat. It is possible that Rev. J F. Chapman, Rev. F. E. Malott and other members of the local association will attend.

COUNCIL REACHES TETHER END APPLICATIONS FOR FIRE CHIEF

George Gimblett of Hamilton Only One Left to Snub To If New Appointment Is Made — Will Enquire Into His Record.

Deputation to Hamilton.

In their quest for a new fire chief Council by its progress of elimination reached the irreducible minimum at the commttee of the whole meeting last night. George Gimblett of Hamilton is the last survivor of the thirty-five applicants who replied to the Council's advertisement. He and Chief R. Dey of Collingwood separately presented themselves to the Council last night, recounted their experience as firefighters and went their way with the evasive information that the committee was deferring its decision for a few days.

Chief G. M. Brady, of North Bay, who on the strength of various favorable reports, was considered particularly eligible declined to accept the Council's invitation to come to Peterboro at the city's request for the purpose of an interview with the committee.

Mayor Taylor read the following interview from Chief Brady: "Will not go to Peterboro as long as Grange has a chance. Give Grange another trial, and then if not satisfied would be pleased to have interview with your Council, or would help Grange straighten out."

Committee of Enquiry

The net result of last night's discussion was Alderman Stocker's motion, seconded by Ald. Phelan, delegating Mayor Taylor and Ald. Crowe to go to Hamilton and obtain information about the qualifications of Mr. Gimblett and report by Monday night.

The Council divided on this resolution according to its previous expressions with Aldermen Stocker, Phelan, Hamilton, Gainey and Crowe voting for it and Aldermen Jones, McIntyre, Turner and McIntyre against Ald. Holloway was not present.

Gimblett is a Driver

George Gimblett said he was engaged as driver on the triple combination waggon in the central station of the Hamilton Department He is 36 years old and has been fifteen years in the service. On occasion when the captain and lieutenant of his platoon have been absent he was in charge and said he was next in line for promotion. He asked for $2,400 in his application, but said last night that he was willing to start at the present salary in Peterboro and when he made the Department satisfactory he would expect the salary he had named.

In answer to some of the questions from members of the Committee, Mr. Gimblett said he did not think the local department had half enough equipment. The motor combination truck with a hose capacity of 1700 feet was inadequate. That quantity would allow for only two lines of hose for the average fire.

"You can't handle a big fire with two lines" said Gimblett. "I'd get a triple combination pumper if you wanted to bring the department to greater efficiency. It carried your hose and chemical and if you want extra pressure you have the pump right there. The fire game is like everything else. It is changing with the times and you have to keep up with it."

Mr. Gimblett said he considered that the local Fire Department covered a big area.

Dey's Experience

Mr. Dey said that Collingwood's department had only four permanent men with an auxiliary staff that brought the total force up to twelve.

Although his frank statements clearly indicated that he hadn't the experience which the Council has mentioned in its deliberations Chief Dey made a good personal impression upon most of the members.

After these two applicants had retired, the Council launched upon a discussion that was largely a rehash of former arguments.

Cautious Council

Ald. McIntyre said that the Council was taking a big chance if they made a selection upon the conversation with Gimblet and Dey. "What impression would Chief Grange make on us if he came before us as a stranger? I think he would make as good an impression as either of these men".

Ald. Jones — You have never heard as much from Chief Grange as you have heard from these men. Our own man is getting the worst chance of all.

Ald. McInyre said that Brady of North Bay looked the best of the applicants. There was some principle about him.

Ald. Crowe — He's like every other union man. He belong's to the Fire Chiefs' Association, and there is a certain amount of honour among them.

To test the sentiment of the Committee, Ald. Stocker proposed that Gimblett be recommended as Chief, but he withdrew the motion later.

Fire Chief Brady Issues Statement

NORTH BAY, May 5.—(Canadian Press).—In referring to his application for position of Chief of Peterborough Fire Department, Fire Chief G. M. Brady issued the following statement:

"I was invited to attend a special meeting of the Peterborough City Council in regard to the position, but I declined to do so as long as the present Chief of Peterborough brigade has a possibility of being retained as head of that department."

RADIO PRIMER

Cycle—In case of an alternating current, each complete change of direction is called a cycle. For instance, ordinary lighting current is known as a 60-cycle current, that is, it goes through 60 cycles of change in one second. Each cycle consists of a rise in positive voltage to the maximum, a fall to zero, further drop in negative voltage to the lowest point and return to zero.

Dr. Heber Robarts Dies a Martyr

Noted X-Ray and Radium Specialist Succumbs to Old Burns in Roentgen Rays Experiments.

BELLEVILLE, Ill., May 5.—Dr. Heber Robarts, 70, internationally known X-ray and radium specialist, died at his home here. His death indirectly was due to burns received while experimenting with roentgen rays before present-day precautionary measures were known.

Dr. Robarts began his research work immediately after graduation from the University of Illinois. During an X-ray experiment he lost three fingers of the left hand, the injury developing into a progressive malignancy.

After the discovery of radium Dr. Robarts directed his research work to the new element and made frequent trips to St. Joachimsthal, where the discoverer of radium, Mme. Curie, maintains a laboratory.

At the time of his death, Dr. Robarts was President of the Southern Illinois Medical Society. He was the founder of the Roentgen Ray Society and also founder and first editor of the American X-Ray Journal.

TRAGIC DEATH MRS. C. FANNING

Body of Havelock Woman Was Found Floating in a Cistern.

HAVELOCK, May 5.—Shortly after ten o'clock this morning the body of Mrs. Charles Fanning was found floating in a cistern in the basment of her home. A housekeeper had been in conversation with Mrs. Fanning about seven o'clock this morning and her failure to come down stairs as usual caused a search to be instituted. The deceased was in her night apparel when found. D...pondency is suposed to have been the cause of the woman's rash act. She was about fifty-five years of age. Her husband who was postmaster in Havelock for many years, predeceased her about one year ago.

EXERCISES AND DANCES Y.W.C.A. CLEVER EXHIBIT

Both Tiny Tots and Dignified Seniors Won Applaudits of Appreciative Audience Last Night.

SEASON CLOSES

Opened by Mr. D. Walker, principal of the Normal School in a brief speech commending the work of the local Y.W.C.A. between 150 and 200 people in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium last evening witnessed the closing exercises fo this year of the Young Women's Christian Association gymnasium. An interesting exposition of the activities of the 'Y' which have for their object the physical development of the iirl members was afforded the appreciative audience. Fom the tiny tots who bobbed in and out in baby fashion to the dignified seniors every individual performer went through the exercises and dances with precision and close attention to the commands of their young director, Miss Jean McLaughlin, who has evidently put a great deal of careful, painstaking work in the season's training of her classes.

Massed Classes.

Massed Classes formed in the introductory grand march and the "Y W.C.A." figure which closed the exercises; the opening followed by Dumbell exercises by the Saturday Juniors, small ladies in white middies and dark bloomers, keeping careful time Club Swinging by the Seniors, Athena and Senior School Girls was well done, wand exercises by Intermediates and Beginners and Single Stick work by Seniors and Athena Club members displayed an agile grace in the series of evolutions that called forth an easy quickness in swift wrist turns and swaying body movements The Swedish Calistheni cs for Seniors Athena, Intermediates, and Beginners were executed in military time, the lithe, active bodies making quick response to the sharp commands of their leader.

Applause greeted the appearance of the Little Tots, cunning bobbing marionettes in petal-like white outspread skirts, with black rosettes adorning tiny bodice and high, white pointed caps. These small things, with dainty, wavering movements and outspread arms, sang of the pussy cat, and the cow that jumped over the moon, of Little Miss Muffet and the wandering lady bug with appropriate gestures.

Nursery Rhymes.

The Saturday Juniors and Nursery Rhymes also, larger feminine editions, who illustrated the adventures of Welsh Taffy and the leg of beef and the queer habits of "My son John", with jerky jumps and sid...ong twists of small bodies.

The exhibition of games by the Junior and Senior School girls was a loudly applauded, various hilarious Interval. In a rollicking, evidently much-enjoyed series, they passed the ball, snatched the handerkerchief, jumped the wand with rapid dexterity, and raced around Indian club hazards.

Apparatus work was good, the Junior and Senior School Girls vaulting and turning somersaults over the 'horse"; the Saturday Juniors swinging head down at the rings; and the Seniors doing all sort of stunts on the parallel bars.

Graceful Dances.

The later half of the program was devoted to dancing. The Intermediates, Athena Club and Seniors had an English folk number, a rollicking affair to the tune of an old morris dance; and the Saturday Juniors had a fetching little Indian dance in costu...es of slashed brown and red, with red head bands and stiff head feathers. They did their jerky measures with much stamping of feet and low cries, with a final seated ring about a Central figure.

The Junior School Girls had a minuet, well executed four as dignified ladies in full skirts and tight

BANKS'

Overland Country Club, a Bargain

NOT A FAULT TO FIND

Mr. Struan G. Robertson, of Seabank, Pictou, N. S., writing in April as to his Overland purchased in the previous May, says: "I have pleasure in stating that I have not a fault to find with it. I did 3,560 miles with the car during the summer and fall without trouble of any kind except the breaking of an ignition wire. I did not have a puncture.

"Today the car seems as good as when I got her.

"On a 210 mile run round Cape George, Antigonish, Guysboro, Melrose, Glenelg and home by East River St. Mary's with four passengers, I used but ten gallons of gas, being an average of 22 miles to the gallon.

"I am thoroughly well satisfied with it and have not seen anything in its class that I would exchange it for."

STRIKE BOARD WILL INSPECT MINE SECTIONS

Tour of Inspection Will Include Every District in Nova Scotia and Cape Breton.

OPENING SESSION.

SYDNEY, N.S., May 5.—(Canadian Press)—Announcement that the members of the Conciliation Board recently appointed to hear the coal wage dispute in Nova Scotia, propose to visit every mining section of the province, including Cape Breton, Pictou and Cumberland Counties, was made by D'Arcy Scott, chairman, at the opening session here yesterday. Chairman Scott declared that Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor had urged this course and the members of the board concurred.

H. J. McCann, Assistant General manager of the Dominion Coal Company, informed the board that D. H. McDougall, Vice-President of the British Empire Steel Corporation,would carry on the case for the company, but asked that no evidence be taken until Mr. McDougall reached the city. He is to arrive here this morning.

Following this, announcement Chairman Scott stated that a visit to mining sections in this district would be made this afternoon.

GREECE PAID BUT RUMANIA DID NOT

Interest on Loan Made in 1919 Was Paid By Greece But Not By Roumania.

OTTAWA, May 5. — (Canadian Press.)—The Government of Greece has paid interest on the loan made by the Canadian Government in 1919, but no interest has been paid on a loan made at that time to Roumania. This information was given by the Minister of Finance in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon in reply to S. W. Jacobs, Liberal, of George Etienne Cartier. Mr. Jacobs was informed that Greece owes at the present time for principal and interest $7,520,473, while the amount due by Roumania is $20,449,104. Of these amounts Roumania owes $2,606,652 for interest; while Greece owes only $196,424. The Government has taken steps to collect the money due it was added by the Finance Minister.

AMERICAN FAMILY HAD AN ARMY OF SERVANTS

LONDON, May 4.—(Associated Press.)—Several London newspapers commented on the size of the entourage of servants which accompanied an American family of father, mother and two daughters, which jsit concluded a stay at a London hotel. The party has departed to the continent.

The accompanying servants comprise three maids, one valet ,two secretaries, a private physician ,a masseur, and two chafeurs. In addition, while in London, a titled society woman was employed to chaperone the daughters on shopping expeditions.

The Daily Mail remarked: "Even Princess Mary on her honeymoon is not accompanied by the small army of attendants which are attached to a certain family now visiting London."

TO SINK BATTLESHIP

MELBOURNE, May 5. — (Canadian Press)—The battleship Australia, will be sunk soon by gunfire or torpedoes, off the Sydney Harbor, in accordance with the provisions of the Naval Treaty concluded at the Washington Conference.

COST TO BRITAIN OF CONFERENCES.

The expenses of the American Commission to the Paris Peace Conference was estimated by President Wilson at $1,506,776.

CHANG TSO-LIN IS DEFEATED IN THREE BATTLES

Heavy Losses Suffered at Machang. The Defeated Soldiers Refused Refuge in Peking.

FOREIGNERS SAFE.

PEKING, May 5. — (Canadian Press)—General Chang Tso-Lin, commander of the Fengtien forces, has suffered reverses on three points on the battlefronts according to consular advices received here.

At Machang, south of Tien-Tsin, Chang's losses are said to have been heavy. Along the Hun River, at a place called Kuanhsien, it is asserted that his trops have beep driven eastward. The routing of the Manchurian leader's troops from Changsintine which forms the northwest terminus of the battle line, appears to be complete.

The forces of Chang after evacuating the vicinity of Changintien boarded trains and sped to Fengtai, the next station, where they made a stand for a while. Throngs of men from the defeated army approached the walls of Peking and pleaded for refuge inside the city. Many of them threw away their guns. The gates of the city were immediately closed as the local authorities had ordered, under pressure from the foreign legations, that admittance be refused to defeated troops of either side.

The Chang soldiers, when they found they would be unable to enter the city, dispersed, discouraged. Many of them marched toward the hills, while others sought refuge in the various temples and pagodas located in the outlying districts.

There were numerous wounded soldiers in the hoards, some limping and others crawling, but all imploring aid. The distressed men were given aid, mostly by foreigners. they declared they had been under constant fire for more than five days. General Wu's attacks, they asserted, had been rentless, and it was their belief that he would not cease his drive until Chang Tso-Lin was pushed back into Manchuria.

Chinese civilian refugees were permitted to enter the city. Inside the walls of the city quiet prevailed yesterday. All foreigners are reported to be safe.

MANY NEW MEMBERS HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

The campaign of the Horticultural Society for new members is netting results, and by the end of the week it is hoped that the 500 mark will be in sight. The display of options in Grafton's window has interested many people in the work being done, and from a material standpoint alone has shown what a year's membership is worth. As numerous enquiries have been made as to where to join, it might be helpful if it was more generally known that there is a representative of the society at the window who will be pleased to explain the aims and objects of the society, and take in memberships.

Changes in Auto Laws Pass Second Reading

Important Changes in Motor Vehicles Act and the Regulation of Motor 'Busses.

SOME DEBATE.

TORONTO, May 5. — The Bills introduced by the Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Highways, one to amend the oMtor Vehicles Act and the other to regulate motor busses, passed second readings in the Legislature yesterday afternoon after considerable discussion.

A number of Bills of lesser importance were dealt with.

One of the changes in the Motor Vehicles Act provides that no person will be granted a license for a motor car from which the manufacturer's serial number has been effaced until he can satisfy the Government officials of the ownership of the car and the circumstances under which the number was removed. A special mark of identification will then be placed on the car.

A stop will be put to the variety of coloured lights now being used on motor cars by the provision that the front lights must be either white or amber and the back light red. This is to give fire department motors exclusive use of red front lights or such other colour as the city council shall order.

No one is permitted to engage a person of under 16 years of age to operate a car, and any person under 18 years must pass an examination.

A motor overtaking an electric car must pass it on the right side with the exception of fire department vehicles.

Fines for Offences.

The amendments provide the range of fines for breaking the Motor Vehicles Act, in order to obtain, as nearly as possible, uniformity in the magistrates' decisions in all parts of the Province, and prevent a stranger being meted out a heavy fine while one of a magistrate's neighbours would get off with a lesser levy for a corresponding offence.

Hon. Mr. Biggs explained in moving the second reading of the Bill, "to regulate the operation of public vehicles," that this was an innovation for the Province, if not for the Dominion. The objects to encourage safe and sanitary busses, reasonable rates, uniform and efficient service, and guard against destructive competition.

To Grant Franchises.

It is provided that the Department may grant exclusive franchises to motor bus owners to operate in rural portions of the country and between urban centres. It leaves with urban municipalities the control of licensing busses within their limits, except that busses along rural roads may bring their passengers to any point within the limits of an urban municipality or take passengers from within these limits to points outside without paying toll to the city.

The Bill regulates the type of busses, the number of passengers a particular vehicle may carry, the sanitary conditions and provisions for the safety of the passengers. The tariff to be charged passengers must be approved by the Department of Highways.

One clause of the Bill which brought out considerable objection by the Hon. Howard Ferguson and the Hon. Geo. Henry, was that which gives the Government power to purchase and operate busses on a vote of the Legislature.

Mr. Biggs explained that the Government had no intention of going into the motor bus business, but wanted this authority in case it was necessary to operate a bus on a particular section of a roadway to ascertain what was a fair fee to charge for exclusive privilege of that portion. He said that of all the busses now operated, very few are safe and sanitary, and it might be a good thing for the Province to put such busses into operation in many instances.

Will Lay Out Routes.

It is understood that the various routes will be laid out and tenders called for exclusive franchises. The need for exclusive franchises is that in many cases large numbers of busses are now operating along the same routes, with racing for passengers and uncertainty of time schedules so that the travelling public are not getting reliable service and the bus operators are losing money.

Mr. Ferguson argued that the Bill should apply only to Provincial highways because under the Act the Province would be licensing busses to operate along county roads which had been almost entirely paid for by the municipalities, and taking away from these municipalities the opportunity of raising revenue from such licenses.

The Bill to place the Hamilton Highway on the same basis as the Provincial Highway as regards the maintenance and improvements, was left over, after a short debate, for further information.

The Bill to regulate the construction of dams in order to protect the public from washouts was given the second reading.

PARTRIDGE HEAD OF NEWS ASSOCIATION.

MONTREAL, May 5.—(Canadian Press).—Arthur Partridge, late of the Rochester Post Express, was appointed general manager of the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association, at a meeting of the Executive here yesterday afternoon. He was formerly advertising promotion manager of the association.

He succeeds William Wallace, who resigned and has been appointed to the staff of the Toronto Star.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. W. D. JOHNSTON

Passed Away Last Night After An Illness of Only a Few Days' Duration. Leaves Many Friends.

On Thursday evening there passed away at her late family residence, Lot 26, Concession 9, Otonabee, Catharine Henderson, wife of Major W. D. Johnston and daughter of the late David and Susanna Henderson, in her 62nd year. The news of her death comes as a great shock to her many friends, as she had only been ill a matter of ten days.

She was born in Otonabee, of which community she had been a life-long resident, and where her many acts of loving kindness and sympathy had endeared her to a wide circle of friends and neighbors.

She leaves to mourn her loss, besides her sorrowing husband, four daughters—Mrs. W. Pinkey, of Baring, Sask.; Mrs. Cliff. Curtis, of Carmichael, Sask.; Marion and Verna, at home—and one son, Capt. T. D. Johnston, at home—and also four sisters and one brother, Mrs. Andrew Thomson, Thornbury; Mrs. James Renwick, Margaret and Jane Henderson and James E. Henderson, of Peterborough.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family in their great loss.

The funeral will be held on Saturday, at 2.00 p.m., from the family residence, to Little Lake Cemetery, Rev. Robert Pogue officiating.

PROBABILITIES.

Moderate winds, a few scattered showers, but generally fair with stationary or higher temperature.

POLICE CHIEF ORDERS SON BE ARRESTED

Chief Daniel Thompson Makes Charge of Criminal Negligence Against His Son.

IN WINDSOR.

WINDSOR, May 5.—(Canadian Press) — Chief of Police Daniel Thompson yesterday directed Police Court officials to lay chargs of criminal negligence against his son Gordon Thompson in order to obtain a complete and satisfactory investigation of his son's conduct in an accident Tuesday night when three persons were run down and seriously injured by an auto driven by the son. The injured persons were waiting to board a street car at the corner of London street and Crawford avenue when the accident occurred.

It is probable that the case will be adjourned until the injured persons have recovered sufficiently to give evidenc.

Two of the victims of the accident, Mrs. J. H. Hart of Walkerville and Stephen Collins of Windsor were reported to be out of danger by the hospital authorities last night. Mrs. A. Brockleband also of Windsor, is resting comfortably at her home the police stated.

NO RELIEF FOR WINNIPEG IDLE

250 March to Parliament Buildings But Without Any Result. Advised to Go to the Farms For Work.

WINNIPEG, May 5.— (Canadian Press.)—The impossibility of providing anything in the way of immediate relief for unemployed in Winnipeg was impressed upon a delegation which waited upon Sir James Aikens, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, and Premier T. C. Norris at Government House and Parliament Buildings yesterday. A delegation of 250 unemployed marched to the Parliament Buildings, but only three of their representatives were permitted to enter the building.

Following the interview with the Premier, H. S. Pearce, one of the leaders, informed the man that Premier Norris had advised single men to go to the farms, where more than 200 men were wanted at present. Pearce advised the workers to go to the polls and exercise their franchise in such a manner so that Premier Norris be sent back to the farm, where he belonged."

LEON TROTZKY SHOWS WHERE RUSSIA STANDS

The Soviet War Minister Breaks Silence to Tell of Russia's Position Regarding Genoa.

MOSCOW, May 5 (Canadian Press). — The developments at Genoa "having made it clearly evident" that the European diplomatists have misunderstood "what has happened" there, said Leon Trotzky, the Soviet War Minister, yesterday, "America's carefulness in remaining outside the Conference was perhaps right, in that it gives America the possibility to better orientate itself and more correctly solve the problem which Genoa has presented."

In his statement to the Associated Press, M. Trotzky broke the silence which, as a matter of policy, the most important Soviet officials have maintained while the delegates have been in Genoa.

In a frank presentation of Russia's position, into which he went deeply and concisely to the principles at stake, M. Trotzky declared he doubted that the non-success of the Conference would mean the beginning of military operations against Russia, but it would mean that the Soviet economic work would progress more slowly than Russia had wished and than it might have done.

"The leading European diplomatists," he continued, "appear still to consider that the labour revolution in Russia is not the beginning of a new and historical world epoch, but a mere temporary change of one form of property for another. They thought by force to reduce us to the old form of property, but this failed, and now they are demanding that we pay indemnity for the revolution on the basis of the legal forms and calculations of capitalistic society. This is as foolish as if we should demand at Genoa that European capitalists on the basis of our forms of property should hand over their factories, works, banks and mines to the collective management of the working classes.

RUSSO-GERMAN TREATY DOES NOT VIOLATE THE VERSAILLES AGREEMENT

France Is Not Very Well Satisfied With Findings of Reparations Commission.

NOTE TO GERMANY.

PARIS, May 5.—In a long note communicated to the German Government last night, the Reparations Commission fails to find any immediate violation of the Treaty of Versailles in the provisions of the Russo-German Rapallo Treaty, but reserves to itself the right to examine closely the application of the treaty and to take any action necessary to protect the Allied lien on all German resources.

The decision was sent to all the Allied Governments, and a copy was telegraphed to the British Prime Minister at Genoa.

The French Foreign Office refused last night to comment on the decision but in unofficial circles there is considerable disappointment. The hope had been repeatedly expressed by the Governmental press and elsewhere that the Commission would find the Russo-German Treaty a direct violation of the Versailles Treaty and demand full renunciation of the treaty by Germany. The Commission had the treaty under consideration since April 27; the committee of experts reported that it was unable to find any violation whereupon the Commission drew up the note after first approving the finding of the experts.

The Commission asks Germany to confirm in unmistakable language the assumption of the Commission that Germany has no intention of renouncing rights, which have been or should be transferred by Germany to the Commission under Article 260 of the Versailles Treaty

Explicit assurancs from Germany are also requested that the Rapallo Treaty contemplates no new charges against the German Budget in connection with compensation for its nationals or for the reconstruction of Russia. Germany is further asked to make clear that the German property in Russia given up by the provisions of the Rapallo Treaty is privately owned, and not state property.

The note concludes with the following qualification of the Commission's decision.

"It must be understood that the Commission has confined its observations to practical questions which fall within its own immediate Province. It is not within the function of the Commission to deal either with specific questions affecting the provisions of the Treaty of Versailles, which are outside its competence, or with any general questions arising either out of the actual terms of the Treaty of Rapallo, or out of the circumstances in which it was concluded."

TO INVESTIGATE FREIGHT COSTS.

OTTAWA, May 5.—(Canadian Press.)—By a vote of 109 to 92, a majority of 17 for the government the house shortly after midnight this morning voted to appoint a Parliamentary commission to investigate transportation costs on railways with particular regard to the Crow's Nest Pass agreement of 1897. It came after an afternoon and evening of exciting debate.

LLOYD GEORGE AND GERMANS IN CONFERENCE

Subjects Under Discussion Not Disclosed. Russian Ministers Dissatisfied.

POSITION OF FRANCE.

GENOA, May 5. — (Canadian Press.) — The German Chancellor, Dr. Wirth, and the German Foreign Minister, Dr. Rathenau, were summoned to Premier Lloyd George's villa yesterday and remained for several hours in conference with the Prime Minister, Lord Birkenhead and Sir Edward Grigg. Both Germans and British were non-communicative, reagrding the subjects discussed, but rumors are current that plans were considered for ameliorating Germany's reparations situation.

The English delegates have announcel that they still adhere to the suggestion for a meeting of the signatories of the Versailles Treaty, either at Genoa or a neighboring city before May 31, to take under advisement measures which may be necessary respecting the German reparations payment due on that date, which Germany has announced inability to pay.

The longer the Russians study the nounced that they still adhere to the tion the less it seems to appeal to them. Rakovsky, Tchitcherin and Litvinoff have expressed their surprise at some of the sections, and the divergence between the Allies caused by France and Belgium holding out on Article Six has greatly strengthened the Russian position.

It is expected that the Russians will reply to the memorandum on Saturday; meanwhile thy are using their advantages skilfully. Their experts are digesting the various sections at Santa Margherits, where the whole delegation is working steadily, with the exception of Tchitcherin and Rakovsky, who came to Genoa for a short time yesterday.

There is much speculation on France's position since the Conference between Premier Poincare and M. Barthou. Mr. Lloyd George and the entire British delegation are still optimistic that the Allies will agree on the Russian memorandum and that the Russians will accept in such a manner as to re-open Russian trade.

FOR NATIONAL COUNCIL.

MONTEVIDEO, May 5.—(Associated Press).—Dr. Varela Acevedo, Minister of Uruguay in the United States, has been nominated a candidate of the "Colorado" or Government political party for a seat on the National Council of Administration. That body is composed of nine persons who constitute one of the executive branches of the Government of Urdguay. The election will be held in November.

ADDRESS UNKNOWN.

BERLIN, May 5. — (Associated Press).—Not even President Ebert is exempt from the exasperating delays or failure to deliver mail which occur here as in all other countries.

A letter addressed to the "Reichspresident, Berlin," was recently returned to the sender by the post office with a label attached stating, "Without address or particulars, the addressee cannot be traced in Berlin."

SEVEN IN ONE FAMILY DEAD FROM POISON

Only Two Survive; One Very Ill But Expected to Recover. Ate Poisonous Herb.

WILD PARSNIP.

L'ORIGINAL, Ont., May 5. — (Canadian Press.)—Seven members of the Lacroix family, prominent residents of this town died here yesterday under particularly tragic circumstances, as a result of eating a poisonous herb known as wild parsnip. Just where the herbs were obtained is not known, but it is believed that the children of the family dug them up along the banks of the Ottawa river. The deaths followed at intervals within the space of four hours after the noon-day meal. The dead are: Joseph Lacroix, grandfather, aged 75 years; Napoleon Lacroix, aged 40 years, the father of the victims; Mrs. C. Lacroix, his wife, and four children, aged 11, 10, 8 and 6 years, respectively.

The only survivors are Gaston, aged 3 years, and Henri George, aged 17 months. Gaston is seriously ill at the home of friends of the unfortunate family, but his recovery is expected.

An inquest was opened here this afternoon by Coroner Kirby and a verdict of accidental death due to strychnine poisoning was returned. Coroner Kirby issued an order for the burial of the victims. The funeral will take place to-morrow.

TRAIN ROBBED

MEXICO CITY, May 5.—(Canadian Press).—A passenger train from Jalapja to Puebla was held up by a party of more than fifty men Wednesday at Amatucan, four miles from Puebla, the passengers being robbed and several of them killed, says th Pubela correspondent of Excelsior. Numbers of the victims, adds the despatch, arrived in Puebla stripped of their clothing.

THREE MEN KILLED

LONDONDERRY, Ireland, May 5.—(Canadian Press).—Three Free Staters were killed and three seriously wounded in a conflict between Irish Republican Army regulars and irregulars yesterday on the Free State side of the Londonderry-Donegal border at Burt. The Free State forces in lorries were going to Buncrana to reinforce the garrison ,there and were ambushed by a large force of irregulars, who opened a heavy fire on them.

THE GUARDS' BAND.

There are three excellent reasons why Peterborough should welcome the famous Scots Guards who are to give a concert in the Armouries tomorrow night. In the first place they are a magnificent musical organization who will present a memorable programme. In the second place, by patronizing this splendid event the people of Peterborough will be assisting two worthwhile organizations, the Great War Veterans' Association and the Rotary Club. And last, but perhaps the most important of all, the band of the Scots Guards deserve a royal welcome, because of what they represent—the British regular army, the "old contemptibles," who bore the brunt of the first fierce German attacks. It is the first opportunity Peterborough has had since the war to honour that gallant army which won immortal fame in the retreat from Mons. The Scots Guards' Band is representative of the heroic battalions who helped to check the German tide, and although their reputation as a musical body is sturdy enough to require no bolstering from a patriotic standpoint, yet The Examiner feels that the citizens of Peterborough will not forget what the band stands for and the wealth of military history it brings with it. Tomorrow's concert should be marked by an audience worthy of the occasion.

SUPPORTING PARASITES.

It is stated by Wentworth farmers that employment was offered 500 Hamilton out-of-works, without result, says The Hamilton Spectator. These men, it is charged, preferred to receive the city relief doles rather than earn the $35 or $40 a month, with board, offered them by the farmers. An added promise to bring them into Hamilton to spend the week-end with their families likewise failed to overcome their reluctance, according to this report, which the city officials very properly intend to investigate. It is, of course, well understood that farm labor is not popular with the town worker. It is work which requires special qualities and is onerous in character. But if the farmers were willing to take a chance with the inexperienced material available, there can be no manner of excuse for the individual who professes to be anxious above all things to obtain employment, pretending to be indignant at the mere suggestion of charity, and yet refusing to take a job when it is offered him.

The genuine unemployed, whom unavoidable circumstances have reduced to a position of dependence, would not fail in such a test. Mere uncongeniality of occupation, in cases where that could be pleaded as an excuse, would not influence their conduct. There are many men, and women too, working far harder than the farm laborer, and enduring much greater hardship and discomfort, in order to tide over the period of present embarrassment, which they regard as merely of a temporary nature, and which their determination will make temporary. Are these to be called upon to support, in addition to their own heavy burdens, a class of idlers who, for some mysterious reason, seem to imagine they are entitled to special treatment and extraordinary privileges? Any applicant for employment who refuses to accept work when offered it should automatically debar himself from all benefits of public relief, except for sufficient physical reasons. Hamilton has no room for such parasites, and if they can be definitely identified, they should be made to understand that they have imposed upon the city's generosity for the last time. Also, precautions should be taken against the possibility of a fresh flock, whenever occasion again arises to institute relief measures.

THE PENALTY OF CARELESSNESS.

In Toronto yesterday a motorist, who in attempting to turn into a laneway lost control of his car and badly injured a young girl, was given an indeterminate sentence at Burwash. It was shown that his automobile was going too fast to permit of the turn being made safely. To gain a couple of seconds' time he took a chance, with the result that he is now in jail and the unfortunate victim of his carelessness will be maimed for life. There should be a lesson for every car-owner in this particular case. When they feel tempted to save a little time by doing something that involves danger to themselves or to somebody else, they should stop and ask themselves if the game is really worth the candle. Why risk racing past the car ahead when there is always a chance of an accident? Why take chances on racing across a railway crossing? Why ignore the speed limit on a busy street? People are doing that sort of thing every day in Peterborough, risking their own lives and other people's—and for what? To gain a few seconds that they have no particular use for anyway. The Toronto case referred to shows that the time thus saved may be very dearly bought. A man's liberty and a child's health were both sacrificed because the man did not take the trouble to slow down in making a turn. His fate should be a warning to other careless drivers.

NOT "HOSTILE" TO FARMERS.

At the meeting under the auspices of the Peterborough Farmers' Club the other night, which was addressed by Mr. Will. Irvine, the Labour member for Calgary, the comparatively small attendance was credited by one of the speakers to hostility on the part of the townspeople towards the farmers. That seems a very mistaken diagnosis of the situation. Doubtless many city dwellers who would have been glad to hear what the speaker of the evening had to say did not attend the meeting because they did not know that they would be welcome. In short, the organizers of the affair failed to give enough publicity to the fact that the public was invited. The so-called hostility of urban folk to their brethren in the country is largely imaginary, and no better way of bringing the two classes together could be found than by having the problems that particularly affect the farmers explained to city people at meetings such as was addressed by Mr. Irvine this week. If other speakers are brought to Peterborough to discuss such questions, there should be no difficulty in securing a representative audience if the event is sufficiently advertised and it is made clear that it is not a case of "farmers only." The experiment, at least, is well worth a trial, and until it is tried there should be no more charges of hostility towards the farmers.

SHOULD BE OUT OF POLITICS.

If there ever were a question which should be lifted right out of the ruck and muck of party politics, it is the Militia.

The British people for centuries have kept the vital issues of foreign affairs quite detached from the wrangles of party, with one or two notorious exceptions which they bitterly repented and paid for in blood and treasure. As for Canada, defence is about the only serious phase of foreign politics which affects us. And if we permit it to become the football of faction we too will pay in blood and treasure.

What most of our people do not realize is that the present expenditure of Canada for defence is so meagre as almost to be contemptible. Canada, as we pointed out yesterday, spends $1.69 per capita for defence. We shall not put down a comparison with any of the so-called "military powers of Europe." We will take Australia—another overseas Dominion which does not chatter about "equal status" half so much as we do. Australia spends on defence $6.13 per capita. South Africa spends $5.55 per capita. Yet there are Canadians who think that we are spending too much.

* * * * *

If there be any so infantile in their outlook and so impervious to the penetrating hail-storm of facts which is falling upon distraught humanity today, as to imagine that the Millenium has arrived and that the "military spirit" can safely be allowed to die out of any community which cares to survive, we can only refer them to the foreign news in the first journal they pick up. Lloyd George is not a militarist or a jingo; yet he is already talking of another European war which will loom on the horizon if Genoa fails.

Lloyd George didn't see the last war coming, but he sees the next. He has learned something in the murderous school through which he and his country have recently passed; and it would be an amazement to him to hear that there are still men in Canada who can see nothing more than he saw in 1914.

Brigadier-General Clark presented to the House of Commons yesterday a splendid outline of Canada's contribution to the winning of the war. It is a pity that he dimmed the picture by a partizan attack upon the Government. True and wise friends of the Militia must surely see that they will get nowhere by using that force and its needs as a weapon with which to belabor any politicians, no matter how sore the temptation may be.

There should be a pro-Militia party in Parliament which could forget entirely the political labels they commonly wear and co-operate loyally and intelligently for the adequate upbuilding of a defence force in this country which would never permit us to be caught unaware again. We shall not preach the easy doctrine that boys can go into the Militia, now that the war is over, with the comfortable feeling that they will never have anything more dangerous to do than to stand as "innocent bystanders" at rookie target practice or more arduous than to picnic at a summer camp. The sort of boy who joins the Militia would not be attracted by so "sissy" or so deceptive a prospect. Canada should have a Militia solely because Canada may need protection.—Montreal Star.

LITERARY GEMS

THE MODERN SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The time has gone by when Sunday school was an institution primarily designed to take the joy out of life on Sunday, and today it is reaching out to supply a real need of the human heart—instruction of children in the faith of their fathers and mothers. Contrary to time-honored opinion, young boys and girls show a keen natural interest in the concept of divinity and the narrative of its manifestations. The loss of that interest can be traced generally to uninformed teachers or to teachers whose faith in the beliefs they seek to inspire have wavered.—Minneapolis Daily News.

Drank Fresh and Sea Water 16 Days.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 5.—(Associated Press).—Living for 16 days on mixed sea and fresh water and limited bread rations, 500 children and 3,000 adult Greeks have arrived here on the Greek steamer Michael Archangel from Noyorossisk, Russia, with no food or water aboard.

Suffering from cholera and other epidemic diseases, many of the refugees were ill and two had died at sea. Greek military authorities and delegates of the Greek High Commission inspected the ship, supplied medical aid and arranged for emergency food supplies to last the vessel until she reach3d Salonika, where the able-bodied will be debarked for transporattion to the tobacco farms and road camps in the vicinity of Kavalla.

These refugees were recruited from among the more than 20,000 Greeks who were driven from their homes by the Bolsheviki and who have been waiting two years for repatriation. The condition of the others is said to be serious, with from 25 to 30 dying daily of hunger.

ARE OPENLY DARING RED COMMUNISTS.

Groups in Moscow Coming Out in the Open.

MOSCOW, May 5.—(Associated Press).—Opposition to policies laid down by the majority of the Communist Party has become open and daring Russia recently than at any time since iron-handed methods were inaugurated in 1918.

Groups, extremely small numerically, and perhaps devoid of any power to change the trend of things, which formerly aired their grievances, if at all, in secret meetings and were promptly voted down, have recently, in several instances, surprised Moscow by coming right out in the open.

Principal amongst these was the group of 24 persons headed by A. Shliapnikoff, of the metal workers group, wh. disappointed with the return of capitalism and the apparent abandonment of Communism, dared to take their grievances to the Third Internationale. They were promptly sat upon and threatened wit expulsion from the Communist party unless they obeyed discipline.

The two Mensheviki and two Social Revolutionists in the Moscow Soviet, generally timid folk, weighted down by the thousand or more Communist or "non-partisan" fellow members of the Soviet, plucked up courage enough the other day to speak right out in a big public meeting.

They merely wanted to change the wording of a resolution anent the Third Internationale, but the fact that they stood up and voted against the scheduled plan, despite the hooting and jeering of the majority and in the presence of Leon Trotzky, War Minister, and dozens of foreign journalists and diplomats attending the meeting, seemed somehow new in Moscow.

SWEDEN PROTESTS

STOCKHOLM, May 5st.—(Associated Press).—The Social Democratic party of Sweden, of which Premier Branting is leader, has sent to the Soviet government of Russia a protest against the execution of 87 Russian Social Revolutionaries which the Bolshevists are reported to have threatened. Liberal political groups in other countries including German Socialists have sent similar messages to the Bolshevist chieftains. The Swedish message sent by radio to Moscow, follows:

"The Social Democratic party of Sweden herewith lodges its flaming and indignant protest against the act of revenge planned by the Soviet government against its Socialist Revolutionary opponents. In making this protest we are actuated by the same spirit which ed us to protest against the violent action proposed by the Horthy government of Hungary against the Bolshevist People's Commissaries of Hungary.

"The labor class of Sweden, firmly embodied in the Social Democratic party, will not cease to brand the sanguinary deeds for which no excuse can be made, as the resu't of the so-called revelations of contemptible agents provocateurs.

"We unite in the movement that has seized the entire working class of western Europe caused by the travisty of justice against the Social Revolutionaries, and we remind the Soviet government, that still professes to exercise its power in the name of the working class, that the workers of the civilized world will hold it responsible for the blood steeped verdicts menacing justly honored and proven revolutionaries and Socialists. These men were the first martyrs of the Czarist regime and now they are martyrs under the Communist regime of violence.

It was announced in February that the Central Committee of the Socialist Revolutionary Party in Russia together with a number of active members of the party who had been imprisoned for a long time, would be handed over to the revolutionary tribunal for trial. They were charged with having been involved in plots in 1917 and 1918 to assassinate Premier Lenine and Leon Trotzky, and other Soviet leaders.

The Russian Socialists and labor leaders who have been confined in a prison in Moscow issued an appeal in January to their comrades all over the world against the banishment of 35 of their fellow political prisoners to Turkestan. The prisoners asserted that the exiles would suffer death on the way or a living death there, "where they come under the powers of the blood-hound, Peters, one of the most cruel leaders of the Extraordinary Commission, who can, as Governor of Turkestan, work his will with political prisoners."

THIS LAXATIVE HAD EFFECT

Miss Johnston glad to say Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin freed her from constipation.

Miss A. M. Johnston, Sweetsburg, Que.

IT is not always easy to find just the right medicine for chronic constipation, but the experience of many thousands of people is that Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is the best remedy to take. Miss A. M. Johnston of Sweetsburg, Que., sought relief for years and only found it in Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin. So did Mrs. H. Lefever and her little daughter of Medicine Hat, Alta., and Mrs. M. Martin of Mussey, Ont. There are, of course, thousands of others, and they recommend it publicly.

There is no need to take harsh physics, cathartic pills, castor oil, calomel or dangerous coal tar medicines. You can get better and quicker results in a mild and gentle way with a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, and a dose costs less than a cent. This wonderful medicine is a vegetable compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin. The formula is on every package. Use it for constipation, headaches, billousness, feverishness, loss of appetite and other ills due to a disordered stomach and bowels. It is safe for babies.

HALF-OUNCE BOTTLE FREE

Few escape constipation, so even if you do not need a laxative at this moment let me send you a Half-Ounce Trial Bottle of my Laxative Syrup Pepsin FREE OF CHARGE so that you will have it handy when needed. Simply send your name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 22 Front St., Bridgeburg, Ont. Write me today.

AN INSIDE BATH MAKES YOU LOOK AND FEEL FRESH

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, declaring this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the alimentary canal before eating more food.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others have bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to show the value of inside bathing.

AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH SUNDAY NEXT

TOOK DISINFECTANT FOR RUSSIAN OIL.

Peculiar Mistake By a Keene Resident.

KEENE, May 5.—A peculiar mishap was the experience of Davidson, who started to take a dose of Formaldehyde (a disinfectant) in mistake for Russian oil. Fortunately, he had swallowed but a very small portion of the mixture, when noticing his error he summoned a physician, as a result of whose ministrations the patient was in a few hours past all danger of serious results. It appears that when in Fletcher Bros.' store last Wednesday, he himself selected the bottle of Fomaldedyde from a number of others displayed on the counter, thinking, although properly labeled, that it was the Russian oil he was in quest of. The next morning, when just about to swallow a teaspoonful of what he thought to be Russian oil, his eye catching the disinfectant label on the bottle; he spit out the most of the semi-poisonous dose.

RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is produced by the accumulation of Uric Acid in the blood, and this poisonous substance attacks and inflames the membrane covering the joints and separating the muscles, thus producing severe pains. If the waste products of the human system are not properly carried off, Uric Acid forms and is deposited in the joints and between the different layers of muscles. DR. HENDERSON'S HERB TABLETS will correct this by its action on the kidneys and removing the Uric Acid from the blood. Try them and watch the results. If they fail your money will be refunded.

Science Studying the Bee's Eyes To Get Better Food For Man

Whether Bees Are Color Blind and See Everything in Shades of Gray or Whether They Are Attracted by Certain Colors Are the Subjects of New Experiments Which Will Have a Most Important Bearing on the Quality of Our Food

By Dr. W. H. Ballou

THE honey bee has five eyes, three in a cluster on top of its head and one big eye on each side of its head. Science has begun to study these eyes to find out just what they see. When they discover this, science believes it will have found a way to get better food for us.

The reason is this: Men of science are divided as to whether the bee is color blind. One school thinks it sees everything in shades of gray; the other thinks it can perceive colors. The bee gets the most of its honey from wild flowers, which have learned the secret of attracting them by their coloration, if the bee is not color blind, or by the shade of gray which their colors seem to be to the insect, if it is color blind.

Without the bee we would have very poor fruit and little of it, and would have no grains at all of certain kinds. The reason for this is that the bee in going from one flower to the other pollinates it and sets in action the machinery which later turns out the fruit or grain. The flowers cannot do this for themselves.

Therefore, if science can see through the bee's eyes exactly what it sees, science can learn what colors or shades of gray attract it the most and by well understood methods can create in cultivated plants just the right colored flowers to attract the bees away from the wild flowers—or, at least, give them an equal chance with them.

No more interesting or more important series of experiments have ever been conceived by the human mind than this effort to put ourselves in the place of the busy little bee.

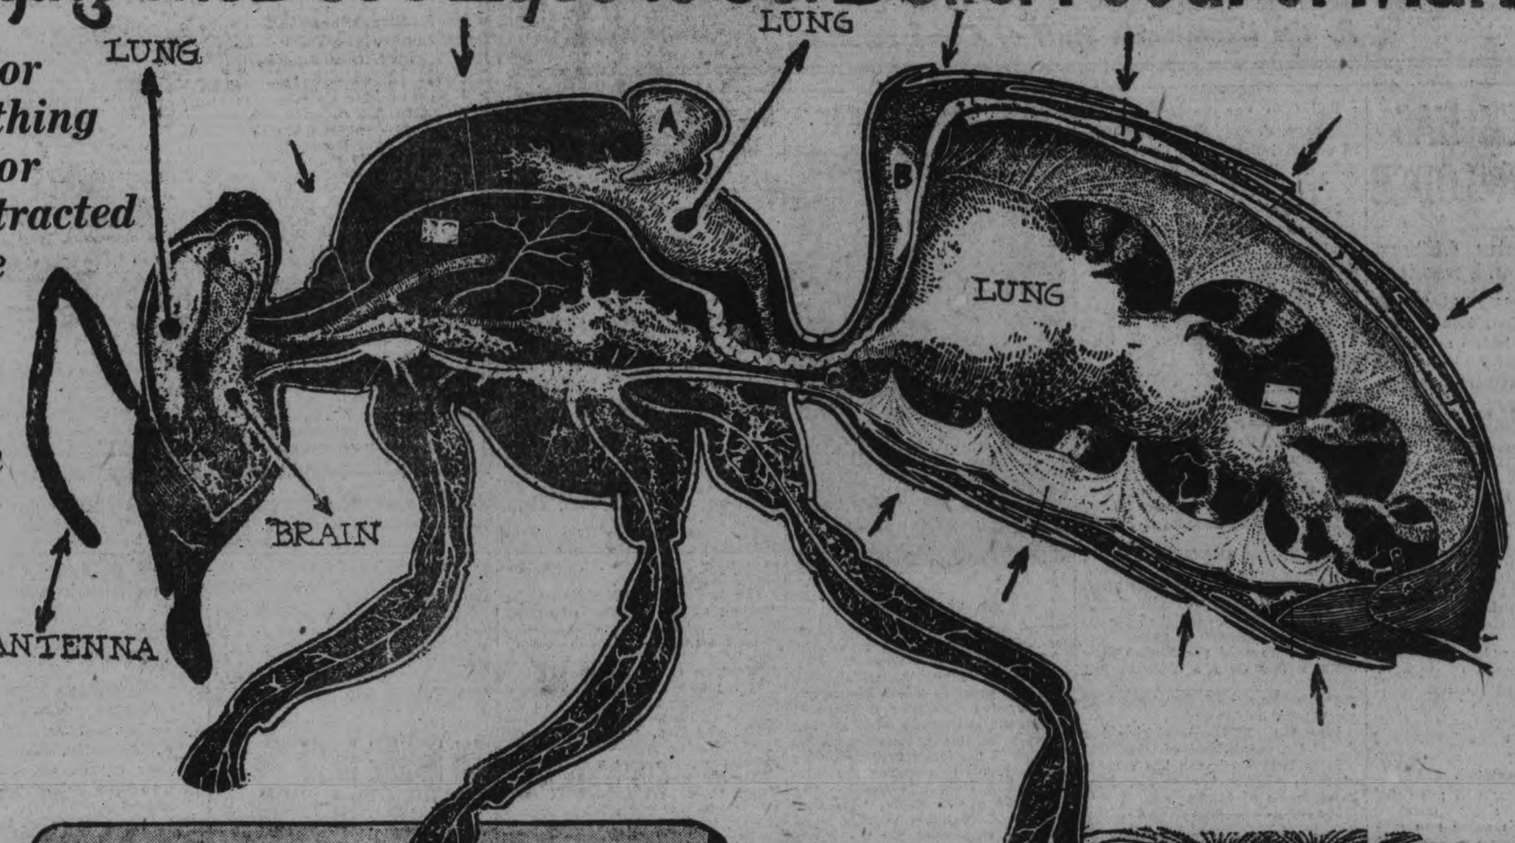
Tests are to begun shortly by a committee who are members of the National Research Council, comprising F. E. Lutz, of the American Museum; J. Arthur Harris, of the Carnegie Institution, and F. K. Richtmyer, of Cornell. The first two are entomologists and the last named a physicist and specialist in color vision.

Bee eyesight cannot be measured by instruments, so there will be no experimentation along that line. Color tests are simple. You put some sugar on different colored sheets of paper where bees can get at them. If they favor the sugar on one particular color of paper more than on the others, then they must have discriminative eyesight and are guided by what best pleases their fancy.

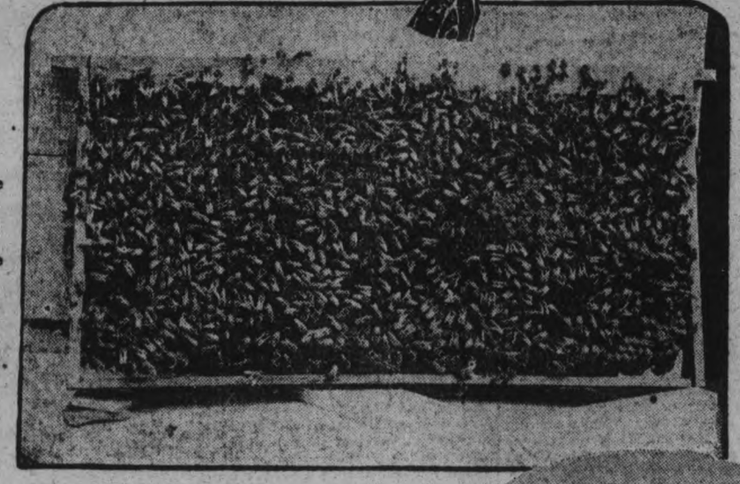
On the other hand, if they visit all colored sheets of paper alike, it will not prove that they are color blind, but merely that sugar is sugar and they want it where it is obtainable. If, however, there are colored sheets of paper which they do not visit, it will prove that they are color blind and unable to find sugar unless associated with certain colors.

There are two classes of history of the honey bee, one class by entomologists and another class of history by commercial apiculturists. The scientists do not take much stock in what practical men who have cultivated bees and sold their honey, allege as the characteristics of the insects. They won't accept the practical view at all. They will only accept what they prove by actual experiments on a vast scale made by themselves according to the hard and fast rules of biology. The apiculturists will tell you that the bee knows what flowers contain the most and best nectar of which honey is made and seek those particular flowers.

If it happens to be an indifferent season and flowers are scarce or poor in nectar, because of drouth or other weather conditions, the bee, they say, is not so particular, but will take nectar where he can find it. In other words, the apiculturist knows, or thinks he knows, that the bee has perfect eyesight, by which he can hunt out nectar anywhere under any circumstances, aided by the most powerful sense of odor



Interesting cross section of a honey bee showing two of the three eyes in a cluster on the top of the head, the antenna by means of which the bee feels its way, the brain, lungs and complicated nervous system. The arrows indicate the small pores through which the bee breathes



Part of a colony of 50,000 honey bees of which 30,000 pollinate and cross-pollinate 300,000 flowers daily. Billions of bees are to be utilized as pollinators of blossoms to double the size and intensify the flavor and color of all plant table foods

Honey bees twice enlarged. a—male (drone); b—queen; c—worker

Honey bees pollinating wild flowers. Science plans to put them to work pollinating edible plants as soon as it learns the colors which attract them.

Greatly enlarged head of a honey bee, showing three of the five eyes and the antennæ or feelers of which we have knowledge in the animal world. As matters stand, science has not worked out the extent of eyesight of bees at all beyond a description of eye parts. On the other hand, the wonderful olfactory sense of the bee tribe has been worked out to the uttermost, principally by Dr. N. E. McIndoo, of the Bureau of Entomology, Washington.

Upon the bee, then, is to rest the onus whether animal and plant life is evolved by natural selection or otherwise, a matter in which the proponent and opponent scientists of the world have faced each other for some years. Natural selection applied to flowers which the bee pollinates is just this:

The color of flowers, according to the theory, is due solely to the necessity of attracting insect pollinators. The insect in getting nectar, daubs his feet in the flowers which have pollen and desposits the substance in the flowers which have none, thereby causing fertilization resulting in posterity and the continuation of the species. Thus during millions of years flowers which most attracted insect pollinators thrived and continued a healthy existence. The flowers that the insects left alone, died out. So the whole genius of the plant world has been bent on producing more and more gorgeous flowers with larger and larger units of nectar.

To a layman such masterful genius on the part of plants would accord to them an almost uncanny intelligence, equal to any in the animal world, but to the scientist, it merely affirms that natural selection is a natural law of progress. By such means natural selection is made to account for the gradual evolution of all forms of life, from the original one-celled types of animals and plants of several hundred million years ago, to the modern man and gorgeous rose of today. Here all hands can agree. The modern woman and the modern rose are the rival beauties of the animal and plant kingdom, no matter how the evolution took place.

The three eyes of the bee on top of its head, are called by zoologists, compound sense organs, adapted to seeing moving objects. The big eyes, one on either side of the head, are termed less compound and are alleged to distinguish light from darkness, and possibly form, at a short distance. That same zoologist who invented these cautious definitions was certainly never chased by a bee as you and I have been. He would know, if he had been a victim, that a bee knows which person has insulted him and will pick that person out of a crowd and follow him until caught, then stick his stinger in the exact spot where it will raise the biggest lump.

The layman knows perfectly well that no animal is better gifted with perfect eyesight than the bee or has more discrimination in the use of its eyes. The zoologist might have gone a bit further and still have exercised caution in statement. He might have recognized that the bee has enemies in the air who eat him—the birds—and that the eyes on top of his head were evolved there to enable him to see the enemy first and beat it for a convenient hole in the ground.

He might have gone further and added that the eyes on the side of the head enable the bee to see toads, frogs, lizards and snakes, cats and dogs coming after his body for a meal ticket and likewise hustle away to safety. The bee's sting is effective only on mammals, so he takes it out on men, women, horses and cattle who come too near the house of honey he is erecting or the flower on which he is sipping nectar.

The zoologist does admit that the bee knows that it is to his interest to pollinate flowers so the seeds will develop. Why? Because during the ages the bee has constantly evolved better legs and feet for the sole purpose of catching and carrying more and more pollen. He also admits, declares, in fact, that the bee knows perfectly well which is the male and which is the female flower and knows exactly where to get the pollen and what to do with it.

The bee should properly be termed, the material savior of the world. He and other insect pollinators make it possible for us to be fed with vegetables, fruits and berries; while they make the clovers and grasses grow for the domestic animals so we can have milk, butter, cheese, beef, mutton, pork, etc. Our crops in America are becoming larger and better annually because of an important addition to knowledge.

It has been found that poor crops, poor fruit trees and poor vegetables vines are due to planting only one variety. So, old orchards are being rejuvenated by putting in two varieties of trees, and gardens by planting two varieties of each vegetable alternately, together with two hives of bees to the acre. The bees cross-pollinate the twin varieties, and the fruit is much larger, with smoother skin and far more luscious pulp. Hence the bigger and finer apples and other fruit and vegetables and the all-the-year-around strawberries. The whole country is going in for billions of more bees on this account, so that from mere honey making the bee has advanced to a big crop maker.

The big sense of the bee is odor, and up to this time nearly all biological investigations and experiments have been made to determine to the full, the marvelous smellers of the honey makers. A summary of the powers of smell may be taken from McIndoo's conclusions at the Department of Agriculture, Washington, as follows:

"Duges, erroniously determined that the olfactory organs of the bee lie in the antennæ, or a couple of feelers that branch out in front of the forehead. He cut off the antennæ of two male moths, after which they were unable to find the female. Then he cut off the antennæ of many blow flies, after which they were unable to find putrid meat on which they fed. Naturally, his subjects did not live long after the operation and he consequently failed in making comparisons with unmutilated insects.

"Later investigators attempted to prove that the organs of smell of all insects lie in the antennæ, but found that bugs react to odors after removal of their antennæ.

"It seems, therefore, that the antennæ have nothing to do with the sense of smell because mutilation made them abnormal in behavior. Since these insects have an acute sense of smell, and as the antennæ do not carry the olfactory organs, we must look for them elsewhere."

Having found that the olfactory organs of spiders were on their appendages, McIndoo examined many bees and found the same conditions. He located five groups of olfactory organs at the bases of the wings, thirteen on the legs and three groups on the stings. There were such organs on all the mouth parts, but none whatever on the antennæ, so all of the experiments which preceded his went overboard. He states:

"Drones have an average number of 2,604 olfactory organs, 606 of which are on the six legs and 1,998 on the four wings. Workers average 2,208 olfactory organs, 100 on the sting, 658 on the legs, and 1,510 on the wings. Queens have 1,860 olfactory organs, 100 on the sting, 450 on the legs and 1,310 on the wings. Those on the legs are rather large, but those on the sting and wings quite small. Thus practically the covering of the whole of the bee has openings through which odors penetrate, while man has been given but one smeller with two openings."

The bee knows the hive where he belongs by its odor, and no matter where you place the hive in his absence he will find it. He has the same personal and family odors as the bees which belong to the hive. If a stranger bee makes a mistake and enters the hive, he is detected and killed because the odor is wrong.

Regular Meeting of the Oddfellows — Jewels Presented.

MILLBROOK, May 5.—The I. O.O.F. No. 308 held their regular meeting on Tuesday evening, with about 50 members in atendance. After the initiation of the candidate, Mr. T. J. Johnston, of Bailieboro, when the second degree was conferred, the members of "Golden Sheaf" Rebekah Lodge, who were guests of the subordinate lodge for the evening, were invited upstairs where the session was in progress, while veterans' jewels were presented to five of the Oddfellows who have belonged to the local Society for 25 years; three of these, Messrs. George Thorne, Port Hope, R. N. Howden, Cavan, and T. Braithwaite, Ida, were present, the remaining two, Messrs. D. Adams, Lindsay, and W. Strain, now residing in the west, will have their jewels mailed to them, as they were unable to be in attendance.

Previous to the presentation, the seven other veterans present, Brothers T. Donaldson, D. Hampton, T. Harkness, H. R. Armstrong, T. H. Bradley, Jas. Hales, J. W. Hamilton, were requested by the Noble Grand, Bro. W. Elson, to take seats with him on the platform. These, with several ohers, received their veterans' jewels on some former occasions when similar gatherings were held.

Another interesting event, which preceded the main object of the evening, took place when the Noble Grand asked Sister Bradley, N.G. of the Rebekah Lodge, to come to the desk, and in a few well chosen remarks on behalf of the Oddfellows, who desired to express in some tangible form their appreciation of the many times the members of their sister society have given them willing assistance in various ways, asked her to accept for the Rebekahs a generous offering contributed by the I.O.O.F. members who were present that evening. Sister Bradley, in a brief but suitable reply, thanked the Noble Grand and the other brethren for what was certainly a very pleasant surprise, assuring them that the best possible use would be made of their gift.

The Presentation.

At the request of the Noble Grand Brothers H. R. Armstrong and T. Donaldson then presented the jewels, the former making a brief address congratulating the brethren on attaining the title of "veteran," and having the right to so handsome a decoration, assuring them that it may be worn in any Lodge in lieu of a collar or other regalia; Bro. Donaldson pinned on the jewels as each name was called, but on account of advancing years, felt unequal to making any remarks. Others who spoke, besides the veterans, who cordially thanked the Lodge for their kindness were Bros. W. Garnett, of Port Hope, Rev. G. S. Gervan, Sisters Z. Bentley, M. Hamilton and Bro. D. Hampton; the latter has been an Oddfellow for 42 years and gave some interesting reminiscences of the progress of Oddfellowship in Millbrook, having been a member here since the first Lodge was instituted 28 years ago.

All then adjourned to the dining-room, where an excellent supper was served, providing opportunity for a very enjoyable social time, which at its conclusion was continued for another hour or two in the Lodge rooms upstairs, cards and dancing adding to its enjoyment for quite a number of the guests, before what will long remain a pleasant and memorable evening was brought to a close.

PRESIDENT HARDING DEALS COAL STRIKE.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(Canadian Press.) — President Harding gave personal consideration to national coal strike yesterday when he conferred for two hours with John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers and Secretary of Labor Davis.

BETHANY SOCIETIES ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Mrs. T. G. Ryley Heads Methodist W. M. S.

BETHANY, May 5. — The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held their annual election of officers on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. (Rev.) Rorke, of Cavan, who was present at the meeting, gave a short, interesting talk, and read a letter which she had received from her daughter, Miss Luella Rorke, who is a missionary in Japan. The letter was full of interest, telling of Miss Rorke's work in a girls' school in Tokio, where she is English teacher.

The officers for the coming year are as follow: President, Mrs. T. G. Ryley; 1st vice-president Mrs. (Rev.) Beckel; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. P. C. Brown; cor. secretary, Mrs. T. J. Jackson; treasurer, Mrs. Wm. Westlake; superintendent of systematic giving, Mrs. J. R. Reynolds; organist, Mrs. Jackson.

The W. M. S. has 8 life members and 17 annual members. The funds raised during the year amounted to $143.90; sent to branch treasurer, $140.50.

Tea was given at the close of the meeting. Hostesses for the tea were Mrs. P. C. Brown, Mrs. A. H. Monk, and Mrs. J. R. Reynolds.

Epworth League.

A very happy social time marked the closing of the Epworth League for the summer months on Wednesday evening last. The League opened with the president, Miss Dewell, in the chair. The opening hymn, "In the harvest field there is work to do," was followed by prayer by Rev. Mr. Beckel. Then the 19th Psalm was read alternately.

Before leaving the chair, Miss Dewell thanked the vice-presidents and their committees for their fine work during the past winter, and for their help with the programme. Mr. Beckel then took the chair. The report of the Forward Movement treasurer showed that $25.00 had been raised for missions during the winter. The report of the League treasurer showed that after all expenses in connection with the League had been met, there was still almost $5.00 of a balance, which was voted to the church funds towards the expenses of the church.

The election of officers for the coming year resulted as follows: President, Mr. P. C. Brown; 1st vice-president, Miss Gertrude Dewell; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. T. J. Jackson; 3rd vice-president, Miss Lillian Westlake; 4th vice-president, was left under the leadership of the Tunis Boys' Class, who so ably filled this department during the winter; secretary, Miss Violet Jackson; assistant secretary, Miss Edna Fallis; treasurer, Mr. Leslie Challice; organist, Mrs. Thorndyke; assistant organist, Miss Verna Belle Lee.

After the election of the officers, games and ice-cream were enjoyed, also an old-fashioned spelling match.

League re-opens on the first Wednesday in October.

The members of the Young Ladies' Club of the Methodist Church are planning to have the outside of the church re-decorated.

WILL ENQUIRE INTO CROW'S NEST RATES.

OTTAWA, May 5.— (Canadian Press.)— After a day of tense uncertainty the government resolution to appoint house committee to inquire into the Crow's Nest Pass agreement with respect to freight rates, passed the Commons last night with 17 of a majority. The Minister of Railways, Hon. W. C. Kennedy, introduced the resolution early in the afternoon and spoke briefly in its support. He stated that in so far as the government was concerned the committee was to deal specifically with Crow's Nest Pass agreement and not with the general question of freight rates.

GORDON SAYS HE HAS PICKED UP FIFTEEN POUNDS

A Big Day's Work Is No Trouble Now For He Is Fit As a Fiddle Since Taking Tanlac.

"I've gained around fifteen pounds in weight and feel like a new man since taking Tanlac" said A. V. Gordon, 737 Walker Avenue, Winnipeg. "I was almost a nervous and physical wreck and had no appetite, for everything I ate soured on my stomach and would bloat me up terribly with gas. I was so run down and worn out that I could hardly get about and would wake up at all hours of the night unable to sleep. I suffered continually with sharp pains from the small of my back down into my feet, and I was simply miserable all the time.

"I tried many things without getting relief, but Tanlac certainly did the work for me. Now my health is simply fine and I can do as big a day's work as anybody. Tanlac is certainly a remarkable medicine."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

A "BIKE RADIO."

JOSEPH ADAMS AND HIS "BIKE RADIO."

Get out your bike and rig up a travelling radio receiving set.

Joseph Adams, 14, of Seattle, Wash., says it's easy.

Young Adams put up the set shown here. Now he can go out on errands and still get the baseball returns broadcast from the city.

He twisted the aerial around the wooden frame erected on the handle bars. Then he attached his lead to his miniature receiving set in front of him.

The tuning coil surrounds a cylindrical phonograph record. The rest of the apparatus Adams attached to the frame of his bicycle.

Since the bicycle could not furnish the ground for his set, on account of the rubber tires on it, Adams has a trailing wire for that purpose.

Whenever he wants to receive a message, he stops, sticks the wire into the ground, or attaches is to some pipe leading into the earth, and listens in.

CHAPTER XXIX

MRS. HERROD INTRUDES

Every time I decide that I must show my bills to Jack, something pops up to make me postpone the ordeal.

When it seemed that I could delay the exhibit no longer, I prepared the daintiest dinner, all Jack's favorite dishes. It had rained all day, we had been out every night for a week, I felt sure that my darling husband would love to settle down and read a magazin aloud while I embroidered.

And at some psychological momen I would produce the bills.

But Jack upset my plan that night.

"Let's run over to Mrs. Herrod's," I suggested at dinner.

"It's raining—torrents," I objected.

"But she called me up to-day. She's leaving this week for the mountains. And she has discovered another two-mover she knows I'll want to file!"

"That seems to settle it!" I laughed pleasantly. Why should Mrs. Herrod call up Jack at his office instead of me at home? To be sure, she always had called Jack so, and perhaps she ought to to be expected to change her habit because he had married.

Certainly I had no right to object, for our contract had been shaped to cover exactly this kind of a case. Jack and I were not to dictate about individual friendships.

So I couldn't say a word in criticism of Mrs. Herrod. But I could not pardon her for calling a man at his office to give an invitation for a social affair.

"Mrs. Herrod has been extremely nice to me lately," I remarked casually. "She's taken such an interest in my housekeeping. She's appointed herself a kind of professor in the higher education of a bride. I do like her immensely, Jack. She's charming, now, isn't she?"

Jack did not reply. He merely gazed upon me as if he couldn't get my meaning, and so I added:

"It rains so, I think you'd better go alone, dear!"

"Oh, Peggins!" There was sincere reproach combined with appeal in my husband's voice. "I'll call her up! I'll tell her you can't come—"

"You'll do nothing of the kind, sweetheart! You simply have to go—she's leaving town this week!" I was obdurate "See—it's raining pitch-forks!"

"But you've never been afraid of the rain, Peggins! You love to be out in it. Come along!"

But I would not go. And Jack protested he would not. Nevertheless, he went.

I fancied I could settle down calmly to enjoy a novel after Jack had gone, but I couldn't read. I could think only of my man and Mrs. Herrod as I had watched them at many a game with their understanding silences, their intimate silences.

(To Be Continued).

NEARLY CRAZY WITH PAINS IN BACK

Read How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Mrs. Beecroft

Hamilton, Ontario.—"I have suffered for three years from a female trouble and consequent weakness, pain and irregularity which kept me in bed four or five days each month. I nearly went crazy with pains in my back, and for about a week at a time I could not do my work. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the 'Hamilton Spectator' and I took it. Now I have no pain and am quite regular unless I overwork or stay on my feet from early morning until late at night. I keep house and do all my own work without any trouble. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to several friends."—Mrs. Emily Beecroft, 16 Douglas St., Hamilton, Ontario.

For nearly fifty years women have been telling how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored their health when suffering with female ills. This accounts for the enormous demand for it from coast to coast.

If you are troubled with any ailment peculiar to women why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It has helped others, let it help you.

SOUTH AFRICAN BUDGET

LONDON, May 5. — (Canadian Press).—The estimated expenditure of the South African Union for the year 1922-23 totals approximately £29,000,00 which is £1,500000 below the revised estimates of 1921-22 The cost of dealing with the recent land disturbance, however, is not included.

DELEGATES SHOCKED BY PREMIER HUGHES.

He Damned Black Labor in Plain Vernacular.

LONDON, May 5st.—(Canadian Press).—Premier W. M. Hughes, of Australia, somewhat shocked a deputation of shipwrights and allied trades that waited on him recently, according to the Melbourne correspondent of the London Times. The deputation complained to the Premier of the Australian Commonwealth that four Commonwealth ships had been repaired at Antwerp, instead of in Australia, and that two had been repaired in India by black labor receiving eight annas (8 pence) a day.

The shock came in connection with the latter complaint. This proved too his chair and exploded, "Black labor be damned." He followed this up by exclaiming to the deputation: "Go to blithering blazes. Don't talk to me about black labor."

Before the deputation could recover its breath, Premier Hughes was hurrying from his room and pushing his way through the deputation. He stopped long enough to say that only one ship been had repaired at Antwerp. The policy of the Government, he declared, was to have all repairs effected in Australia, but he insisted that one must allow for emergencies.

The Labor representatitbes present endeavored to appease the Premier, but he slipped into his motor car and was off, while tha astonished deputation stood helpless in his room.

KIDNAPPED JAP POETESS AKIKO.

Brother Snatched Girl From Arms of Her Lover

TOKIO, May 5.—(Associated Press) Refusing to recognize the modern Japanese law which relieves the head of the family of responsibility for the conduct of its members, Count Yanagiwara, brother of the poetess, Akiko Ito, whose famous divorce case startled the empire, has resigned from the House of Peers and gone into seclusion.

The little poetess, already divorced, created a sensation last year when she suddenly married Mr. Ito, coal king of Kyushu, although she was known to love a young literary man named Miyazaki, whom she met at the home of Mr. Ito before her second marriage.

Thinking his sister would now settle down, Count Yanagiwara, who keenly resented the first divorce, began to take an active interest in affairs of state. He represented Japan abroad on several occasions and was regarded as one of the leaders of his party in the upper house of Parliament.

But the temperamental poetess soon proved that she was far from settled in her rich surroundings. Society and political circles were started last October when she suddenly left the palatial residence of her husband while the latter was on a business tour and went to her lover Miyazaki, in whose home she was found several weeks later.

Every effort of her brother and his powerful friends to induce her to return home proved fruitless, whereupon the case was laid before the Imperial government with a plea that Akiko be granted a divorce in order to permit a legal marriage to Miyazaki. The Imperial Household, however, declined to interfere on the ground that it would have a bad effect on the discipline governing noble families, and in desperation Count Yanagiwara and his wife arranged a grand coup d'etat, which resulted in the kidnapping of the girl from the home of her lover and the keeping of her whereabouts secret for the past several weeks.

In resigning from the House of Peers, Count Yanagiwara authorized a statement that he always had been identified with questions pertaining to a stricter discipline among government officials, and of moral improvements in general, and adding that he felt a personal responsibility for the acts of his "erring sister" which could not be lessened by the modern law making the individual and not the family the social unit.

Turkish Nationalists Are Defying the Allies.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 5.—(Associated Press).—The Turkish Nationalist authorities at Angora have sent to the Allied representatives here notice that they refuse to recognize the Mixed Judicial Commission for dealing with disputes between Allied and Ottoman subjects.

The tribunal, commonly called the "Mixed Court," is composed of judicial representatives from Great Britain, France and Italy and sits at the Ministry of Justice in Constantinople.

POLAND'S STRUGGLE TO REFUND DEBTS.

Recounted in First Budget of the Republic.

WARSAW, May 5th.—(Associated Press).—Poland's struggle to refund her foreign debt, amounting to nearly $485,000,000 at the beginning of this year, is recounted at length in the first complete budget of the Republic, presented to parliament by Minister of Finance, Michalski.

Poland's greatest creditor is America, to whom she owes $157,312,109 or 65 per cent of her total indebtedness. France comes next with 22 per cent and the remainder is divided between England, Italy and Holland.

Recalling the difficulties under which the Polish State had come into existence, Minister Michalski pointed out the slow but consistent progress she has made from the beginning of all affairs of government. After sketching the plans for the immediate future intended to hasten that progress, he appealed to the nation for patience and consideration.

"It is one of the Polish characteristics that we should like to build up Poland within one year," he said. "But this is practically impossible and the favorite comparison of Poland with western states which have never lost their independence is indefensible.

"Our future is in our hands. I believe that our future governments and our future parliaments will place the future of the state on the firm foundations of granite."

Executors of Estate Charged With Fraud.

HAVANA, May 5.—(Associated Press).—Charges that a $2,000,000 estate had dwindled to less than $80,000 during the year it was in the hands of executors furnish the basis for a criminal suit which has been brought by Mrs Elena Trujillo and her two minor sons against the chancery court of Cienfuegos and the executors.

The property in dispute was left by Mrs. Francisca Toste Y. Gaecia viuda May 24, 1921, to five nephews living in the Canary Islands. One of the nephews died and his heirs have instituted the suit. The claims paid, it is alleged, include $125,000 for lawyers' fees.

A REPRESENTATIVE TO WATCH CITY'S INTERESTS

At an executive meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Monday night a recommendation from the Hamilton Chamber for the appointment by Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce of an official representative to watch legislation in the Ontario House, was considered. The Council felt that this matter should be given attention by the municipalities rather than by the Chambers, and it was referred to the City Council for action by the municipality. It was strongly recommended that action be taken so that legislation not in the interests of municipalities can be defeated.

JUDGE WARD, PORT HOPE, RESIGNS AS HEAD SCHOOL BOARD.

Resents Unfair Interference By Education Department—Other Resignations Expected.

(Port Hope Guide.)

About two weeks ago His Honor Judge Ward and Mr. D. H. Chisholm, representing the High School Board, waited upon the Minister of Education at Toronto in reference to the board's right of appeal against the decision of Judge Huycke. At the March sitting of the court the case of Miss Armour vs. the board in reference to plaintiff's salary, was heard and the decision was in favor of Miss Armour. The Minister of Education gave his verbal promise to Judge Ward that the board would be given the authority to appeal. Later, when Judge Ward and Mr. Chisholm went to Toronto, they were given the assurance both by the Minister and the Deputy that definite information regarding the appeal would be forwarded the following day. Nearly two weeks have elapsed and not a single line from the Minister of his department. This indifference has caused considerable indignation among Port Hope ratepayers and may result in the resignation of all the members of the School Board. The resignation of His Honor Judge Ward, who has been head of the board for many years, is now in the hands of the Council, and it would not be surprising if several other members of the board did likewise. Several municipalities are already uniting to agree to engage no teacher who is a member of the Teachers' Federation and members of High School Boards favor the closing of the schools for a time rather than submit to the dictation of the federation. The trustees claim justification for this proposed drastic action because the effect of the policy of the federation is to fix salaries of incompetent teachers to the same level of the more efficient, thus rendering the cost of education unnecessarily high as well as encouraging inefficiency. It is alleged by those who are in a position to judge that certain officials in the department are furthering the success of the federation of teachers in contradistinction to the general interest of the tax-paying public. The threatened action of municipalities against the federation means the introduction of serious complications into the educational system of the Province. The feeling of the local board is that they have been improperly interfered with by the Department of Education.

GEO. EDWARDS IS CROSS EXAMINED IN BANK ENQUIRY

Affairs Leading to the Fall of the Merchants' Bank Are Being Closely Investigated.

BAD DEBTS.

MONTREAL, May 5 (Canadian Press). — Yesterday's proceedings before Judge Cusson in the Enquete Court in the case against D. C. Macarow general manager of the Merchants' Bank of Canada, charged with having wilfully made false returns to the Government for the month of October, 1921, were confined to cross-examination of George Edwards, of Toronto, the chartered accountant engaged by the Minister of Finance to investigate the affairs of the bank.

N. K. Laflamme, K.C., and George H. Montgomery, K.C., conducted the cross-examination. At the morning session the main point brought out by Mr. Laflamme was the admission from the witness that in working on 30th September, 1921, reports of the branch bank managers as to bad and doubtful debts, and in estimating the amount which would have been required for appropriations to meet such debts, Mr. Edwards had counted all accounts marked as nil by the managers to mean that such accounts were hopeless, and that nothing would be recovered from them.

In place of this, Mr. Laflamme's cross-examination called attention to the notes at the foot of such managerial reports reading often to the effect that such accounts might be recoverable. In any case the accounts were not hopeless.

The fact was also brought out that of the $9,000,000 approximately which had been regarded as debts out of the twenty millions reported on by branch managers in their semi-annual report on "bad and doubtful debts to 30th September, 1921."

There was covered from sinking fund a sum of $6,200,000, and consequently if appropriations had been made at that time to further provide for bad debts, such appropriation would have been only $2,800,000. Of this amount the Montreal branch figure was $2,046,000, less a sum of $733,000, the net result being on all the affairs of the bank that a further appropriation of $2,800,000 would have been needed instead of an amount of over eight millions.

Later in the day Mr. Laflamme took up the question as to whether or not the Bank Act required that the bank should be forced to make appropriations (that is, for anticipated losses on accounts) twice a year, instead of only once a year in anticipation of the annual meeting of shareholders. His question was not allowed by Judge Cusson.

House Dresses of Rare Charm and Unusually Low Priced

NOVEL AND PLEASING FACTORY COTTON DRESSES, TRIMMED WITH CHINTZ, $2.75

Some clever person conceived the idea of making House Dresses of factory cotton and trimming them with chintz. They are certainly practical garments and in no way lacking in good looks. The skirt has the appearance of being set on and the edge is piped with pink chambray. The patch pockets are made of a pretty floral chintz and the sleeves and square yoke are finished with the same. The bodice is long-waisted.

CHAMBRAY HOUSE DRESSES CAN BE HAD AT $3.50

These are very smart, and the colored applique-like circles of contrasting color that appear on the neck, sleeves and pockets contribute to the effect in no small way. Then there is piping of white organdie on all the edges. You can have pink, orchid or blue. The quality of the chambray is decidedly good.

PLAIN CHECK GINGHAM DRESSES ARRANGED IN A NEW AND PLEASING WAY, $2.69

The checks are medium size, and you can have black and white, green and white, red and white or blue and white. They are made in slip-over style and button at the back. A small circular collar of white repp ties with a black ribbon and a sash of the gingham is arranged so that it ties at the back and hangs loosely. They are unquestionally smart, and the practicality of gingham for such garments is well established.

KIMONAS OF COTTON CREPE, $2.75

We can assure you that these Kimonas are worth a great deal more than the above price. In the first place, they are made of a cotton crepe of excellent quality; in the second place, the collar and short sleeves are trimmed with shirred satin ribbon, and in the third place, they are smartly cut in Empire style and well sewn together. You can have soft becoming shades of lavender, orchid, sky and rose.

SILK KNICKERS AT $2.95

They are all well cut and have elastic bands at the waist and knees, but you can choose between shantung silk in the natural color or habutai silk in pink or white. The quality of either silk is very fine and firm for its kind.

$32 For a Man's Suit

They have the goods in them. They are made to give service and also give the wearer a dressed-up feeling and his money's worth and then some.

Certainly it is years since such suits have come on the market at anywhere near $32.

You can have greys, greens, mixtures, navy with hairline stripes and plain navy real indigo dye. The fabrics are fancy tweeds and worsteds. Glen Urquhart checks and herringbone stripes are prominent in the assemblage.

You can see them in the window, but if you want to know how smart they are you'll have to try them on.

Every garment is up to the Cressman Clothing Standard. That means they are faultlessly tailored, of good material and mannish, stylish garments in every particular.

CHICAGO WHEAT.

CHICAGO, May 5.—(Canadian Press)—Prospective [illegible] deliveries on May contracts, together with favorable condition for winter crop growth and for Spring crop seeding did a good deal yesterday to bring about lower prices for wheat. The market closed heavy at 1 1-8 to 2 1-2c net decline with May $1.42 1-2 to $1.43 3-4, and July $1.27 to $1.27 1-4. Corn finished unchanged to 1-2c lower; oats 1-8 at 1-4c off, to 1-8c up, and provisions at an advance of 25 to 42c.

The close in wheat was the weakest in some time as well as being the lowest figures of the day.

STERLING RATES.

MONTREAL, May 5.—(Canadian Press)— Sterling exchange rates were quoted here yesterday:

Sterling, demand 4.5149; do. cables 4.5718.

CASH GRAIN.

MONTREAL, May 5.—(Canadian Press)— A more active trade was done in cash grain here yesterday. The tone of the flour market is steady. There is no change in the millfeed market for rolled oats was quiet. A steady trade prevails in baled hay and in eggs. The demand for potatoes is fair. Prices for butter scored a further advance of 1-8c to 1-2c per pound. The cheese market is without feature.

WINNIPEG CATTLE.

WINNIPEG, May 5.—(Canadian Press)-Receipts 320 cattle and calves and 390 hogs.

Owing to the small nature of the offerings for disposal on the cattle market a comparatively light volume of trading was done yesterday morning but prices generally looked well in line over the close of Wednesday.

The hog market opening with a weaker tone declined 20c selects selling at 12.25.

There was no trading on the sheep and lamb market due to lack of receipts.

Kennedy, Progressive member for Edmonton west, by the Finance Minister in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon.

PEACE CONFERENCE MEETS IN IRELAND.

DUBLIN, May 5. — (Canadian Press.)— The peace conference between the rival factions in Ireland met yesterday and decided upon a truce between the rival army forces, beginning at four o'clock yesterday afternoon and lasting until the same time next Monday.

The conference was a most friendly one, and the fact that it was prolonged is taken here to point to the arrangement of a plan for unity which the Dail Eireann can accept to-day. If any such agreement is reached it is believed to mean an improvement in the position of Eamon De Valera and his followers, who would be given a chance to share in the portfolios of the Dail Cabinet. Likewise, the dissident army supporting the Se Valeraites would coalesce with the official army general headquarters and its generals resume their high commands in the reunited body.

A Most Unseasonable But Extraordinary Offer—Why These Blankets Are On Sale

WE received a wire from one of the largest and most reliable Blanket Mills in the country stating that they had a very large surplus stock of All-Wool Grey Blankets, acquired only by the unusual dullness of the Market during the last Winter, and offering them to us at a price that would have sounded almost ridiculous to any merchant at the begining of the Season.

We wired back asking for a sample of the Blankets and a further reduction in the price on account of the unusual time or season of year. This was answered by them sending a sample of Blankets and a further price concession.

After examining the Blankets. which were found to be of the highest quality made, every thread being Pure Wool and of a fine texture, and the color a clean looking good shade of grey, we were satisfied that the Peterboro People would appreciate this wonderful opportunity to purchase All-Wool Grey Blankets weighing from 3¼ to 4 lbs. to the Blanket, especially at such an astonishingly low price.

We informed the maker to send them on to us. We have them here now ready for your inspection on Saturday Morning. All the Windows from George Street Entrance to Simcoe Street Entrance will Display these Blankets To-Night. Be sure and See Them.

All of These Blankets measure 62 x 82 inches.

WILL INTERVIEW RELIEF OFFICER

Playgrounds Association Almost Got Grant of $800 From Council.

"I hardly put it as rough as the paper had it", said Mayor Taylor last night whe nreporting the circumstances of Relief Officer Miller's announcement of his resignation.

"I told Mr. Miller I was sorry he was quitting" said His Worship "that he had handled the work well and was always an efficient official. I'd like to see him reconsider his decision."

Ald. Stocker said he had approached Mr. Miller on Thursday suggesting that he continue in office this year at $1,000, and that the Council would try to make it $1,200 next year ,but he wouldn't consider it.

Ald. Jones and other members spoke highly of Mr. Miller's good services to the city, and Ald. Crowe pointed out that in other cities some larger than Peterboro the relief officer's work was doubled with that of an other office. Brantford paid $1,800 to an official who was both relief officer and sanitary inspector. Kingston fills two places for $900, "although I don't believe in anything like that" remarked Ald. Crowe.

Ald. Phelan said he thought Mr. Miller had taken the wrong attitude in throwing the position up so quickly. Ald. Gainey's understanding was that Mr. Miller intended to ask for three months' leave of absence. He was willing to grant that leave and continue the salary during that time at the rate of $1,000.

Ald. Hamilton—I'd be willing to pay him $200 more but I wish we had decided that way in the first place.

Ald. Turner moved seconded by Ald. McIntyre that Aldermen Holl away, Phelan and Crowe wait on Mr. Miller with respect to his resignation and report back.

Playgrounds Appeal

Ald. Hamilton asked whether the Council intended to make any grant to the Playgrounds Association. He seconded Ald. Morrison's motion that the sum of $800 be allotted for that purpose, but the best showing the resolution could make was a tie with Aldermen Turner, Jones, Morrison, Hamilton and Stocker for, and Mayor Taylor, Aldermen Crowe, Gainey, McIntyre, and Phelan against.

EXERCISES AND DANCE

bodices, four as courtly swains, with powdered wigs, knee breeches and flashing shoe-buckles, in a graceful swaying figures of the old dance. Five members of the Senior Aesthetic Dancing Class formed a huge flower for their poppy dance, in colorful costumes of carmine, with floppy black and red hats. The Aesthetic Dancing Class also did a Dresden China Gavotte, to the music of invisible birds, with a pretty effect achieved by the graceful measures encircling a hug central Dresden china lady, with illuminated skirts

Airy and Fanciful

Interpretative dances included the Valse Brillante, a much-aplauded number, in airy, fanciful effect, done by the Mises Martha Kirn and Edna Connor in brilliant gowns of pink and pale blue; the Rustic Courtship, a jaunty, breezy dance, in which Jessie Hodgson, as a boy in blue and white, and Kathleen Cooney, the girl in pink, with white sash, made a nimble-footed little pair, the girl coyly retreating before the advances of her youthful sweetheart, adn "My Lady Goes a-Walking" a dainty, tripping number, with its three graceful little maidens, Bertha Lobban, Mary Dunlop and Margaret Emmerson in summery gowns of white and pink and blue, with miniature silk parasols.

The accompanist, Miss Gwen Donley, provided music for the entire programme, with excellent effect. The exhibition will be repeated this evening at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium.

DESTRUCTIVE F'RE.

MONTREAL, May 5.—(Canadian Press.)— Damage estimated at approximately $25,000, was caused by a fire that this morning broke out in the premises of Robert Gardiner and Son Ltd., Nazareth street.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK, May 5.—(Canadian Press.) — Further strength of Oils especially the domestic division and heaviness of shippings accounted for irregular tone of the stock market at opening of to-day's session. Houston Oil rose almost two points in the first two transactions, but large fractional gain for Standard Oil for New Jersey was balanced by similar decline in California issue. Mercantile Marine, common and preferred, were under pressure as a result of official statements which discouraged prospects of early dividend resumption.

Desire to take profits caused further heaviness during the first hour, trading for that period being relatively light. Before noon, however, prices rallied, high grade Oils, Shippings and Chain Store issues cancelling their losses. Junior oils, notably Pacific Union, Sinclair and Indiana Refining rose one to 1 1-2 points. Gains along Rails were moderate and limited tone work contract New Haven, Pittsburg and West Virginia and Pere Marquette. Call money opened at 4 1-4 per cent.

Growing speculative operations for long account, largely in shares not ordinarily very active, featured later dealings. Purchases were also on large scale in some of the recognized leaders, especially Studebaker. Lower money rates and higher Sterling contributed to favorable sentiment. Maxwell and Pierce Arrow Motors, Electric Storage Battery, Postum Cereal, Lorillard, Manhattan, Consolidated Gas and Columbia Gas were bid up one to three points.

STERLING EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, May 5.— (Canadian Press.) —Sterling Exchange firm, Demand rates Great Britain 4.44 1-4. Canadian Dollar 1 5-8 per cent. discount.

EXCHANGE RATES.

NEW YORK, May 5.—(Canadian Press.)—Exchange rates on London to-day rose to 4.44 1-4 for demand bills, the highest price since 1919. Strength was attributed to extensive buying of bills here and in London market to meet cotton and grain payments.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 5.—(Canadian Press.—Opening wheat prices which varied from unchanged figure to 3-4 lower with May 142 to 142, 1-2 and July 126 to 126 3-4 was followed by a slight rally and then a material drop all around. Corn and Oats were easier with Wheat. Corn started unchanged to 1-4 lower, July 65 3-4 to 65 7-8 and later undergoing a slight general setback. Oats after opening unchanged to 1-4c. lower, uly 40 1-4, held fairly steady at about initial range.

MONTREAL STOCK MARKET.

MONTREAL, May 5.—(Canadian Press.)—Paper issues were most active this morning and nearly all of them appeared on tape, Abitibi and Spanish River Pfd. were unchanged, 55 1-2 and 96 respectively. Brompton was up a quarter at 32 3-4, while Laurentide was down a quarter at 88 3-4. Price Brothers and Spanish River Common also registered an advance of a quarter point to 44 1-4 and 85. Of other stocks Bell Telephone was fractionally stronger at 113 1-4. Brazilian was weaker by a quarter at 44 1-4.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, May 5. — (Canadian Press.)— Morning session on local stock exchange did not bring out any great volume of business. In listed stocks Steamship Pfd. at 55 on close showed net gain of 1 point, Telephone gained 7-8 at 113 7-8. American Sales Book Pfd. 1 higher at 90. Mackay closed 1-2 higher at 93 1-2 and Canadian Salt returned to sales column at 75. General Electric lost a point of yesterday's advance, closing at 99. In unlisted section Imperial Oil was fairly active and very strong, selling up to 121 with close at 120 or 3 3-4 above yesterday.

THREW A CHILD OUT OF WINDOW

Lindsay Girl Made a Complete Confession to the Police — Searching for Body.

Lindsay May 5—An unusual case in which a girl mother sought to dispose of her newly born baby by throwing it out of the window of a railway coach has been revealed to the authorities through the activity of the Lindsay police. On Tuesday a bundle of infant's clothing was found in front of the Academy of Music. It was reported to Chief of Police Short who consulted the secretary of the Children's Aid Society and discovered that the latter had received word from the Social Service department of Toronto regarding a Verulum township girl. It developed that this girl had been in the Toronto General Hospital and on Tuesday returned home. While the train was travelling between Burketon and Lindsay the girl stripped the babe of its clothing and threw it out of the coach window. She disposed of the clothing later when she arrived in Lindsay. Crown Attorney Anderson was notified and he enlisted the aid of a Provincial Police Officer who arrived in Lindsay yesterday with the result that the girl made a complete confession. She said that while on her way from Burketon to Lindsay the child became cross and developed convulsions. She got tired of caring for the child and decided to throw the child out of the window. Officals are now searching for the body along the C.P.R. rightofway.

SEVEN DEATHS NOT DUE EATING WILD PARSNIPS

Say Lacroix Family Died From Some Other Ca use

L'ORIGINAL, Ont., May 5. — (Canadian Press) —Within 24 hours after having eaten wild parsnips, seven members of the Lacroix family who died in agony following a hearty meal of poisonous vegetables, were tenderly lowered in six graves at the Roman Catholic Cemetery here. Whatever the Lacroix family ate that caused their death, it was not parsnips, according to Dr. Hans T. Gussow, Chief Botanist of the Central Experimental Farm. Parsnips, he states, do not contain strychnine and are not poisonous.

There is a difference of opinion concerning the things a young girl ought to know, but au old girl should know better than to act as though she doesn't know.

South American ant-bears have been imported in to the state of Washington by fruit and vegetable growers to keep down the various insects that infest his region.

The Derby

A Spring and Fall Overcoat with Raglan Shoulders.

—is the most comfortable of all Spring and Fall Overcoats. It owes its origin to the necessity of providing Overcoats for the British Army commanded by Lord Raglan in the Crimea in 1854.

Provisions and supplies from England were often delayed for months, through lack of transport facilities, and severe winter weather found the Army coatless. To tide them over until the arrival of their regular clothing rations, the soldiers were instructed by Lord Raglan to cut holes for their heads and arms in empty fodder sacks. From this rough covering the Raglan Overcoat had its first inception, and gradually has become the gracefully draped Coat of the picture.

Better Gardening

Once a productive garden has been raised, many amateurs take keen delight in attempting crossing experiments to obtain new varieties.

BURBANK.

Can the beginner do this? is a question often asked. With a little care and proper selection of experiments he can. For some this starts as mere 'fun,' only to later result in careful study and splendid results.

The equipment of the layman who wishes to try crossing plants in his own garden should be—a fine camel's hair brush and a magnifying glass. Possibly the poppy is the best plant to select in beginning, though the petunia and gladiolus are also good.

Select a flower of one pure color, such as white, yellow or red. Take your brush and, aided by your magnifying glass, carefully remove pollen from the flower. Note that it sticks to the brush hairs. Now select a flower of different shades and, again using the brush transfer the pollen to the second bloom. Next mark carefully with a string or cloth the flower used in the experiment so that there will be no mistake when the seed is collected. Sometimes a small paper sack, such as can be got at any grocery, is placed over the plant to prevent seed loss.

After the flower has seeded carefully save the seed and replant.

Watch the result! It may surprise you.

Of course, for sure results, selection of the best plants from each variety for seeds is of more importance in obtaining the "perfect garden," but crossing the varieties is interesting and like the prospector for gold gives new zest to the gar-

Community Stage School Brings Out Talent

JONATHA JONES, CHILD ACTRESS.

By MABEL FONDA GAREISSEN, Director, Children's Theatre Guild of Rochester, N. Y.

The next national step in education will be the children's theatre.

We have started it as a community movement in Rochester and the results have been so splendid that I foresee its adoption by cities all over the country.

The dramatic field for little folk has far-reaching possibilities. It is high time that children learned what constitutes good drama and good acting. Otherwise there will be no development in the American stage.

Plenty of fine music is written expressly for children, but there is very little dramatic literature for them.

We cannot begin too early to teach children good taste and high standards, not only in music, but in drama. The children's theatre need not be merely a school to make actors and actresses. It will teach poise and personality, cultivate the speaking voice and raise the standard of English.

Astonishing gifts are disclosed in little folk. Our experience in bringing together 60 Rochester children in a community dramatic class almost makes me believe in reincarnation! Where does genius comes from?

Here we have a little Bernhardt and a tiny Julia Marlowe!

Our "Bernhardt" is 7-year-old Jonatha Jones. She is realism itself—a wonderful actress in depicting terror, anger, anguish, tragedy.

Our little prodigy is a beautiful child of 6—Rosa Apple, who is a second Marlowe. Everyone calls her "Rosy Apple." Her parents are Russian and Rosa was born after they landed in New York. Her dramatic imagination is amazing; she tosses her long, shining, black curls and twists our hearts in painful pleasure with her irresistible smile and charm.

A little Polish girl in the class is a second Maude Adams. The Herwit twins seems to be the coming Dolly sisters. And we have a young Frank Mayo, an embyro Willie Collier and a budding Faversham.

Children of genius like these are hidden away in the schoolrooms of every city. Can't we discover them and help them make something of their genius? A national children's theatre movement would be an immense forward step in child education.

Be Sure About Your Battery

No matter what kind of a car you drive or what kind of a battery there is on it you should keep informed about certain battery facts.

You should know whether your battery is charged to the proper point—whether it has enough water in it—whether each of the cells works properly.

Our most important duty as a Battery Station is to tell you these things. It doesn't make a bit of difference what make your battery is. Here at Battery Headquarters we give every make exactly the same attention.

NINTH EPISODE IN BABBARA'S CAREER.

The Last Straw Broke the Camel's Back.

(By Edith G Bayne

The first owner had called her Barbara, meaning untamed. The second had referred to her as a she-jinx. What the third owner called her wouldn't look well in print.. He was an apoplectic farmer from up Barrie way and he had her less than three weeks when the last straw broke camel's back, the worm turned, and the iron entered his soul.. He calculated that along about Exhibition time he'd navigate her down to "Turronto" and gently unload her on a dealer at one of these here used car sales. This he accordingly did, giving as his reason that he was about to marry a wealthy widow with a kawls-Royce

To the dealer he said nothing of the five lawsuits she had gotten him into, the livestock she had slaughtered, the wire-fences she had violated, but as he went off he might have been heard muttering to himself that the dinged critter had left him a poor man. Deep in his heart he cherished the hope that she'd run off the foot of Yonge street and drown herself in the bay.

About a week after this to the big tent on a vacant lot where Barbara and several score of her kindred huddled, came an optimistic young man and his sweetheart on purchase bent. The young fellow looked like Harold Lloyd, only more so. He was a member of the fine arts, he explained to the dealer. He played a pipe-organ in a movie theatre. The girl, who was clinging to his arm in such a way that the diamond solitaire she wore blazed against his tweed sleeve like a miniature bonfire, added that "Oswald" was an artist to his finger-tips. Fate and the dealer led them straight to Barbara and it was love at first sight. After a trial trip around town during which Oswald sat beside the driver earnestly studying the notes, sharps and flats the pedals and the stops, the young man announced that he knew all there was to know. Cash changed hands and Barbara loped away with a series of happy snorts, her new owner at the wheel, a cloudless sky above and the open road before them, as the poets say.

Now in most well-regulated families there still obtains an old-fashioned notion that a prospective son-in-law, should formally request of the parents of the girl their daughter's hand, should make, if necesary, a special call for this express purpose. Once to very man comes the moment to decide to ask pa and get it over with. No doubt some people dispense with this little courtesy, but our young couple were evidently 'well brought up'.. They had a holiday, good weather and a new—oh well, almost new—car, so what more natural thin that they should set out a once in all he pride of new ownership to gain the old man's consent and blessing?

Barbara skimmied over the road with the smooth ease of a car that bears royalty. Oswald used both hands at the wheel as long as the light lasted. Barbara seemed to know the touch of master hand and she responded in all her joints, bolts, bars, gears and magneto. The girl was a trifle nervous—but not because of the car. She was wondering how dad would like the idea of a pipe-organ player in the family. Oswald was a dear, but she feared Dad would consider that he lacked some of the things essential to the making of a man.

But you never can tell from a pair of shell-rimmed glasses and a stammer and a blush what a dynamo of energy and grit may throb behind. Under many a mild exterior there beats a resolute heart Ten miles from town Barbara grew weary in well-doing and threatened to lie down on the job, but Oswald spoke sternly to her and she picked up her gait somewhat. There was nothing like being firm, he said, from the start. A muddy roadster tried to make them eat dust, but Oswald's tempo increased to andante furioso and Barbara maintained the lead. Up hill they chugged and down hill they rolled. Once a brindle cow leisurely crossed their orbit, but Oswald stepped on the soft pedal and her life was saved by a quarter-inch. Sing ho! for the artistic temperament.

On, on they sped Barbara roared like an untamed creature of the wilds. Oswald and the girl laughed, gaily, triumphantly. Burgville rushed past, then Cooke's Corners. The white road unwound before them like a broad ribbon, the moon came out from a rift of cloud and winked at them—then disappeared accommodatingly while Barbara behaved in an eccentric manner, hopping withl light staccato movements from side to side of the highway. Oswald took the turn at Hooper's point on two wheels and did a glad arpeggio through that hamlet! The next village shot by like a movie reel and Barbara danced on to the old homestead..

Then, with the inexplicable cussedness of a balky horse, she stalled within sight of the barns! They got out presently and remonstrated with her, but to no avail. Oswald had some notion of lighting a fire under her, but the girl said it was not worth while, now. She hadn't been home for six weeks and was anxious to see her folks and so, yoo-hooing vociferously they started for the house.

Dad with a lantern, and a pair of overalls over his nightshirt, met them halfway. He returned with them to look over the stalled machine, for, as he said, three heads were better than two and recently he had a car himself, but owing to—

The sentence was never finished. He took one look at Barbara—and yelled.

Grayce thought it was his sciatica again. Oswald thought maybe the old man had been eating mushrooms that were toad stools. A pitchfork stood against the fence in the adjacent field. This the old man seized. With ear-splitting screeches he took after the dazed Oswald who began to bawl for help. It took five neighbors and a stout rope to overpower and subdue the old man and such was his state all night and the whole of next day that the young people decided to postpone the object of their visit to more auspicious occasion.

Barbara is for sale again—Cheap. —From "The Canadian Motorist."

As Usual They Blame Women

Prof. McCollum, of Johns Hopkins University, states that deaths from premature old age—heart, artery and kidney diseases—have doubled in 30 years, carrying off 60,000 people under 40 and 165,000 under 60, in the States, yearly. All authorities agree that this is largely a result of faulty food. Women are blamed, because as household purveyors they have not studied to provide the diet essential to human health, as farmers have studied the requirements for stock.

The great need is for green vegetables, fruits, milk and whole grain cereals, foods richly alkaline. The most alkaline food available is Roman Meal Porridge, taken with milk. Milk is rich in alkaline calcium. Roman Meal is rich in calcium, sodium, potassium and magnesium, all strong alkalis which correct the deficiencies and excess of acid in modern refined diet. TIME TO PREPARE CAR FOR TOURING.

Time is drawing near to prepare for week-end and longer touring trips.

That means tuning up the car for long driving and rough wear and preparing for all sorts of emergencies.

Before starting on any trip the automobile should be thoroughly overhauled. All parts should be well lubricated, transmission greased, crankcase and gasoline tank cleaned out and new oil and fuel put in.

The gasoline line ought to be blown out, the vacuum tank cleaned and the carbureter put into shape for warm weather driving. A heavier oil should be used for the summer days.

Avoid Squeaks

Test the wheels for wobbling, tighten up all nuts and bolts to prevent rattling and squeaking, have the engine cleaned of carbon and tuned up.

Besides, there is oiling of springs, adjustment of various parts, tightening the steering mechanism and filling the battery.

After this, the car is fit to leave home for a long drive. But the wise motorist prepares himself for all sorts of needs along the road. He looks over his tool kit and sees that all tools he might possibly use are there.

List of Tools

A complete list of tools includes wrenches, pliers, a hammer, screw-drivers files, wire, nuts, bolts, cotterpins, tire valves, pressure gauge, spark plugs, rim lugs, talcum powder, tape, an extra valve and spring, grease gun and an extra spring clip and bolts.

All these, besides spare tires, tubes, blow-out patches, tire pump, jack, chains, a box of cup grease and a can of lubricating oil. It is also good practice to take along a short plank to be used as a base in getting out of mudholes.

Careful driving and attention to all details in running the car will assure pleasure on long trips.

HEED THESE HINTS IF YOU WOULD HAVE LOVELY SKIN

BY HELENA RUBINSTEIN
(Famous Beauty Specialist)

Just being youthful should mean that one is lovely to look upon. A normal youthful skin is lustrous. It has a great deal of life and some natural color which is effective enough if one just doesn't fuss too much!

In the first place if one is to keep that youthful luster, the skin mustn't be given a daily coat of vanishing cream. Nothing so speeds the destruction of naturally nice skin as covering it up with vanishing cream.

A coat of such cream underlying the powder prevents action of the pores. So use a cream which pats in instead of one which coats if you would be lovely.

Have a bit of care, too, when working about the nostrils with cream. Be sure, before you finish your toilet or your preparations for the night that every bit of cream is removed from the skin about the nostrils. Most faces have a natural tendency toward large pores and blackheads there. Thus leaving cream encourages blemishes. A lotion which cuts the grease should be used after removing the cream with a soft clean cloth. Skin about the eyes should be given quite the same treatment as that about the nostrils.

And speaking of eyes—the very thinly outlined eyebrow is no longer good. Women who really wish to be beautiful are no longer allowing their brows to be narrowed by pulling them out. Indeed, in Paris, the very narrow eyebrow is considered hideous!

Many women who suffered having their eyebrows made so are now using vaseline to hasten their return An excellent way to use an eyebrow remedy is to brush it in with the small eyebrow brushes.

Goat, Standing Guard Over Crap Game, Buts 2 Interfering Policemen

Policeman Peter F. Vobel and William F. Cowan were attacked and butted by a goat which was acting as outside defence for a crap game on the second floor at 260 East 151st Street.

A lamp was overturned when the gamblers seized their money as the policemen rushed up the stairs and twelve players tried to get away. They said later that they thought they were being invaded by bandits. Crapshooters have complained of heavy losses recently by robbers pretending to be detectives, who have dashed in on games waving revolvers and shouting "Confiscate the stakes and turn 'em loose."

Vobel and Cowan threatened to shoot anybody who tried to get out othe dor and they picked up the lamp. This made them targets for the wrathful goat which instantly charged. Vobel went down and then Cowan. But the efforts of the loyal animal went for nothing for lack of support. The policemen retreated, dodging rapidly, barricaded a door, keeping the goat at long range and put the crap shooters under arrest. While one guarded the prisoners, and their standing army, the other policeman went to the telephone and explained to the Lieutenant at the Morrisonia station that a goat held a protectorate over the premises which they were raiding and that reinforcements were necessary.

A squad of police soon arrived. The goat's twelve wards were ordered to step forth, one at a time, through a door held sufficiently ajar to let a man squeeze through sideways. The door was manoeuvred with great skill to keep the garrison from making a sally. Each time the horns and whiskers came within close quarters the door was slammed.

After the twelve men had been thue alienated from their bodyguard, detectives entered the room with ropes. The goat continued to charge furiously, but loops were dropped over his head and horns from several directions, and ths was soon trussed up and taken to the police station as an exhibit in the case, accompanied by Policemen Vobel and Cowen, who also had been marked for identification.

The two policemen were urged to make a charge of felonious assault against the goat, and a quick inquiry into the law by station lawyers disclosed that a goat has the same immunity from criminal prosecution as an Ambassador. The owner of the goat, Salvatore Saloni, was charged with violating the Mullan-Gage act, in view of other evidence against him. Three of the others were discharges and eight were fined $4 each for orderly and eight were fined $4 each for disorderly conduct.

MANY CHANGES ARE APPARENT IN NEW AUTOS

All Kinds Improvements Tending Toward Comfort and Simplicity.

Endurance, freedom from repairs, simplicity. That is what the motorist wants, and that is what the motor car manufacturer promises him as automobile development proceeds.

Signs of this development appear in almost every new model presented this year. There are the individual steps instead of the running board, more and easier control from the dash, rear signal lights, fuel economizers and many other changes which make for ease and comfort in riding.

"Development work during the coming decade," says Colonel J. G. Vincent, Pacard engineer, "will be confined largely to a simplification and standardization of construction with a view to securing greater endurance and freedom from repairs and adjustments."

Most attention is being paid to the motor, for the simplification of its parts and economy of operation.

Scarcity of fuel in the future may send every present-day engine to the scrap heap to be replaced by a more suitable type.

But until then, engineers are seeking to bring motor and fuel costs down as low as possible.

"Eventually" says Colonel Vincent, "the demand for greater fuel economy may develop, as it has in England and continental countries, cars of less weight and horsepower.

"Already there is a movement in this direction, but until our public highways are materially improved I do not believe it will be a dominant factor.

Changes in body design will depend on the public, is Colonel Vincent's opinion. There will be no unwarranted departures from present lines.

"Unless there springs up some pronounced public preference for some new motor car quality," he adds, "the manufacturer's efforts during the next decade ing the already existing design."

CARBON-PROOF PLUG

French autosts obtain a carbon-proof spark plug fo their motors. A revolvin metal disk takes the place of the outsid electrode and keeps oil or carbon from the spark gap. The disk has a hole in the centre to form the gap with the central electrode.

TURKISH PRINCES LACK EDUCATION.

Establish School For Their Exclusive Use.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 5.—(Associated Press).—Turkish princes have been found lacking in educational qualifications by the Council for the Affairs of the Imperial Family, which has decided to establish a secondary school, exclusively for the use of young scions of royalty.

An investigation by the Council disclosed that since 1908, only three Imperial Princes have been well educated in military matters, and they are graduates of German institutions. One of them now holds the rank of major, while the other two are captains. Omar is a graduate of the Vienna Theresianum.

Fifteen other princes are said to have little if any military education and but limited schooling in general subjects. Essad Pasha, ex-Minister of Marine, has been instructed to draw up plans for their education and select a site for the royal school.

A brass band has been added to an English asylum's equipment as a therapeutic agency in the treatment of the insane.

ELINOR GLYN HAS TWO PRIDES

Elinor Glyn has a yearning—it is to produce "Three Weeks" on the screen. But she told me—it happens I am one of the fortuate who had the opportunity for a tete-a-tete with Mrs. Glyn on her way back from Hollywood to London——that she has no hope of doing so as long as official censorship prevails.

Mrs. Glyn has a great fondness for "Three Weeks." And not without reason—for it brought her fame, and much money. She really believes it is a great novel; she told me as much. She has two prides, the first being an author of this torrent of verbal passion, and the second being a grandmother.

A Point of Pride.

Between these opposite poles of pride, so to speak, she has another point of pride; she learned to dance after becoming a grandmother.

Mrs. Glyn has a single theory of what makes life interesting.

"Sex, and contest."

This spritely grandmother says, for example, that "Women cause all fights and all fights are waged for women." Example; well, look to home and you will find plenty.

It's because the movies are aware of these axioms, says Mrs. Glyn, that they get the crowd. Mrs. Glyn believes movies should be censored but not by officials, but by the public.

"The public can squelch all the evil in movies and moviedom," she said, "by staying away from pictures produced by evil-doers. Make vice unprofitable, and there will eb no vice—at least, vicious money-makers will be driven into less conspicious and hence less harmful, fields.

"I found Hollywood evidencing a lack of good taste, but generous to a fault. The recent tragedies there have aroused these 'easy come, easy go' sort of persons to a realization of their own importance and real responsibilities.

"You hear much of the show and blare of brass in Hollywood, but you hear little of the hard work and the sacrifices there. I have seen little 'extras', girls earning $7.50 a day when they were employed, sharing their all with jobless sisters.

Censors Censorship.

"But it's these very hardships that lead to temptation. Hence a girl should have the strongest moral resistance before she attempts a career in Hollywood.

"Censorship though, as now conducted, helps neither movie morals nor movie manners. It's like prohibition; it makes the prohibited want to break over. I came to America hoping to learn enough about the technical part of movie making so that I could become a director. But I do not want to make movies in America until conditions have changed."

"Economy is the easy chair of old-age."

GAVE AN ADDRESS ON SOUTH AFRICA

Interesting Talk to Canadian Women's Club

The final meeting for this season of the Women's Canadian Club was held in the Public Library last evening, when Mrs. A. McMurray, of Natal, South Africa, gave an interesting and instructive address on "Sunny South Africa." Mrs. W. R. Morris occupied the chair.

Mrs. McMurray, of British birth, has lived for the last ten and a half years in South Africa, being resident during that time for different periods in the four provinces of the South African Union, and is well qualified, by experience and observation, to speak on the subject of the Dark Continent, characterized by the speaker, on the contrary, as "Sunny South Africa," because in the winter months at the coast, the lowest number of hours of sunshine in the day is five, and the highest number from eight to ten. Up country, the summer days have at least eight hours of sunshine, and sometimes eleven.

Mrs. McMurray gave a brief introductory review of the history of South Africa, described by her as being both dramatic and interesting, with its numerous changes of government and its Kaffir wars, describing also the physical conditions, the climate, social life and different racial elements. The majority of people think that inhabitants of South Africa are all Boers, whereas the word "Boer" is only the Dutch word for "farmer." British-born arrivals in the Union are called "colonials," a term which they resent, and are beginning to change to the accepted term of "South Africans," which is coming into more common use. One of the strongest differences between Canada and South Africa, in Mrs. McMurray's opinion, is the essential British atmosphere of the latter. It is British to the core in its traditions, customs, fashions, its money, and its strongly upheld class distinctions.

The lecture was illustrated with upwards of a hundred excellent slides, depicting the different provinces of the Union, with their natural beauties, types of buildings and homesteads. Miss A. B. Scott, M.A., of Edinburgh, travelling with Mrs. McMurray, has charge of the lantern and slides.

NORTH HASTINGS MAN FACES SERIOUS CHARGE

Albert Patterson Alleged to Have Caused Death of Neighbor.

BELLEVILLE, May 5.—As a result of an inquest here, Albert Patterson, a resident of Coe Hill, Wallaston Township, North Hastings, has been apprehended on a charge of causing the death of Sanford Masters of the same locality.

Dr. C. S. Lumb, coroner of Eldorado, Madoc Township, presided over the proceedings. Wm. Carnew, K. C., Crown-Attorney, conducted the examination of witnesses, whilst Wm. Cross, barrister of Madoc village, was present in the interests of Mrs. Masters and also of the accused Patterson Seventeen witnesses were examined.

The jury returned a verdict that deceased, Sanford Masters, came to his death near Coe Hill on Monday, April 3rd., 1922, as the result of injuries sustained about the head and neck when, it was alleged, at the time he fell from a load of hay and the runners of the sleigh passed or his head and neck. From the evidence adduced we are of the opinion that Albert Patterson was responsible for his death."

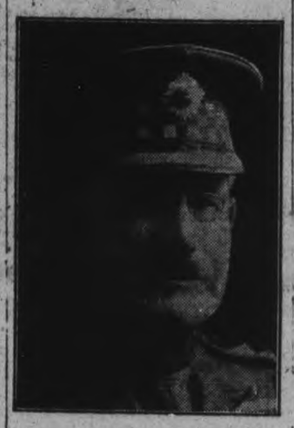
Patterson, after being placed under arrest, was placed in the lock-up at Coe Hill. He will to-morrow be brought to the county jail in this city and on Thursday next will be taken back to Coe Hill where his preliminary trial will take place.

At the time of Master's death Dr. Lumb investigated the circumstances of the affair and it was thought that it was purely a case of accidental death and an order was given for the burial of the body. Shortly after the burial, rumors freely circulated with the result that the authorities were asked to make an investigation. Last week the body of Masters was exhumed and a coroner's jury was empanelled to inquire into the circumstances surrounding his death.

The documents just published here give a complete record of his last illness and his death in the home of a hair-dresser, Richard Shearsmith, of London.

According to these papers, Swedenborg told his hostess the date of his departure from this world. This was about a month before his demise. Shortly after 5 o'clock on the day of his death, he asked the Shearsmiths what time it was, and, on being told, he said: "Well, then, I thank you. God bless you.' Ten minutes later he passed away quietly.

During his final illness he was asked by the Rev. Arvid Fereliuf if he did not want to abjure some of his teaching before leaving the world. Swedenborg is said to have risen from his bed and said: "As true as is your sight of me here before your eyes, so true is also all that I have written, and I might have said more if I had been permitted to do so." in London in 1908 and brought over to Sweden on the cruiser Fylgia, and burned in Upsala Cathedral.



LIEUT. F. W. WOOD.

The Director of Music of His Majesty's Scots Guards, Lieut. F. W. Wood, has been conductor of the premier band of the British Army for the last 22 years, during which time he has raised it to the pre-eminence of military bands in the musical world. The Band played for the Canadian Divisional Troops at Poperinghe, Flanders, in 1916. Lt. Wood has been honoured with more decorations than any living military band master.

INCIPIENT REBELLION BY SIX NATIONS INDIANS

Declare They Are Not Subject to Canadian Laws

HAMILTON Ont. May, 5.— A state of incipient rebellion exists on the Luscorora reserve, south of Brantford, as the culmination to a number of disputes between the council of the Six Nations Indians and the Dominion Government.

The Indians are ignoring summonses to police court and defy the authorities who are awaiting mounted police reinforcements.

All disputes arise from the contention not admitted by the government that the Six Nations are Allies of Britain and not subject to the laws of Canada.

FISH OVERSEERS COMPLETED WORK

Special Protection for Spawning Season Ends

The period for which the special game and fish overseers at different points in this district of the Trent Waterway were taken on expired last night, Inspector M. J. Woodcock was unable to say definitely this morning that these men had been relieved.

As he understood the terms, they were taken on from 14th April to 4th May but the Department had been strongly urged by the Game and Fish Protective Association to have the period of protection extended.

Spawning is unusually late this year, the inspector said, and he thought it would be advisable to retain the special officers longer. The lunge are still in the beds and the bass have not started to spawn yet, he said.

President R. J. Soden, of the Game and Fish Protective Association, stated that when the matter of appointing these men was first urged, they had hoped to have them engaged for a much longer period than the Department did. Now is the time it is most important that protection be given, he asserted.

Under the existing laws it is impossible to prosecute persons using spears, as allowance is made for spearing and netting suckers, says Inspector Woodcock.

The Examiner was informed that Mr. C. G. Graham took this matter up with the Department, but was informed that the law as at present did not make spearing suckers an offence. Mr. Graham was advised, however, that it was hoped to have the law amended. As long as the spearing of suckers is lawful, persons after bigger fish will always have an alibi.

Inspector Woodcock hopes that next year the Game and Fisheries Act would definitely stop sucker fishing and leave no means by which game fish may be destroyed during their spawning period.

WU IS IN CONTROL OF CHINA'S CAPITAL TODAY

All Fighting in Vicinity of Pekin Has Ceased

PEKING, China, May 5.—(Canadian Press)—Forces of Wu Pei-Fu were in control of Peking at noon today and those of General Chang Tso-Lin, routed yesterday in a fierce battle south of the Capital, were reported fleeing to Mukden. Observers state that Changs collapse has ended hostilities.

All fighting in the vicinity of Peking has ceased but the city remains isolated as far as railroad communication is concerned. General Wu, who is within a few hours' reach of the city, declared he will fight on until he had either captured Chang or driven him back to Mukden.

RAIDING BANKS AND BARRACKS IN IRELAND

DUBLIN, May 5. — (Canadian Press.)—The barracks at Castle Pollard, Westmeath, are reported to have been blown up by the irregulars, who destroyed Mullingar Barracks Wednesday. Two of the men who raided the bank at Buncrana, County Donegal, yesterday, were shot dead.

REUNION OF 21ST KINGSTON, MAY 17

Campaign to Raise Funds for Memorial to Fallen

A fair-sized party of Peterborough 21st Battalion men are expected to take part in the big re-union of the battalion in Kingston, May 17th. At this re-union not only will the third anniversary of their return to Canada be celebrated, but also it will mark the beginning of the campaign to raise funds to erect a memorial to members of the unit that made the supreme sacrifice. Over 1,000 officers, N.C.O's and men are expected to attend. The principal speaker will be General Sir Arthur Currie, G.C.B., K.C., M.G., and Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Militia. The re-union will be held in the Armouries. Secretary L. Fraser, of the Chamber of Commerce, who served in this battalion, is organizing the local party.

DECLINE SHOWN IN COST OF BUILDING.

Average Expenditure on New Garages Cut in Half.

Construction of dwellings slowed up a trifle in the first few days of May, but there are a lot of small jobs under way. Kitchens, verandahs and garages are being erected and alterations of different kinds are proceeding. Permits issued so far this month total $1,980. The following have been issued:

J. Reynolds, garage, 56 Aylmer street, $25.

W. G. Howden, 251 George street, addition to dwelling, making a store front, $1,000.

M. Carew, verandah, 498 Sherbrooke street, $125.

Sarah J. Lightheart, 221 Rink street, shed, $25.

Ira Huggins, garage, 272 McDonnel street, $30.

W. W. Gray, 110 Murray street, verandah, $25.

George N. Foster, kitchen, 236 Euclid avenue, $200.

Dr. F. P. McNulty alterations to garage, 289 Hunter street, $150.

A perusal of the permits for garages this year and last year reveals the coincidence that up to the end of April 23 new garages were put up both years. The average cost this year was, however, only $90, as compared with $180 a year ago. Declines in the price of lumber and building materials probably account for part of the lowered costs, but also there seems to be a tendency to spend less money on the home for the car that must be taken into consideration.

MAKE INSANITY A CAUSE FOR DIVORCE.

PARIS, May 4. — (Associated Press).—The bill introduced in the Chamber of Deputies by Andre Tardieu and Georges Aimond making insanity a legal ground for divorce has met with considerable opposition. The bill provided that a husband or wife should be entitled to bring an action for divorce after the person to whom he or she was married had been detained for three years in a recognized lunatic asylum and if competent medical authorities declared the patient was mentally deficient beyond hope of recovery.

The measure is opposed on the ground that no physician is sufficiently infallible to be able to state that a case is hopeless beyond recovery.

Confirmed opponents of all changes in the French divorce laws are drawing distressing pictures of the incurable" patient recovering and returning to the bosom of his family to find his wife married again

Andre Tardieu, one of the authors of the bill was a member of the last cabinet of Premier Clemenceau and was French High Commissioner in America during the world war.

Insanity was a ground for divorce in France 100 years ago. In Germany, Switzerland and other countries it is considered legitimate grounds for divorce although the laws vary in important particulars in each country.

FORETOLD DATE OF DEATH MONTH AHEAD

A Swedish Scientist Told Hostess Just When he Would Die.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May5.—(Associated Press.)—The claim often made that Emanuel Swedenborg, the Swedeish scientist, philosopher and theologian, recanted his doctrines on his deathbed was controverted in documents published in the Swedish newspapers in connection with the celebration of the 150th anniversary of his death. Swedenborg died in London, March 29, 1792 and the anniversary of that event was observed by his followers throughout the world.

SLOW MOVEMENT IN DOG LICENSES

Police Complain of Tardiness by Dog Owners

The tardiness dog owners are displaying this year in taking out their licenses is causing the police some worry. To date less than 300 have been issued and this means, they say, that there are still several hundred unlicensed dogs. In days of yore the law was enacted more stringently, and owners who failed to get their licenses by May 1st had to produce a satisfactory reason for their deliquency before the magistrate. It is not improbable that those who have failed to get the proper license for their canines will get such a jolt as this shortly.

KEN. WILLIAMS GETS ANOTHER HOME RUN

His Tenth Circuit Clout of the Season. Many Games Called on Account of Rain.

AMERICAN.

Detroit 6, St. Louis 5.

DETROIT, May 5.— (Canadian Press.)— Heilman's home run with Cobb and Veach on base in the ninth inning gave Detroit three runs and a 6 to 5 victory over St. Louis here yesterday. The Browns got away to a three run lead in the first inning, but Detroit tied it up and the visitors again took the lead in the fifth when Kenneth Williams hit his tenth home run of the year with Sisler on base. Score:

St. Louis.	300 020 000	5	11 1
Detroit.	021 000 003	6	10 1

Vangilder and Severeid; Olsen, Oldham, Johnson and Bassler.

Cleveland 5, Chicago 3.

CHICAGO, May 5.— (Canadian Press.)— Urban Faber, star pitcher of the Chicago White Sox, was unable to check the slugging of the Indians and Cleveland made it two straight from the locals yesterday, 5 to 3. Mails weakened in the last inning, when Chicago started a rally which netted three runs, but tightened up and retired Hooper on strikes for the final out with two men on bases. Score:

Cleveland	020 001 200	5	11 2

BABE RUTH GOES UNDER OPERATION.

NEW YORK, May 5.—(Canadian Press.)—The Ruths—Babe and Mrs. Babe—underwent operations at St. Vincent's Hospital yesterday, and both were reported resting comfortably shortly afterwards. The home run hitter had his tonsils removed. Doctors would not discuss his wife's trouble.

WALT. JOHNSON

While Walter Johnson hasn't the smoke that he once boasted, I seriously doubt if any pitcher has more stuff on the ball today than Walter. Guy Morton of the Cleveland club is the possessor of great speend.

It is a very diffcult matter to say which pitcher has the best curve ball in the majors. One day a pitcher will have a curve ball that is almost unhittable. Perhaps the next time out it will break very poorly.

Phil Douglas of the New York Giants showed me a great curve ball in the last world series. I don't believe I ever saw a better curve ball than the one Jesse Barnes handed the Yankees. The Yankee baters said nothing in the American League approached it.

Waite Hoyt of the New York Yankees has a corking curve, also Sam Jones.

Spitball pitchers all have their own peculiar style. If I was manager of a ball club, and had to choose between Shocker, Covelskie, Faber and Douglas Iwould feel that I had quite a task ahead.

Diamond Dust

A number of improvements have been made to Central Park in Port Hope.

Last year Babe Ruth had six homers to his credit at this time and by May 20th he had banged out twelve. He will have to work fast when he does start in order to catch up.

There will be six teams in the Belleville City League and a meeting will be held next Monday evening to draw up a schedule .W. A. Elliot has been elected president of the league.

Adanacs and Lock Works will open the local Junior City League on May the 24th. They will play the morning game commencing at 9.30.

The New York fans are anxiously awaiting the 20th of May. Not only does Ruth get back in the game that day, but they will see in action for the first time Kenneth Williams, who is going so strong. St. Louis is playing New York that day.

The local Central league team was out for a work out Wednesday evening. About twenty turned out and they were put through a good stiff workout. They will practice tonight at the Exhibiton grounds and Saturday afternoon they will use Riverside Park.

There are two Canadian teams on the winning side of the Michigan-Ontario so far.

The Classics will work out at Central Park tonight (Friday). All players are asked to be out.

It is likely that the Adanacs and the Central Legue will ahve a stiff workout in the shape of a game Saturday afternoon at Riverside Park.

Players will bring all their kit.

A TIP TO DEMPSEY

By BERTON BRALEY

Jack Dempsey's gone to Europe where he'll play around a while;
He's got a raft of baggage and he's travelling in style.
He'll give the crowd an eyeful in the countries he will strike
And show the foreign peoples what a champion is like.
Perhaps Jack Kearns will match him with some fighters over there,
If anyone is brave enough to meet him anywhere;
We don't know what his plans are, but we feel we ought to shout,
"Oh, the Boulevard'll git you if you don't watch out!"

We've seen a lot of champions go down the primrose trail,
We've seen 'em in the pride of youth grow logy, fat and stale.
They blew their money swiftly and they had their merry fling—
And soon another champion had knocked 'em from the ring!
So listen, Mr. Dempsey, if you'd keep your youthful pep,
Have all the blooming fun you want, but always watch your step!
Beware the wine—look out for vamps who often lurk about,
Or "the Boulevards'll git you if you don't watch out!"

You've sidestepped old John Barleycorn—and you were wise in that.
For many is the champion that guy has kayoed flat;
But Paris lights are very bright and Paris nights are gay
And you'd be more than human if you didn't want to stray
Along the path that folly treads, but oh! remember, Jack,
There is a cullud gentleman who waits your coming back;
So shun the wicked boulevards and don't grow soft or stout,
Or Mr. Wills'll git you if you don't watch out!

LACROSSE

The lacrosse club arranged last night for Saturday afternoon's junior practice in Central Park, beginning at 2.15 o'clock. All the members of the City League teams and any others who intend to try for this team are requested to be on hand promptly. Walter Smaill will take charge of the practice game.

Johnnie Sutherland was given full authority to select the team for the exhibition game in Campbellford with their intermediates on Victoria Day. This team will be picked from those who turn out for the City League practices and games. The men who play Campbellford's team should be in fairly good condition by that time.

Next week's meeting of the executive will be called to fix the dates in the City League schedule.

There is some talk of a juvenile game here on May 24th. The youngsters who practice faithfully for this team will be assured of as many games as can be secured for them at home and out of town.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

DO YOUR BOWELS MOVE REGULARLY, OR DO THEY BECOME CONSTIPATED

There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by allowing the bowels to become constipated, and there is no other trouble which flesh is heir to that is more dangerous to be neglected, because material inconvenience may not be felt at once from irregular action of the bowels. When there is not regular action the retention of the decayed and effete matter, with its poisonous gases, soon poisons the whole system by being absorbed into it, causing violent sick and bilious headaches, internal bleeding or protruding piles, heartburn, jaundice, etc.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER ILLS

will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, thus making them active and regular, and removing the constipation and all of its allied troubles.

Mr. Samuel Bulmer, Tatamagouche, N.S., writes: "For over a year I suffered with constipation. I took several different kinds of medicines, but could only get temporary relief. I was told to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I procured two vials of them, but after I had taken one I found that I was relieved of my trouble. I do not hesitate to recommend Laxa-Liver Pills for any kind of constipation."

Price, 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ONLY ONE UMP.

Sandy Lockington says: According to the resolution adopted at the annual meeting only one umpire is to be appointed, unless a request is made for the second official and the team making such request must pay the extra expenses incurred thereby.

WILLARD AFTER DEMPSEY BOUT

Former Champ Thinks He Can Now Wrest the Crown From Present Holder.

NEW YORK, May 5.—(Canadian Press).—Willard has been angling for a return bout with Dempsey for some months and the contest appeared almost clinched several times, but some untoward angle prevented the completion of the plans. Tex Rickard, who promoted the contest in Toledo in 1919 when Willard was so unmercifully pounded by Dempsey that he could not respond to the bell for the fourth round, has been in receipt of several telegrams from Willard recently requesting a chance to regain the title.

In these messages Willard, who has been training in Los Angeles, declares that he is in fine physical condition as the result of preliminary work and is ready to start earnest training for the bout if assured that Dempsey will give him another chance. Rickard has refused to commit himself on the proposition up to this time, but is understood to look with favor on a return match if Willard can convince him that he is actually in physical shape to give the champion a real battle.

No difficulty is expected in signing Dempsey to a second bout with Willard provided the champion receives what he considers to be a proper financial inducement. The titleholder has stated several times that he would face Willard again if the Kansan giant desired an opportunity to regain the title he won from Jack Johnson in 1915.

Rickard has notified Willard that no definite steps would be taken to close the contract until Dempsey returned from his European trip, but that a cable would be sent the champion asking if he was ready to defend his title against Willard next fall.

PARIS, May 5. — (Canadian Press).—Jack Dempsey declared yesterday that he would gladly meet Jess Willard again. Whenever time, place and conditions were arranged he would sign for fight.

EXPERTS OFTEN GO WRONG IN PICKING PLAYERS

The sharps of baseball often go wrong. When the experienced eye looks over a promising recruit the guess that follows is not always correct.

"Bib" Falk was the star college pitcher of Texas. Few left-handers as good as he ever hurled for a varsity nine. The Chicago White Sox got Falk and it was predicted that he would be a "fliv" as a pitcher, but that he might be converted into a good infielder. But here is Falk playing the outfield for Chicago and a lot of people think that he could pitch better ball than some of the pitchers that are working for Kid Gleason.

Luzerne Atwell Blue of the Detroit Tigers is probably the most spectacular first baseman in the American League. He is one of the best fielders, batsmen and base runners in the game. But when Detroit got Blue and while he was still in the minor leagues all the scouts that looked at him said he would never do for an infield position and that he would make a good fielding outfielder, but would have the drawback of weak hitting. When Blue started playing first base the idea caused much laughter among the wise men of the game who had watched him.

You never can tell in baseball.

WILLIAMS TOPS BEST RECORD OF THE GREAT BABE

BY BILLY EVANS.

While Babe Ruth, home-run king is sitting in the grandstand as a mere spectator, Kenneth Williams of the St. Louis Browns is hogging the sporting spotlight as slugger extraordinary.

Williams' feat of hitting three home runs in one game on Satur-

In four games Williams has hit ball record.

Ruth's best home-run performance in a single game is two home runs.

It has been 25 years since any player made three home runs in one game. On September 26, 1897 Jake Beckley, now dead, accomplished such a feat.

Only 11 players in the history of baseball have made three home runs in one game.
record making it last season.
six home runs. Babe Ruth is the only other player to boast such a record, baking it last season.

During the season of 1882 Muldoon of Cleveland made five home uns in three games as did King Kelly of Chicago in 1884, and Babe Ruth in New York in 1921.

A desire to emulate the deeds of Babe Ruth has made Williams a hitter of the slugging type.

While Williams has always been known as a hard hitter in baseball up until last season he usually hit more balls in a line, rather than lifting them over the fence.

I was sitting on the bench in St. Louis the day that I believe Williams shifted from the line hitter to the slugger.

The day previous Williams had been retired on three towering fly balls that just failed to clear the fence. Sitting on the bench Williams was bemoaning his tough luck.

"If you would take a healthy cut at that ball like Ruth you would be pushing him hard for home run honors,, remarked one of the players.

"If you would start pulling those balls on the inside into right field, you would hit 15 to 20 home runs on this park every year', said another teammate.

Several other St. Louis players offered advice. All of them lauded the ability of Williams to hit.

"Loks as if all these guys think I am a better hitter than I do myself. Starting today I am going to take a healthy cut."

That afternoon Williams made a home run. He has been making a lot ever since.

Last season with Bob Meusel he was a runner-up to Babe Ruth with 24 circuit drives to his credit.

BASEBALL

A NEW LEAGUE.

The Lucky Dog Baseball League has been formed for boys under 18, and the following teams have entered: Fire Hall Cubs, Simcoe Nine, Tuxis Boys. They would like to hear from any other teams who are not as yet entered in a league. Wild Cats, Bear Cubs or others have been invited to send their entries to Frank White, care of White Bros., Hunter street.

IF THIS PLAY COMES UP HERE'S YOUR DECISION

If the pitcher, with one or more runners on the bases, in the act of delivering the ball to the batter or in throwing to first drops the ball either intentionally or accidentally, it shall be regarded as a balk. All runners shall be entitled to advance one base. If with no one on the bases the pitcher accidentally drops the ball in delivering it to the batsman, no penalty shall be inflicted.

BOXING TO-NIGHT.

The P.A.A.A. boxing classes will meet to-night in the Roller Rink at 7.30 sharp. All boxers please attend.

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT.

Regent Theatre Is Now Under the Direction of Mr. Marlow — His Influence Felt Already.

Mr. Marlow who has assumed the management of the popular Regent Theatre, has made a gratifyingly successful start and is letting Peterboro show goers know that the entertainments provided at this pretty show house are of a high odrer, and sure to take its place as one of the best photo play theatres in the city.

Announcements of the better class bookings will be made, at once, and a most progressive policy is being outlined for the immediate presentation of the very best screen artists now before the public.

THE MONOCLASS CABIN SERVICE ON C.P.R. BOATS

The monoclass cabin service has the additional appeal to many persons who do not care to travel on steamships carrying three classes, owing to the dividing line on the decks, the difference in food and service and the various other distinctions between the first and second class accomodation.

The monoclass cabin service is maintained by the Canadian Pacific between Montreal and Liverpool by the S. S. Montcalm, 16,400 tons; Montrose, 16,400 tons; Montclare, 16,400 tons; Victorian, 10,600 tons. Between Montreal and Glasgow by the S. S. Metagama, 12,400 tons; Corsican, 11,400 tons; Tunisian, 10,600 tons; Scotian, 10,300 tons. Between Montreal and Southampton and Antwerp by the S. S. Minnedosa, 14,000 tons; the Melita, 14,000 tons; and the Scandinavian, 12,000 tons. There is also the direct service to Italy, by the S. S. Montreal, 9,500 tons.

Recently upon his return to Canada on the S. S. Melita, Sir Andrew Macphail declared that the service and general conduct of affairs aboard the Canadian Pacific liners between the Old Country and Canada attracted large numbers of people to these routes, rather than to the lines running between the Old Country and the United States ports. "The ease and facility attending entry into a Canadian port, in contrast to the 'red tape' and officialism surrounding entry into United States ports," said Sir Andrew, "is an added reason for the preferment of the Canadian routes. Many Americans, he states, would in future both go and return across the Atlantic via Canadian Pacific lines.

Capitol Entertainment

Lovers of the fistic art should not miss the red-blooded, fighting scene in "The Worlds Champion," at the Capitol Theater for this week end, in which the real Kid McCoy, ex-middleweight champion of the world, stages a thrilling pugilistic encounter with "Gunboat Williams," the role in which the athletic abilities of the popular Wallace Reid are strained to the utmost. The action in this delightful story is of the rapid-fire variety and the love story as strong as the popular star usually makes it.

The snobbish-minded British father who groans when he discovers that his son has been a prize fighter in America, suffers a change of heart after observation of the attitude adopted by a sporting nobility towards the prowess of the son, and gives a banquet in his honor. The winsome personality of Wallace Reid, which has made him a general favorite of the silver screen, is complicated in this attractive picture by his role of a two-fisted fighting man, and his love for the dignified Lady Elizabeth does not prevent him from thrashing very soundly her noble suitor. The lady's 'a'bout face" is well executed. When her valiant swain comes to bid farewell, she ras exercised the usual feminine privilege of changing her mind once more, and all ends beautifully.

There is the usual interesting Pathe News reel, a Christie comedy which mixes things up considerably for an amateur performance, and this week end is the last chance to hear the unusual voice of the bass singer at the Capitol, Cameron Geddes, who renders several old favorites in his splendid voice, including 'When the Bell of the Lighthouse Rings Ding Dong" and "The Big Bass Viol." Mr. Geddes has the faculty of choosing songs which are eminently suited to his vocal powers, and has attracted much favorable comment during his stay in Peterborough.

AT THE GRAND.
"SCHOOL DAYS."

"School Days" at the Grand Opera House this week is just like its name. The days that are supposed to be the happiest of all are wonderfully illustrated in the picture which has for its hero the freckled-faced "Speck" Brown, snub-nosed, bright-eyed, mischievous-minded, not forgetting his dog, which follows him to school and tramps weary miles after the train that bears Speck away to the great metropolis.

The lad who thinks that "money, not eddication," is the main thing in life, the orphanage boy who has been adopted into the home of the stern-faced Deacon, holds the centre of the stage. He fights with Vivien, the fat-faced girl-child in the next row at school, ties her long curls to his rear neighbor's toe, and awaits developments, and generally mixes things up for the gentle-faced schoolteacher. Later on, he plays hooky to go fishing with the erratic genius, Leff, whose sole contribution to the work of the world is a wonderfully-executed clothes-pin, and still later, Speck reinforces his trousers with a flexible book, against the distressing occurrences which are bound to eventuate as a result of his impish ways.

There is a rich uncle, however, who providentially turns up, and Speck is transported forthwith, loose suit, tight hat, freckles and all, to a New York mansion, where he learns to bathe with the aid of a valet, say "Home, James," with the proper amount of hauteur, and goes to a private school where the elegantly-clad scholars two-step in the corridors, and a maid waits for wraps. However, Speck is not ruined by wealth. He still retains enough of his old vigor to substitute the odoriferous Limburger cheese for the French master's pomade, and he essays a buck and wing step at his own aristocratic reception for the youthful and haughty Four Hundred.

His exploits are complicated by the designs of a band of crooks who aim to relieve him of his money, but Speck, with the aid of the visiting clothes-pin genius, Leff, engage in a startling pyjama-clad battle with midnight burglars, and the villains are unmasked. A return to the uncle, the dog, and the curly-headed small sweetheart of other days reverses Speck's decision with regard to an "eddication."

Scenes of misty rural beauty alternate in this picture with the abounding comedy element, and the presentation of details of school life in the old country school-house could hardly be surpassed. Children and grown-ups alike will enjoy "School Days."

Some of the features that pleased Canadians in the first edition have been assembled and interspersed into this second and bigger production of "Hullo Canada."

Mr. Tate's "motoring" and "fishing" will still be retained in the revue owing to the many demands from admirers of the younger generation. In addition to these two well-known classics, Mr. Tate will introduce his latest and most humorous creations, "The Critic From the Front," "Arrest Me" and "There's Another One Born Every Minute."

Max Olney, who is responsible for most of the successful numbers produced at both the New York and London Hippodromes, will present the English chorus beauties in a cycle of elaborately staged musical numbers, among them being the famous "Roulette" scenes which created such a sensation in London and Paris when it was first presented, also "Grandma's Days," another novelty feature, introducing that element of surprise that makes the offering a most refreshing one.

The original company which delighted audiences here on their last appearance will be seen.

When the second edition of "Hullo Canada" comes to the Grand Theatre for a farewell engagement on Thursday next, May 11, Harry Tate's company of seventy London revue stars will have an entirely different and new musical revue comedy to offer to the theatregoers of Peterborough.

All the larger cities in the Western States of America have been visited by the company since they were last seen here and wherever they have appeared, most flattering criticisms have been heard about the production.

COMING TO THE GRAND.

It is many years since H. Wilmot Young and his popular stock company have played Peterboro. There is in all probability no more popular actor manager touring the country today than H. Wilmot Young who almost continually with the exception of four years during the War beent touring New England and the Maritime Provinces but this year has paid Ontario a visit altho very few towns were fortunate in having them. Manager Phillips and Mr. Young have long been friends and it was through this friendship that the preesnt engagement was arranged. The Company coming direct from Cornwall where they have had a most successful run of two weeks packing the houses nightly. Mr. Young has surrounded his talented star Marjie Adams with a most capable copany of players and their any friends will gladly welcome them back to Peterboro. Well do we remember the days when they played in the old Bradburn Opera House and turned hundreds way at each performance. The Grand will be well patronized this coming Monday when a most apropriate play "Man Woman and Wealth" will be the offering with Marjie Adams as an Irish girl and one that is greatly suited to her Mr. Young will also have an excellent part. Some very fine creations are promised by Miss Adams who is considered the best dressed leading lady now entour. Vaudeville will be given between acts and good vaudeville too. There will be but one Matinee that on Wednesday when "A Secret Marriage" will be presented Tuesday and an unusual play is promised. "The Broken Road". Wednesday "St. Elmo" will be the offering.

AT THE ROYAL.

Did you see the "Matador" last night? If so, do you not consider it one of the best comedies of the season? If you did not see it, take a tip and see it to-night and you will agree that is not only a laughable but a wonderfully staged comedy. Apart from the fun, which is fast and frequent, this comedy is interesting in that it shows views of a bull fight at Mexico city before an audience of perhaps thirty thousand people. It also shows the Spanish Fandango, danced by a girl who knows how. Shirley Mason, ever a popular screen artist, appears to great advantage in the six reel Fox feature called "Jackie." Jackie is a little Russian waif who is being taught dancing for the stage by Madame Lemine. Later a rich young American residing in London sees the child dance in the street to the merry lilt of a hurdy, gurdy. He recognizes the child's talent and offers to have her trained by the best dancing master in London. However, Madame Lemine apprentices her for three years to Billy Bowman, manager of a cheap travelling troupe. Bowman ill-treats the girl whilst his company is rehearsing at a typical English inn. She runs away and on return to London is found by Carter, whose generosity enables her to secure a position as premiere dansense. Bowman discovers her and, hearing of her success blackmails her on account of his first contract. A pretty story with a compelling plot and told in a humorous but effective way. Then there is the great Fox feature play of Southern life and its fields called "The Roof "Tree." William Russell as a typical Kentucky mountaineer is moulded into a part that suits his clever stage work. Last but no least is Larry Semon in a clever comedy called "The Head Waiter." You merely have to look at Larry and you laugh!

ROAD BUILDING COSTS ARE ON THE DOWN GRADE

TORONTO, May 5.— (Canadian Press.)—During consideration of the health estimates last night, Hon. G. H. Ferguson protested that regulations issued by Provincial Department to govern sanitary conditions in lumber camps were more adapted to "summer resort" requirements than practical lumbering fields. The item was laid over for further consideration.

Hon. F. C. Biggs told the House that the road building costs were in some instances returning to pre-war levels: He said the Department of Highways hoped to build seventy miles of roadway this year.

GIVES EVIDENCE IN THE CHIPPAWA CANAL PROBE.

TORONTO, May 5.—(Canadian Press).—R. S. Lee, consulting engineer of Montreal, who reported on the Chippawa project, was a witness before the Public Accounts Committee of the Legislature to-day, and re-affirmed his opinion as shown in his report, supporting the claims of the Hydro engineers as to the supply of water and power development possibilities of the Chippawa Canal.

Mr. Lee told the committee that he did not think the eleven million or twelve million excess of the cost of the Chippawa project over the $55,000,000 estimates was excessive. He said only about one-fifth of the work had been completed when the estimate was made. He said some $22,000,000 had been expended when the estimate was made, but about half of it was for the plant. He claimed the Chippawa project was three times the biggest work of its kind in the world.

BREATH-TAKING FEAT.

Commenting on the report in last night's Examiner of the stunt performed by O. G. Kendall in 1858 on the steeple of St. Peter's Cathedral, when the man, working on repairs to the steeple, turned a somersault from the cross to the ball below, Mrs. A. Dunn, of 165 Charlotte street, remembers very clearly the occurrence. Mrs. Dunn was looking out of the window of the small stone house on the corner of Rubidge and Hunter streets, then occupied by a Mrs. Ridley, when she witnessed the performance of this somewhat breath-taking feat.

IN MEMORIAN.

ROSS—A Sonnet in memory of Geo. Douglas Ross, son of Rev. and Mrs. Ross, who died May 5th, 1914; aged 8 years and 7 months.

Step softly friend, wake not my sleeping boy.
He laid him down to slumber years ago,
'Mid melody of spring and opening glow.
Of bright May morning, winged with Holy joy.
What tender epithets shall we employ.
As moving memory's unfolding slow,
The song of birds, the blush of flowers, the breathing low,
Of him approaching heaven's harmony.
Thou woulds' not tell men that my boy is dead?
Can laughing love and truth and virtue die
No, no earth's lap holds but his weary head
That Spark Divine shall not in ashes lie.
He lives, he walks where feet of angels tread.
Crowned with life and immortality

10,000 CHINESE MARCH TO RAID "WHITE DEVILS"

The Shattered Army of General Chang Seek Revenge For the Recent Crushing Defeat Near Peking.

WHITES PREPARE.

SHANGHAI, May 6 (Associated Press). — Ten thousand Chinese mutinous troops are reported marching upon Tien-Tsin to loot the foreign quarter.

The whites are preparing for a desperate defence.

These troops are the remnants of the shattered army of General Chang Tso-Lin, seeking revenge for their crushing defeat by General Wu-Pei-Fu's forces.

Despatches filed from Tien-Tsin at 3 a.m. said scouts had observed the mutineers near the city.

The situation is similar to that which existed in Pekin during the Boxer siege.

Whites Are Arming.

The whole foreign population is taking up arms to assist in the defence, despatches reported.

One American and one British regiment were co-operating along the outer line of defence, the messages said, and the French troops were being strengthened by reinforcements of French citizens.

Scouts reported that large bodies of the mutineers were coming from the direction of Luo-fa. They are utterly disorganised, marching like armed mobs.

The mutineers are firing on villages and shooting at their own troop trains, the scouts said.

Pekin Not Alarmed.

The news direct from Pekin is not alarming, although the Legations of the United States and the other Powers have ordered foreigners to abandon their homes in the Chinese districts, and take refuge in the compounds.

This was done for fear that the defeated Chang troops would get into the city, seize the arms of the Gendarmerie, and begin looting.

Looting Already.

Looting was reported in some of the outlying suburbs, but it was quickly suppressed.

American military observers were loud in their praise of the humane attitude of the troops of Wu's victorious army. They are busy rendering aid to the enemy wounded.

General Chang himself is in flight toward Mukden, thousands of his troops, trapped on the battlefield, threw down their arms.

In Wake of Retreat.

The wake of the great retreat is marked with scores of dead horses and camels, wrecked waggons, dead and wounded, disabled artillery, and all the debris of war.

The Real Menace.

The menace to Tien-Tsin comes from the Fengtein troops of the defeated army.

While Chang is withdrawing in a north-easterly direction along the Pekin-Mukden Railway, the Fengteins, who are fierce and savage fighters, marched southward toward Tien-Tsin.

They are utterly beyond control, and are burning, killing, looting, and destroying as they advance.

HOW TO DEFY GRIM REAPER AND REACH CENTURY MARK

New York's Health Commissioner Explains to Rotarians How to Live a Hundred Years by Getting Rid of All Surplus Weight

NEW YORK, May 6.—A man 50 or more years old who is fifty pounds over weight has lessened his chance of living 50 per cent. Health Commissioner Royal S. Copeland told about 300 Rotarians at their luncheon at the McAlphin. He added there was no reason why one should not live to be 100, and urged that the men take his advice but not follow his example.

"I know absolutely how to live to be 100 years old, and I don't practice what I know." Dr. Copeland told his large audience. "There are in this country 3,500 men and women past 100 years of age, and there is no reason why the average man should not attain the century mark."

The Health Commissioner gave a formula for determing a man's weight, any excess being physical harmful, he said. Multiply the number of inches a man over 5 feet by 6 and add this result to 110 pounds and the total should be your weight, he said. Being 5 feet 11 inches tall. Dr. Copeland mutltiplied 11 by 6 and added the answer, 66, to 110. He is heavier than 176 pounds, however, he confessed.

William Mudoon, Chairman of the State Boxing Commission, another speaker, attacked the Eighteenth Amendment. He said violators were setting examples to others to violate other laws.

The name of the late Colonel Roosevelt having been mentioned by Anthony Fiala, who spoke before him, Mr. Muldoon said:

"He should have lived twenty years longer. If he had taken the advice I had so often given him he would have done so."

During one of their rides, Mr Muldoon said, he pointed out to Colonel Roosevelt what he believed were mistakes.

"You are scolding me" Colonel Roosevelt asserted.

"But you need to be scolded" Mr. Muldoon said he told him.

"Before I left him that day he shook my hand" the Commissioner went on, "and told me that it had done him a lot of good."

CRITICAL STAGE THE CONFERENCE

Difference in Ranks of Allied Delegates — Reds Want Gold.

GENOA, May 6. — (Canadian Press).—The most critical stage of the conference was reached to-day, arising through differences in the ranks of the Allied delegates over the memorandum to Russia and through the attitude of the Russians themselves, it was declared this afternoon by an official Italian spokesman.

"This crisis," he said, "is more grave than the conference sustained after the signing of the Russo-German treaty at Rapallo on Easter Sunday. The conference between Foreign Ministers Schanzer of Italy and Jasper of Belgium, however, created a good impression. There are difficulties, but they are not insurmountable. The Russians on the other hand created a distinctly bad impression at the conference at Villa De Albertic with Sir Laming Worthington Evans and Prime Minister Lloyd George of Great Britain yesterday evening. The Russians ask billions and billions of gold francs, and they do not ask them in the form of credits with which they can buy goods, but in cash—in gold."

The chief stumblinlg block, it was indicated, was the clause relating to the treatment of foreign property nationalized by the Soviet Government. Russia regards the provisions of that clause as a distinct attempt to infringe her sovereignty and will not accept the plan for a mixed tribunal, which M. Tchitcherin said would mean the establishment of a flock of little "reparations commissions" to interfere with Russia's internal affairs.

FORCES REINFORCED.

BRUSSELS, May 6. — (Canadian Press).—Belgian forces in Germany are being reinforced two thousand men, due to the recent series of frequent aggressions in which Belgian soldiers have been victims.

HAVE LOCATED CHILD'S BODY

Lindsay Girl's Story Borne Out by the Latest Development.

Police officers searching for the body of the infant Beatrice Nicholls, sixteen year old Verulam township girl has confessed to having thrown out of the window of a C.P.R. train at 7.45 p.m. Tuesday, found the body near Claybo station, between Janetville and Lindsay, at 10.30 this morning. The party was led by Provincial Officer Ward, who was sent down from Toronto at the request of the Crown Attorney, Ernest Anderson. Claybo station is about 10 or 11 miles from Lindsay. The body was brought to Lindsay and an inquest has been ordered bw Coroner Dr. Blanchard to open at 5 p.m. this afternoon. Pending developments the girl is being held in the Lindsay jail.

An unofficial statement says that the marks on the body indicate that the child died as a result of injuries received when dashed to the ground from the train. The officers had searched north from Burketon, covering every inch of the ground. The baby was two weeks old and was thrown from the train by the young mother when returning from Toronto General Hospital, where she was confined. The girl's home is at Red Rock, between Bobcaygeon and Fenelon Falls. Her father is a farmer and the family are well known. The case has aroused considerable interest in Lindsay.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES AT ST. ANDREWS

Rev. D. T. L. McKerroll, Toronto, Will Preach Both Morning and Evening—Very Special Music by the Choir.

The eighty-ninth anniversary of the founding of St. Andrew's Church, corner Rubidge and Brock street, will be celebrated with appropriate services to-morrow.

As large congregations have been attending all services at St. Andrew's it is expected there will be a very large attendance at both services to-morrow in which the public is cordially invited to participate. By coming early the audience can be seated to better advantage.

The special preacher for the day will be Rev. D. T. L. McKerroll, minister of Victoria Church one of the largest churches in Toronto. The eighty-ninth year has been one of the best in the history of the congregation and pastor and people face the future confident that even better things are yet to be. Mr. McKerrol is a splendid preacher.

The choir under the leadership of Mr. John Crane with Mrs. Maurice Park, soloist and the Imperial Male Quartette as regular members will render suitable music. Special numbers at the evening service will include a qumtette "Abide With Me" by Mrs. Park and the Imperial Male Quartette, and an anthem spirit Immortal in which the solo parts will be taken by Mr. John Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Park, and an unaccompanied anthem, "God is a Spirit".

Strangers and visitors will be cordially welcome.

REDUCTION IN POSTAL RATES IS ANNOUNCED

Britain's Postmaster-General Makes Good Showing — Efficiency Maintained.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

LONDON, May 6. — (Canadian Press).—Postal rate reductions were announced by the Postmaster-General, Mr. F. G. Kellaway, yesterday, and his general management of the Department through the critical period is receiving nothing but commendation. A year ago the Postmaster-General was firm in his demand that postal charges would have to be increased to enable the postal service to pay its way. It is notable that the present improved position is almost entirely due to the drastic cuts in expenditure without sacrifice of efficiency.

A SHORT DIVIDEND.

NEW YORK, May 6.—(Canadian Press). — For the first time since the Government's Sherman Anti-Trust suit victory divorced it from the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey in 1911, the Standard Oil Company of New York last year failed to meet its cash dividend requirements of $12,000,000, the net profits being $9,698,971, or $2,301,029 short of the required amount. Consolidated surplus account of the company, made public yesterday, shows that the balance of $167,295,389 on December 31, 1921, as compared with $170,211,466 on that date the year before. Total earnings for 1921, after deducting expenses incident to operations, including taxes, were $23,373,821.

CLIMATE DISCOURAGING.

VANCOUVER, May 6.—(Canadian Press).—Discouraged with the climate and conditions of Mexico, whither they had gone, a large portion of Canada's Mennonite colony is disposed to look favorably on settlement in British Columbia, according to Josef Swinster, who has been touring the province on behalf of his compatriots.

DIFFERENCES ENDED.

MONTREAL, May 6.—(Canadian Press).—Differences between shipping federation and syndicated longshoremen will be ended to-day with the signing of an agreement under which the union accepts the reduced scale of wages offered by companies while the latter agreed that their dock labor shall be supplied by the union.

REPUBLICAN SUPPORT.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(Canadian Press).—Unqualified support of the Republican party under the leadership of De Valera and the unanimous decision to exclude participation of all those who do not subscribe to the policy of supporting the Irish Republic, marked the opening session of the national convention of the American Association for recognition of the Irish Republic here yesterday.

GENOA CONFERENCE.

GENOA, May 6. — (Canadian Press).—Whether the meeting to-day between M. Barthou, of the French delegation, and Lloyd George would open the way for liquidation of the vital issues remaining before the conference was the question animating all Genoa to-day. M. Barthou telegraphed that he wished to see the British Premier as soon as possible after his arrival. The main point of difference between the French and British delegations concerns the property clause in the Allied memorandum to the Russians.

SWEEPING CHANGES.

PEKING, May 6. — (Canadian Press). — Sweeping Governmental changes followed the success of the arms of Wu. President Hsu Shih Chang issued a mandate dismissing Premier Dang Shis Yi, Finance Minister Chang Hu, and the Minister of Communications, Yeh Kung Cho, and their arrest ordered. Gen. Chang Tso Lin is dismissed from his office as Inspector-General of Manchuria. The Premier is charged with having connived with him to promote civil war.

RUSSIA'S REPLY.

GENOA, May 6. — (Canadian Press). — Russia's reply to the Allied memorandum, expected to be ready Sunday or Monday, will be a distinctly conciliatory document, not intended to break off negotiations, Foreign Minister Tchitcherin said to-day. It will, however, he declared, firmly state Russia's inability to comply with the terms offered.

Guards of London And Royal Person

Scots Guards a Unit of England's Famous Household Brigade.

The Scots Guards Band which plays in the Armouries tonight is the band of one of the six units mprising the Royal Household Brigade of England. This brigade in times of peace constitutes the garrison of London and the guard of the Soveriegn at Windsor Castle and at Buckingham Palace in London. These famous guards, the flower of British manhood, include in cavalry the First and Second Life Guards and the Royal Horse Guards (Blue); and in infantry the Grenadier Guards, the Coldstream Guards and the Scots Fusilier Guards. The minimum strength of these distinguished corps, which take precedence of all Brit'' troops is a little over 1300 cavalry in three regiments, and 6,000 infantry in seven battalions. In the capital they are stationed in barracks at Chelsea, Knightbridge, St. James and the Tower of London. In the writer's day, the Scots Guards drilled in dry bed of the ancient Tower of London's moat, from which the waters of the Thames have been drained for many a decade.

POLICE SEARCHING FOR GIRL'S SLAYER

Sister Who Identified the Girl's Reconstructed Skeleton in Conference With Coroner.

NYACK, N.Y., May 6.— A man who is said to have shown much interest in Lillian White when she was an inmate of Letchworth Village, near Thiells, N. Y., is now being sought as the murderer of the young woman whose skull was identified by relatives after the features had been reconstructed in plaster by Grant Williams, a former policeman of New York City. Suspicion points to a man who is said to have been an orderly of the institution from from which eight girls, including Lillian White, disappeared. Of the missing girls all were accounted for but Lillian.

The skeleton was found by some boys in the Haverstraw Mountains last April. The young woman apparently had been killed a year before by blows on the head. In an effort to clear up the mystery of her disappearance and death, her sister, Mrs. Pasquale Capertino, 408 Bergen Street, Brooklyn, who identified the reconstructed skull as that of the missing girl, went to New City, Rockland County, last night, to give what assistance she could to the county authorities.

Much persuasion was required to induce the sister of the dead girl to go to Rockland County to aid in the search for the slayer of Miss White, according to Mrs. Mary Hamilton, a policewoman, who has worked on the case for several months, and at whose home, 33 West Fifteenth Street, the skull was identified by her sisters, Mrs. Capertino and Mrs. Rose Doran. From Mrs. Hamilton it was learned that Mrs. Capertino was unwilling to go to New City, because of the protestations of her husband, who feared that some harm might befall her if she undertook to help to bring the murderer to justice.

Mrs. Capertino, however, finally consented to go, and with Captain William A. Nones and Detective Felix Martin they started for Rockland County in an automobile yesterday afternoon, but had motor trouble. The Coroner went in his car to Norwood, where he picked up the marooned party and brought them back here. Mrs. Capertino at once went into conference with Coroner and Sheriff Brown. It is understood that the evidence in the case of Miss White probably will be laid before the Grand Jury next week.

ROLLER RINK TO-NIGHT

Another Fine Programme with Skating Until 10:30 O'clock.

The Band will put on a special band program at the Roller Rink to night and it is expected a good crowd will be present. The rink will only remain open until after the 24th of May, consequently all those enjoying this popular pastime should take advantage of all the open dates.

Giant berries, looking like blackberries, but dark red in color, have been discovered in Colombia, South America.

BRIDEGROOM OF SCHOOL AGE IS NOT A TRUANT

New York Court Decides His Duty to Wife Comes Before Attending Classes

LAD WAS TRICKY

The duty of a bridegroom to support his wife is greater than his obligation to attend school, according to a ruling in the case of Lewis de Francesca, 16 pears, 1,562 Madison Avenue, made by Magistrate Charles A. Harris in the Municipal Term Court. The youth was charged with violating the continuation school law by failing to report to his classes. The necessity for a bride to attend to her domestic duties even at the expense of her studies similarly was recognized in 1920 by Magistrate Alexander Brough in the case of Mrs. Rose Stephano, 15.

When Lewis de Francesca was arraigned before Magistrate Harris, Mary I. Irwin, an attendance officer of the Board of Education, appeared as the only witness against the youngster. She accused the boy bridegroom of having played truant twenty-two consecutive days prior to April 24 last.

Case Laid Before Boy's Father.

Miss Irwin said the case was laid before the youth's father, Carlos de Francesca, who told her that Lewis, a strapping youngster with blonde curly hair, was in the habit of running away from home as well as from school. At the age of 14 he left home to enlist in the army, serving as a private until Aug. 21 last, when he was discharged. After his return, the father told the truant officer, the boy ran away a second time.

Miss Irwin said her attention was called to the truancy case, and that she went to the home of the boy's father on Nov. 25, 1921, with a summons, but was unable to get any information as to where the truant could be found. On Jan. 27 last she went to the De Francesca home a second time, and was met at the door by a young man who assured her:

"I'm Lewis's brother John," and introduced to her a winsome young woman, saying, "And this is my wife."

"John" told her he was "20 years old,' and spoke feelingly of the delinquencies of "my brother Lewis." Indeed, he berated Lewis for a worthless fellow, who never stayed at home, and suggested that Lewis deserved severe punishment for his failure to attend classes.

Miss Irwin said she was skeptical. She went to the landlord of the house and made inquiries. Upon further investigation, she said, she was convinced she had not talked to "Brother John," but to Lewis himself. So she obtained a warrant, returned to the house, and found Lewis on April 24.

Magistrate Upholds the Bride.

The attendance officer said she had learned from Carlos De Francesca that Lewis married Josephine Tozzo, 18 years old, on Nov. 17, 1921, at the Church of St. Lucy, East Eighty-first Street, between First and Second Avenues. She testified that when the boy started with his bride-to-be to the Marriage License Bureau he picked up a man and woman who acted as witnesses and were believed by the clerk in the bureau to be the mother and father of the young man.

The bride protested at the efforts to force her husband to attend school, according to Miss Irwin. The girl insisted that her husband's place was at home where he could help her with the household duties. Magistrate Harris supported this view, and inasmuch as Lewis was married and had family obligations, he dismissed the charges.

Hymen won a similar fight on Dec. 3, 1920, when Samuel Sotillo, of 235 East Thirteenth Street appeared before Magistrate Brough to explain why his 15-year-old daughter, Rose, was absent continuously from school. Anthony Devoti, a truant officer, had testified that when he went to the girl's home he found her washing dishes, and learned that she was married. The father testified he had tried to make the girl go to school until she got married. Then he felt she was beyond his power of compulsion. Magistrate Brough dismissed the case.

READY TO LEAVE.

GENOA, May 6. — (Canadian Press). — It is said that Lloyd George's train is ready and that a favorable change in the Russian situation is the result of Barthou's return. He will leave immediately for London.

A New Company Has Been Formed Here

OTTAWA, May 6. — (Canadian Press).— Incorporation has been granted to the Motors and Machines Ltd., of Peterboro, a joint stock company capitalized at $50,000.

The partners in the business are John Grimison of this city, and John Wiley, formerly of Ottawa, both experienced machinists. They have been in business at 423 Water street since last August, specializing in machine repairs. They will continue at the same place of business the Examiner was informed at the shop this morning.

Dan Whetung Talks On Pipe of Peace

Enquires Why Whites Always Blame Indians For Exterminating the Game.

Dan Whetung, a well-known Indian in Peterborough and district, resents an article in The Examiner suggesting that trappers need to smoke the pipe of peace. Mr. Whetung's letter is reproduced below just as The Examiner received it, and speaks for itself:

To The Reporter of Examiner:

Sir,—I saw a Piece in the Examiner the other day, saying that trapers need pipe of peace. I should say so myself—as we had no Peace traping this spring. Every farmer that has a land run into the water orders away from his property, no traping here.

Now I want to speak to the writer that had a piece in the Examiner. Say, when I went to school (of course teachers different now than when I went) the Teacher use to tell us always to think twice before we speak. But this man that had a piece in the paper did not think once at all. But I think he should of before he said anything about Alf Crow of Hiawatha catching nearly 1,000 rats one spring—say Mr. writer Alf. Crowe was only the one traping at that time—the rats are just as plentiful to-day as they were than—but you see there is 10 or 12 farmer trapers traping beside Mr. Crowe, and Divide the 1,000 rats and see how many rats each man would have. I think this is the right way to look at about the rats. The rats are no scarcer, the more trapers there is, the less each man will get.

Hold on there Mr. writer, don't be in a hurry, as I have more to say to you. How is it that you white people always blaming the Indians for exterminating the game (thou hypocrite cast out first the beam out of thine own eye and then shalt thou see clearly).

You white man before you come amongest us, we use to have lots of deer right here without going very far from our wigwarm, but to-day we would have to go 25 or 30 miles before we can get one, and then to we would have to look around to see if any one looking on. I was told it is the very same way over to U.S.A., where they was Droves of Buffalo's in hundreds and thousands. Where are they now. An Indian traper always quit traping before the season is over, to leave some rats to Breed. A year ago the trapers quit in 10 of April, 1921.

TO INSPECT LOCAL CADETS WEDNESDAY

Peterborough Collegiate Teams Win in Ambulance Competition.

In the Wallace Nesbitt junior first aid competition the St. John's Ambulance cadets of Toronto won first prize. The second prize went to the Peterboro Collegiate Institute No. 1 team, and the sixth prize was won by the Peterboro Collegiate Institute No. 2 team. Robert Fowler was ambulance officer in charge of No. 1 team, and W. Breyfogle had charge of No. 2 team. Each member of No. 1 team received a silver medal.

Lieut.-Colonel G. H. Gillespie, of Kingston, will be in the city on Wednesday of next week to inspect the public school cadets. The Collegiate Institute inspection will follow in about ten days.

NO ALLOWANCE WIDOWS WITH BUT ONE CHILD

Report of Commission Not in Favor of Such Provision Under Mothers' Allowance Act.

NUMBER IS GREAT.

Widows with one child only will not be made eligible for assistance under the terms of the Mother's Allowance Act, if the Provincial Government is guided by the opinion expressed in the first annual report of the Commission handling the scheme. In this document, which has just been presented to the Legislature, it is pointed out that "the widows with one child number almost as many as all widows with two or more children."

F. H. Dobbin, secretary of the local board, did not think their numbers were as great as this, but he estimated that if widows with one child were put on the list the cost would increase by 50 to 75 per cent. By an amendment passed in 1921, the Commission is enabled to recommend an allowance to a mother with one child under sixteen years only if under her care there is also a husband totally and permanently incapacitated, or a child over sixteen years permanently incapacitated. Some distressing cases have come to the attention of the local board, and although refused by the Commission in the first place, have refused to take no for an answer and won out. Mr. Dobbin stated that at the present time there are seven or eight mothers whose husbands are totally and permanently incapacitated that are receiving allowance.

In April there were 43 mothers and widows receiving assistance locally, and, according to Mr. Dobbin, the number varies from 45 to 60. On account of various circumstances the number is constantly changing. As children reach the age limit of 14, the circumstances of each case are altered. During April the average allowance paid was $39.25. If this average holds good for the year the city's share of the cost, which is 50 per cent., will total over $10,000. This is the amount the Council has figured on in its estimates for the year, and it represents six-tenths of a mill. Last year the city only had to pay $6,295.50, so the allowance is costing considerably more this year.

The policy that has been adopted by the Patriotic Fund in connection with the death in civil life of returned soldiers has been to supplement the mothers' allowance until the total equals the pension paid by the Government to soldiers' widows. One woman receives $40 a month from the mothers' allowance, and this amount is supplemented by $47 from the Patriotic Fund. Another woman with seven children, whose husband was killed in an accident, receives $69 from the Compensation Board and a like amount from the Patriotic Fund.

Overland Country Club, a Bargain

NOT A FAULT TO FIND

Mr. Struan G. Robertson, of Seabank, Pictou, N. S., writing in April as to his Overland purchased in the previous May, says: "I have pleasure in stating that I have not a fault to find with it. I did 3,560 miles with the car during the summer and fall without trouble of any kind except the breaking of an ignition wire. I did not have a puncture.

"Today the car seems as good as when I got her.

"On a 210 mile run round Cape George, Antigonish, Guysboro, Melrose, Glenelg and home by East River St. Mary's with four passengers, I used but ten gallons of gas, being an average of 22 miles to the gallon.

"I am thoroughly well satisfied with it and have not seen anything in its class that I would exchange it for."

TWO AVIATORS DIE AS PLANES COLLIDE IN AIR

Crew of One Seaplane Drowned While Other Crew Escapes Uninjured —Made Forced Landing

FELL IN RIVER.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(Canadian Press)—Lieut. Harold F. Selden, of this city, and Ensign Miller of the Bureau of Aeronautics were drowned in the Potomac River late yesterday when their naval seaplane was in collision with one piloted by Lieut. Commander C. Y. Johnson, in command of the Anacostia Naval Air Station, and his mechanician C. W. Jacobs. The last two escaped uninjured.

Lieutenant was said to have been trying out a new propeller and was about 500 feet up when the collision occurred. His seaplane fell into the river, just below the naval air station, while that of Commander Johnson flew off but made a forced landing in the river and was wrecked. Both Johnson and Jacobs were picked up by rescue boats .

MICHAEL COLLINS SENDS A MESSAGE TO ALL THE WORLD

Calls Upon Friends of Ireland to Take No Part With the Disturbing Elements in Erin.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(Canadian Press).—A message from Michael Collins, chairman of the Irish Provisional Government, calling upon friends of Ireland to "take no part in assisting or encouraging that element in our midst, whose rights of the sovereign Irish people was made public here yesterday by th "Irish Diplomatic Mission". The message, addressed to "Kinsmen and Friends of Ireland through out the World", said that every free people whom the world to-day respects, has had to fight to guard these liberties and that Ireland "will no be one whit less zealous" in guarding and protecting them.

"All we ask," continued the message from Collins, "is that our friends overseas will not allow themselves to be induced by any agents of the anti-democratic elements in this country to assist in the work of undermining these fundamental rights."

EVIDENCE CONCLUDED IN CASE AGAINST MACARROW

MONTREAL, May 6 (Canadian Press). — Evidence was concluded in the Enquete Court here yesterday in the case against D. C. Macarow, charged with having wilfully signed false returns to the Minister of Finance for the October, 1921, standing of the defunct Merchants' Bank of Canada, of which he was manager.

The feature of yesterday's hearing was the deposition that there had been written off on bank premises by the bank managers an amount of $769,868.47. This was brought out at the close of the cross-examination of George Edwards, the Toronto accountant engaged by the Minister of Finance, on behalf of the Dominion Government, and who has been the main prosecution witness.

Argument will be heard in the case next Thursday.

In the case against Sir Hugh Montagu Allen, president of the Merchants' Bank, a pro forma adjournment was made to next Friday.

A LOT OF HOOCH HAS NO OWNER.

MONTREAL, May 6.—(Canadian Press)—Thrity four cases of liquor are stored in police headquarters here awaiting indentification and claim by owner. So far no one has come forward, although the liquor has been there since April 20. James Clark, chaffeur, who was chared with having it in his possession was dismissed by Judge Monet in Enquete Court yesterday afternoon after it had been established that he had no knowledge of fort. "TIZ" is wonderful for tired, the contents of the boxes.

FREEDOM OF CITY.

DANVILLE, Va., May 6.—(Canadian Press.)— The freedom of the city of Danville was presented to Lady Astor by Mayor Wooding yesterday when she appeared before the City Council, called in special meeting in her honor. She later delivered an address from the porch of the house in which she was born.

TO CONSTRUCT HARBOR WORKS AT MONTREAL

Government to Appropriate Five Millions to Be Used For Terminal Facilities.

WORK DONE.

OTTAWA, May 6 (Canadian Press). — The House of Commons last night passed a resolution providing for the payment of additional sums of money to the Board of Harbour Commissioners of the Port of Montreal, not exceeding five million dollars.

The resolution sets forth that the money is required to enable the Harbour Commission to carry on the construction of terminal facilities in Montreal Harbour.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Marine, stated that approximately thirty-four million dollars had been spent on the Montreal Harbour by the Government. Of this total sum, $1,055,725 had been expended by the Department of Public Works, and $33,121,777 by the Board of Harbour Commissioners. The revenues of the port last year totalled $2,831,274, and the expenditures, including interest on money borrowed from the Government totalled $2,724,100.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie paid a tribute to the work done by the Montreal Harbour Commission. This organisation had proved a great boon to Canada. The proposal now before the House was in the nature of a grant which would bring a return to the Government.

Mr. Lapointe remarked that last year 135,000,000 bushels of grain had found their way to the port of Montreal. Of this total 55,000,000 bushels were United States grain. Only 5,000,000 bushels had been shipped to Quebec last year, he stated, in answer to a question.

A Bill based on the resolution was given its first reading.

At 5.30 he will officiate at the laying of the corner stone of the New Central heating planet.

BUILDING TRADE WAGE REDUCTION IS DECIDED UPON

The Montreal Builders' Exchange Will Cut Wages From Ten to Thirty Per Cent. in June.

OUTLOOK GOOD.

MONTREAL, May 6.—(Canadian Press)—At a general meeting of the Montreal Builder's Exchange held here yesterday it was decided that a general reduction in wages in the building trades should be enforced, amounting to from ten to thirty per cent, the change to become operative at the beginning of the pay week nearest the first June next.

Following the meeting it was stated that prospects for building this year were brighter than they had been for some time past and that ther was an ample supply of labor, both skilled and unskilled.

CANADIAN SHIPS EXEMPT FROM PILOTAGE DUES

Resolution Passes House Freeing Fishing Vessels of Dues. Case of Foreign Ships.

FIRST READING.

OTTAWA, May 6 (Canadian Press). — A resolution was passed in the House of Commons last evening to provide for the exemption of Canadian fishing vessels from pilotage dues.

The resolution also authorises the Governor-in-Council to grant exemption from these dues to ships of war and hospital ships of such foreign nations as may be specified by Order-in-Council.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, explained that it had been customary to exempt fishing vessels, but there was no legal authority for doing so.

In reply to the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, he explained that the Government wished to retain the right to discriminate among foreign nations in the exemption of ships of war and hospital ships in order that the exemption might be limited to those nations which granted reciprocal privileges.

After the resolution had passed, a Bill based thereon was introduced by the Minister, and given a first reading.

INQUIRY INTO CAPT. O. HUSTON'S DEATH.

Not Much Additional Light Thown on Subject.

TORONTO, May 6 (Canadian Press). — Investigation into the death of Captain Orville Huston at Fort Francis opened yesterday at Osgoode Hall, before Commissioner McIntosh. Major A. Lewis, M.L.A., who made the charge in the Legislature, was not present, but Mr. Gordon Walderon, who is assisting in the inquiry, stated that he had been subpoenaed to appear to-day.

Mr. E. W. Backus, a wealthy lumberman, whose name Major Lewis mentioned in the course of his speech in the House, was present, and occupied a seat between his counsel, Mr. I. F. Hellmuth, K.C., and Mr. S. S. White, K.C.

Practically the whole afternoon was taken up with the examination of C. J. Snider, news editor of the Toronto Evening Telegram.

Mr. Snider could not throw much additional light on the subject. Government counsel insinuated several times that the object of the Telegram was to injure or prejudice Mr. Backus, and that the attacks on the Attorney-General were merely a "side show" in order by implication to bring the name of Mr. Backus into it.

KEPT GIRL IN SHED.

Irene Mengis Was Rescued by the Sheriff—Imprisoned Two Years.

BUCYRUS, Ohio, May 6 (Canadian Press). — Irene Mengis, twenty, was rescued yesterday by the Sheriff from an iron-sheeted shed on the farm of her father, Jacob Mengis, near Crestline, where she is said to have been imprisoned for two years. She had hardly any clothing on her. Her father said she had been mentally unbalanced.

EARTH WAVES DEMOLISH AN ITALIAN CITY

Corato is Re-visited By a Peculiar Phenomenon. Earth Moves in Waves. 3,000 Are Homeless.

GOVERNMENT TO ACT.

ROME, May 6—Canadian Press—Corato, a city in southern Italy, about 25 miles from Bari, was visited again yesterday by "earth waves" which in the past have caused much damage there.

Buildings extending for almost a mile were demolished and 50,000 inhabitants are living in dread lest the undulations continue and ruin the entire neighborhood. Three thousand of them, carrying their belongings, are seeking refuge in near by towns.

The earth waves came just at a time when the Government was considering plans to appropriate 9,000,000 lire for the complete rebuilding of Corato so it could withstand these periodic cave-ins.

Corato is situated over a subterranean body of water, the currents of which cause the terrain to shift occasionally. The government plans to drain this water, rebuild a number of houses and change the direction of certain streets so as to prevent the possibility of further damage from cave-ins.

MANY MATTERS HAVE ATTENTION OF LEGISLATORS

Railway Bill to Which A. W. Neill Objected is Not Called. Other Bills.

DOMINION HOUSE.

OTTAWA, May 6 (Canadian Press). — The Esquimalt and Nanaimo Bill, which met with such strenuous opposition from A. W. Neill, of Comox-Alberni, during the hour for private Bills on Tuesday night, was not called when that order was resumed in the House of Commons last evening. The measure, which provides for an extension of time for the construction of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway, now stands over until Monday.

With this Bill out of the way, the private Bills' hour passed without any pyrotechnics, but much progress was made with private Bill legislation.

Four insurance Bills were read a third time, namely, those of the Prudential Trust, the T. Eaton Company, the Aberdeen Fire, and the Armour Life Assurance Company.

In connection with an Act respecting the Niagara River Bridge Company, the approval of the Government was reserved by Hon. G. P. Graham. He consented to the Bill going to the Railway Committee, but said that it must not be understood that this implied approval of the Bill.

The Bill respecting the Frontier University was sent to the Private Bills Committee, as were also six divorce Bills.

FAMILIES FORCED TO FLEE FROM HOMES.

BRANDON, Man., May 6.—(Canadian Pess)—About 185 houses scatered over an area of two square miles have been vacated by families forced to leave their homes and most of their effects owing to the flood which completely covers the flats from one end of the city to the other. North of the tracks and spreads across the fields in many places to the foot of the hills north of the city. No further rise in the Assiniboine River has been reported since noon yesterday but a slight rise is probable this morning.

NEGROES BURNED AT STAKE.

KIRVIN, Texas, May 6 (Canadian Press). — Three negroes were burned to death at the same stake here at five o'clock this morning by a mob of five hundred men, following their alleged implication in the criminal assault and murder of 17-year-old Eula Awsley, a white girl, whose mutiated body was found near here on Thursday night.

SPORT WRITER DEAD.

NEW YORK, May 6 (Canadian Press). — Captain W. H. Williams, dean of turfe writers, a Canadian, one time sporting editor of the Toronto Glabe, died at the home of his son in Brooklyn yesterday. He was an authority on thoroughbred blood lines, and was well known to followers of equine sports.

ACT IS IN FORCE.

OTTAWA, May 6 (Canadian Press). — The Juvenile Delinquents Act is brought into force in the County of Huron, Ontario, by proclamation gazetted here yesterday.

The Act becomes effective in that county to-day.

BILL INTRODUCED TO FORM A NATURAL GAS TRIBUNAL

Legislators at Queen's Park Have a Rather Quiet Day.

OTHER BILLS.

TORONTO, May 6.— Yesterday afternoon in keeping with every Friday in the Legislature was quiet In fact it was exceptionally quiet. The House seemed to be on th verge of utter exhaustion and during the committee stage many of the members found time to get in a few nods while the chairman droned off the clauses of the various acts that were going through the committee stage.

The atmosphere freshened, however, and the members revived when Hon. Harry Mills, Minister of Mines introduced his bill to amend the Natural Gas Conservation Act. The terms of the Act provide that there shall be a tribunal of three members to deal with natural gas prices and disputes in place of the position now held solely by the gas referee. One of these members will be appointed on behalf of the companies distributing natural gas and will be appointed by the companies at a meeting ordered by the Minister of Mines. The second member will be nominated by the members of the Legislature who represent the districts where natural gas is used the third will be named by the other two bodies and if they fail to agree the appointment will be made by the Government by Order-in-Council. The amendment will come into force on the first of July.

J. C. Tolmie, (Windsor,), introduced an amendment to the Drainage Act and thereupon caused considerable debate. The provision of the amendment is to provide for "apprehended damage" if a landowner or municipality sees that the drains are becoming choked up and ultimate damage will result. "Where there is a reasonable apprehension of damage there should be some measure of protection." stated Mr. Tolmie. "There should be no reason for waiting until the damage is done before relief is sought. The act will give the referee power to make enquiries before the damage is actually done."

Mr. Tolmie stated that the drain age referee had drafted the amendment and that it had his entire approval. Hon. F. C. Biggs thought it was time enough to seek trouble when the damage had occurred. He was inclined to think that there was no real need for the amendment. Premier Drury took the same tack. He thought there was a possibility of damage suits on immaginary "ap prehended" damage. "I do not see why we should lay a foundation for damage suits." he said.

Hon. Howard Ferguson approved of the amendment and stated that a slight change in drafting would waive the Premier's fears in that regard. In spite of Mr. Raney's objection that the bill would encourage litigation the bill received its second reading and will be threshed out in Committee.

Introduced by Edgar Watson (North Victoria) a bill to amend the Division Court Act received its second reading. The measure provides for the repayment to the clerks of the court monies paid to jurors. The amendment was necessary owing to an oversight in the last amendment and as the payment has been going on since last session the amendment will be retroactive up to May 2, 1921.

Bills affecting the City of Windsor, and Port Arthur and Sault Ste Marie passed the committee stage without amendment.

Amendments to the Motor Vehicles Act, sponsored by Hon. F. C. Biggs, took up considerable of the time of the Legislature. Chief among the clauses was one that provided for the employment of constables under the Minister for the enforcement of the provisions of the Motor Vehicles Act. Hartley Dewart was of the opinion that this clause prevented Mr. Raney from using his rights to appoint all types of police officers. A clause prohibiting the use of colored lights on motor cars with the exception of the tail light also passed the committee stage This reserves the right to use red headlight to the various fire departments in the Province who suggested the measure through the Fire Chief's Association.

If the act as amended becomes law it will be unlawful for employers to hire motor drivers under the age of 16. No persons under that age will be allowed to drive, while between the ages of 16 and 18 a Government examination must be passed.

The Act passed through the committee stage with little discussion.

NORTHCLIFFE RESIGNS.

LONDON, May 6.—(Canadian Press)—Following the resignation of Lord Northcliffe, proprietor of a number of daily newspapers and periodicals, from the Newspaper Proprietors' Association on the ground that wealthy proprietors, new in the newspaper field were attempting to dictate onerous wage conditions. The London Times, a Northcliffe property has also resigned from the Association.

STRIFE ALMOST ENDED IN CHINA

Forces of Chang Tso-Lin Are Now in Disorderly Retreat. Wu Pei-Fu Remains Near Peking.

PEKIN, May 6 (Canadian Press). —Advices received by telephone from official sources in Tien-Tsin yesterday afternoon said thousands of Chang's soldiers were in disorderly retreat toward Tien-Tsin.

They were said to have ignored commands to make a defence at points along the Tien-Tsin-Pekin Railroad, the troops having become demoralised as the result of their defeat near Pekin.

Chang Tso-Lin was reported either already to have departed or to be preparing to leave for Mukden.

Wu Pei-Fu, who remained outside the walls of Pekin, sent word that he did not intend to pursue Chang Tso-Lin. "I do not want a rabble to enter Tien-Tsin," he said.

Wu declared that the civil war was practically ended, as he did not expect Chang to fight further.

A FLOCK OF SHEEP WORRIED BY DOGS.

News From King's Wharf and the District. Wheat Frosted.

KING'S WHARF, May 6.—Mr. Patrick Perdue had the misfortune to have his flock of sheep worried by dogs. One was killed and several seriously wounded. Every sheep in the flock suffered. One had an ear torn off and the side of the head also torn.

Several farmers here have to keep their sheep in at nights as several have had them worried. If the dogs are not killed the people will have to do away with their sheep.

Wheat Frosted.

There has been quite a change in the weather this week and the severe frost at nights as made the fall wheat and clover very brown Fields that were green and growing a few days ago do not look very promising now, and if it keeps cold a few days longer the crop will be killed off.

RECREATION GROUNDS.

The Board of Education has decided that the school grounds of the city shall be reserved for the benefit of school children, refusing to grant a request from the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association that after 6 p.m. that association should be allowed the use of the various grounds for the carrying on of some of the sports listed for this summer. There are many peop'e who think that the board has not given this question the consideration it deserved. There seems no reason why the school property should not be available to the public, under proper control, in the evenings. The grounds are very rarely used by the school pupils after tea, the school games usually terminating before 6 o'clock, and it seems rather a pity that those who work in the factories and stores should be deprived of a chance for healthful recreation because of lack of playing grounds. There are so many leagues and organizations in lacrosse, football and baseball this summer that the providing of fields upon which games and practices may be held becomes a serious problem, and the action of the Board of Education in eliminating the school grounds from the list of available properties has increased the difficulty. The decision might well be amended if consultation with the school authorities confirms the impression that the grounds are not used by the pupils after 6 o'clock.

NO PLACE LIKE HOME.

An exchange remarks that with the discovery that the home of today apparently is not meeting the competition of the outside world for the attention and time of the youth, there has been dealt out a great amount of advice to parents, the value and acceptance of which may often be doubted. But there is value in the fact that attention has been re-directed to the home; for, with the changing conditions, the increased numbers of motor cars, the growth of amusements and opportunities of boys and girls to obtain money to enjoy these attractions, the home in the last decade or two has been taken for granted or else forgotten. Development of the home, in short, has not kept pace with modern conditions.

The trouble today is that a great many young people look upon the home in the nature of lodging quarters—a place to eat and hang up their hats. In this they are encouraged by many foolish parents, who exercise no restraint and besides make no effort to make the environment of the home more inviting and attractive. Family prayers are neglected at night. Children are dolled up in the latest styles, some of which would make a Seminole Indian blush, and sent out to mingle with modern "society." The sanctity of the home has very little meaning with some parents, whose conception of parental duty is at a very low ebb.

GIVE THEM A CHANCE.

By a new amendment to the Motor Vehicles Act motor-driven fire-fighting vehicles are given the privilege of passing a standing street car, either to the right or left. The amendment emphasizes the fact that fire apparatus has the right-of-way over all traffic in answering an alarm, something that many motorists are slow to realize. It should be understood that when the fire department vehicles are approaching it is the duty of every motorist on the street to turn his car quickly towards the side of the road, while cars on intersecting streets are expected to stop until the fire apparatus has safely passed the corner. The siren gives ample warning of the approach of the fire vehicles, and there is no excuse for motorists attempting to cross the street in front of the motor truck, or in keeping in the middle of the street and forcing the fire department's vehicles to swerve at dangerous speed in order to pass them. There are drivers in Peterborough who do these things, and there are others who interfere with the work of the brigade by racing after the motor truck, ignoring the fact that there may be other fire apparatus coming along behind that may have trouble in finding a passage. The amended Motor Vehicle Act makes it clear that ordinary traffic rules do not apply to the fire department when it is in action, and that it is the duty of the public to give the fire fighters a clear road. It is a point that should be remembered in Peterborough, and doubtless in many other communities.

THE RESPONSIBILITY OF REPORTERS.

In the attitude he adopted towards the reporters who attended the "clean-up deal" conference in Toronto on Thursday, Premier Drury seems to have made the same mistake as a good many other people habitually make in regard to the responsibility of newspaper men. Mr. Drury made a statement in regard to Sir Adam Beck, and at the conclusion of the conference asked the reporters to delete these particular remarks from their report of the meeting. When the pressmen informed him that they, on their own responsibility, could not undertake to eliminate the statement, but that they would communicate it to their respective offices, at the same time notifying their offices of the Premier's desire that this portion of the report should be eliminated, that was a reasonable position for the reporters to take. Their duty to the papers which employ them is to report the facts. That is what they are paid for, and the responsibility as to whether or not an item shall be published does not rest upon their shoulders, but upon those of the heads of their office. Mr. Drury has no reason to quarrel with the press representatives who attended Thursday's meeting. They simply carried out their duty to the papers for which they are working, and would have been disloyal to their employers had they taken any other course. It would be well for the public to understand that fact, for every newspaper man is frequently face to face with the same situation. He is asked not to publish something about an event that has taken place, and often people who make the request are angry because they are not answered in the affirmative at once. They should remember that the decision as to such things must be made by the newspapers themselves, and that reporters, if they are loyal workers, have no other alternative than to report to their offices and pass the responsibility on to where it

A PREACHER WHO KNOWS.

Mr. Andrew W. Mellon, who contributes an article on "Thrift and Progress" to The World's Work for May, ought to know something about the subject. As Secretary of the Treasury at Washington, he is the custodian of the largest fund of concrete money in the world, and in his own right he is reputed to be the second wealthiest man in the world. We may assume that he has had a satisfactory personal experience in the matter of progress, and it is quite probable he learned in early life the essential principles of thrift. No man who has been the architect of his own fortune has been able to ignore the importance of self-denial, prudence and patient accumulation; and therefore, when Mr. Mellon translates a broad personal experience into terms of national advice his observations are clearly entitled to special weight. What he has to say in that regard fits as aptly to Canada as it does to his own country.

"Production and saving," he says, "cannot be too strongly emphasized as essential factors in bringing about a business revival." Common sense must approve that dictum, as also the further observation that "the tremendous destruction wrought by the war, and the spending and extravagance which followed, resulted in a scarcity of capital which can be overcome only by rigid economy and well-directed production." The mistake of the soapbox type of socialist is to locate capital in the hands of a special class, and to completely overlook the vital fact that every man who saves a dollar is in a degree a capitalist. It is the accumulation of the people's savings in many forms, including life insurance, which makes up the available capital of a country, and hence it follows that as thrift declines the volume of money which is conveniently called capital also falls. As that shrinkage proceeds there are fewer wheels of industry in motion and more of unemployment; and to definitely realize that truth is to see at the same time the absolutely co-operative character of capital and labor.

Mr. Mellon lays special stress on the waste and extravagance which followed the war. "Many," he says, "who had accumulated small savings during the war spent them in luxurious living. We turned from a nation of savers to a nation of reckless spenders." And he might have added that we are reaping the inevitable consequences. Everywhere there is stringency and pinch. It is, however, when he turns to the national aspects of this matter that he becomes peculiarly impressive. He points out, for example:

"It should not be forgotten, however, that the efficacy of thrift is no less in times of peace than in times of war. In the present state of industry it is obvious that Government thrift is no less important than individual thrift. Even with the most rigid economy the Government outlay will be unusually heavy for years to come, on account of expenditures directly or indirectly attributable to the war. Our very best thought, therefore, should be directed to seeing that no avoidable expenditures are made, and that our system of taxation shall interfere to the least possible extent with the return of the country to normal industrial conditions."

Every observing and thoughtful man must recognize this as sound preaching. The nations must assert rational economy if disaster is to be averted; and when reference is made to that comprehensive aspect, it must be remembered that it embraces all bodies having the power to spend and to tax. When one looks at the matter analytically, he will see that the imposts of the local municipality rise above those of the Federal Government. That is true of Ottawa, and it is alarmingly true of some of the western cities. We are too apt to think about taxation as a thing represented in customs duties and so on. The truth is that the Dominion does not collect as much per capita from the people of Ottawa as does our own municipal government.

Therefore, if we are agreed that the time has come for universal thrift, it should have its first and most positive demonstration right at home—in the municipality. Retrenchment could not possibly do any harm. Indeed, it ought to do a great deal of good. Who can doubt that we have been spending locally as though taxation were a pleasant thing, with unlimited possibilities? It has been a distinct reproach to our public spirit and prudence that we have been indifferent to who constituted our City Council; and we shall undoubtedly pay dearly for our folly and unbusinesslike carelessness as time proceeds. The best way to correct the mistakes of the past is to adopt a sound course at once and stick to it.—Ottawa Journal.

SEEING THE GREAT LIGHT.

The weapon of the spirit is, after all, stronger than that of the flesh, and it is not in vain that the nations have gathered together in friendship for their mutual aid. It will go hard with the nation which, at the conference or after it, shall seek to defy the better spirit which it represents and engenders. There are signs that certain of the nations, or their representatives, are already, somewhat ruefully, beginning to realize that fact.—Manchester Guardian.

Miss Rebecca Brown, who has been away for the winter months, returned to her home here on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Howe of Toronto are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Nattrass, this week. Mr. Howe is here on a business trip and is displaying his goods in one of the windows of Garnham Bros.' store.

Rev. D. J. Craig of Toronto will preach in Grace Presbyterian Church both morning and evening on Sunday, May 7th. The evangelistic "Mission," which Mr. Craig has been conducting for nearly three weeks at St. Enoch's Church, Garden Hill, will hold its closing service on the afternoon of that date. It is expected that Mr. and Mrs. Weaver, who have been assisting at the meetings as organist and soloist, will also be here on Sunday evening.

The united choirs of the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches of Millbrook motored over to Garden Hill on Wednesday evening and assisted with the service of song at the special evangelistic meeting being held there. Some of those who kindly gave the use of their cars for the occasion were Messrs. G. W. Sayles, A. Johnston, B. R. Raper, T. Ingram, H. W. Johnston and W. E. Ball.

The many friends of Mrs. A. J. Fallis, who has been ill in the hospital here, will be glad to learn that she is now convalescing favorably at the home of her sister, Mrs. H. A. Earle, of the 4th Line, Cavan.

Mrs. French of Oshawa, who has been seriously ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. A. Smith, for some weeks past, is now recovering satisfactorily, being able to sit up for a part of each day.

AVENUE OF MAPLES PLANTED IN MEMORY OF HASTINGS SOLDIERS

A Living Memorial to Thirty-Three Men Who Died in the War Conceived and Carried Out By the Hastings Horticultural Society as Arbour Day Feature.

CHILDREN ASSISTED.

HASTINGS, May 5.—Arbour Day was celebrated in a patriotic setting, under the auspices of the Horticultural Society, this afternoon by the planting of thirty-three Norway maple trees on Bridge street as living memorials to the thirty-three men of Hastings who gave their lives in the war. While the assembled school children sang "The Maple Leaf Forever," the band accompanying them the hundreds of townspeople and the visitors from the adjoining townships and nearby villages gazed down the sloping street with attention raptly fixed upon the returned men who raised the sapling maples in parallel rows into the positions that had been prepared for them. Those fleeting moments were fraught with unspoken recollections of those thirty-three men who had so often passed up and down that same street unware of the destiny that was to demand of them the supreme sacrifice on foreign battlefields for their own land.

According to the plans of the Horticultural Society, so admirably carried out this afternoon, Bridge street, between Albert and Front streets, was transformed into a memorial avenue, a name which its sponsors hope will become officially recognized and generally used. From Albert street it drops rather sharply downward toward the bridge. On either side of the street holes had been dug in exact alignment and slim posts set up to guide the veterans selected for the honour of planting these trees. At the top of the hill in front of the grandstand, from which the ceremonies were directed by Rev. C. S. Bretherton, President of the Horticultural Society, Reeve W. M. Fowlds and Rev. D. A. Thomson were stationed at the first two opposite trees, to whose top branches Small Union Jacks were tied. Down the parallel lines the returned men were posted, one man to a tree, after the parade of the school children, the veterans of the war and the local detachment of the 40th Northumberland Regiment and the town band.

A Part Holiday.

The business and manufacturing interests had declared a holiday from three o'clock until six, and the schools were closed early to enable the children to take part. As a result, the lawn in front of the Town Hall and all three sides of the corner on the hill-top were lined with the silently respectful crowds, who must have visualized in those straight, slim saplings an avenue of matured trees with abundant foliage, reaching across the street and joining branches some day along each walk. The first frigitive buds were evidences of the life within and a promise of the development that will come with the years.

A Living Memorial.

Rev. Father Bretherton opened the proceedings of Arbour Day by explaining the purpose of the Horticultural Society in planning this memorial avenue. He felt that nothiny could be more beautiful to commemorate the sacrifices of Hastings' heroes than an avenue of trees, which by their fresh and green foliage would perpetuate the memories the townspeople held so dearly. This Arbour Day would be a memorable one in the annals of Hastings, and May 5th, 1922, would be remembered as the occasion of the planting of the thirty-three trees as a loving and living tribute to the men who had made the great sacrifice.

Rev. D. A. Thomson.

Rev. Mr. Thomson, minister of the Presbyterian Church, in his address, dwelt upon the befitting aspects of the occasion. It was particularly appropriate that Arbour Day had been chosen for the ceremony, and that the season was spring.

"And so we meet on Arbour Day to plant these trees in memory of those who fought and died in the war," said Rev. Mr. Thomson. "It is also befitting that the Horticultural Society provided the trees. The society has done a great deal to beautify Hastings, but none of their achievements can compare with what they did today. The place in which these trees have been plantedd is also befitting. They are along the street on which the children go up and down to school, and will remind them of the boys who fought and died for their liberties."

Rev. Mr. Thomson said it was especially befitting that the veterans of the war had been chosen to plant the trees. He hoped that memorial avenue would become accepted as the name of that section of Bridge street, and that it would constantly remind the people of the men who had fought and died as heroes, and also the ideals of democracy and brotherhood which they had preserved and handed down.

Rev. M. L. Hinton.

Rev. Mr. Hinton, the Methodist pastor in Hastings said he could not think of anything more beautiful as a memorial to the soldier dead than an avenue of living trees. "No words that we might say to this large audience could adequately convey any idea of the great sacrifice of the boys who fell over yonder, but these trees are a small token of the love we bear to them in their last sweet sleep. I trust that the children will not forget them, and that the trees we have planted in their memory will be regarded as sacred trees."

Other Addresses.

Other addresses by Rev. W. M. Pippen, the new incumbent of the Anglican Church; Reeve Walter M. Fowlds and Major Dayton of the original 4th Battalion, who was a visitor in Hastings, sustained the sentiment of the preceding speakers. Reeve Fowlds heartily congratulated the Horticultural Society upon their successful efforts to beautify Hastings. He praised the conception of a memorial avenue so happily carried out and said that in only one other place, Westmount, Montreal, had he read or heard of this idea being suggested or put into effect. He stated that the municipality had two captured German guns, and the Council would welcome any suggestions as to their best disposal.

Value of Discipline.

Major Dayton emphasized to the children that the lesson which they should learn from the war was the great value of discipline. "Get it deep down into your minds and think of it, that without discipline in the home ,in the church, discipline of thought and mind in everything you can accomplish nothing," said Major Dayton. He recited Robert W. Service's stirring war poem, "The Fool," with telling effect that was all the more surprising in the fact that he was an unexpected contributor to the programme.

Mr. J. M. Thompson.

Mr. John M. Thompson, Secretary-Treasurer of the Horticultural Society, was announced by Father Bretherton as an indefatigable worker. Mr. Thompson expressed his delight at the success of this Arbour Day. It fully realized his brightest hopes. He mentioned that Mr. Hugh Wilkinson had spent a day and a half preparing for the planting and had asked nothing for his services. Mr. Thompson and Father Bretherton thanked all those who had helped make the memorial ceremonies so successful, and incidentally appealed for even wider support for the Horticultural Society.

The school children sang "O Canada" and "God Save the King." Sergeant C. Blackbourn sounded the "Last Post," concluding a celebration of Arbour Day that was arranged with completeness of detail and carried through with notable smoothness.

A PLAY STAGED AT DOWNEYVILLE WINS APPLAUS

Capacity Audience Shower Commendation on Creditable Presentation of 'The Spinsters' Convention,' Friday Evening.

DOWNEYVILLE, May 6.— A capacity audience of young and old assembled in the Parish Hall Friday night to witness the presentation of the "Spinsters' Convention," an evening's entertainment in one scene. The convention was staged by the St. Mary's Sodality, Lindsay, and the cast acquited themselves with credit. A feature of the convention was the costuming. The gowns, headgear, fans, work bags, powder puffs, etc., carried one back to the days of the trailing skirt, the hoop skirt, the hat with elaborate plumage and greatly enhanced the presentation. The dialogue was excruciatingly laughable. The rights and privileges of the fair sex in its demand for equality with men, the fluctuating and depressing condition of the matrimonial market which ever and anon brought a gleam of hope followed by depression, characterized the line of deliberation and evoked hearty laughter.

The climax was reached when the spinsters, at least a number of them, were transformed into beautiful young maidens through the medium of the remodeloscope. Mottoes original in character adorned the walls together with mirrors. Hearts of different sizes were also in evidence. One spinster carried an ear trumpet while one or two were busy with their knitting. The convention songs while not gems from the standpoint of harmony, were sung with hear-rendering feeling and great expression by the delegates.

During the evening, Mrs. Peter Spratt rendered a vocal solo in splendid voice, Mr. Norman Bisette contributed a vocal number in finished style, while the Misses Hartnet cleverly danced the Highland fling.

Miss Mary Flurey was the accompanist.

The following is the cast:

Josephine Jane Green, President Young Ladies' Single Blessedness Debating Society — Miss E. H. Spratt.

Priscilla Abigail Hodge, Secretary—Miss Genevieve O'Neill.

Calamity Jane Higgins, Treasurer —Miss Toots Sadler.

Rebecca Rachael Sharpe, who wears artistic dresses — Miss M. Tangney.

Tiny Short (a very tall lady) — Mrs. M. Warde.

Mary Ann Fraddler — Miss C. Williams.

Jerusha Matilda Spriggins—Miss G. Flurey.

Patience Desire Mann—Miss L. McIntyre.

Sophia Stuck-up—Miss H. Cote.

Juliet Long (a very tall lady) — Miss H. O'Brien.

Betsy Bobbett—Miss A. Murphy.

Charity Longface— Miss N. Costello.

Cleopatra Belle Brown— Miss G. O'Leary.

Polly Ann Pratt—Miss P. O'Neill.

Violet Ann Ruggles—Miss R. Sadler.

Belinda Blue Grass (dress reform adovcate)—Miss K. Baker.

Frances Touchmenot — Miss M. Murphy.

Hannah Beggerstaff — Miss I. Curtin.

Prof. Makeover—T. J. Begley.

After the play a dainty lunch was served by the ladies and the remainder of the evening was spent in social amusement.

Quite a large number from King's Wharf attended the event and report a good time.

FOREST FIRES IN N. B.

FREDERICTON, N.B., May 6 (Canadian Press). — Forest fires are breaking out in various parts of New Brunswick. Reports were received yesterday that fires were raging on the Little River Road in the eastern section of Sunbury County, and also in the Parish of Lincoln, Sunbury County.

Unless heavy rains come soon, it is believed the forest fire situation will become serious in this Province.

Why they fit

Semi-ready Suits fit better because of their design and because of the staunch inside tailoring they stay good to the end.

If that inside staying breaks or fails we make it right—cheerfully, and with the full knowledge that it pays to give satisfaction.

Inside tailoring can be scamped or neglected—and money thus saved to the maker. The buyer may not find that out for a week or ten days. Shape-staying is part of the bench-tailoring. There are other technical details in the proper tailoring of a suit. Any or all of these may be neglected to save $5 in labor cost in a coat.

Lay a Semi-ready coat side-by-side with a cheap coat, and the untrained eye will see the difference at a glance. A Semi-ready Suit does not cost any more—for the label in the pocket meets the problem of a reasonable price.

DUNLOP CORD TIRES FABRIC

LOOK TO DUNLOP FOR "CORD" SUPREMACY

A man who owns three cars and who has driven an automobile almost since the inception of the "gas buggy" remarked to one of our directors the other day:

"I have been getting such dandy service from Dunlop Tires that I think your claims about mileage are far too modest. As far as my experience goes, you cannot talk too big."

1922, 1921, 1920, 1919—Dunlop Cord Tires came into existence in 1919, and the transformation in mileage year by year that followed their use by motorists has been most striking. 1920 surpassed 1919 to be, in turn, surpassed by 1921; and here's 1922 producing testimonials like this:

"I have just returned to you a 37x5 Dunlop Traction Cord Casing which has gone 24,500 miles. The Casing was used on the rear wheel of one of my Cadillac cars, covering 11,000 miles, and was then transferred to the front wheel and covered 13,500 miles after the change was made. I consider this exceptional mileage, indeed, and, needless to say, am more than pleased with the service rendered."

It is important to note that the tire referred to above was on a livery car, and, therefore, could not possibly have been subjected to a more severe test.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK, May 6.—(Canadian Press)—Selling of oil especially Mexican Petroleum and some less prominent domestic issues at extreme recessions of 1 to 3 points caused temporary unsettlement of prices during today's brief stock market session. Shipings tobaccos, food specialities and miscellaneous issues including Mercantile Marine preferred, Tobacco Products, National Biscuit and Computing Tabulating also lost as much. This movement was off set by gains of 1 to 4 points in Dependent Steels, Atlantic Gulf, Famous Players, Postum Cereal and Kayser Common and preferred. There were no changes of importance in railway division. Closing was strong, sales approximated 600,000 shares.

Leading shares contributed little to stock market at firm opening of todays session. But trend among special issues was generaliq upward. Crucible steel, Standard Oil of California, American Tobacco, May Department stores and Postum Cereal registered early gains of 1 to 11-2 points. Utilities coppers, chemicals and textiles made fractional gains. Railway list was almost entirely neglected ?· were also affiliated equipment shares. Preliminary foreign exchange rates eased slightly from yesterdays highest quotation.

STERLING EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, May 6.—(Canadian Press)—Sterling exchange irregular demand rates Great Britain 4.44 3-8. Canadian dollar 1 5-8 per cent discount.

C.G.E. DROPS.

MONTREAL, May 6.—(Canaian Press)—Sensational drop of six points in Canadian General Electric common following statement by President Diamond that recent rises of price of shares were entrely unwarranted was feature of early stages of stock exchange this morning. Stock opened at 94 and slumped to 92 rallying later to 93. A thousand shares quickly changed hands. Yesterday closing price was 98. Brazilian was most active stock in early business selling around 46. A slight overnight increase. Spanish river preferred at 77 1-4 and creases while steel of Canada sold common at 87, both showed slight inat its best recent price 72.

TORONTO STOCK MARKET

TORONTO, May 6.—(Canadian Press—Violent break in Canadian General Electric common featured short Saturday session on local stock exchange and as result move of gain General Electric made during past week was wiped out. Opening with an over night loss of 4 points at 94 light trading caused further reaction 1 3-4 points with close at 92 1-2. Bread was also inclined to be weak at 34 1-2 showing net loss of 1 1-2 points. Bell Telephone opening at 114 sold of 1 1-4 with close at 112 3-4. Mackay showed some impovement with last sale at 94 1-4 showing net gain of 3-4.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT IS FIERY, ITCHY OR ROUGH, USE SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

This Pure Cream Stops Head Colds

Apply In Nostrils—It Opens Air Passages Instantly.

Colds and catarrh yield like magic to soothing, healing, antiseptic cream that pentrates through every air passage and relieves swollen, inflamed membranes of nose and throat. Your clogged nostrils open right up and you can breathe freely. Hawking and snuffling stop. Don't stay stuffed up and miserable.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggit. Apply a little in the nostrils and get instant relief. Millions endorse this remedy known for more than fifty years.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She Mixed Sulphur With It to Restore Colour, Gloss, Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn grey, streaked, and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked, or grey. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, grey, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all grey hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft, and luxuriant.

Why 99 per cent Of People Are Constipated

Causes More Sickness In Spring Than Any Other Time Of Year.

You no doubt have taken all sorts of medicine with always the same results, only temporary relief. The reason you do not get any results is because none of the medicines you have taken acts upon the Liver. There is only one medicine known that acts upon the Liver, and that is Tanated Calomel. Doctors recommend that you take one of these tablets before meals or two at bedtime. This medicine acts upon the Liver, causing it to excrete ile into the intestines, giving a natural, easy movement of the bowels. A few hours after taking you will get almost instant relief from Headaches, Indigestion, Rheumatism, Constipation, Impure Blood, Kidney Pains, etc.

Tanated Calomel is harmless and easy to take. No salts or seidlitz are necessary after taking. It will be worth millions to people who have been sickly for years. It is also the best medicine for spring, when so many people are troubled with that tired, heavy, listless feeling. Get a few of these tablets from your druggist, F. C. Webber, Charlotte street, and you will be surprised how much better you will feel.

Trinity Church Choir Concert

(By Jeannette.)

Trinity church choir concert was accounted for last night before an appreciative audience that filled every available seat. The two visiting artists, Miss Jessie Tuite, of Belleville, reader, and Mr. Bert Ure Cutt, of Galt, proved popular entertainers, and were greeted with renewed encores after every number. Mr. Ure Cutt's voice is of the tenor robusto order, with a deep-toned lower register and a silvery, vibrant timbre in the upper range. He sang "On the Road to Mandalay," with impressive effect, folowed by the tender plaintiveness of "Mavourneen." A group of three short numbers included, "A Spirit Flower," an appealing selection that brought out the sympathetic quality of the singer's voice, with high, harmonic-like final notes. Massanet's "Elegie," in French, with violin obligato by Miss Edwina Palmer, was a dreamy rendition, and "My Little Woman," a quaint, charming solo, brought forth applause which resulted in a brief encore.

Miss Tuite, an elocutionist of ability, excels in mimicry Her reading "Heard at the Movies," a composition of her own, brought down the house with its splendid imitations of the utterances of 'movie' fans, from the child who drops his 'H's' to the lady with the cranky husband. The elderly lady with the bad memory and the cracked voice, the little boy's compostion on "Knives," and the Scotch storekeeper, were faithfully reproduced, and Miss Tuite held her audience in silence to the last word of her one heavy number, "The Perfect Tribute," an affecting, dramatic recital of the Gettysburg speech by Abraham Lincoln.

The choir sustained its local reputation for excellence in its performance last evening, which was from first to last an exhibition of admirable training. With a precision of attack, a minute attention to phrasing, and a harmonious blending that gives the effect at times of one mighty ascending voice, the choir was a credit to its director, Mr. George H. King, and its own apparent care in every detail of the different selections. The "Soldiers' Chorus" from "Faust" was accompanied by piano and two violins; with a second Gounod number in "O Day of Penitence," a majestic, triumphant outburst of powerful melody. The sacred quality of Gounod's compositions was again manifested in "Come Unto Me," sung "a capella" or unaccompanied, with strong, expressive feeling in its hushed, deep-toned intervals. Handel's "Zadok the Priest" was a dramatic recitative, strong, free, sung with verve in the melodious, sonorous voices. A lighter selection, Schubert's "Welcome Spring" was done with dainty effect, Mr. H. Turner taking the tenor solo in "An End Will I Bring to Dought," and the choir closed with the soft measures of "Good-night, Good-night, Beloved."

Mrs. George H. King was in splendid voice last night, and received enthusiastic encores. Her lovely, rounded voice, with a range that embraces a warm richness and soars in a bird-like effect to the pure sweetness of the high soprano, was heard in two florid numbers, "Gay Butterfly," a light, gay, trilly selection, and "Like to the Damask Rose," clear, sweet, with falling inflections, followed by the whimsical "Little Brother's Lullaby."

Miss Edwina Palmer's trained musicianship was manifested in the arrangement of "Gipsy Airs," by Sarasate, a brilliant number with high-pitched crescendo passages, comprising a series of difficult passages, calling forth all the technical ability of the young player. The "Caprice Bennois" was followed by a graceful, soft minor melody in legato style, and a later encore brought the "Cavelleria Rusticana."

Miss Palmer and Mrs. Percy Hooper, violinists, and Miss Ida Sanderson at the piano, acted as accompanists during the evening, with Mr. King at the organ directing.

The piano used on this occasion was kindly loaned by the Heintzman Company, Limited.

COMMITTEE HAS GONE TO HAMILTON

Result of Trip Will Be Reported to Council Monday Evening.

Mayor W. H. Taylor, and Ald. Joseph Crowe, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee left for Hamilton on the 5 a.m. C.P.R. train to day to secure first-hand information on the qualifications of George Gimblett, who of 35 applicants for the position of Fire Chief here, is the only likely prospect left. On Monday night the result of the trip will be made known to the Council, and, according to the feeling of the Aldermen, the climax to the situation will be reached. If the Mayor and Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee are favorably impressed by Gimblett's qualifications, a member of the Council said this morning, there is little doubt but that his appointment will go through.

The Hamilton prospect is 36 years of age, and has had 15 years' service. He is asking a salary of $2,000 a year to start, with an increase to $2,400 if he satisfies the Council of his capability to manage the department.

WILL PAY WITNESSES AT CORONER'S INQUESTS

Important and long-needed legislation has been passed by the local legislature to amend the Coroner's Act and to provide for payment of Crown witnesses at preliminary hearings and at coroner's inquests. The fees of a witness are fixed at $1 for every day in attendance, and mileage at 15c a mile to and from the place of witness' residence.

The bills securing this legislation were suggested by West Peterboro's member, Mr. T. Tooms, who, however, could not handle them himself owing to the finance of the Province being affected. Hence, the Attorney-General undertook to introduce them in the Legislature.

PROLONG TRUCE.

DUBLIN, May 6. — (Canadian Press). The Dail Eireann Peace Committee, after a session of two and a half hours to-day, announced that two of its members had been requested to arranged with respective army headquarters the prolongation of the temporary truce recently agreed upon between rival Republican army factions.

The men asked to make arrangement were Commandant John McKeowan, on the Free State side, and Mellowes, representing the distinct section of the Irish Republican army.

Formal Openings Of Mid-Summer Millinery

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday

The Entire Arcade is given over to a Display of some Thirty or Forty Models.

Gloriously summery hats for the warming days, in large and small shapes as each individual figure may require. Each touched with bits of flowers or ribbons with a wizardry of art that can be seen but never understood.

And just the right hat—most becoming to every woman—is here waiting the opportunity to serve.

Sport Hats

Are Vividly Winsome

Sport hats have a rollicking care-free air. They frame faces with shapes flexibly constructed of straw — tagal, hemp or novelty braids with which interweave white wools, They resort to the sprightliest of trimmings, gaily contrasted to the hats themselves, which are keenly interesting in canna, canary, corn flower, beige and Etruscan red.

Dress Hats

Have a Rightful Claim to the Name

The picture hat has come back once more, but this time in a wide variety of fashions. It may be of leghorn or it may be of some transparent fabric combined with braid. No matter what it is of, there is always a winsomeness that makes a strong appeal. The little and medium size hats also have their say, and tell one in unmistakable tones that great consideration is due their loveliness. A host of adorable colors and color combinations are here to greet you.

EGG MARKETS.

OTTAWA, May 6.—(Canadian Press)— Competition at country points is very keen and prices are being well-maintained. Track shippers are encouraged by more enquiries from sources which give promise to broader outlets and that this feature would prevent any immediate decline in prices until storage requirements are supplied.

Toronto—There is change in the local market. Specials jobbing 35, extras 34, firsts 30 to 31, seconds 25.

Montreal—Receipts heavy. Dealers reported paying 31 for current receipts. Extra scarce and firm, jobbing at 34, straight candled 32, seconds 28.

Winnipeg—Dealers quoting 25 1-2 to 26 to country shippers cases included, jobbing extra 32 to 35, firsts 30 to 32, seconds 26 to 27.

CASH GRAIN.

MONTREAL, May 6.—(Canadian Press)—Trade in cash grain was quiet yesterday but prices were unchanged. Condition of flour market was unchanged. A steady business continues in all lines of millfeed. Rolled oats market was quiet. There is a good demand for baled hay.

WINNIPEG CATTLE.

WINNIPEG, May 6.—(Canadian Press)—Receipts 120 cattle and calves and 260 hogs. There is only one car of stock in sight to arrive in the yards today.

The cattle market opened this morning under an exceptionally small volume of offerings and as consequence trading was generally of a light order. Bidding for the few killing cattle available maintained a firm tone over the close of yesterday while the handful of stockers and feeders on offer were absorbed at firm prices.

On the hog market packers were bidding 12.25 for selects.

No trading on sheep and lamb market due to lack of receipts.

CHICAGO WHEAT.

CHICAGO, May 6.—(Canadian Press)—Sharp breaks in the price of wheat took place today following the issuance of a notice that measures were in readiness to provide temporary emergency storage facilities in railroad cars on track here. May delivery was especially weak. The market closed heavy, 1 3-8 to 3 1-4c net lower, with May $1.39 1-2 to $1.39 5-8 and July $1.24 7-8 to $1.25. Corn lost 3-4 at 7-8 to 1 1-4 at 13-8c and oats 3-8 to 5-8c. In provisions the outcome varied from unchanged figures to 25c decline.

CHICAGO CATTLE.

CHICAGO, May 6.—(Canadian Press)—Cattle, receipts 3,500; veal calves 35c higher; all other classes steady; best yearling here 8.75; best heavy steers 8.50; bulk beef steers 7.60 at 8.25; bulk veal calves to packers 8.00 at 8.75; few best up to 9.00; bolgona bulls active at 5.00 at 5.25.

Hogs, receipts 17,000; opened strong to 10c higher Closing from mostly five to ten cents higher than yesterday's average; top 10.70; bulk 10.15 at 10.65; shipers took about 5,500; holdover moderate; pigs strong.

Sheep, receipts 6,000; closed dull, mostly 25 to 50c below yesterday; some heavy sheep off more; very good fed western shorn lambs late 14.60; good handy shorn ewes 8.50; fat heavy ewes largely 6.00.

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

Peterborough is a "Bonny Place" Declare Canadian Club Speakers

Mrs. A. McMurray Addressed the Local Women's Canadian Club—Comes From South Africa — Impressions of Canad a.

An interesting personality is that of Mrs. A. McMurray of South Africa, speaker at the Women's Canadian Club on Thursday evening of this week, and a visitor in Peterborough on her way through Canada and the United States, on the last lap of a trip which has included Great Britain, France and Belgium, with a homeward journey planned for sometime in December of this year.

Mrs. McMurray is an associate member of the Institute of Journalism of London, England, which means that a candidate must possess a certain amount of definite training, pass an examination, and earn her own living before she can qualify as an associate. Fifteen years' work is required for full-fledged membership. Mrs. McMurray, whose Scotch ancestry is apparent in her pleasant accent, and the description which she gave of Peterborough as being a "bonny place," went out to South Africa in 1910. She acted as correspondent for a Free State newspaper for two years, with four years later in the Education Department of the Free State. Her husband was a victim of the Great War, and for the last few years she has occupied the position of Organizing Secretary for the Child Welfare Conference of the Union of South Africa, with headquarters at Capetown. Her work has taken her into every portion of the four Provinces of the Union, the child welfare programme in Africa corresponding more to the organization in England known as the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. Before and after birth, the child is looked upon as the ward of the society, which cares for its mental, moral and physical welfare.

Child Welfare.

In 1920 Mrs. McMurray was awarded a travelling scholarship from the Department of Education in South Africa, (child welfare work in the Union being under the jurisdiction of the educational authorities) which gave her a commission to travel for eighteen months in Great Britain, Canada and the United States, observing legislation and procedure with regard to child welfare, and reporting at the end of that time to her own Government. France and Belgium were added by Mrs. McMurray to her itinerary, and she is at present on her way through Canada, having stopped off, by the way, in Toronto in August of last year, where she represented the Child Welfare Conference of South Africa at the Teachers' Confederation. Since September last Mrs. McMurray has been taking the course in social service work at the University of Toronto, and will be numbered amongst the graduates at the forthcoming exercises. She has now resumed her tour of Canada, and will go right through to the Coast, speaking, by special arrangement of Colonel McCullough, who has been called the "Father of Canadian Clubs," to Women's Canadian Clubs and branches of the National Council of Women, on her way. An extended trip of observation through the United States will complete her tour. Mrs. McMurray, while absent from home, is writing special articles on her trip and experiences, which are syndicated in South Africa, and published in newspapers of six of the principal towns of the Union.

Referring to the system of mothers' allowances in vogue in Canada, Mrs. McMurray spoke of the South African method, which places this class of social work under the jurisdiction of the Juvenile Court. By a liberal interpretation of the laws of these courts, social service workers manage to keep the mothers in their own homes, looking after their own children, the equivalent of nearly $36,00 of our money being expended annually in Capetown alone for this purpose.

Mrs. McMurray, who is accompanied on her travels by Miss A. B. Scott, M.A., of Edinburgh, is a bright, chatty lady, with fluent tongue and bright blue eyes. Speaking of Niagara Falls, which she means to visit for the first time before leaving Canada, Mrs. McMurray referred to the falls at Victoria, South Africa, which are considered three times greater than our monster waterfall. These falls are approached for the last few miles through a forest bathed in the spray from their unceasing rain, which is called by the Zulus "Thundering Smoke." An American tourist, viewing them for the first time, telegraphed home: "Have seen Victoria Falls. Compared to them, Niagara is only a spit. Sell it."

CLEANING METHOD.

Clean tea and coffee pots by putting into them a teaspoon of soda. Then half fill the pot with cold water, heat and let boil for five minutes. Empty and boil fresh water in them.

RESTORING COLORS.

A little alum dissolved in the rinse water will restore the color in green or black prints which have faded. A little vinegar in the rinsing water will restore red.

A wireless tower at Tokio, Japan, 600 feet high, of reinforced concrete, is the highest one-piece structure in the world.

Let Rinso do the washing

JUST let the clothes soak themselves clean in the wonderful Rinso suds. A good rinsing and the dirt runs away. The clothes—fresh, sweet, and snowy white—are ready for the line.

Make the famous Rinso liquid first—half a package of Rinso dissolved in a little cool water, then add two quarts of boiling water. Pour in a tub of cool or lukewarm water.

Do not put the Rinso direct from the package into the tub.

ILLINOIS WOMAN MAGISTRATE TO HOLD COURT IN HER PARLOR.

FREEPORT, Ill., May 6.—Police Court hereafter will be held in the parlor of her home, Mrs. Mildred Brandt, recently elected Police Magistrate of Winslow, Ill., announced here. She explained that by holding court at home it would take less time from domestic duties, and she said she would not need a downtown office.

Mrs. Brandt previously had said she would not serve, but explained that she had changed her mind at the insistence of her friends.

A George Street Baby Disappears.

There has been a pathetic little figure in a George street window for some weeks past; the small, white-clad baby that stretched its little hands through long hours towards the full milk- bottle displayed just out of reach in the chilly-looking refrigerator. The baby never turned around. Anxious watchers observing it through morning-lighted windows, or when the afternoon sun lit up the casement, or even through long night watches, never had a glimpse of its face, so we don't know whether it was blonde or brunette, pretty or homely. It had a white dress and a blue-bordered woolly jacket and tight-fitting bonnet, and its entire attention through days and nights was concentrated on that milk bottle, always full, and always just out of reach of the little hands. People wondered if the little thing was hungry. It didn't appear to shrink any, but then, it was very small to begin with, and had a tenacity of purpose peculiar in one so young.

Just the other day, we happened to pass the window, and glanced in. The baby was still there, but the bottle has disappeared. Whether the child had become frozen from the frigid atmosphere into this attitude, or whether it had finally triumphed, and made away with the contents of the bottle, no one knows. Thrill Number Two came when the baby disappeared from view. Only the refiregrator remains, absolutely inarticulate. We hope for the best, but we can't help thinking of Stephen Leacock's gruesome story, dated somewhere in 2,000 A.D. where the entire family is gathered about the Christmas diner table, and the concentrated essence of nine Christmas diners, from turkey to plum pudding, is reposing in capsule form beneath a small dish. The baby inadvertently swallows the capsule with dastrous results. It is hoped that the climax of its long waiting and the richness of the milk in the bottle, did not have such effect on the patient window baby.

A Bad Case
Eczema All Over His Body—His Legs—His Arms Covered

John Clark of Brookville N. B. crowds a story of great suffering into few words.

"I was tormented beyond words. I could not sleep. You could not put a pin on my whole body. I tried several doctors. They said it was scrofula. Three dollar bottles of D. D. D. is all used. I have not had a sore for five months."

Each week we are selecting a letter from some Canadian sufferer to show what can be done to itching, burning skin disease by the clear, purifying liquid wash. D. D. D.

Stop that itch today. You are not asked to use D. D. D. for weeks before you receive results. If you don't get relief from the very first bottle we hand your money back. $1.00 a bottle. Try D. D. D. Soap, too.

"Yokohama Maid" To Be Shown Here.

"The Yokohama Maid" is the name of the sprightly Jaapnese comic operetta, said to have a strong flavour of "The Mikado," which is to be produced on the 17th and 18th of this month at the Grand Opera House, under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, in aid of St. Joseph's Hospital Building fund. Mr. John Ball acts as musical director, and Mr. George Lynch as stage manager.

The operetta, staged altogether in Japan, with backgrounds of minaretted temples and cherry blossoms, has a theme centering around the cruel attempts of certain interested parties to marry the beautiful heroine, O-Sing-a-Song ,to the unloved Mayor, Fateddo. A Mayor it seems, is the only possible suitor that may be considered for the lovely maiden, and her case is sad and hopeless until a young American arrives on the scene, providentially, as it happens, Mayor of a certain town in the glorious U.S.A. "O, Powder Puff!" "Unrequitted Love," and "Suki Tong," are some of the prettiest choral numbers, with Miss Anna Gallegeher as O-Sing-a-Song, Fateddo enacted by Carmen Legendre, Kissimee, the maid, by Mrs. Joseph Dwyer, Knogudi, the secretary, by K. Picard, Tung-Waga, the old nurse, by Mrs. Grover Halpin, and other parts taken by the Misses Anita Lengedre and Lottie Hogan, Messrs .T. Bartley, A. Costello, V. McCabe and Leo Picard.

HIS NERVES NOW STRONG AS EVER

How an Ontario Teacher Regained Good Health

"I am a school teacher by profession," says Mr. James Thomson, R. R. No. 1, Centralia, Ont., "yet when I started school teaching I was in very poor health. I suffered a nervous breakdown, brought on by overwork and no relaxation. I was unable to think, to act, or even to eat properly. Queen little prickly sensations were continually running up and down my back, my arms and my legs; like so many needles, seeming at times to fairly paralyze me, and often my heart was thumping like a trip-hammer. I determined to consult our family doctor, and he immediately put me under orders. I had to give up my school and return home in order to recuperate my lost health. Milk was his chief remedy and I drank quarts of it; yet, though it helped me, it did not build me up to my normal condition—something was missing; something my system was calling for, better blood. One day, when I picked up a newspaper, I came across an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills suggesting just what was needed in my case—new, rich, red blood. I immediately sent for a box, and when the doctor visited me, I told him I had decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and he seemed satisfied. By the time my box was nearly done, and I determined to get another, by the time I had finished this I was gradually coming back to normal. My strength was returning, I could sit and walk without strain. For the next few weeks I continued to take the pills, and they were working wonders with me. My head was becoming clearer, my memory better and my nerves were becoming steadier. I began to go out frequently, enjoying myself. My appetite improved and was even better than before I had my breakdown. I was myself again. I got back my school and to this day I have had no return of the trouble, and now when anyone comes to me with nervous trouble I instantly suggest Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a remedy, as I believe that what they did in my case they will do for others."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Annual Meeting School Council.

The Home and School Council of Peterboro is holding its annual meeting on Tuesday evening next at the Chamber of Commerce board room, when reports of the year's work in the seven different associations of the city will be given This affords an opportunity for parents of the city an oportunity for parents in any way in the work of the Home and School Association, to get an idea of the scope of their activity. The associations have for their main object the drawing into closer relationship the three elements of the home, the teacher, and the scholar, and each separate society has its own particular pet way of going about this. They hold entertainments of different sorts, one school specializing particularly in programmes arranged and contributed to by the pupils themselves; most of them help in the relief work of the city, one provides hot cocoa for its scholars at noon hour, and the majority are interested in promoting the distribution of milk amongst the under-nourished pupils.

Peterboro Girl To Go Overseas.

An interesting item of news in Salvation Army circles is the acceptance for missionary work of the Army in India of Captain Caroline Lang, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lang, 544 Elm street. Miss Lang, who took a course some years ago in the Training College for Canaad in Toronto, and has been occupied with Army work since in different centre sin Canada, including Newmarket, Brampton, Orangeville and Bowmanville, applied last fall for missionary work. She will spend a month here with her parents, and then sail for England with other of the Army contingent for foreign work from Canada. From England, the party goes to Bombay, in India, headquarters for Army work. No preliminary training is given, the system being to send out new recruits amongst the people, under the guidance of one of the 2,500 native officers in India, and allow them to learn the language and customs while working amongst the natives. Seven years will elapse from the time of her departure before Captain Lang returns on furlough.

WAS TROUBLED WITH HER STOMACH FOR FIVE YEARS

Mrs. Samuel Ward, Millerdale, Sask., writes:—"I feel that I must write to you before another day passes I am so happy and so grateful for your splendid medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, for after an illness of five years I am better.

I had stomach trouble so bad, I could not bear the smell or taste of food of any kind, and got so thin and weak I could not work. I was in pain, but felt so ill, at times, I thought I would die, in fact, all my friends were sure I could not live many weeks.

This time last year I saw where a man was relieved of stomach trouble by Burdock Blood Bitters, so my husband got me two bottles, but I had no faith in it after all the different medicines I had taken, however he insisted, and after the first two days I must say I began to feel better, and after the first bottle I felt so much better I went out every day, but I soon got so I could walk and eat and have got quite stout.

I am nearly seventy years of age and I feel better than I have for years, and can now do all my housework.

You may make use of this letter if you wish, as it may be the means of making others as well and as happy as I am."

Household Suggestions

CLEANING FABRIC.

Add ammonia to the tepid water which you use in sponging your skirt and the shine will disappear more easily. One tablesponful of ammonia to a quart of water is the proportion.

CUTTING SOAP.

A piece of fine wire pressed tightly down from each side on a bar of soap will cut it neatly.

CLOTHESPINS.

If you would prevent the new clothespins from breaking put them in a container, pour boiling water over them and let them stand until the water is cold.

HAM HINT.

Add half a cup of vinegar to the water in which you boil ham. You will find the flavour much improved.

UTENSILS.

Aluminum, agate, and other up-to-date kitchen ware should be dried with a towel after washing. The old method of letting them dry on a drainer spoils them.

PIANO KEYS.

The piano keys can be cleaned without injury by rubbing them with a cloth moistened with alcohol.

KEEPING FLOWERS.

Add a little bicarbonate of soda to the fresh water which you put on your cut flowers each day and they will last much longer.

FINGER MARKS.

Rub the finger marks off the door with a little piece of flannel which has been dipped in paraffin oil.

A SUBSTITUTE.

If you haven't an ironing board use a thick pad of newspapers on an ordinary table and cover them with an ironing sheet as you would a board.

COULDN'T DO HOUSEWORK HEART WAS SO BAD

Many women get weak and run down and unable to do their after their household duties owing to the heart action becoming impaired or the nervous system unstrung.

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy instead of sick and wretched. But how can a woman be strong and healthy when day in and day out she has to go through the same routine of work sweeping, dusting, cooking, washing, etc. Is it any wonder that the heart becomes effected and nervous, has hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells and can't sleep at night are the best remedy to tone up the system and strength the weakened organs.

Mrs. Daniel Bezanson, Loganville, N.S., writes:—"As I was troubled with a weak heart for nearly two years I am writing to tell you what your great remedy, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, has done for me.

"My heart was so bad at night I could not sleep, I would take smothering spells, and was so weak I could not do my housework. I tried two doctors, but no results. A friend advised me to try your pills. I used six boxes and am completely relieved. I think they are the best remedy for heart trouble there is."

Price, 50c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"My Mirror Told Me"

THE excitement of business emergencies kept me so busy that I did not notice that I was losing out physically, until one day, when looking in a mirror, I suddenly realized my condition. I could see then that I was rapidly approaching a nervous breakdown.

"About that time a friend of mine told me about what a large proportion of life insurance applications were being turned down because of physical disabilities resulting from the tense nervous strain of recent years.

"What was I to do?

"Well, my wife had noticed me being nervous and worried, and had been at me for some time to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, so I decided to give it a try-out.

"During the first week I could not see much improvement, and was getting rather discouraged. I could not sleep, and had no appetite. Everything worried me so that I was continually nervous and irritable. But my wife saw to it that I did not miss my regular dose of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and by the second week I began to sleep better and to feel more cheerful.

"From that time on this restorative treatment seemed to build me right up, and I know now that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food saved me from a nervous breakdown.

"There must be many thousands of men and women in this country who are in just such a serious condition as I was, and who can benefit by my experience."

"Our First Year"

(BY A BRIDE)

CHAPTER XXX

Left at home for the first time since my marriage, I was lonesome to the verge of weeping.

Of course Jack would have married Mrs. Herrod instead of me had she been his own age.

Why hadn't I seen it before it was too late?

I fell to crying bitterly, then went to bed, and pretended to be sound asleep when Jack came home. I murmured something inarticulate when he spoke to me. And I camouflaged sleep until nearly daybreak.

Fortunately, the next day was a holiday and we slept late. It rained, weather that ordinarily we would have welcomed with joy, for it made a day we could have to ourselves.

But my joy did not materialize, for my thoughts of the previous evening continued to harass me. What had Jack said to Mrs. Herrod? What had she said to Jack?

Sleeplessness and the need to tell Jack of those bills made my nerves ragged. Jack's soft whistling irritated me. When he spoke, my replies were far from honeyed.

Once in a while my husband's good nature annoys me. He is exact, practical and when he's absorbed in his own thoughts, he has an abrupt way of meeting a question with quick concentration, of answering it briefly and precisely. It was so that morning.

And as any wife would have done, I concluded that he was still thinking about his game and the lady of the previous evening!

At last the weather cleared a little. We decided to take a long walk.

I adjusted my hat, put on my gloves, remembered my adored string of mock pearls which I wear everywhere I go.

But in adjusting them, rather clumsily with my gloved fingers, they caught on a button of my coat, the string broke, and the tiny globules of moonlight rolled to the far corners of the room!

Tears came to my eyes. Jack half shaved, hurried to my assistance. We could not find all of them. Jack's patience exasperated me. I could hardly coax him to relinquish the search for the missing three.

Surely, my husband must be the very best man in the world. That morning he was almost too good. He could not or he would not perceive that I was decidedly out of temper. And had he seen, I'm sure he would have hunted up some plausible excuse for my nervous tension.

EARNINGS TROLLEY LINES ON INCREASE.

But Interurban Systems Not Similarly Favored.

NEW YORK, May 5 (Associated Press). — The earnings of electric trolley lines, an industry 34 years old to-day, are improving steadily in cities, but the interurban lines of the country have not yet felt the upward swing, according to a statement issued by Robert I. Todd, president of the American Electric Railway Association.

His statement is based on the revised operating returns from 180 companies, representing more than 50 per cent. of the total lines of the country. Of the number, 103 are city and 77 interurban, and their total operating revenue for 1921 was $437,493,853, as compared with $650,149,805 for the entire industry in 1917.

"The improvement is not due to any growth in the amount of business done," said Mr. Todd, "because the actual volume of business shows a slight decrease over 1920. Improved operating conditions, however, have helped finance.

"The outstanding feature of the reports is the increase in net income. In 1921 it was $22,022,722, as compared to $7,709,261 in 1920. In the face of a business depression, with unemployment at a maximum, this income figure is remarkable.

"At the same time, however, traffic on the lines fell. In 1920 it was 7,606,190,270, and in 1921 it was 7,144,332,920, a decrease of 6.1 per cent. The operating ratio, that is, the operating expenses divided by operating revenue, dropped from 78.4 per cent. in 1920 to 75.2 per cent. in 1921—the source of the good showing and its bright promise for the future. That is helped by the reduction in labour and materials cost.

"The net operating revenue increased from $93,916,654 to $108,315,732, or 15.5 per cent. A $14,000,000 increase gives a greatly increased purchasing power, and the results would soon be seen in equipment and better credit which has been almost at its lowest point in the last five years.

"The interurban lines, while they have not shown the actual improvement of the city lines, are producing hopeful signs. They have a decreased operating expense and, with a return to more normal business to which they must look for both freight and passenger increases, their outlook is brightened.

"It is interesting to note that one-fourth of all passengers riding on the 180 lines under consideration used transfers, a slight increase over 1920."

The first overhead trolley line run by electricity was perfected in Richmond, Va., on 4th May, 1888. It was a double-tracked line, with 30 cars in operation, built by Frank J. Sprague, still a resident of New York. To-day there are 44,000 miles of tracks used by 15,000,000,000 persons a year.

MISS JOSEPHINE ROCHE HEADS FOREIGN INFORMATION SERVICE

(BY ALICE ROHE)

The busiest woman in New York—
Who is she?
Josephine Roche.
Why?

Well, could a woman sit in a New York office surrounded by the problems of sixteen nationalities, her mental fingers on the pulse of each of them, without being almost as busy as half a dozen international conferences put together?

This remarkable young woman, Vassar, A. B.; Columbia, A. M.; chief probation officer and director of girls' work in the Juvenile Court of Denver; inspector of amusements and policewoman of Denver; special investigator National Consumers' League, and too many other titles representing public service to be enumerated, is doing more to solve America's so-called foreign problem than any other one individual in the United States.

JOSEPHINE ROCHE.

Many Sections.

Director of Foreign Language Information Service, she has not only worked out a perfectly co-ordinated system of interpreting America to the alien and the alien to America, but she has, through practical proof of its vital need, secured financial backing.

A personally conducted tour by Miss Roche of the headquarters gives one quite a travelled feeling.

"This is the Italian section," she said, "and the Lithuanian, Czecho-Slovak, Polish—"

With complete disregard of frontiers and boundaries we visited 16 nationalities, all represented by men and women of fine education.

Eager to Learn.

"We serve sixteen nationalities," said Miss Roche, "Czecho-Slovak, Danish, Dutch, Finnish, German, Hungarian, Italian, Jewish, Jugo-Slav, Lithuanian, Norwegian, Polish, Russian, Swedish, and Ukrainian.

"Assimilation cannot be forced on the immigrant" continued Miss Roche. "The foreign-born are best fitted to work out their own problems of adjustment, and they show a pathetic desire to be a part of rather than a problem of our life.

"Our work is divided into two parts, making our laws and life understandable to the foreign-born, and secondly, giving the native-born an understanding of the problems, the injustices done the foreign-born."

Statistically there isn't a loose end in the work of which Miss Roche is director, but even the perfect system does not overshadow the great human appeal.

The Toll of Death in Russia

TEN MILLION CHILDREN in Russia are doomed to die in the slow agonies of starvation unless the people of Canada awaken in their generosity, and by gifts of food and money, enable the Save the Children Fund to prevent this horror.

The famine in the Volga region is the most appalling in recorded history. Whole populations are exterminated. Children—fatherless and motherless, homeless, with death stalking their steps—wander the highways and byways until they creep into some abandoned hovel to die.

Hundreds of thousands have died from starvation and neglect; but millions can be saved if food is dispatched at once.

Will you give something? Will you save a helpless child from starving to death? What you do give means little to you—yet it means the life of a child!

25c will feed a child for a week.
$1.00 will ensure sufficient food for one child for a month.
$500 will establish a kitchen and feed 100 children until the next harvest.

TRINITY SERVICES.

On Sunday morning in Trinity Church the last communion service of the present pastorate will be held. The pastor will preach at both services. At the evening service he will continue his sermons to young men, taking for his theme, "A Mighty Man of Valor." There will be excellent music by a choice of 45 voices, under the leadership of Mr. George H. King. The pastor would like to see every member of Trinity Church, young and old, at these services. Visitors are cordially invited. Sunday will be a great day in the Sunday School as well. Every member is expected to be present.

GUN CLUB MEETING

The annual meeting of the Peterboro Gun Club will be held on Tuesday eening next at 7.30 at the Empress Hotel. All members and other interested are requested to attend.

CHOICE OF ROUTES TO WESTERN CANADA.

The Canadian National Railways in addition to providing unexcelled service between Eastern and Western Canada, offers patrons optional routes. You may travel westward via the Port Arthur-Fort William route, returning the northern route via Cochrane and North Bay or vice versa. This means that you are in new environments continuously. A train leaves Toronto (Grand Trunk Rly.) at 8.45 p.m., carrying Standard Sleeping Car to Winnipeg via North Bay, Cobalt and Cochrane daily, and through tourist sleeping car Toronto to Winnipeg on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays.

"The National," a solid through train, leaves Toronto for Winnipeg at 10.30 p.m. every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, via Sudbury and Port Arthur, with Standard and Tourist sleeping cars, coaches, colonist car and dining car service.

WILL EXPORT LIQUOR

BRIDGEBURG, May 4—(Canadian Press).—The Buffalo Export company will immediately commence to export liquor over the Niagara River from Canada, officials stated yesterday. This announcement was made when Herbert T. Guest, head of the company, received notice that he had won his appeal before Judge Gault at Hamilton.

STUDY TOUR FOR BOYS

About the best thing a father can do for his boys is to encourage them to travel and see something of the world before they become too keenly engrossed in commercial life. Travel is a great educator—it enriches the mind and fits the youth to better fill his place in life. A normal boy is observant—he assimilates and retains knowledge. Travel gives him his opportunity—it fits him for every phase in life.

A tour of Europe is at present being organised under the personal supervision of Mr. T. H. Matthews, U.A., (Oxon), Assistant Professor of Mathematics, McGill University, and late Instructor-Lieutenant, Royal Navy. In addition, local guides will be secured to conduct excursions and give lectures on the artistic, historic, literary, and economic significance of the sights seen and the places visited.

A most carefully planned and interesting itinerary has been arranged, including visits to Montreal, Liverpool, Chester, Stratford-on-Avon, Oxford, London, Paris, Versailles, Fontainbleau, Rheims, Lyons, Marseilles, Cannes, Nice Monaco, Mentone, Genoa, Pisa, Rome, Naples, Sorrento, Capri, Pompeii, Vesuvius, Florence, Venice, Trent, Innsbruck, Munich, the Passion Play at Oberammergau, Nuremburg, Mayence, the Rhine, Cologne, Brussels, Louvain, and Ostend, returning through London and Liverpool.

This exceptional tour starts from Montreal on Saturday, 24th June, calling at Quebec, by the splendid White Star line steamship Canopic (12,100 tons). A period of approximately two months will be occupied by the tour, as by the itinerary the return trip is made from Liverpool by the fine steamship Regina (16,500 tons), arriving at Montreal on 26th August.

The arrangements for this tour are most complete, and the charge, which is a minimum one, covers everything in the way of transportation, hotel accommodation, with three meals a day, transfers, sightseeing fees, in brief, all necessary travelling expenses for the entire tour.

Apply to any agent of the Canadian National Railways for further particulars. 4d-24-27-2-6

Toronto Lost Second Game of Home Series

Reading Wins By a Very Narrow Margin. Cleveland Takes Series From Chicago.

AMERICAN.

St. Louis 6, Detroit 1.

DETROIT, May 6. — (Canadian Press.)—Bayne yesterday held Detroit to two singles, both in the ninth inning, and St. Louis defeated the Tigers, 6 to 1 in the concluding game of the series here. The hits, followed by Heilmann's fly, gave the Tigers their lone run. Manager Cobb benched himself for a pinch hitter in the ninth, sending in Fothergill, who flied out to Williams. Score:

St. Louis	.. ..010 010 103	6	11 1
Detroit..	.. ..000 000 001	1	2 5

Bayne and Severeid; Ehmke, Johnson and Bassler.

New York 5, Philadelphia 4.

PHILADELPHIA, May 6. — (Canadian Press.)—Devormer's long double scoring Ward and Scott in the eighth inning yesterday, broke Philadelphia's winning streak and gave New York a 5 to 4 victory. Ed. Miller and Dykes kept the Athletics in the running with circuit drives. Score:

New York	.. ..030 000 020	5	7 0
Philadelphia.	..010 100 110	4	10 0

Shawkey and Devormer; Naylor, Moore, Rommel and Perkins.

Cleveland 6, Chicago 3.

CHICAGO, May 6.— (Canadian May 6.—(Canadian Press.)— Fielding errors by Chicago, coupled with opportune hitting and Sothoron's great pitching enabled Cleveland to make a clean sweep of the series here, taking the final game 6 to 3. The former St. Louis pitcher, starting his first game of the season, did not allow a hit until the seventh.

Charley Robertson, the rookie pitcher who twirled a perfect no-hit game at Detroit last Sunday, attempted to repeat yesterday, but only lasted six innings. Score:

Cleveland	.. ..001 012 200	6	11 0
Chicago	.. ....000 000 102	3	4 4

Sothoron and O'Neill; Robertson, Cox, Acosta, Davenport and Schalk, Yaryan.

Pittsburg 3, Chicago 1.

PITTSBURGH, May 6.—(Canadian Press.) — Pittsburg defeated Chicago yesterday, 3 to 1. The first Pirate run was scored in the third inning on hits by Tierney and Carey. Krug's error and Mokan's sacrifice. Chicago's run was scored in the ninth on hits by Kelleher, Maisel and Miller.

Pittsburgh made two more runs in the seventh on Cooper's double and singles by Carey and Bigbee. Score:

Chicago	.. .. ..000 000 001	1	9 1
Pittsburgh	.. ..001 000 20x	3	10 0

Jones, Freeman and O'Farrell; Cooper and Gooch.

St. Louis 3, Cincinnati 2.

ST. LOUIS, May 6.— (Canadian Press.)—St. Louis made it three in a row over Cincinnati yesterday, winning 3 to 2. A raly in the fourth gave the Cardinals all their runs off Luque. Stock, third baseman for St. Louis, was not in the game, having been suspended for three days for a row with the umpires yesterday. Score:

Cincinnati	.. ..110 000 000	2	6 0
St. Louis.	.. ..000 300 00x	3	7 1

Reading 9, Toronto 8.

TORONTO, May 6.— (Canadian Press.)— Good baseball was not in evidence here yesterday when Reading defeated the Leafs 9 to 8, making two straight games. The climax to a weird game came in the ninth inning when Outfielder Wingo was hit on the leg by a ball delivered by Myrl Brown. A fight ensued and both players were banished from the game. The score:

Reading	.. .. ..201 000 222	9	11 0
Toronto	.. .. ..100 032 002	8	14 2

Syracuse 7, Jersey City 4.

SYRACUSE, May 6.—(Canadian Press.) — Syracuse made it two straight over Jersey City yesterday by winning, 7 to 4, after playing an uphill game. W. Barnes, relieving Sell, did not allow a hit in four innings and Dubuc and Nibergall, taking the places of Steen and Fisher, contributed valuable safeties. Score:

Jersey City.	..002 110 000	4	7 4
Syracuse.	.. ..000 040 21x	7	10 0

Tecarr, Hanson and Freitag; W. Barnes, Sell and Fisher, Niebergall.

Buffalo 7, Newark 2.

BUFFALO, May 6.— (Canadian Press.)— Buffalo trimmed Newark again yesterday, 7 to 2. Loftus' good pitching was marred by the errors of his team mates, three of the four miscues aiding Buffalo runs. Butler and Kelly hitted out home runs, the second for the later in two days. Sheehan played a sensational shortstop, while Kinsella did great work in right field. Score:

Newark	.. .. ..000 200 000	2	7 4
Buffalo	.. .. ..101 300 02x	7	9 0

Loftus and Walker; Mohardt and Bengough.

Baltimore 7, Rochester 4.

ROCHESTER, May 6.— (Canadian Press.)—Jim Allen weakened in the sixth inning here yesterday and Baltimore grabbed the decision from Rochester in the third game of the series, 7-4. Neither Lewis or Wheeler could stop the Birds after they got to Allen. Score:

Baltimore	.. ..001 013 020	7	15 3
Rochester	.. ..300 000 010	4	9 1

Groves, Frank and McAvoy; Allen, Wheeler, Lewis and Lake.

Diamond Dust

We have herd that Walt. Smaill is looking for entries in the "Cat and Dog League."

Jimmy Hall, who played with the Bankers last year, has been signed by the Junior Holy Name aggregation. Jimmy is now playing in the School League and knocking them to all corners of the lot. He rang up one tripple and two doubles in one game the other day.

Toronto didn't do so well in the opening game at home.

Jack Turner, now attending the Royal Military College at Kingston, will be in town to play with the Adanacs on May 24.

Eddie Foley, third sacker last year with the C.G.E., is now in Oshawa and will probably play in one of the City League teams there.

Among the new faces who are expected to make their bows with the Adanacs this year will be Herb. Bradburn, Bob Breyfogle and Jack Fanning. They will probably hold down some territory in the outer gardens.

Another team is needed in the Juvenile League. There are now three entered and an even number is wanted.

Leaside Athletic Association must provide affidavits declaring the bona fides of their players from the managers of the manufacturing concerns in which the players are employees on or before May 5th, and cannot sign any other players.

CANCEL MEMBERS' CARDS AURA LEE HOCKEY CLUB

TORONTO, May 6.— (Canadian Press.) — As a result of definite charges which are considered as substantial, the registration committee of the Ontario Branch Amateur Athletic Union, at a special meeting held yesterday, decided to cancel amateur cards of all members of the Aura Lee Senior O.H.A. hockey team, and also to place under suspension the executive officers of the Senior O.H.A. Club.

The charges were made personally before the committee and corroborated by others within the past few days. The committee have been investigating for some time the activities of this club with the result that they are at least in a position of having definite charges made, and have secured valuable information pertaining to same.

An opportunity will be given those under suspension who desire it and feel they can justify themselves in the eyes of the Registration committee, to have a hearing at the next meeting of the committee called for Tuesday, May 16th, at the Union office. The following members of the committee were present: Mr. John Degruchy, President, Messrs. W. J. Smith, W. W. Davidson, L. Smith and R. G. Fry with A. J. Walsh, Hon. Sec., and A. V. Forster, Secretary.

Turn on the Spotlight

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD W. (RUBE) MARQUARD

Rube Marquard is once more in the limelight. Rube somehows manages to keep in front of the calcium.

Last winter Rube was traded by Cincinnati to Boston for Pitcher Jim Scott. It now turns out that Scott has a bad arm and Cincinnati seeks to call off the deal.

Marquard got away to a good start with Boston, expects to have a big year and says he prefers pitching in Boston to Cincinnati. He doesn't tell why.

Rube's latest bid for fame has Mrs. Marquard as the inspiration. Rube's better half is a very beautiful woman and he wants the world to know it.

That is why it was very easy matter to get him to pose for the above picture.

DEMPSEY READY TO MEET VICTOR

Says He Will Take on Either Lewis or Carpentier, But Would Prefer the Latter.

PARIS, May 6. — (Canadian Press).—"If Carpentier defeats Lewis, as I hope," Dempsey stated today, "I will go into training at once for a return match with Carpentier in London or Paris."

Asked if he would meet Lewis, if Lewis won, the champion replied: "Well, of course, I am prepared to meet all comers, but it would be better, I think, if Carpentier won, because he is more nearly matched with me in weight, height and science. Such a match would draw a bigger house and be more popular generally. However, I will meet the victor, whether Lewis or Carpentier."

Berlin disappointed the champion, who wanted to return to Paris the day he arrived at the German capital. "A front and a washout," was his characterization of that city.

A GOOD TEAM.

Bowmanville's Central League representatives apparently need no instructions on how to build up a ball team. A few local fans who seen the players in action at their regular practices state positively that the G. O. Patterson's aggregation are a real snappy outfit. They have a new pitcher down there who is reported to be in class A.—Oshawa Reformer.

GREAT MOWICH MAY BE RETIRED FROM THE TURF

Trainer Recommends That Wonder Horse of Last Year Be Retired to the Stud.

FATE UNDECIDED.

NEW YORK, May 6 (Canadian Press). — Morvich, last year's champion of the two-year-olds, starts today in his specially designed private car for a regal express ride to Louisville to be made fit for the Kentucky Derby.

If the weather is satisfactory this morning the wonder horse will be given a final trial workout over the Derby distance at his Jamaica training station.

Benjamin Block, owner, will be at the track shortly after dawn to watch the trial. He and his family will go to Louisville on Sunday.

If Morvich wins the Derby and shows exceptional mettle in other distance events, such as the Latonia $50,000 race for three-year-olds, the Dyer Stakes at Aqueduct and the two fall events, the Jockey Club Stakes and the Jockey Club Gold Cup, with the Sartoga Cup probably sandwiched in, Trainer Fred Burlew will recommend to Mr. Block that Morvich be retired to the stud.

If Morvich proves in the Kentucky Derby that he is not a quitter, and that he can carry over a distance of ground the speed which made him the unquestioned champion of last year, it will be my wish that he be allowed to retire to the stud as a champion without being subjected to racing under the crushing weights that the handicapper inevitably will impose upon so great a horse," Burlew was quoted as saying yesterday.

Mr Block said yesterday that he has not made any definite plans for the horse's future, and Burlew, in his interview, was represented as giving only his own views. Burlew will accompany Morvich to Louisville to-day.

INTERNATIONAL BOUTS AT VETS RE-UNION IN Y.Y.

Men From 48th Cameron Highlanders Will Meet Members of the N. Y. National Guard.

ON JUNE 2.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 6.—(Canadian Press).—Boxing bouts between representatives of the Canadian Army and the National Guard of New York State are to be a feature of the re-union of the 27th Division, to be held in New York City, June 2. It is expected that the boxing contests will be staged in Madison Square Garden.

Adjutant-General J. Leslie Kincaid said that challenges had been received from the boxing instructor of the 38th Cameron Highlanders, Ottawa, and have been accepted, so that the contest will be of semi-official international character. He said that in other bouts being arranged, some of the best known amateur boxers in the United States and Canada will be matched against each other.

TALES OF A WAYSIDE TEE

By GRANTLAND RICE

(Copyright, 1922, New York Tribune Inc.)

There is the bleak someberness of those days when the putter isn't working, when not even the brief three-footers will flutter into the cup.

But that isn't the leading tragedy of golf.

There is also the heavy melancholy of those days when the drive isn't coming off when the hook is followed y a slice with the topped shot in between.

But that isn't the leading tragedy of golf.

There is again the brooding anguish of those moments when the head is being lifted and the result reaches sand or water.

But that again, is not the leading tragedy of golf.

For the leading tragedy of golf, the one thing that brings deeper misery to a greater number of players than anything else, is the annihilating art of "heeling" or "shanking" an approach, wherein the heel of the club sends the ball away at right angles as dull despair clutches at the heart of the wretched victim.

The Curse of Heeling.

Professionals will tell you that "heeling" is the hardest fault in golf to cure.

Frequently they can't even break themselves of the habit without the hardest sort of work.

For unfortunately there are eight or nine faults that may bring about the heeled approach, and many of these faults are so much alike in form that they are hard to detect.

Heeling may result from falling forward into the stroke; from not breaking the wrists; from breaking the wrists too soon; from starting the right hip too soon and from three or four other things that are hard to segregate and analyze.

But whatever the fault there is nothing else that strikes as much terror in the heart of champion or duffer, for not even the best of golfers can tell how long the devastating blight will tarry and so wreck one's game.

The Case of Travers.

We recall the case of Jerry Travers at Garden City in 1913 during the qualifying round of the amateur championship.

Travers had taken a 79 in the forenoon. In the afternoon round he began heeling his mashie approaches and only a series of sensational putts returned him an 86 in a tie for last place. Luckily he found an instructor who caught the error quickly, ut Travers said next day he had never suffered as much in his life through one round of golf.

He had become afraid to hit the ball with a mashie, and this is exactly the panic that assaults the soul.

After hitting two or three approaches up in the heel of the club one feels a heavy dread as he walks to his next approach, as helpless for the time being in the grip of this malady as he would be in the grip of a monster python.

In our own case we recall in a Press championship climbing from 72 to 99 when this blight overtook us at the start of the round, and we still remember circling various greens as we struck long and short approaches off the heel, sending the ball almost at right angles to the intended line.

Suggested Cures.

It would seem an easy matter if one were hitting the ball in the heel to hit for the toe of the club—but this doesn't always work.

It would seem that one could adjust his aim an inch to the left, but first-class professionals have struggled with this trouble for weeks at a time.

It soon works into a mental affair, wrecks all concentration and demolishes all confidence. And without concentration and confidence golf results are not easily obtained.

One eminent doctor of golf swings stated that if one kept his weight back upon the heels it would be impossible to "shank" the ball. This will often be a big aid. But we have also tried it at times when the net result was a coat of cover paint on the bottom of the shaft, directly in the neck of shaft and blade.

If the correction isn't made by quick application of some remedy before all confidence is wrecked there can be little chance for any cure in the course of that round. One can then only prepare for an afternoon of torture as the score begins to assume unwonted proportions and par fades out into illimitable space.

J. H. Taylor suggests keeping both arms closer to the body. Probably the best curing combination is to keep the weight well back on the heels and to swing the club head back closer to the ground, slowing down the back swing.

These devices may help if tried out in time. But only too often the stricken being, after the ball has sailed off at right angles to the intended line, is so badly harassed that he forgets everything in a mental flurry that envelops him with the shadow of despair.

Nearly all golfers have a spell of "shaking" at least once a year.

When it comes on the hour is about ripe to forsake all competition and the attendant wager, seeking a quiet spot on the course where one can start with the chip shot and gradually work his way out of the barbed wire entanglement. For while he is hitting the ball in the heel golf is about as pleasant as hanging at sunset or the guillotine at dawn.

Without any question there is no other fault in the game that can so quickly wreck a score or so speedily ring on a compete shattering of one's morale. To say nothing of the attendant anguish in the feeling of utter helplessness and hopelessness that follows fast.

MAY ENTER PETE DISTRICT.

The Lindsay Football Club are considering the advisability of entering the Peterborough and District Football Association. If they can secure the support necessary in Lindsay they will do so, and a deputation will probably attend a meeting of the Peterborough body on Monday night.

The matter has been suggested to the P.D.F.A. and an extract from this reply reads:

"The directors of the P.D.F.A. would gladly welcome the Lindsay F.C. to this association and hope to see them in competition with the local clubs. The players of your club would require to be registered with the O.F.A. and F.F.A. on their official registration forms. We would be pleased to see a representation of your club at any of our regular meetings."—Lindsay Post.

"Remember the Sabbath Day—" What about changing tires on Sunday? It is "labor" and it is unnecessary. Also consider the dark thoughts and wicked words that a tire-changing motorist has to answer for. It should make one think seriously about tires. Keep the Sabbath by having good tires on your car. Motoring to Church is sanctimonious enough, but you should always go in a car that has "Gutta Percha" Tires, giving you no cause for labor or bad words, or worldly anxiety about "blow-outs," but a mind calm, receptive and serene.

Capitol Entertainment

A WONDERFUL DOUBLE PROGRAM.

The program offered at the Capitol for the first three days of next week looks like the best entertainment seen at this popular resort in a brace of blue moons. Vaudeville's biggest Scotch act, Alice Doubar's Scotch Review, five clever people, four ladies and one gentleman, singers, pipers, dancers and comedians, featuring Mary, the only girl bagpipe player in the world who plays popular airs on the Scotch bagpipes —a novelty well worth hearing. This is the biggest, most expensive and the best act ever presented at the Capitol.

The picture program is also a hand-picked show of the finest quality—Harold Lloyd in a funny single-reel comedy, "The Tip"; 7th episode of the fast moving western Indian serial, "White Eagle," and the feature is one of the biggest and best ever seen in Peterborough, 'Turn to the Right," taken from the big New York stage success of the same name.

To the millions of theatre-goers who enjoyed that greatest comedy-drama hit of the speaking stage in John Golden's presentation of "Turn to the Right," by Winchell Smith and John E. Hazzard, and to the other millions who longed to see it, the news that this universally popular play has been transferred to the screen will prove a joyful notice.

This highlight of the stage characterized as "the play of mirth and morals," in its celluloid version is presented by John Golden and Marcus Loew and will be shown Monday night. It is a Rex Ingram production distributed by Metro Pictures, and the youthful director, who won international fame for his wonderful screen portrayals of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" and "The Conquering Power," has added further laurels by this latest cinema offering.

"Turn to the Right" is the story of a small town youth, unjustly sent to prison, parting with two crooks. But having served his term he decides to go back to the little home, arriving in time to find that the hard-hearted village skin-flint is about to close out a mortgage on the homestead. With the aid of his two crook pals a way is found to beat out the old skin-flint, and then the two crooks, under the homey influence of the aged mother, find a new road to life and love.

All that delightful mixture of heart throbs and smiles which won such a wonderful tribute from the public in the stage play has been preserved and intensified in the screen version. In the leading feminine role is Alice "The Four Horsemen" and "The Terry, who won her way to fame in Conquering Power," while playing opposite her is Jack Mulhall, who has made a reputation on both stage and screen. Others in the cast are Harry Myers, who was the Yankee in "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court"; George Cooper, Edward Connelly, Lydia Knott, Betty Allen, Margaret Loomis, William Bletcher, Eric Mayne and Ray Ripley.

"Turn to the Right" was adapted by June Mathis and Mary O'Hara and photographed by John F. Seitz. Technical direction was by A. J. Myers and Harold Grieve. Starrett Ford was production manager.

AT THE GRAND.

"SCHOOL DAYS."

The Grand Opera House had another good crowd last evening for "School Days." The popularity of the picture which presents scenes of childhood in a humorous manner never grows less, evidently, particularly if it has such a versatile hero as "Speck," the terror of the schoolroom, who finally returns to the "education" he despised in the beginning. With his dog, and his snub nose, and his habit of getting into mischief, he has a wonderful time in "School Days," which is shown for the last time at the Grand Opera House this evening.

WELL KNOWN STOCK CO., HERE FOR THREE DAYS

Starting on Monday evening next for a three nights special engagement, with bargain matinee on Wednesday at 2.30 the old favorites of a few years ago in H. Wilmot Young, and his star, Marjie Adams surrounded with an excellent company of players, will be the attraction at the GRAND.

Not many years ago the famous YOUNG-ADAMS STOCK CO. were as well, and favorably known in this city and district as any company on the road. The old Bradburn Hall would always be packed to the doors long before the curtain time, and the coming of the Young-Adams Co., was an annual event, and Popular theatrical treat, looked forward to by a Peterboro audience

The coming engagement of this excellent Stock Company should fill the GRAND for this short engagement as Mr, Young has surrounded Miss Adams and himself with an exceptional company of actors and actresses for the presentation of three of the finest plays of the stage to-day.

The opening play "Man, Woman Wealth" is a modern story with lots of action, comedy and sentiment, and has been used by all the leading Stock companies in the larger cities with phenomenal success of two continents "The Broken Road" will be the attraction, and Wednesday night the word famous play "St. Elmo" adapted from the novel will be the attraction. A special matinee on Wednesday for Ladies and Children at 2.30 when the modern romance "Secret Marriage" will be presented.

Between the aats refined high class VAUDEVILLE will be given so that there will be no long tedious waits, and this together at the exceptional low prices of 10c 20c 30c and 50c should be the means of capacity houses at each performance.

Especially designed for Canadian playgoers, the brand new revue offered by Harry Tate, for his second edition of "Hello, Canada" containing many new and original features, will be presented at the Grand Theatre, for Thursday, May 11.

The chorus of English beauties, under the direction of Max Olney, will be seen in a new series of elaborately staged musical numbers. The "Roulette' scene, which in London and Paris was said to be one of the most pleasurable and successful numbers of the decade, and "Grandma Days", will constitute some of the outstanding innovations which will be presented here.

Mr. Tate has received many requests from admirers to present again his "Motoring" skit; he has consented to do this and will also be seen in his world famous "Fishing" act as well. An entirely new creation of his own, 'The Critic" a satiricial skit on the present day theatrical conditions will also be offered.

Some of the features that pleased Canadians mostly on the "Hello Canada" Company's first tour through this country will be retained in the show, but outside of these, an entirely different production will be offered for public approbation.

Elfreda Wynn, an Enlish prima donna, has joined the forces of the new organization, and another new captivating member will be found in the person of Connie Browning. Some old favorites who appeared on the premier visit also to be seen, among them being Deane Tribune, Billy Holland, W. Waniam Henri Rosen, Harry Gibson, Harry Beasley, Ronald Tate, Len Mense. Isobella Dorothy, Marie Dayne and Molly Molteno.

CENTRALS AND QUEEN MARY TEAMS VICTORS

Good Pitching Performances in Senior Series of School Ball League.

Queen Mary school seniors won another victory in the school ball league, yesterday afternoon when they defeated King Edward seniors by 7 to 0. Hardill, pitching for Queen Mary, was too good for the Southerners, and frame after frame he retired the side on strikes.

Bradley twirled a fine game for King Edwards, and had the satisfaction hittin for two bases, making the only health, hit gained by King Edwards gainst the opposing twirler. Walter Smaill was umpire.

Centrals won a close victory over Prince of Wales, in the senior series, by a score of 4 to 3. It was 2 to 2, when the seventh opened, and Centrals chased two runners across. Prince of Wales had a runner at third with one gone, but Delahaye held the one-run leady by striking out the next two baters. Swanger pitched well for Prince of Wales. Alex Kay umpired.

The standing in the senior series:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Queen Mary	3	0	1000
King Edward	2	1	.667
Central	1	2	.334
Prince of Wales	0	3	.000

NEW MELODIES — NEW REVUE — NEW SKETCHES

At the Royal--Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday

AT THE ROYAL.

MONDAY'S BIG DOUBLE BILL.

For Monday the Royal has succeeded in getting that superb First National feature film called "Her Social Value" with Katherine McDonald in the leading role of Marion Hoyte. Once again Miss McDonald adds to the wide sweep of entertainment her pictures cover. In this great picture she is just a salesgirl who marries into a society of which she knows nothing, where she meant to measure herself in terms of social value .... a value to which a mere wedding ring means nothing. She does, and finds herself asking, "What shall it profit a woman if she gains the whole world and yet loses love" Here is a picture drama that shoots out an appeal so true, so human, that it will find a sure target in the emotions of any audience. Then there is the costly Vitagraph production entitled, "The Secret of the Hills," with Antonio Moreno in the leading role. This is a thrilling romance of buried treasure and suspense in which enormous expense was cheerfully made to produce correct atmosphere and scenery. The play opens in a Chinese restaurant, one of the show places of London. A young American dining there, by mistake picks up a worng overcoat after dinner, and en route to his lodgings, finds himself in a fog. by mistake picks up a wrong overown, taking the street number from a memorandum found in the overcoat pocket. Here he finds a girl whose father's murdered body lies in the library. The girl explains that her father has been killed by a gang who are after a map he has showing where a buried treasure lies hidden in the mountains of Scotland. The story is one that grips the interest of an audience and includes a pretty love story. To round out this well-balanced programme there's a corking good comedy picture, called "Toonerville Tactics," which show the funny old Skipper in more of his amusing stunts. This First National fun-maker will do you more good than a gallon of medicine.

S. A. TEMPLE NOTICE.

There will be special services conducted at the Temple on Simcoe Street during the week-end by Ensign Wilson, private secretary to Colonel McMillan, of Toronto, and Captain Webber, of the Toronto headquarters. This will be the first series of services conducted by these two officers, and an interesting and helpful time is expected during their stay.

There will be an open-air service at 6.30 this evening after the Temple Band has met the visiting Scotch Grenadiers' Band at the station, and every soldier and bandsman is asked to turn out for the open-air.

The services to-morrow will be held at the usual time and the morning open-air service at 10.15 will be held on Downie Street, near Smith Street. A large turnout is requested as it will be outside the house of Bandsman Foy, who is ill at present.

There will also be the usual services at the Brownton Temple, and all children and their parents are invited to the Sunday School at 2.15 in the afternoon.

The public generally is cordially invited to any or all of these services.

FRIDAY, MAY 19th

Tickets: 50c, 35c and 25c

A BIG MARKET THIS MORNING

Eggs 27 to 30c. and Hard to Find by 11 o'clock—Butter 37 to 40c.

The market was well patronized this morning. The attention of the crowd seemed to centre chiefly about the dealers in green growing things. A couple of gentlemen were dispensing raspberry shoots, with instructions as to their care and cultivation, at 75 cents and $1.00 per dozen; the flower man had a variety of green plants, including larkspur and gallardia at 25 cents, and red-tubered peony roots at 35 cents. Dahlias were selling, four for a quarter, and rhubarb sprouts at five for twenty-five cents, with strawberry plants at ten cents apiece. Fresh rhubarb was ten cent a bunch, and there were plenty of green onions at five cents. Asparagus was 3 bunches for a quarter, with abundant, large-leaved cabbage plants, twice transplanted, at 20 cents a box.

Potatoes were plentiful, with rumors of a coming scarcity, selling this morning at $1.50 and $1.60 per bag, and one vendor had small cabbages, onions and carrots in small quantities. The fish man had appetizing looking fresh speckled trout at 23 cents a pound, and his competitor across the way was dispensing suckers at 10 cents apiece. A crate of tiny porkers had an admiring audience, and two little soft-eyed collie pups were gaving up at passers-by, waiting for purchasers at $1.50 apiece. Small brown and white bunnies with long ears were offered at 25 cents each. One man had a quantity of maple syrup at 75 cents per quart, and white English crockery at a curb table sold for 40 cents a dozen, plates or bowls.

The cement man, who was disposing of two tubes for a quarter, "One I sell you, and one I give you," directed his helper to go and get a fresh supply of plates for breaking purposes, "at the store down by the cemetery there, the stone man's."

Upstairs, the basket market was not as plentiful as usual. Eggs were hard to find at eleven o'clock, the price ranging from 27 to 30 cents per dozen; butter was selling at from 37 to 40 cents a pound, a few chickens at 35 cents, with maturer birds at 30 cents a pound.

SEVEN PASSENGER CAR GOES UP IN SMOKE

A seven-passenger car owned by Gibbs and Halpin, proprietors of an auto livery, Water street, was destroyed by fire on the Lakefield road near Nassau last night in a much-scarred condition the auto was towed into the city this morning and was the subject of considerable curious interest. Practically all parts of the machine that were burnable went up in smoke and the car will need almost complete rebuilding. The ignition, which is supposed to have been the cause, was damaged to such an extent that the car could not run on its own power, this morning. The Examiner was informed that an automobile owned by A. G. Lawless, Lakefield came along in the midst of the blaze and loaned a fire extinguisher which had no effect on the blaze, however.

HENRY P. DAVIDSON DEAD.

NEW YORK, May 6.—(Canadian Press).—Henry P. Davidson, of J. P. Morgan and Company, died on the operating table to-day. This announcement was made at 2 o'clock at the Morgan offices.

It doesn't matter much be it's buildings great or small,°
The home town, the home town is the best town after all.
The cities of the millions have the sun and stars above,
But they lack the friendly faces of the few you've learnt to love,
And with all their pomp and riches and with all their teeming throngs.
The heart of man is rooted in the town where he belongs.

There are places good to visit, there are cities fair to see,
There are haunts of charm and beauty where at times it's good to be.
But the humblest little hamlet sings a melody to some,
And no matter where they travel it is calling them to come;
Though cities rise to greatness and are gay with gaudy dress,
There is something in the home town which no other towns possess.

The home town has a treasure which the distance cannot gain,
It is there the hearts are kindest, there the gentlest friends remain;°
It is there a mystery something seems to permeate the air
To set the weary wanderer to wishing he were there;°
And be it great or humble, it still holds mankind in thrall,
For the home town, the home town, is the best town after all.°

OBITUARY

MRS. SARAH MURPHY.

Mrs. Sarah Murphy, 130 Park street passed away last night. Funeral anouncement later.

ELIZABETH MIGHT.

At 10623 107th street, the home of kind friends, Mrs. Elizabeth Might, aged 56 years, beloved wife of the late James A. Might, of this city, passed unto her heavenly reward at 4.13 a.m. Tuesday, April 25th. Mrs. Might had been a resident of this city since 1906, having come in that year from Toronto, and originally from Centreton, Ontario. She was an active member of Grace Methodist church, and was well known in charitable work. Her life was devoted to the comfort of others.

To mourn her loss one son, Albert E. Might, student at the university, remains, while her sisters, Mrs. J. E. Clarke and Mrs. F. C. Clarke, reside at Fraserville and Cavan, Ontario, respectively, and her brothers, Professor Henry Finlay of Kansas City, Missouri, Rev. R. E. Finlay of Tilston, Man., cherish the memory of a loving sister. Besides relatives, a host of friends and acquaintances regret her departure from their midst, but her cheerful spirit lives on.

Funeral arrangements are in the hands of Howard and McBride, which will be held Thursday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Interment will take place in the Edmonton cemetery. Rev. R. W. Dalgleish, of Grace Methodist church, will officiate.—The Edmonton Journal.

DECLARED THREE NEGROES WERE GUILTY OF CRIME.

KIRVIN, Tex., May 6.—(Canadian Press)—"Snap" Curry the first of the three negroes burned to death at the stake here for alleged criminal assault and murder of a 17-year old white girl, was taken from the cutody of sheriff county office last night and J. H. Varney and Moss Jones the othe two, were removed from County jail. The three were lynched by Kirvin the home of the girl, where a stake was erected, wood accumulated Saturday and saturated with oil, and the negroes burned. Varney and Jones maintained their innocence to last. When the three had been burned to a crisp their bodies were piled together on a mass of fuel and oil thrown over them and the whole ignited. Curry is said to have confessed to the crime and implicated of Chiropractic in its theory and application is its simplicity and reasonableness in its adherence to natural laws. It is difficult for those who do not understand the basic principle underlyig Chiropractic to comprehend why the spine should be adjusted for disorders whose symptoms appear in remote parts, such as the foot, head or arm.

The Outstanding Feature

This Is Easily Understood

when it is remembered that nerves innervating all organs and tissues of the body are branches from the spinal cord. They are all subject to compression, due to misalignment of the vertebrae. The function of every organ in the body is controlled by the brain, through mental impulses, which are transmitted over nerves. Any impingement or pinching of the delicate nerve fibres interfering with the free flow of Nature's life-giving force, results in impaired or abnormal function.

Indisputable Facts

sustain the soundness of the Chiropractic principle. Results in thousands of cases prove its merits. The Chiropractor views the spine as a delicate structure, whose parts are subject to derangements which cause disease. Chiropractic comprises a system which specifically locates causative derangements and adjusts them to proper articular arrangement to restore health.

Row Over Conflict in Duty at Columbia University Terminates in Shooting Tragedy.

PROFESSOR DEAD.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 8.—Professor M. Goode Homes, head of the department of engineering at the University of South Carolina, and Ben Haile, superintendent of grounds and buildings at the university, are dead as a result of a shooting which occurred Saturday in the office of the treasurer of the University in the administration building.

Haile first shot and killed Homes and then, when L. T. Baker, Dean of the Univessity, alarmed at the firing, entered the office,Haile shouted, "Don't come in here, Mr. Baker, I'll attend to this," and fired at him, the bullet entering the door near Dean Baker's head. W. S. Currell, President of the University, who was in his office in the same building, entered the Treasurer's office and was faced by Haile, who pointed his pistol at him and said, "You are responsible for this."

A moment after Baker and Currell left the room there was the sound of another shot and when the office was entered again Haile was found dead on the floor, a pistol at his side. At first it was known that Professor Homes had been killed, but police who soon arrived found his body in an adjoining room. There were no eyewitnesses to the tragedy.

A few minutes before the shooting began, a woman bookkeeper came from the Treasurer's office and went to Dr. Currell's office, asking if he had sent for her and saying Haile had told her Dr. Currell wanted her. Professor Homes was in a small office adjoining the treasurer's office, superintending the placing of some filing cabinets, when Haile entered. Haile obtained a check and told the bookkeeper, a young woman, that she was wanted elsewhere. What happened then is not known, as Haile and Homes were alone.

The two men have been bitter enemies for many weeks, because, according to a statement given out by President Currell, of their conflicting duties at the University. Dr. Currell said Haile seemed temporarily crazed and that he did not believe he knew what he was doing.

The enmity is said to have been caused by statements which brought about an investigation by the Board of Trustees. These statements had to do with some building work at the University. The committee appointed to investigate the charges exonerated Homes and later the report was confirmed by the full Board of Trustees. Haile held that he was not responsible for the charges which were brought. Since this investigation, months ago, feeling between the two men is said to have been extremely bitter.

Homes was born at Boydtown, Va., was a graduate of the University of Virginia, and attended West Point. He was assistant to the engineer on the increase of the water supply for the West Point Academy, was assistant engineer for eight months for the Republic of Cuba and was district engineer for the Big Bend District of the Engineering Corps of Texas during the war.

Haile had been at the University as superintendent of grounds and buildings since 1913. He had served as Chief of Police at Camden and was popular at the University.

Both men were married. Homes leaves a widow and four small children. Mr. Haile leaves a widow and two children.

HARDEST PERIOD SINCE 1890 FOR MANY FARMERS

Adverse Conditions of the Market in Quebec Due to Crop Failures Last Year.

CRISIS NOW PAST

QUEBEC Que., May 8.—(Special to the Examiner).— "Farmers went through the hardest period in thirty years, last winter," stated Hon. J. E. Caron, Minister of Agriculture, on being questioned by your representative regarding reports received that there had been hardships in several districts, including the Eastern townships where general prosperity has reigned for years.

"The fact that farmers had to slaughter their cattle last fall, due to the failure of the crop and the conditions of the market are responsible for this unknown situation since 1890" he added. The result of such conditions last year has had a bad effect on the generl economic situation relative to trade and industrial deposits in banks and credits, he stated. Farmers in many case have been unable to meet their obligations and have been forced to contract loans or mortgages on their farms. The result is that may bills have remained unpaid. physicians are said to be among the worst suffers in the rural district. Notaries have been lacking in investments and bank deposits have considerably dwindled, injuring business in general. Hon. Caron further stated that the crisis was now over and with the prices of cattle going up and prospects of a good crop in sight, conditions would soon show improvement.

DENIES ONTARIO GOVT. CONTROL LIQUOR SALES

TORONTO, May 8.—(Special to the Examiner).—Attorney General Raney was mildly amused to-day when his attention was called to a despatch from Quebec, which stated that it was learned "from an authoritative source that the Government of the Province of Ontario has decided to take control of the sale of liquors in that province", with a view to obtaining money to meet its Hydro obligations.

"So far as we are concerned", said Mr. Raney, "the report is absolutely unfounded. Possibly they have heard of Mr. Ferguson's recent utterances down there, and attributed them to Mr. Drury or perhaps," said he smiling, "they anticipate an early change of Government in Ontario."

Mr G. N. Gordon, the Deputy-Speaker of the House of Commons, was present at the dinner given by the Ottawa Press Gallery to His Excellency, Lord Byng, the Governor-General of Canada, and the Cabinet of Canada, on Saturday evening in Ottawa.

About 300 guests were invited, and this banquet was the largest of this session.

BIG SCORES IN GIRL'S BASEBALL

Five girls' baseball games were played Saturday afternoon in Central park. King George defeated Central by the overwhelming score of 51 to 9 and King Edward went down to defeat before them by the score of 29 to 9. De Laval handed the Normalites a trimming, 17 to 8 and the Quakers were able to account for the Colonial Weavers 16 to 5. In the last game the C. G.E. proved too strong for the P.C.I. at the end of the fourth period when they knocked off the score board reading 21 to 11.

FORGED CHEQUE ESCAPED FROM TAXI IN FLAMES

Asked First Aid For the Policeman in Charge of Him and Then Disappears.

TAXI IN SMASH-UP.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The old man held up a protesting hand, which the crowd could see had been burned by the flames. "Never mind me," he told the ambulance surgeon after the firemen chopped away the wreckage and released him and his four companions from the burning taxicab. "Take care of the policeman first."

The policeman was carried over to the sidewalk; then the chauffeur, then the two others. Only the old man with the burned hands refused assistance.

"I'm all right," he insisted.

He seemed to shrink from the applause and disappeared completely from sight soon afterward. It is feared that he will not be found to be thanked for his conduct. The policeman about whose welfare he was so solicitous especially would like to find him, for it appears that the policeman was taking the old man to the police station when the accident happened at Third avenue and 122d street.

After the policeman revived from the shock of the accident, he inquired about his prisoner, only to find that he had escaped. A general alarm was sent out last night for one August Schmidt, of Teutonic appearance, about 5 feet 10 inches tall, and weighing about 190 pounds.

Had Forged Check for $9,000.

Schmidt first attracted attention about noon yesterday when he entered the Harlem branch of Lionello Perera & Co., bankers, 116th Street and First Avenue. He asked Mario Aselino, the paying teller, to certify a cheque for $40.00. The cheque was good, but something about the stranger made the teller suspicious. He looked him over carefully, and saw in his hand a cheque for $9,000, also drawn on Perera & Co., but the teller could see that the certification was fraudulent.

The teller seized the $9,000 cheque and the stranger ran out of the bank. Manager A. A. Pinto chased and caught him and pulled him back into the bank. He could not explain the forgery, and Traffic Policeman Frank Von Holle, who was called, hailed a taxicab to take Schmidt to the East 126th Street Station House. The paying teller, and James J. Cain, the bank's private detective, got into the cab to accompany them. The taxi was driven by Louis Greenwald, 23 years old.

Greenwald drove north on Third Avenue, following an uptown car. Trying to pass the car at 122nd Street, he drove to the left without noticing that a downtown car was approaching. His taxicab was crushed between the two surface cars. The windows of both surface cars were smashed and a number of passengers shaken up. The taxi was wrecked by the collision and the gasoline tank exploded, setting fire to the wreckage.

Chopped Out by Firemen.

The men in the taxi would have been burned to death if they had not been chopped out by firemen. Hook and Ladder Company 14 answered the alarm quickly from its house on East 125th Street. Police reserves were called from several precincts because of the dense crowd which quickly gathered.

The paying teller was taken to Harlem Hospital for treatment, but the cuts and bruises of the others responded to first-aid remedies.

Although Schmidt's hands were burned he was able to write his name and address on a piece of paper at the order of th policeman before the firemen arrived while they were all trapped inside the taxicab.

Officials of the bank thought that Schmidt's scheme was to double-cross some bootleggers. The theory was that he, or some one he was acting for, was about to purchase a large quantity of liquor, and that the sellers insisted on having the cheque offered in payment certified by the bank on which it was drawn. It is believed that the sellers were waiting outside the bank when Schmidt entered.

When he got to the teller's window he withheld the $9,000 cheque with its fake certification and offered the good $40.00 cheque. If this had been certified, it is believed, Schmidt would have been able to make the bootleggers believe that the cheque he had had certified was the $9,000 cheque, and would have been able to purchase the whisky with the bad cheque. It was learned later that the $40.00 cheque had been stolen from its owner

Two Cars of Wood Derailed Near Hastings Blocking the Main Line

Early this morning, two cars of wood, attached to an extra train going east on the G.T.R. line, were,. derailed near Hastings, blocking the main line and delaying morning passenger trains until early ten o'clock, when the tracks were cleared. No cause has yet been discovered for the mishap, which had no casualties beyond the delay in transit.

A passenger train was made up in Peterboro and sent down to transfer passengers from the train coming up from Belleville, and arrived here about 9 o'clock.

CONDITIONS ARE SERIOUS, QUEEN MARY HOSPITAL

M. O. H. Dr. Young Endorses Dr. McCullough's Report That Sanitary Improvements Are Needed.

HEALTH BOARD MET

The adverse report of Dr. J. W. McCullough, Provincial Officer of Health, on conditions at the Queen Mary Hospital, was considered by the Board of Health at its May meeting this morning, and was finally passed on to the Council with a recommendation that action be taken on the report as soon as possible. Dr. McCullough recommended a fire escape, sewer connections, improved lavatory and bathing facilities and adequate receiving and discharge rooms. Chairman G. H. Duncan stated that a fire escape was now under construction, and would be finished this week, and the Board gave its attention to improving the sewage disposal system.

Dr. W. H. Young, in discussing the conditions at present, agreed with everything Dr. McCullough stated, and made the sweeping statement that he didn't think they had any right to run the hospital as an Isolation Hospital in such a condition. An instance of how serious matters are, he said that the laundry woman working in the basement had to stop her work, and, with a rod left by the plumbers, force back sewage when it began to ooze out of the drain pipe. It was a wonder, the doctor said, there had not been an outbreak of typhoid fever. The present cess-pool system is unsatisfactory, as the drain is continually choking.

Must Build Sewer.

Members of the Board appreciated the situation fully. Chairman Duncan considered the only permanent way to relieve the situation would be to have the city build a sewer across country to the Protestant Home. This matter would have to be taken up with the Council and City Trust Commission, he said. Dr. Young stood out for leaving the work to the Council and City Engineer. E. F. Mason advised putting in a duplicate drain to the cesspool. This would relieve the situation until it was advisable to open a street through from the Protestant Home to the hospital, where a sewer would prove valuable. At present, he said, there was no assurance that a street would be put through there.

"It's not our place to saddle the town with an unnecessary expenditure," said Mr. Mason. Mr. Duncan estimated the cost of a duplicate at $300, and a sewer that would provide permanent relief at $2,000. He stood out for the permanent job, being of the opinion that the present cess-pool system was a sink-hole for money. The plumbers will not open up the drain, he said, until the number of patients in the hospital decrease and the danger is minimized.

Build New Hospital.

"There's going to be a sewer there sooner or later. It'll do when you have to build a new hospital," said Dr. Young.

"Well, I hope we're not thinking of building a new hospital," said Mr. Lynch.

"The one now isn't large enough to take care of all the country and city cases too. It's just a matter of time," said the doctor.

The discussion was closed with a motion by Mr. Mason, seconded by Mr. Lynch, that the Council be instructed to take action on the report as soon as possible.

April Report.

During April there were 23 natients in the hospital, Miss A. M. Price's report showed. On April 1st there were 10 scarlet fever and two diphtheria, and during the month seven scarlet fever and four diphtheria were admitted. Of these nine were from the city and two from the country. There were no deaths and eleven cases were discharged during the month. On May 1st there were 11 patients in the hospital.

Maintenance of the hospital required $912 in April, the financial statement showed. Salaries totalling $328.54 made up the largest item, with groceries and provisions, $316.38, a close second. During the first four months of the year the cost of upkeep was $4,133.52.

Chairman Duncan reported that after consulting with members of the Board he had given accounts of long standing to a collector, and the results so far warranted the step. He had succeeded in one case in getting $40 on a $45 account, and after hearing the circumstances of this case it was decided to give a receipt in full. The collector receives 10 per cent. commission, Mr. Duncan announced.

A Grievance.

A long letter from Mrs. K. A. Davis, 221 Brock Street, in which a grievance against the scavengers was set out, engaged the attention of the Board for some time. Mrs. Davis, it was alleged, had refused to pay the price demanded for the removal of night soil. In spite of conciliatory efforts by C. S. Stapleton and Ald. M. McIntyre, chairman of the Property Committee, to have the scavenger paid or sewer connections made, nothing has been done, and the place is not in a sanitary condition now, it was stated. "This Board ought to notify the lady if she doesn't keep the place clean she'll have to put in the connections," said Mr. Duncan. It was left to the Medical Officer and Sanitary Inspector to convey to Mrs. Davis this information.

Sanitary Inspector Stapleton asked the Board if it would not be possible to have his office decorated. "It's in a filthy condition," declared Dr. Young. Other members agreed that it needed renovating, and, on motion of the Mayor, seconded by Dr. Young, it was recommended to the Property Committee.

Sewer Connections.

Dr. Young reported that some time ago he sent out notices to certain property owners, advising them that they must connect with the sewer. Many complied and others did not. Dr. Young then read the following list of premises that have, to date, he said, ignored the notice: W. Scott, 548 Charlotte Street; C. Masterson, 23 Park Street South; W. Perver, 606 Bethune Street; W. Willcock, 555 Gilchrist Street; A. H. Stratton, 405 London Street; T. E. Bradburn, 68 Murray Street; A. E. Armstrong, 529 Rogers Street; S. W. Londry, 423-431 Bethune Street; D. Carlisle, 391 Armour Road.

After discussing the action to be taken, which Dr. Young urged should be drastic, it was decided, on motion of Mr. Lynch and Dr. Young, that notice be given to these owners that they must be connected with the sewer and sanitary plumbing installed within 30 days, and that if they do not comply with the notice the houses be placarded as unfit for habitation.

Dr. Young outlined proposed changes at the Isolation Hospital, including converting the present diphtheria quarters into scarlet fever wards to provide more accommodation. Only one case of diphtheria is in the hospital now, he said, and when this patient is removed the quarters will be renovated as passed by the Board and the necessary alterations made.

Donations of a box of books for the children by H. E. Hodgens, and a tennis set by Dr. E. A. Hammond, were acknowledged by the Board.

Accounts Paid.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid:

John Simons, $10.75; M. J. Carroll $33.84; Wm. Brown, $46.15; Peterborough Fuel and Transfer, $189.75; Joseph Longo, $18.75; M. Roche, $74.30; Canadian Packing Co., $7.19; Patterson and Walton, $6.90; J. C. Turnbull Co., $23.65; Kingan Hardware Co., $10.30; Dickson's Store, $7.40; R. H. Hunter, $12; T. Anthony, $18.25; J. P. Bond, $12.60; P. S. White, $4.50; J. Nasimok, $5.16; Peterborough Milk Products, $20.10; Bell Telephone Co., $7.16; Peterborough Hardware Co., $13.80; Wm. Stock & Sons, $15.12; Peterborough Examiner, Ltd., $11.50; E. F. Mason, $43.44; McDermid and Jury, $10.45.

NEGRO WAS HANGED.

FORT WORTH, Texas, May 8 (Canadian Press). — The body of a negro Tom Cornish, brother of John Cornish, one of the victims of the Kirvin mob on Saturday morning, was found hanging to a tree limb today by a farmer residing near Kirvin.

Chinese General is Ordered Out of City

TIEN-TSIN, May 8.—(Canadian Press)—General Wu Pei Fu who came to Tien-Tsin from Pekin in pursuit of General Chang, was ordered to leave city by Allied Military Commanders here yesterday, as his presence was held to be in violation of 1901 Protocol. Wu refused to leave on ground that he was acting Governor of Chisli province and would remain as long as necessary for this purpose.

NECESSITY OF SUPPLY OF PURE MILK IS URGED

Rotarians Hear Geo. A. Gillespie Discuss Great Danger of Infection from Raw Milk.

PLANT IS VISITED

Happy at having put away two striking successes in one week in the visit of Dr. Barker and the Scots Guards Band, the members of the Peterborough Rotary Club were in a particularly contented frame of mind as they gathered for their weekly luncheon at the Empress at noon to-day.

The feature of the session was an address on "Milk" by Rotarian Geo. A. Gillespie, whose talk was followed by a visit to the plant of the Peterborough Milk Products, Limited, where the Rotarians saw for themselves how milk is clarified and pasteurised in order, to make it safe for consumption.

President John Crane presided, and the guests were Sam Whitehouse, of Peterborough, and Rotarian E. A. Scofield, ex-Mayor of St. John, N.B., who, in a happy little speech, told something of the activities of Rotary in the Maritime city, and incidentally suggested to the members present the desirability of using the Canadian ports of St. John and Halifax in the winter and Montreal and Quebec in the summer, instead of patronising the American ports.

In referring to the success of the Dr. Barker lectures and the Scots Guards Band concert, President Crane expressed the thanks of Rotary to Manager Phillips of the Grand Opera House, Mrs. Phillips, the Great War Veterans, the members of the Major Bennett Chapter, I.O.D.E., the Local Council of Women, and all others who had assisted in the two successful events.

President Crane at the same time read a letter from Rev. J. R. Webb, thanking the Rotary Club for the services they had rendered in bringing Dr. Barker to Peterborough.

Rotarian S. R. Armstrong, reporting for the committee in charge of the visit of the Scots Guards Band, stated that the paid admissions numbered 1,640, and modestly gave the credit for the success of the event to his colleagues on the committee. At the same time he drew attention to the work of Secretary Whatley, of the Great War Veterans, in looking after the seating; the bands of the city for turning out to escort the visitors, and Rotarian Reg. Turner for furnishing banners.

"I wouldn't drink raw milk from my own herd," Rotarian Gillespie declared in the course of his talk on "Milk," after pointing out the danger of infection that existed where no precaution was taken by means of clarification and pasteurisation to protect the consumer.

Mr. Gillespie remarked that fully 80 per cent. of cases of tuberculosis were due to infected milk, and added that more deaths had been caused from drinking impure milk during the war years than had occurred at the various battle fronts. Pasteurised milk had been on sale in Peterborough for ten years, he declared, and whereas the first day's sale amounted to only 13 quarts, the Peterborough Milk Products, Limited, now deliver 3,000 quarts every day in Peterborough. The growth of tuberculosis among cattle made it imperative that pasteurisation should be resorted to in order to guarantee a safe milk supply, and Mr. Gillespie cited the example of Toronto, which, by reason of making the pasteurization of milk compulsory, had reduced the infantile death-rate to the lowest on the Continent.

Afterwards the Rotarians motored to the plant, and were much interested in the various processes by which milk is made safe for consumption. It was a half-hour well spent.

THE NEW HOSPITAL IS NEARLY READY

At St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday morning His Lordship Bishop O'Brien announced that the completion of the addition to St. Joseph's Hospital, which has been proceeding with speedy efficiency, is expected about the end of this month, when the entire building will be available for hospital purposes, forming an establishment which will probably be second to none in cities of this size in the Dominion.

RECORD CROWDS "SCHOOL DAYS"

"School Days" at the Grand Opera House last week had big audiences for every performance. At the children's matinee in the morning, the record was broken for attendance in towns the size of Peterborough. Eleven hundred and one enthusiastic youngsters saw the sprightly adventures of the freckle-faced hero, "Speck," with his dog, and hooted and cheered and laughed through reels of humorous adventure. The Grand Opera House in Toronto had nearly 1,800 attendants at its children's matinee. Peterborough's record being exceptionally large for the size of the place.

Favorable Reports of Gimblett in Hamilton

Mayor Taylor and Ald. Crowe, who were authorized by the Council to obtain further information about the qualifications of George Gimblett, the Hamilton applicant for the position of Fire Chief, are said to have been favorably impressed by the reports they received about him in and out of the Hamilton fire department. One Alderman stated that a resolution would probably be introduced at the special meeting of the Council to-night to appoint Gimblett as Fire Chief. It was also stated that an understanding had been reached with Relief Officer Miller and that a satisfactory arrangement with him would be concluded to-night.

SIX KILLED WHEN AUTO AND TRAIN COLLIDED

VANCOUVER, B.C., May 8 (Canadian Press). — Oliver Deroche, a farmer of Deroche, Mrs. Rose Macdonald and son, Alex. Macdonald, of Deroche, Bert Gregory, Margaret Pentland, Mission City, and a man known as "Shorty," were killed instantly last night when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Canadian Pacific Railway train west-bound, at the Nicomen Crossing of the Dewdney Trunk Road.

The Hon. Dr. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works for British Columbia, who was on the train, gave medical attention immediately after the accident.

TO HOLD INQUEST DEATH OF CHILD

Constable T. Y. Stratton, of Peterborough, who, with Inspector Ward, of Toronto, was responsible for the finding of th body of the infant pitched from the train window near Lindsay, informed The Examiner this morning that the child's body was found about three-quarters of a mile west of Clabo. It was lying in six inches of water at the bottom of a twelve-foot embankment, and bore no marks of violence, beyond a slight wound on the right temple and a loose bone at the back of the skull.

The coroner's jury was called to examine the body at five o'clock on Saturday afternoon, adjourning until Monday evening. The mother is being held in Lindsay jail.

GAVE ADDRESS AT LYCEUM MEETING

At the regular meeting of the Holy Name Society at St. Alphonsus Lyceum yesterday afternoon, brief addresses were given by the junior members of the society. F. Hodgson spoke on the subject of "Damascus and Jerusalem," in a very interesting way; and Will Gallagher on "Matches: Their Uses and Abuses," in an interesting fashion, giving a short history of the beginning of fire with friction to the small pointed sticks of the present day.

CRUCIAL WEEK OF CONFERENCE OPENING TO-DAY

Conclave May Collapse Some Time This Week —Russians Constitute a Problem.

NEWS FROM GENOA

GENOA, May 8. Canadian Press. —The fifth week of the conference opening to-day will see the end of a remarkable conclave, it is generally believed.

While an atmosphere of gloom prevades the conference circles because of the differences on the Russian situation, the admirers of the British Premier, Lloyd George, believe that he may yet have some trump card in reserve.

Among the many reports circulated is one that Lloyd George will promise a direct governmental loan to the Bolsheviki if they agree to accept the terms set forth in the allied memorandum.

OFFER HUGE LOAN.

GENOA, May 8. Canadian Press. —Prime Minister Lloyd George and Foreign Minister Schanzer of Italy, addressed to-day a strong appeal to the Russian representatives urging them to accept the allied memorandum in its main points and promising Russia an international loan.

SOVIETS WANT MORE.

It was asserted that altogether the proposed loan would amount to three hundred million gold francs. It has been declared that the Russians were asking for three billion gold rubles or 35 times as much as the allied offer.

URGES A COMPROMISE.

GENOA, May 8. Canadian Press. —In a conference with Foreign Minister Tchitcherin of Soviet Russia this morning, Premier Facta of Italy emphasized the necessity for Russia making the conference prove successful and asked that the greatest effort be made by the Russian delegation to find a compromise acceptable to all.

It is learned that Tchitcherin has been instructed by Lenine to accept a clause forbidding Bolshevistic propaganda abroad and restricting Russia to its present boundaries.

DENOUNCED FRENCH EFFORTS

The Russian delegation had previously denounced the efforts it is alleged France and Belgium had made to wreck the conference.

They pointed out that these powers which predicted Russia's refusal to accept the allied memorandum, had not themselves signed it.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

NEW YORK, May 8.—(Canadian Press)—Reflecting the uncertain tone of developments over the week end stock market prices were rather mixed at opening of today's session Mexican Petroleum dropped 1 1-2 points and Associated Oil lost three points, while Studebaker eased one point Missouri Pacific was heavy and profit taking in the steels effected reversals of large fractions in Vanadium and several allied shares American Tobacco featured the strong specialities, rising 1 3-4 points and Standard Oil of New Jersey rose 1 1-4 points

Shorts were encouraged by the comparative dullness of first hour to enlarge their commitments Mexican Petroleum and Studebaker were subjected to marked pressure with United States steel and Baldwin Locomotive ,these reacting one to 2 1- points Practically all domestic oils lost one of two points and chemicals shipping, utilities and mail order issues forfeited one to 1 1-2 points, Southern Pacific, St. Paul preferred and Omaha embraced heavy rails Market rebounded moderately before noon on purchases of independent steels but trading became quiet on the recovery. Call money

Concern over the outcome of the Genoa conference which was reflected in lower prices for foreign exchange and bonds, coupled with bear selling caused another sharp dip in afternoon distributive sales were also more effected in lowering prices and market took on an appearance of considerable weakness in spots Oils, Baldwin, Studebaker and consolidated gas were foremost in decline Later marking up of crucible steel to new high record for the year at 68 3-4 infused some steadiness to list

BANKS'

Overland Country Club, a Bargain

NOT A FAULT TO FIND

Mr. Struan G. Robertson, of Seabank, Pictou, N. S., writing in April as to his Overland purchased in the previous May, says: "I have pleasure in stating that I have not a fault to find with it. I did 3,560 miles with the car during the summer and fall without trouble of any kind except the breaking of an ignition wire. I did not have a puncture.

"Today the car seems as good as when I got her.

"On a 210 mile run round Cape George, Antigonish, Guysboro, Melrose, Glenelg and home by East River St. Mary's with four passengers, I used but ten gallons of gas, being an average of 22 miles to the gallon.

"I am thoroughly well satisfied with it and have not seen anything in its class that I would exchange it for."

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Flush the Kidneys at Once When Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudly, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritatios, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

VETERAN PLAYER DROPPED DEAD IN BASEBALL PARK

Mike Finn, Owner of the Omaha Club, Succumbs to Heart Failure Caused By Over Excitement.

GAME CALLED.

OMAHA, Neb., May 8 (Canadian Press). — Mike Finn, owner of the Omaha Western League Baseball Club, dropped dead at the Western League Baseball Park here at 4.30 on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Finn's death followed a home run made by a Tulsa player, with one man on base. Heart failure was the cause.

The game was called in the third inning, immediately following Mr. Finn's death.

BODY OF MAN IS FOUND IN LAKE

Ross Trowbridge Finds Body of His Brother Ellis Who Was Drowned Last November.

IN MUD LAKE.

NORTH BAY, May 8. — The body of Ellis Trowbridge of Pittsburg, Penn., who was drowned while on a hunting trip in Boulter township last November, was found floating near the shore of Mud Lake on Friday morning. The discovery was mode by Ross Trowbridge, brother of the victim, who came here from Dellslow, West Virginia last week and instituted a search. The body will be taken to Morganville, W. Va., for internment.

TWO BODIES FOUND.

OAKLAND, Cal., May 8. — The bodies of John R. Hanify, a wealthy lumberman, and George Anderson, a boat man, were found yesterday entangled in the wreckage of the yacht Quart, near Hayward, on the Alameda County side of San Francisco Bay.

The body of E. A. Christenson, a wealthy shipper and lumberman, had not been found early last night.

One day last-November in London 340,000 pieces of soot were found in each cubic foot of air and the diameter of each piece was one twenty-five thousandths of an inch.

SEED TESTS TO BE FREE FOR FARMERS

Well Equipped Testing Laboratories at Toronto, Ottawa and Other Cities.

FREE SERVICE.

OTTAWA, May 8 (Canadian Press). — A return to the free seed testing policy on the part of the Department of Agriculture is announced by the Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriclture. The Seed Branch of that Department operates well-equipped testing laboratories at Ottawa, Calgary, Winnipeg, and Toronto.

During February, March and April these plants are working at full capacity in connection with the administration of the Seed Control Act. From May 1 to the end of the following January hereafter, the Department will give free service in seed testing, instead of charging 50 cents per sample during the busy months.

Testing will be limited to ten samples from any individual or firm.

This service, it is expected, will do much to ensure the planting of vital seed which may be tested during the fall months from crop that has been subjected to poor ripening and harvesting conditions

BEATEN TROOPS MENACE MINES OF THE ENGLISH

Critical Situation Develops Following Defeat of the Forces of General Chang Tso-Lin.

WU ADVANCING.

TIEN-TSIN, China, May 8—(Canadian Press).—A critical situation is developing on the railway between Tien-Tsin and Shanhaikwan, which is situated on the Manchurian frontier. About 20,000 of the defeated troops of General Chang Two-Lin are being held up at Tongshang Kuyeh and Lanchow, where there are valuable Anglo-Chinese coal mines. Frantic appeals reached Peking Saturday from the Linnei mines where the foreign staff was reported to be in a desperate situation. Twenty British volunteers were sent there Saturday night.

RUSSIA MUST ANSWER "YES" OR FRANCE WILL WITHDRAW

Barthou Lays Down An Ultimatum Concerning France's Position With Regard to Russia.

NO EVASION.

GENOA, May 8 (Canadian Press) —If the Russians do not give a categorical, affirmative answer to the memorandum that has been submitted to them, France will not go on with the negotiations, and if no arrangement is made with the Russians, the non-aggression act becomes impossible, said M. Barthou, head of the French delegation to the Economic Conference and Vice-Premier in the French Cabinet, to the British and United States newspaper correspondents yesterday.

M. Barthou himself suggested the meeting, which proved of historic consequence, because the French leader emphasised repeatedly that France had sided with Belgium on a question of principle, and not because she wished to line herself up against Great Britain. The vital problem was that of protection of the property in Russia of foreigners, and France believed that Belgium was nearer the truth in treating this important question.

France, M. Barthou declared, desired only to maintain always her long-time friendship and union with England. M. Barthou's initial request that questions be put to him on the status of the Conference met with no response, which brought this pleasantry: "Gentlemen, your silence is not helpful."

FLOOD WATERS ARE RECEDING.

BRANDON, Man., May 8. Canadian Press. — While there has been no official report of a change in the height of the Assiniboine River, it has dropped about an inch in some places on First street, which is now closed to traffic. Many people from the district visited the city yesterday to see the flood. The people from the north are cut off from the city. Other conditions are about the same.

According to one expert in physical culture, a nation whose men excel its women in beauty is faced with disaster.

CHEESE BOARD WILL OPEN UP WEDNESDAY 17

About the Same Number of Peterborough County Factories Will Be Represented on the Board This Year.

The first sale of cheese by the Peterboro cheese board will be held on Wednesday, May 17th, Mr. E. Hawthorne stated to-day. So far as Mr. Hawthorne had been able to ascertain the number of factories selling on the Board would be about the same as other years. The price, he remarked, had declined since last fall, and the price would likely be around 12 or 13 cents. In Campbellford last week cheese sold at 12 1-2c.

The offering of the first Board will be light, Mr. Ward thought. So far as he knew Young's Point and Warminster were the only factories that had an April make. Most of them will begin operating this week he said, but will not have much to sell for the first Board.

In connection with his work as dairy instructor and sanitary inspector, Mr. Ward pointed out that on account of the Dairy Standards Act coming into force the government has had to appoint 12 new men in Eastern Ontario bringing the total staff up to 30. The number of factories allotted to each inspector has been reduced and this year Mr. Ward will have about 30 as compared with 35 in 1921. Mr. Ward reported several factories that have been idle for several seasons opening up this year. Maple Leaf in Victoria Count is one that is making cheese after being idle three years, and Oakdale, 6 miles north west of Norwood, will likely make its appearance on the local Board again.

The Farmers' Dairy Company, at Indian River has found itself with a surplus of milk on account of a slump in the Toronto market and anticipates going into the cheese business. It will probably sell locally.

While some factories are opening up again others, due to local circumstances, are closing, and among these are Apsley, Chandos, Clydesdale and North Verulam. In the shuffle made by the chief inspector, George Putnam, Mr. Ward has lost these four factories as well as Rush Point, Victoria, Trent Bridge and Ormonde. The inspectors will have more work to do than ever, he said, as the government has undertaken to make monthly tests for the cheese factories.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR FALL CROPS.

Very Favorable Report Given on General Growing Conditions in the West.

WINNIPEG, May 8.—(Canadian Press.) — Conditions are the most favorable for a general good crop than they have been in many years, according to Charles Murphy General manager of Western Lines, Canadian Pacific Railway who returned Saturday from an inspection trip as far west as Moose Jaw. Practically all seeding has been finished in southern Manitoba and in many instances the grain is up two inches. Eighty five per cent of the seeding has ben completed in southern Saskatechewan.

NORTH BAY TO ASK GOVERNMENT AID.

NORTH BAY, May 8.—(Canadian Press)—Mayor Ferguson announced yesterday that a joint conference of the town council and the board of trade will be held tonight after council meeting to consider united action to persuade the federal government to expend money on the protection of the shore line at North Bay aginst the unusual level of the Lake Nipissing residents of the lake shore are seriously concerned for the safety of their property as it claimed that a bad storm from the southwest would destroy considerable property. The water level on Nipissing this spring is said to be two feet higher than usual.

NORRIS NOMINATED FOR TENTH TIME

Receives Liberal Nomination For Lansdown Constituency. Has No Quarrel With Farmers.

IS PROGRESSIVE.

ALEXANDER, Man., May 8. — (Canadian Press).—For the tenth time at a Liberal convention in Lansdowne constituency, Premier T. C. Norris was Saturday afternoon nominated as Liberal candidate for the constituency which he has represented in the Manitoba Legislature for twenty years. The Premier described the group form of Government as impossible. Stable Government was essential and to have that one group must have a majority in the Legislature.

BYNG ATTENDS PRESS BANQUET

Two Hundred in Attendance For Annual Dinner of the Parliamentary Press Gallery.

BLACKLOCK PRESIDES

OTTAWA, May 8 (Canadian Press). — Lord Byng of Vimy, the Prime Minister, and members of the Cabinet, leaders and prominent men of the other parties in the House, and representatives also of such bodies as the Supreme Court and the Railway Commission, atended the annual dinner of the Parliamentary Press Gallery, which was held in the Parliamentary Restaurant on Saturday night. Many out of town newspapermen, former members of the gallery, were in Ottawa for the occasion, there being an attendance of nearly two hundred.

The dinner was presided over by T. H. Blacklock, president of the Gallery.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH FOR EIGHT YEARS

The cause of this trouble is the fermentation of food in the stomach which generates a gas that is very frequently belched up. There is also a rumbling of the bowels and a discharge of gas therefrom, here is a constant retching, and the meals are frequently vomited. There is a burning pain in the stomach, the appetite is fickle, the tongue coated, the breath bad, constipation is generally present and the sufferer becomes weak, nervous, depressed and exceedingly miserable.

The blame lies with a sluggish liver, as it holds back the bile which is so necessary to promote the movement of the bowels, and when the bile gets into the blood a badly disordered condition of the stomach, liver and bowels will surely follow.

Keep your liver active and you will always enjoy good health.

Mrs. Agnes Gallant, Reserve Mines, N.S., writes:—"I had been a great sufferer for eight years, from catarrh of the stomach. I tried several, so-called, catarrh remedies without relief until a friend advised me to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills which I did, and four vials completely relieved me. That was six years ago, and I have had no return of my old trouble."

OTTAWA, May 8.— (Canadian Press)—That the P.P.C.I.I. Old Comrades Association sholud father a gigantic memorial parade of all patriotic societies on Armistice Day this year in Landsdowne Park, with Militia units also particpating and to be followed during the day either with sports or some form of evening entertainment, was a definite suggestion made by Major-General J. H. McBrien, C.M.G., D.S.O., Chief of the General Staff, Militia and Defence Department, at the fourth annual re-union dinner of the association, held here Saturday night.

KING AND QUEEN TO MAKE A TOUR OF CEMETERIES

Their Majesties Leave To-Day For Belgium. Will Visit Battlefronts and Inspect War Graves.

THE SCHEDULE.

LONDON, May 8. —(Canadian Press.) — Their Majesties, King George and Queen Mary leave for Belgium early today. Their suite includes Earls Beatty and Haig who are making the journey at special desire of the King of the Belgians.

The diplomatic functions will mainly occupy the first two days. King George then enters upon a round of self-imposed duty proceeding to Ypres to inspect cemeteries stretching over great spaces of the countryside. The greater part of the front held by the British in the war will be traversed with several halts upon the way.

MANILLA MAN IS TERRIBLY INJURED.

Right Eye Driven Into Head and Scull Fractured.

LINDSAY, May 8. — John Dickson, a laborer on J. E. McDonald's farm, west of Cannington, lies in the Ross Memorial Hospital here, with his right eye driven into his head, and a fractured skull, the result of an accident.

The man was helping to move a fanning mill when he slipped and fell, striking his right eye on a protruding bolt or corner. He was taken to Cannington by Mr. Robert Shipman, but both Cannington doctors were away on Masonic business. Dr. Stafford, of Manilla, was called, and ordered the injured man to be taken at once to Lindsay.

JURY DISAGREES OVER MURDER OF DEFORMED GIRL

No Verdict in Third Trial of John Paris, Who Is Accused of Causing the Death of Sadie McAuley

IN ST. JOHN, N.B.

ST. JOHN, N.B., May 8 (Canadian Press). — After a trial lasting eleven days, the jury hearing the evidence in the case of the Crown vs. John Paris, charged with the murder in this city on 2nd August, 1920, of little deformed Sadie McAuley, failed to reach a verdict after deliberating ten hours over the case in their jury room on Saturday. The final vote was seven to five for conviction.

With the preponderating vote of three juries—28 men out of 36 having pronounced Paris guilty—against the prisoner, Attorney-General Byrne says he shall again try the case.

It was hinted yesterday that the Attorney-General might ask for a change of venue.

FIRE IN BOGOTA.

BOGOTA, Columbia, May 8. — Canadian Press. — A block of buildings in the commercial section of the city was destroyed by fire yesterday and great quantities of merchandize were burned, entailing a loss estimated at $2,000,000. Many of the buildings were of modern construction. Six persons were injured.

LAWYER DENOUNCES HOUSTON'S CHARGE.

TORONTO, May 8 (Canadian Press). — Gordon Waldron, K.C., counsel for the Crown, gave a dramatic touch to the finish of Saturday's proceedings in the Huston investigation by denouncing the statement made by Major A. C. Lewis in the Legislature concerning E. W. Backus, as the "most damnable thing that has ever occurred in the history of Canada," if it could not be substantiated.

"Shameless and damnable," he repeated.

Mr. Waldron asked Mr. Backus on the witness stand what he had to say concerning the statement of Mr. Lewis, that in referring to Huston "there was one man with whom he had been in the business deal. I do not say that man was responsible for his death, but I do say there was one man in whose interest it was to secure the paper he was supposed to have on him."

"I do not believe," replied Mr. Backus, "that words can sufficiently answer that. I think it is most outrageous, scandalous charge and innuendo to be spoken, particularly in a position where a man cannot be reached by the law."

COMMUNITY SINGING.

Peterboro is to have a regular series of band concerts in the parks this summer and the restoration of this popular feature will be appreciated by the citizens generally. In this connection the Examiner offers the suggestion for what it is worth that community singing should be introduced at these concerts. No feature of the concert of the Scots Guards Band on Saturday night probably made a more lasting impression than the playing of the grand old hymn "Abide with Me," in the rendition of which the huge audience joined with the band, singing as if inspired, with an effect that was indeed striking. Why could we not have something like that during the concerts in the parks this summer? With the Rangers band to lead, and a host of conductors whose services would no doubt be available, each programme could include some of the old favorite songs that everybody knows and loves, hymns, patriotic songs, that would make the concerts even more interesting than ever. Peterboro has not done much community singing but there is no reason to fear that this form of music would not prove as popular here as it has in other centres where it has been carried on for some time. What could be more inspiring than a Sunday evening concert with a proramme composed of favorite hymns in which the people, led by the band, could join The experiment is one that seems worth trying.

THE SCOTS GUARDS BAND.

It is a matter of regret that those who arranged the tour of the Scots Guards Band did not plan the itinerary so as to permit the members of the organization an opportunity of seeing something of Canada. The band is simply dashing through the Dominion at top speed, playing over fifty concerts and covering over 12,000 miles in a month, and althouhg the members would welcome a chance to improve their knowledge of Canada, and the Canadian people would be glad to be able to show them some of the features of this country, in which all take so much pride, it is to be feared that the chief impression of the Dominion that the band will take home with them will be based on what they are able to observe from the windows of their train. It is unfortunate that the tour, instead of one month's duration, had not been planned tor three instead. That would have provided the various centres visited by the Scots Guards with an opportunity to properly entertain the splendid band, and would at the same time have allowed visitors leisure time to inspect the chief points of interest in the cities upon their itinerary. There is much that we are proud of in Canada, and we don't like it that such a fine organization as the Scots Guards Band, representing as it does, the gallant British army, should be rushed through as if they were reinforcements being hurried to the support of a hard-pressed front line.

MUST PLAN FOR THE FUTURE.

The question of recreation grounds is one that Peterboro, as a growing and progressive city, will soon have to take in hand. It will not do to wait until the need for suitable playing fields becomes imperative. By that time the now available properties will be utilized for other purposes and the purchase of the necessary grounds will have become an expensive proposition. It would be good business to anticipate the need, and secure lots in various sections of the city that can be converted into recreation grounds later on when more accommodation will be required. The available fields are being utilized to such an extent these days that it is only a question of time before more grounds will be needed. On Saturday, for instance, there were three baseball teams at the Exhibition Grounds, football and lacrosse at King Edward Park, more ball teams at the Sacred Heart grounds, girls' baseball teams, lacrosse and basaball at Central Park, and in other sections of the city similar athletic activity was going on. The development of sport of this kind is a splendid thing for a community and it is a matter for general congratulation that so many of Peterboro's young people are being given an opportunity to take part in healthful recreation. As the city grows, however, provision must be made to continue that opportunity or eventually the movement will be checked and starved out because of the lack of grounds. The City Fathers should plan for the future by surveying the situation and considering the advisability of securing playing fields now before the cost becomes prohibitive.

THE VETERANS' TREK.

It is to be hoped that those Toronto Veterans who are planning a march to Ottawa in an effort to secure assistance from the Federal Government, will be dissuaded from undertaking this doubtful experience. If there are grievances that require re-adjusting, they can surely be brought to the attention of the government more simply and effectively than by a trek to Ottawa. The danger in such a demonstration lies in the fact that it is bound to attract the worst element among returned soldiers and, incidentally, it would be difficult to keep out of the ranks of the marchers men who never were members of the Canadian army, but who would see an opportunity for lawlessness in the expedition, and who, if they were not weeded out, would quickly bring discredit upon the veterans No doubt the leaders of the movement are sincere and well intentioned. Their idea is that the proposed march would be a picturesque and effective protest against present day conditions among many of the men who fought for Canada, and doubtless they are confident that they could preseve order and discipline among the marchers. But the actual carrying out of such a plan contains many obvious difficulties and little hope of success. If the various organizations of returned men, with their branches, extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific, have been unable to secure all that they consider necessary in the interests of the ex-servce men, it seems idle to hope that a few hundred "trekers" with no particular re-establishment plan to present, would have any better luck. And there is always the risk that the expedition will get out of hand, in which case unpleasantness is bound to follow.

WOULD RESTRICT FRANCHISE.

Considerable attention has been given in the public press to an article contributed by Mr. C. E. W. Dodwell to the April Dalhousie Review on The Case for a Restricted Franchise. Mr. Dodwell introduces his subject in these terms: "Whether the gradual extension of the franchise, to the point of practically universal suffrage, has been of advantage or otherwise to the supposedly progressive and intelligent people of Canada would form an interesting thesis for discussion, were it not that the result of the discussion would inevitably be an overwhelming decision in favour of the 'otherwise.'" Having thus made known his position, he develops the argument at length, having no difficulty in proving that our present system of so-called representative government is very far from being perfect, and suggesting remedies, however, will strike most readers as being too reactionary in their character for adoption, and, indeed, the desirability of their adoption will be widely questioned, even if their application were practicable.

If the whole body of the electorate were honest, educated and intelligent, says Mr. Dodwell, we should have ont only the ideal government, but the perfect system of government, under which there would be realised the object of all government—the happiness and welfare of the governed. But since the electorate falls very far short of this ideal status, government itself shares the defects of the electors. For government is but a "reflex of the quality of the electors." Second-rate electors will elect a second-rate government; it is the old argument of Carlyle—what can a Bobus elect but a Bobissimus? The previous remedy appears to be to raise the standards, both of education and morality, of the electors. And Mr. Dodwell himself admits this is one of the chief desiderata of the case; but, he complains, it is much too slow a process—"there are more practical and promising points from which the problem may be attacked." He enumerates two—the restriction of the franchise, and "a graduated franchise or plural voting."

The system which gives to the vote of "an illiterate, a pauper and a near-criminal, a depraved and worthless person" the same value as attaches to the vote of "a professional man, a literary or scientific man of high attainment, a merchant or a manufacturer, or any eminent leader in commerce, industry, and finance," Mr. Dodwell holds to be "absolutely deplorable and wrong." The franchise has been broadened in this way largely on account of the exigencies of "party politics and electioneering tactics," we read, and it is solemnly suggested that in order to eliminate the immature and the undesirable fromthe undesirable from the electorate be made from 23 to 85, and stricter qualifications of education, residence, intelligence, and even of property be imposed.

As for plural voting, Mr. Dodwell is plainly conscious of the drastic nature of the innovation he favours, though he believes in its practicability, and quotes John Stuart Mill in its support. Plural voting would confer upon the better qualified elector a greater degree of power than that enjoyed by the uneducated. It is not in the least likely that the suggestions propounded will be acted upon in Canada, or elsewhere. While admitting and deploring the defects of universal suffrage, the way to remove those defects would appear to be to improve the character of the electorate, and this is what is actually being done. Progress may be slow; but it is sure. To restrict the franchise in the way proposed, or to introduce plural voting for the favoured few would merely be the entrenchment of special privilege, which is repugnant to democratic ideas. The incentive to elevate the lower orders, in order that representative government may more closely conform to the ideal type, would be destroyed if such discrimination were sanctioned.—Hamilton Spectator.

LITERARY GEMS

Just as a matter of news it may be mentioned that the Ontario Legislature is still in session.

And now it's the Ontario Jockey Club that directs an attack upon the Hon. W. E. Raney. The Attorney-General would think there was something wrong if each week did not bring a fresh assault.

The Rotary Club is to be congratulated upon a successful week. The visit of Dr. Barker and the concert of the Scots Guard band were two events in which the Rotarians scored heavily.

Face Paint Versus Brains

The Christian Herald—The American people spend annually $750,000,000 for face powder, cosmetics and perfumeries and $1,000,000,000 for education. It is interesting to note that the amount America spends annually for face powder and its accompaniments is almost as much as she spends for her entire educational system. Looks as if America thought about as much of the outside of her head as of the inside. And as a matter of astounding fact, the amount actually spent by America for face paint annually exceeds all she pays for the salaries of the teaching in all the high schools who are trying to get something into the heads of pupils in between times while they are applying the paint on the surface.

Canada's Ambassador

Cardiff Western Mail: Although Mr. P. C. Larkin, the new High Commissioner of Canada, had only arrived in London late on Friday night, he was down at the offices in Victoria Street extremely early yesterday morning. He began to receive callers before the ordinary breakfast time of Park Lane, and commenced to deal with the hundreds of letters awaiting him. Under the new Canadian Government the position of High Commissioner has been considerably extended. In future all communications and activities, whether of a political or a commercial character, between Ottawa and Whitehall will be transacted through the Commissioner, who really assumes something like ambassadorial status. It was my privilege to be one of the first to call on Mr. Larkin. He told me that one of the first subjects he proposes to take up with the Government is the removal of the embargo on the importation of Canadian cattle, on which subject, by the way, the Minister of Agriculture here remains adamant.

MOTOR FEES TO PAY FOR ROADS.

Will Provide $25,000,000 For Immediate Use.

Within three years, construction work on the entire Provincial Highway System of 1,800 miles will be completed, if a bond issue of $25,000,000.00, poposed by the Honorable F. C. Biggs, is approved by the Legislature this month.

The plan of the Minister of Public Highyays is to capitalize a portion of the revenue from Motor Vehicle License Fees—$2,00,000.00 a year for the next twenty years—thus providing immediately a fund of approximately $25,000,000.00 for the construction work of the next three years. The Minister seeks, by an amendment to the Highway Improvement Act, to effect this object.

On seevral occasions te Ontario Motor League has urged the Government to adopt the scheme of capitalizing a portion of the revenue anticipated from Motor Vehicle Licenses Fees to provide funds for the building of the Provincial High ways. The League has advanced this as an alternative to the proposal to largely increase the annual motor license fees at the present time, and, therefore, the League heartily supports the principle embodied in the amendment proposed by Mr. Biggs.

What opposition there is to this amendment is based principally on the argument that the roads now being built will not last for 20 years and, therefore, will be worn out before their cost has been met through the retirement of the bond issue. This argument, however, is fallacious, as at least two-thirds of the whole work being done is of permanent value. Permanent work, such as the construction of bridges and culverts, grade reduction, drainage, cuts and fills, in fact all but the surface work will have as great a value 40 or 50 years from now as it will five years hence. So as far as surface work is concerned, the average surface should last from 10 to 20 years if good drainage is provided and a proper system of maintenance is established.

The revenue from Motor Vehicle License Fees last year was approximately $3,000,000.00. This revenue is increasing from year to year and if $2,000,000.00 annually is set aside by means of a bond issue for construction work, there will still be upwards of $1,000,000.00 remaining each year to provide for maintenance.

Long Distance puts the Big Warehouses at your Elbow

"No, I won't load up with a big stock" — said the enterprising but cautious dealer — "if they sell as well as we hope, I can easily get in touch with your house by Long Distance and order more of them."

Re-ordering by Long Distance makes it entirely practicable for dealers to carry small stocks, thus keeping down their capital investment, and yet not lose sales by being out of stock. The wholesaler's and manufacturer's warehouses are virtually at the dealer's elbow. The goods are often shipped the same day. "Sure, we'll ship on the 4.40", comes back the answer, making it certain that customers will not be disappointed.

It also enables dealers to try out the novelties and new styles people have been reading about and are asking for, on which the margin of profit is usually greater than on staple lines.

MRS. T. NORTHEY WAS FOUND DEAD

Deceased Was the First White Baby Born in Haultain. Apsley News.

APSLEY, May 8—Mrs. Thomas Northey, a resident of Haultain, died suddenly from apoplexy on Thursday morning, being found dead in bed. Mrs. Northey was in her sixtieth year and was the first white baby born in Haultain, where she has lived all her life. The funeral was held on Saturday, service at Eden Methodist Church being conducted at 9 a.m. by the Rev. W. Hall, the body being conveyed from thence to Lakefield cemetery for interment.

Ambulance Class

A St. John Ambulance Association Class is assured for Apsley. This was the gratifying outcome of a preliminary lecture given by Rev. W. Hall in St. George's Institute which was attended by fifty interested persons on Friday evening. The Rev. C. A. G. Spence presided and in a few words commended the project to the earnest attention of the audience as one that would prove of inestimable benefit to those residing in this part of the country. Mr. Hall, to whom is due the credit of launching the movement here, is a qualified St. John Ambulance man, and will conduct the class. He was fortunate in securing for this evening the two graduate nurses who are spending a holiday at their homes here, the Misses McFadden and Kilborne, who very kindly gave demonstrations in bandaging for fractures and wounds, which were followed with keen interest. After the lecture it was decided to at once form a class and twenty names were given in, so that success is assured. Votes of thanks were extended to the lecturer and demonstrators, and to the chairman for giving the use of the Parish Room for the classes which will be held on Friday evenings.

TURN HOTEL INTO KNITTING FACTORY.

Port Hope Knitting Co. Acquire New Premises.

(Port Hope Guide.)

The St. Lawrence Hotel building was sold this week and is at present being remodelled into an up-to-date knittin- plant. The company which has bought the building and will operate the plant will be known as Amalgamated Knitters and is composed of the Port Hope Knitting Company and other knitting companies. The building is large enough to combine al lthe plants into one and make one of the finest knitting works in Canada.

The growth of the local business has been remarkable, and although in its infancy as yet, has grown in a very short time to be known from coast to coast as the producers of the very finest grade of knit goods in Canada.

Mr. William Hood, the present manager and president, has been connected with the manufacture of high-grade knitted goods from his early childhood. His connection with the present knitting business dates from his return from France, where he suffered the loss of one of his legs in the Great War. This necessitated Mr. Hood being fitted with what is known as a stump sock and found difficulty in getting his requirements filled as up to that time there was no stump socks made in Canada. Knowing the knitting business thoroughly he offered to make the stump socks for the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Department of the Government and they were glad to avail themselves of the opportunity. He was given a small contract to start with and started to operate one knitting machine, but soon found that he had to have more machines to keep up with the work. From that time to the present he has been manufacturing all the stump socks bought by the Government for the maimed soldiers.

In the spring of 1920 Mr. Hood bought out the Hood Knitting Co. and moved both plants to the present site on Mill street. Here he went into the manufacture of pure wool knitted goods of the best quality, and the business kept right on growing. In November of 1920 the Port Hope Knitting Co. was incorporated, which was an amalgamation of the Port Hope Knitting Co., the Hood Knitting Co. and Wm. Hood, with capital of $40,000. The business soon outgrew the present quarters, and an opportunity being offered to amalgamate with other knitting plants, it was decided to unite and form a company known as Amalgamated Knitters, Limited, with capital of $250,000, as it was found advisable to get more working capital into the concern A Dominion charter is now being applied for.

With the addition of the amalgamated plants new lines will immediately be added and the business will be at once doubled with very little increase in the overhead expenses.

THE PROOF of CONCRETE'S LOW MAINTENANCE COST

THE earlier concrete pavements are now twenty years old. A large mileage is more than ten years old. Maintenance figures show more and more clearly the economy of concrete construction.

With increased experience in laying Concrete pavements, there have come improved methods of building them — with the result that the maintenance economies demonstrated by the earlier Concrete roads are further excelled by those of more recent construction.

Comparative maintenance figures may be misleading as they may not take into account differences in age or wide variations in the items included in the statements. Properly comparable figures will unmistakably point to the marked economy to be effected by building

Permanent Highways of Concrete

Directly comparable figures are given in the latest maintenance statement of the Toronto and Hamilton Highway Commission as they are compiled by one organization and refer to different portions of one continuous highway. The costs are for labor materials and superintendence on the surface only and are taken from the 1921 Report.

An Assured Income for Life

HE was a thoughtful man, and an affectionate husband and father. His income ran about $6,000 per year. His insurance policies totalled $5,000.

"Suppose anything happened to you, how long do you suppose $5,000 would last us?"

His wife put the question gently. It was a difficult one to put.

"Five thousand dollars at the present rate of going would last this family just one year!" replied her husband.

"And then what?"

There was no answer, save thoughtful silence. But in that silence one thoughtful and affectionate man was converted to the idea of adequate insurance — insurance that would yield an income for life.

Monthly Income Insurance issued by the Mutual Life of Canada is the modern way of providing for those dependent on you. Monthly Income Insurance perpetuates your income after you have gone. Income Insurance assures your family a monthly allowance after your death. Income Insurance is based on the proved fact that it is safer to leave a fixed income than a "lump sum."

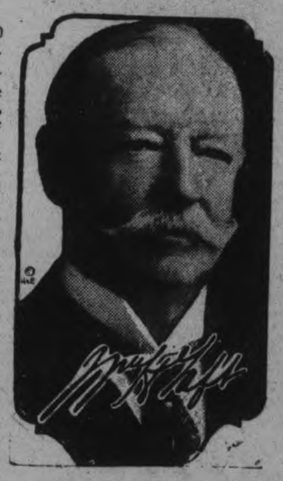
Analyzing Taft's Writing

BL ALBERT J. SMITH



WM. H. TAFT AND HIS SIGNATURE.

The right hand slope, about 70 degrees to the right of the perpendicular, is the normal slant of writing. Any deviation from this slope marks the tendency to abnormality, or the mental excitations of the over-developed faculties.

Ex-President William H. Taft writes the right slope normally. This assures us of his well-balanced mind, in the first place, and it tells us he is affectionate, kindly, considerate and good-natured.

Taft writes the round hand. It denotes constructiveness and order. It also signifies strength. cliberatiion, clearness of conception, good judgment, coolness, steadiness, thoughtfullness and a practical, patient and resolute character.

It is not nusal for talented persons to join the strokes in their signatre with one continuous sweep of the pen. Taft lifted his pen once in making the capital "H" but otherwise the conections are continuous.

The graceful, original manner of his connections is what counts here; it denotes logical erasoning powers. It implies that he has a practical turn of mind is instictively, careful and prudent, and does not make up his mind hastily on matters of importance.

That Taft is a jovial, happy, lighthearted disposition, probably full of fun and humor, is attested by the easy swing of his pen, the absence of heavy pressure, free free fro ostentation quips and curves sugesting a simplicity of effort in penning his name.

It is a beautiful nature—one so full of kindness and good will. Taft may have a judicial mind (the writnig in this specimen does not reveal this faculty), but he would not be a very great success in the intricacies of bsiness life. He is too conscientious.

The nature is more or less passive He depends on his expansive judgment and strong reasoning powers for achievement in the world of commercialism.

PUBLIC NOW SANER ABOUT "INSANITY."

"Little Bit Offs" Go Voluntarily For Treatment.

NEW YORK, May 8.—(Associated Press—.—The public is said to be becoming saner about insanity. Families used to feel it a terrible stigma if any of there kin was considered "a l ttle bit off," as the saying went. But thousands of such people now go voluntarily to free dispensaries "for nervous and mental disorders."

Last year 3,858 persons in New York State made 9,969 visits to the 40 such clinics conducted throughout the state. Only five or six years ago, such a thing was unknown, according to officials of the State Charities Aid Association, which is co-operating in the work.

This organization, pointing to statistics, which show the tuberculosis death rate dropped about 34 per cent from 3907, when the organized fight on the white plague began to 1920, expects to show the same results in its battle against insanity.

The war and the business depression that has followed caused a considerable increase in mental disorders, Aid Association officials declared. They have found, however, that serious worries and diseases are not the only waves that shove the mind off an even keel. Some people become unbalanced by too much recreation, just as others skid from the path of sanity because of overwork and domestic unhappiness.

What the Association intends to do is popularize information concerning the causes, treatment and prevention of mental disorders generally. It contends that 40 per cent of the 40,000 persons in New York State, who are now under treatment in asylums and h spitals for feeble-minded could have been saved from such a fate if the proper preventative measures had been taken in time. It feels that since the asylums of the country have a greater enrolment than the colleges, the people ought to be taught to have themselves examined by competent physicians if they fell queer, or if acquaintances so consider them.

The most hopeful sign for cutting down insanity is in the attitude of parents and teachers toward children, in the belief of the Aid Association.

"If we can help the queer children, we will have fewer queer grownups in the future," one official said.

Often the youngsters who are backward and queer merely need to have their tonsils or adenoids removed, the doctors have found. But others have complexes, inhibitions, and a neurosis or two fretting their young minds. In this connection, it was said that some of the doctors at the state hospitals make use of psychoanalysis, while others do not believe in it. Patients upon consultation often are told what to stop worrying about, and field agents go around to see how they are getting along. Others are discovered to be worse off than "merely nervous" as they most often describe their own condition, and occasionally these have to be sent to an institution.

Cultivation of health through proper habits of the mind and the cutting out of bad mental habits is one idea that those working on the problem hope to put into the public's head. Brooding over being snubbed by others or misfortune and injuries is the thing the experts want people to stop doing. Work instead of day dreaming, these experts say is a pretty good way to prevent getting lop-sided between the ears.

APPLY PRINCIPLE OF SEX EQUALITY.

Bill in Sweden to Give Women Equal Footing.

STOCKHOLM, May 8. —(Associated Press).—Admission of women to nearly all public offices on an equal footing with men is provided in a bill soon to be submitted to the Riksdag by the government. The principle of equality of the sexes in public service was virtually accepted by the Riksdag last year and the purpose of the present bill is to put it into practice from January 1, 1923.

The measure provides that women shall be admitted to all governmental posts except in the army and navy, diplomatic and consular service, which it is felt cannot be filled by women. They are also disqualified from occupying positions as officials of prisons and asylums for inebriates and of the customs and forestry service, involving work which men can perform better than women. Women will not be called upon to perform guard duty nor teach gymnastics to classes of men

There will be nothing to bar women from other high executive offices in public life heretofore regarded as reserved for men alone.

The Minister of Justice in discussing the bill, favors admitting women to Judicial offices. No distinction is made in the bill between married and unmarried women. But the Minister stated that no special discriminati n would be shown to married women in public office as regards her hours of work or fulfilling her duties.

BALTIC ENTENTE MAKES FOR PEACE.

RIGA, LATVIA, May 8.—(Associated Press).—The Baltic "Entente" formed by Poland, Esthonia, Latvia and Finland, in a convention held at Warsaw in March, is hailed by the Baltic press as a corner stone of peace for this part of Europe.

Details of the agreements contained in the convention supplementing the main points which we recabled at that time, have now been made public.

In view of the Russian suspicions that Poland was trying in this way to arrange an anti-Russian military alliance, it is interesting to note that the four states agreed that if one of them was attacked by another state without provocation, the other three would observe a favorable attitude toward the state attacked, so that essential steps could be taken without delay.

Representatives of the four countries mutually agreed that all conflicts and disputes between them should be settled in an amicable manner only.

All important questions upon which the four may be unable to agree, are to be referred to a court of arbitration in accordance with the rules of the League of Nations.

Each of the four contracting states is obliged in future to inform the other three states of the texts of agreements concluded by that state with any other nation.

The convention is to hold good for five years and to be automatically renewed thereafter from year to year unless a six months' notice of its abrogation is given. It is said in diplomatic circles that Lithuania may join the Baltic Entente cordiale later.

SMART SHOPS INTERPRET THE BRIDAL MODE

(BY MARIAN HALE).

The girdle has found its way into even the bridal outfit.

One of the loveliest of these, envisioned in a shop window, was of pearls, the size of a very large pea perhaps 15 strands of them, held together with novelty stones in the most delicate pinks and greens.

* * *

A few of the wedding gowns are short, for the jazz bride is with us yet, but the smarter brides are having the skirts of their gowns cut long with draping which reveals a pretty ankle as the wearer walks. Such a gown will be quite correct for dinner and evening wear during the coming winter—a thing which is to be considered since one no longer lays one's wedding gown away in lavender!

* * *

The melting softness of chiffon finds itself in some of the newer trains for brides who discard the idea of the satin court train. Such a train then at her receptions and social functions she attends after her wedding can be flung over the shoulder during dancing. Some of the newest trains are cut fan-like.

* * *

Sandals of white satin, with the fabric cut quite away at the instep, are the approved footwear for the summer bride. Her maids, whose gowns are usually of a delicate tone, will be shod in silver cloth.

* * *

The dainty voile of last year and the trim glove-silk knickers and vest of the winter have been discarded by those who keep quite abreast of the mode, and one finds in the smart bride's array of intimate garments loose slip-on things made of glove silk. These follow the lines usually given to only silk crepe or sheer fabrics.

* * *

Ribbons and bows are little used. Ribbons andb. etaoin shrdlu thmb Beading is scarcely a part of the fashionable bride's wardrobe. Instead her undergarments are finished with plain hems with two little button-holed openings through which a heavy, narrow piece of satin ribbon slides.

NEW EGYPTIAN FLAG

132 YEARS OF AGE. WORKS FOR LIVING.

BUENOS AIRES, May 8.—(Associated Press).—Antonio Rosas, a negro who is reputed to have been born 132 years ago in the African Congo, is still earning a living in Buenos Aires as a medicine man and ticket seller. He was not too old to put up a fight when three men held him up and robbed him a few days ago, but told a reporter he would have made a better showing if he had not "taken a drop too much." Antonio does not yet believe in prohibition.

Antonio claims to have been captured in the Congo when a child by French slave traders. The French ship on which he and other negroes were placed, was pursued and captured by an English vessel and taken to Madeira. He was brought to Argentina at the age of eight.

He saw the birth of the Argentine nation in 1810, and slavery abolished in 1813. In later years he adopted the surname of Rosas, after the famous Argentine tyrant, Rosas, of whom he was an admirer. He is one of the few negroes living in Buenos Aires.

Poland has coal mines which have been operated for more than a century.

M. Coue Embarrassed Could Not Work Miracle.

LONDON, May 8. — (Associated Press).—In the course of a lecture which M. Coue, the advocate of the theory of auto-suggestion, was giving here recently a blinded officer seated in the front row of the audience rose and exclaimed, "I am blind. Make me able to see. I have tried to make myself believe that I can see, but I can't. Now you try."

M. Coue endeavored to explain that there were limitations to auto-suggestuon, but the blind officer was not to be appeased. He insisted that his eyes were still there and that therefore M. Coue ought to be able to work the miracle and he sat down obviously sceptical of this new faith.

Airplanes Smuggling

BUENOS AIRES, May 8.—(Associated Press)—The airplane service for passengers inaugurated a few months ago by the English concern between Buenos Aires and Montevideo has been placed under customs supervision. The discovery was made recently that dutiable drugs were being transported from Montevideo by airplanes passengers in their baggage.

CHAPTER XXXI

OUR FIRST QUARREL.

I strung my beads on the linen thread while Jack finished his shaving. We hadn't expected to find each other perfect, I though I wasn't. But I did most things the best I could—here fell a few tears almost as large as my beads—and I had believed that Jaek had married me because he preferred me to all other women—more tears—but what Jack really wanted was to sit opposite Mrs. Herrod and make life on continual game of chess!

I tied the ends of my threads as neatly as possible. I heard my husband go to the closet for his coat. From my third story window I saw the postman coming up the street, and without speaking to Jack, I started down stairs after the mail.

"Peggins!" I heard Jack call. I did not answer. "Peg!" Come back here!'

My husband's voice was stern. Never had I heard him speak so. My prolonged silence in the morning had produced some reaction, I was pleased to note.

But if Jack was exasperated, at last, so was I. Iproceeded on my errand down stairs and paid no attention whatever to Mr. John Cuthbert Madison.

To be ordered—by a husband—like that! Who would have dreamed that my considerate Jack could be come so domineering? And what could a bride of spirit do but ignore a young husbands first harsh command?

The postman had left nothing in our box. I gave it a swift glance, and rushed out of doors.

I had just enough common sense left to realize that Jack had not seen the postman, had not understood why I was going down stairs without him, had not asked why, wouldn't have let me go for the mail had he known, would have gone himself.

Moved I know not by what streak of stubbornness, I flew out of the house, hearing Jack on the stairs just before the door slammed behind me. A score of steps took me around the corner of the building.

I wanted to get away from Jack wanted to think alone, wanted him to miss me.

How could I make him feel that he needed me, that already I had become indispensable as long as I stayed at home and made him comfortable, as long as I amsued him? That had been woman's ancient way. What had it got for her? For my own mother it ended in divorce.

Well, I had learned from mother's experience.

I would not forgive Jack too easly that I decided, although by this time I was not very clear about what Jack ought to be forgiven.

And how was I to guess that Jack imagined the impossible, that he had divined my hurt about Mrs. Herrod, and that when I left our suite, he believed that I was leaving him, he knew not how long.

(To Be Continued).

SAVED HER FROM AN OPERATION

So Thinks Mrs. Tracey of Ontario, Regarding Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Knightington, Ontario.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the change of life for troubles that women often have at that time. I had not been well for a year and was not really able to do my work. A friend who had taken the Vegetable Compound herself recommended it to me and I think its use saved me from an operation. I highly recommend it to all women who have troubles like mine, and am willing for you to use my testimonial."—Mrs. Daniel J. Tracey, Knightington, Ontario.

Some female troubles may through neglect reach a stage when an operation is necessary. But the more common ailments are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same.

When disturbing symptoms first appear take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles.

EASIER LAUNDERING

If the clothes which must be washed are put into a tub of luke warm soapy water the night before, the rubbing on wash day will be considerably lessened. Colored clothing and stockings should not be allowed to thus remain in water, however.

HEMORRHOIDS

Do not suffer another day with Itching, Bleeding, or Protruding Piles or Hemorrhoids. No surgical operation required. Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you at once and afford lasting benefit. 60c a box; all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Sample box free.

SUMMER WASH FABRICS

That Unfolds and Reveals Yards and Yards of Delightful Materials Radiant in Color and Wonderful in Weave and Finish

EVERY color in the rainbow is represented and also many shades that the rainbow never knew. To look upon them is as refreshing as to gaze upon a bright summer landscape, gorgeous with tints from the brush of "Mother Nature." To let one's mind dwell upon them and picture their possibilities, in the mind's eye blending colors and fashioning the material in becoming ways, will prove a pleasant pastime. Of course, the supreme moment will be after skilful fingers have made the material into the finished garment and madame steps forth clad in her new raiment.

With Every Dress Length Purchased of These Advertised Lines, You Can Select any Butterick Pattern and no Charge Will be Made for It.

Dotted Swiss Muslins in a Rainbow of Colors

THE demand for dotted Swiss muslins is unabated. We anticipated the vogue and secured a comprehensive assortment. To make sure we got the genuine Swiss quality we imported them direct from the maker in Switzerland. They are certainly sheer and crisp, and these are the qualities that make muslin of this order so popular.

Twenty-Nine Inch Dotted Swisses Are $1.75 Yard

You want an entire Dress of this material or just enough to combine with Organdie, and you cannot decide what colour to choose. It is really not a difficult matter, if you come here to make the decision. A more complete assortment would be hard to find.

In coloured grounds, with White dots, you can have: Jade Green, China Blue, Russet, Helio, Rose, Navy and Black. In coloured grounds and coloured dots there are: Navy with Red, White with Navy, and White with Pale Blue.

Thirty-One Inch Dotted Swisses $2.25 Yard

These have tiny White pin-head dots on coloured grounds—Jade, Rose, Pink, Pale Blue, Lavender, China Blue, Navy and Black. Also a Black ground with a Yellow dot.

Plain White Dotted Swisses

You can have a small or a medium dot in a 30-inch width that comes at $1.25 yard. A finer grade, in a 31-inch width and a medium size dot, is $1.50 yard.

Organdie Present Some Wonderful Possibilities

IT is so soft and fine and airy like that one can easily associate it with those mythical fairies that once seemed so wonderful and are inseparable from childhood fancies. The makers have succeeded in producing some amazing colors in it this season. We want you to see them for the mere names of the shades will convey very little to you of their real beauty.

FORTY-FIVE INCH PLAIN ORGANDIE, $1.25 YARD

It is an imported quality with a permanent finish. Picture, if you can, such lovely shades as dandelion, canary, rose, grey, tomato, cinnamon, sea-foam green, pink, rose-bud, flesh, lavender, cadet, cardinal, pale blue, orchid, maize, navy and black.

ORGANDIES WITH THE PLAINNESS RELIEVED BY DOTS AND SHAMROCKS

A new and pleasing note is sounded and one that promises to have many followers. They come in all the beautiful shades of the plain colors.

The dots are about the size of a pea. You can have maize, rose, pink, cadet blue, lavender with self-colored dots; also navy with red. THE SHAMROCKS are small and neat and come in self colors of sea-foam green, orchid, lavender, pink and light blue; also navy with red, white with black, white with orchid, white with pale blue and white with pink.

Thirty-six inches wide, $1.95 yard.

FOR sport garments is there anything that can equal ratine? It is heavy enough to be durable and uneven enough in the weave to make it decidedly an outing fabric. For the separate skirt it is ideal, and many an attractive dress can be made of it.
We have a very excellent quality that sells at $1.45 yard, and is 36 inches wide. Presented in a color range of rose, mauve, pink, maize, sea green and plain white.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE SHEER, COLOURED LINEN FOR FROCKS? IT IS 36 INCHES WIDE, AND $1.65 YARD

Its principal use is for Dresses for Children and Grown-ups, but there is much of it being sold for the Coloured Handkerchiefs that are so much in vogue.

You can have Yellow, Saxe Blue, Pink, Rose, Cadet, Helio or Nile Green.

COLOURED DOTTED BATISTE IS $1.50 YARD

Many consider this to be the ideal fabric for Dresses. It is firmer than Voile and softer than Organdie. With self-colored dots you can have Light Blue, Apricot, Pink, Rose, Mauve, Cadet and Nile. Also Navy Blue with White dots. The width is between 39 and 40 inches.

SWISS BATISTE IS AGAIN PROCURABLE

This Batiste is much superior to the grades that have been on the market for several seasons. It is much firmer and finer and good through and through.

A plain White in 47-inch width is 75c a yard. A still better quality is $1.25 yard.

A VOILE FROCK IN YOUR WARDROBE

An easy thing to have, surely, when Voiles of such amazing charm as these can be purchased. And simple to make, for prettily patterned Voiles like these require very little trimming.

A very lovely quality is 40 inches wide and 89c yard. The ground colours are Navy, Copen and Black, and the patterns are dainty, conventional designs, showing White Dice, Diamond and Floral effects.

BLUE BIRD AND BUTTERFLY CREPES, 49c YARD

A very delightful quality, known as "Windsor," greatly favoured for Kimonas, Dressing Sacques, Lingerie, etc. The width is 31 inches, and obtainable in Pink, Pale Blue, Maize, and White, with Blue Bird and Butterfly patterns.

Canada Steamship Line Expansion Keeps Pace With Transportation Developments of Entire Country

Steady Growth of Canada's Largest Transportation Company From River Line to Complete Unit of Transportation From Head of Canadian Lakes to British and European Markets —Company's Financing Has to Grow With Addition of New Services.

It was only a few years ago that the centenary of steam navigation on the St. Lawrence was observed. Since the first crude craft was propelled up the river current by steam power there have been a series of wonderful developments which rank prominently in the industrial and economic annals of the Dominion.

The various stages of development of river craft as passenger and cargo carriers stand out distinctively to those who have followed the history of Canadian navigation. As a correlative development the industrial development of the territory served can be definitely traced.

As the country grows and its commerce expands the transportation facilities must of necessity keep pace. The tremendous value of our chief waterway as it stands to-day, and without which Canada's industrial history would have been dwarfed, suggests what the possession of the St. Lawrence and the Great Lakes will mean a few decades hence.

Growing Up With the Dominion.

At the same time the development of traffic facilities must take place at a tremendous rate to keep up with the requirements. It is only a comparatively few years ago that the business was done by the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company and a few lesser barge companies carrying grain in small bottoms. Then came Canada Steamship Lines, with its acquisition of the principal facilities for river and lake transportation, later developing into a transatlantic carrier.

This company can no more stand still in its development than the current of the St. Lawrence can cease its progress to join the waters of the Atlantic. One sees in the present offering of bonds which the company is now making to the investment public one of the signs which are merely incidental to the onward march of events as they affect the Dominion as a whole.

This cannot be regarded as a local incident. It is one of the broader measurings of our future capacity to carry on. The larger the funnel of our country's productiveness grows so must the spout extend its size to permit of the outflow to the markets of the world beyond the seas.

Keeping pace with Transportation.

Canada Steamships is one of the vital factors in the task of keeping the spout big enough to perform its function. If it is to do this adequately it must from time to time seek the means from the investment public. There can be hardly any question of the value of this class of security. The service is so vital to the nation that it must be maintained in first-class efficiency and the security should rank in the same class as high-grade railway bonds.

With the trade of the Dominion continually expanding, as the western country increases its production, it will prove one of the most interesting incidents of our economic expansion to watch the growth of the shipping facilities of the lakes and St. Lawrence in which Canada Steamships will have such an important part to play.

RETIRED GUARDS MET LIEUT. WOOD

Four Former Soldiers of the Scots Guards Renewed Old Attachment

The visit of the Scots Guards band had more interest than music to the four former soldiers of the regiment who were introduced to Lieut. F. W. Woods, conductor of the band at the C.P.R. station on Saturday evening. These ex-Guardsmen now living in Peterboro are Tom Miller, John Cross, Edward Griffin and James Mackin. They were all members of the first battalion of the Scots Guards and their combined service covered sixty years. Lieut. Wood said that he had been particularly requested by Col. A. H. E. Cator, C.B., D.S.O., commanding officer of the regiment, to keep a list of all the retired Guardsmen whom he met on the present tour of Canada. Lieut. Wood chatted with the four men about the dates of their service and told them that it was a special pleasure to meet in Canada men who had once been with the old regiment.

Lieut. Wood was met at the station by a numerous deputation including Ald. Hamilton, representing Mayor Taylor, Col. A. W. McPherson, M.D., John Crane, Fred L. Roy, and other Rotarians, H. J. Staunton and S. Whatley, president and secretary respectively, o the G.W.V.A., Rupert Gliddon, bandmaster of the 57th Rangers, Adjutant Buntin and Bandmaster Robinson of the Salvation Army, J. J. Duffus of the Chamber of Commerce, and also by the Calcdonian Pipe band and others.

A big crowd had gathered at the station and met the band with round of cheers as they stepped from the train .The conductor and the bandsmen smiled their pleasure at the warmth of the reception, and Lieut. Wood acknowledged the crowd's cordiality by playing a short programme of Rule Britannia, Colonel Bogey and God Save the King. On Sunday the bandsmen were variously entertained, but one of them found his own amusement fishing in the creek beside the station for three hours and finally caught one of the multitude of suckers that have come up with the Spring. The band left in the afternoon for Toronto leaving pleasant memories of a trip which in its effort and cause—or the benefit of the G.W.V.A.—deserves to be a financial success.

CITY OF MOSCOW IS LIKE BATTLEFIELD.

Streets Unrepaired and Pavements Cratered.

MOSCOW, May 8. — (Associated Press) —The shielding blanket of snow has left Moscow and revealed a city of mud and slush and unrepaired, cratered pavements, like a battlefield pock-marked by shell holes; and the city stands out in all its revloution-torn ugliness.

Droshkies, or Russian cabs, drawn by disconsolate looking horses, career from melting ice hillocks to slush crater, jogging their passengers like a bumping device in an amusement park. Here and there is a sleigh, a hopeless relic from the more charitable days of winter, drags painfully from bare pavement to slush oasis with a load of wood.

Automobiles, which seem recklessly driven by hard-faced chauffeurs, splutter, chug, and whir past, throwing muddy water over pedestrian and droshky passenger alike.

To the stranger, Moscow seems to be the place designed as the Hades where all bad automobiles go when they die. There are a good few, new models but, for the Hrt fngt Wsd JMoptWprMe rbouts and lorries which speed through Moscow's streets, generally laden with roughly dressed Soviet officials or Red Army officers are of a pre 1914 vintage, one lunged ghosts from the scrapheap, coughing bad gasoling and pouring out smoke barrages of oil fumes.

The sanitary condition of the city is almost unimaginable to western strangers. A report of the Moscow Soviet recently said there were millions of barrels of refuse and sewage in the dump yards, unable to be moved because of the transport shortage.

Less than 30 per cent of Moscow's houses have complete sewage and running water facilities and many drain pipes are so blocked with the refuge of years that they are useless.

Some efforts are to be made this coming summer toward sewage repair and, here and there, the city's dirginess is being relieved by a bit of paint as private shopkeepers touch up their new establishment.

HAMID BEY WOULD SHIELD CHRISTIANS.

Resigns Governorship As Protest to Persecutions.

ADANA—TURKEY, May 8.—(Associated Press).—Hamid Bey, who has been governor of Cilicia, the Southern Turkish province, since its evacuation by the French troops, has just resigned his post as a protest against the manner in which the soldiers of Kemal Pasha have treated the Christain population.

It had been charged that officers of the Turkish Nationalist army and Turks who have no respect for law have been roaming the Armenian quarters in the cities and towns of Cilicia molesting women and children and committing various crimes.

They are alleged to have extorted loans from the frightened Christians, without intention of ever repaying them.

When Governor Hamid protested, Kemal Pasha is reported to have replied only: "This is war."

Before leaving Adana, Hamid Bey declared in an interview that he was disgusted with the attitude and behaviour of the military authorities who, he said, considered the promises given to France to protect the Armenians as a scrap of paper. After recalling the heavy sacrifices of the Turkish territory as a consequence of the war, he added:

"We Turks must first learn to respect the rights of minorities if we are to win the good will of nations. France and England would never be willing to restore to us Asia Minor unless we prove to them our capacity for good and just govermnent.

Leading Armenians here assert that, despite signed pledges and proclamations Kemal Pasha ordered that all Greek Christians and Armenians be dismissed from all administrative posts. This threw hundreds of Christians out of employment and left their families without means of support, so that they must look to charity for subsistence.

Armenians charged also that, in the last few months, thousands of Turks have invaded Cilicia and helped themselves to any vacant or unprotected property belonging to Christians without compensation.

SUMMER COMPLEXIONS

BY HELEN RUBINSTEIN
Famous Beauty Specialist

If one is beautiful, then one can twist the world around her fingers.

And, since a lovely face is a source of more genuine delight and happiness than fine furs, frills and feathers, let's have one. Because a lovely face is largely a matter of clear skin clear eyes, and mental poise.

With summer near, summer complexions simply must be given a little attention, for some skins do burn and freckle so! There is no excuse for a waste of charm even though you motor, golf, ride and spend most of your day in the sun and wind. Outdoor pleasure is quite compatible with complexion beauty if some thought and the emarest fraction of time be devoted to it.

Before leaving the house the face should have a slight coating of a sunproof and windproof cream. This should be thoroughtly patted into the skin with the finger tips, using an upward motion. Then a light dusting of powder! Your powder, by the way, should be lighter in summer than in winter. During the latter season a powder which is part skin food is excellent. For summer, something with less body is good.

Returning home, do not wash your face with soap and water! Wash it, if you must, but wait at least an hour and then be sure that you have first calmed and cleaned your skin with a good skin food or lotion.

After washing, when your face is nicely dry rub in a skin toning lotion and then dry again with a soft cloth.

The finish should be a light dusting of powder.

Anniversary Services Were Held at St. Andrew's Church Yesterday

Rev. D. T. L. McKerroll of Victoria Church, Toronto, Was the Special Preacher for the Occasion.

The services celebrating the eighty-ninth anniversary of the founding of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, were well attended yesterday. The church was filled both morning and evening, and the special preacher for the occasion, Rev. D. T. L. McKerroll, of Victoria Church, Toronto, proved to be a splendid preacher, whose forceful eloquence held the rapt attention of his congregations at both services.

In the morning, Rev. Mr. McKerroll's sermon was of a high spiritual order, based on the virtues of faith, hope and charity, of which he declared charity, or love, was the greatest. The importance of love in all human relationships was emphasized, the love which springs from God, and has for its foundation not only the charity which gives material things to those in want, but stresses primarily the touch of personal service so distinctively manifested in the life of Christ, during his earthly sojourn. The effect of personal service in dealing with erring humans was illustrated by a story of a missionary whose gifts of food and clothing to a hardened reprobate had no inward effect on the man's soul, beyond a triumphant realization of his ability to get something for nothing. It was the final personal service of the missionary in taking up the man's old, worn shoes and carrying them carefully away that touched his heart.

The power which comes from God, the liberty and freedom that springs from true service to the Creator, was also emphasized. Temptations and difficulties in life are faced with a sense of cringing impotence in the case of the man who is not in communion with the Saviour, while a head erect and shoulders squared against evil is the attitude of him who has drawn power and inspiration from a spiritual source. The power of Jesus to help in "climbing the hill and breasting the stream of life" was brought out in the verse which ended the speaker's morning oration.

The Evening Service

The evening sermon was devoted to a consideration of some of the practical aspects of life. The fallacy of the idea which declares that a man may live his own life without a guide of some sort, was illustrated in telling fashion by a similitude to the attitude of a man seeking a new suit. Taking a bolt of cloth to a poor tailor, he is confronted by a man who goes at his task in haphazard fashion, taking no measurements and using no pattern, turning out a suit that has no fit or appearance, and the worst of the matter is, that a bolt of cloth treated in this fashion can never be redeemed. It is ruined for all time." In life, one must have a pattern, and follow it. That is the only logical mode of procedure.

Examples from the Bible were give, followed the vision vouchsafed him, the pattern that led him aright: the sample of Joseph, who avoided temptation of a low order, and became a shining light among the Israelites: the example of Jacob, who was eager for success, and took advantage of every opportunity to enrich himself. He accumulated the wealth he desired, but when he came to enter the Promised Land, it was a a cripple, with a broken thigh, his powers limited because of the shackles he had placed upon his soul.

Three types of people were held up as examples by the preacher, the tpye that seeks only for worldly gain, and gives little attention to spiritual things; the type that seeks for gain and culture at the same time; and the type that looks to God first, and strives at the same time to improve in material ways. Mr. Rev. McKerroll was of the opinion that a man should try to make a success in worldly matters as far as possible, and as long as his material success did not interfere with spiritual advancement.

To young men who believed that sowing of wild oats was necessary, the speaker delivered a solemn warning. They were not following the ideal pattern set for all in the life of Christ, and an illustration was given of the ultimate paymen' for such folly in the story of the young man whose father urged him to drive a nail in a pine board after every moral lapse. Finally, the son came to his father with a board entirely filled with nails. Being adjured to retrace his steps, and take out a nail for every time that temptation was resisted, he came later with a board free of nails. "But, father," he said, "look at the holes in the board," these holes typifying in the speaker's opinion, the scars on the soul of every young man who persists in following the wild oats theory.

Special Music

The music at St. Andrews' yesterday was particularly good, and received complimentary remarks from all sides. The choir, under the leadership of Mr. John Crane, rendered some beautiful selections, including "By Babylon's Wave," and then anthem, "God is a Spirit," both unaccompanied. The anthem, "Spirit Immortal," had solo work taken by Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Park and Mr. John Smith, and Mrs. Park sang in splendid voice, Oakley's "Evening and Morning." The Imperial Male Quartette, with Mrs. M. Park, rendered "Abide With Me" with fine effect.

MRS. EDMONDS MAKES GAIN OF FIFTEEN POUNDS

"I Honestly Believe Tanlac Saved Her Life," Declares Husband in Remarkable Statement Praising Master Medicine.

"The way Tanlac has restored my wife's health and built her up makes me one of the happiest men in Canada," said Wm. A. Edmonds, 398 King Edward Street, Winninpeg .

"Two years ago her health began failing and she suffered terribly from indigestion, gas on the stomach and heart palpitation. Her head and back pained her continually and she had nervous spells when she would shake like a leaf .Finally her strength left her entirely and she was confined to her bed for one solid year .

"Everything possible was done for her and almost asa last resort, I had her try Tanlac. After taking it awhile she began to improve, and today her health if fully restored. She is not only in splendid health, but she has gained fifteen pounds in weight. I honestly believe Tanlac saved her life, and I am more than grateful.'

Tanlac is sold by all good drug gists.

NOT DEPENDENT

WASHINGTON, April 8.— Uncle Sam is no longer dependent upon Bermuda and Japan for the great white, bell-mouthed lilies that form the center of home and church decorations at Easter time.

Horticultural experts of the Department of Agriculture are now producing both bulbs and flowering plants of the Easter lily from seed.

Entirely New Line

Surplus seed and bulblets produced in lily propagation work at the government's Arlington experimental farm have been distributed to florists and private horticulturists. From these are expected to grow an entirely new line of lily culture which ultimately will supply the American market fully without dependence on imported bulbs.

To date, however, the volume of bulbs and plants produced from seed is not enough of a factor to increase visibly the supply or reduce prices. In another year, however, American propagated lilies should be a controlling factor in stabilizing the prices of lilies at Easter time.

Just now, with increasing demand at the approach of Easter, prices are beginning to climb. Florists explain this by saying there is a shortage of imported bulbs due to floods in Japan.

Government horticulturists here say they have no advices as to floods in Japan affecting the lily bulb supply.

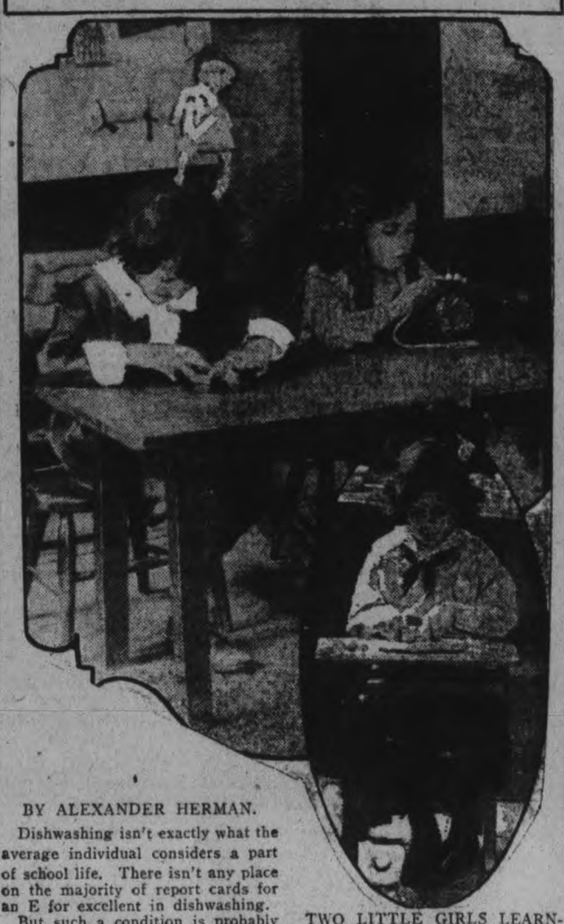
On the contrary they point to the statistics covering importations and show that the value of flower bulbs of all sorts imported so far this year is about one-third, or more than $1,000,000 more than for the same period a year ago

Not Difficult

Propagation of Eastern lilies from seed is not a difficult job, Uncle Sam's gardeners say, and can be undertaken by any lover of flowers with good chances of success.

In fact, there is no good reason why the Easter lily, in the greater part of the United States, cannot be made a home flower, available to everybody at Easter-time, instead of a high-priced, artificially forced hot-house bloom.

STUDENTS LEARN THROUGH THEIR OWN CREATIVE EFFORTS



BY ALEXANDER HERMAN.

Dishwashing isn't exactly what the average individual considers a part of school life. There isn't any place on the majority of report cards for an E for excellent in dishwashing.

But such a condition is probably just in the offing, for already New York boasts of one school with such a report card — the Social Motive School.

Life, at Social Motive School, begins with a doll and the informing of boy students that dollie must have a bed to sleep in and a chair to sit on, while the girls are told that dollie needs dresses to wear and pretty covers for the bed.

Traces Source.

The little folk are taught, then, to make the things which dollie needs.

"No longer," says Miss Bertha M. Bentley, principal, "is school life something separate from the outside world. Instead, it is the means of understanding life. Every school activity should be an experience increasing the social efficiency of the child.

"The little girl knitting the sweater for the doll traces the wool back to the lamb. The boy building the house learns about lumbering.

"Before they are through," explains Miss Bentley, "they all know about the necessities of life—food, shelter, and clothing."

There is little discipline in the classrooms. The children are too busy to need it.

Interested.

"They soon learn that the best way to get along is to help each other," Miss Bentley says. "By approaching every problem in the school through the real needs and situations of life, interest in the work is genuine and intense.

"Geography, English, history, arithmetic, drawing and music all fit into the work. In studying food supplies, the children learn about transportation, climates, land and water forms and maps. In making pottery they read about the Greeks and the Romans and learn history.

"When they are finished, they are as fully finished in cultural matters as other well trained children."

The Scots Guards Concert

Peterboro greeted the band of the Scots Guards with a splendid audience at the armouries on Saturday night. In its musical aspect the succes of the concert was a foregone certainty, but the promoters must have had some last minute misgivings about the gate receipts on a rainy Saturday night . Any doubt in that respect, however, was quickly routed. The attendance probably exceeded 3,000, a fine big assemblage comfortably occupying almost the whole of the parade floor and the two galleries They were eager to welcome Lieutenant Fred Wood and his thirty-two musicians, handpicked from the regular band of some sixty players of whom technical proficiency is an essential qualifivation. With the band were also three pipers and dancers of the Guards.

The warmth of the crowd's reception ,the mtual friendliness that was felt more than expressed, the deep respect and attachment for these representatives of the Guards of 1914 and after, were factors that immediately created a palpable atmosphere of understanding and unity that was curiously heightened by the soft patter of rain on the roof. That same prevading sense of concord and solidarity finaly found utterance to the thoughts [illegible] it—and they were long, long thoughts—in the extra number "Abide With Me" happily chosen by Lieut. Wood and at his behest sung by the crowd, If that detail was calculated, the conductor showed his prescience of the psychologp of a Canadian audience when a Guards band is with them; it it was merely fortuitous Lieut. Wood might be well advised to incorporate it in most of his programmes.

It should not depreciate from the public's affection for the Scots Guards and admiration of their performance to nention the fact that this concert was given under the auspices of the local Rotary Club, and further to remark that Rotary has proved a touchstone of success in all its undertakings.

The programme was all that had been expected for the omission of "Finlandia" by Sibelius which Lieut. Wood eliminated out of consideration, he said, for his audience. "It would have been past eleven o'clock had we played it" he told the Examiner, 'and I didn't wish to detain the people until that hour.' It would have been a pleasant detention, but, after all, the concert ran well over two hours and a half.

The Programme.

The programme included the overture to Tannhauser and the Entrance of the Gods into Valhalla by Wagner; the Nut Cracker suite and the 1812 overture by Tschaikowsky, scherzo and finale irom Beethoven's C minor symphony, and Bach's G minor fugue, and a suite from "L' Arlesienne" by Bizet. The two Russian numbers, not infrequently appearing on the same programme, represent antipodal subjects which incidentally afford a rather interesting contrast. The Nut Cracker suite is a fairy story a delightful play of fancy ballet form about a little girl and her nutcracker in the land of toys and sugar plums. It includes the charming Waltz of the Flowers and dance of the Meriltons (the little red musical toys). The 1812 overture is a story of war, brooding and portentous in its opening passages, and culminating in a clamour of victory celebrating the defeat of Napoleon before Moscow. In its second part recurring snatches of the "Marseillaise' and the Russian National hymn "God Preserve Thy People" are heard, and it concludes with a fanfare of brass and drums and joyous peals of church chimes. The tremendous finale with its deliberate appeal to the emotions conjuring up memories of armistice day, the spirit of which it seemed so vividly embodying revealed the band's surprising resource of power. Lieut. Wood was the master of every mood from the thundering epic of the Solonelle to the enchanting poetry and gentle rhythm of the Valse des Fleurs and the whirling measures of the Trepak dance. These two Tschaikowsky numbers were perhaps the most popular of the evening. In their presentation and also in the Wagner selection the misssing orchestral colour of the strings was noticed, but more as a matter of wonder that Lieut. Wood could accomplish such richness and depth of tone and orchestral effect with the comparatively few instruments at his command. One likes to single out for special mention the well known G minor Fugue made familiar at organ recitals. The memory of it as played by the Scots Guards is more insistent than either the sprightly minuetto or the tender adagietto of the Bizet suite, in which the wood section of the band exhibited a rare sweetness of tone, or the striking passages from Tannhauser. The contrapuntal treatment of the hunting subject of the fugue played with a precision that lost nothing of resonance surely demonstrated that Bach is not out of place at such a concert. It was a highly interesting number that proved a delight to the audience.

The entire programme was given with a uniform excellence of technio that is a hallmark of the bands of all the Guards regiments. Beauty of tone, pure and clear, was a feature of Lieut Wood's band, not only in its orchestral voice but also in the individual instruments. In this respect may be recalled the euphonium solo 'Annie Laurie" given as an extra by Corporal Scannell, and the cornet solo "Abide With Me" by Sergeant H. B. Hamilton emphasize the color and excellence of that was noted also in the other soloists including Sergeant Holmes, who played the piccolo and got a remarkably full tone out of his instrument, Sergeant L. J. Davis oboe soloist and Corporal Randall first clarinet whose work was frequentlyy conspicious throughout the programme.

The large audience gladly made the acquaintance of Lieut. Wood himself. As a conductor his presence is calmly confident but unobtrusive and in that respect he fits in with the tradition of the British conductors who have been heard here at intervals that have been all to far apart but unavoidably so. A perusal of the four programmes that that have been chosen for most of the cities in this tour affords ample evidence of his musicianship. There is a certain reserve in his method but nothing stiff or formal.

The pipers provided an entertaining interlude that everyone enjoyed especially the many Gaels who were present. Pipe-Major Ross and Pipers Guthrie and Reid were greeted with rounds of applause as they paraded around the hall, and the dancing of the latter two appeared to be perfect. It left something of a regret that the old ideals of folk dancing have not been more generally preserved, and also the satisfaction that Scotsmen still cherish their national customs.

Voice of the People

MR. WORTH AND THE SUPERVISED PLAYGRORNDS

To the Editor of The Examiner.—
Dear Sir,

In the discussion at the Board of Education last Tuesday evening re supervised playgrounds, Trustee Mr. Worth said "that he was on the Board to look after the interests of the public schools in Peterborough." Mr. Worth is right and I wish to point out just how true his words are.

Mr. Worth is a member of the Board of Education which controls not only the public schools of Peterborough but also the Collegiate Institute. The latter is supported not only by Public School ratepayers, but also by Separate School supporters. No Separate School supporter, however, may vote for or against Mr. Worth or any member of, or candidate for, the Board of Education; so that, while Mr. Worth may spend the money of Separate School ratepayers he is in no wise beholding to them for his election.

This is what Separate School ratepayers complain of, and which the Attorney General of this province described as "rank injustice." It is true that after the manner of Treaty Indians, the Separate School Board is allowed to appoint one delegate on the Board of Education: this sham deceives no one, for it remains that Separate School supporters have no voice directly or indirectly in the election of nine-tenths of a Board that spends their money.

Mr. Worth stated that "it was unfair to ask the public school supporters to maintain the grounds." A man with a delicate sense of fairness is worthy of commendation. Will Mr. Worth carry his sense of fairness to the extent of agitating for the removal of the above injustice done separate school supporters?

Does Mr. Worth understand that every separate school ratepayer in Peterborough and throughout the province is directly contributing to the support of the public schools? The National Railways, the Hydro-Electric and all Dominion and provincially owned utilities are forced by law to pay all their taxes to the public schools, notwithstanding the fact that public and Separate School ratepayers are joint owners of these institutions? Does Mr. Worth think this fair?

Does Mr. Worth think it fair that his factory, and every factory that has received assistance from the city of Peterborough—receiving such assistance from the combined efforts of separate and public school supporters—should pay all their school taxes to the public schools only?

These are a few questions that suggested themselves to me when I read Mr. Worth's statements at the Board of Education the other evening.

Mr. Worth however, is mistaken when he says that 52% of the children enjoying the playgrounds were children of the Separate Schools. Representations were made to the City Council that 1200 children would be without playgrounds if the grant were not made. By actual count in the Separate Schools, about 20% of this number visited even once the playgrounds from the Separate Schools, and the number who attended regularly was much smaller.—Respectfully yours, J. H. Giroux, Chairman Separate School Board.

THE HUMAN BODY AS A MAGNET

Left—A Striking Line-of-Force Diagram of the Magnetism Observed in the Subject's Hand. The Same Diagram Is Shown, Alone and Superposed, Upon the Subject's Hand.

Right—When the Subject Pushes His Arm Through a Coil of Wire, the Magnetic Force Therein Is Sufficient to Induce an Appreciable Current in the Coil.

HOW the human body actually may be like a living magnet and how this similarity is closely connected with physiological and psychic phenomena is said to be setting scientists on many new lines of investigation which promise some astounding discoveries not only relating to the body, but to the soul itself. Such, at least, is the conclusion reached by Fritz Grunewald, an investigator who recently concluded a series of remarkable experiments on a human subject.

The body of the subject used in these demonstrations is really a living magnet, for he is able with his hands to deflect the magnetic needle, his two hands showing opposite polarity. Prof. Grunewald's experiments are described in The Scientific American by Dr. Alfred Gradenwitz, who says he knows personally the subject, a man described as Mr. P. I.

"That this action on the magnetic needle," says Dr. Gradenwitz, "actually is to be ascribed to magnetical rather than electrical or any other effects, was shown conclusively; for on pushing his hand through a coil of copper wire, the person experimented on would induce there an electric current, indicated by the deflection of an ammeter connected with the coil, just in the same way as by pushing through the coil a magnet bar.

"It was, of course, interesting to ascertain whether the will of the person would exert any influence on these phenomena. This was soon found actually to be the case. Mr. P. I., with his hand kept perfectly motionless, was able to alter the magnetic force and, accordingly, the current intensity, by as much as 10 per cent.

"By examining the whole body of the person as to the presence of magnetism, Grunewald has been able so far to ascertain that the hands, arms and, temporarily, his head will exhibit magnetic properties. By means of iron filings spread out on a glass plate he has in the usual manner produced pictures of the lines of magnetic force. In several cases the existence of two poles, marked as bright spots on the remaining filings and from which the lines of force would spring forth, could be stated on these magnetic pictures above the person's hand. With an experiment made on the person in a hypnotized condition, Mr. Grunewald could even count no less than 14 different magnetic centres.

"Especially interesting are the relations between magnetism and physiological phenomena, as discovered by the experimenter: The deflection of a magnetic needle arranged above the hand would undergo an alternation corresponding to the rhythm of breathing, increasing during inspiration and decreasing during expiration. Not less striking was the fact that the magnetism, which in the morning, immediately after getting up, showed a negligible value, would in the course of the day undergo an increase after each meal.

"Though the existence of a vital energy as asserted by 'magnetopathists' is as yet denied by most medical men, Grunewald would seem to have been the first to demonstrate in a palpable, objective way, by the use of his ballistic method, the existence of a vital energy transferable from one person to the other. In the case of 115 'magnetic' treatments carried out by Mr. P. I. since 1917, he was able to ascertain a decrease of magnetic intensity attending, it would seem, the giving off of vital energy. In fact, after such a treatment, lasting, as a rule, for a quarter of an hour, this intensity would drop to one-third of its initial figure, and in cases where Mr. Grunewald himself underwent the treatment, the most marked decrease would, strange to say, be noted whenever, previous to the treatment, he had felt especially weak, that is, had been especially in need of a supply of vital energy.

"In order now to make sure whether the weakening of the action exerted by the magnetic needle is not simply due to the physical work yielded, Grunewald caused Mr. P. I. to perform a check test, viz., some sort of 'blind' treatment, in connection with which similar strokes were made through the air. The result of this blind test was remarkable; the magnetic intensity (and accordingly the susceptibility to 'magneto-therapeutical' treatment) so far from decreasing, having undergone a striking increase. In fact, Mr. P. I., as it were, had absorbed something like vital energy, an hypothesis confirmed by the fact that, without knowing anything of the results of these measurements, that is, without being under any suggestive influence, he would state that, on striking through the air, he had experienced an increasing resistance, with a strange consciousness of absorbing something. This result of objective tests involuntarily reminds one of the assertion made by Hindoos, that they for thousands of years have been in possession of the art of absorbing 'Prana,' that is, vital energy, from the atmosphere, by means of a special technique of breathing or gymnastics."

How Woman Has Influenced the Making of Automobiles

MAN invented the automobile, but woman tamed it and made of it "a thing of beauty (and luxury) and a joy forever." That's the way Madelaine G. Ritza answers the question of what would the automobile be like today if only mere man had been solely concerned in its perfection.

"Man made the automobile; woman tamed it. Man utilized it; woman has socialized it. Man commercialized it, but woman has merchandised it," epitomizes Miss Ritza in telling of woman's influence on the automobile industry,

"Woman has so cast a spell upon the modern automobile," this exponent of the eternal feminine in motor cars goes on to say, that, in its highest development, the modern car becomes practically "an upholstered, silk-curtained hallway between the boudoir and the theatre." This most astounding thing lovely woman has done to the ugly vehicle which men invented, a few years ago, to take them on business trips around the city, or on nerve-racking tours through the countryside.

"Woman has come to consider the motor car as much a creation for her amusement, entertainment and glorification," writes Miss Ritz in The Michigan Manufacturer and Financial Record, "as a utility and a time and distance destroyer for her lord and master; hence man has had to revise his ideas on motor-car salesmanship to meet the feminine foibles of all the daughters of Eve.

"That there has been a remarkable evolution in the automobile in the last few years we all know. From the clumsy, chugging, uncomfortable curiosity that horrified old Dobbin, to the glistening, finely upholstered, gliding piece of mechanism we enjoy today is a far cry. And what is responsible for it? Time and its progress, you answer. Certainly; everybody agreed. But behind the progress of every really big undertaking lies some definite reason other than time's natural development. And the definite reason in this case is—Woman.

"There was a time when milady drove her own pony, span or four-in-hand, as the case might be, provided she was wealthy and willing enough to brave public criticism and opinion, or courageous enough to handle the horses with her own delicate hands. But modernity with all its recklessness is upon us. Admiration and envy have replaced the social censorship. The same delicate hands that once controlled the restive horse now control, without a thought of danger, a contrivance that can, at will, make the contrariest horse look like a lazy piker.

"When women socialized the automobile by appropriating it for their own use, they awakened in the minds of manufacturers a new trend of thought and opened the way to a wide range of possibilities. Every automobile designer and producer in the country set about to devise new ways to please them, improvements and additions which might add to their comfort and convenience.

"Man never would have been satisfied with the old models; he would have demanded perfection of motor and a little more bodily comfort. But ten chances to one he never would have noticed the inconveniences of the high-hung body. The lowering of it was, of course, largely an engineering problem done primarily to eliminate sideway, but even in this first step of the automobile's evolution, woman's influence may be seen, and quite naturally, for the most casual observer could not help witnessing the extreme inconvenience it gave to her in those dark days of hobble skirts. Followed the drive. It was a man-sized job to handle the meekest car, and a brawny arm was required to persuade it to go just where one wanted it to go. The cone and disc clutches of today were unknown then and are the outcome of an effort to make driving easier for woman.

"Leather would have done for man; for himself he never would have demanded velvet and tapestried upholsterings, but woman wanted something more effeminate, and there followed deep, soft cushions, beveled windows, plated heaters, softly shaded dome lights. No manufacturer ever perfected the appointments of his car to the extent of silver-plated handles and holders with their vases of delicate cut-glass, silk curtains and inlaid woodwork in the hope of pleasing the masculine heart.

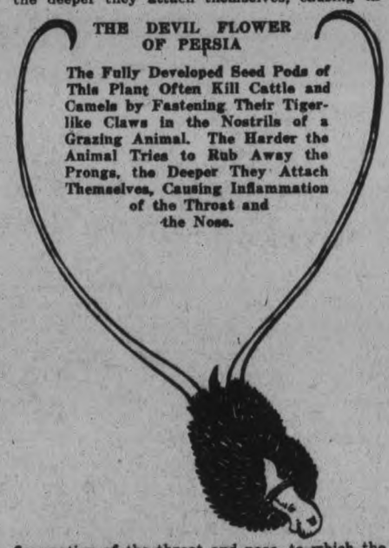
"Man accepted the automobile as a wholly utilitarian vehicle, and such it would remain today were it not for the gentler sex. In brief, man made and perfected the engine and woman dictated the accoutrements of the body to which it gives motion.

"The automobile was produced primarily for man. In his wildest dreams, perhaps, the inventor in those old-fashioned days failed to visualize timid woman at its helm. And woman never yet invaded man's province—according to the best of masculine authority—without "starting something," which brings us to her influence upon present motor-car prices.

"Prices would have risen, certainly. It is utterly impossible to make a fair comparison between the price of an automobile as it might be and as it is. But when today a man buys a motor car adapted to the needs of his family—and what man doesn't if he has a family?—he pays for all these little niceties of detail. Woman, it would appear, has not failed the traditions of her sex here so far as extravagance is concerned. And yet does it seem quite fair to shift the blame entirely to her shoulders and let it rest there? She has, as has been pointed out, been mainly responsible for the high cost of motoring. But men are not insensible to comfort. They have become accustomed to the ease and luxury of the car designed and made for woman's convenience, cars of taste and refinement."

How the Devil's Flower Kills Cattle

PERSIA has among its plants a strange species of flora, which kills cattle. The fully developed seed pods fasten their tiger-like claws in the nostrils of a grazing animal, and the harder the animal tries to rub away the prongs, the deeper they attach themselves, causing inflammation of the throat and nose, to which the animal succumbs, according to a writer in the Illustrated World.



THE DEVIL FLOWER OF PERSIA

The Fully Developed Seed Pods of This Plant Often Kill Cattle and Camels by Fastening Their Tiger-like Claws in the Nostrils of a Grazing Animal. The Harder the Animal Tries to Rub Away the Prongs, the Deeper They Attach Themselves, Causing Inflammation of the Throat and the Nose.

The caravan drivers call it the "devil's flower." Camels often fall victims to its deadly seed pods. So determined is Nature, that this plant be propagated, she is ruthless in the methods she employs to accomplish her ends.

Is ICE CREAM a FOOD or a Confection?

By Jeannette Young Norton

IS ice cream a food or a confection? This question has often been discussed because the most of us when not busy eating our share of the 100,000,000 gallons consumed annually in the United States have argued it. Isn't it lucky we don't have to eat it all in one day or raise the number of millions to pay for it?

Of course, all of the ice cream manufactured is not as pure as the fashioned frozen custard, yet most of it is wholesome enough to be eaten with impunity. Instead of pure milk and cream, condensed milk, condensed skimmed milk and certain fatty substances have come into use, while starch, eggs and egg powders, rennet and flours of different sorts are used as fillers. Binders, so called, are made from gelatine, agar agar, gum tragacanth and certain powders known to the trade.

Flavorings and colorings are open to mild criticism. While, as a rule, they are harmless, yet coal tar dyes leave an unpleasant thought in the mind and a resultant bad taste in the mouth.

The government demands a certain standard of fats in the creams manufactured, but they are not quite the same in all states. In former days ice cream was most frequently made in basements and cellars, but the modern maker realizes the need of sanitary conditions if his product is to have a good name and takes pride in having an up-to-date establishment that is beyond criticism and out of reach of the long arm of the law.

Plain ice cream of different flavors is usually the kind made for distant and large distribution. The various fancy creams and water ices are made for shops near distributing points and for fountains. The fancy creams such as mousse, frozen puddings, frappe, sherbet, souffle, parfait and unusual creations are only to be found in large hotels or smart confectioners, where there is a constant demand for them. These are usually the purest and most expensive types of frozen dainties. Unfortunately, the cheaper manufactured creams are used generally at some soda fountains and they are often the unsuspected cause which are disturbing to many an otherwise well regulated stomach.

The French make what they call a nursery ice cream which is the only kind the children of the better classes eat. This cream is made of pure cream, sugar and the soft inside of the vanilla bean for flavoring. This dainty may be made in small quantities and must be fresh every day.

In making the fruit ice creams the French cook selects and cooks only the finest fruit and cooks it only long enough to take off the raw taste and bring up the flavor.

Thornless Blackberry

LUTHER BURBANK, the California plant wizard, has perfected a thornless blackberry. Here is how Mr. Burbank describes his thornless blackberries in a recent announcement:

"These thornless blackberries produce here, when well established, enormous quantities of large, firm, extra sweet fruit. The vines are just what all berry growers and berry pickers have wished for and waited for during the past 100 years. The production of the new thornless berries has been very expensive in time, thought and labor, and I take peculiar pleasure in offering them to growers.

"No one who has not worked among them can imagine the sense of perfect security from ugly wounds which all other blackberries are prepared to inflict. I am still at work improving them, but am happy to offer two varieties which here produce great quantities of large, sweet, luscious fruit.

"They ripen later in the fall than most berries and are unlike the common blackberry, which produces a multitude of unnecessary suckers. Both of these varieties are as free from spines as a silken thread, making them, owing also to their firmness and rare keeping qualities, altogether the most desirable berries for home use or for market.

"These thornless blackberries will probably be hardy in an eastern climate, but this will be proven by tests."

Mr. Burbank says that the berries should be pruned like a grapevine, leaving two or three branches only to get the most fruit.

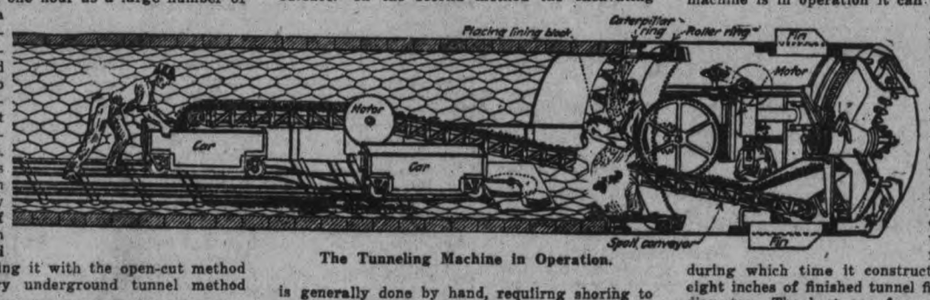
Soap and Brush in One

VERY often when your hands are grimy you can easily find soap, but you also need a brush to complete the act of cleanliness. While soap and brush go "hand-in-hand," it so often happens that the latter is lacking. To overcome this difficulty an ingenious maker of soaps hit upon the idea of making soap and brush "one and inseparable" by inserting a brush in each cake of soap as shown in the accompanying illustration. So now you can soap and scrub your hands in one operation.

Cakes of Soap Are Now Molded with a Hand Brush as the Centre.

Giant Molelike MACHINE That BURROWS TUNNELS

UNDERGROUND engineering is to be greatly facilitated by a remarkable machine that bores a tunnel, removes the earth, and lines the walls with concrete as it goes along. Being capable of building sewer mains, water mains, conduits, and tunnels for any purpose, and doing as much work in one hour as a large number of men can do in a day, this automatic tunnel machine is believed by its builders to be about to revolutionize present methods of digging underground. The value of this machine — which was invented by M. Roy Sheen of Philadelphia—can be appreciated best by comparing it with the open-cut method and the ordinary underground tunnel method now in common use. The former requires the digging of a ditch, the retention nearby of the excavated material for replacement, and the bracing of the sides to prevent caving-in. In a busy section this means interruption to traffic and the costly replacing of the broken surface. In the second method the excavating is generally done by hand, requiring shoring to retain the sides and the top.



The Tunneling Machine in Operation.

Mr. Sheen's invention, which is described in the Engineering News-Record, eliminates all of these difficulties. The only excavation through the surface of the earth that the machine requires is an opening large enough to lower the machine to the depth desired for the tunnel. The machine is then started and does its work underground without breaking the surface. No braces, forms, or shoring are required. No earth has to be replaced.

"A tunnel shield, with a boring head and a rotating tail attachment by means of which the lining is placed, is operating successfully in an experimental tunnel in Philadelphia," says this writer. "In this tunnel, which is through schist and has a five-foot bore, the machine has advanced at the rate of five and a half feet per hour. Eight men operated the outfit. This is the only measure of performance which is now available, but it is expected that the machine will soon be installed on actual tunnel work for the city of Philadelphia when more comprehensive records will be secured.

"One motor drives the boring head and the rotating helix. The head is so arranged that its centre may be moved up and down or right and left by means of a lever.

"As the helix rotates it produces in the caterpillar tread an advancing gap for inserting the concrete lining blocks one at a time around the bore. The blocks are set in spiral courses so that as the helix revolves it forces the shield ahead by screw action. The same thrusting action closes up the lining joints and expands the lining ring to fill the space occupied by the shell of the shield."

The builders say further that the lining may be laid dry or in mortar as desired. While the machine is in operation it can be elevated, lowered, or shifted from side to side. Indicators and sightings taken by transits set up at the rear of the tunnel keep the machine on its course. On its most recent construction job in Philadelphia one of the machines was run steadily for four hours, during which time it constructed eighteen feet eight inches of finished tunnel fifty-two inches in diameter. The best run for one hour was five feet eight inches of finished tunnel.

Why You Should NOT LINGER in BED

LINGERING in bed is perilous to health, according to Dr. R. P. Rowlands, surgeon to Guy's Hospital, London, who is an apostle of the "don't lie in bed too long" creed. He expounds vigorously in the British Medical Journal his prescription, "Get up and move about."

It is people who have undergone operations who are in peril if they stay in bed too long.

"It cheers a patient," states Dr. Rowland, "to know that he may move about as much as he likes in bed from the first, have the freedom of the room after four days, of the bath after seven days and may take short walks in the open after 10 days."

Here are some of the bad effects of lying too long in bed:

The heart beats less forcibly.
Breathing becomes slower and shallower.
Appetite fails.
Digestion flags.
Action of the intestines becomes sluggish.
Risk of clots of blood forming increases.
Dangers of pneumonia much greater.
Muscles waste and lose tone.

All these are reasons against lying too long in bed, and Dr. Rowlands says that, as regards the healing of wounds, years of observation have convinced him that "complete rest is unnecessary, and even harmful by interfering with general and local circulation and nutrition."

Fractures of the ribs always join promptly and well, he states, in spite of the inevitable movement of the fragments, and "gentle movements of wounded soft parts do not hinder but help the process of healing." One of the evils of the lying-in-bed system is that it deprives the patient of some of the benefits of fresh air, light and sunshine, "which have a most stimulating effect on healing of body and mind."

Cooling Food with Moist Rags

IT is not always necessary to keep milk and butter, or other foodstuffs, in refrigerator temperature to preserve them, for 50 or 60 degs. will often serve quite as well where the articles are to be consumed within a short time. To accomplish this slight degree of cooling, wrap a moist linen cloth, single thickness, snugly about the dish or package, and place it in a shallow pan of water, in an open window, out of the sun. The brick of butter should be placed on a support to hold it out of the water.

New York 6—Philadelphia 0.

NEW YORK, May 8 (Canadian Press). — Jesse Barnes, veteran pitcher of the New York Nationals, almost duplicated the perfect game pitched by Charles Robertson of the Chicago Americans a week ago, when he pitched a hitless game yesterday against the Philadelphia team —the Giants winning 6 to 0.

Only one base on balls marred Barnes' great performance. Williams being the recipient of the pass at the start of the fifth inning. He was doubled up when Fletcher hit into a double play. Only twenty-seven men faced Barnes, as in Robertson's game of a week ago.

J. Smith, a Philadelphia coach, asked for the ball with which Barnes had been pitching at the end of Philadelphia's half of the seventh. He showed Umpire Hart where there were several cuts in the ball, and Hart threw it out. Score:

Diamond Dust

We haven't heard much from Cobourg lately about the Central League, we don't know but we are inclined to think that this unusual silence may mean that there is a colored gentlemen in the coal heap.

* * *

The Lakeviews who played off with the Bankers last year, for the Juvenile championship, will be in the local Junior league this year stronger than even. They will make a strong bid for honors this season.

Cobourg's town league opened Saturday afternon with one game scheduled.

* * *

The Adanacs will probably have three twirlers on their line this season. Clayton Turner the south paw who officiated for the Bankers last year, "Shag" Shaughnessy formerly of the Lak views and "Teddy" Scates who was with the Cressman aggregation last season will probably make up the list.

* * *

The sandlot games were going full swing Saturday. There is where the good players come from, the best of them started there.

* * *

The Collegiate have formed a league composing six teams and have drawn up a schedule which will keep them going for a couple of months.

* * *

Lefty Connors, will do the heaving for the Lock Works this season in the Junior league.

* * *

There is just one more week in which the managers may go shopping.

* * *

The Central League could not use Riverside Park on Saturday and had to retire to the Exhibition Grounds. The park is being rolled and fixed, and will likely be ready this week.

* * *

With Sheehy and Killoran on the mound this year the Holy Name should have no worry over heavers.

* * *

Walter Fitzgerald will do the back stopping for the "Y" in the City League.

* * *

Belleville has six teams entered in the City League.

A TORONTO TEAM SENDS CHALLENGE

Here is an opportunity for one of the local juvenile teams to show their wares. The St. Christopher Baseball team of Toronto would like to arrange an exhibition game for the 24th of May or any Saturday that might be convenient. This team is playing in the Juvenile Series of the West Toronto League and can put up a good fast game. They are also willing to arrange for a return game if one is desired.

NO BOUTS FOR DEMPSEY YET

No Arrangements Have Been Made to Match the Champion With Either Carpentier or Willard.

LONDON, May 8. — (Canadian Press).—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, the heavyweight champion, said Saturday , that a bout with Carpentier was one of the propositions which had been made to the champion. He also declared that Dempsey had not been matched with Jess Willard.

"We are bound to no promoters for matches in Europe", said Kearns, "but have received several offers for bouts with Carpentier and Beckett in London and Paris, with purses as large as any offered in the United States. Which will be ultimately arranged depends somewhat on the outcome of the Carpentier-Lewis bout.

"We are returning to the United States May 13 as Jack has vaudeville bookings. If proper inducements are offered by a responsible promoter, Jack will agree to meet either Greb, Brennan Willard or Wills before returning to this side".

O'DOWD WINS BOUT WITH MIKE GIBBONS

NEW YORK, May 8.—(Canadian Press) — Mike O'Dowd, former middleweight champion, last night defeated Mike Gibbons, of St. Paul, in a 12-round contest at Long Island City. O'Dowd received the judges' decision.

Gibbons used a left hook effectively in the early stages of the contest, but retired after the seventh round. O'Dowd landed often to the body and head, but his punches were light.

JAPANESE POLO IS APPEALING SPORT.

Combination of Golf, Lacrosse, Billiards and Bowling.

TOKIO, May 8 .—(Associated Press) Lovers of almost any popular sport enjoyed in the Occident would find an appeal in Japanese polo or "dakyu," as it is called here, for the game seems to be a combination of golf, lacrosse, billiards, bowling, horsemanship and even football, as it entails considerable risk to the players

A special exhibition of this game will be played in honor of the Prince of Wales, during his visit here, and as the future British ruler is a lover of all sports, particularly horsemanship, he is expected to display keen interest in the contest.

How the game originated is not known but it has been played since ancient times, and still is reserved largely for young noblemen and officers of the military staff, who are practically the only ones able to acquire an equestrian standard high enough to make the sport xciting.

The contest is held on a regulation course 60 by 20 yards, boarded up at one end by a high fence. In the middle of the field is a small pocket into which the balls have to be thrown. On either side of this pocket are movable discs, which make the score by being moved up and down. The last two discs are marked with a cross, and it is not until one of these has disappeared that the game is decided.

A number of red and white balls, one of each crossed to correspond with the discs, are thrown in before the game begins. Then the players, eight in red and eight in white, all dressed in old-style native costumes, with saddles, and accoutrements to match, ride in alternately in stately procession, salute the distinguished guests and begin the game.

Each player carries a short bamboo wand with a small net attached to the end, and his object is to stoop and capture a ball in this net corresponding to the color of his team. He then rides furiously toward the goal, where he attempts to pitch the ball into the cup from the net.

During the throwing of the first three or four balls there is no serious opposition on either side, but when they have been thinned out somewhat and one side finds itself losing ground, the battle becomes fast and furious. The losing side begins riding and dashing at its opponents from all sides, cutting in front, circling from behind and balking them in every way possible.

The crisis is reached when nothing remains but the last two crossed balls, by which the game is decided. Here the horsemanship and skill of the players is developed to the fullest, and it is described as no mean feat to secure and carry a ball in a little net through a crowd of skilled players, yelling, galloping and interfering with all their energy. Even when the ball is safely in the net and the goal is reached, the last shot has to be made with eight men all dashing forward, straining every muscle to prevent it going into the cup. When one side has scored the game is called and the players ride from the field, saluting the dignitaries as before.

YANKS BUILDING HUGE STADIUM

Home Grounds of New York Americans Will Eventually Seat 85,000 Persons.

NEW YORK, May 6. — Construction of a new stadium for the New York American League Club, a short distance from its present "home" at the Polo Grounds, has started.

If the Yankees win the American League championship this year the stadium may be used for the world's series. The park furthermore may be used for football games this season if it is completed in time.

The eventual capacity of stadium which will have a three-deck stand surrounding the playing field, will be 85,000—greater than that of any ball park ever built. To begin with however, temporary wooden bleachers will be used to supplement the concrete grandstand, and will be retained until the attendance warrants completion of the plant. This may require several years.

The park will be in the shape of a horseshoe similar to the Polo Grounds, extending 700 feet along 157th Street and 700 feet down. The distance from the batter's box to the center field will be 470 feet and from the box to right and left fields 257 feet, making it more difficult than most parks in which to hit home runs.

LEONARD-TENDLER BOUT NOT SETTLED.

NEW YORK, May 8.—(Canadian Press)—Denial of reports that Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, had agreed to defend his title against Lew Tendler, Philadelphia boxer, who defeated Johnny Dundee here on Friday night, was made Saturday by Charlie Stewart, secretary to Billy Gibson, who is Leonard's manager.

"There is not even an iron in the fire for such a match", declared Stewart when shown a dispatch from Michigan Harbor, Ind., stating Leonard would meet Tendler there on July 4.

BIG LEAGUERS ARE READY FOR CHANGE IN SCHEDULE

Some Record Performances Have Been Featured in the Past Four Weeks. New York Teams Are Leading Their Respective Leagues.

NEW YORK, May 8.—(Canadian Press)—Leading both major leagues after four weeks of campaigning, the champion New York ball clubs, especially the Giants, are well fortified to meet their western rivals this week in the first intersectional clashes of the season. The schedule brings the western clubs of the American League east, while the eastern teams in the National make their first swing around the other half of the circuit.

In a week marked by many record performances the continued outrush of the Giants and a merry tussle for first place in the American between New York and St. Louis, perhaps the outstanding feature was the sensational work of pitchers in both leagues.

Charlie Robertson's no hit, no run game against Detroit last Sunday, in which no Tiger reached first base, tops the list of pitching achievement. Jesse Barnes of the Giants came within an ace yesterday of duplicating the feat when he let the Phillies down without a hit but walked one player. Two hit games by Mays and Jones of the Yankees, Saturday, and yesterday, and also by Payne of the St. Louis Americans, are further proofs of unusual early season effectiveness on the part of pitchers. Bayne held Detroit hitless for eight innings, but weakened in the ninth. Brilliant shutouts by Vance and Shriver Brooklyn rookies, early in the week, the latter allowing but three hits, show that recruit and veteran alike are in midseason form.

The Giants increased their lead during the week, and are leading by three and a half games as a result of yesterday's victory over Philadelphia. Consistent hitting and steady twirling enabled the New Yorkers to continue their streak. They will meet possibly their strongest rivals, the St. Louis Cardinals, in a series starting Tuesday.

The Cardinals proved last week, chiefly at the expense of Cincinnati that they have won nine out of the last six games and are crowding Chicago, which had a disastrous week. Alexander has lost his last two starts for the Cubs.

Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Boston were kept idle a large part of the week by rain, btu the Dodgers won all three of their starts clung to fourth place, closely pressed by Pittsburgh.

In the American, the Yankees and St. Louis jockeyed for the lead, New York retaining the margin of a single game it held at the beginning of the week. A brace by Huggins' pitching staff against Philadelphia the team to break even while Jones yesterday turned back Washington.

Cleveland, after losing five straight won four in a row fron Chicago, and St. Louis, climbing to third place, although losing yesterday to the Browns.

The Boston Red Sox, hitting timely and backed by brilliant pitching, showed unexpected strength against New York and Washington, winning both series, Detroit and Philadelphia showed improvement, while Washington's pitching slumped badly.

RACING OPENS.

MONTREAL, May 8.—(Canadian Press)—The opening of the racing season in Montreal took place on the Maissonneve track on Saturday afternoon when a crowd of some 3,000 attended. There was brisk play on the macinhes and the highest price of the afternoon was paid by Kathleen K., which returned $34.15 to a $2 ticket.

AT THE GRAND.

HULLO CANADA

Canadian playgoers will be presented with an entirely new revue when Harry Tate and his own company of seventy London revue stars return to the Grand Theatre next Thursday for a farewell engagment in the second edition of "Hullo Canada".

A tour embracing all the principal cities in the Western States of America, has been included in their itinerary since the Company last was seen here. A most enthusiastic reception was accorded them in every city and the general concensus of opinion was that the show excelled any that yet been across "the Line".

Particular pains were taken by Harry Tate when he was touring the Dominion last Fall to find out what pleased Canadians most in the original "Hullo Canada" production In this way he has made his second production a bright and snappy application of musical features which will without doubt outrival his initial offering here.

Many requests have been received by Harry to present his original "motoring" and fishing" sketches and these well-known and really beloved skits will be seen here. Besides these two he is offring three London Hip successes in "Arrest Me". "The Critic" and "There's Another one Born Every Minute".

Max Olney, who is responsible for many of the successful numbers that have been staged at both the London and New York Hippodromes, has reset the chorus of English beauties in an elaborately staged series of numbers. Among the most prominent of these are "Roulette" and "Grandma's Days", both of which took Paris by storm last sason. Surprising effects are used in all of Olney's offerings and it would spoil the enjoyment of theatregoers to enter into any details of these inovations.

The ladies' gowns are said to be beautiful in the extreme, and the ladies of Peterborough will be amply repaid for a visit to the theatre in this one respect alone.

Tickets are now selling fast for all three performances, so would advise all to telephone for their reservations as early as possible.

Prices are within the reach of everybody, being only 10c, 20c, 30c, and 50c, which alone should be cause for capacity houses during the three days' engagement

AT THE ROYAL.

For today the Royal has succeeded in securing the much talked of First National feature drama called "The Social Life" with Katherine McDonald, suported by an all star cast in the leading role of Marion Hoyte. Marion is a salesgirl at a department store glove contuer but has higher mbitions. She is loved by an uncouth young man named Howard, a friend of her brother. She is accused of stealing a purse while at the counter. The purse is found by a young architect, a customer, who has been urged to marry the daughter of his main backer in business, a rich politician. The architect and Marion fall deeply in love, but her parents advise her not to marry above her social position. The architect and she marry. The young man't backer, the rich politcian with draws his support and Marion is ostracized from her husband'c social circle. To save her husband's happiness she persuades one of his friends to go through a fake elopement with her. A divorce follows, but the culmination of the story follows with a natural understanding and it is to be presumed they "lived happy ever after!')' Then their is the big Vitagraph feature called 'The Secret of the Hills" with Antonio Moreno in the leading role. A story of a search for treasure hidden in the Scottish hills. This is a romantic drama, with costly sets, picturesque scenes, dramatic action and real thrills. For comedy there is another of that very amusing series of Toonerville pictures in which the funny old skiper pulls of some new stunts A well balanced program that would cost more at any other theatre in Canada.

AT THE REGENT.

FAMOUS BATTLE PICTURE COMING TO THE REGENT.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week "The Battle of Jutland" will be shown at the Regent theatre. This picture cost over a million dollars to produce and the following endorsement by Aemilius Jarvis, president of the Navy Legue of Canada, speaks for itself.

Dear Sirs:

It was with great pleasure that I viewed your screen picture, "The Battle of Jutland". From the first view until the end I was simply thrilled and on the tip toe of expectation and excitement. No amount of written description could explain the vastness and the strategy of the Battle of Jutland like the screen does, and its accuracy is marvellous.

I am sure hat if the public realized that it is not an imaginary screen, but something based upon the accurate data gleaned from the ships' logs and from their course charts, they would flock in thousands to see it.

As an education to any child or adult, it is invaluable. Who would not today pay almost any sum to see such a picture of the Battle of Trafalgar, and here is a battle fifty times its magnitude to be seen for a song.

Everyone with a drop of British blood will delight in seeing it, and every naturalized Canadian should see it in order to make them realize the heritage they are enjoying in the protection that such an organization as the British Navy has afforded them.

Yours faithfully,
AEMILIUS JARVIS,
Dominion President,
Navy League of Canada.

Capitol Entertainment

Today the Capitol offers a monster double program—"Turn to the Right"—the big 8 reel Rex Ingram special production and Vaudeville —Biggest Scotch Act— Alice Dunbar's Scotch Review — 5 singers, dancers, comedians and pipers.

To-day also Tuesday and Wednesday, the big double show offered at the Capitol looks good enough to safely use the slogan — Come early or you won't get inside the door—first and foremost the biggest and best vaudeville act ever seen in the Capitol. Alice Doubars —Big Scotch Review, — 5 clever singers, dancers, comedians and Bag Pipe Players known from coast to coast in Canada and the United States as the cleanest, brightest and best act of its kind on the variety stage. Owing to the big expense of presenting this big act and the really wonderful picture program offered a slight advance in prices will be made as follows—front rows in the balcony, wicker dhairs reserved 45 cents; entire lower floor 35 cents; back balcony 27 cents; matinees 16 and 27 cents. These prices will prevail for these first three days of this week only.

"Turn to the Right", the most popular comedy-drama of the stage, whose appeal was testified to by millions of theatre-goers, has been transferred to the screen and will be seen to-day at the Capitol.

As a stage play, "Turn to the Right"(made a fortune for John Golden who presented it and for the authors, Winchell Smith and John E. Hazzard. Keeping up this financial record a half interest in the screen rights was sold to Metro Pictures Corporation for a quarter of a million dollars, top price for any motion picture production. The screen version is presented by John Golden and Marcus Loew and is a Rex Ingram production, directed by the creator, for the silent drama, of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" and "The Conquering Power".

It tells the story of a country boy who, while serving a prison term unjustly, becomes acquainted with two crooks. Returning home he finds the mortgage about to be foreclosed by the village skinflint. With the aid of his two crook pals a way is found to beat out the miser while the influence of the aged mother leads the two crooks into love and a better life.

It is presented by a notable cast headed by Alice Terry who won an enviable reputation in "The Conquering Power" and "The Four Horsemen". Playing opposite her is Jack Mulhall, known on both stage and screen.. Others in the cast are Harry Myers, who was the Yankee in "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court"; George Cooper, Edward Connelly, Lydia Knott Betty Allen Margaret Loom is William Bletcher Eric Mayne and Ripley.

"Turn to the Right" was adapted by June Mathis and Mary O'Hara and photographed by John F. Seitz The technical direction was by A. J. Myers and Harold Grieve. Starrett Ford was production manager.

Balance of the Show will be of the usual high class standard always in evidence at this theatre and will include a very funny Harold Lloyd Comedy—"The Tip."

RADIO HELPS CURE THE SICK!

Sick?

Get a radio receiving set to occupy the weary hours of lying in bed an cheer you over the bad spells.

That's what many a hospital patient is doing nowadays, and doctors say radio has been helping them cure their "cases."

Theres Lester Picker, a 16-year-old high school boy of San Diego, Cal. He's a licensed amateur. His station is 6AJH.

But he has to lie flat on his back while working his station. He fell while reeting his aerial mast and now he is bedridden with a broken back. His physician says the set which his freinds finished for him is going to speed his cure considerably.

Traffic Officer Jim Flynn, of Newark, N.J., has been in bed snce an accident a year ago. But he is helping himself get well by listening in on the concerts broadcasted from the peowerful station in Newark.

The remarkable feature about Flynn's set is that the bed spring he lies on is his antenna. He resorted to this means of catching the signals when hospital rules forbade is having an outdoor aerial erected.

OBITUARY

ANDREW FREDENBURG.

The death occurred yesterday at St. Joseph's Hospital of Andrew Fredenburg. Funeral will take place on Tuesday morning, at 8.30, from the residence of Mr. Fred. Bissonette, 260 Euclid Avenue, to the Immaculate Conception Church, thence to St. Peter's Cemetery.

MRS. A. BELL.

Mrs. Bell, wife of Col. A. deM. Bell, C.M.G., Quebec, passed away at Quebec on Sunday evening. The funeral will take place in Ottawa to the family vault in Beechwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Bell was a sister-in-law of Mrs. R. H. Parsons of this city.

ISAAC RICHARDSON.

The death occurred on Friday morning, May 5th, at 12.01, of Mr. Isaac Richardson, at the family residence, 541 Homewood Avenue, after a lingering illness of over a year.

Deceased was born in Croxton, Staffordshire, England, in 1842, coming to Canada with his wife in 1873. He resided in Otonabee, on the Stewart settlement, for a number of years before coming to the city.

In religion deceased was at first a member of the old Bible Christian Church until 1884, when the Methodist Union took place. Since then he had been actively associated with the Charlotte street Methodist and Trinity church.

For 30 years he conducted a Bible class in the Sunday school.

Deceased was also a charter member of the local Laymen Preachers' Association of the Methodist church. He took an active interest in the devotional work of the Y.M.C.A., and in 1886 was the chairman of that committee.

Deceased was a devoted member of the Masonic order, being a member of Peterboro lodge, A.F. and A.M., No. 155, for the past 35 years.

He leaves to mourn his loss three daughters and four sons, Mrs. S. Westwood, and Hattie, of Toronto; Elizabeth, John and Cecil, at home.

The funeral, conducted by the Masonic Order, took place this afternoon, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

But nine square feet of additional floor space are occupied by a new bed when it is unfolded from a wardrobe that also holds much clothing.

More Swank About Our Spring Terpsichorean Effort

GILDA GREY.

BY MARIAN HALE.

A new dance has made its appearance! Something that harks back to the days of two-step rhythm when society dancing was a matter more of toes than heels.

It's been an eon or more since one has been able to find, in the smart dancing places, anyone but the hopelessly old-fashioned, poising on the toes. Heels and all have danced of recent days.

But there's beginning to be a change.

To Gilda Grey, a terpsichorean marvel, who nightly entertains the guests at one of New York's fashionable eating places, belongs the credit for swinging society dancing back to something of a matter of toes.

Ty-Tee its Name.

Miss Grey's new dance is Ty-Tee (Tahiti), named for the South Sea isles, of which she sings as she dances. It is done to fox trot rhythm. Her art is principally solo dancing, but her society version of Ty-Tee is simple and interesting enough that New York is beginning to pick up it's heels when it dances

Given the fox trot rhythm the dance as Miss Grey explains it, is done thus:

Take regular dancing position.

First Movement—Gentleman moving forward, lady backward, take four light, quick steps with heels off to the floor.

Second Movement—Pivot, alternating steps.

Third Movement—Four light quick steps similar to first movement.

Fourth movement—Four gliding steps to the right and then to the left, during which the heels are on the floor.

Fifth movement—Dip twice and then break into the original step for repetition of the entire series.

In all these steps except the gliding there is a natural inclination toward puting more zest into dancing than has been the rule of late. There is a tendency toward long steps and swank which means death to the close position.

VOL. L., No. 108 PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, MAY 9, 1922 PRICE THREE CENTS

FRED. L. DAVIS WAS HANGED IN TORONTO TODAY

"Oh, Make It Quick," Pleaded Condemned Man as Hangman Ellis Adjusted Apparatus.

DISPLAYED NERVE

TORONTO, May 9.—(Special to The Examiner).—"But the way of the transgressor is hard," mumbled Frederick L. Davis, as he was led from his cell to the gallows—and to death—at the Toronto Jail this morning. And a minute later Davis, praying, his words barely audible, "O Lord God have mercy upon Thy son," went to his death as the eight o'clock whistles in the nearby factories shrilled out the hour. He paid with his life for the killing of little Phillip Goldberg of Sunnyside in August, 1920.

Remarkable Courage.

Davis stood up under the ordeal with remarkable courage. Just a few minutes before his execution Dr. Parry, jail surgeon, gave Davis a one-grain injection of morphine. Yesterday he declined the stimulant. This morning he requested the morphia. "I think I will need it," he told Dr. Parry.

Six minutes after Arthur Ellis, the hangman, sprung the trap, Davis was cut down. Pulsation ceased after six minutes, and the autopsy showed a clean break of the neck. "It was the quickest one I ever saw," stated Dr. Parry.

His Last Walk.

Five minutes before eight Ellis went to Davis' cell, where Canon Kuhring, the jail padre, was praying with Davis. Ellis handcuffed Davis' arms behind his back, and two minutes before the hour Davis came out of his cell on his "death march" — his last walk — to the gallows. Canon Kuhring, dressed in his surplice, led the procession.

From Davis' cell to the death chamber the distance is short — forty paces. As Davis' walked on the gallows, Canon Kuhring started the Lord's Prayer, and with a steady, clear voice and showing great self-control, read the whole prayer. Davis, dressed in shoes, grey trousers and a white shirt, but no collar, or coat, appeared to be trying to follow Canon Kuhring's utterances. His face was colorless. "Oh, make it quick, make it quick," pleaded Davis to Ellis. But the executioner, for some reason, allowed Canon Kuhring to finish his prayer, and a few seconds after the prayer the trap was sprung.

AT HOME

The final At Home of the season was held last evening in the rooms of the Holy Name Society, on Simcoe street, with an attendance of nearly 200 people. The prettily decorated downstair dancing hall was well patronized, the four-piece Willard orchestra providing excellent music. Prizes for cards on the upper floor were won as follows: 1st ladies' prize, one hali dozen sherbet glasses, donated by Dr. J. V. Gallivan, won by Mrs. Jas. W. Fitzgerald; 2nd ladies' prize fountain pen, donated by M. J. Roche, won by Mrs. Quest; 1st gentlemen's prize, a ham, donated by W. Grisdale, won by F. Whaley, 2nd gentleman's prize, box of cigars, donated by Thomas McAuley, won by W. C. Auliffe. Ladies in charge of refreshment were Mrs. N. Tobin and Mrs. T. Lane. The men's committee was composed of N. Tobin. (convenor) A. Doherty, H. Donovan, W. J. Young, M. Wells, W. Pope, M. Whaley, J. Fitzpatrick and J. Sullivan.

MONTREAL CHINAMAN IS FACING MURDER CHARGE

MONTREAL, May 9.—(Canadian Press).—George Ring, a Chinaman, who worked at 14 Lagauchetier Street, but who has left the city, was held responsible by a coroner's jury this morning for the death of Nellie Edmundston, alias Anita Robert, said to be of Baltimore, who died at a house on St. Dominique Street on Thursday night of morphine poisoning. The verdict asked the police to arrest Ring and charge him with the crime.

One Way Killing Budding Romance

WASHINGTON, May 9. — (Canadian Press). — Alexander Robertson, British war veteran, arrived here to-day to carry out his announced purpose of laying before the British Embassy his charges of kidnapping against three private detectives, who, he alleges, attempted to force his departure from this country because of his affection for Miss Mary Culbertson, twenty-one-year-old daughter of Senator Culbertson, of Texas.

GENOA EAGERLY AWAITS SOVIET REPLY TO NOTE

Fate of Conference Hangs Largely on Tone of Russian Response to Allied Memorandum.

LATE DESPATCHES

GENOA May 9.— (Canadian Press). The British and Italian delegation began to-day to work out with Russian delegates, a new formula concerning the restoration of foreign property in Russia. It is hoped to satisfy Belgium and France by a new clause. More optimism prevails in delegations.

A WATCHFUL WAITING

GENOA, May 9. — (Canadian Press). — Genoa to-day is eagerly awaiting Soviet reply to the allied memorandum on the Russian question, with the fate of the conference hanging largely upon the tone of the Russian response. If the reply is essentially conciliatory, it is said France and Belgium will have difficulty in maintaining their opposition. If highly non-conciliatory, Lloyd George's position will become untenable.

CLAIMS INDEPENDENCE

GENOA, May 9. — (Canadian Press).— Representatives of King Feisal presented to the Conference today a memorandum claiming independence for Syria and Lebanan and protesting against French occupation.

OPPOSED TO MANDATE

BAGDAD, May 9.— (Canadian Press)—King Feisal has refused to sign the terms presented by the British High Commissioner, intended to prohibit demonstrations in favor of abolishing the British mandate over Mesopotamia. In addition, he has decreed an organization assembly, which is intended to have a final say in the management of the country's affairs.

GENOA, May 9. — (Canadian Press).— Premier Lloyd George's still optimistic, but rank pessimism prevailing in most quarters is the situation in conference circles this morning. Belgium is the center around which fierce controversy over the Russian question turns. It is Belgium's objection to clause seven in the Allied memorandum to the Russians behind which France is standing in opposition.

BLOCKADE ON BLACK SEA

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 9.— (Canadian Press). — A flotilla of Greek destroyers has sailed from Brusaa under orders to enforce the blockade of the Turkish Black Sea Ports. A Greek battleship has seized the Turkish steamship Ineboli as a measure of reprisal for the seizure recently of the Greek stamship Enosis in the Black Sea.

FRENCH CABINET MEETS

PARIS, May 9. — (Canadian Press).— President Millerand will preside at a Cabinet meeting today when the whole European situation will be submitted to him. In well informed circles it is stated that he is in entire agreement with Premier Poincare regarding th attitud taken toward Russia and Germany, and concerning France's relations with the entente powers.

TRIALS AND TROUBLES OF AN O.T.A. OPERATOR.

Told By McCutcheon, Who Claims He Had Been Framed.

TORONTO, May 9. — (Canadian Press).—The trials and troubles of an operator under the O.T.A., or what is generally termed "spotter," were told to the Public Accounts Committee of the Legislature to-day by H. H. McCutcheon, who was employed in the enforcement of the temperance law, and is now serving six months' imprisonment for operating a still. He claimed he had been framed by a man named Hunt and others in the bootlegging business, that he had no connection with the still. "Everyone around the Department knows I was framed," he said. He accused Magistrate Jones of not giving him a chance to defend himself.

MORE LIQUOR SMUGGLING.

SPRINGFIELD, Vt., May 9. — (Canadian Press).—Liquor smuggling into Vermont from Quebec is on the increase, and the inflow this summer will be great unless a maximum sentence is imposed on every smuggler, Rev. Clement Clarke, of the Anti-Saloon League, told delegates to the State Congregational Conference to-day.

A LINDSAY GIRL FACES FORMAL CHARGE MURDER

Inquest Held This Morning in Connection With Death of Baby Thrown From Window of Train

THE EVIDENCE

LINDSAY, May 9 (Special to The Examiner). — The coroner's inquest into the death of the two-weeks-old baby found on the C. P. R. tracks on Saturday, 6th May, resumed its sitting this morning at 9.30 o'clock, and through it the following verdict:

That Baby Nichols came to its death by being thrown from the window of a moving train by its mother, Beatrice Nichols. Cause of death was fracture of the skull.

Beatrice Nichols, who confessed to the crime, stated that on Tuesday, 2nd May, she left Toronto on the 5.15 C.P.R. train for Bobcaygeon, with the two-weeks-old baby, male and illegitimate, born at a Toronto hospital. Her movements and actions after changing trains at Burketon were narrated, and bore out the report published in The Examiner on Friday.

She stated that she thought the baby was dead when she disposed of it, as it was stiff. It refused to nurse. She identified the baby found as hers.

Inspector Ward told of the statement received from Beatrice Nichols, of searching for the body, with Constable Stratton, of Peterborough, and its discovery near Clabo, in six inches of water. There was an abrasion on the right side of the head.

Dr. Collison said the baby had been dead 58 hours when he saw it at the Morgue. There was a punctured wound on the right side of the head and a fracture of the skull. The baby was normal in every way. There was no evidence of convulsions, the baby being alive when receiving the injury.

Constable Stratton corroborated Inspector Ward's testimony. He, the constable, found the body.

A formal charge of murder, it is understood, will be laid against Beatrice Nichols.

WILL APPEAL CONROY AWARD

Council to Carry Judge Huycke's Decision to Another Court.

Following the advice of City Solicitor Widdifield the council will appeal the decision of Judge Huycke awarding David Conroy $708 against the Russell-Townsend Company, contractors, for the city, in a division court suit. Mr. Conroy's claims were for materials which he said he supplied in the construction of the Hunter street bridge.

Mr. Widdifield pointed out that Mr. Conroy in his dealings with the Russell-Townsend Company admitted in court that he knew the system of weekly payments and the forms that had to be made out. He purchased $80 worth of the heads of the logs used as piles which he paid for without any mention of the counter-claim of $200 he afterwards presented.

Ald. Hamilton said he understood that Edward Conroy had an account of $700 or $800 against the city in connection with the bridge.

"I don't know when we'll get through paying for this bridge," commented Ald. Jones.

On Ald. Hamilton's motionj, seconded by Ald. Crowe, it was unanimously agreed to appeal the Judge's award.

OBITUARY

ALBERT CHARLES STEELE.

Albert Charles Steele, aged 43, died to-day at his late residence, 487 Albert Street. Deceased was born in England.

Funeral announcement later.

WILLIAM H. ROBERTS.

William H. Roberts, for 54 years a resident of this city, passed away at the family residence, 496 Stewart Street, at 6 a.m. to-day, after only a week's illness.

Deceased was born in England, and was an active worker in the Sons of England Society. His entire residence in Peterborough had been spent in the one block. He was widely known, and a large circle of friends, many of whom had not known he was ill, will regret to learn of his death.

His wife predeceased him one year ago. Surviving him are three sons: Albert G. of Toronto, Harry R. and William H. of this city.

Mr. Roberts was a devoted member of the Anglican Church.

The funeral, under S.O.E. auspices, will be held on Thursday at 2.30 o'clock from the family residence, and at 3 o'clock from St. John's Church to Little Lake Cemetery.

GASOLINE JUMPS IN PRICE RESULT OF COAL STRIKE

Increases Today From 38c and 40c. to 40c. and 42c. a Gallon—May Reach Unprecedented Levels if the Strike Continues

One effect of the coal strike was made clear to automobile drivers when they pulled up at garages in their customary manner to get the day's supply of "gas". Instead of paying 38 and 40 cents they found the motor fuel was up to 40 and 42 cents a gallon.

The two companys raised their prices this morning, and when Manager A. Blade was asked for an explanation, he said the coal strike was responsible for the rising oil market. Crude oil is being used in the place of coal, and there has been very little left to keep the flivvers going, according to Mr. Blade.

If the coal strike continues gasoline and oils generally will go to unprecedented levels, dealers believe. Motorists who confidently expected gasoline to return to a pre-war level this summer had to adjust themselves to a new line of thought this morning.

SIX NATIONS INDIANS FEAR EXTERMINATION

Chiefs Meet in Council at Obsewken and Raise Voices in Protest That They Are Allies, Not Subjects of British Empire

OHSWEKEN, May 9.—(Special to The Examiner).—Tribal leaders of the Six Nation Indians raised their voices to-day in protest against the tragedy of national extinction which they fear menaces their race.

Within a stone's throw of the fields where their people are at work, the Chiefs of the Six Nations assembled to reiterate their claim to autonomy, as allies, and not subjects of the British Empire.

The simple dignity native to the North American Indian marked the deliberations of the Council of Chiefs, the Witanagemot of Red Men. Within the council chamber where, for nearly a century, the laws of the Six Nations have been framed, representatives of the Mohawks, Cayugas, Oneidas, Senecas, Tuscaroras and Onondagas met in solemn conclave to face a crisis unprecedented in the history of the tribes since first they pitched their tepees on the banks of the Grand River in the closing years of the eighteenth century.

Attempted Eviction.

In the light of subsequent developments, the attempted eviction by county and city constables of Gordon Vyce from the farm which he occupies by permission of the Six Nations Council, has been almost lost sight of. This incident, resulting in a defeat for the whites and their empty-handed retreat from the reserve, has but served to lay a powder trail to the magazine of unrest which envelopes practically the entire reserve. The sending of an armed force into the Indian territory, as they intend, may well prove the match which will ignite that train.

Interest Not Paid.

The Six Nations to-day, as foremost among their grievances, advanced alleged non-payment for two years, of interest due them upon their treaty money. Their resentment centres upon the person of Duncan C. Scott, Deputy Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs, whom they hold responsible for existing conditions, and whose removal from office they demand.

Investigation by a Royal Commission or other reliable tribunal of the entire question of Government administration of the Six Nations' Trust Fund, will, in the opinion of the tribal leaders, go far toward allaying the existing restiveness upon the reserve. The Indians will submit readily to conciliation, but will resist anything savoring of coercion. The concensus of ipinion is well summed up in the comment of one of the Chiefs: "An Indian will listen to reason, but not to force. You can coax him, or reason with him, and convince him, but you can't drive him."

Dramatic Scene.

The scene within the Council Chamber, as the Chiefs assembled, was one of dramatic tenseness. All of them wore everyday dress, but the long grey locks of some of the elder leaders contrasted vividly with the spruceness of the younger Chiefs. Grouped according to tribal affiliations, the members took their seats. At a desk in the centre of the hall, sat Chief Levi General, speaker of the Council. A symbolic ceremony, curiously resembling the carrying of the mace into the House at the opening of Parliament, was performed when the "Fire Keepers" of the Council laid upon the table the historic wampum, a belt of colored beads, into which the destinies of the tribes are popularly believed to be interwoven. The placing of the wampum upon the table marks the opening of the Council. As in a British Parliament, the wampum is deposited under the table during certain stages of the discussion in the Council, but is replaced when a decision is to be made.

Following the placing of the wampum, prayers were offered by the Secretary of the Council, in thanks for the presence of the Chiefs, and in intercession for divine guidance during the deliberations thus begun.

The Uncrowned Prince.

Within the past week, motor cars have became a path to the home of Levi General, speaker of the Chiefs' Council, and "uncrowned King of the Six Nations."

A sturdily-built man of middle age, with high, intelligent forehead, surmounted by a mass of fine greying hair, appeared at the door when your correspondent called. He was in his shirt sleeves, and wore a grey vest and trousers.

"Chief General?" he repeated, a gleam of humor flashing from his steady eyes. "Yes, I'm supposed to be him." Underlying the humor, there was a trace of what might have been bitterness.

Chief General has long been recognized as the sanest and most able of the Six Nations Chieftains. He it was who crossed the ocean a year ago to carry to the Great White Chief, King George, the demand of the Six Nations for recognition of the rights conferred upon them by the Haldimand treaty of 1784.

"We have abided by the treaty, and we wish to continue to do so," declared Chief General, who is, perhaps, better known by his native name of Deskaheh. Translated literally into English, that sobriquet means "more than eleven." What its particular significance is in his case, or for what reason it was conferred upon him, Chief General confesses himself unable to say.

A Scrap of Paper.

The Six Nations are a unit in asserting their determination not to allow the treaty of 1784 to become "a scrap of paper."

"We have lived in amity with the Whites for a century and longer," Deskaheh continued. "Are we going to war now? I don't think so. But if is for the Government to decide. We stand upon our rights, against any further aggression. There was a time, when the British came to us for aid, and we gave it. Now, is our reward to be dissolution? If they want to wipe out the Indians, let them do so; I would as soon be dead if I cannot defend my own home. We are not the aggressors, we do not mean to be aggressors, but woe betide the armed force which ventures to set hostile foot upon our lands. If a man of that force returns, it will be because four thousand Indians have been slain."

Pointing out that the Indians paid no county taxes and had no vote in county elections, Chief General contended that the reserve did not constitute a portion of Brant County. His opposition to the enfranchisement of his people is based on the fear that in the wake of enfranchisement will come disintegration.

"If we become British subjects," he averred, "in two or three years there will be no Indians left, of those who are, will be destitute and dependent upon the country for their existence. The Indian has not the same financial ability as the white man, he cannot compete against him under the modern industrial conditions of four hundred Indians enfranchised through the efforts of Mr. Duncan Scott. More than half are now back upon our reserve, destitute, and a burden upon us. At one of our native schools 18 of the 35 students are children of aliens, that is, of enfranchised Indians who contribute not one cent to school maintenance.

Pay Their Share.

"Nor have we the educational efficiency of the whites, in our schools. In one school we had for 35 years a teacher who had not had a single pupil pass the entrance examinations. He was kept there through the efforts of Mr. Duncan Scott and others, and it was only a year ago that we finally succeeded in having him removed. We spend $15,000 or $16,000 annually on education, and under the present system it might as well be thrown into the deepest part of the Grand River. We pay our share of the taxes on different household necessities. That money goes to the Government and is returned by them to the provinces and the municipalities, yet not one cent of it comes back to us.

"And what do we ask? Justice—that is all. Is it too much?"

A vigorous denial was given by Deskaheh to reports that law-breakers found an asylum upon the reserve.

New Colors For Canadian Stamp

OTTAWA, May 9.—A number of changes in the color of Canadian postage stamps are being made, to conform with the new international regulations. A straw-colored one-cent stamp is being issued, to replace the old green cent stamp which has been in use for many years; and as the various offices exhaust their supply of green stamps, they will be replaced with the new issue. The red twocent stamp is being replaced with a green stamp, and should a six-cent stamp ever be issued, it will take the red color hitherto distinguishing the two-cent stamp. The five-cent stamp is of a violet shade, while the ten-cent stamp is blue.

BEST LUNCHEON KIWANIS CLUB IN PETERBORO'

Almost at Full Strength This Noon and Proved Quite a Success Financially.

EDUCATION TALK

The Kiwanis Club was almost at full strength at its noon luncheon to-day and in point of attendance and 'pep' the luncheon was one of the best to date. Dr. E. H. Wood presided and proved to be unusually effective in fixing fines. As a result the luncheon was a success financially.

Lt.-Col. Duncan Walker, Principal of the Normal School, discussed the subject of education and he pointed out that it had its genesis in early times.

Primitive History.

In primitive history, he said, the teachers officiated at religious ceremonies and schools of teaching became instruction centres for these rites. Through all time education has been inseparably linked up with religion. Lt. Col. Walker traced the progress of education dwelling particularly on the influence it exercised in ancient Greece and Rome.

During his discourse on the subject with regard to Greece he pointed out that the term 'pedagogue' is not rightly used when applied to the teaching profession, and for this reason was resented. The pedagogue in Athens simply conducted the children to and from school and administered punishment. They were the slaves of the teachers. A particular tribute was paid to the influence of monastic schools and to the splendid teaching of the Jesuit Fathers. The effect of the Renaissance was discussed and the conflict which is still being fought among educationalists—that is science versus classics.

Education's Pinnacle.

The pinnacle on which education rests to-day, it was pointed out, is a high one in its ideal. The teaching is directed now towards social efficiency. The ideas of individualism, altruism and cooperation are the basis of instruction. Happily, the Oriental conception of ancestral worship, "that what was good enough for my father is good enough for me, and what is good enough for me is good enough for me is good enough for my children," does not prevail here to any great extent.

Club at Orillia.

Kiwanian W. J. Carlisle of Lindsay conveyed Lindsay's greetings to the local club and informed them that there was every prospect of having a new addition to the family at Orillia soon. The matter of representation at the International convention at Toronto was discussed at some length, but no definite decision was reached. As to general attendance a letter was read by District Trustee J. I. Allen from Governor Bev. Hay urging a 50 per cent. attendance.

To-day's booster was Jim Dorn. He was unable to attend personally but left several splendid prizes with the secretary. Leslie Stevens captured the cigars and Joe Johns the cigarettes. Guests to-day were H. E. Abbott, Montreal, Harry Young of the Young Stock Company, and Harry Boyle, city.

CADET INSPECTION AT PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

To-morrow at 2 p.m. the Public School Cadet Corps will be ispected by Col. Gillespie of Kingston. The inspection well be held on the Prince of Wales grounds and will take place at 2 p.m.

All interested in the work of the schools are requested to be present.

PARIS, May 9—Canadian Press—Jack Dempsey broke away from Paris this afternoon, when he left ici London. He leaves for home Saturday.

He will get into training immediately he reaches home in order to meet all comers.

A LARGE FUNERAL.

At the funeral services for the late Harry Rew, whose funeral took place to Little Lake Cemetery last Saturday afternoon, St. George's Church was packed to the doors. Rev W. R. Courage preached a touching and eloquent sermon, enlarging on the excellent qualities of the dead young man, who was a member of the choir of the church, and whose wife is a teacher in the Sunday School classes. Many beautiful floral tributes testified to the esteem in which the young man was

GEORGE GIMBLETT IS APPOINTED FIRE CHIEF

Building By-law Effective Today

In accordance with the new building bylaw which was passed last night by the City Council, building permits will be issued at the city engineer's office instead of at the city clerk's. City engineer R. H. Parsons is given full supervision over all building in this way and the new system is expected to work out satisfactorily. The new bylaw, which is quite lengthy but a vest pocket edition compared with the first one drafted and turned down by the Council, came into effect today. The by law has not yet been printed but builders who desire to become acquainted with is clauses have the privilege of examining it in Mr. Parson's office. The bylaw which has served up till now and passed in 1890 and should have been discarded years ago according to local builders.

At Meeting of City Council Last Evening. By-Law Passed By a Vote of Six to Three.

OTHER MATTERS.

Bylaws dismissing George Grange as chief of the fire department and appointing George Gimblett of Hamilton, his successor at a salary of $2,000 were passed by the Council at a special meeting last night. The change becomes effective on May 15. All the members were present except Ald. Turner.

A single bylaw had been prepared embodying both the dismissal and the appointment and apparently had been first delivered to Ald. Crowe as chairman of the Fire Water and Light Committee. He consulted Mayor Taylor before the Council went into session and then crossed over to Ald Hamilton's desk transferring the official document to him.

The original bylaw was then amended to apply only to Chief Grange, and City Solicitor Widdifield meanwhile drafted in ink the second bylaw naming Gimblett as the new chief.

Ald. Jones asked whether the second bylaw was legal in that form and Mr.. Widdifield replied that it was regular but that it was not as well worded as he should have liked.

Same Divisions

The Council's division showed no change of sentiment. Those who supported each bylaw were Aldermen Holloway, Phelan, Hamilton, Stocker Crowe and Gainey. Opposed were Aldermen Morrison, Jones and McIntyre. The first bylaw's preamble contained a clause to the effect that "whereas the resignation of George Grange had been asked for and he had refused to vacate the office".

Discussion Was Brief

The three supporters and advocates of Chief Grange seemed unusually quiet, if not resigned. The comparative silence appeared almost portentous and a remark of Ald. McIntyre's indicated that the last has not been heard of this matter in spite of the smoothness with which it was signed and sealed last night.

"It's not likely that all this Council will be here next year" said Ald. McIntyre. "Is Gimblett a married man. He may be here only six months, and he ought to know now."

"That's up to him", Ald. Crowe answered.

"As far as I'm concerned Grange will get a fair shake next year" was Ald. McIntyre's final shot.

Ald. Jones expressed his surprise at the Council's appointment, and declared that Chief Grange had never been invited before the Committee, and few of the members had visited the firehall or knew anything about th Department.

"I've have been conversant with it for a long while" said Ald. Crowe, who was presiding in committee of the whole. "I have been aware that things have not been as they should be. I felt that sooner or later it would lead to something and this is what it led to, although I don't think it was intended to call for any resignation at first.

Ald. Crowe's Metaphor

But the eddy has grown into a whirlpool and this is the climax now. There is no other way at this late date to straighten the matter out."

Ald. Crowe repeated once more his former stricture that Chief Grange should have bowed to the Council's wishes when they asked him to resign.

"If Grange had resigned he would have admitted himself guilty," Ald. McIntyre replied.

The first bylaw was introduced by Ald. Hamilton, and after a considerable pause waiting for some one to second it, Ald. Stocker spoke out and said he would since there appeared to be some hesitations.

Prior to the session of the Council, Mayor Taylor and Ald. Crowe had reported in committee what they had learned about George Gimblett in Hamilton.

"He must be a good one if he has been fifteen years on the job and has never been promoted beyond driver" was Ald. Morrison's ironic comment. "We have men in our own department who have held offices."

Y.W.C.A. WORKERS MEET ON MAY 16

Tenth Triennial Conference of Organization to Be Held in Foronto.

TORONTO, May 9 (Canadian Press). — Branches of the Young Women's Christian Association and its operations in all parts of Canada, will be represented at the Tenth Triennial Conference of that organisation to be held in this city from 16th to 20th May next. Delegates of countless Boards, general membership and secretaries of the thirty-nine Associations from Halifax to Vancouver will attend.

Dr. Richard Roberts, well-known writer, and recently appointed pastor of the American Presbyterian Church, Montreal, has been secured for special addresses on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, when public meetings are being held.

Miss Julia Tolman Bee, of the American National Y.W.C.A., Rev. Trevor Davies and Dr. George Pidgeon, of Toronto, are taking part in the general programme, as well as Miss Nellie Elliott, on furlough from Hong-Kong, and Miss Marian Ferguson, of India, who is expected in Canada early in May.

As this is the first conference since war activities have ceased, the morning and afternoon sessions will be given up almost entirely to Round Table discussions, when the details of the problems of the Association's contribution to the present day community will be discussed from all angles.

THE RADIO TRIBES

BY R. L. DUNCAN
Director, Radio Institute of America

Why is it that some tubes are called dectector tubes and some amplifying tubes and that the plate of the amplifier must have more"B" battery voltage than the plate of the detector, although both seem to be alike

Both tubes are constructed of the same quality of materials. Their chief difference lies in their vacuum.

A detector tube has a small amount of gas left inside while the amplifier is highly vacuumed—all oxygen and other gases being withdrawn.

It is this difference of vacuity that makes one tube a detector and the other an amplifier.

A detector tube is known as a 'soft" tube and the amplifier as 'hard". Frequently an amplifier becomes soft after consistent use. Don't throw it away. It may be used satisfactorily as a detector.

Transformers

There are two classes of transformers used in radio reception—one in audio-frequency and the other in one or two-step amplification. Both have primary and secondary windings with an open or closed iron core.

These transformers are used in circuits where long receiving distance is desired. They are also efficient on an indoor loop antenna.

While it is possible for a skilled mechanic with a proper machine shop at his disposal to make these transformers, it will be found much cheaper to purchase them.

That radio of the windings ranges from 3 1-2 to 1 to 6 to 1—that is, an audio-frequency transformer with a secondary of 27,500 turns of wire has a primary of 5500 turns.

Another make of transformer has 12,000 turns in the secondary and 3900 in the primary. The number of turns depends on the size of wire which generally turns from No 32 to No 34—too fine for the average individual to use in experimenting.

An easily applied wire attachment prevents a lid falling from a tea pot or the spout dripping.

When empty a new shopping bag can be folded to the size of an ordinary hand bag.

BANKS'

Overland Country Club, a Bargain

NOT A FAULT TO FIND

Mr. Struan G. Robertson, of Seabank, Pictou, N. S., writing in April as to his Overland purchased in the previous May, says: "I have pleasure in stating that I have not a fault to find with it. I did 3,560 miles with the car during the summer and fall without trouble of any kind except the breaking of an ignition wire. I did not have a puncture.

"Today the car seems as good as when I got her.

"On a 210 mile run round Cape George, Antigonish, Guysboro, Melrose, Glenelg and home by East River St. Mary's with four passengers, I used but ten gallons of gas, being an average of 22 miles to the gallon.

"I am thoroughly well satisfied with it and have not seen anything in its class that I would exchange it for."

LLOYD GEORGE STILL SMILING AT CONFERENCE

Little Welshman Still Has Confidence in Ultimate Success of Genoa Meeting.

OTHER RUMORS.

GENOA, May 9. — (Canadian Press—Optimism was still professed last night by Premier Lloyd George. The little Welshman was still smiling, but most of the delegates no longer have the heart to smile.

"Many difficulties worse than this have been passed, and we shall pass this one," said Mr. Lloyd George to the correspondents last night, after a frantic day, in which he conferred with nearly all the leading figures at the Conference. "We have come to Genoa to overcome such difficulties; otherwise, why have the Conference?"

Genoa echoed with all sorts of rumours about the breaking up of the entent and the imminent dissolution of the Economic Conference. The French and Belgians stand firm in their position to the property clause of the memorandum to the Russians and insist that failure of the Russians to accept the memorandum will mark the end of the conference.

The Russian delegates, after conferring with Premier Lloyd George, issued a statement denouncing the French and Belgians for their attempt to break up the conference and calling atention to the fact that these two countries are trying to make it appear that everything hinges on the Russian reply, while they themselves have not endorsed the very document they are discussing.

Both Mr. Lloyd George and French delegation denied reports in British papers that the interview between the British Prime Minister and the French Foreign Minister on Saturday was a stormy one and terminated with the declaration by Mr. Lloyd George that this disagreement meant the end of the entente.

The Russians attack on the Belgian position created much discussion among both the French and Belgian delegates, but apparently they will not reply.

Signor Schanzz and other Italian representatives labored all Sunday evening and yesterday trying to reconcile the disagreements, but seemingly with no success.

SARNIA ENDORSES NEW STEEL PLANT.

SARNIA, May 9. — (Canadian Press)—At the polls yesterday Sarnia rate-payers stood solidly behind the special by-law providing for a fixed assessment of the Dominion Alloy Steel Corporation at $200,000 votes for the by-law totalling 2578 for and 77 against, the provision requiring a total vote of one third registered ratepayers being easily complied with.

England and France Still Good Friends

Published Statement That Entente Was Ended Is Branded as "Maliciously Inaccurate."

DENIED AT ONCE.

LONDON, May 9. — Canadian Press. — Asked whether he could give any information concerning a Genoa despatch to the Times on Sunday, from Henry Wickham, its editor, to the effect that Prime Minister Lloyd George told Vice-Premier Barthou in an interview Saturday that the Entente between Great Britain and France was ended, Mr. Chamberlain replied that a summary of the account published by the Times appeared to have reached the Premier at Genoa.

"I do not know," Mr. Chamberlain added, "what report he received, but at any rate a sufficient account reached him, and he has asked me to say that the account in the Times is a deliberate and malicious invention, and to contardict it at once. The Lord Chancellor, who was also mentioned in the Times' report, has already repudiated it."

Mr. Chamberlain added that he was not aware whether other of the papers had carried the same account. "If they did," he said, "they would be guilty of publishing a statement which is utterly inaccurate and apparently maliciously inaccurate."

OFFICERS MILLBROOK GOLF CLUB ELECTED.

Canon Allen is Honorary President. Three - Mile Sprint.

MILLBROOK, May 9. — The Millbrook Golf Club intended having the initial game for this season on Thursday afternoon, that being the first half holiday, but unfortunately the wet weather rather spoiled the plans which, had been made. However another week may bring more favorable conditions and another start will be made. The annual meeting was held in Bank of Toronto on Wednesday evening, and though the attendance was small, the business of the year was concluded and the new officers were elected.

The following now constitute the executive:

Hon. Pres., Rev. Canon Allen.
Hon. Vice-Pres., Mr. J. R. Eakins.
Pres., Mr. A. A. Smith.
Vice-Pres., Mr. W. T. Wood.
Sec.-Treas., Mr. L. R. Atkinson.
Grounds committee — The above named officers.
Entertainment Committee — Lady members of the club.

The membership for last year numbered 22; the list for this year is not yet complete.

Left over Event.

The three mile race, the concluding event left over from Sports Day for which the competitors were J. Larmer, Frazerville, and J. Cardwell, North Monaghan, was run off on Saturday morning, the former being the winner, making the distance in 18 minutes, Carwell came in 3 minutes later. The silver medal, presented by Rev. G. S. Gervan and Mr. W. E. Ball for general efficiency in the running contests, thus becomes the property of J. Larmer.

Labour Members Reply To Criticism in House

Drury Is Also Censured For His Attitude Toward Newspaper Men.

MAGISTRATES' BILL.

TORONTO, May 9. — The debate on the power of the Attorney-General to make and unmake magistrates as provided in the Magistrates Bill now before the Legislature, the advisability of newspapermen being present a conferences held with the Premier by outside deputations, and the third reading of a number of Bills, occupied yesterday afternoon's sittings. Second reading was given the Sick Children's Hospital Bill and the Sault Ste. Marie City Bill. The Fort William City Bill was up for third reading, but was held over at the request of citizens of Fort William who want provision made in it for the right to increase the car fare to an amusement park. The Bill to incorporate the Ontario Thresher-men's Mutual Fire Insurance Company was given the second reading.

Accuse Labour Members.

H. H. Dewart read a despatch from London, Ont., intimating that several Labour members of the Legislature had warned officials of the London Street Railway Company that if the company did not revise the cut it recently made in the wages of its employees, these M.L.A.'s would withdraw their support from the company's Bill now before the Legislature. The despatch particularised C. F. Swaze (Niagara Falls) and K. K. Homuth (Waterloo South) as the Labour members referred to.

Mr. Dewart said he wished, after reading the report, to give Mr. Homuth an opportunity of replying, because such a threat, if true, was trafficking with the member's position in the House to secure gain for a particular class of people.

"I supported the London Street Railway Company's Bill," said Mr. Homuth, "because I thought the company was not getting sufficient fares to carry on and pay their employees a fair wage. My vote, and I believe the vote of the other members, was absolutely independent of any political view. The statement that there was any threat whatever to swing our votes is absolutely false."

Mr. Swayze was not in the House at the time.

Would Exclude Press.

Mr. Dewart also quoted from a Toronto paper describing a clash between the Premier and Sir Adam Beck during a conference which the members of the Toronto City Council and the Hydro Commission had with the Premier in reference to the clean-up. The report said that the Premier asked that this passage be not published, and the reporter refused to suppress it. The Prime Minister had pointed out that the newspapermen were let into the conference at his intercession, but if they refused to grant his request he would see that they were not allowed in next time.

Mr. Dewart asked if the report was true, and Mr. Drury replied that the major portion of it was true.

The Premier explained that he did what he thought was best in the interests of the furtherance of the clean-up deal.

Mr. Dewart insisted that the newspapermen should be present at these conferences. It was not granting a favour to the reporters, but it was Mr. Drury's duty as Prime Minister to see that the press was admitted to all such meetings, because it was the only way the average member of Parliament had of knowing what progress was being made in regard to questions on which he will shortly have to vote.

Premier Drury explained that it was the other parties to the conference who suggested that it be private. He was of the opinion that all such conferences be wide open.

Hon. Howard Ferguson took the position that newspapers could not be expected to ignore the words which passed between the Premier and Sir Adam Beck as indicating antagonism of the Premier to the Hydro Commission.

Hydro Criticised.

The Premier said he was still of opinion that he was justified at the conference in criticising the Hydro Commision for committing itself to radial construction work while the Government was awaiting an investigation on the advisability of embarking on such expenditure. It was this criticism which Sir Adam had resented. However, Mr. Drury pointed out that the Radial Bill will be up to-day, and he promised to take up the Toronto clean-up deal at that time.

Magistrates Bill.

The Bill respecting magistrates, which is a Government measure, was taken up clause by clause, and gave a basis for a number of arguments about the administration by the Attorney-Generals Department, particularly as regards appointing magistrates to supersede other such officials. The Bill is a codefication of older laws, and the first clause to arouse dispute was that which said a magistrate should hold office at the pleasure of the Government.

H. H. Dewart and Hon. Howard Ferguson thought a magistrate should only be dismissed for misconduct or inefficiency.

Both Mr. Dewart and Mr. Ferguson thought it was giving too much power to the Attorney-General to dismiss magistrates. The same argument was renewed when the clause giving the Attorney-General power to name a magistrate to act in other parts of Ontario from the district to which he was appointed.

Hon. Mr. Raney said it was necessary to have this power, because frequently it was urgently desirable that a magistrate should not try a certain case, and an official from a neighbouring municipality should be asked to preside. He instanced other cases where it was expedient to move magistrates to meet certain situations. In reference to appointing magistrates to jurisdictions which superseded other magistrates already there, this was done in the case of Cochrane but it had not been done in the case of North Bay except temporarily. It was pointed out that these clauses were not new ones. They both passed.

Greater Power.

Mr. Ferguson suggested that the power of magistrates should be extended in regard to civil jurisdiction, for example, that they should have power to decide actions for wages up to $100.00 instead of only $40.00. The Attorney-General did not think the time was ripe for that.

J. W. Currie (Toronto) held that a magistrate has greater power than a county judge, because he passes judgments so often that have the making or the marring of lives. Great care should be exercised in selecting them, and he thought they should be men of legal training.

Mr. Raney said that some of the very best magistrates in the Province had been "laymen," by that meaning lawyers. Relating to the clauses fixing the salaries magistrates are to receive, the Attorney-General said the object was to get away from fees and pay all magistrates on a salary basis. He suggested that for cities of over 80,000 population (Hamilton and Ottawa) the salary should be $5,000 a year; over 40,000 (London), $4,000; over 20,000 population, $2,000; and so on. Magistrates in cities of over 40,000 population would have to give all their time to these duties, and under that they could practice their ordinary trade or profession.

WEST ASKS ORIENTALS BE BARRED

The Western Members at Ottawa Ask That the Chinese and Japanese Be Refused Admittance.

DRUG TRAFFIC.

OTTAWA, May 9. —(Canadian Press.)—L. J. Ladner, (Conservative Vancouver S.), continued the debate on Oriental immigration at the evening sitting. In European countries, such as France, Switzerland, Belgium and Great Britain, he said, different races had combined to make a nation. These races had succeeded by virtue of the fact that they were similar in color, in religion ,and in their adherence to certain national ideals. Perhaps the prime factor, ho(wever, in the process which had knit them togeth er was the prevalence of intermarriage.

But the oriental had nothing in common with white. His national ideals color, and religion were different; and there was practically no intermarrying. Even the Chinese and Japanese did not assimilate. They had lived beside each other for thousands of years without becoming an nation. He appreciated the fact that, among the educated classes, there were many worthy representatives of both these races, but it was the Mongolians to whom Canada objected.

The Drug Traffic

The drug traffic was a direct result of the admission of Chinese and Japanese, and it was responsible for "the lowest dives of moral iniquity found in our cities." Mr. Ladner insisted that trafficing in

C. M. TEASDALE FORMER RUNNER DIES OF THE FLU

Toronto Man Was Considered One of the Best Mile Runners in This Country.

A SURVEYOR.

WINNIPEG, May 9 (Canadian Press). — C. M. Teasdale, Dominion land surveyor, of Toronto, died of influenza at Flin Flon, Man., on 22nd April, according to word received here last night from The Pas.

He was 40 years old, and is survived by his wife and child, who reside in Toronto.

He had for several years been engaged in surveying mineral claims in Northern Manitoba, and was probably more familiar with The Pas mineral belt than any other man in the country.

He was a graduate of Toronto University, and in his youth was one of the best mile runners Canada has produced.

THE CIVIL SERVANTS' BONUS.

The Federal Government seems to have dealt with the bonus for civil servants problem in a business-like manner, and while it is possible that all Federal employees will not be satisfied with the new scale, the arrangement will doubtless appeal to the majority of people as the most feasible under the circumstances. The higher paid officials, those receiving $2,400 a year and over, are to lose their bonus completely, while a graduated scale for those under that figure is to be adopted. Civil servants whose salary is $1,200 or under, who have one or more dependents, will receive the same bonus as last year, and those without dependents will be paid one-half of the old bonus. Similarly, officials whose salary ranges between $1,200 and $1,800, and who have dependents, will get two-thirds of the 1921 bonus, while single men, wth nobody dpendent upon them, will not receive any bonus. The plan seems to be an honest attempt to meet the conditions as they exist to-day, and the men who would be the hardest hit by a complete elimination of the extra remuneration as was first proposed, are spared by the new arrangement, which will strike the public as sensible and fair. Men without dependents, who are receiving over $1,200 a year, have no serious ground for complaint, and on the whole the decision reached by the Government should give satisfaction.

A NECESSARY STEP.

The Board of Health, in deciding to notify owners of property who have ignored other warnings to have their premises connected with the city sewerage system, that if they do not comply with the orders of the Board within thirty days their houses will be placarded as unfit for habitation, evidently means business. The delinquent owners will, it is hoped, see the folly of further delay in this matter, and will carry out the order of the Board. They have had ample warning, and in the interest of the health of the community, a speedy compliance with the instructions of the health authorities is essential. There is no justification for failure to provide sanitary conditions, and if they cannot be brought about by the latest warning issued by the Board, the premises of the offenders would be much better closed completely. They at least would not be a nuisance and a potential danger to residents of the neighbourhood as they are at present. The Board of Health does well to make the warning definite and emphatic. Considerable latitude has been given in this connection in the past, and it was high time to draw the line. Incidentally, when the present list has been dealt with, the medical officer of health should have little trouble in finding another crop of houses which have not yet been connected with the sewer. The clean-up of all such places should be made general.

STARVING VETERANS.

Stories in Toronto newspapers of veterans of the Great War being on the verge of starvation in that city seem to call for an explanation. Many ex-service men have, of course, been suffering from the unemployment crisis, and have been in straitened circumstances, but it seems incredible that with so many agencies for the relief of distress there should be any danger of war veterans reaching the starvation stage. The Patriotic Fund is still functioning to some extent, the D. S. C. R. is taking care of many cases, and there are organisations of returned soldiers which have been liberally helped by the public, and which surely are in a position to see that no man who fought starves in the midst of plenty. Many of the appeals made by war veterans' organisations for funds were based on the understanding that just such cases would be provided for, and while it could not be expected that the various associations would be able to indefinitely continue to support large numbers of returned men who are without funds and without work, it is but natural to suppose that they would be able to deal with emergency cases of distress among the men on whose behalf their organisations were launched. At least, it is difficult to understand how, in view of the existence of so many different associations, it would be possible for any veterans of the Great War to arrive at the plight which, it is claimed, some of them have reached.

SALVAGING THEIR REPUTATION.

The announcement from Los Angeles that Mary Pickford has been chosen president of a club of motion picture actresses, the primary purpose of which is to protect the good name of its members, is rather amusing. Granted that such an organisation would appear to be needed, the wisdom of choosing a divorced film star as president is open to doubt. It does not seem to have occurred to Miss Pickford or to anybody else in the new club apparently that the movement might have a better chance for success—at least, that it would be more certain to meet with popular approval—if some other moving picture actress had been chosen to lead. The fact that the choice of the organisation for president has figured in a divorce case impresses the outsider with being sufficient reason to have passed over her in favour of somebody else, but the selection has been made, and the public can do nothing about it other than wonder at the lack of judgment of the members. The motion picture industry has fallen considerably into disrepute recently, and the desire of film stars to protect their reputation is something in which they will have the sympathy of the public. All movie actresses—or, indeed, the majority of them—are not necessarily bad, and it would be decidedly foolish and unfair to condemn them in a body because of the frailty of some members of the profession. And so the movement originating in Los Angeles will have a measure of popular support behind it in spite of the unfortunate start made by the club in its choosing of a president.

WILL REDISTRIBUTION BE FAIR TO THE CITY VOTER?

Probably during the next session of Parliament there will be a redistribution of constituencies. The West is entitled to a greater representation in the [illegible] munities are grossly under-represented. For this unsatisfactory situation no class or party is peculiarly responsible. It has been understood in this country that extent of territory was a consideration to be taken into account in adjusting parliamentary representation. But it does seem clear that this principle has been carried so far as to involve grave injustice to the centres of population.

There is no sound reason why thirty thousand people in Montreal or Toronto should have no greater voice in the House of Commons than ten thousand in a Quebec or Ontario county. The injustice is more glaring if the farmers organise as a class group for political purposes. It would be unfair, however, to hold the farmers responsible for the existing electoral inequalities. They have not demanded excessive representation nor did they fashion the system under which Parliament is now elected. On the other hand, it is hard to find in the present adjustment of constituencies any support for the notion that the farmers have been treated unfairly by the "old parties." They have always had a very generous share of political power and there never was a time when they could not have elected men of their own group in a majority of the constituencies of Canada. If they chose candidates from other pursuits and professions it was not because they were under obligation to do so or because the political machinery was organised to their disadvantage.

It may, however, be frankly admitted that until the present Parliament was elected there were too few farmers in the House of Commons just as in appointments to the Senate and to important commissions and responsible public offices farmers received scant consideration. We seemed to forget that many farmers go through the universities and by education and culture stand fully on a level with other elements of the population. The truth is that behind the farmers' movement there has been a conscious social protest against neglect which was probably unintentional, but was bound in time to produce irritation and protest. The farmers themselves assisted to produce the condition against which they finally revolted. Now that the protest has been made and agriculture vindicated, one hopes that class and group considerations will not be so influential in future contests as they were in the last general election. So one hopes that when the constituencies are again redistributed a fairer balance of political power between the urban and rural communities will be established.—Montreal Star.

KEEPING WORKERS OFF THE FARM.

What appears to be a well organised and deliberate effort to interfere with agricultural production in Canada is being noted in Western cities. Active agents are successfully preventing workers from going to the farms at anything like reasonable wages. The result is that despite unemployment in the cities there is already a shortage of efficient labour on the land and the seeding is suffering. Should these tactics continue until harvest the indications are that the benefits of the crop so important to the re-establishment of stable conditions in the West may be largely lost, not only because of high wages, but also of low production for such high wages.

The campaign is well directed to prevent a return of prosperity in Canada because nothing is more important than that we should have a profitable crop this year.

An Alberta farmer describes the situation:

It is a great misfortune that most of the men who were taken care of by the cities through the winter, and who went into the country as farmers, when spring came, and help was needed on farms, turned out not to be farmers at all, but all sorts of tradesmen. It has not been easy to get good farm help, even so small a number as have been required. Men go out as farmers who cannot even harness a team and put men to all sorts of inconveniences, and delays, and there seems no way to forestall this. I took out some men last week, and before I took them, I grilled them carefully as to what they could do. I told them unless they were real farmers, and could handle horses, they had better not go, as I would not keep them a day. When I set them to harness a team, two of them said if I would show them a little they thought they could get along all right. When questioned closely on the spot, it turned out they never handled a horse in their lives. They were 10 miles out in the country, had their bed and meals, and I had missed the chance of getting men such as we need, and had to make another expensive trip to Calgary, to get other men, while at the critical time my teams were standing in the barn, useless until drivers were got. This is a frequent occurrence.

Wages are, of course, lower than last year, but some men make this up by doing work only up to the amount that will just pass. They are not pleased at the reduction, and want to get even some way.

If we have a good harvest, I am almost afraid we will have a big contract on our hands. If men find that there is a chance to hold a farmer up, they will take the first opportunity to do so.

I noted in Calgary, there seemed to be just outside the employment offices some self-appointed men, who made it their business to watch every farmer who went in for men, and when men were hired, tried to get them to demand more wages. I hired two last week, and made full arrangements with them, and they were seemingly satisfied, and wanted to go out. I arranged for them to be at the station to come on the train I was coming on, and so did not try to get others. I waited at the train, right up to the moment of starting, and they never turned up at all, and so I had no chance to get others, as I had to go on this train.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To Editor, of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir,—The last weeks of each year bring aspirants for seats on the aldermanic board and each aspirant tells of the municipal Utopia that will be created if he is elected. On January 1st 1922 it was definitely decided that all our economic difficulties were about to be overcome and that the heavily burdened taxpayer was to be relieved of much of his load. Nothing but the strictest economy need be expected during 1922. With this always in view the new council soon decided that the fire department was inefficient, notwithstanding the city of Peterboro had a fire loss much lower than other cities of approximately the same size. The present chief draws $2,000 pr annumn and in the move for economy they wish to engage one at $2500, thinking that possibly he might have a much greater fire loss and therefor do more to earn his money. Money was spent in advertising. Ald. Crowe and Mayor Taylor go to Toronto to interview those who could speak with authority on the subject of fire fighting, and incidentally, bring back a report that the position is adequately filled by Chief Grange and that a change would not be beneficial. Another meeting was held and six or seven members go to Toronto again and interview applicants. None are found that are suitable and they are again told that Chief Grange is the man for the position. Another meeting is held and they decide to send for three out of town applicants and the city will pay for it. Two of these applicants come and no decision is reached other than to go to Hamilton and look up the record of one man—salary $2,500.

Outside of the increased salary they expect to pay, these advocates of municipal economy have spent a nice sum touring Ontario. One thing favourable may be said, however. They must be all supporters of the O.T.A. else Quebec also would have been visited.

Now in the face of the recommendations of Fire Marshal and the Toronto Chief only one man has had the moral courage to change his attitude and has thereby gained in the estimation of the citizens. The others cling to their original position and will, apparently, do so in spite of all reason. The chairman of the committee states that his only reason for being against Chief Grange is that the chief has lost the confidence of the council. Undoubtedly he has a certain portion of the council against him but he has retained nd now enjoys the absolute confidence of an overwhelming majority of the citizens. But, gentlemen, pay no heed to the wishes of the citizens, but cling to your prejudices and it is not at all impossible that the citizens will, in the near future, hold a meeting and decide to send a delgation out of town, not for a fire chief, but for a Mayor and five or six new aldermen

MOTHER'S DAY AT MILLBROOK SUNDAY.

Methodist Reception Service Saw 6 New Members.

MILLBROOK May 9. — At the reception service held in the Methodist church on Sunday morning, 6 new members, Mr. and Mrs. M. Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Urry and Mr. and Mrs. E. Patton, were received by letters from their former pastors, while 16 others united with the church for the first time. The service which was a very solemn and impressive one, was conducted by the pastor, Rev. S. T. Tucker, assisted by the Rev. Jos. Wilks.

An unusually large number of communicants remained to partake of the Lord's Supper which was administered at the close of the love feast following the regular order of the service

Special Services.

Next Sunday being Mother's Day will be observed in all the churches in some special manner. Grace Presbyterian church, which began last Sunday to hold their regular Sunday school session after the morning service instead of in the afternoon as usual, will have a union service of the usual morning congregation and the members of the school. The special program prepared for Mothers' Day will be used.

The Methodist church will have a men's choir both morning and evening and other special features appropriate to the occasion. The Anglican churches throughout the parish of Millbrook and Cavan are also making preparations to observe the day with suitable music, sermons, etc.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. J. J. Russell, who has been spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. F. Russell, Peterboro, returned to her home here for the summer months, last week.

Mr. Errol Hansman is here from the west on a visit to his mother, Mrs. Hansman, Anne Street, and his sisters, Miss Hansman and Mrs. H. W. Johnston.

Mrs. McBrian, Sr., of Petrboro, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. Willson, Main street.

The prizes given by Mrs. Westmacott to the members of the Anglican Girls' Auxiliary for correctly naming the Indian schools [illegible] man's Missionary Auxiliaries, were won by Misses Elsie Weeks and May Attwool. The prizes consisted of two well bound and handsomely illustrated books.

Miss Gladys Smith of Toronto has been visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Smith, for the past week.

The W.M.S. of the Methodist church will hold their May meeting at the Fallis Line church, on Wednesday, May 10th, at 3.30 p.m., leaving by motor either from parsonage or Miss Byam's store, not later than 2.45 p.m. Cars will be in waiting for all who wish to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Kells of Toronto, motored down from the city on Saturday afternoon and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dawson over the week end. Mr. C. Needler and Dr. H. A. Needler accompanied them the former remaining at his home here for the week before returning to his position with the Maple Leaf Milling Co., Toronto. Mrs. J. Dawson and Mrs. J. R. Eakins motored home with Mr. and Mrs Kells when they returned on Monday.

Miss M. Byam, Miss E. Falls, Mr. Lloyd Byam and Mr. F. Alcorn motored to Port Hope on Friday evening and attended the entertainment in the Methodist church given by the famous violinist Skovgaard.

Miss Gertrude Richards visited friends in Peterboro on Friday and Saturday of last week. Her cousin, Miss Eileen McKim, accompanied her home and remained over the week end returning home on Monday.

Don't Prod Your Liver to Action

NR Overcomes Biliousness, Constipation, Sick Headache, Quickly. No Griping or Pain. Guaranteed.

The organs of digestion, assimilation and elimination—the stomach, liver and bowels—are closely allied, and the proper action of any of these organs is largely dependent upon the correct functioning of all the others.

"Whipping" your liver into action with calomel or forcing your bowels with irritating laxatives or strong cathartics is a great mistake. A better, safer plan is strengthening and toning the whole digestive and eliminative system with Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), which not only brings immediate relief, but genuine and lasting benefit. It acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys, improves digestion and assimilation, overcomes biliousness, corrects constipation and quickly relieves sick headache.

Get your system thoroughly cleansed and purified for once; stomach, liver and bowels working together in vigorous harmony, and you will not have to take medicine every day—just take one NR Tablet occasionally to keep your system in good condition and always feel your best. Remember it is easier and cheaper to keep well than it is to get well.

Get a 25c box and try it with the understanding that it must give you greater relief and benefit than any bowel or liver medicine you ever used or no pay. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

ABE FILION AND MRS. EDWARDS ARRESTED ON MURDER CHARGE

Preliminary Hearing Enlarged Until Next Saturday By Magistrate O. A. Langley — Inquest on Thursday Night.

AUTHORITIES ACTIVE.

Abraham Filion and Mrs. Emma Jane Edwards appeared before Magistrate Langley on Saturday charged with the murder of Ernest Edwards, and were remanded until Saturday, May 13.

This is the latest development in the series of incidents that began on Wednesday, April 12, by the finding of the lifeless body of Ernest Edwards in the back-yard of the premises which the family was occupying on the Ninth line of Dummer by John Williamson of Norwood. Mr. Williamson was engaged in sugaring operations in the maple bush on the property of which he is the owner and happened to pass near the house that afternoon.

Succeeding episodes were the several sittings of the inquest under Coroner Greer. The first published statement of Mrs. Edwards, mother of the deceased, was of a suspicion that her son might have taken strychnine, although she could ascribe no reason for such an act, and also her announcement that a bottle containing a quantity of the poison that had been kept in a trunk in her son's room was missing.

Chief Newhall's visit to Norwood on Friday and the presence of Provincial Inspector Boyd in Peterborough yesterday were significant indications of the activities of the authorities who presumably have sufficient grounds for the course that has placed Mrs. Edwards and Filion behind the bars at the County Jail.

The coroner's jury will continue its hearing on Thursday night, with chief interest attaching to the expected report of the analysis of the contents of Edwards' stomach. Mr. F. D. Kerr has been engaged to defend Abraham Filion in the Police Court proceedings.

WILL REPLACE OLD BUILDING CANADA CEMENT COMPANY

Lakefield Industry Prepares For Largely Increasing Their Product Capacity in Near Future

LAKEFIELD, May 9.—Mr. Bailey, superintendent for the Canada Cement Co., has arranged for carrying on the work of razing the company's old main building here. About twenty men have started on this work, which will be continued if a satisfactory agreement with the municipality is effected. Present operations are pending the decision of the Court of Revision for a satisfactory settlement in school tax assessment on the property of the company, and the result of the by-law to be submitted to the ratepayers for an extension of time to complete the re-building of their plant from January 1st, 1921, to December 31st, 1923.

The plan is to replace the old building with a modern stock house of the silo type, which would, when completed, have a capacity of 425,000 barrels of cement.

Work on the new building will commence within the next week or ten days on the arrival of Mr. J. A. Creasor, the construction engineer, and the completion of the necessary repairs to the power-line to Young's Point.

Monthly Social.

The Adult Bible Class of the Methodist Church held their monthly social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Payne. There was a good attendance and a very pleasant evening was spent. The following made a very entertaining programme:

Address, Mr. W. J. Northey; hymn, No. 328; prayer, Mr. W. MacDonald; solo, Mr. R. Payne; piano solo, Mr. K. S. Madill; duet, Mrs. Purdy and Mrs. Spence; reading, Mrs. W. Madill; recitation, Mrs. C. Hamblin; address, Mr. Harrison; reading, Mr. MacDonald; address, Mr. Bartindale; reading, Mrs. MacMillan.

A peanut contest, won by Mr. MacDonald's team, brought the programme to a close, after which dainty refreshments were served.

HIRSCH ELECTED VICE-PRESIDENT.

LAKEFIELD, May 9.—Mr. R. A. Hirsch has been elected Vice-President of the East Peterborough Baseball League, and Mr. J. R. Hill the official delegate. Lakefield is on the map in baseball as well as hockey and football. It is hoped that lacrosse may be added to Lakefield's sport list before the season is over.

SORES SPREAD ALL OVER FACES AND HANDS

Mrs. Howard Hallette, Waskatenau, Sask., writes:—"I wish to tell you of the benefit we have received by using your valuable medicine Burdock Blood Bitters.

My children started to break out on their faces in small white pimples which kept getting larger each day. Pus would form under the scabs and they would come off, and each time the sores would be larger; some were as large as a twenty-five cent piece and would spread all over their bodies. I was nearly in despair and sent to the village for a bottle of good blood medicine. The druggist sent me a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, which I commenced giving them at once.

In about ten days I saw an improvement and they grew steadily better each day, and in one month the sores had all disappeared."

All blood and skin diseases are caused by bad blood, and to get it pure and keep it pure you must remove every trace of the impure and morbid matter from the system by a blood cleansing medicine such as BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS a remedy that has been on the market for the past forty-five years, and one without an equal for all diseases and disorders of the blood.

TO HOLD SPORTS DAY, BAILIEBORO.

Tuxis Boys Are Arranging Program For May 24.

BAILIEBORO, May 9. — The Tuxis boys of this village are planning to hold a sports' day on the 24th of May. A committee have been appointed to look after the programme. The local squares in the surrounding country will also be asked to take part in the programme. Supper will be served in the evening by the Ladies Aid.

W.M.S. MEETING

The regular meeting of the W.M.S. was held at the home of of Miss Selina Dawson on last Thursday evening. There was a splendid attendance. Miss Selina Dawson who has been a faithful worker in the W.M.S. for a great many years, was made a life member by the ladies of the church. A very suitable reply was given by Miss Dawson, who told of the pleasure she had found in connection with this work.

The President, Mrs. W. S. Nichols, was appointed delegate to attend the W.M.S. Convention to be held in Belleville in the beginning of June.

At the close of the meeting the Ladies' Aid held a short meeting to discuss some business matters, after which a dainty lunch was served and everyone enjoyed a pleasant evening.

drugs was a regular business, that opium and morphine were shipped in by Chinese merchants and sold by unscrupulous individuals, mostly Chinese, who did not take the drugs themselves but preyed upon the weaknesses of others. The drug traffic was increasing all over Canada's intercourse with oriental adai's intercourse with oriental countries.

T. G. McBride, Progressive, Cariboo, declared that if the present influx of orientals were not checked the white race would have to retreat over the Rockies in a short time. The Canadian people could not have an A1 country at the same time that they had a C-3 class of people.

Reading Newspapers

In the course of his argument Mr McBride remarked "I do not believe in our coming to Parliament and spending hours reading the newspapers", and at once several members near him put down their papers, amid general laughter of the House.

J. A. Mackelvie, (Conservative, Yale), asserted that orientals were now employed extensively in orchard work in the Okanagan. During the war 22 per cent of the population of the Okanagan took up arms, and the places of the laborers in the district were taken up by Chinese. As a result of that 80 per cent. of the vegetables grown in that valley are now produced by Chinese labor and returned soldiers, on coming back from the front, found that they had been crowded out by orientals. Mr. MacKelvie said that during the last two years Australia had been successful in absolutely excluding orientals.

Hon. T. A. Crerar asked what was the nature of the Australian Legislation.

Mr. MacKelvie replied that it was an educational test.

Why 99 per cent Of People Are Constipated

Causes More Sickness In Spring Than Any Other Time Of Year.

You no doubt have taken all sorts of medicine with always the same results, only temporary relief. The reason you do not get any results is because none of the medicines you have taken acts upon the Liver. There is only one medicine known that acts upon the Liver, and that is Tanated Calomel. Doctors recommend that you take one of these tablets before meals or two at bedtime. This medicine acts upon the Liver, causing it to excrete ile into the intestines, giving a natural, easy movement of the bowels. A few hours after taking you will get almost instant relief from Headaches, Indigestion, Rheumatism, Constipation, Impure Blood, Kidney Pains, etc.

Tanated Calomel is harmless and easy to take. No salts or seidlitz are necessary after taking. It will be worth millions to people who have been sickly for years. It is also the best medicine for spring, when so many people are troubled with that tired, heavy, listless feeling. Get a few of these tablets from your druggist, F. C. Webber, Charlotte street, and you will be surprised how much better you will feel.

Don't Buy Kitchen Ware Simply Because It's Cheap!

HOUSEKEEPERS are sometimes asked to buy cheap cooking utensils just because they are nice to look at when new. But after a short use, where has the bright newness gone?

It is true economy both of money and of time and energy to buy only

SMP Diamond or Pearl WARE

"A Face of Porcelain and a Heart of Steel"

Neither Diamond nor Pearl Ware is expensive. Both are truly economical in that they last for years with ordinary care. Diamond and Pearl Ware utensils do not stain or lose their bright color. Acids of food juices have absolutely no effect. Diamond and Pearl utensils can be cleaned in a jiffy, even after the greasiest frying or boiling. And they do not burn out.

Diamond is blue and white outside, all-white inside, with three coats of enamel.

Pearl is grey and white, with two coats of enamel.

Do you know that a Diamond or Pearl Ware pot that sold for $1.50 last year, can be bought now for 90 cents?

"Our First Year"

(BY A BRIDE)

CHAPTER XXXII.

MY ALMOST TRAGIC MISTAKE.

Why I so obstinately proceeded down the street, except from plain temper, I never shall know. As soon as I was quite sure that Mr. John Cuthbert Madison was pursuing his bride I felt decidedly better. But I kept on walking, Jack on the opposite side of the street and a little behind me.

Had I known anyone in the neighborhood I would have invented an excuse for a call, anything to relieve the tension of the situation. After we had turned and twisted through a dozen streets I wearied of the chase.

I wanted my man to overtake me, I had been so silly, Jack was so good, I'l be decent, I'd tell him so.

As I neared the park a sudden inspiration animated me. Three was a certain lonely walk through the deepest woods where Jack and I often had wandered. I would lure my husband to the familiar spot, and then I would surprise him: I would turn suddenly and then we would make up.

The steps of my pursuer lagged, finally I lost the sound of them. Doubtless they were deadened by the carpet of decaying leaves.

I smiled to think how obstinate my adorable husband could get when pushed too far. It was a discovery. Jack was obstinate merely because he didn't understand me, not because there was a single disagreeable trait about him. I could hardly wait to make up.

I was warm after the spring rain, I was fagged when I reached the fallen tree in the secluded nook where Jack and I often had rested in our engaged days. The log was damp, but I sat down to listen for Jack's following steps. I heard a twig snap.

I calmly adjusted my hat, opened my handbag and powdered my nose daintily, the action was supposed to indicate my complete indifference to the man behind me.

Another twig snapped.

A heavy hand clutched my shoulder. I stiffened with terror. Jack never had touched me like that!

A rough voice growled close to my ear:

"Keep still! Give me them pearls! Quick!"

I looked up into an unshaven face, a red, vicious face.

The daring of the creature made me furiously angry.

"Take your hand away!" I cried, as I sprang to my feet and faced the man, and beheld also a small gun partially concealed in his huge hand.

"These are cheap beads, not pearls," I explained. "They mean something to me. You can have my handbag. There's money in it."

"Maybe. But they're a snappy looking job, alright. Good enough for me. Hand 'em over. Or shall I take 'em?"

"Here's my watch," I took it from my handbag.

At that moment the bushes behind the man parted softly.

I smiled pleasantly at the gunman, I chattered persuasively, kept talking to gain time.

Jack was not armed. The man had a gun.

Why Be "Skinny"

When It's so EASY to Build Flesh this New Way

Do you need more flesh? Are you pale, lacking in energy—or is your complexion blemished by humiliating pimples, blackheads, or boils? If so, simply go to your druggist's and get a package of IRONIZED YEAST tablets. Take these remarkably effective tablets—two with each meal. Then watch the results! Very likely you will be actually astonished at the improvement shown in you even after the first 48 hours. For IRONIZED YEAST embodies a remarkable new scientific process—a process which enables yeast to bring its splendid results often in just half the usual time.

The New Process

While yeast alone is good, tests show that it needs some other agent in order to quickly convert its wonderful health-building elements into firm tissue, rosy cheeks and sparkling vitality.

Everyone knows that iron is of great value in converting our food into living cells and tissue. So working on this problem, our scientists finally discovered the wonderful process of ironization—the process through which the combination of yeast and iron becomes 100% efficient.

Do not think, however, that any combination of yeast and iron will do. Yeast brings its best and quickest results only when it is treated through the scientific process of ironization. And this process is embodied only in IRONIZED YEAST, the one scientifically correct yeast treatment.

Be Sure About Your Battery

No matter what kind of a car you drive or what kind of a battery there is on it you should keep informed about certain battery facts.

You should know whether your battery is charged to the proper point—whether it has enough water in it—whether each of the cells works properly.

Our most important duty as a Battery Station is to tell you these things. It doesn't make a bit of difference what make your battery is. Here at Battery Headquarters we give every make exactly the same attention.

CHICAGO WHEAT.

CHICAGO, May 9 (Canadian Press). — Although wheat prices broke sharply at one time yesterday, the market averaged higher, owing more or less to current opinion that a rally was due after recent declines. The close was unsettled at the same as Saturday's finish, to 7-8c advance, with May $1.36 3-4 to $1.37 and July $1.24 to $1.24 1-4. Corn finished 3-8c at 1-2c to 3-4 up. Oats unchanged to 1-8c lower, and provisions varying from 10c decline to a rise of a shade.

WOOL SALES.

LONDON, May 9 (Canadian Press). — At the wool auction sales to-day 11,536 bales were offered, constituting a moderate selection. A large supply of good and medium greasy cross-breds met with ready sale at firm prices. The lower grades were quiet. The home trade took the bulk of the offerings.

The market averaged higher, owing

Hogs, receipts 34,000; opened 15c to 20c higher; lights and light butchers closed firm at day's advance; others weak, losing fully half early advance or strong to higher than Saturday's average; top $10.95; bulk, $10.25 and $10.90; shippers bought about 7,500; holdover moderate.

CASH GRAIN.

MONTREAL, May 9 (Canadian Press). — The local market for spot oats was easier yesterday at a decline of 1-2c per bushel. A moderate business was done in flour. A steady trade continues in most lines of millfeed, but the market for rolled oats continues quiet. The tone of the baled hay market remains steady. There was no change in the egg situation. The trade in potatoes is dull. Prices were up 1c and 1 1-2c per pound in butter. The cheese market is quiet.

WINNIPEG CATTLE.

WINNIPEG, Man., May 9 (Canadian Press). — Receipts yesterday, 1,010 cattle and calves and 950 hogs.

Trading in cattle was fairly steady with th week-end closed yesterday morning with an odd sale or two of real good handyweight killers looking higher. One load of thousand-pound steers changed hands at $8.75, with good quality making $8.50. Good butcher cows made $5.50 to $6.00; lightweight butcher heifers, $7.00 to $7.50.

On the hog market packers were bidding $12.25 for selects, fed and watered, with odd lots up to $12.50.

No receipts or trading on sheep and lamb market.

W. D. Frederick, of Campbellford, and F. R. E. Lazier, of Belleville, passed for the degree of Bachelor of Commerce.

COAL STRIKE MAY CAUSE A MONEY PANIC

President Mine Workers' Union Says Strike Must Be Settled Soon to Avert Disaster.

SUPPLY DECREASING.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 9 (Canadian Press). — A money panic, unless the coal strike is settled soon, was predicted by President John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, at his home here yesterday. "You cannot withdraw 600,000 men from work without affecting commerce and industry," Mr. Lewis said. "Tensity of the situation is also becoming more apparent because of the rapidly decreasing coal stocks."

Mr. Lewis reiterated previous declarations that no separate district agreement will be countenanced by the International Union, and that the miners will accept no reduction in pay, but will meet the operators in conference whenever they agree to live up to their promise in their last agreement.

TWO MEN KILLED BY EXPLOSION OF A GASOLINE TANK

Four Others Injured and One is Not Expected to Live. Accident Occurred in Basement.

CAUSE UNKNOWN.

BUFFALO, N.Y., May 9 (Canadian Press). — Two men were killed and four others injured, one probably fatally, in the explosion of a ten-gallon tank of gasoline in the basement of Sinclair, Roney & Co.'s wholesale millinery house here yesterday afternoon.

John Steuber, 48, and William Price, 57, workmen engaged in repairing the boiler in the building, died last night in the hospital.

John Bush, 56, is expected to die.

Scores of girl workers in the building were thrown into a panic by the explosion, which could be heard for blocks in the business district. Little damage was done to the building.

The cause of the explosion is unknown. A workman had just brought the can of gasoline into the basement, and was walking out when the blast occurred.

OTTAWA VOTES TO RESTRICT ORIENTALS

OTTAWA, May 9 (Canadian Press). — The House of Commons at 1.30 this morning voted in favour of efective restriction of Oriental immigration instead of "exclusion," by a vote of 130 to 36.

The vote came after a protracted debate all afternoon and evening, and was taken on an amendment by the Hon. Charles Stewart to substitute effective restriction for exclusion.

BILL AMENDS THE MAGISTRATES ACT.

TORONTO, May 9 (Canadian Press). — The Bill amending the Magistrates Act was again before the committee in the Legislature last night when the Attorney-General suggested a revised scale of magistrates' salaries, which was held over for further consideration.

The bulk of thirty-odd clauses went through unaltered.

H. H. Dewart strongly criticised the Attorney-General's Department in reference to the clause which permitted magistrates to hold office at the "pleasure" of the Governor-in-Council, and pressed for the recognition of municipal rights in the tenure of office of a magistrate.

BRANDON FLOOD NOW SUBSIDING

Assiniboine River Has Fallen About Two Inches. Roads Still Impassable.

BRANDON, Man., May 9.—(Canadian Press).—A drop in the Assiniboine River, which has been in flood during the past week, was reported from points west of this city early yesterday afternoon. During the past twenty-four hours the waters have receded about two inches.

Roads from the north are still impassable and in order to permit residents from the Northern side to come to the city for the purchase of supplies, city authorities are considering putting a launch in operation. Emergency supplies have been sent to the mental hospital and experimetal farm, both on the northern side of the river.

After a long continued experimental diet including one-fourth part of white pine sawdust, cows showed no change in their weight or milk production.

Don't Starve the Teeth

Food that must be chewed is the best food because it insures complete digestion and develops sound teeth and healthy gums. The longer you chew the more nutriment you get out of it and the more delicious it tastes. Contains all the lime-salts for making sound teeth and all the elements needed for making healthy tissue. Sixty-five per cent. of all school children have defective teeth—that means low vitality and poorly nourished bodies. Keep the kiddies strong and well.

Shredded Wheat

Shredded Wheat Biscuit is delicious with hot or cold milk, sliced bananas, prunes or canned fruits. Triscuit is the Shredded Wheat wafer and is eaten with butter, cheese or marmalade.

Short of Breath

As old age creeps on about the first bodily organs to play out are the kidneys.

With less activity and less exercise less food is required. But there is a tendency to eat too much—particularly too much meat.

The liver, kidneys and bowels become congested and there is suffering from indigestion, pains about the heart, backache, pains in the limbs, shortness of breath, etc.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are great favorites among the older people, because they correct the action of these filtering organs, purify the blood and bring comfort and health.

It is the poisons in the system which cause the pains and aches which so many elderly people needlessly endure.

Mr. Wm. Hyde, Wiarton, Ont., writes: "My wife and I have made use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills as a household remedy for the last five years, and think them splendid. My wife suffered from shortness of breath, especially when going upstairs. When she reached the top she would be completely tired out. After using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for a while this trouble disappeared."

Put Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to the test and you will feel that you have added years to your life. One pill a dose, 25c a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

Cadet Corps Made Good Showing at Annual Inspection. Annual Meeting Women's Institute.

SONG SERVICE.

MILLBROOK, May 9.—The annual inspection of the Millbrook Cadet Corps, No. 403, by Colonel Gillespie of Kingston took place on the school grounds on Monday, May 8th at 9 a.m. There was a fair attendance of the business men of the town, and the parents and friends of the pupils and all the local clergy men were present. Physical drill by the Cadets was carried out under the direction of Howard Lancashire in a most creditable manner, and afterwards the handsome oak shields, silver-mounted, which were won in the shooting contest by (1) Stanford Gilmour, (2) Lawrence Ingram, (3) Frank Alcorn, were presente by Colonel Gillespie.

The later congragulated the Cadets on the excellent manner in which their drill was carried out, and their work done during the year; he also suggested that they should attend the training camp at Barriefield this sunmer, and the advantages of a local rifle range were pointed out. The value to the boys, phsically, of drilling, etc., in connection with their cadet work, was especially emphasized. Col. Gillespie illustrating this from his own personal experience.

Others who spoke were Revs. Canon Allen, C. R. Spencer, G. S. Gervan, and S. T. Tucker. The pupils had a half holiday for the occasion, school not being called until 1.30 p.m.

Special Service

Grace Presbyterian church was well-filled on Sunday evening when Rev .D. J. Craig of Toronto, who has for the past three weeks been conducting a union evangelistic "Mission" at St. Enoch's church, Garden Hill, and Mr and. Mrs. Weaver also of Toronto, who have charge of the musical part of the services, were present, the former preaching the sermon, and the two later leading in the service of song.

The following is the order of service:

Doxolgy.

Invocation by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Gervan.

Song-Service, during which Mr. and Mrs. Weaver sang as a duet, "Love Lifted Me", and Miss Irene Henshaw, of Garden Hill, the solo, "He will Hold Me Fast."

Scripture Lesson, Philippians 3:1-21, "Christ the Believer's Life", by Rev. Mr. Craig.

Prayer, Rev. Mr. Craig.

Trio, "Lord I'm Coming Home", Messrs. Johnston, Weaver and Gervan.

Offering (for the Social Service Department).

Sermon, from teh text, Phil. 1:21, "For me to live is Christ, and to die is gain"; subject, "Likeness to Christ' emphasizing the Bible view of death, "gain", and of life, 'Christ liveth in me", the latter experience being absolutely necessary before the former becomes possible.

Duet, Mr .and Mrs. Weaver, "There is a Land mine eye hath seen', Hymn, "Simply Trusting.'

Benediticon.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Women' Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Smith on Saturday evening with a fair number of members in atendance. In the absence of both the president and the vice-president, by reqesut, Dr. E. Gillott occupied the chair, fulfilling the duties of the position in a very capable manner. After the reading of the minutes the secretary, Mrs. Smith, some unfinished business was attended to; the suggestion that the Insttitue request permission from the Council to be allowed to place a brass railing around the Soldier's monument for purposes of protection also to have a bed of flowers at its base, was discussed, but no definite action was taken.

The treasurer's report was quite satisfactory showing a balance on hand at the beginning of the year $403.76, amount raised during the year, $542.58, making a total of $946.-34. Expenses, including $340 so far sent to the Chautauqua Company, of Toronto, for the five concerts held druing the winter, $433.73, leaving a balance on hand of $512.61.

The following oficers were elected:

President—Miss M. Fisher.

Vice-Pres.—Mrs. H. Armstrong.

Secretary—Mrs. W. G. Rowland.

Treasurer—Miss E. Grandy.

District Representative—Mrs. John Allen.

Auditors—Mrs. T. Harkness, Mrs. W. E. Ball.

Representatives to annual District meeting held in June, Mrs. R. J. McKnight, Mrs. T. Harkness, Mrs. Jas. Dawson and Miss Pearl Burnhan.

On motion it was decided to hold a sale of homemade baking etc., in September teh proceeds to be used to purchase bulbs for distribution to the members.

The secretary explained that there will probably be a speaker here about June 20th if the other Institutes of the District are also having her services; the subject to be demonstrated, or spoken upon, will be published as soon as the list is received and the choice made.

After considerable discussion re the disposal to be made of the funds on hand, it was moved by Miss Grandy, seconded by Mrs. Harkness that the money be held for at least another year, or if possible, profitably invested, with the hope that the original intention, namely the erection of a town clock as a soldiers' memorial, either on the town hall, or some other public building, preferably the new Post Office should the community be fortunate enough to have such a building erected, might be carried out. Carried.

The next meeting will be held in the council chamber on Wednesday, May 31st at 8 p.m. Refreshments were served during the social hour with which the meeting closed.

RHEUMATISM

LUMBAGO NEURITIS SCIATICA vs. T.R.C.'s

Have you given up? Have you resigned yourself to that old, gnawing pain that nothing seems to relieve? Do you think because you can't go to Hot Springs or take some expensive treatment that you have no other alternative? We have many cases considered hopeless, tried everything, baths, serums, electricity, who found recovery in using T. R. C.'s. (Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules). We have thousands of letters that prove beyond doubt T.R.C.'s to be the most practical and successful Rheumatic remedy sold. At druggists, $1.00 per box. For Free Trial write Templeton, Toronto.

For the Benefit His Little Son Obtained

THIS MAN PRAISES DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Mr. J. H. Mercier pays well earned tribute to Dodd's Kidney Pills as a Family Remedy.

St. Agathie de Lotbiniere, Que., May 8.—(Special).—Enthusiastic over Dodd's Kidney Pills as a family remedy is Mr. Joseph Henric Mercier, a well-known resident here. And Mr. Mercier is always ready to give the reason.

"For four years I used Dodd's Kidney Pills for my family," he says. "I have a little son thirteen years of age who also suffered from his kidneys. I gave him Dodd's Kidney Pills and now he is well."

The kidneys strain all the poison out of the blood. The very nature of their work keeps them constantly in danger. They need almost contant help in order to do their work properly.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the help weak kidneys are crying for.

Tender Gums —A Warning

Beware of gum tenderness that warns of Pyorrhea. Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea—many under forty, also. Loosening teeth indicate Pyorrhea. Bleeding gums, too. Remember—these inflamed, bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting the joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's positively prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. As it hardens the gums the teeth become firmer.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's. It cleans the teeth scientifically—keeps them white and clean.

If gum shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment. 35c and 60c tubes in Canada and U. S. If your druggist cannot supply you, send price to us direct and we will mail tube postpaid.

Use No Soap or Water On Your Very Dry Skin

BY HELENA RUBINSTEIN.
Famous New York Beauty Specialist

A skin which is too dry is scarcely less annoying than one which is to oily. A too dry condition is brought about by the use of soaps which contain too much alikali whose corrosive action, like the action of hard water through its contents of chalk and magnesia, deprives the skin of it lubricant.

Toilet preparation which contain much alcohol or glycerine should be avoided by the woman with the too dry skin. The non-greasy creams and those known as vanishing creams are also her natural enemies.

Supply Oils.

The dry skin is the one which no soap and water should touch. Cream should be used entirely for cleansing until the harsh condition has been eliminated, then a little water will no harm.

A god skin food, soothing and cleansing in effect, a skin-toning lotion and a fatty powder are the most reliable mediums for combating a condition which tends toward wrinkles and a faded, lifeless complexion. The skin food should be patted in. Just a few moments gentle friction three days out of the week and in a month'ss time a harsh skin is beginning to soften and take on a beautiful luster.

Following the patting in of the skin food the skin toning lotion should be used. Then the powder Powder should be lightly dusted on the face, never rubbed on with the heavy touch one sometimes sees young girls employing. Scrubbing powder, or in fact any toilet compsition, into the skin ruins it. The heavy touch results in a sagging of muscles and the production of lines as well as sometimes spoling the texture of the skin.

Better too light a touch than too heavy.

HEART WOULD BEAT LIKE A TRIP HAMMER

Heart trouble has of late years become very prevalent. Sometimes a pain catches you in the region of the heart, now and then your heart skips beats, palpitates, throbs, or beats with such rapidity and violence you think it is going to burst.

You have weak and dizzy spells, sinking sensations, are nervous irritable and depressed, and if you attempt to walk up stairs or any distance you get all out of breath.

We know of no remedy that will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy and normal condition as will

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS.

Mrs. Chadwick, Delhi, Ont., writes, "I had palpitation of the heart, and the least exercise such as going upstairs or up a hill, my heart would beat like a trip hammer and at times I was dizzy-headed and had a sinking sensation as if my time were near.

A friend suggested I try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills so I procured three boxes and by the time the first one was used I began to improve. In all I took six boxes, and now, although in my 66th year I feel like a young girl; no dizziness or heart-thumping and can walk miles without fatigue. At time of sickness I weighed 120 pounds, now I weigh 150."

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK, May 9.—(Canadian Press).—Oils continued to engross speculative attention at the irregular opening of to-day's Stock Market. Gains extending from large fractions to 2½ points in shell trading, Royal Dutch, Houston and Barnsdale A, were offset by further heaviness in Mexican Petroleum, Pacific Oil and Standard Oil of California. The Independent Steels showed further resistance to selling pressure. New Haven re-acted slightly from yesterday's record quotation. Preliminary exchange rates on London and the leading Continental centres were moderately above yesterday's closing quotations.

Bears redoubled their efforts to promote liquidation of speculative accounts when it became evident that outside public would not support the operations for a rise in face of uncertain foreign political situation. Few stocks escaped the marked depression, losses of two to almost three points being registered. Standard Oil of New Jersey, New York Airbrake, Corn Products, Maxwell Motors A, May Department Stores were among the weakest issues. General Electric exceptionally advanced 2 3-8, and Westinghouse one point.

Rails, especially New Haven, Southern Pacific, Lehigh Valley and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western lifted the market out of its rut temporarily, but Industrials and Specialties again lost ground. The closing was heavy. Recent liquidating movements in the Stock Market made further substantial progress to-day. Rails alone showing occasional support. Sales approximated 1,100,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES.

CHICAGO, May .9. —(Canadian Press)—Opening wheat prices which varied from 7-8c decline to 1-4c. Advance with May 1.36 1-2 to 1.37 1-4 and July 1.23 3-4 to 1.24 was followed by an upturn all around to well above yesterday's finish. Corn showed comparative weakness, owing more or less to liberal receipts here, 380 carloads. After opening unchanged to 3-8 lower, July 64 3-8 to 64 5-8, market underwent slight general decline.

Oats started 1-8 to 1-4c lower with corn July 39 1-2 but latter rallied trifle. Firmness of hog market tended to give strength to provisions.

MONTREAL STOCK MARKET.

MONTREAL, May 9.—(Canadian Press)—The local markets bullish tone was very recent during early trading this morning and many fractional declines were registered. The paper group was uninteresting. Albitibi sold at 55 3-4, drop of a quarter. Brompton apppeared unhanged at 3. as did also Riordon at 81-2 and Spanish River at 9. The preferred stock of later company, however registerd an advance of a half point to 97 1-2. Bell Telephone sold in vicinity of 112 after closing at 112 1-4. Brazlian was quiet an unchanged at 45 1-4.

TORONTO STOCK MARKET

TORONTO, May 9.—(Canadian Press)—Morning session on local exchange today was exceptionally dull. Brazilian lost 1-2 point at 45, General Electric sold off two points to 90 and Bell Telephone declined 7-8 to 111 1-8. unlisted stocks were more active and included sales of new Riordon preferred at 16, Banks and bonds were quiet.

SAYS RANEY'S DEPARTMENT WAS LAX IN DUTIES.

TORONTO, May 9.—(Canadian Press)—Under cross examination at a commission of enquiry regarding investigations into the death of Captain Huston, Major A. C. Lewis M.L.A. for North Eeast Toronto, retiterated his assertions that the Attorney General and his department were lax in the matter of fixing the cause of Huston's death. Major Lewis said he would also hold as responsible for this laxity, the head of the criminal investigation department of the province, who at the time was Major General Elliot. Major Lewis admitted that his charges were based entirely on reports of newspaper correspondents.

BRITISH BUDGET HAS QUIET TIME IN LOWER HOUSE

Short Controversy Over Duties on Motor Cars and Tea, But Otherwise All is Quiet.

NEED THE MONEY.

LONDON, May 9.-1(Canadian Press)-The budget resolutions had a very peaceful passage in the house of commons and it is quite obvious that Sir Robert Horne, the chancellor of the exchequer will have very little difficulty in getting his proposals through. Many are hoping that he will have small additional concessions to give when the finance bill comes before the house but he has to meet all suggestions of any material reduction in taxation with the unanswerable argument that he cannot afford to lose money.

The main controversy in the house yesterday centred on the so-called McKenna duties which impose a tax on certain imported luxuries, principally motor cars. The duties yield the exact equivalent of a penny on tea, namely £1,500,000 and Sir Robert Horne asked the liberal free traders who are atacking the duties whether they were prepared to abolish the duties and diminish the proposed reduction in the tea duty. his suggestion was met with the retort that the government has spent £1,500,000 on re-introducing scarlet tunics into the army.

The house yesterday displayed great concern over the situation at Genoa and alt ough some of Austen Chamberlain's replies on behalf of the government were reassuring in tone, he gave no hint regarding the outlook .

STRIKERS ON EAST INDIAN RAILWAY START A FRACAS

Burn Temporary Quarters of Strike Breakers—The Trouble Began in February Over a Disagreement on Wages—Call Conference Labor Delegates.

CALCUTTA, India, May 9.—(Associated Press).—Some disorders have resulted from the strike of employes of the East Indian Railway, which began on February 22 in consequence of a disagreement over wages. The strikers at Anasol burned the temporary quarters occupied by the workers there, and this started a fracas between the workers and the strikers, two of whom were injured. Magistrates at Allahabad and Dhanbad have prohibited gatherings of more than 10 men, because the strikers were holding mass meetings and iptimidating the employes who wanted to work.

More than half the Calcutta suburban trains, which usually carried about 30,000 passengers each way daily, have been discontinued owing to the strike.

The Secretary of the Indian Labor Association has called for a conference of railway delegates to be held at Anasol to discuss terms of settlement which have been offered by the East Indian Railway.

FATHER LOST LIFE IN TRYING TO SAVE CHILDREN.

MARENGO, Ill., May 9.—(Canadian Press).—Five persons were burned to death here last night late in a fire which destroyed the home of August Rourke, Jr. The dead are: Rourke and four children, Harold 9, Walter 5, Helen 3 and Verna 2. The mother and two children, one a six-month-old baby, were saved by the father, who lost his life in an attempt to save the remaining children.

Biliousness and Liver Diseases

May be the result of Constipation or may exist when the bowels are irregular. The liver is congested often giving rise to pain under the right shoulder, the complexion is yellow, headache, nausea, loss of appetite, slight fever, distress after eating, sometimes vomiting. Bile does not enter the bowels to digest the fats which decompose, forming gas, irritating the intestinal tract, often producing diarrhoea. A natural Liver Stimulant is required and DR. HENDERSON'S HERB TABLETS taken according to directions not only stimulates, but tones that organ.

Safe Against Slipping

machine, he has to be extremely careful that the wrench will not slip from his hand and drop out of reach. A simple way to be assured against such event is to tie a string to the wrench and pass it around the wrist. If the wrench slips, it can be pulled out.

A few Minutes at Night Saves Hours on Wash Day

A few minutes at night—just the little time you need to put the clothes to soak in rich, soapy cleansing Rinso suds—

Saves you hours of rubbing, and wearing out the clothes and yourself on a metal washboard next day, because you just rinse the dirt away—the clothes are already washed by Rinso.

Do not pour the Rinso straight into the tub. Make the Rinso liquid first—this is very important—Then it guarantees wonderful results.

IF YOU USE A WASHING MACHINE

Soak your clothes in the Rinso suds as usual—for one hour, two hours, overnight, or as long as convenient, then add more Rinso solution and work the machine. Rinse thoroughly and dry—you will have a clean, sweet, snow white wash.

POLICE RESCUED LIVING SKELETON

Old Gus Schrader Hadn't Eaten for Two Weeks and Nearly Died of "Armonia" in Charlotte Street Hovel.

In a squalid room beneath the Canadian Packing Company's big roof sign on the south side of Charlotte street, opposite the Charlbond apartments, advertising with attractive display the abundant and appetizing C. P. C. products, Gus Schrader nearly starved to death. When Adjutant Buntin of the Salvation Army and several policemen broke in the door of his garret hovel yesterday he was so weak he couldn't stand. He hadn't eaten in two weeks, and he looked as if he might never eat agin.

Gus had been sick those two weeks with pneumonia (armonia he whispered it indistinctly as he tried to talk), friendless, alone and untended. His rescuers believe that another day or two would have found him dead.

Sleeping on a bench in the cell room at the police station late in the afternoon he appeared in the dim light to be dead, a pitiable, repellent figure like one of those horros in photograhs of famine stricken Russians, or like a heap of misery the Turks left behind in Armenia. His shrunken face and bald scalp, tightly drawn, revealed and seemed to accentuate the outlines of the skull with rather startling effect.

The "armonia' had nearly done for old Gus, he said when awakened shortly afterward. He wasn't sure how long he had been sick, but it was it was about two weeks; and after the first bowl of soup and a few crackers a constable carried off a bag of cakes lest too much unaccustomed food might seriously complicate his condtion.

The old fellow looking like the figure of death apparently had a hard winter. He had been sick most of the time, and the wind used to blow through the cracks of his door chilling the reeking heat from scraps of old rubber he picked up for fuel the yard of the tire shop beneath him.

Gus was as dirty and grimy as his room, a hopeless and utterly sordid wreck of humanity from a gloomy hole which Adjutant Buntin declared unfit habitation for a dog, the air so offensive—but that's enough.

There's nothing pleasant about this story, and nothing attractive or appealing about Gus but his helpless humanity as Adjutant Buntin grasped him under the arms from behind and lifted him off the floor, held him out at arms length and carried him down over the ramshackle walk, laid on the roof, to the ground.

'He was as light as a feather" said the Adjutant. "There was nothing to his arms but the bones, and he couldn't have weighed more than 80 pounds.'

It must have been a long time since Gus washed, but he was on the way to Nicholls Hospital and a scouring if his system could endure the shock. His plight was first discovered by a business man who had employed him for years cutting his lawn; and as a lawn grooner Gus is said to have been an artist. To get into his place he went through the lane to the coal yard and then up rickety steps to a leanto over which a board with cleats was laid to his door way on the west side of the old rough-cast building. He had an opening in the door "like a peep hole to a lodge" said the business man, evidenty an initiate. The visitor managed to get the board moved to one side and the sight of Gus was more like a spectre than a human living being

When Adjutant Buntin and the police arrived Gus was so exhausted he couldn't stand up to open the door. He was trying to eat an orange one of the men in the tire shop had bought for him, but it was a feeble attempt. A search of the room turned up only four cents, but it is believed that Gus has money laid away some place. And for that hovel he was paying ten dollars a month, although he is a couple of months in arrears .

"We'll see about that" said the Adjutant and his emphasis carried more of a threat for the owner than a promise to old Gus.

ASKED DRURY WITHDRAW THE GOVT. RADIAL BILL.

TORONTO, May 9. — (Canadian Press).—Members of the Ontario Legislature waited on Premier Drury this afternoon, asking that the Government's Radial Bill be withdrawn, on the claim that it would block the "clean-up" deal. The Premier refused to withdraw the bill, but promised to consider a proposal that a committee be appointed to endeavor to find out whether the bill would really affect the "clean up" and, if so, whether there should be a change in the Act.

MISTOOK WHITE LEAD FOR GRAVY POWDER.

OTTAWA, May 9. — (Canadian Press).—Mistaking white lead for gravy powder last night, Mrs. Patrick Hunter, 15 Turner Street, served dinner to her husband and two young sons, and within half an hour medical aid had to be summoned. After suffering intensely the poison was removed from their stomachs.

If You Are Not Running a Hatchery, Why Store Eggs?

Moths! Don't make holes in Swiss cheese. But—they do perforate fur garments.

Now—before the deadly work begins—preserve by cleaning and storing.

In May and June the female moth deposits her eggs. These soon hatch into small grubs of enormous appetite, which completely destroy the fur in which they are hatched.

If you 'phone 340 and have your Furs called for, cleaned and stored for the summer, no moths, no inspection, no worries about safety need trouble you. We look after them for you and issue a receipt covering insurance values, etc.

Also can Repair, Remodel, Reline, Dye or Clean during the summer months at lower costs, and will have everything ready for use when the wearing season comes again.

Anderson Makes Two Home Runs -- Local and District Sport

Toronto Wins Opener Against Newark Bears

Anderson Hits Two to the Left Field Fence For Home Runs. Baltimore Wins.

INTERNATIONAL.

Toronto 5; Newark 3.

TORONTO, May 9. Canadian Press. — Two homers by Anderson accounted for three runs and gave the Leafs a 5 to 3 victory over Newark in the opening game of the series here yesterday. Anderson hit two signs in the left field fence and thus earned 5000 cigarettes and a suit of clothes. He also won 5000 cigarettes for hitting the sign on Friday. The bears rallied in the ninth when they had the bases full with one out but Townsend tightened and turned them back with one run.

Baltimore 7; Syracuse 1.

SYRACUSE, May 9. Canadian Press. — Jack Ogden pitched masterful ball for Baltimore yesterday, hit well and led the Orioles to a 7 to 1 victory over the Stars. A queer feature was supplied by Lawry who was thrown out at the plate when all the bases were filled after W. Barnes had fumbled Boley's rounder, Boley reaching first before Lawry was forced at home. Outfielder Jim Riley with Toronto last year, will join the Stars to-day, as well as Letty, an outfielder from the Giants. Score:

TO DISCUSS RULES FOR TENNIS MEET.

An Attempt Will Be Made to Improve Method of Arranging No Eliminating Matches.

NEW YORK, May 9—(Canadian Press)—Regulations governing this year's Davis Cup contest, particularly the revision of clauses relating to players' expenses and an improved method of arranging the eliminating matches for next year, will be discussed in London, July 6, at a meeting in which the United States Lawn Tennis Association will be represented.

The drawing system this year forces the Hawaiian team to journey to Czecho-Slovakia and Philippine team to go to Spain or to default. Canada has announced its withdrawal rather than go to France and intimations have come from Hawaii that the islands' team also will default.

The American committee, in a statement Saturday, said that "as a matter of policy it might be wise to let well enough alone, rather than to attempt 'tinkering' with the regulations to meet a condition that may be merely temporary."

BELLEVILLE MEN ARE REGISTERED WITH SECRETARY

Manager Gerow Has Four Twirlers on the List, With "Peeney" Mills Behind the Bat.

OTHER PLAYERS.

Secretary Nott of the Central League has received the certificates and applications for amature cards from the Belleville team. These are the first to be filed and include the following names:

G. Vernon Weir, J. W. Ross, G. S. Casey, G. W. Holman, B. F. Minett, S. D. Hagerman, G. W. Crook, Harold Smith, A. G. Meagher, Harry C. Mills, W. Verner Ferris, James Smith, A. H. Ketchison, J. Williams, Walter Gerow, W. J. Mills, F. C. Ross, Joseph Kelleher, Samuel Simons, Thos. F. Wilson.

ENGLISH WOMEN FOR GAMES WITH U.S. SOCCER MEN

Women Want to Tour the United States and Play Against the Best Men's Clubs.

THIS SUMMER.

NEW YORK, May 9—(Canadian Press)—An English women's soccer football team will invade the United States this month and make a tour during Juen and July to meet the best American men's clubs, if the United States Football Association sanctions a proposal of the Newcastle United Ladies' organization, champion in the women's division of the game in Great Britain.

Permission to arrange an exhibition tour was asked yesterday of the Todd Shipyards Club, champions last year, and runner-up this year. The United ladies plan to sail for Boston on the Samaria, reaching this country May 24, and to return early in August.

If the project is approved, a trophy may be donated. The itinerary of the club will include, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Fall River, Pawtucket, Newcastle, Bridgeport, Chicago, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Detroit and Cleveland.

FIVE TEAMS IN THE PORT HOPE LEAGUE.

There was a large attendance at the Town League baseball meeting last evening and everything looks promising for a successful season. Five teams have entered and the managers all claim to have the best. W. N. Moore and Joe Phillips represent the Port Hope Sanitary; T. J. O'Neill and Harry Baxter, the Nicholson File; Messrs. Mathewson, Benbow and Ridout, the Acorn Club; George Brockenshire, the Tuxis Boys, and V. A. Bradburn, the Black Diamonds. Rules governing the league were adopted and the opening games arranged for the week after next. A complete schedule will appear in a later issue.—Port Hope Guide.

To-day's Games:—
Hamilton at Kitchener; London at Brantford; Port Huron at Bay City; Saginaw at Flint.

MERCANTILE 10-PIN LEAGUE.

Friday at Water Street Alleys the Hamilton boys took 3 out of 3 games from Nashua Paper. Both teams were rolling strong, but the winners had a little margin all the way through. Though the Nashua Paper were defeated, they were in the lead for total individual pinnage, Parker was high man with 578 and Roberts next with 536.

This Week's Schedule.

Monday, 8.30—Telephone vs. Prudential.

Tuesday, 8—Raybestos vs. Nashua Paper.

Wednesday, 8—Post Office vs. C. G. E.

Thursday, 8—Linemen vs. Hamilton.

SMOKE TO RUN ON GLADSTONE TEAM.

The Gladstone A.C. runners held their trial for the team which will attempt to lower the Hamilton to Toronto relay record on Saturday afternoon at the Exhibition Park, and the trial produced a blanket finish with the first three men less than two strides apart, covering the five miles around 27.30. Jimmie Moorecroft led for the first mile and a half, only to relinquish the pacemaking position to Scholes, who went to the front strong, and led for the next two miles. Here Jimmie Dellow took the lead and looked to be a sure winner, but Moorecroft put in a fast spurt and won out by a narrow margin, with Scholes a stride or so behind Dellow.

Gladstone's big ace, Albert Smoke, was conceded a place on the team, and did not participate in Saturday's trial. The team which will go after the record on May 20th will be composed of Albert Smoke, Jimmy Moorecroft, Art Scholes, Jimmie Dellow, Art Allison, Charlie White, Charlie Snell, Ernie Cook and Percy Wyer.

LAKEFIELD LADIES ARE ON CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERSHIP.

LAKEFIELD, May 9.—The ladies branch of the L.A.A.A. is making a determined campaign to increase its membership. Five teams are working hard to accomplish the work. The captains are: Miss Mary MacKenzie, Miss Rhoda Alford, Mrs. Braden Blewett, Mrs. R. A. Hirsch and Miss Edna Braden.

Diamond Dust

Frank Collins is expected to play with the local Central League team this year.

* * *

Toronto certainly had a strong comeback for Reading Saturday.

* * *

There should be no shortage of layers in the City League this season, for the demise of last year's Mercantile League threw a lot of good material on the market.

* * *

Ted Outram is expected to be one of the newcomers on the Lakeviews line-up this season. Ted will probably try to pick up the hot ones around short-stop.

* * *

If any local team accepts the challenge from St. Christopher's, a good game ought to result. We understand the Presbyterian boys from the Queen City have been putting up a pretty good brand of baseball.

* * *

Belleville has registered her players for the Central League. Who's next?

* * *

Two men dropped dead from over-excitement at baseball games Sunday. In each case a home-run had just been hit.

* * *

Frank Whitehouse, a south-paw and a newcomer in organized baseball, is expected to do some of the twirling for the Lakeviews this season.

* * *

The Butcher brothers will wear Y.M.C.A. uniforms in the City League this year.

Micky Murray has a job in Leaside and will probably play with the team from that town.

* * *

The Peterborough Central League team will practice tomorrow and Friday evenings and Saturday afternoon at Riverside Park. The Saturday practice will follow the Juvenile League double-header. They are passing the word around that anyone who wishes to try out for the team should be on deck.

* * *

The local Central League team worked out last evening at Riverside Park, and had one of the best workouts this season. There was a good crowd out and Manager Solomon put them through a good fielding and batting practice. Following is a list of the boys who were out: Swanston, Ross, Collins, Soden, Johnston, Holyman, Dugan, White, Lowe, Kendry, Cobb, Manager Solomon and a few others.

The Classics will work out this evening at Riverside Park. All players and those wishing to try out are requested to be on hand at 6.00 o'clock.

ENGINEERS WIN INDOOR CONTEST.

The C.G.E. engineers added one more to their unbroken string of victories by taking the Quaker Oats into camp 14 to 9 in the Indoor League game at the Armories last night. Both teams played a snappy ball, but the most spectacular fielding stunt was a one-handed catch by Walter Jackson in right field.

The teams lined up as follows:

Engineers—McCarney, B. Jackson, W. Jackson, Langley, Igoe, Fielder, Montreal, Davis and Munro.

Quaker Oats—Butcher, McGee, Thompson, Mahood, Hardill, Kirn, Turner and Meigett.

The score:

C. G. E.	0032630—14
Quaker Oats	0006111— 9

The game was called at the end of the seventh inning.

DELEGATES OF C.M.E. LEAGUE HOLD MEETING

Several Important Decisions Arrived At. The President Presents the League With Banner.

TO JOIN O.B.A.A.

About twenty delegates representing all teams in the league attended the meeting of the C.M.E. Baseball League last night at the Grand Hotel. It was announced that President Stinson had presented the league with a banner, which will be awarded to the winning team in addition to the cup already offered by Mr. Staples.

It was decided to have but one umpire for each game. In settling the residence rules for the players, it was decided that teams could have the privilege of drawing their material from anywhere within an eight-mile radius of the village that they represented. The schedule was discussed and partially arranged. It will be announced later in its complete form.

It was also definitely decided that the league should affiliate with the O.B.A.A., and the necessary steps will be taken immediately.

The teams represented were Bethany, Mount Pleasant, Omemee and Millbrook.

NORWICH NOW IN GOOD FORM AND READY TO START

Famous Racer Entirely Unaffected By Trip From New York to Louisville.

KENTUCKY DERBY.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 9.—(Canadian Press)—Morvich, probably the most discussed horse in the country and apparently the favorite for the Kentucky Derby, spent the most of his first day at Churchill Downs being viewed by a throng of Kentuckians. Comment on Benjamin Block's unbeaten Runnymede-Hymar colt ranged from extravagant praise because of his conformation to criticism for his lack of size. Bue seasoned turf men explained that mere size had little to do with it Can he stay a mile and a quarter, the Derby distance, was the only question asked.

Morvich will be seen in racing form today when Fred Burlow, his trainer, intends to work him a fast six furlongs.

The colt is regarded in prime condition and ready to go. Yesterday he appeared entirely unaffected by his 29 hour trip from New York. Turf men who are accustomed to handling sensitive throughbreds, comment on his remarkable disposition. Flash-light photographs were taken of him upon his arrival last night and Morvich seemed to take it as a matter of course, while his stable mate, a pony, almost unseated his rider.

One development of the day was the statement by Morvich's trainer that he would start in no handicaps this year but would confine his efforts to the three year old fixtures for which he is eligible.

Meanwhile current opinion apparently leans to the theory that the derby will be a race of the East against the West—Morvich against the E R Bradley entry, Busy American, Bet Mosie and By Gosh, "I ran one, two last year with Behave Yourself and Black Servant". Mr. Bradley is quoted as having said, "but I am going to run, one, two, three, this time.")

PITCHER RELEASED.

BOSTON, May 9.—(Canadian Press).—Pitcher Cyril Morgan, right-hander, who has been on the roster of the Boston Nationals for three years, has been released outright to the Waterbury Club of the Eastern League.

C.C.M. Bicycle Prices Reduced

"HURRAH, fellows: You don't need to hold off buying your new bicycle another day.

"C.C.M. Bicycle prices have been fixed for this season and they are right down to bed rock.

The 1922 C.C.M. Standard Adult Models are:

$15 Below "Peak" Prices
$10 Less than Last Summer

"This certainly gives us Canadian riders a generous reduction and a square deal. I'm told that bicycles of equal quality cost more in the United States than C.C.M. Bicycles do in Canada.

"Remember, C.C.M. prices didn't advance anywhere nearly so much as most products, so they hadn't as far to come down.

"And C.C.M. Bicycles are even better now than before the war.

"You know, the best steels and materials were reserved for war purposes, and the best mechanics put on war orders. Now, the best steels and materials are again obtainable, including English Seamless Tubing for C.C.M. Frames. The best mechanics are on the job again with their skill improved as a result of the accuracy demanded in their delicate time fuse work.

A Nifty New Pedal

"And, say fellows, they've put a new pedal —called the Gibson Pedal—on the 1922 Men's Models, and it's a bird!

Special Features (continued)

"The Gibson pedal has an Aluminum frame that looks like silver and won't rust. Wonderfully light, yet very strong. Some class to it!

"The easy-running Triplex Hanger and the sure-acting New Hercules Brake are on the new models, too. No extra charge, either.

"But I almost forgot to tell you the new low prices this year. They are only:

$50 and $60

For Standard Adult Models According to Equipment

"This means that a C.C.M. costs only about $5 or $6 a year, as a C.C.M. Bicycle easily gives 10 years of service. Many have given 15 years and longer."

Jake Solomon got his Central Leaguers away at Riverside Park last evening, and workouts will be held regularly from now on. The 1922 baseball season locally promises to eclipse past performances and the fans who have their ear to the ground are looking forward to a big bill of the summer pastime at the ball lot.

The juvenile series of the City Baseball League will be opened at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon with a double header. The teams in this series are Lakeviews Holy Name Society, Maple Leafs, and Sacred Heart and all four clubs will present formidable lineups. This is the series where baseball players get their first start with organized clubs and as it is a training school for the youngsters, the fans should give this series their support and assistance.

Fans with coins will be glad to know that the city engineer's department is preparing a cinder path from the stairway of the Hunter street bridge to the ball park, and owners of automobiles will be equally glad to learn that the once rocky route from Burnham street to the park is being made safe for travel.

GET THERE AND GET THERE FAST.

Fashions change in baseball.

That is what a major league manager told a recruit when he asked about running to first base. The manager told him to run head down.

The recruit said he had always followed the style of heads up. So the manager told him about the changing fashions.

"When you are going to first base only one object can be in front of you and that is first base," explained the manager.

"No other play is possible. It is up to you to get to first as quickly as possible, and by running head down you'll get there quicker than by running heads up.

"Play heads up baseball, but when going to first play only heads down."

A KNOCKOUT.

LONDON, May 9 (Canadian Press). — Soldier Jones, of Canada, last night knocked out ex-Guardsman Penwill in the first round of a scheduled 15-round fight.

THE DRAW FOR DOUBLES

Robinson and French; Thomas and Routley; Shaughnessy and Gilliam; Barrette and Bacon Cairns and Maynard; A. Miller and Byers; V. Miller and Curvin; Robert and Hayes; Garrow and McGee; McDonald and Morden; King and Giroux.

WHEN YOU SCORE AT A BALL GAME

If a base runner reach a base in safety and then overslides and is touched out, he shall not be regarded as having stolen the base in question and shall receive no credit for his atempt even though he beat the play.

IF THIS PLAY COMES UP

If the catcher interferes with the bater in striking at a pitched ball the batsman is entitled to first base. For example, if the catcher tipped the bat of the batsman as he swung at the ball, and a foul or fair fly ball was the result, said fly ball being caught, the batsman would be entitled to first base. Regardless of what happens, the action of the catcher entitles the batsman to first.

TELEPHONE TOOK TWO FROM PRUDENTIAL LIFE

Last night at the Water street alleys the Bell Telephone took two out of the three games. The game was close all the way. For the Prudential Life Cocks was high man with 605. Ross next with 558. For the Telephone Brown was high man of the night with 655 and high single of 288. Elliott was next with 587.

If you've stopped looking for the "ideal servant" and will be satisfied to find simply an EFFICIENT one — with a fair share of human frailities, but with counterbalancing human virtues—then a reasonable amount of Want Advertising will help you to "put your house in order" again!

Scores of such chances are enumerated from time to time in the Want Columns of The Examiner, as well as many other kinds of domestic labor looking for new positions.

The actual failures to find a suitable servant through Want Advertising are rare.

What does it cost? Examiner want advts. only cost a cent a word for one time, and half a cent a word for each time after. Thus, twenty-five words, one insertion, 25c; three insertions, 50c. 419 George street, or call phone 1600.

AT THE ROYAL.

One type of story that alway appeals to people of all ages is the romance of hunting for hidden treasure. The guest of treasure seekers who sail to South Sea Islands for pirates' gold or the man who looks for an old maid possessing ten thousand dollars and finds a good looking young damsel with twenty five thousand invariably appeals to one's imagination and belief in luck. In the Vitagraph feature romance called 'The Secret of the Hills" with Antonio Moreno in the leading role, is such a story. The tale opens with Guy Fenton, a good looking young rich fellow dining in a swell Chinese cafe, one of the show places of London. Returning home in a London fog he enters the wrong house, and finds, amid costly and sumptuous surroundings an old man stabbed to death. In their he meets a handsome girl a ward of the dead nan. She explains that he guarian has been killed by a gang of crooks who are after a map possessed by the dead man showing where is hidden in the mountains of Scotland a store of gold and jewels, hidden in the time of "Bonnie Prince Charlie'. The robers secure the map and the story of the play is to show how the young man eventually secured it, and, incidentally, the girl. The First National feature called "Her Social Value" is a drama telling the story of a salesgirl who was loved by a member of the exclusive society set. They married and then was shown the cold shoulder by his friends of the "400". It is a gripping tale of a good woman's love for her husband and has a charming end. There is another of the amusing Tooner-) ville comedies showing the skipper in a new role.

Capitol Entertainment

The Capitol Theatre had a good crowd last night for its big double show; the dramatization of the popular stage success, "Turn to the Right", and Alice Dunbar's Big Scotch Review, with a quintette of singers, dancers and comedians, in one of the cleverest acts seen here in some time. Four girls and one man have a series of novelties, which include a graceful sword dance, a trio of drums and pipes, and a solo on the Scotch pipes by Mary, the only girl in the world playing the bagpipes. They are a group of skilful players, with a well balanced programme, and do some exceptionally fetching footwork in Scotch and Irish dances in costume, and the light-footed, nimble figures of the sailors' hornpipe. A lady comedian who has a line of jokes and a laughing song number completes an excellent vaudeville programme.

The directors of the screen version of "Turn to the Right" have achieved a notable success in their production of the play in which the theory of "believing a thing hard enough and getting it" is triumphantly vindicated. The action is rapid, without a dragging moment in the entire picture, that tells the story of Joe Bascom and his mother Intense human interest, thrills, whimsical situations, abound in the feature picture. The race between Firefly and Endurance, with the winner nosing in ahead on the home-stretch holds the breath of the audience, the framing up of Joe for the theft of his employer's wallet and his stripd prison suit existence are strong intervals, and there is plenty of humor in the episode where 'Muggsy and Gilly" his two prison mates, pay a visit to his home and mother, forget the improvised names which have just been thrust upon them, and crack a safe as a preliminary to attending prayer-meeting. The Deacon's claim is put off "with his own coin", abstracted from his own safe, and the jovial pair then abstract the money from his pocket to return it to the safe. Through the whole picture works the moral influence of the mother's unfailing love, with its effect on the two toughs and the detective who comes to arrest her son while the whole plot hinges on the moment when Joe resolves to "turn to the right", and work out his own salvation. Realistic acting scenes of natural beauty, humour, pathos and romance make this one of the most attractive pictures shown at the Capitol in some time.

There is a comedy in which Harold Lloyd and Snub Pollard divide the honors with the inebriated Harold viewing his future through the light of a crystal-gazing ball, and striving to work it out come time later, and the usual run of interesting short reels.

AT THE GRAND.

STAGE ARTISTRY

The widely heralded and eagerly awaited second edition of "Hullo Canada", starring Harry Tate, England's beloved comedian, and his own company of seventy London revue stars, comes to the Grand Theatre Thursday May, 11.

The current musical revue is reputed to far surpass its predecessor well remembered for its comic and pictorial phases. This is a new, later and entirely different musical revue than the initial edition. With the urgent, unanimous request of both management and patron, Tate is giving his two famous sketches, "Motoring' and 'Fishing" with the identical company that appeared before their majesties, the King and Queen at the Royal Command performance at the London Coliseum last season, as well as three distinct London Hip successes "Arrest Me" "There's Another One Born Every Minute" and 'The Critic From the Front". Eleven times in his stage career to day has Harry answered royal commands to give these skits.

'Hullo Canada" carries you thru a dozen sets of stage artistry. No finer stage pictures or ensembles than the "Roulette" number that took Paris by storm or 'Grandma's Days" are to be seen on the modern stage.

Smart, fleet and sophisticated, "Hullo Canada' ever reflects the breath of Merrie England in its every strut and gesture. Satire, burlesque, dancing melody comedy—all have their hour in this revue of revues.

The spectacle is moving here direct from a wonderful week at the Princess in Toronto and is "Homeward Bound" entire company sailing from Montreal immediately after their week's stay at the Majesties.

W. Wania the Russian Ballet school star and Henri Rosen the celebrated violinist as well as Isobel Dorothy; Connie Browning; Harry Gibson; Ronald Tribune; Billy Holland; Ronald Tate; H. A. Kennedy Marie Dayne and Harry Beasley all have new parts in this revue of revues that will long be remembered in Peterborough as one of grand est and pleasing musical comedies that ever graced the boards of the Grand.

Stock Company Has Good Show

Will Present the "Broken Road" This Evening

The Young - Adams Stock Company, after an absence from Peterborough of some twelve years, opened a three-day engagement at the Grand Opera House last evening with a performance that demonstrated their outstanding ability as stock players. "Man, Woman and Wealth," a comedy drama in four acts, was a production whose excellent staging held the appreciative attention of its audience from start to finish. Every part was taken in fine style, without a weak spot, and plenty of applause greeted the efforts of the versatile performers in the bright little production, which centred around the arrival of Peggy O'Moore from "County Kerry, Ireland," to be the ward and finally the wife of Dan Murphy, the Mayor of New York. The part of Peggy was splendidly enacted by Miss Marjie Adams, who kept to her charming brogue throughout, and made her outspoken way into the heart of the Mayor and his friends. Mr. Young himself is the Mayor, who defies a mob of crazed rioters, gets shot, loses all his money, and winds up with a Senatorship and the golden-haired Irish beauty. Leon Tempest is Matt Hogan, the irascible "boss," who becomes sentimental in his maturer years, and Miss May Goodwin is Patricia, the grey-haired, black-bonneted stenographer of the busy Mayor. Joe Goodwin is Tom Anderson, the fine, upstanding young lover of the spoiled Doris, played daintily by Miss Marguerite Young. Edgar Jason takes the part of Richmond, the Mayor's implacable political enemy, and Webster, the spineless defaulting bank manager, is played by Ted Goodwin. A bright, snappy style, some beautiful gowns, a clever group of good actors, characterizes the Young-Adams Stock Company players, who proved very entertaining in their initial offering last evening.

Vaudeville between each act was refined and interesting. Ted and May Goodwin, as a patrolman and his buxom lady love, have a humorous dialogue, and Ted brings down the house with his clever footwork, that includes a variety of new and fantastic steps, and a dramatic musical monologue, "The Bridge of Sighs." Leon Tempest has a "nut" act in costume, with some excellently done imitations of various nationalities; the Italian, the Irishman and the Hebrew at the gate of Heaven coming in for some laughable characterizations.

Taken as a whole, the Young-Adams aggregation is one of the brighest examples of stock that has yet appeared at the Grand, and their productions to-night and to-morrow of "The Broken Road," "St. Elmo," with the matinee performance of "A Secret Marriage," should draw good houses, if their initial production is considered an example of their powers of entertainment.

Women represent nearly 40 per cent. of all the bank depositors in the United States.

Comfort for Driver in China

The novelty about this three-wheeled taxicab, invented by an inhabitant of Pekin, China, is not so much its freakish appearance as the comfort furnished the driver. The front seat is for the passenger, while the chauffeur behind is shielded from wind, dust and rain by the appliances intended in other countries for the comfort of the "fare."

DEATH.

CAMPBELL.—George E. Campbell, 159 Stewart Street, last night. Funeral 9.30 a.m. Wednesday.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of my dear son, Sergeant Walter Wagstaff, who was killed in France, May 9, 1917:
Oft we think of you, dear son,
And our hearts are sad with pain,
Oh, this earth would be a heaven,
Could we but hear your voice again.
—Mother. Sister and Brother.

IN MEMORIAM.

SCOTT.—In sad and loving memory of Pte. Nicholas A. Scott, killed in action, 8th May, 1917.
Farewell, dear Nicholas kind and true,
Here loving hearts still mourn for you;
But we hope to meet among the blessed,
God grant your soul eternal rest.
Gone but not forgotten.

LOVE SPURNED A MEDICAL MAN ENDS OWN LIFE

Clad in Black, New York Eye Specialist, is Found Dead in Hotel Markwell.

MARRIED MAN

NEW YORK, May 10. — Seven months ago Dr. Alfred H. Riedel, separated from his wife, became infatuated with a German chorus girl, a skating expert, then playing at the Hippodrome. According to his friends, he subordinated everything to his affection for the girl, but she failed to return his love, avoided him and even told friends that he "annoyed her." And so the physician was found, a suicide from poison, in his suite at the Hotel Markwell, 220 West Forty-Ninth Street.

Found lying across the bed, the physician's effort at a dramatic death was apparent. He had clad himself in a black bathrobe and had wired a "goose-neck" electric lamp to the top of the head of the bed, so that the light fell full on his face. He had carefully disposed of the bottle that had held the liquid with which he had said, a few days ago, that he would kill himself.

About three years ago Dr. Riedel, a tall, striking man with black hair and Van Dyke beard, engaged the suite on the ground floor of the hotel just off Broadway. He specialized in ailments of the eye, and, it was said, served as a consultant on the staff of the Knapp Memorial Eye Hospital, 500 West Fifty-Seventh Street.

He built up a large practice and daily many patients called at the hotel for treatment. Those arriving at noon found their knocks and ringing unanswered. When a small group had gathered in the lobby of the hotel the owner of the Markwell, William W. Green, and his manager, George Ruddischauser, entered the hallway of the suite by using a pass key. They found the bedroom door locked. Ruddischauser took the door from its hinges.

One glance showed that Dr. Riedel had carried out his threats of self-destruction. Dr. Helen Judlicka of Flower Hospital, who was summoned, said the physician had been dead only a short time. A verdict of suicide was given by Dr. Schwartz, deputy chief medical examiner.

Dr. Schwartz said that only one letter was found in the doctor's effects and that this was written a year ago and related to professional matters. A photograph was also found showing the Hippodrome actress in skater's togs.

According to Mr. Greene, a friend of the physician, the doctor was madly in love with the German skater and remonstrated with her because she felt free to accept attentions from other men. Once, the hotel proprietor said, Dr. Riedel even cabled her parents in Germany endeavoring to enlist them on his side. Finally, apparently convinced that his cause was hopeless, the physician developed melancholia, said Mr. Greene.

On several occasions, the hotel man said, Dr. Riedel predicted that he would some day "end it all" by drinking a poison which he had prepared.

From former members of the skating number at the Hippodrome it was learned that the girl, as late as a week ago, had told friends that the physician still maintained his attentions although she had tried to discourage him in every way possible.

Dr. Riedel's wife was reported to be living in either Erie or Scranton, Pa. The body was claimed by H. J. Blenderman of 342 Madison Avenue, who said he was Dr. Riedel's brother-in-law.

HEIR APPARENT SHOCKED JAPS

Prince of Wales Hauled a Future Subject Around in Rickshaw.

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 10.—(Special to Examiner).—"The Prince of Wales has rather shocked the conservative Japanese on two or three occasions, I think," said Mr. P. C. Fenwick, who has just arrived here from Japan on the Empress of Russia. "On one occasion, when coming down a narrow cart track while on a trip in the mountains, the Prince insisted on manning the shafts of a rickshaw in which Admiral Sir Lionel Halsey was seated. "Half way down a wheel came off, throwing Sir Lionel out and upsetting the Prince. To those who rushed forward to rescue him, the Prince said: 'Get a snapshot of this; I want to send it home.'" One of the Prince's aides told Mr. Fenwick that the Japanese courtiers were greatly shocked at the idea of the heir apparent hauling one of his future subjects round in a rickshaw.

CAN MILITIA CARRY ON WITH ESTIMATES CUT

Lt.-Col. T. J. Johnston Regrets Penurious Policy

Lieut.-Col. T. J. Johnston, for many years in active association with the Militia here, and O. C. of the 93rd Battalion, when informed to-day that the Militia estimates had been cut from $1,400,000 to $700,000, said he did not see how it would be possible to carry on the units at all. The Government was penurious last year, he declared, and the situation would be worse this year. The policy of economy in Militia expenditure he did not think was in the interests of Canada. "There are many officers like myself," he said, "who do not feel like enduring it any longer."

The Government, he said, by its strict economical policy, was driving experienced men from the Militia. Last summer, at the camp here, he declared he was charged $6.75 for old, worn-out blankets unfit for service, when they were lost. It was impossible with a circus on the grounds, and the public having free access everywhere, not to lose some articles, and the Government should have made allowance for this, or at any rate made a fair charge. Col. Johnston did not go so far as to say the camp last year was a fizzle, but he plainly was opposed to such camps. It was impossible to train the men in manoeuvres, and one bad feature that hindered training was the multitudinous number of inspections.

Geo. Gimblett Should Make An Efficient Chief Fire Department

Chief TenEyck Recommends Him As One of His Ablest Men on the Hamilton Brigade — Served in France, Wounded at Vimy and Amiens.

The Hamilton Spectator has the following to say regarding the appointment of George Gimblett, of the Hamilton Fire Department, to the position of Chief of the Peterborough Fire Department:

George Gimblett has been a member of the local Department for the past 16 years. He was taken on in September, 1906 ,and served on the Department continuously until August, 1915, when he joined the 31st Battery, C.F.A., and went overseas. After serving in France for 33 months, and being wounded at the taking of Vimy Ridge and the Battle of Amiens, Fireman Gimblett returned to Hamilton in April, 1919, and has been on the Department ever since.

Chief TenEyck stated this morning that he regarded Gimblett as one of the ablest men, and felt sure that he would make an efficient Fire Chief with his long experience on the Hamilton Department.

The appointment of Fireman Gimblett as Chief in Peterborough makes the tenth Hamilton fireman to receive the chiefship in other cities. The following are men trained on the local Department who have made good in cities where they became Chief: Archie Cameron, Fort William, Ont.; Larry Clark, London, Ont.; William Gilbert, Saskatoon, Sask. (resigned); Alfred Kapelle, Stratford, Ont.; Thomas Heath, Saskatoon, Sask. (succeeding William Gilbert); Joseph Pedler, North Bay; John Smith, Guelph, Ont.; Harry Guerin, Kitchener, Ont.; Harry C. Gillespie, Brockville, Ont.; and George Gimblett, Peterborough, Ont.

CONVENTION OF TRAINMEN OPEN

Nearly a Thousand International Delegates Gather at Toronto.

TORONTO, May 10.—(Canadian Press).—Nearly one thousand delegates from all parts of the United States, Newfoundland and Canada were in their places at the International Convention of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen to-day when President W. G. Lee formally opened the gathering to receive the official welcome of the Canadian authorities.

Representatives of the Dominion and Provincial Governments and the city extended warm welcome to the delegates.

The importance of cooperation between the great railroad systems of the continent and their employees was stressed by all speakers.

DENIES MISCONDUCT

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., May 10.— (Canadian Press). — Taking the stand in her own defence to-day in a divorce suit instituted by her husband, James Stillman, New York banker, Mrs. Anna U. Stillman denied that she had misconducted herself with Fred Beauvais, an Indian guide.

BAND PRACTICE

The Melody Concert Band will practice tonight in Brock street.—S. Armitage manager.

Relic of World's Famed Tea Party

LONDON, May 10 (Canadian Press). — In Gracechurch Lane, an obscure byway just outside of one of London's busiest commercial centres, American tourists may see over a grocer's store the "Sign of the Crown and Three Gilt Sugar Loaves" that marks the location of the shop whence the tea was shipped in 1773 that ultimately went overboard in Boston Harbour during the world-famous tea party.

Only the sign, which but recently was restored and which bears in big gold numerals "1650," the year the firm was established, is suggestive of remote times.

The grocer's shop, conducted by descendants of the firm's founders, over which the sign hangs, is now housed in a modern brick building. Nothing distinguishes the place from thousands of similar places of business.

A RAGING FIRE

VICTORIA, B.C., May 10.—(Canadian Press).— Fire broke out in the Arcade building in the heart of the business district here at 4.30 oclock this morning and is still raging.

ARREST LABOR LEADERS

CHICAGO, Ill., May 10.— The police today raided headquarters of the building trades, and arrested three of Chicago's biggest labor leaders, "Big Tim" Murphy, Fred Mader and Cornelius Shea, in connection with bombings and shootings which early to-day resulted in the deaths of two policemen and serious injury to a third.

LOCAL POSTMEN MAY RESENT A CUT IN BONUSES

Complain That They Had No Increase During War Like the Majority of Workmen.

THE PROPOSITION.

Civil service employees locally have no comments to make on the bonus provisions proposed by the government but as soon as they are definitely put through the House and become effective they will discuss them they declared today. Speaking for the 23 letter carriers who are affected here one of the posties maintained their bonus should have been just the same "as it didn't get any increase during the war, while everybody else was drawing big money.

Until 1918 the carriers only received $2.85 a day he said. In that year the bonus, which in his case, was $315 a year was put on and continued until April 1st, when without any warning it was cut off. Under the proposed provision of the government he will receive two-thirds of this bonus, or $210. When it was pointed out that many workers in other lines had been cut more than $105 a year his comeback was that they were getting big pay when the posties were scraping along on $2.85 a day.

The Proposals

The proposals in regard to bonusing of civil servants as provided for in the supplementary estimates are as follows:

1—On salaries of $1,200 and under;

(a) For members of the service having one or more dependents, the bonus as existing in the fiscal year 1921-22 to be continued.

(b) For members of the service without any dependants, one-half the bonus as existing in the fiscal year 1921-22 to be paid.

2.—On salaries over $1,200 and up to $1,800 (inclusive):

(a) For members of the service having one or more dependants two-thirds of the bonus as existing in the fiscal year 1921-22 to be paid.

(b) For members of the service without any dependants the bonus to be discontinued.

3—On salaries over $1,800 and up to $2,400 (inclusive);

(a) For members of the service having one or more dependants, one third of the bonus as existing in the year 1921-22 to be paid.

(b) For members of the service without any dependants, the bonus to be discontinued.

4—On all salaries over $2,400, the bonus to be discontinued.

It is also provided that in salaries of $1,200 and under, and in salaries of $1,800 and under adjustments be made so that in no case shall a civil servant with a lower salary plus bonus, receive more in compensation than a civil servant with a higher salary plus reduced bonus.

SEWING MEETING.

There will be a sewing meeting at the Children's Aid Shelter on Thursday afternoon of this week at 2.30.

Two Police Slain In Labor Warfare

CHICAGO, May 10. — Canadian Press. — Acting Lieut. Terry Lyons, aged 30, and Patrolman Thomas Clark, aged 30, were shot and killed; Patrolman Albert Moeller wounded, and two buildings bombed early to-day in disorders the police attributed to labor warfare The shootings were followed by a running pistol fight in which the slayers eluded the police.

Charles C. Fitzmorris, Chief of Police, immediately ordered every policeman on duty, and directed that all labor leaders, of whatsoever calibre, be brought in. "I have ordered the detention of everyone who may have any information of the workings of labor attacks" he said.

SERIOUS REVOLT 150 PRISONERS

Fired South Carolina Penitentiary and Guards Shoot Eleven.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 10.—As a result of a mutiny among white prisoners at the State Penitentiary here two are in the City Hospital seriously wounded, nine are known to be shot and a number of others who have not yet made known their injuries are believed to be suffering from small shot and buckshot wounds.

Inside the penitentiary grounds is a large chair factory where many white prisoners work. After their dinner the prisoners were being taken back to the factory when about 150 of them halted and refused to enter the mill. They said their rights had been taken away from them and that they were not going to work.

The prisoners who had gone to the second floor made a rush and the guards opened fire with shotguns. When the other prisoners saw the guns blazing in their faces they fled into the factory, breaking down a door in their rush. Many of the guards shot high, smashing window panes in the factory to the rear of the men, and some shot low, hitting the men in the legs.

City police and county officers were called in, and the fire department, too, was summoned, but the prompt action of the penitentiary guards convinced the prisoners of the futility of attempting to rush the gates.

Two days ago an order was issued commanding the men to give up all their clothing except that worn, so that any other hidden weapons might be brought to light. It was to this order that the men are believed to have referred when they told the guards their rights had been taken away from them.

The mutineers worked on the second floor of the chair factory, those on the third and first floors not being involved. It is believed the men planned the revolt carefully and expected the burning of the factory to create further confusion. The fire in the factory, however, was subdued after the men had been driven to their cells.

conference coming up for consideration.

MUST IMPROVE SANITATION AT LOCAL SHELTER

Sewage Service Reported Far From Satisfactory—Children's Aid Society's Directors Meet.

ROUTINE BUSINESS.

The Board of Directors of the Children's Aid Society held their regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in the board rooms at the Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. W. H. Gibbs occupying the chair in the absence of Rev. Mr. Malott.

The main subject of discussion was the condition of sanitary conveniences at the Shelter. A letter from Mr. J. J. Kelso in Toronto was read, commenting on the inspection recently made at the Shelter, which revealed unsatisfactory conditions with regard to the septic tank and a damp cellar. Mr. R. H. Parsons, present at the meeting, reported on an inspection made by him at the Shelter. Sewage is constantly seeping out at the present time, on account of the siphon on the tank not working properly, making a condition both unhealthy and unsightly. Asked if this condition might have any relation to the bad sanitary arrangements at the Isolation Hospital, Mr. Parsons was of the opinion that there was no connection whatever between the two. Several changes were recommended by him, and Messrs. Parsons, Sangster and Stocker were appointed a committee to see that the necessary work be undertaken and finished up in a proper, sanitary manner.

Reports.

The Matron of the Shelter reported sixteen children under her care for the month of April, with one brought in and three sent out, and a number of cases of chickenpox during the month.

An item arising out of the Agent's report was the resolution passed by the board to refer the account of Mrs. Haines for board of M. Pearson to the County Constable. A. Moore, the society feeling that it is not responsible for the account, as the child was sent to Mrs. Haines on the authority of the constable.

Sundry Business.

Mrs. Walter Stocker reported on the prompt and generous response made by several citizens to requests by the society for a couple of camp beds for use at the Shelter.

The purchase of ice and coal for the coming year was left in the hands of the Purchasing Committee.

On motion of the ladies of the board, Mrs. R. J. Devey was appointed a member of the Board of Directors.

The conference of the Association of Children's Aid Societies takes place at the King Edward Hotel in Toronto on May 17th, 18th and 19th. Mr. Powell will represent the society at the meeting, and Mrs. W. H. Gibbs and Mrs. Joseph Knox were also appointed as delegates.

There were present at yesterday's meeting Mesdames Gibbs, Fanning, Stocker, Knox, Kimberley, Darcy, Wright, Rev. P. J. Costello, Messrs. Edgar, Powell, Cowan, Stocker, Parsons, Sangster, Dobbin.

Donations and Accounts.

Donations were acknowledged from the following: Trinity Church, cloth and other material; a friend, paper rack; Mrs. Cunningham, Stewart street, sofa and stretcher; Mrs. French, Cedar street, camp bed; Mrs. R. A. McKee, little girl's coat; a friend, iron couch; H. Stock, collars and two parcels of clothing.

Accounts: R. Neill, $9.09; A. Allison, $5.80; G. Sexsmith, $3.50; Stock & Sons, $9.60; Centre Meat Market, $8.94; Peterborough Hardware Co., $5.60; telephone, $4.88; G. W. Powell, $2.40; Peterborough Milk Products, $15.55; Mrs. Rogers, $1.79; Warne Drug Co., $6.25; Mrs. J. P. Nickell, $6.68; J. E. A. Fitzgerald, $8.00; N. Asling, $2.15; Middleton's livery, $10.00; Peterborough Utilities, $2.16—total, $102.05.

THE NEWEST FRAME.

The Kings of Old Still Are the Dictators of Fashion

BY MARIAN HALE.

"No fashion comes out of the air."

This from Ethel Traphagen, who won first prize in the international contest in design in 1913, and is one of New York's formost authorities on design.

"Most fashions", Miss Trpahagen says, "can be traced to a past period and the whim of some member of the royal family—often that member was a man and the fashion dictator his paramour.

"The fourteenth century was a period of transition. In the very early days the ordinary dress of women was much like the habit Sisters of Charity now wear.

Medieval Flappers.

"Gradually that was changed until it reached the long-lined, loosely girdled apparel now in vogue.

"In 1461 women found their waistlines.

"And", Miss Traphagen went on "finding their waistlines started a sort of craze for curves and points so we find the dunce cap in evidense as a quite proper head dress.

"It was during the sixteenth sentury, whil Louis XIV was on the throne, that the most radical and important changes came.

"Corsets appeared, dresses were strongly stayed and hips were built ont over strong, wide frames.

Birth of Corset.

"Louis XIV was young. He loved beauty. The story is that one of his court favorites, a woman with a beautiful face, was quite deformed about the hips. In order to hide the defect, and yet achieve an effect of loveliness, the lady began the fashion of the very small, stayed waist and hip frames.

"The bouffant dancing frocks of our present debutantes are an echo of this.

"The Fontages head dress was also a fancy of Louis XIV. It was during a fete that a young woman caught her hair on the branch of a tree. In order to hold the disarranged locks in place the young woman removed her lace garter and put it around her head with her curls puffing loosely out about it.

"Louis liked it and said her hair should always be worn that way!"

Silks Come In.

"Madame Pompadour and Madame DuBarry favorites or the court of Louis XV, brought in a period of fancy silks, extremely bouffant skirts, small waists and general orateness.

"It was not until the eighteenth century that the wives of royalty had an influence on fashion.

"In the unhappy period which followed the latter part of the eighteenth century clothing became more severe and then appeared the tailored suit.

"So everything we have in fashion now", Miss Traphagen says, "is traceable to some part of a past century."

FASHION PERIOD CLOCK—HOW FANCIES OF MONARCHS HAVE DICTATED STYLES THROUGH THE AGES.

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY, May 17th and 18th, are the dates of the hit of the season, "Yokohama Maid," the Japanese comic operetta, under the auspices of Knights of Columbus in aid of St. Joseph's Hospital, at the Grand Opera House.

Overland

BANKS'

Overland Country Club, a Bargain

NOT A FAULT TO FIND

Mr. Struan G. Robertson, of Seabank, Pictou, N. S., writing in April as to his Overland purchased in the previous May, says: "I have pleasure in stating that I have not a fault to find with it. I did 3,560 miles with the car during the summer and fall without trouble of any kind except the breaking of an ignition wire. I did not have a puncture.

"Today the car seems as good as when I got her.

"On a 210 mile run round Cape George, Antigonish, Guysboro, Melrose, Glenelg and home by East River St. Mary's with four passengers, I used but ten gallons of gas, being an average of 22 miles to the gallon.

"I am thoroughly well satisfied with it and have not seen anything in its class that I would exchange it for."
